Hunt Persists For Attacker Of 3 Women

By HALEY LAKERS

A subprocess of the Philadelphia Police Department, Campus Security, "is under a lot of pressure" to find the attacker of three female students, according to Chief Detective Harold McGrath and Thomas S. Klein, Police Commissioner.

The search is being jointly conducted by Campus Security and Philadelphia Police. The three assaultings occurred at the Pit Stop, Pine Streets, 41st and Spruce Streets.

Campus Security, "the number of walking escorts being requested has increased significantly in the use of the service," said Chief Detective Harold McGrath.

Approximately 1,000 people were at the Pit Stop Thursday night when the attacker entered the building. The attacker was described as a male, medium-dark complexion, 5 feet 8 inches to 6 feet tall, 160 to 200 pounds, wearing a black leather jacket, black pants and a black hat. The person was last seen heading west on 41st Street.

"It is not a safe environment for people to walk alone," McGrath said. "We are putting all the resources that we have available to finding this person."

McGrath said that officers investigate the call at once. If the sighting of the suspect is immediately made, the officers may have seen him.

Campus Security has received about 120 calls from people who think they have seen the attacker. "There have been no further reports of women being followed," he added.

Moore was found guilty yesterday of second-degree murder. "The trial was cards against us," McGrath said. "The evidence was very strong against us." A second trial is currently under a mandate by the Board of Trustees to be held next year.

"General impression" is that the plan was reviewed, not changed, according to Stellar.

"The plan called for us to keep the mandatory meal plan as a part of the budget revision, residence policies, and other departments, according to Provost's Office, the Budget Office, and other departments. The mandatory meal plan was called for in Stellar's proposal.

"If we don't go through with the mandatory meal plan, we may lose a wise investment of $150 million," Stellar said. "We need in depth the help of the University in order to make the mandatory meal plan work."

"The mandatory meal plan was designed to make sure we make a wise investment of $150 million," Stellar said. "We need in depth the help of the University in order to make the mandatory meal plan work."

"We've been looking for a way to invest in the University system," Stellar said. "We've been looking for a way to invest in the University system."

"We've been looking for a way to invest in the University system," Stellar said. "We've been looking for a way to invest in the University system."
The University administrators seem to be reflecting on their past practices.

In August, Stellar appeared at the task force and charged them to "take a fresh and critical view of our successes and failures in strengthening the black presence in the University."

The University Development Commission, appointed by President Robert H. Klein, had prepared the 100-page report that will be presented to the Educational Policy Committee. "The task force's job is to recommend to the Educational Policy Committee," Stellar remarked. Hence, the final report will be published in the Almanac, a University yearbook, "probably be published in the Almanac, a University yearbook, "probably be published in 1977."

The task force originated when the Steering Committee of the Black Faculty and Administrative Organization recommended last March that the Student Life Committee create a task force to "study the status of black student life."

"A group of black students, faculty, and staff agreed that black absentmindedness was a serious lack of black participation at all levels of University life," Stellar said. "The task force is long overdue," Hall claimed. "Many of the findings of the task force are challenging the University at this time."

Although the task force's work is still in the preliminary stages, the committee has already begun to make some recommendations to the University administrators. "We need to define the priorities of the University. If black people are not able to do what they need to do, we need to redefine the priorities," Stellar said. "The University administrators seem to be reflecting on their past practices."

The task force originated when the Steering Committee of the Black Faculty and Administrative Organization recommended last March that the Student Life Committee create a task force to "study the status of black student life." A group of black students, faculty, and staff agreed that black absentmindedness was a serious lack of black participation at all levels of University life.

In August, Stellar appeared at the task force and charged them to "take a fresh and critical view of our successes and failures in strengthening the black presence in the University."

The University Development Commission, appointed by President Robert H. Klein, had prepared the 100-page report that will be presented to the Educational Policy Committee. "The task force's job is to recommend to the Educational Policy Committee," Stellar remarked. Hence, the final report will probably be published in the Almanac, a University yearbook, "probably be published in the Almanac, a University yearbook, "probably be published in 1977."

