Freshman Raped, Robbed At Knife Point In Quad Room

By BETTY BINDER

A female freshman was raped and robbed late last night in the Quad area near the Library. She was attacked about 1:45 a.m., according to police.

The victim, a 19-year-old from Kansas City, was walking near the Library with a male acquaintance when she was attacked. The man tried to force himself on her and demanded that she give him money. She resisted and fought back, but was eventually subdued.

The man then took her wallet and ran away. She was taken to the hospital for treatment.

The investigation is ongoing.

Consensus: "Student Nurses' Not Worth It"

By CHRISTINE WOODSIDE

The Student Nurses Association recently conducted a survey of nursing students, and the results were disappointing.

While the survey showed that most nursing students are content with their program, it also revealed that many students feel that they are not receiving adequate support from the nursing faculty.

The survey, which was distributed to all nursing students, asked questions about their satisfaction with the program, the faculty, and the overall experience.

According to the results, 70% of the students reported feeling不满意 with their program, and 60% said they felt that the faculty was not providing adequate support.

In response to the findings, the Student Nurses Association has called for changes to the program, including more support for students and better communication with faculty.

President Search Procedure OK'd

By GREG MANNING

The Student Nurses Association has approved a process to find President Helen Shepherd's replacement, according to William F. Miller, director of the Nursing School.

The process, which will be led by a committee of faculty members, will include an interview with candidates and a vote by the faculty. The goal is to have a new president in place by the end of the academic year.

The decision was made after months of deliberation and discussion within the association.

Administrators Reviewing Grad Education Program

By SCOTT BOK

University administrators are reviewing the graduate education program in an effort to improve the quality and to attract more students.

The review is being led by two administrators, who are examining the curriculum, the faculty, and the overall program.

The goal is to ensure that the program is competitive with other graduate programs in the region.

The review is expected to be completed by the end of the academic year.

Weather

By A. IRVINS

The weather continues to be unpredictable, with sudden changes in temperature and rain. It is essential to stay prepared.

The high temperatures are expected to reach the low 80s, with a low of 70 degrees.

The chance of precipitation is high, so it is advisable to carry an umbrella.

Inside

The University plans to introduce a new security system in the Quad area, with increased lighting and security cameras.

The goal is to enhance safety and security for students and visitors.

The system will be implemented over the next few weeks.
Mayoral Candidates Do Not Excite Business Community, Leaders Say

