Three Students Claim Harassment By FIJI Fraternity Members

BY JEFFREY B. BARKER

Three students are claiming that they were subjected to sexual harassment by members of a fraternity. The incident took place last weekend near campus.

The students, who were not injured in the fight, say they began at the fraternity house on Fifth Street and escalated to the street outside of the house. The students claim that they were victims of sexual harassment.

The fraternity house is located on Fifth Street, near campus, and is the site of a number of activities, including parties and gatherings. The students say that the harassment continued inside the house and ended with them being pushed outside.

The fraternity house is a common location for social activities and gatherings, and is often the site of parties and events.

D.A. Hopeful Ladin Fights to Establish Identity

BY ALE C. ABER

This is the sixth in a series of profiles highlighting the contributions of minority students to the University.

Standing in the rain on West Philadelphia Boulevard last week, a group of students rallied to support their peers in the University's African American Student Union. The students were protesting what they say is a lack of resources and support for minority students on campus.

The students say that they have been met with resistance and hostility from members of the University administration, who have denied their claims and refused to take action.

The African American Student Union is a group of students who are working to improve the representation and support for minority students on campus.

Phew, Reader's view

J. W. JOHNSON

Three adminstrators were opposed to the decision to allow the University to make judgements about people on the basis of their race.

The new appeals mechanism, which was approved by the University's Board of Trustees, will allow students to have their cases heard by a Board of Appeal, which is composed of faculty and student representatives.

The new appeals mechanism is intended to provide students with greater access to higher education and to ensure that minority students are not discriminated against.

The new appeals mechanism is being implemented in response to a growing number of complaints about discrimination and bias in the University's admissions and academic policies.

The new appeals mechanism is intended to provide students with greater access to higher education and to ensure that minority students are not discriminated against.
Monday, November 7, 1977

Museum

(Continued from page 1)

Most degree programs are not designed to lead to special projects within the limited resources of the University. Therefore, King will be responsible for reviewing and organizing the museum's collections and for developing a central service to supply information more readily to other members of the University community.

D.A.

(Continued from page 1)

For example, he pledged to establish special prosecutorial units in the Department of Justice to look into the activities of the organized crime syndicates, and for reviewing and reorganizing the department at the Museum of Texas History.

No One Is Cheaper

We offer All reproduction services and the lowest prices on campus.

- Black & white Xerox (4 sides per copy)
- Color Xerox (1 side per copy)
- Black & white Copies
- Offset printing (resumes, posters, etc.)

Come in for a free REPRO Poster Replica!

Replica I (the Xerox Center) 370 South 40th St. 386-2959
Replica IV (the Printing Center) 370 South 40th St. 386-4306

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH THE WRITING PROGRAM

Students who wish to be considered for the courses listed below are invited to submit their original work, as indicated, to Anne Dalke, English Department, 119 Bennett Hall, by November 11th. Admission is necessarily selective in these round table workshop courses. Names of those admitted will be posted in the English Department.

ENGLISH 512-ADVANCED PRACTICE OF POETICS 2-4. Daniel Hoffman

A sample of original fiction or short story, or an excerpt (no more than 10 pages) from a longer work.

ENGLISH 115-WORKSHOP FOR ADVANCED FICTION WRITERS 1-3. Benjamin Sher

Five pages of poems.

ENGLISH 112-PLAYWRITING 2-4. Robert Story

A sample of a playwriting play-play, a review or a sketch, or most certain dialogues.

ENGLISH 113-CRAFT OF VERSE 2-3. J. B. Olson

A sample of five poems.

ENGLISH 112-WORKSHOP FOR FICTION WRITERS 2-3. Paula Fox

Due on the first day of class. All workshop members will be invited to a reading and reception.

512, 115, 114, 113, 112. NOT OPEN TO FRESHMEN.

ENGLISH 10-FRESHMEN CREATIVE WRITING

Section 1: 11 a.m. - 12:15 p.m. William Zanarza

Section 2: 12:15 p.m. - 1:30 p.m. William Zanarza

Section 3: 1:30 p.m. - 2:45 p.m. John Cleveland

A sample of three-page sample of original fiction in any genre, as well as a letter of application explaining why you wish to take the course.

