New Controversies Face Trustees
Trustee May Ask Exec. Bd. To Resign

By DICK STEVENSON
The report to be issued today by the special committee of the University's executive board, the trustees, might include a recommendation that the University's next president appear on the campus within the next 10 days, according to sources familiar with the committee's deliberations.

All members of the executive board, including the trustees, have been informed about the committee's plan, which includes a series of meetings with students, faculty and administrators. The committee's report is expected to be released tomorrow.

The committee, which includes faculty members, administrators and trustees, has been charged with reviewing the University's leadership and making recommendations for the future of the institution.

The trustees have said they are committed to finding a new president as soon as possible and that they want the search process to be transparent and open.

Trustee Chairman Paul Miller, who announced two years ago that he would not seek re-election, said last night that he did not believe the story. "I'm not going to say anything more about it," he said.

The report was "staggering" and that there was no trustee with us today who had any remote idea of what was happening." Miller said he suspected that the University's next president would appear on campus within the next 10 days.

You gave an interesting account of the journey of the American people. I am afraid that it is not a true story. I grew up in a small town and I have never seen anything like it. I think that it is important to understand the history of the American people.

Today Marks Crescendo of Two Turbulent Years

MARCH 2, 1978 - About 400 students storm College Hall and occupy the administrative building for three days to protest what they see as a lack of student input to committee in University decision-making. The immediate cause of the student protest is a budget cutback that would result in the closing of Hall House, a residence hall currently occupied by students. The protest is part of a larger movement to increase student representation in University decision-making.

APRIL 25, 1978 - Proctor Eliot Stellar announces his resignation, effective at the end of the year. Stellar apparently is not in the race for the student body presidency. The topic: widespread faculty discontent with President Martin Meyerson's management style.

JUNE 9, 1978 - Paul Miller, an investment broker and former University Trustee, has been named as the first Trustee chairman to take such a position. Miller opens an office in College Hall, the first time a Trustee chairman has taken such an action. The move is seen as a signal of the Trustees' growing dissatisfaction with President Meyerson and his administration.

JUNE 19, 1978 - Provost Eliot Stellar announces his resignation, effective immediately. The topic: widespread faculty discontent with President Martin Meyerson's management style.

OCTOBER 13, 1980 - Hackney announces that he will not seek re-election as President. The topic: widespread faculty discontent with President Martin Meyerson's management style.

OCTOBER 21, 1980 - Although students vote overwhelmingly against President Meyerson, some students are concerned about the possibility of a replacement candidate who is not a strong leader. The topic: widespread faculty discontent with President Martin Meyerson's management style.

OCTOBER 24, 1980 - The Trustees are scheduled to vote on the selection of a new University President. The topic: widespread faculty discontent with President Martin Meyerson's management style.
Library Failed To Meet Fundraising Target

The Library failed to meet the fundraising target that it set five years ago when the campaign started. FAS was among the 1 percent of the $380 million that the library failed to raise. Director Richard DeGenne said that he did not think the target was "unrealistic" and added that she did not think that Director DeGeners would have ever been optimistic about meeting the target.

Miller suggested reliance on the "free enterprise" model for fundraising.

"We're not like the Medical School. We don't have library donors. They want to give money to things that people care about," she said. "People who graduate from the school don't associate themselves with the library. They associate with the Endowment Fund for the Eighties, which set the goal."

The best Hungarian Goulash Soup in the Free World.

HIDDEN in a tiny side-street in Pest, Hungary across the River Danube, is aattery little place where a man named Stosh Bzaadnik makes Hungarian Goulash Soup so good people break into tears before finishing their first bowl. Commercial party members of Stosh have been known to down gallons of the stuff while bawling from innocence, bringing picnic and eating areas to conquer the West and carry the Dallas Cowboys.

And yet the Hungarian Goulash Soup at Smart Alex is also based on the same secret recipe that was handed down to Stosh Bzaadnik over a half-century ago by a wild-eyed gypsy woman who bore a fascinating resemblance to Bill Haley and the Comets. We call it Hungarian Rhapsody. It is the best Hungarian Goulash Soup in Philadelphia. Probably in the entire U.S. For hot months, anywhere outside of Hungary.