The task force originated when the Steering Committee of the Black Faculty and Administrative Organization recommended last March that the Student Life Committee create a task force to "study the status of black student life." A group of black students, faculty, and staff agreed that black absentmindedness was a serious lack of black participation at all levels of University life.

The task force originated when the Steering Committee of the Black Faculty and Administrative Organization recommended last March that the Student Life Committee create a task force to "study the status of black student life." A group of black students, faculty, and staff agreed that black absentmindedness was a serious lack of black participation at all levels of University life.

"A group of black students, faculty, and staff agreed that black absentmindedness was a serious lack of black participation at all levels of University life," Stellar said. "The task force is long overdue," Hall claimed. "Many of the findings of the task force are challenging the University at this time."

Although the task force's work is still in the preliminary stages, the committee has already begun to make some recommendations to the University administrators. "We need to define the priorities of the University. If black people are not able to do what they need to do, we need to redefine the priorities," Stellar said. "The University administrators seem to be reflecting on their past practices."
In Praise of Pennsylvania

By Richard Gordon

Penn students often talk about being disappointed by the University's "nontrivial" attitude toward the press. Unfortunately for Penn students, the University's press is the Penn Press, and the Council on the part of the University is the Activities Council. What is more, the University community to submit nominations and comments is the Activities Council.

It greatly surprises me to find such dedication to the Pennsylvania's high standards. And what is more, they are not well-kept secrets. The activities in the activities involved. The system from the activities involved.

The Office of the President has already announced that the activities of the Activities Council are funded by the Activities Council as requested by Kenneth Victor Patin, a member of the Activities Council. Eric Benetizer, ASC'77

Letters to the Editor

Defending the Activities Council

The Activities Council as requested by Kenneth Victor Patin, a member of the Activities Council. Eric Benetizer, ASC'77

As representations of FAS graduate students, we have been asked to deal with the problem of rape at the University of Pennsylvania. We are working with the graduate students of the University's reputation. It is little known that Penn students are the only Ivy League students who will be proud of themselves.

One of the most obvious things that happens when Penn campus during my senior year was the lack of social and personal pride that many Ivy League students have. I remember that after I enrolled and they told me that I was that I was not enrolled. But as far as I know, the colonists did not have a social or personal pride that many Ivy League students have.

The contrast between Penn campus during my senior year and what I've heard about the University of Pennsylvania. It's a university, and I think that there were many people who realize that they have student's ability to bring down the social and personal pride that many Ivy League students have. The University is more than one over top over Harvard student.

The attention of the president of the University of Pennsylvania. It's a university, and I think that there were many people who realize that they have student's ability to bring down the social and personal pride that many Ivy League students have. The University is more than one over top over Harvard student.

According to the Activities Council, it is necessary to pick up a copy of the Penn Odyssey. This is a university, and I think that there were many people who realize that they have student's ability to bring down the social and personal pride that many Ivy League students have. The University is more than one over top over Harvard student.

Victor Patin, a member of the Finance Council, has already announced that the activities of the Activities Council are funded by the Activities Council as requested by Kenneth Victor Patin, a member of the Activities Council.

Defending the Activities Council

The Activities Council as requested by Kenneth Victor Patin, a member of the Activities Council. Eric Benetizer, ASC'77

As representations of FAS graduate students, we have been asked to deal with the problem of rape at the University of Pennsylvania. We are working with the graduate students of the University's reputation. It is little known that Penn students are the only Ivy League students who will be proud of themselves.

One of the most obvious things that happens when Penn campus during my senior year was the lack of social and personal pride that many Ivy League students have. I remember that after I enrolled and they told me that I was that I was not enrolled. But as far as I know, the colonists did not have a social or personal pride that many Ivy League students have.

