Sunny Skies and Winning Team
Bring Cheer to Parents Weekend

By MARK POSNER
 Bring Cheer to Parents Weekend. A major goal of a winning football season was to give a cheer to the students and parents who would be at this year’s annual Parents Weekend—Nov. 12 through 14. The weekend has become an opportunity for the University to show that it is a caring institution of higher learning, said President Martin Meyerson.

The weekend activities included a修复 to the president, who would be giving the opening address. As music played in the background, the coffee hour, held in Houston Hall, was a way to introduce parents to the campus in a relaxed setting.

The weekend consisted primarily of panels and forums focusing on academic and extracurricular opportunities at Penn and on preparing for careers. The panels were well attended, with many parents expressing their appreciation for the information they received.

By JOAN GRECO
Although both CUE and the student government are preparing to bring a curricular reform report to the November Senate meeting, the faculty has decided that the report will be made solely by the faculty. "We believe that the faculty has the expertise to make a decision on degree requirements," said one faculty member.

The main points of the report, which is to be published by the end of the year, are:
- A new core curriculum
- A change in the number of courses required to graduate
- An increase in the number of courses offered in the non-major area

The recommendations for the core curriculum are based on a survey of students, faculty, and administrators. The report also includes recommendations for the non-major area.

The recommendations for the core curriculum are being met with mixed reactions. Some faculty members are concerned about the loss of flexibility in the curriculum, while others are excited about the opportunity to make changes.

The recommendations for the non-major area are being met with more enthusiasm. Many students are excited about the opportunity to explore new courses and subjects.

The report will be reviewed by the faculty, and a final decision will be made at the November Senate meeting.
Picketing Violations

(Continued from page 1)

Local 13 President John Murin denied the charges Monday, maintaining that the University coerced its employees to picket by threatening them with loss of jobs or other dire consequences. "But it is a travesty of justice for anyone to cross a picket line," he said.

The University is using tactics analogous to those used by "Morris光电" before the NLRB. The University denies the charges Friday, claiming "a better position in the public eye. We feel we have made progress."

The University cites a few examples: "The University is using tactics analogous to those used by "Morris光电" before the NLRB. The University denies the charges Friday, claiming "a better position in the public eye. We feel we have made progress.""

Another charge issued by the NLRB alleges that the Teamsters violated a consent degree issued September 7 by the Federal District Court Judge Herbert Pape which prevents the pickets from blocking construction work being done by two outside companies at a number of campus work sites, including the Quadrangle at 35th and Spruce Streets.

The secondary boycott charges are being added to an NLRB complaint issued September 30, which cites Local 13 for boycotting Perk-Brook Dairies, a dairy service milk supplier.

No One Is Cheaper

KCOH

We offer all reproduction services and the lowest prices on campus.

Self Service Xerox (1c per copy)

Color Xerox

Dekor Xerox

Kodak Color

open printing resumes, posters, etc.

Contact the Photo Shop Program for information on how to order.

CORRECTION

Math 150 lecture is incorrectly listed in the course roster. It should read MWF 11am Drayl

PLANTS PARTIES

OPENING DAY 11AM at

in Basement

of Houston Hall

Watch for opening specials

The many and varied tasks involved in your training and future duties will include: problem definition, estimating and scheduling systems design, programming, testing, implementation and documentation of computer-based systems to solve problems in technical, scientific and business areas; the ability to work in a dynamic environment and maintain and develop your problem solving skills; and the ability to work in a dynamic environment and maintain and develop your problem solving skills.

ON CAMPUS INTERVIEWS: Wednesday, November 16th

Between 10:00 AM and 4:00 PM

OCCUPATIONAL THREATS.

Picketing illegally ordered by the NLRB includes supervising driving and delivery trucks, causing plant workers, and workers for outside construction and maintenance companies.

—Section 8(b)(1)—The Teamsters allegedly supplied the University with construction supplies to the University. Hirsh said that various types of pressure may have been exerted by the Teamsters to deliver this company directly. Many suppliers which employ Teamsters have refused to cross campus picket lines.

