Ticket Income May Alleviate Pennsylvania

By JOEL SCHUMAN

Faced with a projected $350,000 operating loss for the academic year, Pennsylvania has to increase ticket income in significant ways. "If we don't raise the shortfall under union contract," the university vice president surgery, "we'll have to adjust our operating expenses." Additionally, "if audiences hold up as they have held in the past, the Falmouth Festival, and, and costs held as expected, we can conserve the shortfall under the collective bargaining agreement." The Pennsylvania Center is examining options that range from offering more attractive prices to cutting back on programs. (Continued on page 8)

Quad Renovation To Be Aligned By Unique-Funding Strategy

By JEFFREY N. BARKER

At the conclusion of financial and planning meetings, the Quad renovation project was launched to be a unique fundraising strategy. The University has already sold out tickets for the Quad renovation, which is expected to be completed by the end of this fiscal year. The project is expected to cost roughly $10.5 million, with contributions from the university's endowment fund, the Quad Associates, and private donors. The renovation will include new seating areas, improved landscaping, and a new entrance to the university's main building. (Continued on page 9)

Museum Allocation Rejected By Pa. House; U. To Appeal Decision

By ELIZABETH SANGER

The Pennsylvania Museum of American Art (PMOAA) has been denied funding by the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, which has rejected the university's request for $10 million in state aid. The university had hoped to use the funding to renovate the museum's interior and increase its exhibits. However, the legislation for the museum's funding was not included in the final budget, which was passed by the House last week. The university is currently in negotiations with the House on the matter. (Continued on page 9)

Street Vendor Speaks On City Redevelopment

By KAREN LIMACHKA

"The city is making changes and the current projects are part of the redevelopment strategy," the street vendor said. "I've been here for years and I've seen the changes firsthand." The vendor also expressed concern about the impact of the changes on small businesses and the community. "I hope they take our needs into account," he said. (Continued on page 3)

NLRB Review of Labor Dispute May Decide Outcome of Conflict

By STEVEN A. MARQUEZ

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) is reviewing a labor dispute between the university and Teamsters Local 115. The dispute involves the University's housekeeping workers, who have been picketing for better wages and benefits. The NLRB is expected to make a decision on the matter in the coming weeks. (Continued on page 9)

U. To Investigate Charges Of Illegal Campus Search

By RICHARD KASEY

The university is investigating allegations of an illegal campus search by university police. "We are looking into the matter," the university spokesperson said. "We take these allegations very seriously and will take appropriate action if necessary." The investigation is ongoing and no conclusions have been reached at this time. (Continued on page 8)
CAMPUS EVENTS

TODAY

STUDENT ORGANIZATION MeETING and OFFICE OPEN HOUSE: 2-4 P.M., Frick behind 3545 Locust.

CIVIL RIGHTS AND THE FEMALE LEADER: 3:30-5:30 P.M. (Panel discussion), 3415 Spruce St. (Annual meeting of Women's Concerns Committee).

TOMORROW

SCIENCE FICTION CLUB MEETING: 7 P.M., Mathematics Hall 104.

DOUGLAS L. FORD, Historian: "Immigrants and American History, 1890-91935." SOCIAL SCIENCE CENTER, 3 p.m.

JENNIFER SANDERS, Feminist: "Women's Work in the Home," a study of household work in the 1930s. SOCIAL SCIENCE CENTER, 3 p.m.

GIVING IN FASHION: 4-5 P.M., Social Science Center. "The history of the dress," by Dr. S. C. D. Bell, University of Pennsylvania.

CAMPUS EVENTS

SATURDAY

MINTEECE MEETING: 9 A.M., Social Science Center.

THEATRE CLUB: "The Daring Young Man," 2 and 6 p.m., Philadelphia Shakespearean Festival, Independence Mall.

THEATRE: "An Incident at the University," 8 p.m., University Club.

SUNDAY

WOMEN'S STUDENT MEETING: 11 A.M., Social Science Center.

CAMPUS EVENTS

Mon. Oct. 2

RUGBY MEETING: 3-5 P.M., Social Science Center.

TUESDAY

COED M variations for Fri. Oct. 6

TUESDAY Oct. 3

OFFICIAL MEETING OF THE UNIVERSITY COMMISSIONERs: 9 A.M., Social Science Center.

MUSEUM OF ART AND HISTORICAL AUTOMOBILES: "A Day at the Museum," 11 A.M.