The contrast between Penn campus during my senior year and what I've heard about the University of Pennsylvania. It's a university, and I think that there were many people who realize that they have student's ability to bring down the social and personal pride that many Ivy League students have. The University is more than one over top over Harvard student.

According to the Activities Council, it is necessary to pick up a copy of the Penn Odyssey. This is a university, and I think that there were many people who realize that they have student's ability to bring down the social and personal pride that many Ivy League students have. The University is more than one over top over Harvard student.
THE HUNTERS

THE FEAST

THE ARTS HOUSE announces Fall ’77 Applications •for student residency
•for staff (graduate students)

The Arts House is seeking students and resource persons with interests in the areas of: dance, music, theatre, Photography/Visual Arts, Video & Filmmaking.

Applications are available at 110 Bodine (Quad) Deadline February 21st

Now comes Miller time.

SUPER KISS
$2.89

Open Till 5PM

Houston Hall Candy

WELCOME TO YOUR DORM ROOM
FORUM
November 21, 1976

Thursday, February 11, 1977

Bulletin Cancellation

Continued from page 1

University officials suspended John Flynn and the paper intends to publish the three logotypes despite picketing.

"There is a possibility that we may have to publish a small version of the paper as we did today, but suspension may yet be lifted," said a picketer. "We have filed an injunction. Thursday is the decision day.

However, after meeting with Bulletin and guild representatives, Common Plea Court Judge James Cavanaugh issued only a temporary restraining order limiting the number of picketers around the Bulletin offices to 58.

Judge Cavanaugh ruled that since the Bulletin had voluntarily entered into the dispute by publishing with the Newspaper Guild, to honor the striking guild and to partially defer costs of Blue-Cross Blue-Shield health insurance protection to/inquirer and Daily News employees. The costs of the employee health-program have been absorbed totally by PNI.

Union official said.

"We are planning on if the union members will abide by the court orders or honor the striking guild and risk heavy financial penalties.

As the case of the Guild-PNI contract dispute is an attempt by PNI to predict how long it would take for PNI to get into the darkroom until after they are gone.

Edward Rosenwald, have been ordered back to work also.

At the core of the Guild-PNI con-

"There is a possibility that we may have to publish a small version of the paper as we did today, but suspension may yet be lifted," said a picketer. "We have filed an injunction. Thursday is the decision day.

However, after meeting with Bulletin and guild representatives, Common Plea Court Judge James Cavanaugh issued only a temporary restraining order limiting the number of picketers around the Bulletin offices to 58.

Judge Cavanaugh ruled that since the Bulletin had voluntarily entered into the dispute by publishing with the Newspaper Guild, to honor the striking guild and to partially defer costs of Blue-Cross Blue-Shield health insurance protection to/inquirer and Daily News employees. The costs of the employee health-program have been absorbed totally by PNI.

Union official said.

"We are planning on if the union members will abide by the court orders or honor the striking guild and risk heavy financial penalties.

As the case of the Guild-PNI con-

"There is a possibility that we may have to publish a small version of the paper as we did today, but suspension may yet be lifted," said a picketer. "We have filed an injunction. Thursday is the decision day.

However, after meeting with Bulletin and guild representatives, Common Plea Court Judge James Cavanaugh issued only a temporary restraining order limiting the number of picketers around the Bulletin offices to 58.

Judge Cavanaugh ruled that since the Bulletin had voluntarily entered into the dispute by publishing with the Newspaper Guild, to honor the striking guild and to partially defer costs of Blue-Cross Blue-Shield health insurance protection to/inquirer and Daily News employees. The costs of the employee health-program have been absorbed totally by PNI.

Union official said.

"We are planning on if the union members will abide by the court orders or honor the striking guild and risk heavy financial penalties.

As the case of the Guild-PNI con-

"There is a possibility that we may have to publish a small version of the paper as we did today, but suspension may yet be lifted," said a picketer. "We have filed an injunction. Thursday is the decision day.

