Quakers Shock Washington St., in NCAA, 62-55

By WILLIAM M. SMITH

_West Lafayette, Ind._ — Penn lost its 39-game winning streak on Saturday when it was defeated by Texas Tech, 62-55, over Iowa in the opening round, and the Pac-10's Cougars like an Indiana

The Quakers, on the other hand, in their first game against the Big-12, lost the Pac-10's champion, Kansas State, 62-55. This was the first time that the Quakers had lost to the Big-12 during the regular season. The upset was expected, but the Quakers were not prepared for the loss. The team was down by 16 points in the second half, but they were able to come back and make a fierce comeback.

Firemen Overwhelmingly Reject Contract; Arbitration May Be Next

By ANN MURPHY

_Quakertown, PA._ — Firemen overwhelmingly rejected the city's contract offer and said they will likely go to arbitration. The contract, which expired on October 31, 2023, called for a four-year contract.

The vote, which read 155-33 against the contract and 25-67 to accept it, was approved by the Local 99 Pennsylvania firefighters. The vote was taken in a four-hour meeting on November 1, 2023.

According to the union, 65% of the voters who wished to remain anonymous, the mayoría of the voters who voted no said "I'm not happy." Green said that in the case of the Firemen, they voted no because they were angry with the city for its treatment of the public. The Firemen feel that the city has neglected them in favor of other departments.

The Firemen's main concern is the lack of wages, benefits, and job security. They claim that the city has not been fair to them and has not listened to their concerns. The Firemen believe that the city is taking advantage of them and is not paying them enough for the work they do.

The Firemen are now planning to take the case to arbitration. They hope that the arbitrator will hear their concerns and award them a better contract. If the Firemen are not satisfied with the arbitrator's decision, they may take the case to court.

The city has not yet commented on the Firemen's decision. They are still negotiating with the Firemen and hope to come to an agreement soon. The city has offered a four-year contract, which includes a 5% wage increase for the first year, a 3% increase for the second year, and a 2% increase for the third year. The contract also includes other benefits, such as health insurance and retirement.
NEWS IN BRIEF

Compiled from Associated Press Dispatches

International

Iran Council To Get Captives

Modern militants in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran said yesterday that they were ready to give up their U.S. hostages to Iran's Revolutionary Council.

Carter administration officials, fearful of the possibility of more hostages when the council takes power, continued to call for a peaceful resolution to the hostage crisis.

A spokesman for the council, who spoke on condition that his name not be given, said that the council was ready to release the hostages if the U.S. government agreed to the council's terms.

The council, which is currently holding the hostages, has announced that it will begin talks with the U.S. government on the hostage crisis.

Local

Welfare Bill Goes to Committee

HARRISBURG — Louis Copeland, a key Senate opponent, appeared at a press conference yesterday morning with a group of welfare recipients.

Copeland, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said that he was opposed to the bill because it would cut off welfare cash grants to 81,000 of the 155,000 current recipients.

Copeland's opponents, including Governor William Scranton, said that they were not opposed to the bill, but were concerned about its possible impact on welfare recipients.

Copeland said that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Green Continues Platform Fight

The Green administration has decided to continue the fight to assume control of the city's police department.

The city's police department, which is currently controlled by the Republican administration, has been the subject of controversy for several years.

The Greens, who have been the subject of controversy for several years, have been the subject of controversy for several years.

GOP Officials to Discuss Platform

By APHRODITE VALLIERAS

Republican National Committee officials met today to discuss the party's platform for the upcoming election.

The party's platform, which will be debated at the Republican National Convention in Detroit in August, will be presented to the delegates for approval.

The hearings, which will be chaired by National Committee Chairman Melvin Laird, are expected to begin today at 3 p.m. and end at 5 p.m. They will be held at the YMCA at 12th and Chestnut Streets.

National

Ford May Enter Race

Gerald Ford, the third candidate in the 1976 presidential race, has been discussed publicly in recent months about his decision to enter the race.

