May 9 Date Set for Trial Of Fineman

By STEVE A. MARQUES

Pennsylvania House of Representatives

Rep. Brian Fineman, D-Philadephia, will be in court May 9 for a hearing in an admissibility motion during a drug-related trial involving 13 colleges, including the University's in University Park, State College, and Altoona.

Fineman, 44, was originally arrested in December 1978. A preliminary hearing was granted in February and scheduled for later this month.

Fineman was indicted January 31 by a Franklin County grand jury on charges of conspiracy to possess with intent to distribute more than 500 grams of a controlled substance, possession of more than 50 grams of a controlled substance, and possession with intent to distribute more than 50 grams of a controlled substance.

The hearing was set for April 20 at the Lebanon County Courthouse for the hearing on the admissibility of evidence.

"I'm not sure what can be presented," Fineman's attorney, Richard L. Lineberger, said earlier this month.

"It's going to be a tough case," Lineberger said.

"But I have faith in my client and I'm going to do the best I can for him."
The Committee on Open Expression: An Interim Report

Surveillance Report

The report released Thursday by the Committee on Open Expression outlines growing concern over the surveillance of University students, which appears to be ongoing and unconcealed abuse of power by the University's Office of Security and Safety. It is clear that surveillance by the University is being conducted without a clear purpose or adequate oversight, as evidenced by the following findings:

1. The report identifies six instances of surveillance that were conducted by the Office of Security and Safety, which included the use of undercover officers, the monitoring of student emails, and the use of surveillance cameras.

2. The Committee has established that the surveillance of student emails, in particular, is improper and violates the University's policies on privacy and confidentiality.

3. The report concludes that the Office of Security and Safety has not adhered to the principles of openness and accountability in its handling of sensitive information.

4. The study recommends that the Universityesty set clear guidelines for the use of surveillance technologies and establish a system of checks and balances to ensure the proper use of such technologies.

In Praise of Fraternities

Omega Psi Phi should have been given complete fraternity standing or had no more recognition from the University. The following statement was signed by Robert Levy, Walter Annenberg and Robert Rawls:

The achievements of our undergraduate fraternity is an integral part of the University, and says that the University should not give special recognition to any fraternity. The statement concluded that the University should recognize fraternities in a more neutral and open manner.

Concern Over Racism

The Committee's recommendations include suggestions for the University to address concerns related to racism and discrimination, such as:

1. The establishment of a task force to investigate and address cases of racism and discrimination on campus.

2. The implementation of training programs for faculty and staff on issues related to diversity and inclusion.

3. The creation of a student-led group to provide feedback on the University's efforts to address issues of race and discrimination.

Handicapped Regulation

The basic notion of the proposed Section 504 was to make the campus more readily accessible. It didn't mean you'd have to make every building readily accessible. That would be financially impossible," Burbank said. The projected initial cost of the legislation was to make available to the handicapped generally comparable facilities, he said.

"You can achieve comparability without making every building accessible. The comparability principle was designed to relieve institutions of a tremendous financial burden," Burbank noted.

The excessive costs in remodelling existing facilities to make them accessible in the problem on all old campuses," Taubin said. However, Cooke added, "Costs have never been a consideration in human rights. It is just sound sense."

This week, the Penn Relays will return to Franklin Field for the first time since 2019 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The Relays will feature over 1,500 athletes from across the country, including some of the top high school and college teams in the nation.

The Relays will be held from Wednesday, April 27, to Saturday, April 30, and will feature a variety of track and field events, including the 100 meters, 200 meters, 400 meters, 800 meters, 1500 meters, 3000 meters, 5000 meters, 10000 meters, 15000 meters, and various relays.

For fans of track and field, the Relays are a must-see event. The stadium is packed with spectators, and the energy is electric. The athletes are at the top of their game, and it's a great opportunity to see some of the best athletes in the world compete.

The Relays will also feature a variety of other events, including the Quaker Carnival, which is a popular event for families and kids. The carnival features games, rides, and food, and it's a great way to enjoy the Relays with the whole family.

Overall, the Penn Relays are an amazing event that combines the best of track and field with the best of celebration. If you're a fan of track and field, or simply looking for a fun time, the Relays are not to be missed.