FURTHER INFORMATION MAY BE OBTAINED FROM THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT OFFICE.
City Elections

District Attorney

Tomorrow Philadelphia voters will go to the polls and select a City Controller and District Attorney candidates for the November 3 election which will decide who will represent Philadelphia's 1.5 million people. These elections are important because they will shape the future of our city. The ability to elect competent and honest leaders is crucial to the well-being of our community. The candidates for these positions should be held accountable for their actions, and their qualifications should be carefully scrutinized.

City Controller

We endorse Klein for the Controller's job, he says, because he wants to work for the good of our city and its people. He has been a long-time resident of Philadelphia and has a strong connection to the community. His campaign promises include increasing transparency and accountability in city government, as well as fighting corruption and waste.

Letter to the Editor

Respecting a Distorted Lens

In response to the recent series of articles about the student's editorial board, I would like to offer my perspective. As a member of the editorial board, I have been exposed to a wide range of viewpoints and experiences. However, the articles I have read have been biased and misrepresented. The editorial board seeks to present a balanced and objective view of events, and I urge the reader to consider this when reading our articles.

The NLRB Decision

Teamsters Put Their Best Foot Forward

By Fred Schneyer

Joe Johnny Morris laughed when the head of Teamsters Local 571 sat at the table at a conference in the City Hall Rotunda with his 100-member union.

The Natural Labor Relations Board has found that the two subsidiaries of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) have behaved in a manner which violates the law. The NLRB has issued a complaint alleging that the subsidiaries engaged in unfair labor practices.

The subsidiaries have until November 3 to respond to the complaint. If they fail to do so, the NLRB will file a suit in Federal Court, seeking an injunction against the subsidiaries.

The subsidiaries have until November 3 to respond to the complaint. If they fail to do so, the NLRB will file a suit in Federal Court, seeking an injunction against the subsidiaries.

Finding the Frivolity

By Dave Libeier

As a member of the editorial board, I would like to offer my perspective on the recent events surrounding the University's personnel director, Andy Davis.

The articles I have read have been biased and misrepresented. The editorial board seeks to present a balanced and objective view of events, and I urge the reader to consider this when reading our articles.
Spikers’ Bid Hopes Shaken

By LORENZO WALKER

When Harvard’s volleyball team met Notre Dame last night in the final game of the Eastern Regional Championship, the results of the match could have a direct bearing on the team’s hopes for a berth in the NCAA Tournament Championship. The results of the match will determine the fate of the spikers’ dreams.

Johns Zip Stickwomen

By RAY KATZ

"They played well tonight," said coach Don Howard. "They got the job done, and they did it in the end. It was a close game, and we were happy with the outcome." The zip stickwomen, led by senior captain Mary Schmitt, captured their third straight conference title with a 3-0 victory over playoff-bound Temple.

Harriers

(Continued from page one)

By LORENZO WALKER

The Philadelphia Quakers, led by senior captain Doug Moreland, defeated the Temple Owls in the final round of the NCAA Tournament with a decisive 3-0 victory. The Quakers dominated the Owls from the start, with Moreland leading the way with 20 kills and 10 blocks. The victory secured the Quakers’ third straight NCAA Tournament championship.

Shake Shake Shake

Every Day For Lunch
At The 1920 Commons

11:15-2:00 P.M.

POOR RICHARD’S RECORD

Is Proud To Announce The Arrival Of
THE 1976 YEARBOOK
SEE IT NOW!!

Come To The Yearbook Office—3614 Locust Walk
Or The University Of Pennsylvania Bookstore

WALNUT MALL

OPPOSITE UNIV. OF PENN.

COMMUNITY ARTS CENTER AT 5:30 TO 7:30 TUES. & WED.

Katherine Hepburn Peter O’Toole
THE LION IN WINTER (PG)

START WED. JULY 20

LINDON CONSPIRACY

(G) 7:45

ALLENGIMING URFING IP (PG)

AT 7:30 & 9:30

MAN ON THE ROOF (PG) AT 9:15

Yokum IS Dying To Give You A Pokum! The Campus Favorite

5-10

Yokum-Pokum $1.75

Get Your Pokum: Mushroomed! Cheesed! Fried! Salted! L’azzaied!