Ford, who has been a political figure for many years, has been the subject of speculation regarding his possible entry into the race.

Ford's decision to enter the race is expected to have a significant impact on the race.

Pennsylvania Senate

The Pennsylvania Senate, which is currently controlled by the Republican administration, has been the subject of controversy for several years.

The Senate, which is currently controlled by the Republican administration, has been the subject of controversy for several years.

The Senate, which is currently controlled by the Democratic administration, has been the subject of controversy for several years.

date

Title

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Friday, March 1, 1980

NEWS IN BRIEF

Compiled from Associated Press Dispatches

International

Iran Council To Get Captives

Modern militants in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran said yesterday that they were ready to give up their U.S. hostages to Iran's Revolutionary Council.

Carter administration officials, fearful of the possibility of more hostages when the council takes power, continued to call for a peaceful resolution to the hostage crisis.

A spokesman for the council, who spoke on condition that his name not be given, said that the council was ready to release the hostages if the U.S. government agreed to the council's terms.

The council, which is currently holding the hostages, has announced that it will begin talks with the U.S. government on the hostage crisis.

Local

Welfare Bill Goes to Committee

HARRISBURG — Louis Copeland, a key Senate opponent, appeared at a press conference yesterday morning with a group of welfare recipients.

Copeland, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said that he was opposed to the bill because it would cut off welfare cash grants to 81,000 of the 155,000 current recipients.

Copeland's opponents, including Governor William Scranton, said that they were not opposed to the bill, but were concerned about its possible impact on welfare recipients.

Copeland said that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Green Continues Platform Fight

The Green administration has decided to continue the fight to assume control of the city's police department.

The city's police department, which is currently controlled by the Republican administration, has been the subject of controversy for several years.

The Greens, who have been the subject of controversy for several years, have been the subject of controversy for several years.

GOP Officials to Discuss Platform

By APHRODITE VALLIERAS

Republican National Committee officials met today to discuss the party's platform for the upcoming election.

The party's platform, which will be debated at the Republican National Convention in Detroit in August, will be presented to the delegates for approval.

The hearings, which will be chaired by National Committee Chairman Melvin Laird, are expected to begin today at 3 p.m. and end at 5 p.m. They will be held at the YMCA at 12th and Chestnut Streets.

National

Ford May Enter Race

Gerald Ford, the third candidate in the 1976 presidential race, has been discussed publicly in recent months about his decision to enter the race.

Ford, who has been a political figure for many years, has been the subject of speculation regarding his possible entry into the race.

Ford's decision to enter the race is expected to have a significant impact on the race.

Pennsylvania Senate

The Pennsylvania Senate, which is currently controlled by the Republican administration, has been the subject of controversy for several years.

The Senate, which is currently controlled by the Republican administration, has been the subject of controversy for several years.

The Senate, which is currently controlled by the Democratic administration, has been the subject of controversy for several years.

date

Title

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Friday, March 1, 1980

NEWS IN BRIEF

Compiled from Associated Press Dispatches

International

Iran Council To Get Captives

Modern militants in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran said yesterday that they were ready to give up their U.S. hostages to Iran's Revolutionary Council.

Carter administration officials, fearful of the possibility of more hostages when the council takes power, continued to call for a peaceful resolution to the hostage crisis.

A spokesman for the council, who spoke on condition that his name not be given, said that the council was ready to release the hostages if the U.S. government agreed to the council's terms.

The council, which is currently holding the hostages, has announced that it will begin talks with the U.S. government on the hostage crisis.

Local

Welfare Bill Goes to Committee

HARRISBURG — Louis Copeland, a key Senate opponent, appeared at a press conference yesterday morning with a group of welfare recipients.

Copeland, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said that he was opposed to the bill because it would cut off welfare cash grants to 81,000 of the 155,000 current recipients.

