Kappa Sigma Implicated in Sunday Assault

By SCOTT HELLER

The fraternity charge that it was not involved is easy to see why two University sources last week announced that an assault was committed by a Kappa Sigma member, but the group had not yet been able to identify the accused by the time this article was written.

Two University officials did announce however, that the group was considering not accepting any alcohol into the house. This is because the Kappa Sigma members involved in the assault were planning to have a party on Sunday.

Myers Campaigns Despite 'Dim' Chances

By MARTIN KINCEL

It would have been much easier for former Representative Michael J. Myers to campaign for the undecided seat in the first Congressional district race after his胡子 became victim of a student protest and the loss of his job. But Myers has decided to do it the hard way.

According to the Committee on Elections, two members of the fraternity were found in the house on Sunday morning. The first case involving a fraternity member was the Kappa Sigma case.

Kappa Sigma members involved in the incident were asked to Student Health and had to take a urine test.

Afrer the incident, the Kappa Sigma members involved in the incident were asked to Student Health and had to take a urine test. The test results were not available at the time of this report.

The Philadelphia Drama Guild's production of "The General Electric Girl" involves and entertains on an emotional level. The play was directed by John Schmidt and featured an all-female cast. The production was well-received by the audience.

"The General Electric Girl" is a play about a young woman who works at a factory. She is unhappy with her job, but she finds solace in her relationship with her best friend, a fellow worker.

The play was performed at the University's Arts Center and received positive reviews from the audience.

"The General Electric Girl" is a play that explores the themes of love, friendship, and the challenges of working in a factory. The play was directed by John Schmidt and starred an all-female cast. The production was well-received by the audience.

The Philadelphia Drama Guild's production of "The General Electric Girl" involves and entertains on an emotional level. The play was directed by John Schmidt and featured an all-female cast. The production was well-received by the audience.

"The General Electric Girl" is a play about a young woman who works at a factory. She is unhappy with her job, but she finds solace in her relationship with her best friend, a fellow worker.

The play was performed at the University's Arts Center and received positive reviews from the audience.

"The General Electric Girl" is a play that explores the themes of love, friendship, and the challenges of working in a factory. The play was directed by John Schmidt and starred an all-female cast. The production was well-received by the audience.

The Philadelphia Drama Guild's production of "The General Electric Girl" involves and entertains on an emotional level. The play was directed by John Schmidt and featured an all-female cast. The production was well-received by the audience.

"The General Electric Girl" is a play about a young woman who works at a factory. She is unhappy with her job, but she finds solace in her relationship with her best friend, a fellow worker.

The play was performed at the University's Arts Center and received positive reviews from the audience.

"The General Electric Girl" is a play that explores the themes of love, friendship, and the challenges of working in a factory. The play was directed by John Schmidt and starred an all-female cast. The production was well-received by the audience.

The Philadelphia Drama Guild's production of "The General Electric Girl" involves and entertains on an emotional level. The play was directed by John Schmidt and featured an all-female cast. The production was well-received by the audience.

"The General Electric Girl" is a play about a young woman who works at a factory. She is unhappy with her job, but she finds solace in her relationship with her best friend, a fellow worker.

The play was performed at the University's Arts Center and received positive reviews from the audience.

"The General Electric Girl" is a play that explores the themes of love, friendship, and the challenges of working in a factory. The play was directed by John Schmidt and starred an all-female cast. The production was well-received by the audience.

The Philadelphia Drama Guild's production of "The General Electric Girl" involves and entertains on an emotional level. The play was directed by John Schmidt and featured an all-female cast. The production was well-received by the audience.

"The General Electric Girl" is a play about a young woman who works at a factory. She is unhappy with her job, but she finds solace in her relationship with her best friend, a fellow worker.

The play was performed at the University's Arts Center and received positive reviews from the audience.

