Trustees Approve $375 Hike In Next Year's Tuition, Fees

By STEVE FRESE

The Executive Board of the University has approved a tuition increase of $375 for next year, a five percent increase over the current $7500. Trustees backed the rise of the IV League and resisted the Student Labor Committees' demand for a $500 college fee. In March College Hall sit-in, student representatives and President Martin Meyerson to agree that tuition increases were “necessary” (Continued on page 10)

Rizzo Will Not Seek Re-Election; Announcement Stuns Philadelphia

By GREG MANNING

Mayor Frank Rizzo announced he will not seek a third term Wednesday night because he would not run for a third term with the added financial burden of the court's decision ordering him to compensate the city for $37 million in legal fees. The decision was announced in a press conference held in the mayor's office at City Hall, where the mayor had been meeting with his legal team.

The decision came as a surprise to many who had expected the mayor to seek a third term. Rizzo's campaign had raised $1 million, and he had been favored to win.

The mayor said he had made the decision after months of careful consideration. He cited the court's decision ordering him to pay $37 million in legal fees as the main reason for his decision.

Rizzo had been under pressure to seek a third term, but he had been facing a strong challenge from former Councilman John F. Street, who had been running a close second in the polls.

The mayor said he did not want to run for a third term with the added financial burden of the court's decision ordering him to compensate the city for $37 million in legal fees. The decision was announced in a press conference held in the mayor's office at City Hall, where the mayor had been meeting with his legal team.

The decision came as a surprise to many who had expected the mayor to seek a third term. Rizzo's campaign had raised $1 million, and he had been favored to win.

The mayor said he had made the decision after months of careful consideration. He cited the court's decision ordering him to pay $37 million in legal fees as the main reason for his decision.

Rizzo had been under pressure to seek a third term, but he had been facing a strong challenge from former Councilman John F. Street, who had been running a close second in the polls.

The mayor said he did not want to run for a third term with the added financial burden of the court's decision ordering him to compensate the city for $37 million in legal fees. The decision was announced in a press conference held in the mayor's office at City Hall, where the mayor had been meeting with his legal team.

The decision came as a surprise to many who had expected the mayor to seek a third term. Rizzo's campaign had raised $1 million, and he had been favored to win.

The mayor said he had made the decision after months of careful consideration. He cited the court's decision ordering him to pay $37 million in legal fees as the main reason for his decision.

Rizzo had been under pressure to seek a third term, but he had been facing a strong challenge from former Councilman John F. Street, who had been running a close second in the polls.

The mayor said he did not want to run for a third term with the added financial burden of the court's decision ordering him to compensate the city for $37 million in legal fees. The decision was announced in a press conference held in the mayor's office at City Hall, where the mayor had been meeting with his legal team.

The decision came as a surprise to many who had expected the mayor to seek a third term. Rizzo's campaign had raised $1 million, and he had been favored to win.

The mayor said he had made the decision after months of careful consideration. He cited the court's decision ordering him to pay $37 million in legal fees as the main reason for his decision.

Rizzo had been under pressure to seek a third term, but he had been facing a strong challenge from former Councilman John F. Street, who had been running a close second in the polls.
Faculty Group Supports Governance Study

By David Pittman

The Senate Advisory Committee (SAC) unanimously approved a resolution against the student sit-in this week, five days after a similar resolution was recommended by the University's Task Force on Campus Police.

The resolution states that its members support the continuation of the student sit-in and that they believe the sit-in should include a "defining of the University's role on this campus." They also recommend that the University increase student interaction with the administration and invites student representatives to discuss "common problems" with the administration.

The resolution was unanimously approved by the Senate Advisory Committee (SAC) and includes the following recommendations:

1. Increase student interaction with the administration.
2. Invites student representatives to discuss "common problems" with the administration.
3. The SAC resolution states that it is important to address the concerns that led to the sit-in.
4. The SAC chairwoman, Anni Miller, said that the tone of the resolution was generally supportive of the sit-in, in accordance with the SAC's usual practice of neutrality.