POE MEETING: 2-4 P.M., Social Science Center.

WEDNESDAY

THEATRE: "The Daring Young Man," 8 p.m., University Club.

THURSDAY

THEATRE: "An Incident at the University," 8 p.m., University Club.

FREE MEETING: 8 P.M., Social Science Center.

FRIDAY

THEATRE: "The Daring Young Man," 8 p.m., University Club.

STUDENT ORGANIZATION: 8 P.M., Social Science Center.

SATURDAY

THEATRE: "The Daring Young Man," 2 and 8 p.m., Philadelphia Shakespearean Festival, Independence Mall.

SUNDAY

THEATRE: "The Daring Young Man," 2 and 8 p.m., Philadelphia Shakespearean Festival, Independence Mall.

MONDAY Oct. 9

THEATRE: "The Daring Young Man," 8 p.m., University Club.

TUESDAY Oct. 10

THEATRE: "The Daring Young Man," 8 p.m., University Club.

WEDNESDAY Oct. 11

TUESDAY Oct. 10

CONSTRUCTION MEETING: 3-5 P.M., Social Science Center.

THURSDAY Oct. 12

THEATRE: "The Daring Young Man," 8 p.m., University Club.

FRIDAY Oct. 13

THEATRE: "The Daring Young Man," 8 p.m., University Club.

SATURDAY Oct. 14

THEATRE: "The Daring Young Man," 2 and 8 p.m., Philadelphia Shakespearean Festival, Independence Mall.

SUNDAY Oct. 15

THEATRE: "The DARING Young Man," 2 and 8 p.m., Philadelphia Shakespearean Festival, Independence Mall.
Happenings

Music, Drama & Dance

Today
- Hamlin Village Community Center—St. Mary's Hall, 910 Locust St.
  - Friday and Saturday nights. Two shows, at 8:00 and 11:30, will be given on both evenings, a 50-cent admission fee for evenings, a 50-cent admission fee for both evenings.
  - All proceeds are to benefit a child welfare project.
  - Tickets are available at the door.

Student Showcase Open In The Quad

By LORI A. PEARSON

Friday, October 7, marks the official opening of the Student Showcase Open in the Quad. The Student Showcase is a unique event that celebrates student talent in a variety of disciplines. The showcase is open to all students, and the work displayed will be judged by Philadelphia teacher and artist Paul McCleaf. The best photos will be displayed in the union rules that would be considered a community.

Thursday
- Paintings by Hared Lewandowski, opening—Houston Hall, 11:30 A.M.
  - The show, which is co-sponsored by the Student Association and the University Art Council, will run through November 10. To enter, students should bring in their best photos. Entrees will be judged by Philadelphia teacher and artist Paul McCleaf. The best photos will be displayed in the union rules that would be considered a community.

Saturday
- Downtown Wizard—Paula's—11 AM

Area Artist Exhibits Philadelphia Cityscapes

By SUSAN MURRAY

Families, Philadelphia works with the Philadelphia Cityscape Program to present the exhibit of all paintings by local artist Hared Lewandowski, which opens tomorrow in the Houston Hall Gallery. The exhibit is sponsored by the Philadelphia Union Council and Gross McCleaf Gallery. The show will run through October 29. Gallery hours are 3 A.M. to 7 P.M., Monday through Thursday and 11 A.M. to 9 P.M., Friday and Saturday.

Friday
- Musical Antiques
  - Held by the Student Council, 7:30 & 9:30 PM

Sunday
- Quad Grille Presents—ッasterness, Azuro—4 & 8 PM

Monday
- Hold Me!—Annenberg Center—8 PM

Tuesday
- The Promise Land—International House—8 PM

Wednesday
- Two Little Indians—Fire Arts—Midnight, Thursdays

Thursday
- With The Gadfly—Fire Arts—8 PM

Friday
- Monty's—10 PM

Saturday
- The Promise Land—5 PM

Sunday
- The Promise Land—5, 7 & 9 PM

Monday
- Hold Me!—Annenberg Center—8 PM

Tuesday
- Hold Me!—Annenberg Center—8 PM

Wednesday
- The Promise Land—5 PM

Thursday
- The Promise Land—5 PM

Friday
- Monty's—10 PM

Saturday
- The Promise Land—5 PM
appropriations in an attempt to reduce the necessary tax hike. For inevitable, while those who support new taxes are trying to make use of with the always-uncomfortable problem of raising taxes. Opponents of effectively exploited as scapegoats so legislators won't have to grapple of its labor dispute with Teamsters Local 115.

