Kenny, Bush Score Upsets
In Primaries

By The Associated Press

New York (AP) — President George
W. Bush upset New York Sen.
Edward Kennedy in the state's Democratic primary that Thursday.
Kennedy beat Bush 57 percent to 43 percent in the race.

The recently-appointed secretary
Mary Ann Meyers has "come back from the dead." She is "optimistic" about the New York Office's future, citing economic and "national gains" at the University.

Anything’ll Go

By ALAN SHEPPARD

“A classic version of the Earnest W. Forst motion picture, and of the book, playing at the Hills Playhouse, is Anything’s Go, which will appear at the University this Friday and Saturday night.”

The play takes place on a cruise line, founded from New York to London, called the S.S. Europe. The ship is bound for England, and it is a warship, laden with sickness and death, until it is seized by a band of criminals, and the like. “There’s lots of music and lots of dance, the curtain.”

The play’s high entertainment value, because it is filled with music and dance. It is a warship, which is available to the public, and it is a warship, which is available to the public.

Each year, the Undergraduate Assembly publishes its attendance records for the previous year. Although the responsibilities of a representative exceed that of simply attending full Assembly meetings, it is useful to quantify one measure of a representative's performance.
The Assembly had 15 full meetings since April, 1979. All members were expected to attend all meetings. Please note, however, that freshmen were not elected until October; they have a maximum of 11 meetings.

Attendance is taken twice each meeting, at the beginning and at the end. For simplicity, these attendance figures have been combined. Perfect attendance for an FAS, Wharton, Engineering, or SAMP/Nursing representative is 30; for Freshmen it is 22.

Q. Why is Bacon so respected?

A. Because Bacon is the best thing that ever happened to a cheeseburger.
And you can save 30¢ when you buy our brand-new bacon cheeseburger.

We're pretty sure that Bacon didn't write Shakespeare after all. But then he didn't invent Roy Rogers bacon cheeseburger either. It takes a real imagination to top our perfect cheeseburger with crisp, delicious bacon.

Nevertheless, even Bacon would approve of our offer. For a limited time only when you buy one bacon cheeseburger, we'll give you 30¢ off. But, Mr. Francis still can't take credit for our bacon cheeseburger. So why is it named after him?

Black Separatism
decisions concerning blacks at the University when they arise?"
Throughout the discussion speakers emphasized the need for separate black organizations, as well as for an effort by blacks to become more involved in traditionally white-dominated student groups.
"We have to admit to ourselves that we are treated separately," Black Pre-Law Society President Agnes Alexis said. "I'm not saying we shouldn't join other societies, but there is a definite need for our own."
"We need more one-on-one contact between blacks and whites," Lerner said. "And it is up to both blacks and whites to push."
"It is easy to say blacks need to participate more in the University community," countered Leslie Peterson of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. "Of course this is true, but there is a deterrent involved. After you've put your hand in the fire and get it burned, you will not put it in again. This tells the story of blacks at the University."
The tone of the evening was set just before the panel discussion began when Wayne Glasker, the forum's moderator and editor of the DuBois Newsletter, asked blacks in the audience how many of them had ever been to Smokey Joe's or how many whites in the crowd had asked a black friend there. Few hands were raised.
"The point of this discussion is not to point fingers at racists," Glasker said. "This discussion is the beginning of increased understanding between blacks and whites."
By the end of the discussion, the attitude of the audience and panelists was noticeably positive. As people were preparing to leave, one man asked loudly, "What do we do now that the meeting's over? Do we simply go home and forget all that was said tonight? Are we going to meet again?"
Upon the urging of the crowd, Glasker proposed another discussion next Tuesday at 7:00 p.m. He said that he would look into finding a larger room for the proposed forum.

DARTMOUTH— Last year, Dartmouth (3-1, 4-6) had little trouble coming in the league. The team started out much better this year. But the Quakers aren't giving up. "This is a good baseball team. The key to our hitting isn't everything," Seddon says. The Penn team will be knocked off their hitting with a three.

Third Sacker Gaskill Steadies YoungBatmen

By Bob Seddon

Every successful team has a player who can step up when the chips are down. A case in point is third baseman Bob Gaskill, who is batting .323. Gaskill is a native of Mount Holly, New Jersey. He took a third baseman job at Penn because his father played in the minor leagues. Gaskill remarked, "but I feel I've worked hard enough that I'm going to get a move." Seddon noted. "He's one of the finest kids I've ever had the pleasure to work with in the school." Gaskill is a native of Mount Holly, New Jersey.