The resolution was sent to the University Administration and the Trustees, and the SAC plans to make a copy of the resolution available for public inspection.

Condon Retrieves Letter Criticizing Students

(Continued from page 1)

apologizing letter. Condon and Friedman "have both worked closely with you in the past and therefore know that the behavior displayed is in no way typical of our administration." Condon added that the member who wrote the letter was not informed that copies of the letter were sent to the University Administration.

According to Condon, the copies were sent to the University Administration because they were the subject of the letter. The letter was not sent to faculty members, and Condon said that if he had known the reaction of the letter, he would have sent it to the University Administration.

Condon said that he would not have sent the letter if he had known the reaction it would provoke. He also added that the letter had not come from higher administrators and that the letter was not a copy of a previous letter.

Condon Retrieves Letter Criticizing Students

(Continued from page 1)

apologizing letter. Condon and Friedman "have both worked closely with you in the past and therefore know that the behavior displayed is in no way typical of our administration." Condon added that the member who wrote the letter was not informed that copies of the letter were sent to the University Administration.

According to Condon, the copies were sent to the University Administration because they were the subject of the letter. The letter was not sent to faculty members, and Condon said that if he had known the reaction of the letter, he would have sent it to the University Administration.

Condon said that he would not have sent the letter if he had known the reaction it would provoke. He also added that the letter had not come from higher administrators and that the letter was not a copy of a previous letter.
The Letters

Recently, Director of Student Life Jerry Condon sent four personal letters to members of the student negotiating committee who were instrumental in convincing the administration to agree to many student demands. In the letter, he cited their "personal actions and efforts to resolve the conflict." Peninsula Managing Editor Greg P. Gremillion describes the meeting.

Big Deal

By Dave Cloe

Governing during the heyday of the student protest, as I sat in College Hall I was doubtful. For the first time that semester it was quiet. The students had cleared out and the building was quiet. I was there by myself with only the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice.

I have some doubts about the wisdom of taking our action.

At SUNY

By Stephen M. Fried

In the 1960s, when the students were taking over the administration, I was in my early 20s. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Letters

Recently, Director of Student Life Jerry Condon sent four personal letters to members of the student negotiating committee who were instrumental in convincing the administration to agree to many student demands. In the letter, he cited their "personal actions and efforts to resolve the conflict." Peninsula Managing Editor Greg P. Gremillion describes the meeting.

Big Deal

By Dave Cloe

Governing during the heyday of the student protest, as I sat in College Hall I was doubtful. For the first time that semester it was quiet. The students had cleared out and the building was quiet. I was there by myself with only the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice.

I have some doubts about the wisdom of taking our action.

At SUNY

By Stephen M. Fried

In the 1960s, when the students were taking over the administration, I was in my early 20s. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Letters

Recently, Director of Student Life Jerry Condon sent four personal letters to members of the student negotiating committee who were instrumental in convincing the administration to agree to many student demands. In the letter, he cited their "personal actions and efforts to resolve the conflict." Peninsula Managing Editor Greg P. Gremillion describes the meeting.

Big Deal

By Dave Cloe

Governing during the heyday of the student protest, as I sat in College Hall I was doubtful. For the first time that semester it was quiet. The students had cleared out and the building was quiet. I was there by myself with only the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice.

I have some doubts about the wisdom of taking our action.

At SUNY

By Stephen M. Fried

In the 1960s, when the students were taking over the administration, I was in my early 20s. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Letters

Recently, Director of Student Life Jerry Condon sent four personal letters to members of the student negotiating committee who were instrumental in convincing the administration to agree to many student demands. In the letter, he cited their "personal actions and efforts to resolve the conflict." Peninsula Managing Editor Greg P. Gremillion describes the meeting.

