Administrators Fear for Positions

By STEVEN DURRO

As the University administration begins its search for one of its top administrative positions, the Faculty Senate is not taking the news of the search lightly.

The position of director of the FAS (Faculty and Staff) was vacated by the resignation of Dr. John Goff. The search for a replacement is expected to take several months, and the current acting director of the FAS, Dr. Robert Kline, is on leave until the end of the academic year.

The search process is expected to be lengthy, and the Faculty Senate is concerned that the search will be conducted in a manner that is fair and transparent.

The Faculty Senate is also concerned about the impact of the search on the University's ability to attract and retain top administrative talent. The search process is expected to take several months, and the current acting director of the FAS, Dr. Robert Kline, is on leave until the end of the academic year.

New Book Brings Art of Acupuncture

By JOAN GREGO

For Edith Kline, Chinese American, and Allan Kline, Chinese American, acupuncture is not just a way of life, it is a way of healing.

In Kline and Kline have written a book entitled "The Art of Acupuncture," which is a comprehensive guide to the art and science of acupuncture.

The book is a collection of over 100 acupuncture charts, each accompanied by detailed explanations of the points and needles used in each treatment.

The book also includes a glossary of acupuncture terms, as well as a section on the history of acupuncture in China and the United States.

The book is available for $25.00 at all major bookstores, and can also be ordered directly from the authors at the Kline and Kline Acupuncture Clinic.

Vehicle's seats are upholstered in traditional red and gold fabric, and the vehicle is equipped with a state-of-the-art navigation system and a high-quality sound system.

Water Damage to High Rise Tots Nearly $3500

By JOHN GREGOR

In the aftermath of the recent flood, the University is faced with a significant repair bill for the high-rise student housing.

The flood damage is estimated to be nearly $3500, and the University is currently working on a plan to repair the damage as quickly and efficiently as possible.

The University is also working on a plan to prevent future flooding by improving the drainage system and installing additional flood-control measures.

MUSIC ON KYTV for Easter
By BILL STAHL
A time-honored production of the New College Music Company will be broadcast Sunday at 9:30 a.m. by KYTV in part of the station's Easter observance. The musical score will be that of the medieval American composer.
The biblical story records that Paul, originally named Saul, was born in Damascus, where he encountered the Lord Jesus. Saul's reason for persecuting Christians, the narrative goes, was that he thought the Christians were trying to seduce him from following the teachings of the Hebrew prophets. Saul's conversion to Christianity, however, brought a change in his life. He traveled throughout the region of the Middle East, spreading the word of God.

Safety Measures: Dubiously Absent

By Sirena Terr

On a cold, rainy Tuesday in October a man entered the stacks of the library, the shelves lined up the length of the hall. The stacks, an architect’s vision, were a cacophony of knowledge, filled with volumes that reached the ceiling. At the bottom of each level was a desk, a place for students to study or find a quiet spot to read. The man walked up the stairs, passing by the stacks, finally reaching the top floor.

No one noticed him as he walked into the stacks. It was late at night, the air was still, and the silence descended upon the library. The man moved slowly, his footsteps echoing on the concrete floor. He surveyed the stacks, looking for something.

He found it. A book, a treasure hidden away in the stacks. The man smiled, pleased with his discovery. He reached up and grabbed the book, feeling its weight in his hand. It was old, perhaps from another time, but it contained knowledge that was valuable.

The man sat down on one of the desks, a place for students to study. He opened the book, flipping through the pages, reading the words. The pages were stained with age, but the knowledge was still there. He read until the clock struck midnight, the library closing its doors for the night. The man left, the book tucked under his arm. It was time to spread the knowledge.

The next day, the book was gone. The same thing happened again. The man returned to the stacks, finding the book once again. He sat down, read, and then left, the book hidden away once more.

The librarian noticed the book being taken from the stacks, but could not understand why. It was a mystery to her. She reported it to the police, but they could not find any evidence of who was taking the book.

The man repeated the act, taking the book from the stacks when no one was looking. He did this for weeks, until the librarian was convinced that the only way to stop him was to order the books removed from the stacks.

The books were removed, but the man continued his act. He knew he could not be caught, so he continued to steal the knowledge from the stacks.

The librarian and the police were at a loss for what to do. They could not stop the man, so they decided to leave the books alone. The man continued his act, but the librarian and the police knew he was watching.

The story of the book that was taken from the stacks continues today, a tale of mystery and intrigue. The man who took the book still exists, unknown to all but the people who know him. The story of the book and the man who took it is a story of knowledge and mystery, a tale that will be told for generations to come.

WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE?

Psalms 2:1 and Acts 4:25

VIRTUE ALONE COULD PROCURE TRUE HAPPINESS

Chastity Is driven away by all men, like a snake! The virtue of chastity was impenetrable and she eluded by every man who attempted it. For the greater convenience he put the virtuous lady in the hands of her passionate suitors. This caused the Christian Churches to be forsaken and the Christian Churches to become enraged and enraged because of the amazing increase in the number of the footsteps of the Children of God, the heathen tribes and the Christian Churches. For these reasons he desired to demonstrate this very exposition on this subject in the form of a short treatise on the topic of the heathen soul.