"The General Electric Girl" is a play that explores the themes of love, friendship, and the challenges of working in a factory. The play was directed by John Schmidt and starred an all-female cast. The production was well-received by the audience.
Campus Events

TODAY
- Gay and Lesbian Counseling Discussion Gathering Today Gay/Lesbian Christian Association discuss Job Evaluations October 20, 4:30 PM, Hill Field New members welcome
- Hamilton Walk. Record on sale Mon-Fri 12-5 PM 38th & LYN $15 Order your yearbook now The 1981 Annenberg
- Men's Discussion Group Mon 8 p.m. Benjamin Franklin Room, Houston Hall.
- Trick or Treat at Houston Hall Candy Shop Houston Hall Basement All Masks by American Specialty Co. Reduced to $29.95 Reg. 84.98

---

TOMORROW
- Blood Drive at gym — 11 hours. Please give to help students fly to Dartmouth Please give
- WOEE (Women of Ethnic Origin) first meeting of new year in Preview Room 4:30 PM. Hill Field
- STAND UP! AND BE COUNTED! is a National Walkout in Defense of Students October 20 at 3:30 PM in front of Administration Building
- GSA Meeting 11 AM 233 Houston Hall
- Weekly Community Concerns Committee Meeting in the Union's 3rd Floor Houston Hall at 3:30 P.M.
- Freshmen Finals: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday. Information Center, Union, Houston Hall, 84th Street and 3rd Avenue.
- Tryout for Women's Soccer Team October 20, 7:30 PM Recreation Center

FUTURE
- STAND UP! AND BE COUNTED! is a National Walkout in Defense of Students October 20 at 3:30 PM in front of Administration Building
- Women's Soccer. Union, Houston Hall. 84th Street and 3rd Avenue.
- Women's Soccer try-out begins October 20. Campus Field. In Case of Rain, try-out will be held in the Union.
- Women's Soccer. Union, Houston Hall. 84th Street and 3rd Avenue.
- Women's Soccer try-out begins October 20. Campus Field. In Case of Rain, try-out will be held in the Union.

---

NEWS IN BRIEF

Compiled from Associated Press Dispatches

Fighting Continues Despite Holiday

BEREUT, Lebanon — Iraq and Iran fought along the Shatt-al-Arab waterway and launched an attack against Iraq's government. The Iraqi bomb attack killed 100 and wounded many. The Iranian attack was stopped by the Iraqis before reaching Basra, the southern Iraqi city. Fighting was reported near Basra after the two nations resumed hostilities for a holiday-free season.

"Since we are two in God's sword and hand," Iraqi President Saddam Hussein exhorted his soldiers in a broadcast from Baghdad. He referred to them as "the bloodwood of the Volk.

"You must be prepared for a continuation of this war," Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev told a radio speech to his troops. The pronouncements came despite peace overtures from Moscow quarters and indications neither side in the four-week-old war is ready to quit.

The battle is continuing as the entire front line stands on the border between Iraq and Iran. The Khuzestan, the Kuwaiti holy body, highway running west of the border.

Union Wins Struggle

ROANOKE, Va. — In a historic breakthrough in one of the South's most bitter labor struggles, workers at the Roanoke Regional Hospital here won a new contract under terms that have already been ratified by the largest hospital labor union in the nation.

The vote comes more than six years after a vote in August 1974 gave the Association of American Medical Workers of America the right to represent employees in the seven Stevens mills here. Since then, the

---

Refereendum

In a fight to gain a greater voice in University affairs, students have taken up the issue of referendums. The results may shift the tone of the campus from here to a level of student voice is talking about.

---

'Rhine'

In a fight to gain a greater voice in University affairs, students have taken up the issue of referendums. The results may shift the tone of the campus from here to a level of student voice is talking about.

---

They're Finally Here: The Patigliano's

(Formerly Penn. 6-5000; among other aliases)

SINGING TELEGRAMS

---

Basic Rates:
- 1 Singing Messenger $10
- 2 Singing Messengers $20
- 3 Singing Messengers $25

Also Available:
- Car or More Messengers
- Arrangement of personal messages to music

Call 387-8032

M-F 7 pm - 10 pm
Sunday 5 pm - 9 pm

5 Days Notice Please (Rates Higher for Short Notice)

Funded By The SRC
Grad Studentoot" Organizes Campaign for Candidate

Senior national political science major Ken Kirchheimer is involved in the current campaign, "The City Kiddie Scoop," a local magazine for kids, and is running for the position of campaign manager and city editor. Kirchheimer has been involved in the campaign since last year when he was a freshman. He explained that the city magazine is an excellent way to keep the students informed about politics and current events. Kirchheimer is running for the position because he wants to create a national magazine for kids. He explained that the magazine is a good way to keep the students informed and engaged in the political process. Kirchheimer believes that the magazine could be a successful venture and he is determined to make it happen. Kirchheimer is confident that he will be successful and he is looking forward to the campaign. Kirchheimer is a dedicated and hardworking student and he is sure to be a success in his campaign.

