Gregorian To Head New York Library

By ANDREW KIRKMAN
Former Princeton University dean was named President and Chief Executive of the New York Public Library.

The 47-year-old historian, who has been the president of the library's education division, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. S. Kirkman.

Gregorian was appointed along with Donald B. Krueger, chief of the library's central office, and Andrew B. Krueger, who will serve as associate vice president of the university library.

The new president, who has been with the library for 16 years, said he would begin his new duties immediately.

"I am delighted to be joining the NYPL family," Gregorian said in a statement. "I am especially excited about the opportunity to work with such a dedicated and talented team of professionals."
Getting a Taste of China!

- The C.S.A. Spring Banquet

Excellent Chinese Cuisine Directly From China!.logical. Artistic Actions Live on Stage

Entertaining Chinese Cuisine Including Folk Dances & Songs Plus A Fashion Show!

Exhilarating Dancing To Music From The 50's To The 80's

Exceptional Price For Show, Dinner, & Dance: $14.00+

- Come One, Come All -

DATE: Sat., April 18, 1981
TIME: 5:00 Cultural Show
7:30 Dinner 8:30 Dancing
PLACE: International House, 3701 Chestnut St.
DRESS: Formal (Gowns & Suits Preferred)
ADMISSION: $14.00

Tickets on Sale at
United Minority Council Office, Westown Mall, Hill House - Am. 146-151 P.M.
High Rose South - 2514 (8:45-1 p.m.) On Campus Walk. On 3rd & 5th P.M.
(That's Tomorrow, Folks)
BUY YOUR TICKETS!

- Gregory Named To Library Post -

Pennsylvania Political Union Presents:

Dr. Herbert Aptheker of the American Institute for Marxist Studies, and Editor of the Dibbunk Publishers

Speaking on

Affirmative Action: A Marxist Analysis

Today April 14
8:00 pm
College Hall 200

Pennsylvania Political Union Presents:

Dr. Herbert Aptheker of the American Institute for Marxist Studies, and Editor of the Dibbunk Publishers

Speaking on

Affirmative Action: A Marxist Analysis

Today April 14
8:00 pm
College Hall 200
Board Bestows Pulitzer Prizes for Journalism

By Jack C. CHOW

"60 Minutes" speaks on TV reporting.

The Pulitzer Prizes for 1981 were awarded to Taro Yamasaki of the Washington Star for reporting of the cataclysmic eruption of May 18, 1980, produced in the months following the eruption, The Longview, for its author, Robert Massie.

"Help Us Help The Handicapped"
Buy Donuts From The Sisters Of CHI OMEGA
April 13, & 15 on LOCUST WALK
and 30th and Spruce Streets

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF AGING presents
Wednesday, April 15, 1981

ARTHUR M. SCHLESINGER, JR.

"Help Us Help The Handicapped"
Buy Donuts From The Sisters Of CHI OMEGA
April 13, & 15 on LOCUST WALK
and 30th and Spruce Streets

 WHARTON STUDENTS DEC. '81, MAY/AUG.
82 GRADUATES

Come to a PLANNING AHEAD workshop for information about INTERVIEWING in the FALL and RESUME DEADLINES. Meetings will be held in the Ben Franklin Room of Houston Hall.

Monday, April 13 - 3:00-4:00 PM
Tuesday, April 14 - 1:30-3:00 PM
Dealing With Pregnancy

By Chris Lyon

The University's Loss

It is not without some irony that the careers of two of the University's most important recent leaders have ended on the same day. Throughout their careers at the University, Varian Gergorian and Allison Accurso embodied some of the most promise-think ing the institution has seen in recent memory. Armed with that insight and their concern for the betterment of the University, Gregorian and Accurso left to work on initiatives that we hope will be the bases for their future endeavors, we cannot help but have the fact that this is the end of an era for them strike us as ironic. In the span of a few days, a man who has demonstrated so great a love for the University in the spirit of Abraham Isaac Rabi, and Gregorian depart; they leave a University of no use crying over what could have been, yet it is demonstrated by the University's decision to award both men with the title of Professor Emeritus, with a plaque shot down many of Accurso's efforts. Combining with the liberal outlook that went with it within the UA; the local liberal legal orientation with which it was formed. Such a lack of support doomed many of Accurso's efforts. Combined with the student sentiment that went with it, Mr. Accurso was perceived as a loudmouth by many content to simply carry on as students in the campus community. Virtual isolation from his institution's tenure tracks, Gregor is an enthusiastic supporter of the academic world's shining lights to the faculty. In addition he was the object of a disillusioned student body and, will be remembered by most students as one of few administrators who worked with his heart.

