Students Rally Against Speech

By Palestinian

A group of approximately 20 students led by the president of the University Student Organization (PLO) who was on a member of the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) who was on a campaign visit to the United States, held a rally yesterday, chanting, placard-carrying students against Speech “Geneva, Peace is the Middle East. Ttie fifth speaker in the 1972 Munich summer Olympics, and “Remember Munich.”

The rally was held in response to the invitation of a Jordanian representative is being addressed a capacity crowd in the B-l auditorium. He addressed the University with views. Speakers from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, and Syria have already expressed their support for this cause. The rally was held in response to the invitation of a Jordanian representative is being addressed a capacity crowd in the B-l auditorium. He addressed the University with views. Speakers from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, and Syria have already expressed their support for this cause.

Shabel discussed Security Office, Labor Dispute In Radio Interview

By JONATHAN GREEN

In a radio interview recorded yesterday afternoon, the Labor Dispute in Radio Interview. He was also a member of the University Student Organization (PLO) who was on a campaign visit to the United States, held a rally yesterday, chanting, placard-carrying students against Speech “Geneva, Peace is the Middle East. Ttie fifth speaker in the 1972 Munich summer Olympics, and “Remember Munich.”

The rally was held in response to the invitation of a Jordanian representative is being addressed a capacity crowd in the B-l auditorium. He addressed the University with views. Speakers from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, and Syria have already expressed their support for this cause.

Shabel discussed Security Office, Labor Dispute In Radio Interview

By JONATHAN GREEN

In a radio interview recorded yesterday afternoon, the Labor Dispute in Radio Interview. He was also a member of the University Student Organization (PLO) who was on a campaign visit to the United States, held a rally yesterday, chanting, placard-carrying students against Speech “Geneva, Peace is the Middle East. Ttie fifth speaker in the 1972 Munich summer Olympics, and “Remember Munich.”

The rally was held in response to the invitation of a Jordanian representative is being addressed a capacity crowd in the B-l auditorium. He addressed the University with views. Speakers from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, and Syria have already expressed their support for this cause.

Shabel discussed Security Office, Labor Dispute In Radio Interview

By JONATHAN GREEN

In a radio interview recorded yesterday afternoon, the Labor Dispute in Radio Interview. He was also a member of the University Student Organization (PLO) who was on a campaign visit to the United States, held a rally yesterday, chanting, placard-carrying students against Speech “Geneva, Peace is the Middle East. Ttie fifth speaker in the 1972 Munich summer Olympics, and “Remember Munich.”

The rally was held in response to the invitation of a Jordanian representative is being addressed a capacity crowd in the B-l auditorium. He addressed the University with views. Speakers from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, and Syria have already expressed their support for this cause.

Shabel discussed Security Office, Labor Dispute In Radio Interview

By JONATHAN GREEN

In a radio interview recorded yesterday afternoon, the Labor Dispute in Radio Interview. He was also a member of the University Student Organization (PLO) who was on a campaign visit to the United States, held a rally yesterday, chanting, placard-carrying students against Speech “Geneva, Peace is the Middle East. Ttie fifth speaker in the 1972 Munich summer Olympics, and “Remember Munich.”

The rally was held in response to the invitation of a Jordanian representative is being addressed a capacity crowd in the B-l auditorium. He addressed the University with views. Speakers from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, and Syria have already expressed their support for this cause.

Shabel discussed Security Office, Labor Dispute In Radio Interview

By JONATHAN GREEN

In a radio interview recorded yesterday afternoon, the Labor Dispute in Radio Interview. He was also a member of the University Student Organization (PLO) who was on a campaign visit to the United States, held a rally yesterday, chanting, placard-carrying students against Speech “Geneva, Peace is the Middle East. Ttie fifth speaker in the 1972 Munich summer Olympics, and “Remember Munich.”

The rally was held in response to the invitation of a Jordanian representative is being addressed a capacity crowd in the B-l auditorium. He addressed the University with views. Speakers from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, and Syria have already expressed their support for this cause.

Shabel discussed Security Office, Labor Dispute In Radio Interview

By JONATHAN GREEN

In a radio interview recorded yesterday afternoon, the Labor Dispute in Radio Interview. He was also a member of the University Student Organization (PLO) who was on a campaign visit to the United States, held a rally yesterday, chanting, placard-carrying students against Speech “Geneva, Peace is the Middle East. Ttie fifth speaker in the 1972 Munich summer Olympics, and “Remember Munich.”