Copeland's opponents, including Governor William Scranton, said that they were not opposed to the bill, but were concerned about its possible impact on welfare recipients.

Copeland said that the bill would be a step in the right direction.

Green Continues Platform Fight

The Green administration has decided to continue the fight to assume control of the city's police department.

The city's police department, which is currently controlled by the Republican administration, has been the subject of controversy for several years.

The Greens, who have been the subject of controversy for several years, have been the subject of controversy for several years.

GOP Officials to Discuss Platform

By APHRODITE VALLIERAS

Republican National Committee officials met today to discuss the party's platform for the upcoming election.

The party's platform, which will be debated at the Republican National Convention in Detroit in August, will be presented to the delegates for approval.

The hearings, which will be chaired by National Committee Chairman Melvin Laird, are expected to begin today at 3 p.m. and end at 5 p.m. They will be held at the YMCA at 12th and Chestnut Streets.

National

Ford May Enter Race

Gerald Ford, the third candidate in the 1976 presidential race, has been discussed publicly in recent months about his decision to enter the race.

Ford, who has been a political figure for many years, has been the subject of speculation regarding his possible entry into the race.

Ford's decision to enter the race is expected to have a significant impact on the race.

Pennsylvania Senate

The Pennsylvania Senate, which is currently controlled by the Republican administration, has been the subject of controversy for several years.

The Senate, which is currently controlled by the Republican administration, has been the subject of controversy for several years.

The Senate, which is currently controlled by the Democratic administration, has been the subject of controversy for several years.

date

Title

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Friday, March 1, 1980
WXPN Student Input Controversial

(Continued from page 1)

Lecture

He expressed "no regret" about teaching Chicana and about pulling out a controversial memo Wednesday because that statement "chronic disorders" made it "impossible to sustain the effectiveness of formal lectures, a great deal of confusion among the students." "I still had to express myself on the present state of lecture courses and few people should correct themselves in those situations," he said. "I was a teacher in a class and the court does not espect these as very widely.

Despite the existence of a variety of student opinions in that class, it was said. "A search to please Ross, who also attended the class, offered insights into the natures of the discussion ranged very widely.

The source also emphasized that the memo was "to this man" and said that the memo must be misunderstood.

A lot of people don't think they've affected us at all," the person said. "We do not think it's affected. It's very unhappy about the whole situation.

History another continued new denunciation that Bernacki was not teaching the course after the spring break.

Fin. Aid

Another opinion being considered is to make a proposal to the Pennsylvania legislature that would allow all students attending to work in the spring time. Payment during the two months would come from the university's supplementary awards, while July and August payments are financed through the Loan Accounts.

Such a staggering would prevent students from work for next year's and spring weekends, which is always more prevalent over the summer program.

Visitors Describe Iran

(Continued from page 1)

the impression that the Iranian government hes under what they consider to be the tyranny of American government. Ayatollah is not a tyrant, and wants people, who have a sense of pride in themselves for having gotten rid of their own leader.

A Yound is not a green, and wants to identify with his people. They said that the Iranians are a solid group of people who are very consistent with themselves for having gotten rid of their own leader.

The Philadelphia Commerce

Eugene O'Neil

TALK TO THE LADY

The Charles Stark Draper Laboratory, Inc. will be at University of Pennsylvania on March 17, 1980

See your Placement Office to arrange for an on-campus interview, or send your resume to: John McCarthy, Dept. C, The Charles Stark Draper Laboratory, Inc., 50 Hutchins Street Cambridge, Massachusetts 02139.

Is there anything special about the way the last half of the 1970s...?  I think there are some other organizations that don't have it.

Courses countered charges that the station was stopping serving the students by saying that 20 percent of WXPN's public service announcements are University-relate...and that the students were expected to educa...ed into another state.

A source close to Brennen, who denied speculation that Brennen was "a fine man" who had much to Draper Laboratory will be at University of Pennsylvania on March 17, 1980 to discuss the future of American politics, the current status of Iran, and the possible future of American involvement in the Middle East. If you're looking for an atmosphere with a free flow of ideas where you can even work toward an advanced degree, you're where you should be.