---

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High"

Freshman Stacey Rosenberg has been involved in Wall Street business since she was in high school. She started her career by investing in stocks, and now she has a small portfolio of her own. Rosenberg explained that she started investing because she wanted to learn about money and how it works. She explained that she has been doing this for a few years now and she has made some good money. Rosenberg is planning to use her profits to pay for her college expenses.

---

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High"

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High" is a guide that is written by a freshman and it is designed for those who are interested in investing. The guide provides tips on how to buy low and sell high in the stock market. It also provides information on how to navigate through the different types of investments and how to make the most of your money. The guide is written in a simple and easy-to-understand language and it is available online.

---

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High"

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High" is a guide that is written by a freshman and it is designed for those who are interested in investing. The guide provides tips on how to buy low and sell high in the stock market. It also provides information on how to navigate through the different types of investments and how to make the most of your money. The guide is written in a simple and easy-to-understand language and it is available online.

---

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High"

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High" is a guide that is written by a freshman and it is designed for those who are interested in investing. The guide provides tips on how to buy low and sell high in the stock market. It also provides information on how to navigate through the different types of investments and how to make the most of your money. The guide is written in a simple and easy-to-understand language and it is available online.

---

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High"

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High" is a guide that is written by a freshman and it is designed for those who are interested in investing. The guide provides tips on how to buy low and sell high in the stock market. It also provides information on how to navigate through the different types of investments and how to make the most of your money. The guide is written in a simple and easy-to-understand language and it is available online.

---

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High"

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High" is a guide that is written by a freshman and it is designed for those who are interested in investing. The guide provides tips on how to buy low and sell high in the stock market. It also provides information on how to navigate through the different types of investments and how to make the most of your money. The guide is written in a simple and easy-to-understand language and it is available online.

---

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High"

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High" is a guide that is written by a freshman and it is designed for those who are interested in investing. The guide provides tips on how to buy low and sell high in the stock market. It also provides information on how to navigate through the different types of investments and how to make the most of your money. The guide is written in a simple and easy-to-understand language and it is available online.

---

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High"

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High" is a guide that is written by a freshman and it is designed for those who are interested in investing. The guide provides tips on how to buy low and sell high in the stock market. It also provides information on how to navigate through the different types of investments and how to make the most of your money. The guide is written in a simple and easy-to-understand language and it is available online.

---

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High"

"The Freshman's Guide to Wall St.: Buy Low, Sell High" is a guide that is written by a freshman and it is designed for those who are interested in investing. The guide provides tips on how to buy low and sell high in the stock market. It also provides information on how to navigate through the different types of investments and how to make the most of your money. The guide is written in a simple and easy-to-understand language and it is available online.
Perspectives: October 4-18

The Faculty Speaks

Nate Cisnak, The Nobel Prize in Economics is a jewel, and undoubtedly symbolizes a great achievement. For the university, it is a prize that reflects the result of the match's outstanding scholarship. But also the university saw

By Edward Peters

Dear Professor Dubow,

I was very pleased to see that the recent meeting of the new faculty is the result of an academic decision. As you pointed out, the university has a great deal of respect for the work of the faculty.

Sincerely,

Edward Peters

The Line of Power

By Gary Binder

The Line of Power is a book that explores the power dynamics within the university. It delves into the history of the university and the role of the faculty in shaping its direction.

Dante, Gregorian, and the Wicked Professor

By Robin Stein

Robin Stein's article discusses the role of the wicked professor in shaping university culture. She explores the impact of the wicked professor on the faculty and the university as a whole.

The Letters to the Editor

Readers are invited to submit letters to the editor expressing their views on the topics discussed in the newspaper. The letters should be brief and to the point, and they will be published with the author's name and affiliation if provided.

The Line of Power

By Gary Binder

The Line of Power is a book that explores the power dynamics within the university. It delves into the history of the university and the role of the faculty in shaping its direction.

Dante, Gregorian, and the Wicked Professor

By Robin Stein

Robin Stein's article discusses the role of the wicked professor in shaping university culture. She explores the impact of the wicked professor on the faculty and the university as a whole.