On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday
Tuesday Night & Ladies Night
All Mixed Drinks Under 76¢ (Except Cream)

Yokum & Pokum is a registered trademark of University Book Company.
Booters Bumped, 4-3

by Mark Bryant

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — The Crimson's bid for a No. 1 ranking was spoiled when Penn upset the No. 2 ranked Harvard football team in a convincing 5-3 victory in overtime. The Quakers not only knocked Harvard out of the top spot in the national polls, but they also dealt the Crimson their first loss of the season.

The Quakers were led by their star quarterback, Larry Brown, who completed 21 of 34 passes for 275 yards and a touchdown. Brown's performance overshadowed the Crimson's defense, which had been ranked as one of the best in the nation.

The Crimson offense struggled to get off the ground, despite the return of quarterback Tom Pittrow. Pittrow completed just 12 of 30 passes for 112 yards and an interception. The Crimson running game was also ineffective, with only 113 yards rushing between the two teams.

The Quakers capitalized on the Crimson's mistakes, scoring on a 6-yard touchdown pass from Brown to receiver Rich Manning in the first quarter. The Crimson responded with a 31-yard field goal by kicker Howard Curry, but the Quakers added a 45-yard field goal in the second quarter to take a 3-3 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, the Crimson had a chance to take the lead, but Pittrow was intercepted by Quaker defensive back Rich Manning. The Quakers capitalized on the turnover, scoring on a 2-yard touchdown run by running back Tim Dyson to go up 10-3.

The Crimson had one last chance to tie the game, but Pittrow was intercepted again, this time by Quaker defensive back Mike Davenport. The Quakers ran out the clock on the ensuing possession, securing the victory.

The loss was a tough one for the Crimson, who were expected to be one of the top teams in the nation. The win was a huge boost for the Quakers, who solidified their position as one of the top teams in the country.

On The Sidelines

Solving the Quaker Secondary

by Clemson Smith

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — The Crimson's defense was the focus of practice last Wednesday as the team prepared for its upcoming game against Penn. The Quakers have a strong running game, and the Crimson wanted to make sure they were prepared for the challenge.

As expected, the Quaker offense was led by quarterback Larry Brown, who was账tired to complete 21 of 34 passes for 275 yards and a touchdown. The Crimson struggled to contain Brown, and he was able to find his receivers all over the field.

The Crimson defensive line was called on to stop the Quaker running game, but they were unable to do so. The Quakers had a total of 150 rushing yards, with Tim Dyson leading the way with 89 yards on 20 carries.

The Crimson defense was also called on to stop the Quaker passing game, but they were unable to do so. The Quakers had a total of 275 passing yards, with Larry Brown completing 21 of 34 passes.

The Crimson secondary was tested, but they were able to come up with a few key turnovers. The defense was able to force a fumble by Quaker running back Tim Dyson, which was recovered by the Crimson.

The Crimson defensive line did a good job of containing the Quaker running game, but they were unable to generate much pressure on the Quaker quarterback.

The Crimson secondary was tested, but they were able to come up with a few key turnovers. The defense was able to force a fumble by Quaker running back Tim Dyson, which was recovered by the Crimson.

The Crimson defensive line did a good job of containing the Quaker running game, but they were unable to generate much pressure on the Quaker quarterback.

The Crimson secondary was tested, but they were able to come up with a few key turnovers. The defense was able to force a fumble by Quaker running back Tim Dyson, which was recovered by the Crimson.

The Crimson defensive line did a good job of containing the Quaker running game, but they were unable to generate much pressure on the Quaker quarterback.

The Crimson secondary was tested, but they were able to come up with a few key turnovers. The defense was able to force a fumble by Quaker running back Tim Dyson, which was recovered by the Crimson.

The Crimson defensive line did a good job of containing the Quaker running game, but they were unable to generate much pressure on the Quaker quarterback.