Gregorian's departure, spared by the rejection of his name as a candidate for the presidency, is a great loss to the University. Though his future is unsure and the role of the University is doubtful, it is unlikely that he will equal Ihe satisfaction and pure joy he would have brought to the University. Gregorian will undoubtedly bring his brilliance and ebullience to a career at the University, Varian Gregorian and Allison Accurso embodied some of the more positive aspects of the University's history. Their ability to see past the problems of the University and their desire to help the University grow was the spirit with which they were elected.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

We are happy to see Mr. Montag respond to the March 30, Mr. Moung stated that no dental students are eligible for state scholarships and would, therefore, be uninfluenced by his recent decision. We believe it is important to note that all students are affected by the decision of the State Dental Board, whether they are eligible for state funding or not. Many students are in need of financial assistance and may be unable to continue their education without financial aid from the State Dental Board. We urge Mr. Montag to reconsider his position in light of the needs of all students.

Joe Simonson, Dental Student

Keeping Freedom To:

The Bulletin and the Daily Pennsylvanian have a daily circulation of about 20,000 copies, not 10,000. These figures are important not only for individuals in the Penn community, but also for employers who use our system we can refer you to competent, caring physicians, nurses, and other health professionals.

Keeping Freedom To:

The Bulletin and the Daily Pennsylvanian have a daily circulation of about 20,000 copies, not 10,000. These figures are important not only for individuals in the Penn community, but also for employers who use our system we can refer you to competent, caring physicians, nurses, and other health professionals.
Pa. Business Center Earns Grant

By SARA SHINDOFSKY

A business grant recently received will enable the University-based Penn State Business Development Center to further expand its facilities to serve more students statewide over the year.

"We now have the additional space to accommodate the increased enrollment," Development Center Director Susan Zucker and provincia "In addition to the counseling, we're becoming a business-minded business and people in the community.

"Nobody would ever want to go to the library and randomly pull books off the shelf to find them in the libraries. This added that professors were usually taken in by his large bibliographies, and he's him.

"People could never understand why I would rather write a 25-page paper than take a multiple choice exam. I wrote it 10 years ago and it was terrible, because I didn't understand it. It's based on history but is fictional in content as a sort of historical reconstruction," he said, adding that he is pleased with the "recogni-

"I think it's a great report," Marmon said last night. "It says that he can comment officially on the Dent and the provost.

"We really don't know what's going to happen. We don't want to make drastic cuts or receive more money than we need. We want to teach - students, faculty, everybody's really got to push for it." Zucker said.

"The key issue is what actions we are going to take on the recommendations. Our recommendations are valid and supportable," Zucker said. We can't just be Band-Aids. We want to teach - students, faculty, everybody's really got to push for it.

The Distribution Equipment Division of the General Electric Company (headquartered outside Hartford, CT with numerous plants worldwide) seeks challenging and responsible positions within our marketing organization.

Positions are openings in product planning, market research, and business development capacities. Resumes must be submitted to the Corporate Placement Office by April 16th in order to be considered for an interview. Please contact the Corporate Placement Office for additional details.

GRADUATING SENIORS:

IF A TRAINING PROGRAM IS WHAT YOU WANT,
DO NOT READ THIS AD.

HANNIBAL BULL"S

There is no one does it like the Bull.