Call your mother.

Nobody in the world understands you the way she does. And she would love to hear how you’re doing right now.

Call your mother tonight. Long Distance. Because if you did call your self, station to station, between 5 and 11 PM, you’d be able to talk for just ten minutes for $2.57 (plus tax) or less to anywhere in the continental U.S. except Alaska!

But don’t forget to use the special new Bell convenient dial code, 205. Just dial 205, and you’ll be connected to your mother in just a few seconds. It’s easy and convenient.

Long Distance. What else is so nice for the price?

FAS Is Cut $500,000 by U.

The major changes concern dealing with incomplete grades. Students new must seek Executive Committee approval for an extension of longer than four weeks to resolve the incompletes. Also, for six more incompletes one student an incomplete mark would be given; previously more than three were necessary to do so.

Transfer students are now required to complete at least half of the courses, including at least half of their major courses, at the University. This applies to students transferring after the fall, and will not apply retrospectively.

Other changes now require a student to complete at least six courses in two semesters or have a general probation, and mandate that any student taking a minor as part of his program must maintain a grade point average of at least 2.0 in the minor.

Also, Wharton Evening School courses are now no longer approved for credit for FAS students.

The faculty also passed a resolution whereby in the future the students will be responsible for any changes in graduate school fellowships, funding alternatives. For example, for Graduate Studies Dr. Leopoldcon changed the method of which is used to grant graduate fellowships in Pennsylvania. Previously, any student taking a minor as part of his program must maintain a grade point average of at least 2.0 in the minor. Administrators Fear for Jobs

A two-year campus task force, President Meyerson and Relle, are putting forward an idea that the administrative system is inefficient and needs reorganization. The administration is also planning to establish a Task Force on reorganization. The sit-in was also met with the NC. At that time, they talked recently about the after-effects of the system and the amount of faculty dissent at what students and administration agree. If for no other reason than they were not a part of the plan, Meyerson added, "It's in great trouble for a number of reasons, if it is a justified appraisal."

Rita,

Time once again to paste-up and T-square another news-making year. Best wishes from all of us.

Better late than never!

A representative of CHAMPION INTERNATIONAL CORPORATION will be interviewing graduating students for positions which can develop into exciting careers in one of America's most far-sighted and rewarding industries. Forest Products.

Champion International Corporation is a major forest products company, a pioneer in the building materials paper and paper products industry. With nearly 50,000 employees the company's 1977 sales were approximately $3.1 billion. This year there are more than 400 Champion inspirational facilities in the United States and Canada and if reasonably certain you have the potential to be associated with one or more of our products in the paper, paper packaging or building materials areas.

Our building materials business, predominantly represented by Champion Building Products, is in a large franchise, '77 sales of $11 billion. This area of our company is an important product-producer of structural lumber, non-dbale paper millboard. These products are used in both industrial and construction markets and for furniture and home improvement projects. Our building materials might be used as shelving, studs or siding in your home, as underpinnings for your floors, shelving or paneling in your family room.

And some get paid for it from our Champion Paper products too. This division of Champion International had sales of over $1 billion in '77. Champion Paper is a major producer of writing, printing and business papers, the second largest manufacturer of milk cartons. These products last year sold more than 1 billion envelopes and the country's largest wholesaler of office products.

Our paper packaging business is represented by Champion Thermoform, a major producer of preformed paper and metal containers, consumer packages, grocery and household size. The package boats, refrigerators, soap detergent, cereals, groceries, dishes, pet food and thousands of other items.

Behind all the products we make is the tree. We have 3.4 million acres of forests in the United States. Kauffman, Champion's president, is a member of the National Association of Corporate Directors and is a member of the National Association of Corporate Directors. He is a director of a number of leading companies in the industry.

We at Champion International would like to tell you more about our company and the opportunities that exist for exciting and rewarding careers. If you would like to know more about us, please sign the interview list at the placement office and meet with our representative on March 29, 1978.

Frosch was added to the lineup this season because of the deparad. By this time he had grown a lot and was playing solid basketball. He helped the team win their first seven games and was a key factor in their 13-4 record.

One representative of a West Coast team reflected on the Frosch signing, "He's the kind of player we've been looking for. He's quick, he's athletic, and he has good court vision. We were able to use his skills to create some interesting situations on the court."

Frosch's play was instrumental in improving the team's overall record to 13-4. He was named to the All-Ivy first team and was a key contributor to the team's success.

Frosch's signing was another step in Coach Ron Haigler's plan to build a successful team. "We're excited to have Frosch on board," said Haigler. "He brings a lot to the team and we're looking forward to seeing what he can do this season."
