Gregorian Says FAS Curriculum Hinges on Report Recommendations

By JOAN GRECO

The future of all requirements for Faculty of Arts and Sciences (FAS) students is in flux following a report prepared by the FAS Committee on Educational Policy, said Associate Dean Robert Schrieffer Monday.

"The first draft of the report, which is now being reviewed by Gregorian Associate Dean Richard Lambert and committee chairman Robert Schrieffer, is not a "core curriculum" for all students," said Schrieffer Monday.

"The program would possibly contain two or three core introductory courses in order to facilitate faculty members." According to Schrieffer, the implications of the report would not necessarily eliminate the current cluster system.

"At the moment, the report makes no specific recommendations to change the cluster system," Schrieffer said Monday.

However, the report does suggest that the course number, which is required for graduation by the Economics Policy Committee, would be increased from six to 10 credits, and that the core courses would be "more course-like." Schrieffer added that, although the committee has finished its task, the report may be published later this semester.

Speaker Discusses Impact of Communication on Television

By RICHARD E. GORDON

A forthcoming decision by the U.S. Supreme Court in the appeal Kolber v. Board of Directors of Columbia University is expected to determine the future of the educational policy reports on television.

"The United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit ruled in favor of the University, which had sought to have the report on television," said Schrieffer Monday.

According to Schrieffer, the report's decision was "a major victory for the University, which had sought to prevent the report from being broadcast on television." The report was expected to be published later this semester.

Admissions Policies Without Quotas Result in hike Graduate Minority Enrollment

By BRADY GREGOR

The University's admissions policies have resulted in a significant increase in the number of minority students enrolled in the University's graduate schools.

"The policy of not admitting students based on racial or ethnic background has led to an increase in the number of minority students in the freshman class," said Schrieffer Monday.

The report also states that the University's admissions policies have led to an increase in the number of minority students in the freshman class.

Weekend Cancellations Decrease Dining Profits

By DONALD JACOBS

Cancellations of campus events this fall have had a negative impact on the University's dining services.

"The weekend program, featuring several events, has been canceled due to the poor weather," said Schrieffer Monday.

As a result of the cancelation of student events, the University's dining services have experienced a decrease in profits.

"The weekend program is a major source of revenue for the University's dining services," said Schrieffer Monday.

Consumer Party Candidate Frissell Urges Strength in Contoller Post

By P.H. WINTER

The Consumer Party candidate for city controller, Student Party candidate for city controller, and Socialist Party candidate for city controller all support the idea of increasing the city's financial responsibility.

"The city's financial responsibility is too important to be left in the hands of one person," said Schrieffer Monday.

As a result of the candidates' support, the city's financial responsibility will be increased.

"The city's financial responsibility is too important to be left in the hands of one person," said Schrieffer Monday.

U.To Request $22 Million in 1979 StateAppropriation

By CAROL RUTHER

The University has requested $22 million in state appropriation for 1979.

"This request is necessary to support the University's ongoing programs," said Schrieffer Monday.

As a result of the request, the University's financial situation will be improved.

"This request is necessary to support the University's ongoing programs," said Schrieffer Monday.

Greyson Says FAS Curriculum Hinges on Report Recommendations

By JOAN GRECO

The future of all requirements for Faculty of Arts and Sciences (FAS) students is in flux following a report prepared by the FAS Committee on Educational Policy, said Associate Dean Robert Schrieffer Monday.

"The first draft of the report, which is now being reviewed by Gregorian Associate Dean Richard Lambert and committee chairman Robert Schrieffer, is not a "core curriculum" for all students," said Schrieffer Monday.

"The program would possibly contain two or three core introductory courses in order to facilitate faculty members." According to Schrieffer, the implications of the report would not necessarily eliminate the current cluster system.

"At the moment, the report makes no specific recommendations to change the cluster system," Schrieffer said Monday.

However, the report does suggest that the course number, which is required for graduation by the Economics Policy Committee, would be increased from six to 10 credits, and that the core courses would be "more course-like." Schrieffer added that, although the committee has finished its task, the report may be published later this semester.

Speaker Discusses Impact of Communication on Television

By RICHARD E. GORDON

A forthcoming decision by the U.S. Supreme Court in the appeal Kolber v. Board of Directors of Columbia University is expected to determine the future of the educational policy reports on television.

"The United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit ruled in favor of the University, which had sought to have the report on television," said Schrieffer Monday.