The Pennsylvania General Assembly's delay in raising taxes to fund the state's colleges and universities has been dragged out too long. It is time for the legislators to sit down and come up with a solution for a problem that should have been resolved months ago.

The schools have had to borrow money at high interest rates to stay alive. The settlements of arbitration, and have used them to the constant growth of the state's budget. This permitted state employees who had been paid for several weeks to return to work but left state-owned and aided schools throughout Pennsylvania in a very financial situation. If the state can't provide the funds to operate the schools, it may be inevitable, while those who support new taxes are trying to make use of the always-uncomfortable problem of raising taxes. Opponents of effectively exploited as scapegoats so legislators won't have to grapple of its labor dispute with Teamsters Local 115.

The schools have had to borrow money at high interest rates to stay alive. The settlements of arbitration, and have used them to the constant growth of the state's budget. This permitted state employees who had been paid for several weeks to return to work but left state-owned and aided schools throughout Pennsylvania in a very financial situation. If the state can't provide the funds to operate the schools, it may be inevitable, while those who support new taxes are trying to make use of the always-uncomfortable problem of raising taxes. Opponents of effectively exploited as scapegoats so legislators won't have to grapple of its labor dispute with Teamsters Local 115.

The schools have had to borrow money at high interest rates to stay alive. The settlements of arbitration, and have used them to the constant growth of the state's budget. This permitted state employees who had been paid for several weeks to return to work but left state-owned and aided schools throughout Pennsylvania in a very financial situation. If the state can't provide the funds to operate the schools, it may be inevitable, while those who support new taxes are trying to make use of the always-uncomfortable problem of raising taxes.
Wharton Students 'Meet the Profs'

By LARRY FROHMAN

How often does Wharton Vice-Dean Carroll sit down with students to discuss graduate policy, advise students on major changes, and answer questions? After all, the respective merits of English and German beers with students? Rarely—on a matter of fact, the first time was probably last week's informal "Meet the Profs" get-together for students and faculty, co-sponsored by the Wharton Student Committee for Undergraduate Education (SCUE) and Dean Donald Day's office.

WHEN THE Wharton SCUE co-chairman Keith McFadden and the idea for this, we thought we might have more success in reaching the students," Stephens said. Although all Wharton students and faculty were invited through posters and advertisements, approximately 30 students, primarily upperclassmen, primarily for freshmen and the Wharton. "We have never, for the..." McFadden said. Stephens attributed the low freshmen turnover to the fact that many of them still had not become fully involved in campus life.

"The affair was oriented toward freshmen, and that is why we was disappointed in the turnout," said. "There was a lot of confusion that the idea for this, we thought we might have more success in reaching the students," Stephens said. Although all Wharton students and faculty were invited through posters and advertisements, approximately 30 students, primarily upperclassmen, primarily for freshmen and the Wharton..." Stephens said. Stephens attributed the low freshmen turnover to the fact that many of them still had not become fully involved in campus life.
Call your father.

He's the one you always call when you need money. But when was the last time you called him just to say "Hi?" To tell him you really appreciate his help. To tell him to come and visit you.

Call your father tonight... Long Distance. Because if you dial the call yourself, station-to-station, between 5 and 11 P.M., you'll be able to talk for ten minutes for $2.57 (plus tax) or less to anywhere in the continental U.S. except Alaska!

NLRB Reviews U. Dispute

(Continued from page 1)

Federal District Court Judge Herbert Fapel agreed with the NLRB's opinion, and issued an in-junction September 7 prohibiting picketing at the work locations.

There are currently two other charges relating to picketing that are being examined by the NLRB. In one instance, Penn Broox Dairies, a supplier of milk to the dining service, complained that the Teamsters were picketing their offices in South Philadelphia. Hirsch said the NLRB has "found merit" to the charge, but has not brought the case before a judge yet.

The NLRB also found merit to the charge that picketers engaged in "unlawful restraint and coercion of employees" of the University, but no judge yet.

The only other proposal made by the University is the one that has not yet made a contract offer. The union which would affect wages of those employees to be compartmentalized for unpaid sick leave, which employees are allowed in working days of sick leave a year, plus benefits to be used in cases of caring for family members.

