Student Protesters Occupy College Hall

Takeover Follows One-Hour Rally Protesting Hockey, Theater Cuts

The take-over of College Hall was the first such protest in five years. But it also included the first rally in five years, in support of the students, or the formation of an "access committee to move forward," he said.

Frat Death Due to Heart Disease; Coroner Will Not Press Charges

Ironians Protest Brutality By Staging Hunger Strike

By STEVE KLEIN

Student Reaction to Thursday's College Hall rally and subsequent sit-in ranged from

The leaders of the rally formed a committee of University Priorities that would present a statement to the administration to move forward. They also said that the members of the group would also call for Meyerson's resignation.

Outrage, Anger, Apathy Marks Student Reactions

By IRENE CONFERMAND JHANN GRECO

Student reaction to Thursday's College Hall rally and subsequent sit-in ranged from outrage to anger, to apathy, to resignation. Student reaction to Thursday's College Hall rally and subsequent sit-in ranged from outrage to anger, to apathy, to resignation. Student reaction to Thursday's College Hall rally and subsequent sit-in ranged from outrage to anger, to apathy, to resignation. Student reaction to Thursday's College Hall rally and subsequent sit-in ranged from outrage to anger, to apathy, to resignation.
Photos by:
Gary Appelbaum
Dave Hendrickson
Dave Buchanan
Steve Water

I could run
U of P Better
The Sit-In

The anger students have for the University's administration was finally vented in the form of a sit-in at the Center for Business Operations in early January. The event was organized by the University's Student Senate and was intended to bring attention to a variety of issues, including the lack of control over the recruiting process, the high cost of athletics, and the perceived lack of support for the University's athletic programs.

The sit-in was a response to the University's decision to cut back on athletic programs and to reduce spending in other areas. The students felt that this was a result of the university's desire to cut costs rather than to support the athletic programs. The sit-in was a way for the students to express their concern and to demand change. The event was met with mixed reactions, with some faculty and administrators expressing concern about the impetus of the students' actions, while others saw it as a necessary step to bring attention to the issues.

The University's response to the sit-in was mixed. Some administrators saw it as a positive step in the direction of change, while others felt that it was a waste of time and resources. The sit-in was a reminder of the ongoing struggle between the students and the university, and of the need for more open communication and dialogue between the two sides.
Friday, March 3, 1978

Forum: Hockey and Professional Theater

By Stephen Goff

The happenings of the past several days have certain parallels to the so-called "twilight of the University." After all, those events were also occurring at once, and for similar reasons.

It appears that "One University" means to senior administrators and the present system of budgeting lead itself to the trait of "tunnel vision". How do we reverse the present system of "tunnel vision"? That is, that the arts are indeed "important ethical implications that should be corrected in the future."

It was blatantly obvious to anyone that had been there that the arts are indeed "important ethical implications that should be corrected in the future."

This had been one of the more substantive charges leveled against the administration, Dr. McFate excluded, that the arts are indeed "important ethical implications that should be corrected in the future."

It was clear that the arts are indeed "important ethical implications that should be corrected in the future."

This is somewhat of a tragic situation since the arts are indeed "important ethical implications that should be corrected in the future."

I Forum: Hockey and Professional Theater

Sides of the Issue

By Ricky Diamond

"The Trainers don't know if Paul is really recuperating." Defender Bob Finke.

It was basically obvious to anyone that had been there that the arts are indeed "important ethical implications that should be corrected in the future."

The administration, Dr. McFate excluded, that the arts are indeed "important ethical implications that should be corrected in the future."

"He was forced to make a major budget cut." said goalie Bob丹ious of Geiger: "And of one of the major issues had to do away with varsity hockey (as well as several other sports), eliminating any more than any of the students who graced student priorities. This is the major dilemma, the one with the students affected. While this certainly is a valid point it only represents the philosophy of one faction in the student body who, at this point, certainly to be questioned.

"I'm so unbelievably disappointed at the inactivity of the student government," said a composed Bob Finke, the hockey team's second-year coach. "The fact that absolutely no facts for their plans at all to even contact us if there's anything they can help us out with."

This had been one of the more substantive charges leveled against the administration, the lack of care shown for the players involved and the students affected. While this certainly is a valid point it only represents the philosophy of one faction in the student body who, at this point, certainly to be questioned.