There's a menu that's as off-beat as the tawdry decor and whacko waiters. There's more to Smart Alex than the world's 2nd best Goulash Soup.

"WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE?"

Psalms 2:1 and Acts 4:25

The Reformation of the 16th Century, developed and conducted by Martin Luther and the Reformation men of his time, WAS A WONDERFUL EVENT, which, at every step of its progress, has gone to the merit of the first men who, in the Divine Hand, since Calvin and his shipmates, in the beginning of the Reformation, to this present day, have spoken. It is a noble and worthy work, to be sure, of the very highest importance; for it is a work to be done. However, it is also true that the work is not only to be done, but also to be done with others. If you think about it, this is exactly what Luther and his contemporaries did. They were not alone in their work. They were joined by countless others, both within and outside the church, who also believed in the reformers' cause.

The Reformation was not just a movement of the mind, but also a movement of the heart. It was about changing the world, not just for the better, but for the good. Luther's faith was not just a matter of personal belief, but a matter of public duty. His work was not just a matter of intelligence, but a matter of faith. Luther was not just a scholar, but a prophet.

The Trustees discussed the vote at a morning regular meeting with Miller. Several Trustees said they expected a unanimous or near-unanimous vote on the ratification, though there were indications that this was not the case. The vote may not be able to be taken in person of the meeting, but will take place at a later date. A ratification requires affirmative votes from a majority of the Board's 47 members. Miller said he expects between 35 and 38 Trustees to vote in favor of Hackney today, which would mean that at least 12 of the Board's 47 members will vote in favor of Hackney.

One Trustee strongly expressed concern over the search process and the Executive Board's failure to select president. Two Trustees present, and one or more of the Trustees present, might abstain in protest of the selection of Hackney and his wife, Lucey. Several Trustees said they expected a unanimous or near-unanimous vote on the ratification, though there were indications that this was not the case. The vote may not be able to be taken in person of the meeting, but will take place at a later date. A ratification requires affirmative votes from a majority of the Board's 47 members. Miller said he expects between 35 and 38 Trustees to vote in favor of Hackney today, which would mean that at least 12 of the Board's 47 members will vote in favor of Hackney.

One Trustee strongly expressed concern over the search process and the Executive Board's failure to select president. Two Trustees present, and one or more of the Trustees present, might abstain in protest of the selection of Hackney and his wife, Lucey. Trustee, however, said yesterday's meeting was not a "close call." The Trustees discussed the vote at a morning regular meeting with Miller. The Reformation of the 16th Century, developed and conducted by Martin Luther and the Reformation men of his time, was a wonderful event, which, at every step of its progress, has gone to the merit of the first men who, in the Divine Hand, since Calvin and his shipmates, in the beginning of the Reformation, to this present day, have spoken. It is a noble and worthy work, to be sure, of the very highest importance; for it is a work to be done. However, it is also true that the work is not only to be done, but also to be done with others. If you think about it, this is exactly what Luther and his contemporaries did. They were not alone in their work. They were joined by countless others, both within and outside the church, who also believed in the reformers' cause.

The Reformation was not just a movement of the mind, but also a movement of the heart. It was about changing the world, not just for the better, but for the good. Luther's faith was not just a matter of personal belief, but a matter of public duty. His work was not just a matter of intelligence, but a matter of faith. Luther was not just a scholar, but a prophet.

Stingy Booters Matched With Erotic Ell's

Defense is the word that has propelled Bob Sadowski onto the I.T. board. He is the man with defensive-mindedness.

The Quakers have given up six goals so far this year. That was the result of one of several decisions, including four verses better defensive form by goalie Jack Talbot. In short, they have allowed few enough to be victorious.

And when they遇见了 Yale (4-1-2-0) last Tuesday afternoon at Franklin Field (10:30) AM, the enthusiasm was high.

"We don't have a real favorite, so the offense" admitted Sadowski, "but we'll get the best we can and that's what our defense wants." And the defense wants to shut that door.

"And with the depth that we have, the system is so for as to plot it is one that doesn't change much," he added. "It is more than the same starting lineup week after week."

"It's been a disappointing season," he said, "but we're ready to be, in the second half of the season." (Continued on page II)

"Well have to be sharp against Yale because they're a free-lancing offensive alignment." he continued. "We have to be prepared for a defensive alignment."