The bargaining moves in the midst of a prolonged labor dispute between the University and Teamsters Local 590, expires November 1. At Tuesday's meeting, union officials gave a five percent hike this year. There are currently two other campus employees were with University administrators to go on to those.

The account of the Low Rise incident was from $56 for a senior staff member with from $5 to $12,163 for a senior staff member with one year's seniority to $12,163 for a senior staff member with three years of service.

The union is proposing that the University workers, who are employed in non-research functions, receive a three-year contract July 1, as did the union which would affect wages of those employees.

Local 590 in the only employee union that has not yet made a contract agreement with the University. AFSCME Local 16, representing the dining service workers, ratified a three-year contract July 1, but the union which would affect wages of those employees does not provide for any days taken of sick leave.

The bargaining moves in the midst of a prolonged labor dispute between the University and Teamsters Local 590, expires November 1. At Tuesday's meeting, union officials gave a five percent hike this year. There are currently two other campus employees were with University administrators to go on to those.

The account of the Low Rise incident was from $56 for a senior staff member with from $5 to $12,163 for a senior staff member with one year's seniority to $12,163 for a senior staff member with three years of service.

The union is proposing that the University workers, who are employed in non-research functions, receive a three-year contract July 1, as did the union which would affect wages of those employees.

Local 590 in the only employee union that has not yet made a contract agreement with the University. AFSCME Local 16, representing the dining service workers, ratified a three-year contract July 1, but the union which would affect wages of those employees does not provide for any days taken of sick leave.

The bargaining moves in the midst of a prolonged labor dispute between the University and Teamsters Local 590, expires November 1. At Tuesday's meeting, union officials gave a five percent hike this year. There are currently two other campus employees were with University administrators to go on to those.

The account of the Low Rise incident was from $56 for a senior staff member with from $5 to $12,163 for a senior staff member with one year's seniority to $12,163 for a senior staff member with three years of service.

The union is proposing that the University workers, who are employed in non-research functions, receive a three-year contract July 1, as did the union which would affect wages of those employees.

Local 590 in the only employee union that has not yet made a contract agreement with the University. AFSCME Local 16, representing the dining service workers, ratified a three-year contract July 1, but the union which would affect wages of those employees does not provide for any days taken of sick leave.

The bargaining moves in the midst of a prolonged labor dispute between the University and Teamsters Local 590, expires November 1. At Tuesday's meeting, union officials gave a five percent hike this year. There are currently two other campus employees were with University administrators to go on to those.

The account of the Low Rise incident was from $56 for a senior staff member with from $5 to $12,163 for a senior staff member with one year's seniority to $12,163 for a senior staff member with three years of service.

The union is proposing that the University workers, who are employed in non-research functions, receive a three-year contract July 1, as did the union which would affect wages of those employees.

Local 590 in the only employee union that has not yet made a contract agreement with the University. AFSCME Local 16, representing the dining service workers, ratified a three-year contract July 1, but the union which would affect wages of those employees does not provide for any days taken of sick leave.
Fusion Energy Crucial, Organization Leader Says

By JANIE WEISSER

Morris Levitt, executive director of the Fusion Energy Foundation (FEF), said Tuesday that it is crucial for scientists to develop fusion power as a future energy source. Levitt was speaking to an audience of approximately 60 at the founding meeting of the Penn Fusion Energy Society.

Fusion energy involves heating the nuclei of hydrogen atoms until they are joined. This fusion causes a release of energy which can then be transformed into electricity for practical purposes.

Levitt's speech served as an introduction to the Penn Fusion Energy Society, a campus chapter of the national FES organization. A brochure published by FEF states that the organization's goal is to establish campus chapters which will promote the development of fusion energy throughout the United States. FEF-sponsored chapters are also being organized on the campuses of Temple and Villanova Universities.

Basic advantages of the fusion process, Levitt said, are that no residual by-products are created and that the hydrogen required for the process is easily obtainable from seawater.

"Fusion represents the most efficient process of conversion of mass to energy," he said. "It represents a humanist solution to the energy crisis."

Levitt's speech served as an introduction to the Penn Fusion Energy Society, a campus chapter of the national FES organization. A brochure published by FEF states that the organization's goal is to establish campus chapters which will promote the development of fusion energy throughout the United States. FEF-sponsored chapters are also being organized on the campuses of Temple and Villanova Universities.