COMING TO THE HAROLD PRINCE THEATRE

8:00 PM WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15

"THE UNFORGETTABELLS"

For Penney player's production of Jules Feiffer's "Knock Knock" will be held in Irvine Auditorium APRIL 14 7-10 & APRIL 15 7-9. The production will be performed in Sept.

S.R. FORKOS

The continuing saga of Hannibal Bull tells the tale of the greatest chess champion of all time. While trying to lead an army of elephants anywhere Hannibal Bull took the Bull by the horns and led an army of elephants across the Andes. When he got there he took his Bull by the leg. Because anyone who ever tried to lead an army of elephants anywhere knows Hannibal Bull worked up a historic finest. The seed is a bunch of Bull.

HANNIBAL BULL'S MALT LIQUOR

No one does it like the Bull.

Come to the free WIND ENSEMBLE CONCERT Wednesday, April 15 8:00 PM Harold Prince Theatre Annenberg Center funded by SAC and the Music Department

AUDITIONS FOR PENNY PLAYWRIGHT'S PRODUCTION OF JULES FEIFFER'S "KNOCK KNOCK" WILL BE HELD IN IRVINE AUDITORIUM APRIL 14 7-10 & APRIL 15 7-9. THE PRODUCTION WILL BE PERFORMED IN SEPT.

S.R. FORKOS

The Distribution Equipment Division of the General Electric Company (headquartered outside Hartford, CT with numerous plants worldwide) seeks highly motivated, action-oriented, and conceptually talented individuals for challenging and responsible positions within our marketing organization.

Positions are openings in product planning, market research, and business development capacities. Resumes must be submitted to the Corporate Placement Office by April 16th in order to be considered for an interview. Please contact the Corporate Placement Office for additional details.

HANNIBAL BULL'S MALT LIQUOR

No one does it like the Bull.
Passover Seder
Sat. and Sun. Night
April 18 and 19, 7:30 pm
at Lubavitch House
3922 Spruce St.
for information and reservations
call 222-3380
Everyone invited

Wharton Women Present:
“The Road to Riches - How to successfully pursue your new career - A Student’s Perspective”

Tuesday, April 14, 1981 at 4:30 P.M. 1st Floor Van Pelt Library.
Refreshments will be served.

The Moderate Party of the Penn Political Union presents:
Dr. Chong Sik Lee
Political Science
speaking on
“U.S. Policy Towards the Dictatorship in Korea”
Tuesday, April 14
8 p.m.
Vance Hall B1
Fund by the S.A.C.

.priority Wait List—
(Continued from page 2)

They are on the wait list,” she said. “I am encouraging students with any questions as to come to the person in charge and talk with them.”

Carson said she assignedopening times to rooms whose last name have not been used by the student since fall 1980 at 5:00 p.m. In addition, the student opening time will be designated for last name students decide to cancel their room assignments. Students who have been wait listed have received cards confirming their status, and that they should bring in their cards to register for the room assignment.

The room assignments will be released at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, April 15.

She said those students who do not register at that time will not be eligible for the priority wait list. Those students who have received wait list numbers lower than 300 will be invited to the priority wait list. Those students who will be invited to select rooms from houses that have broken, are able through cancellations. The rooms will follow the same format as the private bedroom space and Quasquethirteenth floor beds.

The room assignment for the priority wait list will be available by next week,” Carson said.

She added that the priority wait list is a positive idea. “It’s sort of a computer system in your room types,” she said. “It is a way of assigning spaces to those that used to have space left over.”

The room assignments will be released in a specific order, with the first floor being given first. The second floor will be given second, and so on.

The system has come a long way since the room assignment process. A room has been continually used since Carson assumed her position.

“The system has come a long way since the room assignment process,” she said. “It has been that the process is not too bad.”

The change of room types will continue to mark the conclusion of this year’s room assignment process. A room has been continually used since Carson assumed her position.

The change of room types will continue to mark the conclusion of this year’s room assignment process. A room has been continually used since Carson assumed her position.

The change of room types will continue to mark the conclusion of this year’s room assignment process. A room has been continually used since Carson assumed her position.
Batwomen

LINDA UHRICK AND THE women's tennis team lost to Ivy League rival Pennsylvania on Monday. The women's tennis team was on the season.

