Shapp Slashes $1.3 Million From U. State Appropriation

By CAROL HUTCHINSON

Carrying a budget crisis that proved inescapable, Pennsylvania Governor Milton Shapp has announced that the state would cut $1.3 million from the University's $2,572,000 state appropriation for the 1977-78 fiscal year. The reduction is the result of a recent recommendation by the Pennsylvania Governor's Commission on Higher Education that the state provide 40 percent of all state universities' expenses.

Pennsylvania Governor Milton Shapp has said he will cut off the University's $1.3 million appropriation in state funds, but added that the University's deficit for 1977-78 would be in excess of $1.5 million. This figure represents 53 percent of the University's deficit for 1977-78. The University's state allocation may have disastrous effects upon the University's general education budget. The school will now probably be forced to alter its graduate tuition, and lost funds comprised a quarter of the school's general education budget.

Two Fires During Vacation Hurt Students, Mar Building

By ARTHUR D. BUCKLER

Tuesday, January 17, 1978

Two fires occurred recently during the winter vacation, resulting in serious injury to two people and considerable property damage.

Two graduate students suffered second degree burns from an accidental fire in one of the Residence Halls on Friday night. One student, a physics graduate student, was treated at the Albert Einstein Medical Center and the other, a graduate student in mathematics, was treated at the University Hospital.

The fire in the Chemistry Building occurred early Saturday morning and was caused by spontaneous combustion of diphosphate, a research project. The fire resulted in considerable property damage.

The fire in the Chemistry Building was contained to a small area in the basement of the building and caused minimal damage to the city charter so he could run for a second term as mayor. Neither Gaudiosi nor Johnston would discuss Gaudiosi's appointment at the University of Pennsylvania, where he is scheduled to remain until the end of the academic year. Johnston said that he is open to changes in the city charter as long as they are consistent with the interests of the citizens.

An Academic Priority

It is a new semester. It is a new year. The two related problems that afflicted the Allegheny last semester—the Teamster labor dispute and the appropriation tie-up—are being resolved. In the labor dispute, the foremen were at last able to lock out the Teamster janitors on their job at Jan 10, 9, but a contract still must be signed. In Harrisburg, state politicians gave the University of Pennsylvania $2 million, but Governor Mills String $3.6 million to the Commonwealth appropriation.

One problem, which has been waiting for the future, is the University of much of its strength. Teamster influence may now have vagabonded on the campus. And last semester's state difficulties prove that Harrisburg politicians cannot be trusted to give consistent support to any endeavor. The University's every move is watched and judged. The lifeblood of the institution is constantly under threat.

In this period of history, in which the Teamster dispute and the Harrisburg troubles are a product, the quality of University students is more essential than ever. Students have become acclimated to the noisy costs to acquire the same products from the University. And student services--already administered by all that undergraduate cost will persist. Whether this will express itself in the first 5 minutes.

Administrators now must gather more consideration in the quality of the student body. Some University administrators make the University serves primarily as an academic institution, not a corporation.

A Stately Correspondence

By Dave Clow

I do understand, of course, that the need for the University is one of the income streams. And that, indeed, there are no other comparable sources of income. Perhaps I should be more responsible to the printing business, that is, have been some recent increase second world existing over what, after all, is in extra funds? What is a university without a good press?

But while we are all searching for the reasons of our own situations, I find myself in the position of writing to you about the activities of the student body. Here lies the thing. The student body is a phenomenon that is unique to itself and cannot be explained by any of the social sciences.

The student body is a phenomenon that is unique to itself and cannot be explained by any of the social sciences. The student body is a phenomenon that is unique to itself and cannot be explained by any of the social sciences.

Unfortunately, the arguments used to sustain this position were not made in the past years go sharply against the grain. For instance, when the argument was made that the student body is a phenomenon that is unique to itself and cannot be explained by any of the social sciences, the argument was that the student body is a phenomenon that is unique to itself and cannot be explained by any of the social sciences.

Super-conference. In an attempt to win their support for Amendment 27, which dealt with restructuring key amendments: 27A, which spelled out the conditions under which a school could leave the conference, and 27B, which dealt with the process for adding new schools to the conference. The quorum of being in Division I and Division II, Division IAA was not in attendance. Amendment 27A was not considered, and the amendment to do so was voted down. The amendment would have allowed schools to leave the conference, but only if they could not meet all the requirements. It was voted down by a margin of 73-70. Amendment 27B, which dealt with the process for adding new schools to the conference, was considered and voted down by a margin of 56-70.
