

CA Head Warns Of False 'Prophet' Ads

By SCOTT HENDERSON

University religious leaders say they are concerned by the possible misleading advertising techniques of a religious group that will lecture on campus next week.

"Women have been characterized as similar to the "Great White Brotherhood," Moore said. "In a sense, they espouse..."...

U. Bookstore Co-op Proposed by Marmon

By BARRON LERNER

The Manager Committee of the University Bookstore has been asked by the University Bookstore Union to form a cooperative.

"The objective of the cooperative group would be to provide a continuing source of books at a lower price," said a report by the Manager Committee.

Several University clubs have taken issue with the group’s use of International House for the lectures. According to Student Life Director Terry Bower, the group has already been "counseled about that."

Another added that "the administration is not predisposed to accommodate demands for people to make a judgment about the group."

Wolfe denied that the emphasis was on women’s issues in the advertising. "What the group is saying is that the church has been "giving support to women’s groups." Their emphasis is on certain aspects of religion, but not on others. They are not in the business of challenging the church’s beliefs, but rather of offering an alternative interpretation of the Bible to those who are interested."

Letter to the Editor

Liberalism Lives

Richard S. D'Amato, the conservative state Senator, won a landslide victory over Inez Holt/man by 51 percent to 49. The Republican claims that the victory was a "landslide," this is a "landslide" because the Republican candidate is running as a liberal.

The landed Moral Majority and the National Conservative- Political Action Committee claim that their victory over Senator Church, Democrat, was a "landslide" in the Senate race.

Most of the campaign was spent on the liberals who believe that a democratic society is the key to a healthy and free country. The Right Staff has always been a "landslide"...

You left the notes for chapter 6 in the library. A sure sign that tomorrow's test will be heavy with questions from chapter 6. Someone you know is about to get a phone call. He's not going to like it, but he's going to come through. When this is over, do something special for him. Tonight, let it be Löwenbräu. Löwenbräu. Here's to good friends.
