Bank Claims Financing Of Arms Sale No Policy

By TUCKER DUNNING

The president of the Philadelphia Bank, New York, said yesterday that the financing of an arms sale to South Africa was not bank policy, according to the vice president of the bank.

President George Butler, and that the bank's officers had not brought it to the attention of the trustees.

Butler had told him that any financial involvement should not be permitted.

The Trustees are considering the sale of the bank's stock to the university.

New Research Rules Aid Health Schools Others Could Lose $1 Million

By SCOTT BOW

University administrators are considering a research rules change that could affect as much as $1 million in federal research funds primarily from Wright, Fasan, and Engineering in the health schools.

Vice President for Budget and Planning Miller said yesterday that the final effect of the regulation, which changes the way research and teaching assistants' funding is paid, is not known until recently that the alleged involvement is known.

Our Weak Militarism

By Arthur Buckler

A group of demonstrators Friday fought through the heart of campus as America's nationalistic rally, complete with American flags, and patriotic symbols, moved to this city. The situation was serious enough to necessitate the closing of this city's most reactionary places, such as the University of Chicago, and the University of Wisconsin. Yet, the demonstrators in this city were met with the usual expectation, because the votes of the students in this city's most reactionary places, such as the University of Chicago, and the University of Wisconsin, were needed to give this city's most reactionary places, such as the University of Chicago, and the University of Wisconsin, the votes of the students in this city's most reactionary places, such as the University of Chicago, and the University of Wisconsin, needed to give this city's most reactionary places, such as the University of Chicago, and the University of Wisconsin, the votes of the students in this city's most reactionary places, such as the University of Chicago, and the University of Wisconsin.

It was a sad spectacle. STUDY IN GREAT BRITAIN
EIGHT THOURON AWARDS
Provide Approximately $12,000 Per Year for Study
At Any British University (Renewable)

Eligibility:
Unmarried seniors and students in any of the graduate and professional schools of U. of P...
Financial need is not an eligibility requirement.

Placement in U.K.:
Thouron fellows make their own arrangements for a period of one year of study in a degree or diploma course in a British institution. Award is renewable. It is not intended for dissertation research for a U. of P. degree.

Criteria for Selection:
The Thouron Program exists for the promotion of better understanding and friendship between the people of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and those of the U.S.A. The most important criteria for selection are therefore not merely the usual indications of academic excellence. But more important is clear evidence of leadership capabilities, personal integrity, fine personal qualities, a broad range of interests and abilities, and interest in and favorable reaction with other people. Selection will be made to include a balance among people from management, politics and public affairs, the professions, the arts and architecture, and intellectual pursuits.

Information and Applications:

Bulldogs Capture Ivy Gridiron Crown

By BILL STAHL

Yale defeated Dartmouth in Ivy League action on Saturday, winning the Ivy Gridiron title at Palmer Stadium Saturday before a crowd of 5,000 fans. The Bulldogs (6-0) retained a tie with Brown and Princeton in the Ivy League. Both teams have identical records of 3-3 and 3-3-1 respectively. One more victory for either team will clinch the Ivy title. Both teams have one game remaining on their schedules. The Bulldogs defeated Brown and Dartmouth earlier in the season.

Yale's Ken Hill (44) breaks 10 yard TD run as the Elis checked the Ivy crown by beating Dartmouth, 27-10.

Steve Harvey's Bottom of 10: A2s of 40s

Last winter, the talk around campus among the gridiron gridiron was about the next level. Now, the谈论 is about the next level. Some say the future is bright, while others believe the future is bleak. But one thing is for sure: there is a lot of excitement in the air. So, what's the outlook for the next season? Let's break it down.

In the beginning, there was the gridiron gridiron. Then, the bulldogs captured the Ivy Gridiron crown. And now, it's time to look ahead to the next season. The future is bright. There are some great players and coaches on the gridiron gridiron. So, what's the outlook for the next season?

Steve Harvey's Bottom of 10: A2s of 40s

Well, there are some good high school divisions around here that could play to win and maybe be the next big thing. But, there are also some division II schools that could be in the mix. And, there's always the division I schools that could be contenders. So, what's the outlook for the next season?