Levitt also discussed problems that hinder the development of fusion energy. First, he said, to ignite the fusion reaction, hydrogen must be heated to one hundred million degrees centigrade for a long period of time. Second, Congress appears unwilling to donate funds for fusion energy research.

"Fusion Energy Foundation was founded in 1974. It claims to be the main authority in the evaluation of fusion research and boasts that it is responsible for assembling scientists and engineers to promote fusion research.

"Fusion represents the most efficient process of conversion of mass to energy," he said. "It represents a humanist solution to the energy crisis."

Levitt's speech served as an introduction to the Penn Fusion Energy Society, a campus chapter of the national FES organization. A brochure published by FEF states that the organization's goal is to establish campus chapters which will promote the development of fusion energy throughout the United States. FEF-sponsored chapters are also being organized on the campuses of Temple and Villanova Universities.

"Fusion represents the most efficient process of conversion of mass to energy," he said. "It represents a humanist solution to the energy crisis."

Levitt's speech served as an introduction to the Penn Fusion Energy Society, a campus chapter of the national FES organization. A brochure published by FEF states that the organization's goal is to establish campus chapters which will promote the development of fusion energy throughout the United States. FEF-sponsored chapters are also being organized on the campuses of Temple and Villanova Universities.

"Fusion represents the most efficient process of conversion of mass to energy," he said. "It represents a humanist solution to the energy crisis."
Going Job-Hunting?

If you are, consider the advantages of a professionally typeset resume, the only projection of yourself that your prospective employer will see.

We at DP Graphics are professionals. We typeset anything from letterheads or advertisements to brochures and magazines. But we also set resumes. And we are convenient, fast, and economical.

Ask around... then come to

dp Graphics
4611 Walnut Street
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19134
(215)348-6660
Hours: 9:30 - 12:00 1:00 - 4:30

An example of a dp GRAPHICS typeset resume.

Objective
A position requiring interpersonal and evaluative skills in the field of financial management or control.

Education
January 1976 - present: WHARFON SCHOOL, University of Pennsylvania, Candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Economics. Major in economics with courses in personnel management, applied mathematics, statistics and accounting.

1973-1976: FACULTY OF ARTS AND SCIENCES, University. Major in economics diversified by courses in English, Russian language and business law. Transferred into the Wharton School to obtain a stronger background in practical applications of economic theory.

Work Experience

Psychiatric Merger Postponed

Wednesday, October 5, 1977

By SUSAN ELMAN

A proposal made not yet to cosolidate Student Health's psychiatric services with that of the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania's (HUP) outpatient department has been suspended temporarily, according to the administrative consultants recommended that the services be maintained separately.

There are several differences between the two psychiatric services. Student health has a no-fee policy, whereas at HUP costs are Another difference between the two services is that at Student Health, students see psychologists and at HUP they are accorded second year residents.

However, the University has yet to make a final decision. The original Student Health Psychiatric Services director, who has recently received notice for former occupant, Robert Partridge's resignation effective this July, "We decided to fill the superior position... and then the psychiatric..." he said.

Hickey admitted, however, that the University will reconsider the consolidation once a replacement for Partridge is found. Currently, Partridge's position has been assumed by several student health doctors. Partridge said that this practice "makes things very difficult" because the students turn more

Last December, the University considered merging all of its psychiatric services into one. The student health branch raised objec-

"The thrust in American medicine..." makes definite administrative sense.

Annenberg

Pre-Broadway's Best at Annenberg Series

Virtually every major world of theater —

"The World Around the Revolution"

(History 378TV)

Starting this week on Channel 3 — an early morning FAS television class for credit! The World Around the Revolution

"The World Around the Revolution"

(History 378TV)

"The World Around the Revolution"

(History 378TV)
Wednesday, October 5, 1977

Vendor Speaks on City Redevelopment

"Vendor Speaks on City Redevelopment"

"We have to be as strong and as tough as the people we’re dealing with," he said, insisting that government officials could "just walk into" neighborhoods and "wouldn’t even ‘tell us’ a house without a fight." They offered us 30 homes last week, he added, and "their 30 were half the number they offered us as 30 next week." Street continued: "They offered us 30 homes last week, 130 earlier today, and they’ll offer us 200 next week," Street continued.

Previously, the government has "failed to exercise good business practices," by developing new homes while "vandals destroy thousands of abandoned homes," Street said. And the corporation is not breaking the law, since "everyone has a right to defend himself," and his organization defends the communities against an "attack by the government."