Big Deal

By Dave Cloe

Governing during the heyday of the student protest, as I sat in College Hall I was doubtful. For the first time that semester it was quiet. The students had cleared out and the building was quiet. I was there by myself with only the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice.

I have some doubts about the wisdom of taking our action.

At SUNY

By Stephen M. Fried

In the 1960s, when the students were taking over the administration, I was in my early 20s. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Letters

Recently, Director of Student Life Jerry Condon sent four personal letters to members of the student negotiating committee who were instrumental in convincing the administration to agree to many student demands. In the letter, he cited their "personal actions and efforts to resolve the conflict." Peninsula Managing Editor Greg P. Gremillion describes the meeting.

Big Deal

By Dave Cloe

Governing during the heyday of the student protest, as I sat in College Hall I was doubtful. For the first time that semester it was quiet. The students had cleared out and the building was quiet. I was there by myself with only the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice.

I have some doubts about the wisdom of taking our action.

At SUNY

By Stephen M. Fried

In the 1960s, when the students were taking over the administration, I was in my early 20s. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Letters

Recently, Director of Student Life Jerry Condon sent four personal letters to members of the student negotiating committee who were instrumental in convincing the administration to agree to many student demands. In the letter, he cited their "personal actions and efforts to resolve the conflict." Peninsula Managing Editor Greg P. Gremillion describes the meeting.

Big Deal

By Dave Cloe

Governing during the heyday of the student protest, as I sat in College Hall I was doubtful. For the first time that semester it was quiet. The students had cleared out and the building was quiet. I was there by myself with only the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice.

I have some doubts about the wisdom of taking our action.

At SUNY

By Stephen M. Fried

In the 1960s, when the students were taking over the administration, I was in my early 20s. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Letters

Recently, Director of Student Life Jerry Condon sent four personal letters to members of the student negotiating committee who were instrumental in convincing the administration to agree to many student demands. In the letter, he cited their "personal actions and efforts to resolve the conflict." Peninsula Managing Editor Greg P. Gremillion describes the meeting.

Big Deal

By Dave Cloe

Governing during the heyday of the student protest, as I sat in College Hall I was doubtful. For the first time that semester it was quiet. The students had cleared out and the building was quiet. I was there by myself with only the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice. The only thing that could be heard was the sound of my own voice.

I have some doubts about the wisdom of taking our action.

At SUNY

By Stephen M. Fried

In the 1960s, when the students were taking over the administration, I was in my early 20s. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania. I was a student at the University of Pennsylvania.
FAS Faculty To Discuss Changes In Various Academic Regulations

BY JORM MANN

The Faculty of Arts and Sciences will consider major changes and refinements of academic regulations at its first meeting Thursday. The proposed changes, drawn up by a Faculty Committee on Rules, include clarifications of academic regulations dealing with incomplete grades, a FAS Ad Hoc Committee on Rules, at its faculty meeting Tuesday. Requirements.

"Staff sentiment on this issue is not great," Koons said. "To facilitate the rules, I think the faculty does not have the knowledge to do it."

"Since the faculty does not have the knowledge to do it, I think the student does have," she said. Faculty sen-

"timent on this issue is not great, Koons added, since the faculty does not have the knowledge to do it."

"The proposed changes, drawn up by a Faculty Committee on Rules, include clarifications of academic regulations dealing with incomplete grades, a FAS Ad Hoc Committee on Rules, at its faculty meeting Tuesday. Requirements.

"Staff sentiment on this issue is not great," Koons said. "To facilitate the rules, I think the faculty does not have the knowledge to do it."