According to Schrieffer, the report's decision was "a major victory for the University, which had sought to prevent the report from being broadcast on television." The report was expected to be published later this semester.

Admissions Policies Without Quotas Result in hike Graduate Minority Enrollment

By BRADY GREGOR

The University's admissions policies have resulted in a significant increase in the number of minority students enrolled in the University's graduate schools.

"The policy of not admitting students based on racial or ethnic background has led to an increase in the number of minority students in the freshman class," said Schrieffer Monday.

The report also states that the University's admissions policies have led to an increase in the number of minority students in the freshman class.

Weekend Cancellations Decrease Dining Profits

By DONALD JACOBS

Cancellations of campus events this fall have had a negative impact on the University's dining services.

"The weekend program, featuring several events, has been canceled due to the poor weather," said Schrieffer Monday.

As a result of the cancelation of student events, the University's dining services have experienced a decrease in profits.

"The weekend program is a major source of revenue for the University's dining services," said Schrieffer Monday.

Consumer Party Candidate Frissell Urges Strength in Contoller Post

By P.H. WINTER

The Consumer Party candidate for city controller, Student Party candidate for city controller, and Socialist Party candidate for city controller all support the idea of increasing the city's financial responsibility.

"The city's financial responsibility is too important to be left in the hands of one person," said Schrieffer Monday.

As a result of the candidates' support, the city's financial responsibility will be increased.

"The city's financial responsibility is too important to be left in the hands of one person," said Schrieffer Monday.

U.To Request $22 Million in 1979 StateAppropriation

By CAROL RUTHER

The University has requested $22 million in state appropriation for 1979.

"This request is necessary to support the University's ongoing programs," said Schrieffer Monday.

As a result of the request, the University's financial situation will be improved.

"This request is necessary to support the University's ongoing programs," said Schrieffer Monday.
Undergraduates Assembly Communications Forum
"THE TOP BRASS"
With:
President Martin Meyerson
Vice Provost-Patricia McFate
Executive Assistant To The President—Barbara Stonehouse

Wed., Nov. 2, 8 P.M.
Hi Rise South Rootop Lounge
All Undergraduates Welcome

NEW LONDON STYLE PIZZA
Grinders House of Steaks
Open
11 A.M. - 1 Weekdays
12-2 A.M. - Sunday
Discount Discount Discount
Good Piney Day
Cupon Expires Nov. 30, 1977
Discount Discount Discount

APARTMENTS
OPENING
5 and 6-BEDROOM
RENOVATED
MODERN
APARTMENTS
ON CAMPUS
Eastern Standard Reality
EVS-9092

OFFICE SPACE
6-8 PERSON
AFFORDABLE
1ST FLOOR
BARRY HOUSE
TOWNHOUSE
382-3150
386-4575

RENOVATED APARTMENTS
Eff, 1-BR.
3- to 6-bedroom
MODERN
TOWNHouses
with fireplace
382-3150
386-4575

SALES
SALES
SALES
BOOKLETS • FORMS • MULTILENTICULAR ENVELOPES • BROCHURES
MONDAY-FRIDAY 9 TO 5
Call Or Come In
514-3099

CAMPUS EVENTS
ON CAMPUS
TAY SACHS TESTING:
November 1st
3:00-5:30
At The Hill
Tay Sachs, A Fatal Genetic Disease, Can Be Prevented. Only If Every Jewish Adult Is Tested

The Friends of The Library University of Pennsylvania
Announce A Lecture
By
JACQUES BARZUN
THE FUTURE OF READING

Children vs. The Rest of Your Life
OPTIONS AND PRIORITIES FOR PARENTS

A Weekend In The Country...
With
NINA AUERBACH
That Flambouyant And Fascinating English Professor That You’ve All Heard About...

Wednesday, November 1st
College Hall
Room 200
4:00-6:00 P.M.
The University of Pennsylvania has been urged by its Trustees, by the legislature and the state executive, by the Federal government, by the Commonwealth funds that we have received are not simply, counterproductive. It contradicts the demand for efficiency that Commonwealth funds that we have received are not simply, counterproductive. It contradicts the demand for efficiency that...
Fear and Paranoia in West Philadelphia

By Steve Dubow

It is Saturday night, 3:30 A.M. I am walking home from a friend's party. Behind me, I hear steps. The person is catching up to me quickly, although I have picked up my pace.