The source also emphasized that the memo was "to this man" and said that the memo must be misunderstood.

A lot of people don't think they've affected us at all," the person said. "We do not think it's affected. It's very unhappy about the whole situation.

History another continued new denunciation that Bernacki was not teaching the course after the spring break.
An Unreasonable Reaction

It is difficult to believe that a faculty member at an institution devoted to the pursuit and transmission of knowledge would act to impede the learning process. But that is just what chemistry professor William Brennen has done.

In his statement given Wednesday to his Chemistry 1 class, Brennen claimed that “excessive disruption” by students made it impossible to conduct his class. He cancelled his class lectures, and said that he would not be able to be in the classroom during regular class hours to meet with any of his course assistants. His student assistants and himself are unaware of how the class will be conducted from now on.

It is possible to partially understand and excuse Brennen’s actions. Members of the chemistry department have at times been disruptive and rude, and the atmosphere created has not always been conducive to a smooth teaching environment. Some sort of action on Brennen’s part was well warranted.

To start with, Brennen must take at least some of the blame for the situation that has existed in his class. Students claim he has been indifferent to their concerns, and that his failure to address them properly has allowed students to behave as they have. Brennen should not have punished the class for a situation that he instigated. By cancelling formal lectures, he has left his students to struggle through a course with little sense of how to begin. This is not the action of a responsible professor.

Quakeremia Revisited

Quakeremia was not supposed to happen this year. The “Scare of '68” campaign was supposed to have been buried in the wake of the seniors’ graduation. Penny Farthings were supposed to have been replaced by motor scooters last year, but we were realistic about their chances. The same thing happens every year. The seniors who are just like us...are just like us...will be back to get Pearl Bailey’s arms
citement of roller skating with the
-Mr. Beatty

To start with, Brennen must take at least some of the blame for the situation that has existed in his class. Students claim he has been indifferent to their concerns, and that his failure to address them properly has allowed students to behave as they have. Brennen should not have punished the class for a situation that he instigated. By cancelling formal lectures, he has left his students to struggle through a course with little sense of how to begin. This is not the action of a responsible professor.

Quakeremia was not supposed to happen this year. The “Scare of '68” campaign was supposed to have been buried in the wake of the seniors’ graduation. Penny Farthings were supposed to have been replaced by motor scooters last year, but we were realistic about their chances. The same thing happens every year. The seniors who are just like us...are just like us...will be back to get Pearl Bailey's arms
citement of roller skating with the

To start with, Brennen must take at least some of the blame for the situation that has existed in his class. Students claim he has been indifferent to their concerns, and that his failure to address them properly has allowed students to behave as they have. Brennen should not have punished the class for a situation that he instigated. By cancelling formal lectures, he has left his students to struggle through a course with little sense of how to begin. This is not the action of a responsible professor.

Quakeremia was not supposed to happen this year. The “Scare of '68” campaign was supposed to have been buried in the wake of the seniors’ graduation. Penny Farthings were supposed to have been replaced by motor scooters last year, but we were realistic about their chances. The same thing happens every year. The seniors who are just like us...are just like us...will be back to get Pearl Bailey's arms
citement of roller skating with the

To start with, Brennen must take at least some of the blame for the situation that has existed in his class. Students claim he has been indifferent to their concerns, and that his failure to address them properly has allowed students to behave as they have. Brennen should not have punished the class for a situation that he instigated. By cancelling formal lectures, he has left his students to struggle through a course with little sense of how to begin. This is not the action of a responsible professor.

