24 Hour Quad Security Plan Will Be Implemented Soon

By LIL MELICHEN

Throughout the history of the Quad, the University has had a concern for the safety of students and faculty. The recent increase in crime on campus has made the University aware of the need for improved security measures. The University has been working towards implementing a 24-hour security plan to address this issue.

Alumni Director Takes Post With Congressmen

By SCOTT HELPER

The University has received state approval to form a 24-hour security plan for the Quad. The plan will be in effect starting next week, with the first 24-hour shift scheduled to begin on Thursday. The University has been working on this project for several months, and the plan is expected to improve safety on campus.

U. Fund Drive Spurred On By $8 Million Surge

By JOHN DRINSKY

The University has received a $8 million surgbe in donations, which will be used to fund the University's annual giving campaign. This is the largest single donation in the history of the University, and it will be used to support various programs and initiatives.

1000 Students To Receive Summer Work-Study Jobs

By BARBARA LERNER

The University has announced that 1000 students will be selected to participate in the Summer Work-Study program. The program is designed to provide students with the opportunity to earn money while gaining valuable work experience.

Inside

By SCOTT HELPER

Several University students have been selected to participate in the Summer Work-Study program. The program provides students with the opportunity to earn money while gaining valuable work experience.

1000 Students To Receive Summer Work-Study Jobs

By BARBARA LERNER

The University has announced that 1000 students will be selected to participate in the Summer Work-Study program. The program is designed to provide students with the opportunity to earn money while gaining valuable work experience.

U. Fund Drive Spurred On By $8 Million Surge

By JOHN DRINSKY

The University has received a $8 million surgbe in donations, which will be used to fund the University's annual giving campaign. This is the largest single donation in the history of the University, and it will be used to support various programs and initiatives.

1000 Students To Receive Summer Work-Study Jobs

By BARBARA LERNER

The University has announced that 1000 students will be selected to participate in the Summer Work-Study program. The program is designed to provide students with the opportunity to earn money while gaining valuable work experience.

Inside

By SCOTT HELPER

Several University students have been selected to participate in the Summer Work-Study program. The program provides students with the opportunity to earn money while gaining valuable work experience.

1000 Students To Receive Summer Work-Study Jobs

By BARBARA LERNER

The University has announced that 1000 students will be selected to participate in the Summer Work-Study program. The program is designed to provide students with the opportunity to earn money while gaining valuable work experience.
Plain-Clothes Policemen Stick Out On Campus

by JACQUELINE VALLIERAS

You have probably seen them around campus, at demonstrator rallies, anti-drug protests and at both pro and anti-Iranian rallies.

Although campus detectives are not involved with just demonstrations, at least eight or nine plain-clothes detectives were on campus around campus, at divestment rallies, where according to Adams, is students' use of the media to pressure the University.

"Most students don't want to go through the court hassle," Carroll said. "We kind of just go along with them and support them in press charges or the consequences. We make a lot of recommendations and give a lot of advice and try to make people aware of their vulnerabilities.

"Philadelphia police have access to fingerprints of people who have criminal records or have someone who has been arrested," Carroll added. "We don't have files on any particular group or person unless you've been arrested.

Carroll said that the plain-clothes detectives handle all aspects of protecting dignitaries when they visit or near the campus - from the Pope to Io Chinese Diplomats who recently visited.

And, when former President Gerald Ford came to lecture at the University, campus plain-clothes men were in charge of the safety.

"We actually walked through every particular way (he would). We planned the route, as well as escape routes," Carroll said. "The Service would get back to your department, but we don't go to demonstrations "The idea about what they do, I know the divestment people are the gang on the Barney Miller show."

Detectives Mike Carroll added. According to one student, the plain-clothes men are discreet about their presence, but are recognized by the demonstrators. "Most people are very discreet," Moore said recently, "but we keep an eye on them."

"We don't go to demonstrations unless we are called by the Student Life or Provost's offices," Chief of Detectives Mike Carroll added.

"We actually walked through every particular way (he would). We planned the route, as well as escape routes," Carroll said. "The Service would get back to your department, but we don't go to demonstrations "The idea about what they do, I know the divestment people are the gang on the Barney Miller show."

Detectives Mike Carroll added. According to one student, the plain-clothes men are discreet about their presence, but are recognized by the demonstrators. "Most people are very discreet," Moore said recently, "but we keep an eye on them."

"We don't go to demonstrations unless we are called by the Student Life or Provost's offices," Chief of Detectives Mike Carroll added.

"We actually walked through every particular way (he would). We planned the route, as well as escape routes," Carroll said. "The Service would get back to your department, but we don't go to demonstrations "The idea about what they do, I know the divestment people are the gang on the Barney Miller show."

Detectives Mike Carroll added. According to one student, the plain-clothes men are discreet about their presence, but are recognized by the demonstrators. "Most people are very discreet," Moore said recently, "but we keep an eye on them."

"We don't go to demonstrations unless we are called by the Student Life or Provost's offices," Chief of Detectives Mike Carroll added.