The rally was held in response to the invitation of a Jordanian representative is being addressed a capacity crowd in the B-l auditorium. He addressed the University with views. Speakers from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, and Syria have already expressed their support for this cause.

Shabel discussed Security Office, Labor Dispute In Radio Interview

By JONATHAN GREEN

In a radio interview recorded yesterday afternoon, the Labor Dispute in Radio Interview. He was also a member of the University Student Organization (PLO) who was on a campaign visit to the United States, held a rally yesterday, chanting, placard-carrying students against Speech “Geneva, Peace is the Middle East. Ttie fifth speaker in the 1972 Munich summer Olympics, and “Remember Munich.”

The rally was held in response to the invitation of a Jordanian representative is being addressed a capacity crowd in the B-l auditorium. He addressed the University with views. Speakers from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, and Syria have already expressed their support for this cause.
McGEORGE SCHOOL OF LAW UNIVERSITY OF THE PACIFIC

Accredited American Bar Association Member — Association of American Law Schools

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA

May 1, 1978 is application deadline for first year students seeking Juris Doctor in 3-year Day and 4-year Evening Program beginning in September 1978.

Pre-Law Discussion FOR PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS

DATE: Thursday, June 1, 1978
TIME: 6:30 - 8:30 PM

For appointment or further information, contact:

George F. Harkness, Director of Admissions
McGeorge School of Law
University of the Pacific

universityofthepacific.edu
Pensional of Speech

(Continued from page 3)

or not controversial.

The protest broke up at about 4:30 P.M. and before Sayegh began

President Eric Laxson said that the administration decided to "make clear that Penn State students want to explore a larger and to open the Middle East Center's budget for student investigation." Laxson took issue with the way that organization operates, a charge that this speech should not have been presented because it was in forms of the series since the PLO's 1975 letter had included the inclusion of the PLO. In response, Laxson said that that detail.

Financial Aid

Laxson said that the protest and audience heckling were "par for the course and aren't really unexpected." Crowd reaction was virtually nonexistent before the speech, as it is in any previous speeches. The crowd cheered when Sayegh received the Israeli carving.

Dental School Jewels

(Continued from page 3)

the collection, which had not been

Dental School Jewels had been pieces of jewelry such as rings, bracelets, and charnel, and several gold pieces encrusted with royal blue, a color of which contains personal notes to Evans. There are also many other items that are as charming and unique as a necklace containing royal blue and gold.

On Campus at

PHOTOS FOR ANGELFARIES

PASSPORTS

A Resume

While you write service

If needed

On Campus at

SHAPIR STUDIOS

222-7963

19104

Pa.

Philadelphia

Hanna & Redken

222-7863

Rental

remembrance.

Murder occurred 11 times at Munich on September 5th, 1972. The killers were the PLO.

And we shall not forget.

The Killel were Israeli Athletes.

And we shall not forget those who have fallen in the service of our country.

Israel. May their memory be a blessing.

P.S.

On your complete wedding record Send 25¢ for postage and handling.

20-page booklet for planning your engagement and 17 styles Special bonus coupon saves you 50% on Keepsake Bride's Book.

Perfect SYMBOLS OF LOVE

A Keepsake diamond ring says it all, reflecting your love in its brilliance and beauty. The Keepsake guarantee assures a perfect diamond of fine color and precise cut. There is a lifetime diamond ring.

KeePsake Reptiled Diamond Rmgs

How to Plan Your Engagement and Wedding

We are pleased to offer you a special coupon for our Keepsake diamond rings and beautiful bridal sets. This offer is valid only with this coupon. Please use this coupon to purchase a Keepsake diamond ring and/or a beautiful bridal set.

Name:

Address:

City:

State:

Zip:

Keep your Keepsake dealer's inventory of Keepsake Diamond Rings.

KEEP your Keepsake diamond rings and bridal sets.

text that was previously extracted for it.
Letters to the Editor
Farewell for Courageous State Senators

On October 18, the Pennsylvania Senate defeated a $47 million appropriation for the University with key Senators voting against the measure. This came after a bitter struggle over the same later during the session between the University and the state legislature.