Quakeremia was not supposed to happen this year. The “Scare of '68” campaign was supposed to have been buried in the wake of the seniors’ graduation. Penny Farthings were supposed to have been replaced by motor scooters last year, but we were realistic about their chances. The same thing happens every year. The seniors who are just like us...are just like us...will be back to get Pearl Bailey's arms
citement of roller skating with the

To start with, Brennen must take at least some of the blame for the situation that has existed in his class. Students claim he has been indifferent to their concerns, and that his failure to address them properly has allowed students to behave as they have. Brennen should not have punished the class for a situation that he instigated. By cancelling formal lectures, he has left his students to struggle through a course with little sense of how to begin. This is not the action of a responsible professor.

Quakeremia was not supposed to happen this year. The “Scare of '68” campaign was supposed to have been buried in the wake of the seniors’ graduation. Penny Farthings were supposed to have been replaced by motor scooters last year, but we were realistic about their chances. The same thing happens every year. The seniors who are just like us...are just like us...will be back to get Pearl Bailey's arms
citement of roller skating with the

To start with, Brennen must take at least some of the blame for the situation that has existed in his class. Students claim he has been indifferent to their concerns, and that his failure to address them properly has allowed students to behave as they have. Brennen should not have punished the class for a situation that he instigated. By cancelling formal lectures, he has left his students to struggle through a course with little sense of how to begin. This is not the action of a responsible professor.

Quakeremia was not supposed to happen this year. The “Scare of '68” campaign was supposed to have been buried in the wake of the seniors’ graduation. Penny Farthings were supposed to have been replaced by motor scooters last year, but we were realistic about their chances. The same thing happens every year. The seniors who are just like us...are just like us...will be back to get Pearl Bailey's arms
citement of roller skating with the

To start with, Brennen must take at least some of the blame for the situation that has existed in his class. Students claim he has been indifferent to their concerns, and that his failure to address them properly has allowed students to behave as they have. Brennen should not have punished the class for a situation that he instigated. By cancelling formal lectures, he has left his students to struggle through a course with little sense of how to begin. This is not the action of a responsible professor.

Quakeremia was not supposed to happen this year. The “Scare of '68” campaign was supposed to have been buried in the wake of the seniors’ graduation. Penny Farthings were supposed to have been replaced by motor scooters last year, but we were realistic about their chances. The same thing happens every year. The seniors who are just like us...are just like us...will be back to get Pearl Bailey's arms
citement of roller skating with the

To start with, Brennen must take at least some of the blame for the situation that has existed in his class. Students claim he has been indifferent to their concerns, and that his failure to address them properly has allowed students to behave as they have. Brennen should not have punished the class for a situation that he instigated. By cancelling formal lectures, he has left his students to struggle through a course with little sense of how to begin. This is not the action of a responsible professor.

Quakeremia was not supposed to happen this year. The “Scare of '68” campaign was supposed to have been buried in the wake of the seniors’ graduation. Penny Farthings were supposed to have been replaced by motor scooters last year, but we were realistic about their chances. The same thing happens every year. The seniors who are just like us...are just like us...will be back to get Pearl Bailey's arms
citement of roller skating with the

To start with, Brennen must take at least some of the blame for the situation that has existed in his class. Students claim he has been indifferent to their concerns, and that his failure to address them properly has allowed students to behave as they have. Brennen should not have punished the class for a situation that he instigated. By cancelling formal lectures, he has left his students to struggle through a course with little sense of how to begin. This is not the action of a responsible professor.

Quakeremia was not supposed to happen this year. The “Scare of '68” campaign was supposed to have been buried in the wake of the seniors’ graduation. Penny Farthings were supposed to have been replaced by motor scooters last year, but we were realistic about their chances. The same thing happens every year. The seniors who are just like us...are just like us...will be back to get Pearl Bailey's arms
citement of roller skating with the

To start with, Brennen must take at least some of the blame for the situation that has existed in his class. Students claim he has been indifferent to their concerns, and that his failure to address them properly has allowed students to behave as they have. Brennen should not have punished the class for a situation that he instigated. By cancelling formal lectures, he has left his students to struggle through a course with little sense of how to begin. This is not the action of a responsible professor.
In past years Penn has not looked forward to competing against northeastern teams like West Virginia, Temple, or Maryland. The Owls are often considered to be a stronger recruit because of their stronger team and the fact that they come from Pennsylvania. But this year the Quakers are confident that they can beat the Owls.