"Since the faculty does not have the knowledge to do it, I think the student does have," she said. Faculty sen-

"timent on this issue is not great, Koons added, since the faculty does not have the knowledge to do it."
LITTLE FEAT

WITH SPECIAL GUEST

JOHN HALL

AT

~ IRVINE AUDITORIUM ~

Saturday, April 8th-8pm and 11pm
Tickets: $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00
Tickets Go On Sale Tomorrow At H.H. Tix- Limit of 8per person

TICKET INFORMATION:

Due to the unprecedented off campus response to this show we urge you to go for your tickets early tomorrow. Houston Hall opens at 7:00am at the East, Rear Door (No one will be permitted in before this time). In addition, we have reserved a number of sections per show solely for purchase by students (bring your I.D.). Nevertheless, if you want Little Feat tickets, Please Go Early.
Class Of 1978 Honor Awards Nominees

Water Pipe
(Continued from page 1)

---

Monuments I -- Saved From the Bulldozer

College Hall last week was placed on the National Register of Historic Places, thus becoming a national landmark. The "Gothick-Gothic" building, the work of architect Thomas B. Richards, was cited as one of the "outstanding contributions to the architectural heritage of the United States." The "Collegiate-Gothic" building, the work of architect Ely Jacques Kahn, is also included in the Register. The decision was made after a year of study and debate by a task force of faculty, staff, students, and alumni.

---

Monuments II -- At Least It Was Just a Plaque

Well, I'll never be able to forget this. University Council Stephen Barlow, whose desk is cluttered with many important documents, was awarded a debt warrant of another kind last week. Barlow was presented with a sign which states "I DON'T GIVE A SHIT." It commemorates his numerous quotes in last month's DP joke issue. The gift-courtesy of Vice-President for Operational Services Fred Shabel.

---

Hillel Does It Again

FOR PURIM

Sat. March 25 9:00

Disco Party

Costumes Optional (Prizes for Best Costume-$25.15,$10)

Cost $1 S0 Refreshments

At Hillel 202 S. 36th St.

---

Election Wednesday And Thursday

The SPONGE, BOWL, CANE and SPADE AWARDS for men, and the ROTTLE, HARNWELL, GOSHAORD and SMOCKELE AWARDS for women have been awarded each year in order to reward academic standing, who have made outstanding contributions to campus life. Nominations for all awards were solicited from students, faculty and staff. The winners will be selected by a committee of students and staff selected by the Senior Class Board. The winners will be announced on this day, April 3. YOU MUST PRESENT YOUR MATRIX CARD TO VOTE.

POLLS: Locust Walk 11AM - 4PM
Harrison and Harnwell Lobbies
Noon-6PM
University Development Drive Gains Little in Six-Week Period

D. REYNOLD. CORBIN

The University’s $55 million Development Drive encountered rocky going between January 27 and March 19, collecting less than one million dollars in the six-week period.

"February is usually the most critical month of the year," Program for the Eighties Coordinator Kenneth Moore claimed Monday. "Typically, this is when we think that seems to bring in the fund.

"But what we did in February is raising money in February might be due to the number of potential donors who take vacations during the winter months.

As of March 16, the Development Drive had collected slightly more than $38 million, approximately 16 per cent of its total goal, according to figures released last week.

Approximately $52,000 was collected in the six weeks between February 27 and March 19, compared with $13 million in the previous three weeks.

University administrators have called the development drive one of the keystones of the University’s future. Funds raised through the campaign are used to fund academic programs, new professorships, the renovation of existing facilities, and student financial aid.

The latest campaign figures break down as follows:

- More than 80 per cent of the drive’s target for individual giving, approximately $11 million collected from individuals, 12 per cent of the drive’s target for corporate giving, approximately $10 million collected from corporations. 10 per cent of the target, $1.3 million collected from foundations.
- More than 93 per cent of the drive’s target for individual giving, approximately $19 million collected from individuals, 12 per cent of the drive’s target for corporate giving, approximately $4 million collected from corporations. 8 per cent of the target, $1 million collected from foundations.
- More than 88 per cent of the drive’s target for individual giving, approximately $14 million collected from individuals, 12 per cent of the drive’s target for corporate giving, approximately $6 million collected from corporations. 9 per cent of the target, $1.2 million collected from foundations.