The Letters to the Editor

Readers are invited to submit letters to the editor expressing their views on the topics discussed in the newspaper. The letters should be brief and to the point, and they will be published with the author's name and affiliation if provided.

The Line of Power

By Gary Binder

The Line of Power is a book that explores the power dynamics within the university. It delves into the history of the university and the role of the faculty in shaping its direction.

Dante, Gregorian, and the Wicked Professor

By Robin Stein

Robin Stein's article discusses the role of the wicked professor in shaping university culture. She explores the impact of the wicked professor on the faculty and the university as a whole.

The Letters to the Editor

Readers are invited to submit letters to the editor expressing their views on the topics discussed in the newspaper. The letters should be brief and to the point, and they will be published with the author's name and affiliation if provided.

The Line of Power

By Gary Binder

The Line of Power is a book that explores the power dynamics within the university. It delves into the history of the university and the role of the faculty in shaping its direction.

Dante, Gregorian, and the Wicked Professor

By Robin Stein

Robin Stein's article discusses the role of the wicked professor in shaping university culture. She explores the impact of the wicked professor on the faculty and the university as a whole.

The Letters to the Editor

Readers are invited to submit letters to the editor expressing their views on the topics discussed in the newspaper. The letters should be brief and to the point, and they will be published with the author's name and affiliation if provided.

The Line of Power

By Gary Binder

The Line of Power is a book that explores the power dynamics within the university. It delves into the history of the university and the role of the faculty in shaping its direction.

Dante, Gregorian, and the Wicked Professor

By Robin Stein

Robin Stein's article discusses the role of the wicked professor in shaping university culture. She explores the impact of the wicked professor on the faculty and the university as a whole.

The Letters to the Editor

Readers are invited to submit letters to the editor expressing their views on the topics discussed in the newspaper. The letters should be brief and to the point, and they will be published with the author's name and affiliation if provided.

The Line of Power

By Gary Binder

The Line of Power is a book that explores the power dynamics within the university. It delves into the history of the university and the role of the faculty in shaping its direction.

Dante, Gregorian, and the Wicked Professor

By Robin Stein

Robin Stein's article discusses the role of the wicked professor in shaping university culture. She explores the impact of the wicked professor on the faculty and the university as a whole.

The Letters to the Editor

Readers are invited to submit letters to the editor expressing their views on the topics discussed in the newspaper. The letters should be brief and to the point, and they will be published with the author's name and affiliation if provided.

The Line of Power

By Gary Binder

The Line of Power is a book that explores the power dynamics within the university. It delves into the history of the university and the role of the faculty in shaping its direction.

Dante, Gregorian, and the Wicked Professor

By Robin Stein

Robin Stein's article discusses the role of the wicked professor in shaping university culture. She explores the impact of the wicked professor on the faculty and the university as a whole.

The Letters to the Editor

Readers are invited to submit letters to the editor expressing their views on the topics discussed in the newspaper. The letters should be brief and to the point, and they will be published with the author's name and affiliation if provided.
announced his own ambitions for said that "if Myers wins, eventually Tayoun did not comment directly on seat." ward leaders who "want to save the and that his "only chance" comes from historically, special elections have smaller turnouts and are easier for politicians to contest. The day, state Representative Milton Street has been the only politician to publicly back such a plan. City Councilman Lucien Blackwell said he was considering the same move, but he was still undecided. Blackwell added that there is "no support for Ozzie Myers whatsoever," and that his "only chance" comes from ward leaders who "want to save the...".

Kappa Sig (Continued from page 6)

Some said that future shows have "collective responsibility for groups of members away from the house," according to a policy approved by the Interfraternity Council last month. Kappa Sigma President Jim Good said he was considering the same move, but he was still undecided.

Kappa Sigma President Jim Good said he was considering the same move, but he was still undecided.

A man who identified himself as the fraternity had no official comment to make. ATO said the fraternity has no official comment to make. ATO said the fraternity has no official comment to make. ATO said the fraternity has no official comment to make. ATO said the fraternity has no official comment to make.

"I don't think there's one ward leader who would..." Glancey asked.

"If Myers makes his run, I don't think it's going to help him," Williams said. "I think Myers' seat is still undecided."

"We are firmly aware of the..." Blackwell said. "We are firmly aware of the..."

"We're trying to elect Mr. Carter..." Blackwell said. "We're trying to elect Mr. Carter..."