"They offered us 30 homes last week, 130 earlier today, and they’ll offer us 200 next week," Street continued. "They offered us 30 homes last week, 130 earlier today, and they’ll offer us 200 next week," Street continued.

"They offered us 30 homes last week, 130 earlier today, and they’ll offer us 200 next week," Street said. "They offered us 30 homes last week, 130 earlier today, and they’ll offer us 200 next week," Street said.

Want to see one of the world’s great Ballet Companies? Stay in town and save!

See the world renowned Pennsylvania Ballet. Right here in Philadelphia for as little as $10. Bravoed by experts like NY. Time’s critic "The Parklane Hosiery store nearest you:"

DANSKIN IS ANY WEAR. PARKLANE HOSIERY IS EVERYWHERE.

The Parklane Hosiery store nearest you:

The Parklane Hosiery store nearest you:

Select from 10 different series.

The Institute for the Study of Human Knowledge presents

EDUCATING BOTH HALVES OF THE BRAIN

Joseph Bogen, M.D.
THE SPLIT BRAIN AND THE HUMAN DUALITY
Robert Ornstein, Ph.D.
EDUCATION AND THE TWO HALVES OF THE BRAIN TEACHING STORIES

Fees: $30.00 General each day
$20.00 Student each day (full-time students, copy of I.D. required)

REGISTRATION FORM

Name ____________________________
Address __________________________
Telephone: ________________________
City State Zip

Check here if you wish to receive information packet:

Mail checks or money orders payable to:

For further information or to mail registration form:

The Institute for the Study of Human Knowledge
29-31 Commerce St.
Philadelphia, PA 19102

(215) 925-1468

THEMIS INSTITUTE FOR THE STUDY OF HUMAN KNOWLEDGE

EDUCATING BOTH HALVES OF THE BRAIN

Joseph Bogen, M.D.
THE SPLIT BRAIN AND THE HUMAN DUALITY
Robert Ornstein, Ph.D.
EDUCATION AND THE TWO HALVES OF THE BRAIN TEACHING STORIES

Fees: $30.00 General each day
$20.00 Student each day (full-time students, copy of I.D. required)

REGISTRATION FORM

Name ____________________________
Address __________________________
Telephone: ________________________
City State Zip

Check here if you wish to receive information packet:

Mail checks or money orders payable to:

For further information or to mail registration form:

The Institute for the Study of Human Knowledge
29-31 Commerce St.
Philadelphia, PA 19102

(215) 925-1468
Ivy Athletic Committees Restructured

ANDY Geiger, Penn athletic director is a strong supporter of the newly formed "Committee of Policy and Coordination" which will deal with intercollegiate athletics primarily and will be under athletic directorship.

Netwomen Set for Opener

BY DAVID ELSON

"We'll get to the best we can. We're working hard and I anticipate a successful season." These are the words of coach Collins whose Netwomen defeated Shooters with a final score of 7-5 at 3 P.M. in their seasons opening match.

The 30-year-old center is a recent graduate of Radcliffe College where she competed on the teams. Six of her players return from last year's 8-4 squad.

Captain and opposite player Jan Fernandez, a junior, and the double team of seniors William Murray and junior Green Light led the Red and Blue returning schedule this year and Collins Bates, Trenton State and Delaware are to be the toughest opponents beside themselves.

Ullas Quaker basketball and football squads, Penn's netwomen do not play in a league in tennis. Therefore there will be no playoffs after the close of the season.

The "Committee on Policy and Coordination" will work in the spring to try to organize the teams. So far, the committee previously existed as a body governing intercollegiate sports and the committee named banding together with football squads, Penn's basketball, soccer, tennis, baseball, and gymnastics.

The netwomen, who have been practicing over the past week of September, participated in the Eastern Collegiate Tournament over the weekend. "Finishing in the top ten is something that we are able to do," Seddon was pleased with his charges.

"I want to see how people are performing each other and to be sure that I would be able to play for Bayern," relayed Kempf, who starts this year's opening game on the team. "I thought it would be an easy job as I had already been there at my first year and was aware of the Quaker's training." The 23-year-old coach believes Swarthmore will give the Quakers "a good match. They have a very good top singles player,” she said.

Obtain these wondrous tools which have been successful and significantly strapped and consequently strapped in a certain manner.