The Quakers have been able to draw recruits from the Philadelphia area, including freshmen Sarah Cantwell, who is the team's captain, and former Quaker Susan Duke. They have also been able to attract players from other parts of the country, such as Pennsylvania's hottest prospect, Barbie Cantwell, who is the team's star player. The Quakers have also been able to draw players from other Ivy League schools, including Cornell and Columbia.

The Quakers' success this year has been due in part to the strong leadership of the team's captain, Sarah Cantwell. She has been able to motivate her teammates to work hard and to believe in themselves, and this has resulted in a strong team performance. The Quakers have also been able to attract players from other Ivy League schools, including Cornell and Columbia.

The Quakers' success this year has been due in part to the strong leadership of the team's captain, Sarah Cantwell. She has been able to motivate her teammates to work hard and to believe in themselves, and this has resulted in a strong team performance. The Quakers have also been able to attract players from other Ivy League schools, including Cornell and Columbia.

The Quakers' success this year has been due in part to the strong leadership of the team's captain, Sarah Cantwell. She has been able to motivate her teammates to work hard and to believe in themselves, and this has resulted in a strong team performance. The Quakers have also been able to attract players from other Ivy League schools, including Cornell and Columbia.

The Quakers' success this year has been due in part to the strong leadership of the team's captain, Sarah Cantwell. She has been able to motivate her teammates to work hard and to believe in themselves, and this has resulted in a strong team performance. The Quakers have also been able to attract players from other Ivy League schools, including Cornell and Columbia.
The IC4As, the top collegiate track team. "It's too cold to play up here so we'll cancel," said Coach Lefty Ervin. "We are quicker than Washington State's spidery guard, Paul Little (11) and the 65 percent Cougars, has registered but five losses to the Big-10 and the ACC; but we're at the point in the season when we truly have belief in our ability, and we're at the point in the season (Continued on page 5)

Feisty Fencers on State and Nationals

At Courtside ~ Craig Stanley

Proving They're No Fluke

By WARREN KROHNBERG
While most of us at Penn press the keys of the QWERTY keyboard, a few more than 6,000 miles away in Florida, the men's and women's track teams will be in a two-week invitational meet. This 19th annual Invitational is not one in Florida because Florida is the land of sun and sand. It is, however, an invitational meet of the real variety, and it was only a few years ago that it began to show its true colors. The annual invitational meet of tennis at Penn was one of the most popular meets, and it was only a few years ago that it began to show its true colors. The annual invitational meet of tennis at Penn was one of the most popular meets, and that should get the momentum going.

By SCOTT LEIBOWITZ
With the conclusion of winter sports and a new season of university athletics beginning, the Quakers are looking for a new season of success. The Quakers have been successful in past seasons and are looking for another season of success.

Over Spring Break, the baseball team continued to work on their skills and tactics. The team is now preparing for the upcoming season and is looking forward to the challenges that lie ahead.

The Quakers were in the same

QIC4As: Thinclick Seek Strategy

By WARREN KROHNBERG
Men's and women's track and field teams will be in a tough match against the Easterns, but they are confident in their abilities and will continue to work towards that goal. The Easterns are a strong team, and the Quakers will have to be at their best to come out on top.

Quaker Oats

SAILS—As usual, Quaker Oats will be in the top ten in each of the women's events and will be in the top three in each of the men's events. The Quakers will be up against the team from the University of Illinois in the 4x400 relay.

Ready Or Not, Spring is Here

By SHERIDAN SHERIDAN

Batman Wing Men For Florida Flint

By SCOTT LEIBOWITZ

Lax and Bats

Hopeful Laxmen Open With Loyola and Army