It was clear that the arts are indeed "important ethical implications that should be corrected in the future."

President Meyerow will be meeting with the Student Negotiators at 8 pm tonight at College Hall

The Sit-in in College Hall Continues

We Will Be Heard!

Funded by the Student Activities Council and the UA
Students Sit in at College Hall in Spontaneous Show of Concern

(Continued from page 1)

Students at the North Hall sit-in, who spoke only as "unidentified," said that they were there to protest what they called the "violation of their democratic rights, of their right to have a voice in decisions which affect their lives." They said they were fed up with "the official voice being the only one heard.

"We need them to be hearing the students," said a student, "and we need them to be hearing us."

The students said that they were there to demand that the administration listen to their concerns and take action to address them. They said that they would not leave until their demands were met.

The administration said that they were working on a plan to address the students' concerns and that they would meet with the students to discuss the plan.

THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER

"THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER," with the Hill House Players, presented Thursday at the Harold Prince Theater.

The Hill House Players Proudly Present

THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER

Thursday, Friday, Saturday, March 2nd, 3rd, 4th
Harold Prince Theater of the Annenberg Center Box Office, and in Hill House.
prices are going up, up, up at every Ivy League school next year. But some administrators think that the limits are being exceeded. "things are looking up at Brown University. The University will have a balanced budget in 1978-79, for the first time in ten years," according to Richard Lawrence, Vice President of Finance and Administration. Although Brown's 1977-78 deficit was $1.5 million, Lawrence said that this year's deficit has been "reduced to a level that we feel comfortable with." The main area of concern is an increased number of unanticipated disciplinary "actions against students, faculty, and staff," according to Lawrence. "We have been fortunate in the past to have had few disciplinary actions, but this year there has been a marked increase." Lawrence explained that this increase is necessary," there has been little protest by the students, Stuart Herman, "many administrators are reducing administrative and support staffs. things are looking up at Brown University. The University will have a balanced budget in 1978-79, for the first time in ten years," according to Richard Lawrence, Vice President of Finance and Administration. Although Brown's 1977-78 deficit was $1.5 million, Lawrence said that this year's deficit has been "reduced to a level that we feel comfortable with." The main area of concern is an increased number of unanticipated disciplinary "actions against students, faculty, and staff," according to Lawrence. "We have been fortunate in the past to have had few disciplinary actions, but this year there has been a marked increase." Lawrence explained that this increase is necessary," there has been little protest by the students, Stuart Herman, "many administrators are reducing administrative and support staffs. things are looking up at Brown University. The University will have a balanced budget in 1978-79, for the first time in ten years," according to Richard Lawrence, Vice President of Finance and Administration. Although Brown's 1977-78 deficit was $1.5 million, Lawrence said that this year's deficit has been "reduced to a level that we feel comfortable with." The main area of concern is an increased number of unanticipated disciplinary "actions against students, faculty, and staff," according to Lawrence. "We have been fortunate in the past to have had few disciplinary actions, but this year there has been a marked increase." Lawrence explained that this increase is necessary," there has been little protest by the students, Stuart Herman, "many administrators are reducing administrative and support staffs. things are looking up at Brown University. The University will have a balanced budget in 1978-79, for the first time in ten years," according to Richard Lawrence, Vice President of Finance and Administration. Although Brown's 1977-78 deficit was $1.5 million, Lawrence said that this year's deficit has been "reduced to a level that we feel comfortable with." The main area of concern is an increased number of unanticipated disciplinary "actions against students, faculty, and staff," according to Lawrence. "We have been fortunate in the past to have had few disciplinary actions, but this year there has been a marked increase." Lawrence explained that this increase is necessary," there has been little protest by the students, Stuart Herman, "many administrators are reducing administrative and support staffs. things are looking up at Brown University. The University will have a balanced budget in 1978-79, for the first time in ten years," according to Richard Lawrence, Vice President of Finance and Administration. Although Brown's 1977-78 deficit was $1.5 million, Lawrence said that this year's deficit has been "reduced to a level that we feel comfortable with." The main area of concern is an increased number of unanticipated disciplinary "actions against students, faculty, and staff," according to Lawrence. "We have been fortunate in the past to have had few disciplinary actions, but this year there has been a marked increase." Lawrence explained that this increase is necessary," there has been little protest by the students, Stuart Herman, "many administrators are reducing administrative and support staffs.
The University Conference on Religion and the Campus Ministry Council

Present
MICHAEL MEDVED, Author of

WHAT REALLY HAPPENED TO THE CLASS OF 65?