Rizzo Announcement

"Let’s not be the record straight," Rizzo continued. "They’ve been called the 'Rizzo bunch'... not a racist. You’re good Americans." Rizzo said.

"I want everybody to be treated right. I think we’ve done more for the minorities than any other mayor.

"Certain groups want special privileges. I want everybody to have the same privileges. We can’t be doing right if we don’t want anybody to have special privileges.

Rizzo, in a career policeman and former Philadelphia Police Commissioner. He was elected mayor in 1971 and reelected for a second term in 1975. His current term ends in 1980.

"I don’t think there’s been a mayor..." Rizzo said. "I think he’s done more for the minorities than any other mayor.

"As the mayor of Philadelphia, I believe the decision handed down is a white area. There remains the possibility, albeit not a large one, that a blue collar back popular draft will follow in the coming months.

Rizzo’s speech was a hard-hitting attack on the decision to end the three-term issue and dispute over the third-term issue and the mayor’s cabinet in November in a appeal of a federal court order to build public housing in the predominantly white area.

Rizzo slammed the door completely shut any other mayor.

"Certain groups want special privileges. I want everybody to have the same privileges. We can’t be doing right if we don’t want anybody to have special privileges.

Rizzo, in a career policeman and former Philadelphia Police Commissioner. He was elected mayor in 1971 and reelected for a second term in 1975. His current term ends in 1980.

"I don’t think there’s been a mayor..." Rizzo said. "I think he’s done more for the minorities than any other mayor.

"As the mayor of Philadelphia, I believe the decision handed down is a white area. There remains the possibility, albeit not a large one, that a blue collar back popular draft will follow in the coming months.

Rizzo’s speech was a hard-hitting attack on the decision to end the three-term issue and dispute over the third-term issue and the mayor’s cabinet in November in a appeal of a federal court order to build public housing in the predominantly white area.

"As the mayor of Philadelphia, I believe the decision handed down is a white area. There remains the possibility, albeit not a large one, that a blue collar back popular draft will follow in the coming months.

Rizzo’s speech was a hard-hitting attack on the decision to end the three-term issue and dispute over the third-term issue and the mayor’s cabinet in November in a appeal of a federal court order to build public housing in the predominantly white area.

"As the mayor of Philadelphia, I believe the decision handed down is a white area. There remains the possibility, albeit not a large one, that a blue collar back popular draft will follow in the coming months.

Rizzo’s speech was a hard-hitting attack on the decision to end the three-term issue and dispute over the third-term issue and the mayor’s cabinet in November in a appeal of a federal court order to build public housing in the predominantly white area.

"As the mayor of Philadelphia, I believe the decision handed down is a white area. There remains the possibility, albeit not a large one, that a blue collar back popular draft will follow in the coming months.

Rizzo’s speech was a hard-hitting attack on the decision to end the three-term issue and dispute over the third-term issue and the mayor’s cabinet in November in a appeal of a federal court order to build public housing in the predominantly white area.

"As the mayor of Philadelphia, I believe the decision handed down is a white area. There remains the possibility, albeit not a large one, that a blue collar back popular draft will follow in the coming months.

Rizzo’s speech was a hard-hitting attack on the decision to end the three-term issue and dispute over the third-term issue and the mayor’s cabinet in November in a appeal of a federal court order to build public housing in the predominantly white area.

"As the mayor of Philadelphia, I believe the decision handed down is a white area. There remains the possibility, albeit not a large one, that a blue collar back popular draft will follow in the coming months.

Rizzo’s speech was a hard-hitting attack on the decision to end the three-term issue and dispute over the third-term issue and the mayor’s cabinet in November in a appeal of a federal court order to build public housing in the predominantly white area.

"As the mayor of Philadelphia, I believe the decision handed down is a white area. There remains the possibility, albeit not a large one, that a blue collar back popular draft will follow in the coming months.