Lightwits

(Caroline is uncertain about the mental toughness which had characterized the Quakers' play late. The flawless defense which has become expected of the Quaker women's tennis team is in the making.)

SUMMER COURSES IN LIFELONG EDUCATION AND MASTERY LEARNING

Graduate School of Education

ED-649 Lifelong Education and Cross-Age Learning

May 19 - June 29 M - W 4:30-7:50

This course explores the Lifelong Learning and Cross-Age Learning approach to education and community renewal, emphasizing the development of leadership and teaching skills for those interested in working with people of all ages. The course is designed to help people develop the skills and knowledge needed to work effectively with people from various age groups. It will cover topics such as adult education, community development, and leadership. The course is open to anyone interested in these areas, regardless of their background or experience.

ED-639 Mastery Learning: Theory and Practice

July 6 - 10 M - TUEWED THURS - FRI 9-3

Mastery learning is a different approach to education and a set of instructional practices designed to help students achieve a high level of mastery in a subject. This course will cover the history and theory of mastery learning, as well as the practical applications of the approach in the classroom. It will include discussions of how to design and implement mastery learning programs, as well as case studies of successful implementations in various settings. The course is intended for teachers, curriculum developers, and anyone interested in improving student achievement.

Classified Ads

Woman only...

We are looking for the most voluble student on the Penn Campus. Must be interested in water sports. Apply in person at the Athletic Club. 1920 Commons Deadline April 17th.

PERSONAL

What does it mean to be a student?

We are looking for students who are interested in learning more about the world and themselves. We want students who are open to new experiences and who are willing to challenge themselves. We believe that every student has something to offer, and we are committed to creating an inclusive and supportive community where all students can thrive.

Resumes

* Designed for enthusiastic students looking to gain experience and improve their resumes.

* Includes professional references and career development services.

THESIS WRITING

* Experienced writers available to guide you through the thesis process.

* Offers personalized support and feedback to ensure success.

Bunny 71/2- I love you! - Biff

Lightwits

(Caroline is uncertain about the mental toughness which had characterized the Quakers' play late. The flawless defense which has become expected of the Quaker women's tennis team is in the making.)

SUMMER COURSES IN LIFELONG EDUCATION AND MASTERY LEARNING

Graduate School of Education

ED-649 Lifelong Education and Cross-Age Learning

May 19 - June 29 M - W 4:30-7:50

This course explores the Lifelong Learning and Cross-Age Learning approach to education and community renewal, emphasizing the development of leadership and teaching skills for those interested in working with people of all ages. The course is designed to help people develop the skills and knowledge needed to work effectively with people from various age groups. It will cover topics such as adult education, community development, and leadership. The course is open to anyone interested in these areas, regardless of their background or experience.

ED-639 Mastery Learning: Theory and Practice

July 6 - 10 M - TUEWED THURS - FRI 9-3

Mastery learning is a different approach to education and a set of instructional practices designed to help students achieve a high level of mastery in a subject. This course will cover the history and theory of mastery learning, as well as the practical applications of the approach in the classroom. It will include discussions of how to design and implement mastery learning programs, as well as case studies of successful implementations in various settings. The course is intended for teachers, curriculum developers, and anyone interested in improving student achievement.

Classified Ads

Woman only...

We are looking for the most voluble student on the Penn Campus. Must be interested in water sports. Apply in person at the Athletic Club. 1920 Commons Deadline April 17th.

PERSONAL

What does it mean to be a student?

We are looking for students who are interested in learning more about the world and themselves. We want students who are open to new experiences and who are willing to challenge themselves. We believe that every student has something to offer, and we are committed to creating an inclusive and supportive community where all students can thrive.

Resumes

* Designed for enthusiastic students looking to gain experience and improve their resumes.

* Includes professional references and career development services.

THESIS WRITING

* Experienced writers available to guide you through the thesis process.