I would like to think for myself, but I am a public figure, a large ecosystem of tools that have been successful in increasing your learning power and reap many other benefits. Awaiting more tools from you, and I will be more than happy to send them and assist you in the best possible manner.

PENN HALL—Florian Kempf dribbles downfield in a game earlier this month. Kempf, one of the world's most successful players, will be making a trip to the States for the first time.

Penn Boasts 14 Point Club Sports Program

The "Committee on Policy and Coordination" will give us advice on the basis of ability. Thus, the emphasis is clearly placed on participation. To be fair, I can say that they are now headed by University President Martin Meyerson (above). The year did for him. Kempf was looked down on by his club, but he was able to grow as a person.

Kempf has proved something, and did, made it a habit. He played on Coach Duncan's second-team All-Ivy honors. Next year he will be a junior and senior years while being enrolled in the Business School. He has accelarated in his college training, but has maintained an excellent record.

The technical differences are far greater than ever. The former is not allowed to involve themselves athletically with the "Committee on Policy and Coordination," Geiger explained. "It will be making certain decisions regarding the Intramural and Athletic Policy. They will also discuss major issues, and I think we'll go to the Committee for final approval or disapproval."}

COPE-AIDES—ACT NOW

COPE—With Life's Frustations

Obtain these wordless tools which have been successful since antiquity. The instructional Guide points the way towards more harmonious social wellbeing. You will come to the COPE ride, where you will meet new friends, increase your learning power and reap many other benefits.

Available In The U. Of Penn Bookstore.

Sponsorship

Ivy League athletics stand the test time as the Quaker sports scene.

Penn's athletic director in a strong supporter of the newly formed "Committee of Policy and Coordination" which will deal with intercollegiate athletics primarily and will be under athletic directorship.

Netwomen Set for Opener

BY DAVID ELSON

"We'll get to the best we can. We're working hard and I anticipate a successful season." These are the words of coach Collins whose Netwomen defeated Shooters with a final score of 7-5 at 3 P.M. in their seasons opening match.

The 30-year-old center is a recent graduate of Radcliffe College where she competed on the teams. Six of her players return from last year's 8-4 squad.

Captain and opposite player Jan Fernandez, a junior, and the double team of seniors William Murray and junior Green Light led the Red and Blue returning schedule this year and Collins Bates, Trenton State and Delaware are to be the toughest opponents beside themselves.

Ullas Quaker basketball and football squads, Penn's netwomen do not play in a league in tennis. Therefore there will be no playoffs after the close of the season.

The "Committee on Policy and Coordination" will work in the spring to try to organize the teams. So far, the committee previously existed as a body governing intercollegiate sports and the committee named banding together with football squads, Penn's basketball, soccer, tennis, baseball, and gymnastics.

The netwomen, who have been practicing over the past week of September, participated in the Eastern Collegiate Tournament over the weekend. "Finishing in the top ten is something that we are able to do," Seddon was pleased with his charges.

"I want to see how people are performing each other and to be sure that I would be able to play for Bayern," relayed Kempf, who starts this year's opening game on the team. "I thought it would be an easy job as I had already been there at my first year and was aware of the Quaker's training." The 23-year-old coach believes Swarthmore will give the Quakers "a good match. They have a very good top singles player,” she said.

Obtain these wondrous tools which have been successful in increasing your learning power and reap many other benefits. Awaiting more tools from you, and I will be more than happy to send them and assist you in the best possible manner.

PENN HALL—Florian Kempf dribbles downfield in a game earlier this month. Kempf, one of the world's most successful players, will be making a trip to the States for the first time.

Penn Boasts 14 Point Club Sports Program

The "Committee on Policy and Coordination" will give us advice on the basis of ability. Thus, the emphasis is clearly placed on participation. To be fair, I can say that they are now headed by University President Martin Meyerson (above). The year did for him. Kempf was looked down on by his club, but he was able to grow as a person.

Kempf has proved something, and did, made it a habit. He played on Coach Duncan's second-team All-Ivy honors. Next year he will be a junior and senior years while being enrolled in the Business School. He has accelarated in his college training, but has maintained an excellent record.

The technical differences are far greater than ever. The former is not allowed to involve themselves athletically with the "Committee on Policy and Coordination," Geiger explained. "It will be making certain decisions regarding the Intramural and Athletic Policy. They will also discuss major issues, and I think we'll go to the Committee for final approval or disapproval."