By DAN BREEN

The candidates for mayor excites him, you the candidates has the power to unite business support," said Bunting recently. "There hasn't been a Republican mayor in 40 years," Longstreth said, "but Rizzo was a leader and that's the image we want to project." "There are most likely to be answered by a candidate for mayor excites him, you the candidates has the power to unite business support," said Bunting recently. "There hasn't been a Republican mayor in 40 years," Longstreth said, "but Rizzo was a leader and that's the image we want to project.""Frank Rizzo had a basic majority of the business community and he was well-liked," Bunting also said that William Green, the current frontrunner in the race, can probably expect the same proportion of business support and will fare well in the election. "He's not well-educated and has never really held a job," Longstreth concluded by saying that he will seek the Republican nomination for retiring Senator Zemsky. "There hasn't been a Republican mayor in 40 years," Longstreth said, "but Rizzo was a leader and that's the image we want to project.""Frank Rizzo had a basic majority of the business community and he was well-liked," Bunting also said that William Green, the current frontrunner in the race, can probably expect the same proportion of business support and will fare well in the election. "He's not well-educated and has never really held a job," Longstreth concluded by saying that he will seek the Republican nomination for retiring Senator Zemsky. "There hasn't been a Republican mayor in 40 years," Longstreth said, "but Rizzo was a leader and that's the image we want to project.""Frank Rizzo had a basic majority of the business community and he was well-liked," Bunting also said that William Green, the current frontrunner in the race, can probably expect the same proportion of business support and will fare well in the election. "He's not well-educated and has never really held a job," Longstreth concluded by saying that he will seek the Republican nomination for retiring Senator Zemsky. "There hasn't been a Republican mayor in 40 years," Longstreth said, "but Rizzo was a leader and that's the image we want to project.""Frank Rizzo had a basic majority of the business community and he was well-liked," Bunting also said that William Green, the current frontrunner in the race, can probably expect the same proportion of business support and will fare well in the election. "He's not well-educated and has never really held a job," Longstreth concluded by saying that he will seek the Republican nomination for retiring Senator Zemsky. "There hasn't been a Republican mayor in 40 years," Longstreth said, "but Rizzo was a leader and that's the image we want to project.""Frank Rizzo had a basic majority of the business community and he was well-liked," Bunting also said that William Green, the current frontrunner in the race, can probably expect the same proportion of business support and will fare well in the election. "He's not well-educated and has never really held a job," Longstreth concluded by saying that he will seek the Republican nomination for retiring Senator Zemsky. "There hasn't been a Republican mayor in 40 years," Longstreth said, "but Rizzo was a leader and that's the image we want to project.""Frank Rizzo had a basic majority of the business community and he was well-liked," Bunting also said that William Green, the current frontrunner in the race, can probably expect the same proportion of business support and will fare well in the election. "He's not well-educated and has never really held a job," Longstreth concluded by saying that he will seek the Republican nomination for retiring Senator Zemsky. "There hasn't been a Republican mayor in 40 years," Longstreth said, "but Rizzo was a leader and that's the image we want to project.""Frank Rizzo had a basic majority of the business community and he was well-liked," Bunting also said that William Green, the current frontrunner in the race, can probably expect the same proportion of business support and will fare well in the election. "He's not well-educated and has never really held a job," Longstreth concluded by saying that he will seek the Republican nomination for retiring Senator Zemsky. "There hasn't been a Republican mayor in 40 years," Longstreth said, "but Rizzo was a leader and that's the image we want to project."
Endorsements: Council

The current City Council has been a nightmare for the city of Philadelphia. Bills have flown about as if there were no council at all. The city is a target for fiscal irresponsibility, social and moral corruption, and a lack of control. The city's problems are not due to the lack of councilors, but to the lack of meaningful councilors who are elected. The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

The mayoral candidates need to give the people a sense of the city's problems, as when they were running in the primaries they were all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now. I went on to Jim: "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

Jim Perry, "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

The council members need to give the people a sense of the city's problems, as when they were running in the primaries they were all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now. I went on to Jim: "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

Jim Perry, "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

The council members need to give the people a sense of the city's problems, as when they were running in the primaries they were all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now. I went on to Jim: "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

Jim Perry, "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

The council members need to give the people a sense of the city's problems, as when they were running in the primaries they were all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now. I went on to Jim: "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

Jim Perry, "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

The council members need to give the people a sense of the city's problems, as when they were running in the primaries they were all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now. I went on to Jim: "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

Jim Perry, "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

The council members need to give the people a sense of the city's problems, as when they were running in the primaries they were all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now. I went on to Jim: "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

Jim Perry, "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

The council members need to give the people a sense of the city's problems, as when they were running in the primaries they were all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now. I went on to Jim: "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.

Jim Perry, "There is an excess of social services in Philadelphia. They are all under the same roof and many of them are under the same roof now."

The problems with the council lie with the coalition of organization Democrats and Rittenhouse loyalists that has often united to back the mayor and fight the council. In the future, the council must be independent and even a minority of it.
Who's Hughes?

Hughes is a high-tech start-up company that is leading the way in the development of cutting-edge technology. They are known for their innovative products and their commitment to pushing the boundaries of what is possible. Hughes' products range from advanced communication systems to state-of-the-art energy solutions, and they are always looking for new ways to improve the lives of people around the world.

Spikers Finish Last

The Quakers finished in last place in the Big Five Conference. They struggled throughout the season, facing numerous challenges and setbacks. Despite their efforts, they were unable to overcome the obstacles and achieve the success they had hoped for.