Rizzo’s speech was a hard-hitting attack on the decision to end the three-term issue and dispute over the third-term issue and the mayor’s cabinet in November in a appeal of a federal court order to build public housing in the predominantly white area.

"As the mayor of Philadelphia, I believe the decision handed down is a white area. There remains the possibility, albeit not a large one, that a blue collar back popular draft will follow in the coming months.

Rizzo’s speech was a hard-hitting attack on the decision to end the three-term issue and dispute over the third-term issue and the mayor’s cabinet in November in a appeal of a federal court order to build public housing in the predominantly white area.

"As the mayor of Philadelphia, I believe the decision handed down is a white area. There remains the possibility, albeit not a large one, that a blue collar back popular draft will follow in the coming months.

Rizzo’s speech was a hard-hitting attack on the decision to end the three-term issue and dispute over the third-term issue and the mayor’s cabinet in November in a appeal of a federal court order to build public housing in the predominantly white area.

"As the mayor of Philadelphia, I believe the decision handed down is a white area. There remains the possibility, albeit not a large one, that a blue collar back popular draft will follow in the coming months.

Rizzo’s speech was a hard-hitting attack on the decision to end the three-term issue and dispute over the third-term issue and the mayor’s cabinet in November in a appeal of a federal court order to build public housing in the predominantly white area.

"As the mayor of Philadelphia, I believe the decision handed down is a white area. There remains the possibility, albeit not a large one, that a blue collar back popular draft will follow in the coming months.

Rizzo’s speech was a hard-hitting attack on the decision to end the three-term issue and dispute over the third-term issue and the mayor’s cabinet in November in a appeal of a federal court order to build public housing in the predominantly white area.
Tuesday, March 21, 1978

PHILADELPHIA

The Penn baseball team returned from its trip to Florida on Monday to prepare for the season in the same way it ended it last year. With the coaching staff and defense and inconsistent pitching continuing, the Quakers will have to fight a slightly disappointing record.

Press Release

A new era begins today at the Hill and Ritter fields. The Penn Quakers are in their first four games, but don’t let their first four games fool you. The Penn Quakers coaches and players believe they have improved from last year. The Penn Quakers did not have as many errors as last year. They will have to improve their fielding.

The first game of the season March 11 against DePaul. The Quakers did not have many errors, so the Quakers dominated the game from the first pitch. The Penn Quakers will play their first game in Florida on Tuesday, March 21.

The Penn Quakers won their first game of the season against DePaul, 3-0. The Quakers scored two runs in the first inning and one run in the second inning. The Penn Quakers won 8-2. The Penn Quakers have improved from last year, but they still have many errors to correct.

How the East was Lost

Definitely, it was not a funny Penn. The Quakers’ first four games were nothing to write about.

Defensive performances were lackluster, and the offense struggled to score runs. This resulted in four losses to the Red Devils, 4-2, 3-1, 2-1, and 2-0.

Defensive performances were much better against DePaul, as the Quakers scored two runs in the first inning and one in the second. The Penn Quakers won 8-2.

The Penn Quakers dominated the game from the first pitch. They scored two runs in the first inning and one in the second. The Penn Quakers won 8-2.

The Penn Quakers have improved from last year, but they still have many errors to correct.

Tidbits

Penn and Villa Nova played a close game. The Quakers led 3-0 in the seventh inning, but the Red Devils scored three runs in the bottom of the inning. The Penn Quakers won 8-2.

The Red Devils had a sacrifice fly in the first inning and scored two runs in the seventh. The Penn Quakers won 8-2.

The Penn Quakers have improved from last year, but they still have many errors to correct.

The Penn Quakers and the Red Devils played a close game. The Quakers led 3-0 in the seventh inning, but the Red Devils scored three runs in the bottom of the inning. The Penn Quakers won 8-2.

The Red Devils had a sacrifice fly in the first inning and scored two runs in the seventh. The Penn Quakers won 8-2.

The Penn Quakers have improved from last year, but they still have many errors to correct.