However, after meeting with Bulletin and guild representatives, Common Plea Court Judge James Cavanaugh issued only a temporary restraining order limiting the number of picketers around the Bulletin offices to 58.

Judge Cavanaugh ruled that since the Bulletin had voluntarily entered into the dispute by publishing with the Newspaper Guild, to honor the striking guild and to partially defer costs of Blue-Cross Blue-Shield health insurance protection to/inquirer and Daily News employees. The costs of the employee health-program have been absorbed totally by PNI.

Union official said.

"We are planning on if the union members will abide by the court orders or honor the striking guild and risk heavy financial penalties.

As the case of the Guild-PNI con-

"There is a possibility that we may have to publish a small version of the paper as we did today, but suspension may yet be lifted," said a picketer. "We have filed an injunction. Thursday is the decision day.

However, after meeting with Bulletin and guild representatives, Common Plea Court Judge James Cavanaugh issued only a temporary restraining order limiting the number of picketers around the Bulletin offices to 58.

Judge Cavanaugh ruled that since the Bulletin had voluntarily entered into the dispute by publishing with the Newspaper Guild, to honor the striking guild and to partially defer costs of Blue-Cross Blue-Shield health insurance protection to/inquirer and Daily News employees. The costs of the employee health-program have been absorbed totally by PNI.

Union official said.

"We are planning on if the union members will abide by the court orders or honor the striking guild and risk heavy financial penalties.

As the case of the Guild-PNI con-

"There is a possibility that we may have to publish a small version of the paper as we did today, but suspension may yet be lifted," said a picketer. "We have filed an injunction. Thursday is the decision day.

However, after meeting with Bulletin and guild representatives, Common Plea Court Judge James Cavanaugh issued only a temporary restraining order limiting the number of picketers around the Bulletin offices to 58.

Judge Cavanaugh ruled that since the Bulletin had voluntarily entered into the dispute by publishing with the Newspaper Guild, to honor the striking guild and to partially defer costs of Blue-Cross Blue-Shield health insurance protection to/inquirer and Daily News employees. The costs of the employee health-program have been absorbed totally by PNI.

Union official said.

"We are planning on if the union members will abide by the court orders or honor the striking guild and risk heavy financial penalties.

As the case of the Guild-PNI con-

"There is a possibility that we may have to publish a small version of the paper as we did today, but suspension may yet be lifted," said a picketer. "We have filed an injunction. Thursday is the decision day.

However, after meeting with Bulletin and guild representatives, Common Plea Court Judge James Cavanaugh issued only a temporary restraining order limiting the number of picketers around the Bulletin offices to 58.

Judge Cavanaugh ruled that since the Bulletin had voluntarily entered into the dispute by publishing with the Newspaper Guild, to honor the striking guild and to partially defer costs of Blue-Cross Blue-Shield health insurance protection to/inquirer and Daily News employees. The costs of the employee health-program have been absorbed totally by PNI.

Union official said.

"We are planning on if the union members will abide by the court orders or honor the striking guild and risk heavy financial penalties.

As the case of the Guild-PNI con-

"There is a possibility that we may have to publish a small version of the paper as we did today, but suspension may yet be lifted," said a picketer. "We have filed an injunction. Thursday is the decision day.

However, after meeting with Bulletin and guild representatives, Common Plea Court Judge James Cavanaugh issued only a temporary restraining order limiting the number of picketers around the Bulletin offices to 58.

Judge Cavanaugh ruled that since the Bulletin had voluntarily entered into the dispute by publishing with the Newspaper Guild, to honor the striking guild and to partially defer costs of Blue-Cross Blue-Shield health insurance protection to/inquirer and Daily News employees. The costs of the employee health-program have been absorbed totally by PNI.

Union official said.

"We are planning on if the union members will abide by the court orders or honor the striking guild and risk heavy financial penalties.