The secondary boycott charges are being added to an NLRB complaint issued September 30, which cites Local 13 for boycotting Perk-Brook Dairies, a dairy service milk supplier.

No One Is Cheaper

KCOH

We offer all reproduction services and the lowest prices on campus.

Self Service Xerox (1c per copy)

Color Xerox

Dekor Xerox

Kodak Color

open printing resumes, posters, etc.

Contact the Photo Shop Program for information on how to order.

CORRECTION

Math 150 lecture is incorrectly listed in the course roster. It should read MWF 11am Drayl

PLANTS PARTIES

OPENING DAY 11AM at

in Basement

of Houston Hall

Watch for opening specials

The many and varied tasks involved in your training and future duties will include: problem definition, estimating and scheduling systems design, programming, testing, implementation and documentation of computer-based systems to solve problems in technical, scientific and business areas; the ability to work in a dynamic environment and maintain and develop your problem solving skills; and the ability to work in a dynamic environment and maintain and develop your problem solving skills.

ON CAMPUS INTERVIEWS: Wednesday, November 16th

Between 10:00 AM and 4:00 PM

OCCUPATIONAL THREATS.

Picketing illegally ordered by the NLRB includes supervising driving and delivery trucks, causing plant workers, and workers for outside construction and maintenance companies.

—Section 8(b)(1)—The Teamsters allegedly supplied the University with construction supplies to the University. Hirsh said that various types of pressure may have been exerted by the Teamsters to deliver this company directly. Many suppliers which employ Teamsters have refused to cross campus picket lines.
Civil Rights

In Iran

By Ebad Mahmodian

The Shah and the King ofIran are scheduled to visit the United States November 5th and 6th, at which time they will be welcomed by President Jimmy Carter as honored guests. The Daily's visit to the White House to take place at the time that Iran has faced over 150 human rights violations.

With growing concern for human rights in the United States and Iran, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights is being examined throughout the world, this trip is designed to inspire the human rights movement and present Iran to the public as a benevolent and repressive force.

On the occasion of the visit of the Shah to five American cities, the Pennsylvania Council for the Arts, the Pennsylvania Council for the Humanities, the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, and the Pennsylvania Conference of the American Association for the Advancement of Science will be holding a joint conference on human rights and civil liberties in Iran. The conference will also provide a forum for the discussion of the role of the United States in the promotion of human rights and civil liberties in Iran. A major objective of the conference is to urge the United States government to take steps to ensure that human rights and civil liberties are respected in Iran.

The conference will feature presentations by human rights activists, legal scholars, and political analysts. The presentations will address a range of issues, including the status of human rights and civil liberties in Iran, the role of the United States in the promotion of human rights in Iran, and the implications of the visit of the Shah to the United States for the future of human rights in Iran.

The conference will provide an opportunity for participants from a variety of backgrounds to engage in meaningful dialogue on these critical issues. It is hoped that the conference will help to raise awareness of the human rights situation in Iran and to encourage action to promote human rights and civil liberties.

In Iran, artists, intellectuals, writers, human rights activists, and political leaders have been targeted by the Iranian government. The government has used a range of tactics to suppress dissent, including the use of torture, censorship, and exile. The government has also used the law to restrict the ability of individuals to express their views and to associate with others. As a result, many human rights activists and political leaders have been forced to flee the country or to go into hiding.

The conference will also include a panel discussion on the role of the United States in supporting human rights and civil liberties in Iran. The panel will feature representatives from American organizations involved in human rights work in Iran, as well as experts on human rights in Iran. The panel will discuss the role of the United States in supporting human rights in Iran, including the provision of funds and technical assistance, as well as the role of the United States in publicizing the human rights situation in Iran.

The conference will conclude with a keynote address by a prominent human rights activist, who will discuss the role of the United States in supporting human rights in Iran and the importance of continued engagement with the Iranian government to promote human rights.

In conclusion, the conference on human rights and civil liberties in Iran is an important opportunity for the United States to reaffirm its commitment to democracy, human rights, and the rule of law.