Monday, March 6th at 8:00
in Steitler Hall

Try our 6 oz. TOP SIRLOIN STEAK
EXCELLENT FOR
STEW SANDWICHES

Only .85

36th & Chestnut St's
382-7444

WE WILL BE CLOSED From Sunday March 12th
Thru Friday March 17th

Philadelphia's One

The Nuts About Cheese Shop
is Now Open
Featuring Fresh Fruit,
Natural Foods & Freshly
Made Sandwiches & Fish
Salads Daily.
Located in 40th St Mall
Open 7 days
7 A.M.-12 P.M.

Some will believe — others will not.

DON'T DECIDE FOR YOURSELF!

The Daily Pennsylvania

Friday, March 3, 1978

Rally Reactions

Another said, "We're showing that we are not the people who will not be taken advantage of by the management." Some believe the university's management is taking advantage of them, and others believe they are being treated fairly.

For many students, participation in the rally was a demonstration of their commitment to the movement. The rally was not just a protest, but a form of collective action that allowed students to express their concerns and demands.

The Daily Pennsylvania

Friday, March 3, 1978

The University Conference on Religion and the Campus Ministry Council

Present
MICHAEL MEDVED, Author of

WHAT REALLY HAPPENED TO THE CLASS OF 65?

Monday, March 6th at 8:00
in Steitler Hall

Try our 6 oz. TOP SIRLOIN STEAK
EXCELLENT FOR
STEW SANDWICHES

Only .85

36th & Chestnut St's
382-7444

WE WILL BE CLOSED From Sunday March 12th
Thru Friday March 17th

Philadelphia's One

The Nuts About Cheese Shop
is Now Open
Featuring Fresh Fruit,
Natural Foods & Freshly
Made Sandwiches & Fish
Salads Daily.
Located in 40th St Mall
Open 7 days
7 A.M.-12 P.M.

Some will believe — others will not.

DON'T DECIDE FOR YOURSELF!

The Daily Pennsylvania

Friday, March 3, 1978

Rally Reactions

Another said, "We're showing that we are not the people who will not be taken advantage of by the management." Some believe the university's management is taking advantage of them, and others believe they are being treated fairly.

For many students, participation in the rally was a demonstration of their commitment to the movement. The rally was not just a protest, but a form of collective action that allowed students to express their concerns and demands.

The Daily Pennsylvania

Friday, March 3, 1978

The University Conference on Religion and the Campus Ministry Council

Present
MICHAEL MEDVED, Author of

WHAT REALLY HAPPENED TO THE CLASS OF 65?

Monday, March 6th at 8:00
in Steitler Hall

Try our 6 oz. TOP SIRLOIN STEAK
EXCELLENT FOR
STEW SANDWICHES

Only .85

36th & Chestnut St's
382-7444

WE WILL BE CLOSED From Sunday March 12th
Thru Friday March 17th

Philadelphia's One

The Nuts About Cheese Shop
is Now Open
Featuring Fresh Fruit,
Natural Foods & Freshly
Made Sandwiches & Fish
Salads Daily.
Located in 40th St Mall
Open 7 days
7 A.M.-12 P.M.

Some will believe — others will not.

DON'T DECIDE FOR YOURSELF!

The Daily Pennsylvania

Friday, March 3, 1978

Rally Reactions

Another said, "We're showing that we are not the people who will not be taken advantage of by the management." Some believe the university's management is taking advantage of them, and others believe they are being treated fairly.

For many students, participation in the rally was a demonstration of their commitment to the movement. The rally was not just a protest, but a form of collective action that allowed students to express their concerns and demands.

The Daily Pennsylvania

Friday, March 3, 1978

The University Conference on Religion and the Campus Ministry Council

Present
MICHAEL MEDVED, Author of

WHAT REALLY HAPPENED TO THE CLASS OF 65?