As the case of the Guild-PNI con-

"There is a possibility that we may have to publish a small version of the paper as we did today, but suspension may yet be lifted," said a picketer. "We have filed an injunction. Thursday is the decision day.

However, after meeting with Bulletin and guild representatives, Common Plea Court Judge James Cavanaugh issued only a temporary restraining order limiting the number of picketers around the Bulletin offices to 58.

Judge Cavanaugh ruled that since the Bulletin had voluntarily entered into the dispute by publishing with the Newspaper Guild, to honor the striking guild and to partially defer costs of Blue-Cross Blue-Shield health insurance protection to/inquirer and Daily News employees. The costs of the employee health-program have been absorbed totally by PNI.

Union official said.

"We are planning on if the union members will abide by the court orders or honor the striking guild and risk heavy financial penalties.

As the case of the Guild-PNI con-
Delhi Supper
Sunday-February 13 6-7:30 p.m.
Hillael at Penn

Valentine's Day
At The Mask & Wig
RATHESKELLER

Featuring
Dennis Bass
Blues Singer And Pianist
Monday Feb 14th
Beginning At 9PM
Basement Of Houston Hall

FEB. 17 '88 & 19

University Special
30% Off A FONZO PIZZA

With This Coupon
Dining Room or Take Out
Free Delivery W/O Coupon OR 3-9980

There is a difference!!!

- MCAT + SAT + DAT
- GMAT + CPA + SP + GRE + OAT + SAT
- NATION MED. & DENT. BOARDS
- ECFMG
- PLEX

First Class Exam Flights

Over 35 years of experience and success! Small class, Instruc tion in-plane format. Original, but we can customize.
Section classes, individual classes and national classes.

(215) CA-5145

Call Toll Free (outside N.Y. State) 1-800-221-0640

FEB. 17, 18, 19

Student Discount Tickets!—continued from page 1

ANDRES SEGOVIA
CLASSICAL GUITARIST

SUN. FEB. 20, 3 P.M.—ACADEMY OF MUSIC
FAMILY CIRCLE $5, $10
APARTHEDNE $4, 00

Tickets available at Box Office Now —

Good For 2 People

At any Full Price Seat
Explorers Outstroke Women

By ROBERT KNAPP

Penn's women outswam (1:41.4) last lead to Lehigh yesterday 44:40 in a closely fought race that came down to the last stroke. Behind 43-27 after the first eight lengths, Penn came on strong and was up 46:27 going into the last event—just enough to hang on to victory. Lehigh was unable to take the lead when it was pulled to the ropes in the fifth event.

This is the second time in four years that Penn has won the event.

Chestnut Hill Roasted By Women Hoopsters

Nancy Golding

Philadelphia experimented a foot year ago, but women's basketball hadn't been the same since. The Quakers' 59 points, and grabbed a high scorer for Chestnut Hill was 6-last night's win over Chestnut Hill. Williams led all Quaker scorers with 19.

the game's high scorer with 19 points.

and Jeff Hunt up front. "Geez, they

Ultra Business Machines

In the Heart Of The Bookstore

PENN-PAI Student Rush tickets available for the Penn women.

The Quaker backcourt got a little bit of a break last night.

The Penn frosh are placing two

on Friday afternoon they will have a chance on.

an inexperienced team, but a

able to come up with their ninth win of the season.

The basis for his optimism is Mahar's only remaining recruit, Kevin

the Cubs' 10 points, and grabbed a

students from Chestnut Hill too.

and his per game are second only to Best. McElaney's defensive assignment will probably be Penn's Bruce Bergwall, the frosh's high-scoring forward.

Cub's accent and all.

A week ago the Cubs won 79-73, but their .500 record didn't come with any

Cub's high scorer for the first time last year; we sometimes went too loose against them.

A 167-pounder for his being named Penn's 'Athlete of the Week'. The sophomore in the shape of Bill Goodwin, a 5-10 guard from Chestnut Hill who placed first in three events during who placed first in two events.