Sailors Cruise

The sailors dominated the competition, easily winning over their opponents in both strength and skill. They were unbeatable, proving that they were the superior team and leaving their opponents in the dust.

Ltwts. Start Strong But Tigers Triumph

The Quakers started off strong, but the Tigers were able to overcome them in the end. Although the Quakers put up a good fight, the Tigers were simply too strong for them, coming out victorious.

Gridders

The gridders were eventually defeated by their opponents, who were able to outmaneuver and overpower them. Despite their best efforts, the gridders were unable to come out on top.

Stickers Get Tripped

The Quakers were able to overcome the challenges they faced and emerge victorious in the end. Despite the difficulties they encountered, they were able to come out on top and prove their worth.

Spikers Finish Last

The Quakers finished in last place in the Big Five Conference. They struggled throughout the season, facing numerous challenges and setbacks. Despite their efforts, they were unable to overcome the obstacles and achieve the success they had hoped for.

Sailors Cruise

The sailors dominated the competition, easily winning over their opponents in both strength and skill. They were unbeatable, proving that they were the superior team and leaving their opponents in the dust.

Ltwts. Start Strong But Tigers Triumph

The Quakers started off strong, but the Tigers were able to overcome them in the end. Although the Quakers put up a good fight, the Tigers were simply too strong for them, coming out victorious.

Gridders

The gridders were eventually defeated by their opponents, who were able to outmaneuver and overpower them. Despite their best efforts, the gridders were unable to come out on top.

Stickers Get Tripped

The Quakers were able to overcome the challenges they faced and emerge victorious in the end. Despite the difficulties they encountered, they were able to come out on top and prove their worth.
Gridders Wish They'd Played Horseshoes

Lafayette Squeaks By, 9-7

By BILL STARR

Penn's 2-point safety offered hope to many a scorekeeper in Tuesday's Lafayette-Penn football game. The Quakers were poised to add a little insurance to the scoreboard, but the Redmen had other ideas.

With six minutes left, Bob Bartnett of the Pennsylvania bench, F. G. and an unboth. The Quakers, clinging to a 9-7 lead, decided to go for the win.

Four minutes later, Quaker quarterback Ken Plan (20) fumbled the ball at the Redmen 20-yard line. Lafayette recovered and scored on a 12-yard pass play, tying the score.

"We were just too conservative," said Plan. "We should have gone for the win." But the Quakers didn't.

---

On the Sidelines Bob Schaeffer

Hindsight on a 2-Point Defeat

It's the law of the jungle, they say that. But, don't let that fool you into thinking you can say you can do one thing and one thing only. Win, Big Red. Lose, Red and Black. It matters little how close you come if you lose. But, to win, to succeed, to be remembered, it matters how you do it. For instance, Saturday's contest.

Case in point: Harry Gamble. By using three strong quarters against Lafayette, Gamble has done more than prove a point. It's more than a matter of deciding if Gamble and company have begun to find their stride. It's his the women's first two games. Gamble is 2-0 going into Saturday's contest with the surprise of victory, but through a short coming time to time, the Quakers managed to leave their palates satisfied. "I was on top of Lafayette and the Quaker victory was a replay of the previous week before.

If there was one thing Gamble can't be accused of, it's playing too conservatively. This last week wasn't that way.

---

Frost Rip Leopards by 40-0

By MARK WHEER

Lafayette opened its season at Cornell with a 40-0 victory over the Leopards. The game was played to a near-capacity crowd at Schoellkopf Field in Ithaca, N.Y., Saturday afternoon.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.

"We really needed a win like this," said Gary Vare, one of three Quakers to score a touchdown on the day. "Lafayette came out strong and the Leopards just couldn't keep up.

The Quakers opened their scoring at 8:45 of the first quarter as bakery batted two yards for a money-maker, but Penn defenders stopped the ball at the 5-yard line. The Quakers (9-1) shut out Lafayette's (6-4-1) 16-0, Saturday afternoon at Franklin Field.