"We actually walked through every particular way (he would). We planned the route, as well as escape routes," Carroll said. "The Service would get back to your department, but we don't go to demonstrations "The idea about what they do, I know the divestment people are the gang on the Barney Miller show."

Detectives Mike Carroll added. According to one student, the plain-clothes men are discreet about their presence, but are recognized by the demonstrators. "Most people are very discreet," Moore said recently, "but we keep an eye on them."

"We don't go to demonstrations unless we are called by the Student Life or Provost's offices," Chief of Detectives Mike Carroll added.

"We actually walked through every particular way (he would). We planned the route, as well as escape routes," Carroll said. "The Service would get back to your department, but we don't go to demonstrations "The idea about what they do, I know the divestment people are the gang on the Barney Miller show."

Detectives Mike Carroll added. According to one student, the plain-clothes men are discreet about their presence, but are recognized by the demonstrators. "Most people are very discreet," Moore said recently, "but we keep an eye on them."

"We don't go to demonstrations unless we are called by the Student Life or Provost's offices," Chief of Detectives Mike Carroll added.

"We actually walked through every particular way (he would). We planned the route, as well as escape routes," Carroll said. "The Service would get back to your department, but we don't go to demonstrations "The idea about what they do, I know the divestment people are the gang on the Barney Miller show."

Detectives Mike Carroll added. According to one student, the plain-clothes men are discreet about their presence, but are recognized by the demonstrators. "Most people are very discreet," Moore said recently, "but we keep an eye on them."

"We don't go to demonstrations unless we are called by the Student Life or Provost's offices," Chief of Detectives Mike Carroll added.
By Adam Levine

My friend Paul is the only person I know who likes fresh salads and fresh flowers. I would describe him as an intellectual anarchist, a passionate vegetarian, and a dedicated environmentalist. His favorite pastime is fishing, and he is often found at the local lake, surrounded by nature.

Paul is a conservative Jew who believes in free markets and limited government. He is a strong supporter of the free trade agreements and has written extensively on the importance of international trade. He is also an advocate of the use of renewable energy sources and has been involved in several green energy projects.

Paul and I often engage in heated debates on the topic of economics. Our conversations are always lively and productive, and we enjoy the intellectual challenge each other's arguments present.

In conclusion, Paul is a fascinating and complex individual. His beliefs and values are deeply held, and he is always willing to engage in discourse on a wide range of topics. I am grateful to have him as a friend and an intellectual sparring partner.
University family, what's the most important contribution the University can make in your life?"

"It is really believe there's a University family, what's the most significant to an alumni has to the University after graduation?"

"Weekend for the alumni, in the summer. I think the alumni are the most important contribution to the University."
THE WRITING PROGRAM, DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH ANOUNCES THE ANNUAL FICTION AND PLAYWRITING CONTESTS

I'ACK6

university. Winners will be announced on March 27 before the poetry Entries will be judged by professional writers from outside the Submit entries fo JUDY LEE AWARD or FICTION CONTEST, English disqualified. Include a stamped reply envelope for return of MS. Dept., 119 Bennett Hall. Deadline: March 3.

There is no graduate fiction award.

BE ON THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS AT 22.

Think of a ship as a corporation and it’s no farfetched at all. A destroyer may have fifteen officers, other ships even fewer. Even the most junior officer gets to share in running the show. You become part of the management team when you get your commission as an ensign after just 16 weeks of training at Officer Candidate School. Choose to be a Navy officer and you are responsible for people and equipment almost immediately. Many officers go on for further advanced schooling at Navy has literally dozens of fields for its officers—everything from nuclear propulsion to systems analysis, entomology to inventory management. In graduate school, this training would cost you thousands, but in the Navy, we pay you.

Ask your Navy representative about officer opportunities, or mail this message for more information. Or call Navy, You can write them at:

NAVY OPPORTUNITIES FORD, INC. 5111 South First Street, Box 149 Tuscaloosa, Alabama 35403

The Navy is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified persons are encouraged to apply without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age or disability.
Lapses Costly; Matmen Drop Three

BY RICHARD STRUNK

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.

The matmen described some respectable performances by the Quakers, but a string of missed opportunities caused a lot of frustration. "They gave us a chance to win," said Larry Lauchle. "We had our opportunities, but they just couldn't close the deal."

The Quakers' weekend began with a 27-18 loss to Princeton, as the Penn squad showed a strong effort in its first competition in 11 meets against the Princeton. "They gave us some tough competition," said Larry Lauchle. "We were very strong defensively. And we didn't let them get too far away from us."

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.

The matmen described some respectable performances by the Quakers, but a string of missed opportunities caused a lot of frustration. "They gave us a chance to win," said Larry Lauchle. "We had our opportunities, but they just couldn't close the deal."

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.

The matmen described some respectable performances by the Quakers, but a string of missed opportunities caused a lot of frustration. "They gave us a chance to win," said Larry Lauchle. "We had our opportunities, but they just couldn't close the deal."

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.

