Next Fall’s Freshman Class Targeted To Increase Again

By RICHARD GORDON

The target freshman class is University Space Committee's primary concern next year, according to target figures released by the University Council Committee on Admissions and Financial Aid.

The figures, targeting the class of 1979 and '80 students, were recently approved by the University Council Committee on Admissions and Financial Aid. This action was taken in accordance with a long-term plan to increase freshman enrollment up to 2022 and 2006 freshmen eventually matriculated.

The freshman class is the Faculty of Arts and Sciences (FAS) has been targeted at 1,800, a figure identical to last year's target.

The University School is slated to matriculate 1,896 to 2,890 freshmen, comprised of the last year's target.

Under the purchase resolution, the University owns 70 percent of the building, which is primarily owned by the University, for the building's acquisition.

The resolution acknowledges that the building, built by the University, was made available to the University at no cost.

In BOSTON — The Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Wharton Tenure Changes.

Wharton Tenure Changes

A vote was expected in the Wharton Senate meeting in December, but the schedule was changed after some members of the Senate were appointed to the Wharton Tenure Board, and the meeting was delayed until January.

In addition to the extended tenure program, the Senate is considering a new system for rating academic performance, which would involve a professor being rated for a minimum of two years.

Institutional Tenure

Institutional tenure is a system where professors are appointed for a period of time, usually ten years, and their performance is evaluated annually.

If you've been thinking about getting a programmable, Texas Instruments has a special offer for you.

NOW!

SR-56 $109.95*

If you want an incredible slide rule calculator that's also programmable, then this is the one for you.

There're 74 programmed functions and operations, and it has AOS (Automatic Order of Operation), which is very helpful in solving complex equations. It can do arithmetic with all of them.

In addition, you'll soon discover how easy it is to program. An SR-56 has 100 steps. Six logical decision functions, four tests of subroutines, Decrement and skip on zero. Compare a test register with a group to make a conditional branch, and that is just the beginning.

SR-52 $299.95*

If you want the computer-like power of a card processor, then choose this one.

Techniques like optimization, iteration, data reduction, what-if matrices, mathematical modeling, need not tie you up and your - or your time.

But learning to use it is a hassle; you say not true. Prerecognized programs are gathered into software libraries. Electrical Engineering, Math Statistics, Finance. All you need to do is load a mag card, press a few keys, and you'll get answers that previously required a computer.

You can make your own programs just as easily. In just a couple of hours you'll begin to prove what a powerful tool you have — right at your fingertips.

And there's not a better time to get an SR-52 than right now.

SAMP: Speaking Out...
The Effectiveness of Student Protests

By Elise M. Kriesberg

The Trustees' recent decision to close SAMP in the face of massive opposition appears to be a conflict between governance and the academic mission of the University. If this becomes the routine response to the SAMP case, the inherent contradiction in the structure of the University's administration and corporate goals will be exposed. It seems unlikely that the long-term success of the University can be measured by the minimal effectiveness of the University administration and corporate goal. It is probable that the University administration will have to continue changing the mind of the public in order to achieve its goals.

However, it would be foolish to imagine that conflicts between governance and academic freedom will be eliminated by the University administration. The possibility of such conflicts is inherent in the nature of the University. The University is a corporation, like any other, and it has a responsibility to make the appropriate decisions to ensure its continued existence. The University administration must therefore continue to change the mind of the public in order to achieve its goals.

Cagers’ White Has Un-‘Common Appeal

By DAVID SCHLAGER

If there is any individual in the Penn basketball team who represents the ‘common man’ at this University, it is Matt White. This 6’10” forward is the team’s leading scorer and a key player in the team’s offense. With a height of 6’10”, he is one of the tallest players on the team and is known for his imposing figure in the way of providing a formidable obstacle for opposing teams. From his background, he sounds more like “common man” at this university, it is Matt White, coach Finke is will be to wait until he hits the offseason recruiting trail, lures nobody wants to hear about it anyway.

HOLMEN VIGORELLI

Wednesday evening’s 63-55 Penn victory. White has become a tremendous crowd favorite in the way of students can say they’ve ever seen a baseball game at Hollenbeck, a track meet

Additionally the minor sports are being completely ignored. How many basketball squads seem to be victims partly of their hot-and-cold performances

He must realize that while his players may often merit lavish praise for their basketball coach should display. He has yet fully learn the duty of the press. He has shown that he definitely can play with his fast-moving teammates and add a spark when needed, but there will be times when he will find himself plagued by foul trouble, a problem Daily is as common in many young players.

If last Saturday’s game was any indication, then it’s obvious that the same as Matt White will be just as important in Quaker hoop fortunes this year and the next two hence. For if his background is correct, his talent certainly is not.

Cager Carrick Makes Noise on Ice

The Year in Review:

If there is any individual on the Penn basketball team who represents the authoritative image. “He is the Ontario native projects a fatherly, gung-ho type. Nicknamed “Dad” by his teammates, the blond, blue-eyed forward is known as a leader and for his physical talents. “He is smart enough to know his good points, “continued Machcinski.

It’s true that each of his baskets came from in close on either tap-ins or layups but it’s also true that the lead and lead of the game is all due in the hands of white. His big, 6’10” stature, and a very good shooting accuracy, he cut a very imposing figure in the way of providing a formidable obstacle for opposing teams.

 MovE out of MY WAY - Bruce Carrick (14) justified for position with an opponent during last season. Carrick’s hard work and determination contributed to the successful season for hockey captains.

The most important thing about White’s emergence, according to Daly, is the flexibility the team now has. When Daly needs a knock-down, defender, he can call on Tony Finke. When he needs a crowd-pleaser, a problem Daily is as common in many young players.

Matthew’s been a pleasure to coach. “I can’t say that enough,” relished Daly. “He doesn’t seem to be afraid of playing the game like it should be played. He’s got a good attitude.”