That decision has left both parties in the same position. As a student at the University, I must strongly protest the action of the Senate. We, the students, are the ones who are most affected by this decision. The University, who are the ones who have supported us through thick and thin, are the ones who are being put at risk.

We are now on the verge of a strike, and the Senate's decision has left us with no other choice. We must fight for our rights and we must fight for our University.

FRED R. SCHNEIDER
Editorial Page Editor

A Three Party Race

By Daniel M. Gold

The race for student council president is heating up, with three candidates vying for the position.

The first candidate is Arthur L. Kline, a member of the College of Arts and Sciences. Kline is a native of Philadelphia and has been involved in student government for the past two years.

The second candidate is Lee Prussell, a member of the College of Arts and Sciences. Prussell is a past member of the Student Senate and has been involved in several campus organizations.

The third candidate is MacNelly, a member of the College of Arts and Sciences. MacNelly is a past member of the Student Senate and has been involved in several campus organizations.

The race is heating up, with three candidates vying for the position. The first candidate is Arthur L. Kline, a member of the College of Arts and Sciences. Kline is a native of Philadelphia and has been involved in student government for the past two years.

The second candidate is Lee Prussell, a member of the College of Arts and Sciences. Prussell is a past member of the Student Senate and has been involved in several campus organizations.

The third candidate is MacNelly, a member of the College of Arts and Sciences. MacNelly is a past member of the Student Senate and has been involved in several campus organizations.

The race is heating up, with three candidates vying for the position. The first candidate is Arthur L. Kline, a member of the College of Arts and Sciences. Kline is a native of Philadelphia and has been involved in student government for the past two years.

The second candidate is Lee Prussell, a member of the College of Arts and Sciences. Prussell is a past member of the Student Senate and has been involved in several campus organizations.

The third candidate is MacNelly, a member of the College of Arts and Sciences. MacNelly is a past member of the Student Senate and has been involved in several campus organizations.
Humanitarian Concerns

By Melvin Shuman

The DP editorial on an upcoming trip to Israel Friday's paper was one of the most remarkable things I have ever read. The urge to send it to the Senator is immediate. When you read the situation in the University, most senates deserve grapes for themselves, and yet our editorial shows no concern for the issues involved other than that they directly affect you and the University.

You argue that a disproportionate impact would fall on the University if the funds are withheld. It's uncharitable to single out the University in this way. It's a feature of the University's mission to help bridge the gap between the people who have been hurt most by the Israeli war and the people who have been hurt least. In the case of the University, the impact involves the 343 discharged employees, the students, the faculty and the image of the University. The University is a microcosm of society. If it is not affected, why is it here?

You claim that the University is being penalized by still more politics, without considering that humanitarian concerns and principles of justice may be behind the political debate. The shortsightedness of your opinions seems to stem from a basic misunderstanding of the issues involved. The Senator's concern is the funds of the State of Pennsylvania, which has historically financed a substantial share of the University's expenses. The University has traditionally advised a substantial share of state money to the University. You claim that "the University is being penalized by still more politics, without considering that humanitarian concerns and principles of justice may be behind the political debate."

In other words, it is the responsibility of every legislator to see that the tax dollars of his constituents are going to support institutions and programs that are in the best interest of his constituents and the State of Pennsylvania. When a Senator determines that his constituents have been hurt by the University's action, and that the University's action is the result of a lack of cooperation by the State, he has a right to voice his concern.

In the case of the University, the action of the University was the result of a lack of cooperation by the State. The State of Pennsylvania should, but apparently did not, consider in the balance, the humanitarian concerns and principles of justice that money is going to support.

The University must also consider the balance: is it worth it to lose $17 million in funds without considering that humanitarian concerns and principles of justice may lie behind the political debate. The University's action in dismissing the housekeeping employees; that the University was irresponsible in firing these employees, especially in light of the history of the University; and that the University's action was morally reprehensible and unjustifiable, then a Senator is not only justified in voting to withhold State funds from the University, but compelled to do so by the dictates of reason and conscience.

You argue that "a disproportionate and unreasonable penalty is not being inflicted here." If you refuse to balance the interests of the University and the fired employees, you refuse to see that the University is being penalized for its lack of cooperation. The University has not been asked to pay for the $17 million in the best interest of its constituents. The University has been asked to pay for the $17 million in the best interest of the State of Pennsylvania.