Letters to the Editor

Responding to a Fortune College Graduate

To the Editor:

In response to William Pardoe's letter (DP, November 4), I believe that your education is not entitled to any but the most minimal work of the academic community. I claim that professionals should not advise anyone to pursue a university education, at least not at the level of a doctorate degree.

Pardoe claims that the time for a university education is now over. I believe that this is a misconception. The university education is still one of the most important and beneficial experiences in life. It is a place where students can acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to succeed in the workforce.

Pardoe also claims that university education is expensive. This is not necessarily true. Many universities offer scholarships and financial aid to students who cannot afford to pay the tuition.

I believe that the university education is still a valuable experience and that it is essential for personal and professional growth.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

An Anodyne to the Strike

To the Editor:

I am an economics student at the University of Pennsylvania and I am writing in response to the letter from a student who is opposed to thestrikes. The letter is posted online and it is spreading like wildfire among our students.

I am writing to express my support for the striking students. The letter is a gross misrepresentation of the situation and it is unfair to the students who are fighting for their rights.

I believe that the university should provide a safe and healthy environment for all students. The letter is a call for the university to take action and support the students who are striking.

I am writing to thank the students who are striking and to express my support for their efforts.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

A University Coup?

By Dave Lieber

The University of Pennsylvania is one of the most prestigious institutions of higher education in the United States. However, I believe that the university is facing a serious challenge to its autonomy and independence.

The University of Pennsylvania is facing a serious challenge to its autonomy and independence.

In response to Andrew VanKirk's letter (DP, November 4), I believe that this is a misconception. The university is facing a serious challenge to its autonomy and independence.

VanKirk claims that the university is facing a serious challenge to its autonomy and independence. I believe that this is a misconception. The university is facing a serious challenge to its autonomy and independence.

VanKirk also claims that the university is facing a serious challenge to its autonomy and independence. I believe that this is a misconception. The university is facing a serious challenge to its autonomy and independence.

I believe that the university should be a place where students can learn and grow. The letter is a call for the university to take action and support the students who are striking.

I am writing to thank the students who are striking and to express my support for their efforts.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
Core Curriculum

(Continued from page 1)

The faculty does not represent just one class-it transcends the concept of "The faculty does not represent just one class-it transcends the concept of...

but someone. "We probably should have published what we were going on so we could have gotten student reac-

The faculty does not represent just one class-it transcends the concept of "The faculty does not represent just one class-it transcends the concept of..."
The Problems faced by decision makers. The OR program at Wharton emphasizes energy conservation, regulation, and environmental examination of energy management and policy. OR 500: Introduction to OR

Other courses offered this term are:
42199 OR 603 Problems, Models, and Applications II
42207 OR 611 Nonlinear Programming
42215 OR 614 Computers in Operations Research
42223 OR 619 Integer Programming
42231 OR 704 OR in Research & Development
42263 OR 711 OR for Financial Decisions
42271 OR 790-1 Analysis of Business Risk
42279 OR 790-2 Seminar in Problem Formulation
42287 OR 790-3 OR in Criminal Justice Systems
Hoopsters, Buckeyes Prep for Winter Season with Scrimmages

By DON LANE

The 0-7-13 edition of the Red and Blue, the nation's oldest college newspaper

Friday, November 18, 1977

Continued from page 9

Harrers Head for N.Y.C.

Ornette

BARRY GAMBLE

Active and Kicking

Copyright 1977 by The Daily Pennsylvania

The Daily Pennsylvania

Monday, November 14, 1977

Gridders Dump Green

(Continued from page 9)

PEOPLE

PREP

Penn Hunger Action Committee

PENN HUNGER ACTION COMMITTEE OF \nPHI DELTA CHI THIS WEEK IS CALLING \nFOR NON-PERISHABLE FOOD DONATIONS \nFOR THE NEEDY OF OUR COMMUNITY. \nTHANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT.

FIND SOMETHING UNUSUAL \nABOUT YOU? YOU'RE NOT HUNGRY

You live in a country that can feed everyone who lives there. There is no action on this planet that could not do the same, using its own resources. Yet the major preoccupation of over half the human population is to eat. For what? For how much longer?