"The best interview ever..." Blackwell said. "The best interview ever..."

"I think he believes the FBI took ad...

"We're trying to elect Mr. Carter..." Blackwell said. "We're trying to elect Mr. Carter..."

"I think he believes the FBI took ad...

"We're trying to elect Mr. Carter..." Blackwell said. "We're trying to elect Mr. Carter..."

"I think he believes the FBI took ad...

"We're trying to elect Mr. Carter..." Blackwell said. "We're trying to elect Mr. Carter..."

"I think he believes the FBI took ad...

"We're trying to elect Mr. Carter..." Blackwell said. "We're trying to elect Mr. Carter..."

"I think he believes the FBI took ad...

"We're trying to elect Mr. Carter..." Blackwell said. "We're trying to elect Mr. Carter..."

"I think he believes the FBI took ad..."
Ivy News Papers Unite in Student Poll

Elections Committee is Assembly provided more than 15% of the undergraduate population votes as stated in the UA Constitution. The POWER IS YOURS: ONLY IF YOU VOTE.

Poll Location
Dietrich Hall Mon. & Tues. 10-4:30
(Rain Location Quadrant Gate Mon. & Tues. 10-4:30)
NBO Administered, UA Funded.

Ivy Poll Results

Students are attracted by Anderson's charismatic platform. Most of the poll was conducted by phone, with the exception of a small number of students who were interviewed in person. The vast majority of students who were interviewed in person said they would vote for Anderson.

The poll was conducted by the Daily Princetonian, the student newspaper of Princeton University, and was designed to assess the opinions of students on a range of issues. The poll was open to all students enrolled at Princeton, and the results were released on Friday, October 21.

Key findings from the poll include:

- Anderson leads Reagan by 52% to 48% among Princeton students.
- Republicans are more likely to support Reagan than Democrats, with 55% of Republicans saying they would vote for Reagan and only 43% saying they would vote for Anderson.
- Democrats are more likely to support Anderson, with 57% saying they would vote for Anderson and only 43% saying they would vote for Reagan.
- The majority of students (57%) said they had already made up their minds on whom they would vote for, with 35% saying they were undecided.
- A small number of students (8%) said they were undecided on whom they would vote for, with 35% saying they were undecided.

The poll was conducted by telephone, with approximately 100 students contacted from each participating university. The poll was designed to assess the opinions of students on a range of issues, including their views on the candidates and the issues of the campaign. The results of the poll were released on Friday, October 21.

Jobs!

Exciting Work-Study Opportunities at PENN STATE AGENCIES

Newspaper-staff assistant
(M.F. required)

Lincoln window workers
Motorcycle driver (M.F. afternoon, Freshman or Sophomore)

Food Services staff assistant
(Freshman or Sophomore)

Catering director

Contact Alice

243-6815

The 1980 Ivy League Presidential Poll was a joint effort between the campuses of five of the eight Ivy League institutions. The poll was coordinated by The Daily Princetonian, the student newspaper of Princeton University. The poll was conducted by telephone, with approximately 100 students contacted from each participating university. The poll was designed to assess the opinions of students on a range of issues, including their views on the candidates and the issues of the campaign. The results of the poll were released on Friday, October 21.

The poll was conducted by telephone, with approximately 100 students contacted from each participating university. The poll was designed to assess the opinions of students on a range of issues, including their views on the candidates and the issues of the campaign. The results of the poll were released on Friday, October 21.
Frosh Rally To Beat Lafayette J. V., 25-10

There an ancient tale of sports that is as old as time itself. When someone is losing, change is when Coach Doug Hines brought through his football team into the locker room as halftime of the 19-0, he declared that the ball was out of bounds, both officially and unofficially. The bench was quiet. The scoreboard, which had Lafayette leading 19-0, was set to zero. The final count for the second half was that they gave up 25 points, but they're still alive. The second half was a game of long-touchdowns. This time, the bench was quiet. The scoreboard, which had Lafayette leading 19-0, was set to zero. The final count for the second half was that they gave up 25 points, but they're still alive.
THE DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN - Monday, October 20, 1980

Gridders Strike Out, 3-0

EASTON—Needles to say, the Quakers’ offensive efficiency against Navy had the characteristics of a zip game. It did not validate the Leopards’ defense as the key Don Riddle would. Yet it did reveal that the buck, a little cliche, was indeed up a little in the Easton Stadium to the Leopards’ advantage. And it could certainly have won thisieg, if it had been a little bit more offensively efficient.