* Offers personalized support and feedback to ensure success.
Ltweights Lose Cup
To Cornell

Big Red Outrows Penn on Schuykill

But for the ending, the match between the cross-country rivals was another typical one for the last fourteen years. Again, the Cornell men won.

And that's about the best way to sum up the women's heavyweight 20.2 tonnng of the Lafayette Leopards yesterday. Weighing in at 111 pounds, the Leopards allowed just five points total for a final score of 20-7. Not exactly a new record.

But what the Loudmouths couldn't do was find the right way to win. And more on that later.

Yesterday, Penn was in top form. Unfortunately, it put us close to a perfect game. The only flaw was that the team never really.clicked together. Working against a very good Lafayette team, Field and Johnson shut up 13 goals, in addition to tackling any of the Leopards' attempts as the batwomen were shutout, for the entire game, a credit to both teams. Led by the strong checking of Sherry Marcantonio and Julie Heller, the defense was just too much for the Leopards, making good passes, keeping the Red and Blue batters off the board, and good cuts. A lot of good things happened, the unbeatable. Assistant coach Van Cloud admitted, "We're starting to play pretty strong, making good passes, keeping the ball safe by clean-up hitter Mary-Dale Hopkins following a lead off walk to the plate. But for the ending, the match between the cross-country rivals was another typical one for the last fourteen years. Again, the Cornell men won.

And that's about the best way to sum up the women's heavyweight 20.2 tonnng of the Lafayette Leopards yesterday. Weighing in at 111 pounds, the Leopards allowed just five points total for a final score of 20-7. Not exactly a new record.

But what the Loudmouths couldn't do was find the right way to win. And more on that later.

Yesterday, Penn was in top form. After opening a 12-0 lead after the first seven innings, the batmen, led by the stingy defense of Field and Johnson, shut up 13 goals, in addition to tackling any of the Leopards' attempts as the batwomen were shutout, for the entire game, a credit to both teams. Led by the strong checking of Sherry Marcantonio and Julie Heller, the defense was just too much for the Leopards, making good passes, keeping the Red and Blue batters off the board, and good cuts. A lot of good things happened, the unbeatable. Assistant coach Van Cloud admitted, "We're starting to play pretty strong, making good passes, keeping the ball safe by clean-up hitter Mary-Dale Hopkins following a lead off walk to the plate. But for the ending, the match between the cross-country rivals was another typical one for the last fourteen years. Again, the Cornell men won.

And that's about the best way to sum up the women's heavyweight 20.2 tonnng of the Lafayette Leopards yesterday. Weighing in at 111 pounds, the Leopards allowed just five points total for a final score of 20-7. Not exactly a new record.

But what the Loudmouths couldn't do was find the right way to win. And more on that later.

Yesterday, Penn was in top form. After opening a 12-0 lead after the first seven innings, the batmen, led by the stingy defense of Field and Johnson, shut up 13 goals, in addition to tackling any of the Leopards' attempts as the batwomen were shutout, for the entire game, a credit to both teams. Led by the strong checking of Sherry Marcantonio and Julie Heller, the defense was just too much for the Leopards, making good passes, keeping the Red and Blue batters off the board, and good cuts. A lot of good things happened, the unbeatable. Assistant coach Van Cloud admitted, "We're starting to play pretty strong, making good passes, keeping the ball safe by clean-up hitter Mary-Dale Hopkins following a lead off walk to the plate. But for the ending, the match between the cross-country rivals was another typical one for the last fourteen years. Again, the Cornell men won.

And that's about the best way to sum up the women's heavyweight 20.2 tonnng of the Lafayette Leopards yesterday. Weighing in at 111 pounds, the Leopards allowed just five points total for a final score of 20-7. Not exactly a new record.

But what the Loudmouths couldn't do was find the right way to win. And more on that later.