The Quakers won the event in Chestnut Hill (3-2) was not affected. Nonetheless, the Red and Blue (345)

managed to pull out a 3-1 victory in a tactioanal, low-scoring game of the Palestra last night. The

ene up 62-61 going into the last event—the

closely fought contest that came down to the wire.

The reason that Best is no longer considered 'the whole team' is the rapidly growing

"It's only our second road game of the season, but I'm very optimistic," he yesterday afternoon, but the women's

The Quakers were outscored by Chestnut Hill yesterday, 68-62 in a

The Penn frosh are placing two

On Friday afternoon they will have a chance on.

ồ the Cubs win? "Well, we don't know who we're going to face next, but we know we're

In the "Heart Of The Bookstore"

Here's what the coaches have to say after a game. "It was

The reason that Best is no longer considered 'the whole team' is the rapidly growing

the Cubs win? "Well, we don't know who we're going to face next, but we know we're

in the "Heart Of The Bookstore"

Here's what the coaches have to say after a game. "It was

For the Penn women.

The Quaker backcourt got a little bit of a break last night.

The Penn frosh are placing two

on Friday afternoon they will have a chance on.

an inexperienced team, but a

able to come up with their ninth win of the season.

The basis for his optimism is Mahar's only remaining recruit, Kevin

the Cubs' 10 points, and grabbed a

students from Chestnut Hill too.

and his per game are second only to Best. McElaney's defensive assignment will probably be Penn's Bruce Bergwall, the frosh's high-scoring forward.

Cub's accent and all.

A week ago the Cubs won 79-73, but their .500 record didn't come with any

Cub's high scorer for the first time last year; we sometimes went too loose against them.

A 167-pounder for his being named Penn's 'Athlete of the Week'. The sophomore in the shape of Bill Goodwin, a 5-10 guard from Chestnut Hill who placed first in three events during

who placed first in two events.

The Quakers won the event in Chestnut Hill (3-2) was not affected. Nonetheless, the Red and Blue (345)

managed to pull out a 3-1 victory in a tactioanal, low-scoring game of the Palestra last night. The

ene up 62-61 going into the last event—the

closely fought contest that came down to the wire.

The reason that Best is no longer considered 'the whole team' is the rapidly growing

"It's only our second road game of the season, but I'm very optimistic," he

yesterday afternoon, but the women's

The Quakers were outscored by Chestnut Hill yesterday, 68-62 in a

The Penn frosh are placing two

On Friday afternoon they will have a chance on.

ồ the Cubs win? "Well, we don't know who we're going to face next, but we know we're

In the "Heart Of The Bookstore"

Here's what the coaches have to say after a game. "It was

The reason that Best is no longer considered 'the whole team' is the rapidly growing

the Cubs win? "Well, we don't know who we're going to face next, but we know we're

in the "Heart Of The Bookstore"

Here's what the coaches have to say after a game. "It was

For the Penn women.

The Quaker backcourt got a little bit of a break last night.

The Penn frosh are placing two

on Friday afternoon they will have a chance on.

an inexperienced team, but a

able to come up with their ninth win of the season.

The basis for his optimism is Mahar's only remaining recruit, Kevin

the Cubs' 10 points, and grabbed a

students from Chestnut Hill too.

and his per game are second only to Best. McElaney's defensive assignment will probably be Penn's Bruce Bergwall, the frosh's high-scoring forward.

Cub's accent and all.

A week ago the Cubs won 79-73, but their .500 record didn't come with any

Cub's high scorer for the first time last year; we sometimes went too loose against them.

A 167-pounder for his being named Penn's 'Athlete of the Week'. The sophomore in the shape of Bill Goodwin, a 5-10 guard from Chestnut Hill who placed first in three events during

who placed first in two events.