Cagers: Almost

Almost (Continued from page 3)

Bobby Sherrill, a senior guard, had 16 points, 12 rebounds, and six assists. The Penn Quakers won 8-2.

Bobby Sherrill, a senior guard, had 16 points, 12 rebounds, and six assists. The Penn Quakers won 8-2.

Bobby Sherrill, a senior guard, had 16 points, 12 rebounds, and six assists. The Penn Quakers won 8-2.

Bobby Sherrill, a senior guard, had 16 points, 12 rebounds, and six assists. The Penn Quakers won 8-2.

The Penn Quakers have improved from last year, but they still have many errors to correct.

Laxmen Win

(Continued from page 10)

The Penn Quakers are in their first four games, but don’t let their first four games fool you. The Penn Quakers coaches and players believe they have improved from last year.

The Penn Quakers did not have as many errors as last year. They will have to improve their fielding.

The Penn Quakers did not have as many errors as last year. They will have to improve their fielding.

The Penn Quakers did not have as many errors as last year. They will have to improve their fielding.

The Penn Quakers did not have as many errors as last year. They will have to improve their fielding.

The Penn Quakers did not have as many errors as last year. They will have to improve their fielding.

The Penn Quakers did not have as many errors as last year. They will have to improve their fielding.

The Penn Quakers did not have as many errors as last year. They will have to improve their fielding.

The Penn Quakers did not have as many errors as last year. They will have to improve their fielding.

The Penn Quakers did not have as many errors as last year. They will have to improve their fielding.

The Penn Quakers did not have as many errors as last year. They will have to improve their fielding.

The Penn Quakers did not have as many errors as last year. They will have to improve their fielding.
A LONG WAY FROM SPEEDBOAT DAYS—Former teammates at West Philadelphia High School, Tim Smith (shouting) and Greg Coker (center), nearly finished their academic careers in Providence. Both were personal duels with 30 points to Smith's 13, Smith's own was the bigger battle, 84-80.

A Time to Reflect on Success, not Failure

Success, not Failure

most of the Quakers had their hands full with the Blue Devil center Mike Gminski, which led to a string of 10 straight points that Duke took late in the first half to lead 22-12. It was a 15-4 spurt in the last minute of the quarter that served to give the Blue Devils breathing room. The Quakers still could not seem to get a firm hold on it. The Blue Devils were able to get a lead in the game by playing them closer to the lane and drawing more fouls, which was a big factor in their success.

The early moments of the game were too even to let the game get away from the Quakers. However, as the game progressed, the Blue Devils started to dominate the game. They were able to get a lead in the second half of the game and never looked back.

The Blue Devil center Mike Gminski was a key player in this game. He scored 14 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, which was enough to lead the Blue Devils to victory.

The Quaker version of Murderers Row included six points from Scott Honey, four from Mike Storm, and a three-pointer from Bob Bender, who whirled and fired in 14 points. The Quakers were able to keep the Blue Devils at bay with a solid defensive effort.

The ACC champs stormed out to an early lead, but the Quakers were able to keep up and get within two points in the second half. The Blue Devils were able to pull away and win the game by a score of 84-80.

Irish Cop NCAA Fencing Crown

Penn Second After Romp in IFA's

The Irish fencing team was able to overcome a 7-0 deficit in the first half of the match to win the NCAA championship. The team was able to score 64 points in the second half of the match to secure the victory.

The Irish were able to dominate the second half of the match, scoring 64 points compared to the Blue Devils' 26. The Blue Devils were able to score 6 points in the first half, but were unable to keep up with the Irish's scoring.

The Irish were able to capitalize on their opposition's mistakes and score points in the second half of the match. The Blue Devils were unable to match the Irish's scoring, leading to a decisive victory.

The Irish fencing team was able to overcome a difficult first half and secure the NCAA championship. The team's success was a result of their ability to capitalize on their opposition's mistakes and score points in the second half of the match.