Monday, March 6th at 8:00
in Steitler Hall

Try our 6 oz. TOP SIRLOIN STEAK
EXCELLENT FOR
STEW SANDWICHES

Only .85

36th & Chestnut St's
382-7444

WE WILL BE CLOSED From Sunday March 12th
Thru Friday March 17th

Philadelphia's One

The Nuts About Cheese Shop
is Now Open
Featuring Fresh Fruit,
Natural Foods & Freshly
Made Sandwiches & Fish
Salads Daily.
Located in 40th St Mall
Open 7 days
7 A.M.-12 P.M.

Some will believe — others will not.

DON'T DECIDE FOR YOURSELF!

The Daily Pennsylvania

Friday, March 3, 1978

Rally Reactions

Another said, "We're showing that we are not the people who will not be taken advantage of by the management." Some believe the university's management is taking advantage of them, and others believe they are being treated fairly.

For many students, participation in the rally was a demonstration of their commitment to the movement. The rally was not just a protest, but a form of collective action that allowed students to express their concerns and demands.

The Daily Pennsylvania

Friday, March 3, 1978
Women Aim For Heights Against Powerful Terps

By SCOTT LEIBOWLTZ

LIEBERMAN IN HIS QUEST FOR A THIRD national championship this year, the Terps have dominated almost every aspect of the sport, and that's not likely to change in the next month.

The Terps (19-0) are the overwhelming favorite to win the national championship this season, and they have already accomplished many of their goals.

In fact, the Terps have set a new standard for excellence in college basketball.

The Terps have won every game they've played this season, and they've done it in a convincing manner.

Their defense has been impenetrable, and their offense has been explosive.

The Terps have dominated every facet of the game, and they're the team to beat in this year's NCAA tournament.

The Terps' dominance is not just about their talent.

It's about their preparation and commitment to the game.

The Terps have prepared for every game this season, and they've been committed to the game from the beginning.

The Terps have a deep and talented roster, and they've been able to rely on each other throughout the season.

The Terps are a very well-rounded team, and they have the ability to adjust to any situation.

The Terps have been able to stay focused and disciplined throughout the season, and they've been able to overcome any challenges that have come their way.

The Terps have been able to stay grounded and focused on their goals, and they've been able to remain consistent throughout the season.

The Terps are a great team, and they have a strong chance of winning the national championship this year.

The Terps are a team to be feared, and they will be a force to be reckoned with in the NCAA tournament.

The Terps are the team to beat, and they have the ability to win it all.

danous. The Terps have been able to stay focused and disciplined throughout the season, and they've been able to overcome any challenges that have come their way.

The Terps have been able to stay grounded and focused on their goals, and they've been able to remain consistent throughout the season.

The Terps are a great team, and they have a strong chance of winning the national championship this year.

The Terps are a team to be feared, and they will be a force to be reckoned with in the NCAA tournament.

The Terps are the team to beat, and they have the ability to win it all.

danous. The Terps have been able to stay focused and disciplined throughout the season, and they've been able to overcome any challenges that have come their way.

The Terps have been able to stay grounded and focused on their goals, and they've been able to remain consistent throughout the season.

The Terps are a great team, and they have a strong chance of winning the national championship this year.

The Terps are a team to be feared, and they will be a force to be reckoned with in the NCAA tournament.

The Terps are the team to beat, and they have the ability to win it all.

danous. The Terps have been able to stay focused and disciplined throughout the season, and they've been able to overcome any challenges that have come their way.

The Terps have been able to stay grounded and focused on their goals, and they've been able to remain consistent throughout the season.

The Terps are a great team, and they have a strong chance of winning the national championship this year.

The Terps are a team to be feared, and they will be a force to be reckoned with in the NCAA tournament.

The Terps are the team to beat, and they have the ability to win it all.

danous. The Terps have been able to stay focused and disciplined throughout the season, and they've been able to overcome any challenges that have come their way.

The Terps have been able to stay grounded and focused on their goals, and they've been able to remain consistent throughout the season.

The Terps are a great team, and they have a strong chance of winning the national championship this year.

The Terps are a team to be feared, and they will be a force to be reckoned with in the NCAA tournament.