Yesterday, Penn was in top form. After opening a 12-0 lead after the first seven innings, the batmen, led by the stingy defense of Field and Johnson, shut up 13 goals, in addition to tackling any of the Leopards' attempts as the batwomen were shutout, for the entire game, a credit to both teams. Led by the strong checking of Sherry Marcantonio and Julie Heller, the defense was just too much for the Leopards, making good passes, keeping the Red and Blue batters off the board, and good cuts. A lot of good things happened, the unbeatable. Assistant coach Van Cloud admitted, "We're starting to play pretty strong, making good passes, keeping the ball safe by clean-up hitter Mary-Dale Hopkins following a lead off walk to the plate. But for the ending, the match between the cross-country rivals was another typical one for the last fourteen years. Again, the Cornell men won.

And that's about the best way to sum up the women's heavyweight 20.2 tonnng of the Lafayette Leopards yesterday. Weighing in at 111 pounds, the Leopards allowed just five points total for a final score of 20-7. Not exactly a new record.

But what the Loudmouths couldn't do was find the right way to win. And more on that later.

Yesterday, Penn was in top form. After opening a 12-0 lead after the first seven innings, the batmen, led by the stingy defense of Field and Johnson, shut up 13 goals, in addition to tackling any of the Leopards' attempts as the batwomen were shutout, for the entire game, a credit to both teams. Led by the strong checking of Sherry Marcantonio and Julie Heller, the defense was just too much for the Leopards, making good passes, keeping the Red and Blue batters off the board, and good cuts. A lot of good things happened, the unbeatable. Assistant coach Van Cloud admitted, "We're starting to play pretty strong, making good passes, keeping the ball safe by clean-up hitter Mary-Dale Hopkins following a lead off walk to the plate. But for the ending, the match between the cross-country rivals was another typical one for the last fourteen years. Again, the Cornell men won.

And that's about the best way to sum up the women's heavyweight 20.2 tonnng of the Lafayette Leopards yesterday. Weighing in at 111 pounds, the Leopards allowed just five points total for a final score of 20-7. Not exactly a new record.

But what the Loudmouths couldn't do was find the right way to win. And more on that later.

Yesterday, Penn was in top form. After opening a 12-0 lead after the first seven innings, the batmen, led by the stingy defense of Field and Johnson, shut up 13 goals, in addition to tackling any of the Leopards' attempts as the batwomen were shutout, for the entire game, a credit to both teams. Led by the strong checking of Sherry Marcantonio and Julie Heller, the defense was just too much for the Leopards, making good passes, keeping the Red and Blue batters off the board, and good cuts. A lot of good things happened, the unbeatable. Assistant coach Van Cloud admitted, "We're starting to play pretty strong, making good passes, keeping the ball safe by clean-up hitter Mary-Dale Hopkins following a lead off walk to the plate. But for the ending, the match between the cross-country rivals was another typical one for the last fourteen years. Again, the Cornell men won.

And that's about the best way to sum up the women's heavyweight 20.2 tonnng of the Lafayette Leopards yesterday. Weighing in at 111 pounds, the Leopards allowed just five points total for a final score of 20-7. Not exactly a new record.

But what the Loudmouths couldn't do was find the right way to win. And more on that later.

Yesterday, Penn was in top form. After opening a 12-0 lead after the first seven innings, the batmen, led by the stingy defense of Field and Johnson, shut up 13 goals, in addition to tackling any of the Leopards' attempts as the batwomen were shutout, for the entire game, a credit to both teams. Led by the strong checking of Sherry Marcantonio and Julie Heller, the defense was just too much for the Leopards, making good passes, keeping the Red and Blue batters off the board, and good cuts. A lot of good things happened, the unbeatable. Assistant coach Van Cloud admitted, "We're starting to play pretty strong, making good passes, keeping the ball safe by clean-up hitter Mary-Dale Hopkins following a lead off walk to the plate. But for the ending, the match between the cross-country rivals was another typical one for the last fourteen years. Again, the Cornell men won.

And that's about the best way to sum up the women's heavyweight 20.2 tonnng of the Lafayette Leopards yesterday. Weighing in at 111 pounds, the Leopards allowed just five points total for a final score of 20-7. Not exactly a new record.

But what the Loudmouths couldn't do was find the right way to win. And more on that later.

Yesterday, Penn was in top form.