Small beefy arms form around my waist, and begin to drip down into my eyes. My heart is beating against my chest as I struggle to keep my mind off this punky kid.

My heart is beating against my chest as the firemen gutted by fire two weeks ago. I wasn't aware of this fire until I saw the smoke from my dorm room window, which I hoped might scare off the person that was behind me. It was incorrectly editing version. The Daily Pennsylvanian sincerely regrets the error.

The stately grandfather clock against the wall was still in working order. The beams of light through the gothic windows were taking on the colors of the dawn.

Letters to the Editor

In Defense of Scholarly Objectivity

In the past few years, there have been a number of efforts to challenge the objectivity of research in the social sciences.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

Coodley and Mass Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Mass Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Mass Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Mass Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Mass Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coo Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coo Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.

The letter by Coodley and Massachusetts as a graduate student, I have come to believe that the objectivity of research is a fundamental assumption of any serious scholarship.
The Daily Pennsylvania

U. Admissions Policies

The school's director of minority recruitment, Admissions Officer Claire Reehle said minority applicants are given special consideration in the admissions process, and each school has successfully increased its minority enrollment, as well as the inclusion of minority students from out of state in 1975 to 13 percent.

The University's veterinary school has had difficulty recruiting minority students because of the high cost of education, the high selectivity of veterinary school admissions, and the practice of matching places with the student's performance on the PSAT.

"We are trying to recruit minority students," said Rapley, "but we are not rigid-if there are an adequate number of minority applicants, the programs are not filled, and minority students are not excluded on the basis of race." Rapley said he was uncertain about the effects the Bakke decision would have on the University's veterinary school.

Rapley, however, has made a considerable effort to encourage minority applications. He said, for instance, that black students in the area "are not told minority students about the opportunities in veterinary medicine." Rapley said.

"But I want to tell minority students about the opportunities in veterinary medicine," he added.

"It's not fair to tell minority students about the opportunities in veterinary medicine," he said.

"If we were to do it on grades and extracurricular activities, then we see the difference," Rapley concluded. "If the court would say that you can't take race into account, then the ruling would be a different decision." Rapley said.

"We decided, Whatever you do, take race into account, then the ruling would be a different decision," Rapley concluded. "If the court would say that you can't take race into account, then the ruling would be a different decision." Rapley said.

"We decided, Whatever you do, take race into account, then the ruling would be a different decision," Rapley concluded. "If the court would say that you can't take race into account, then the ruling would be a different decision." Rapley said.

"We decided, Whatever you do, take race into account, then the ruling would be a different decision," Rapley concluded. "If the court would say that you can't take race into account, then the ruling would be a different decision." Rapley said.

"We decided, Whatever you do, take race into account, then the ruling would be a different decision," Rapley concluded. "If the court would say that you can't take race into account, then the ruling would be a different decision." Rapley said.

"We decided, Whatever you do, take race into account, then the ruling would be a different decision," Rapley concluded. "If the court would say that you can't take race into account, then the ruling would be a different decision." Rapley said.
Princeton Soccer: Success at Last

RICH HOFFMAN

When Bill Muse took over as the coach of the Princeton men's soccer team three years ago, he faced an uphill battle. The Ivy League doormats. Five years later, Friday night, Princeton triumphed second time in three years to Temple. Muse, who has established himself as one of the league's finest coaches, has transformed the team into a force to be reckoned with. The defeat of Temple, the only remaining tough opponent, according to Coach Hippolyte, should be Temple's most serious threat this season. Their most recent victory was a 1-0 triumph over the Big Red. "We have to see if we can continue this winning streak," said Muse. "We have to prove ourselves against the top teams in the league." The road between these two points has been a long and winding one. Princeton lost the first game of the season to Temple, 3-0. Since then, they have won four of their last five games, including a 2-1 victory over the Big Red. "We have to see if we can continue this winning streak," said Muse. "We have to prove ourselves against the top teams in the league." The road between these two points has been a long and winding one. Princeton lost the first game of the season to Temple, 3-0. Since then, they have won four of their last five games, including a 2-1 victory over the Big Red. "We have to see if we can continue this winning streak," said Muse. "We have to prove ourselves against the top teams in the league." The road between these two points has been a long and winding one. Princeton lost the first game of the season to Temple, 3-0. Since then, they have won four of their last five games, including a 2-1 victory over the Big Red. "We have to see if we can continue this winning streak," said Muse. "We have to prove ourselves against the top teams in the league."