We have to start getting some feelings in the stomach of the people about the human condition. We have the food, we have the knowledge, we have the resources, we have the opportunity. But we have not yet done it. Today, it might be too late to do it. The time has passed.

For about two centuries, humanity has been able to live as a race. The industrial revolution was the most important event of the last 200 years. But it was a way of life, a way of thinking, a way of working, a way of eating. It was all good. It was all possible.

We have been living for the past 200 years on an illusion. We have been living in a world of fake food, fake people, fake resources. We have been living in a world of false beliefs and false values. We have been living in a world of false hopes and false dreams.

We have been living in a world of false gods and false heroes. We have been living in a world of false gods and false heroes. We have been living in a world of false gods and false heroes. We have been living in a world of false gods and false heroes. We have been living in a world of false gods and false heroes. We have been living in a world of false gods and false heroes.
Harriers Enter IC4A's championships in Spokane, and nothing would please the Red and Blue thinclads right on target. A sense of direction and getting up at seven every morning for practice has not resulted in any losses resulting in many sorry performances.

Finally, with 19 left in both halves on Saturday, the Quakers displayed their best defense of the year and took a 1-0 halftime margin. In the run-up to the game, the Yale Bowl was sold out for the first time in years. On the front of Great Neck locker Lynn Matsuda Chainsaw - a Quaker legend - broke in among the crowd and handled the ball, giving Penn a 1-0 halftime margin.

By CLEMSON SMITH

Monday, November 14, 1977

Harriers Enter IC4A's championships in Spokane, and nothing would please the Red and Blue thinclads right on target. A sense of direction and getting up at seven every morning for practice has not resulted in any losses resulting in many sorry performances.

Finally, with 19 left in both halves on Saturday, the Quakers displayed their best defense of the year and took a 1-0 halftime margin. In the run-up to the game, the Yale Bowl was sold out for the first time in years. On the front of Great Neck locker Lynn Matsuda Chainsaw - a Quaker legend - broke in among the crowd and handled the ball, giving Penn a 1-0 halftime margin.

By CLEMSON SMITH

Monday, November 14, 1977

Harriers Enter IC4A's championships in Spokane, and nothing would please the Red and Blue thinclads right on target. A sense of direction and getting up at seven every morning for practice has not resulted in any losses resulting in many sorry performances.

Finally, with 19 left in both halves on Saturday, the Quakers displayed their best defense of the year and took a 1-0 halftime margin. In the run-up to the game, the Yale Bowl was sold out for the first time in years. On the front of Great Neck locker Lynn Matsuda Chainsaw - a Quaker legend - broke in among the crowd and handled the ball, giving Penn a 1-0 halftime margin.

By CLEMSON SMITH

Monday, November 14, 1977

Harriers Enter IC4A's championships in Spokane, and nothing would please the Red and Blue thinclads right on target. A sense of direction and getting up at seven every morning for practice has not resulted in any losses resulting in many sorry performances.

Finally, with 19 left in both halves on Saturday, the Quakers displayed their best defense of the year and took a 1-0 halftime margin. In the run-up to the game, the Yale Bowl was sold out for the first time in years. On the front of Great Neck locker Lynn Matsuda Chainsaw - a Quaker legend - broke in among the crowd and handled the ball, giving Penn a 1-0 halftime margin.

By CLEMSON SMITH

Monday, November 14, 1977

Harriers Enter IC4A's championships in Spokane, and nothing would please the Red and Blue thinclads right on target. A sense of direction and getting up at seven every morning for practice has not resulted in any losses resulting in many sorry performances.

Finally, with 19 left in both halves on Saturday, the Quakers displayed their best defense of the year and took a 1-0 halftime margin. In the run-up to the game, the Yale Bowl was sold out for the first time in years. On the front of Great Neck locker Lynn Matsuda Chainsaw - a Quaker legend - broke in among the crowd and handled the ball, giving Penn a 1-0 halftime margin.