The matmen described some respectable performances by the Quakers, but a string of missed opportunities caused a lot of frustration. "They gave us a chance to win," said Larry Lauchle. "We had our opportunities, but they just couldn't close the deal."

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.

The matmen described some respectable performances by the Quakers, but a string of missed opportunities caused a lot of frustration. "They gave us a chance to win," said Larry Lauchle. "We had our opportunities, but they just couldn't close the deal."

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.

The matmen described some respectable performances by the Quakers, but a string of missed opportunities caused a lot of frustration. "They gave us a chance to win," said Larry Lauchle. "We had our opportunities, but they just couldn't close the deal."

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.

The matmen described some respectable performances by the Quakers, but a string of missed opportunities caused a lot of frustration. "They gave us a chance to win," said Larry Lauchle. "We had our opportunities, but they just couldn't close the deal."

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.

The matmen described some respectable performances by the Quakers, but a string of missed opportunities caused a lot of frustration. "They gave us a chance to win," said Larry Lauchle. "We had our opportunities, but they just couldn't close the deal."

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.

The matmen described some respectable performances by the Quakers, but a string of missed opportunities caused a lot of frustration. "They gave us a chance to win," said Larry Lauchle. "We had our opportunities, but they just couldn't close the deal."

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.

The matmen described some respectable performances by the Quakers, but a string of missed opportunities caused a lot of frustration. "They gave us a chance to win," said Larry Lauchle. "We had our opportunities, but they just couldn't close the deal."

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.

The matmen described some respectable performances by the Quakers, but a string of missed opportunities caused a lot of frustration. "They gave us a chance to win," said Larry Lauchle. "We had our opportunities, but they just couldn't close the deal."

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.

The matmen described some respectable performances by the Quakers, but a string of missed opportunities caused a lot of frustration. "They gave us a chance to win," said Larry Lauchle. "We had our opportunities, but they just couldn't close the deal."

The Penn wrestling team (5-1, 1-4 in the Ivy) was a yearling in the weekend of competition empty-pocketed at the hands of Columbia and Cornell and came within an ace of knocking off Princeton as well, according to coach Larry Lauchle. The Quakers entered Friday's dual at Columbia in a position to pull an upset, but they failed to meet expectations.
Cagers Suffer First Ivy Loss to Brown

Cats Claw Owls, Hawks Await

Quaker Oats

Edwards Advances; Women Take Three

Women Cagers’ Late Surge Stifled, Confident Elits Hold Strong, 89-74

Gymnasts Fall, But Men Set Record

At Courtside • David Elfin

An Eli Team and a One Bruin Band

PROVIDENCE — For the first time in its history, the Ivy League season ended in a tie. The Quakers did not get the expected pressure from the Bulldogs, who lost to the Quakers in the last game of the season. The result was a 59-59 tie, and the Bulldogs' season ended with a 6-9 record.

Cagers Suffer First Ivy Loss to Brown

Moss Scores 33

PROVIDENCE —官方赛程，正式宣布新系列。

Women’s Ivy Scores 33

Cagers Suffer First Ivy Loss to Brown

Page 8

men of Penn racquetmen

Instead of playing a single team in a

Comprised of Brian Roberts, Peter

A. tournament, which is the traveled to Princeton to play in the familiar number one position, the five

Edwards, who was busy competing in

City Title at the sold-out Palestra on showdown with St. Joseph's for the rebounds leading the way, the

Brown's one-man show, Pete Mosi, put up a shot toward his 33-point outburst in

Quaker to win an individual match

elimination tournament

be its only match of the single game open with a 17-5 spurt which them down the Owl offense sat with him.

Missing from that list was Ned week for the past half-a-fortnight were both track stars — JEFF HILL and

SPORTS — It's not too late to get a crack at those voluptuous, buoyant.

What’s happening during this streak, triggered themselves. Bradley and John Pinone afternoon. Desaulniers, considered by pro division before losing. He now is a year's squash team, was also suc-

contrasted the score was tied 3-3 with only answer. Villanova's first error; we can't afford a single slip- come. A very poor showing on the challenge for the men of coach Dennis asar, which the season's end.

We had to foul them to get the ball

“We just kept coming on at

Since Yale would not be able to give

We did not let them get the ball

They could have folded but they

The Bulldogs did indeed come right

two games. Two styles.

The men tuned up on Saturday for

In the parallel bars. Westfieldwin the 8.889.

The (uneven) bars were our worst

Bryan McMorran

He was able to enter the

White was able to enter the

The women's team is the only unit in

The athletes were more than ready to play. The defense Plan.

The Soviet's not too late to get a crack at those voluptuous, buoyant.

This was our first real

Two games. Two styles.

Since Yale would not be able to give

They just kept coming on at

Since Yale would not be able to give

Two games. Two styles.

The men’s team is the only unit in

The athletes are more than ready to play. The defense Plan.

Since Yale would not be able to give

They just kept coming on at

Since Yale would not be able to give

They just kept coming on at

Since Yale would not be able to give