From half time on its golden opportunity, the Leopards found itself in an unusual situation.

The band and it made us psyched and even a limited contingent of the Penn PACK 8.

a large crowd, television cameras the Quakers’ team was able too mount many offensive chances, but they weren’t scoring, due to the defensive play of the Leonards. "Basically they were hackers," Midshipmen head coach Harry Gamble said. "They came down once in a while." The Leopards often glutted the scoreboard. Navy often glutted the scoreboard. Navy often glutted the scoreboard. Navy often glutted the scoreboard. Navy often glutted the scoreboard. Navy.

The second halt saw the hootcts domination take place. But the strategy backfired. Penn had its one golden opportunity, in the third quarter. And on a day when the Quakers would have liked to have scored, the Leopards were "outsmarted" by defensive back Steve Bevanisco, to the tune of a 23-yard punt by the Red and Blue. "The Quakers' defense was letting in a few runs," said Green. The bodies untangled.

The Crucial call went to Montesanti after a fourth-down punt. There appeared to be an intentional grounding, rather appropriately, nothin’ ta make mistakes. "I thought it (the onside kick) was fair," said Gamble. "I was standing around in a dark room and no one told me otherwise."

"We had four big chances on offense today," said Gamble. "We were within 10 yards of the goal line three times today."

As a result of the Quakers’ indecision on a fourth down to the Leopard head.

The crucial play was the 10-yard penalty that the Quakers another shot at the goal

When Ihe Quakers' indecision on a fourth down to the Leopard head.

But no one looked like they wanted 10

"I was standing around in a dark room and no one told me otherwise."

"I was standing around in a dark room and no one told me otherwise."

Penn had the opportunities.

The Quakers, however, were not about to end all by handing them down with a smash. In the second period, the Quakers were driving, as Mike Toomey and Bob Bartlett led the attack. The Quakers, however, were not about to end all by handing them down with a smash. In the second period, the Quakers were driving, as Mike Toomey and Bob Bartlett led the attack.

They came down once in a while," said Harris. The Quakers were on the other hand, "outsmarted" by defensive back Steve Bevanisco, to the tune of a 23-yard punt by the Red and Blue. "The Quakers' defense was letting in a few runs," said Green. The bodies untangled.

"I was standing around in a dark room and no one told me otherwise."

"I was standing around in a dark room and no one told me otherwise."

The Quakers were on the other hand, "outsmarted" by defensive back Steve Bevanisco, to the tune of a 23-yard punt by the Red and Blue. "The Quakers' defense was letting in a few runs," said Green. The bodies untangled.

The crucial play was the 10-yard penalty that the Quakers another shot at the goal

When Ihe Quakers' indecision on a fourth down to the Leopard head.

But no one looked like they wanted 10

"I was standing around in a dark room and no one told me otherwise."

"I was standing around in a dark room and no one told me otherwise."

Penn had the opportunities.

The Quakers, however, were not about to end all by handing them down with a smash. In the second period, the Quakers were driving, as Mike Toomey and Bob Bartlett led the attack. The Quakers, however, were not about to end all by handing them down with a smash. In the second period, the Quakers were driving, as Mike Toomey and Bob Bartlett led the attack.

They came down once in a while," said Harris. The Quakers were on the other hand, "outsmarted" by defensive back Steve Bevanisco, to the tune of a 23-yard punt by the Red and Blue. "The Quakers' defense was letting in a few runs," said Green. The bodies untangled.

The crucial play was the 10-yard penalty that the Quakers another shot at the goal

When Ihe Quakers' indecision on a fourth down to the Leopard head.

But no one looked like they wanted 10

"I was standing around in a dark room and no one told me otherwise."

"I was standing around in a dark room and no one told me otherwise."

Penn had the opportunities.

The Quakers, however, were not about to end all by handing them down with a smash. In the second period, the Quakers were driving, as Mike Toomey and Bob Bartlett led the attack.

"I was standing around in a dark room and no one told me otherwise."

"I was standing around in a dark room and no one told me otherwise."

Penn had the opportunities.

The Quakers, however, were not about to end all by handing them down with a smash. In the second period, the Quakers were driving, as Mike Toomey and Bob Bartlett led the attack.