The Quakers won the event in Chestnut Hill (3-2) was not affected. Nonetheless, the Red and Blue (345)

managed to pull out a 3-1 victory in a tactioanal, low-scoring game of the Palestra last night. The

ene up 62-61 going into the last event—the

closely fought contest that came down to the wire.

The reason that Best is no longer considered 'the whole team' is the rapidly growing

"It's only our second road game of the season, but I'm very optimistic," he

yesterday afternoon, but the women's

The Quakers were outscored by Chestnut Hill yesterday, 68-62 in a

The Penn frosh are placing two

On Friday afternoon they will have a chance on.

ürnberg toward.

Explorers Outstroke Women

By ROBERT KNAPP

Penn's women outswam (1:41.4)

PENN-PAI Student Rush tickets available for the Penn women.

The Quaker backcourt got a little bit of a break last night.

The Penn frosh are placing two

on Friday afternoon they will have a chance on.

an inexperienced team, but a

able to come up with their ninth win of the season.

The basis for his optimism is Mahar's only remaining recruit, Kevin

the Cubs' 10 points, and grabbed a

students from Chestnut Hill too.

and his per game are second only to Best. McElaney's defensive assignment will probably be Penn's Bruce Bergwall, the frosh's high-scoring forward.

Cub's accent and all.

A week ago the Cubs won 79-73, but their .500 record didn't come with any

Cub's high scorer for the first time last year; we sometimes went too loose against them.

A 167-pounder for his being named Penn's 'Athlete of the Week'. The sophomore in the shape of Bill Goodwin, a 5-10 guard from Chestnut Hill who placed first in three events during

who placed first in two events.

The Quakers won the event in Chestnut Hill (3-2) was not affected. Nonetheless, the Red and Blue (345)

managed to pull out a 3-1 victory in a tactioanal, low-scoring game of the Palestra last night. The

ene up 62-61 going into the last event—the

closely fought contest that came down to the wire.

The reason that Best is no longer considered 'the whole team' is the rapidly growing

"It's only our second road game of the season, but I'm very optimistic," he

yesterday afternoon, but the women's

The Quakers were outscored by Chestnut Hill yesterday, 68-62 in a

The Penn frosh are placing two

On Friday afternoon they will have a chance on.

ürnberg toward.
Distancemen to Play Hold That Tiger

BY LUTHER JACKSON

How Penn's 3-12 junior has done its line-up for the weekend with Princeton (2:41) and Columbia (2:38) at the Tiger's Jadwin Gym tomorrow (1:40). Depending on how well the Quaker middle distance runners play— "Hold That Tiger." "That Tiger" is Princeton senior Craig Marshak. Last year's "That Tiger" ran three races on one leg, the 800 yard run, and anchored the two mile relay. He not only won all three but covered the mile in 1:50, clipped 2:42 for the mile and 3:35 for the two mile relay. "He was a real runner and now he's got to do it again."

"This year's version of the Tiger," coach Larry Ellis, "is the 1983-84 version of Larry Ellis. He has a great why not? and a great confidence level. We have guys who can do it, that's what I believe."

The 6-3, 165-pound Ellis, who was a distance runner himself at Greensburg High School, has been coaching since 1973. "I've been coaching in Jadwin for 12 years now. It's a strong configuration of distance men and it's going to be a big week."

With Ellis indicating a "Why not?" attitude about Tiger, the Quakers have a "Why not?" attitude about Princeton. "We have got to run PRs Saturday. It's going to be a great meet."

The Quakers are coming off a weekend sweep of the Ivy League. In the Ivy opener, they won the mile, 2 mile, 880, 1500 and the mile medley relay. "If we can run like that tomorrow, we can win," said Ellis.

The meet starts at 1:40 and will last until 2:30. "The weather won't be a factor," said Ellis. "It'll be warm and sunny and probably in the low 70's."

The Quakers have been working the two mile relay recently. "The key to winning the two mile relay is to run like you're going to run the mile," said Ellis. "That's what we'll be doing."