The University faced a difficult decision of $17 million in funds against the 343 discharged employees, or of pressure from the Teamsters Union against the University. The University acted as an insurance company and decided to pay the $17 million in funds against the 343 discharged employees, and thus, in doing so he is in representing the best interest of his constituents. A Senator in this situation is justified in voting to withhold State funds from the University, but compelled to do so by the dictates of reason and conscience.

You say that you view the situation in the Philippines in its widest, most simplistic terms imaginable. The Senator is not the only one who has been guilty of this error. The people of Pennsylvania, are asked to allocate substantial funds to a private institution without considering that humanitarian concerns and principles of justice may lie behind the political debate. The Senator's concern is the State of Pennsylvania. The University should, but apparently did not, consider in the balance, the humanitarian concerns and principles of justice that money is going to support.

What all this means is that when State Legislators, as representatives of the people of Pennsylvania, are asked to allocate substantial funds to a private institution, they have a legitimate interest in determining what kind of instruction is being maintained by the University. For example, if the educational curriculum of the University did not reflect a certain level of quality and diversity of instruction, the State Legislators might take another look at its appropriations.

You claim that "the University is being penalized by still more politics," without considering that humanitarian concerns and principles of justice may be behind the political debate. The shortsightedness of your opinions seems to stem from a basic misunderstanding of the issues involved. The Senator's concern is the funds of the State of Pennsylvania, which has historically financed a substantial share of the University's expenses. The University has traditionally advised a substantial share of state money to the University.

When a Senator determines that his constituents have been hurt by the University's action, and that the University's action is the result of a lack of cooperation by the State, he has a right to voice his concern. In the case of the University, the action of the University was the result of a lack of cooperation by the State. The State of Pennsylvania should, but apparently did not, consider in the balance, the humanitarian concerns and principles of justice that money is going to support.

The University must also consider the balance: is it worth it to lose $17 million in funds without considering that humanitarian concerns and principles of justice may lie behind the political debate. The University's action in dismissing the housekeeping employees; that the University was irresponsible in firing these employees, especially in light of the history of the University; and that the University's action was morally reprehensible and unjustifiable, then a Senator is not only justified in voting to withhold State funds from the University, but compelled to do so by the dictates of reason and conscience.

You say that you view the situation in the Philippines in its widest, most simplistic terms imaginable. The Senator is not the only one who has been guilty of this error. The people of Pennsylvania, are asked to allocate substantial funds to a private institution without considering that humanitarian concerns and principles of justice may lie behind the political debate. The Senator's concern is the State of Pennsylvania. The University should, but apparently did not, consider in the balance, the humanitarian concerns and principles of justice that money is going to support.
Boothes Gear for Dragon Invasion

By STEVE FENARS

It's the big boy against the prophesy little man from the black. The Big Man, who loves more, more than anything else, to take the little ones down in his own domain. The big boy is big for a reason. It's a reason to make sure that the little boys and girls can't take his magic. And so, the big boy is building a team. The big boy is building a team for the big boy to play in. And so, the big boy is building a team for the big boy to play in.

The big boy's team is made up of the big boys and girls who have been teased and bullied by the little ones. The big boys and girls who were made to feel inferior and small. The big boys and girls who were made to feel like they didn't belong. And so, the big boy is building a team of big boys and girls to fight back.

The big boy's team is made up of the best of the best. The best football players, the best basketball players, the best soccer players.
The best of the best to take on the little ones. The big boys and girls who will show the little ones what it means to be big.

The big boy's team is made up of the strongest, the fastest, the most skilled. The big boys and girls who will show the little ones what it means to be strong, to be fast, to be skilled. The big boys and girls who will show the little ones that they can take on the big boys and girls.

The big boy's team is made up of the most determined. The big boys and girls who will never give up. The big boys and girls who will fight through the pain, through the sweat, through the tears. The big boys and girls who will never quit.

The big boy's team is made up of the most dedicated. The big boys and girls who will give their all. The big boys and girls who will do whatever it takes. The big boys and girls who will never give less than their best.

The big boy's team is made up of the strongest, the fastest, the most skilled, the most determined, the most dedicated. The big boys and girls who will take on the little ones and show them what it means to be big.