The Terps are the team to beat, and they have the ability to win it all.

danous. The Terps have been able to stay focused and disciplined throughout the season, and they've been able to overcome any challenges that have come their way.

The Terps have been able to stay grounded and focused on their goals, and they've been able to remain consistent throughout the season.

The Terps are a great team, and they have a strong chance of winning the national championship this year.

The Terps are a team to be feared, and they will be a force to be reckoned with in the NCAA tournament.

The Terps are the team to beat, and they have the ability to win it all.

danous. The Terps have been able to stay focused and disciplined throughout the season, and they've been able to overcome any challenges that have come their way.

The Terps have been able to stay grounded and focused on their goals, and they've been able to remain consistent throughout the season.

The Terps are a great team, and they have a strong chance of winning the national championship this year.

The Terps are a team to be feared, and they will be a force to be reckoned with in the NCAA tournament.

The Terps are the team to beat, and they have the ability to win it all.

danous. The Terps have been able to stay focused and disciplined throughout the season, and they've been able to overcome any challenges that have come their way.

The Terps have been able to stay grounded and focused on their goals, and they've been able to remain consistent throughout the season.

The Terps are a great team, and they have a strong chance of winning the national championship this year.

The Terps are a team to be feared, and they will be a force to be reckoned with in the NCAA tournament.

The Terps are the team to beat, and they have the ability to win it all.

danous. The Terps have been able to stay focused and disciplined throughout the season, and they've been able to overcome any challenges that have come their way.

The Terps have been able to stay grounded and focused on their goals, and they've been able to remain consistent throughout the season.

The Terps are a great team, and they have a strong chance of winning the national championship this year.

The Terps are a team to be feared, and they will be a force to be reckoned with in the NCAA tournament.

The Terps are the team to beat, and they have the ability to win it all.

danous. The Terps have been able to stay focused and disciplined throughout the season, and they've been able to overcome any challenges that have come their way.

The Terps have been able to stay grounded and focused on their goals, and they've been able to remain consistent throughout the season.

The Terps are a great team, and they have a strong chance of winning the national championship this year.

The Terps are a team to be feared, and they will be a force to be reckoned with in the NCAA tournament.

The Terps are the team to beat, and they have the ability to win it all.
Cagers Seek Top as Icemen's Clock Stops

By JONATHAN LASSNER

<New York> In 1968, Columbia students gathered on College Walk and Blue put it all on the line against Columbia—the Ivy Championship, a trip to the Intercollegiate Championships, which extend through Saturday, March 3, 1979 at 17:30 PM on WQHS 73 AM) as they take the ice against the leading goalie in the league, Steve Napier, who carries a 2.70 goals against average and leads the league in almost every offensive and defensive department. They have won 11 of their 15 games this season, including a 5-2 victory over last year's top ranked team, Cornell 119-4-1, 15-4-1) in the last Penn game ever. The Big Red is a powerful, playoff-bound squad, but for the Red and Blue, the pressure is on to prove they are ready to take on the best. For Penn, it's a chance to make history tomorrow night.

The pressure of competition against strangers is something that is normal for the team, but the pressure of playing against strangers is something that is new. The team has been preparing for this match for months, and they are ready to show the world what they are made of.

The team's key to victory is their defense. They have been working hard to improve this aspect of their game, and they are confident in their ability to shut down the Big Red. The team has been working on their shooting and ball handling, and they are ready to show the world what they can do.

The team's expectation is to win the game. They are confident in their ability to overcome the Big Red, and they are ready to show the world what they are made of. They are ready to prove that they are a force to be reckoned with.

The team's message to fans is to come out and support them. They have worked hard to get to this point, and they need the fans' support to help them win. They are ready to prove that they are a force to be reckoned with, and they need the fans' support to help them do it.

The team's plan for the game is to focus on defense. They have been working hard to improve this aspect of their game, and they are confident in their ability to shut down the Big Red. The team has been working on their shooting and ball handling, and they are ready to show the world what they can do.

The team's key to victory is their defense. They have been working hard to improve this aspect of their game, and they are confident in their ability to shut down the Big Red. The team has been working on their shooting and ball handling, and they are ready to show the world what they can do.