Cost of Office Moves

Residents separate moves - done mainly to turn water was leaking so badly we were because underground pipes leading didn't feel like eating. "It took away dows open. It's really noisy outside said, adding she must go to her Mayer Hall. (lass of 1920 Dining Commons, and repairs. Meanwhile, the unexpected shut down since Thursday for 1920 Commons have been leaking, 1920 Commons had been so hot she "I've been having trouble sleeping." said, adding she must go to her Mayer Hall.

The system has been shut off the position as of September 1, left the University's newly-named for Richmond, Va. today to prepare for his second floor window in Stouffer College

Claes Oldenburg thought he had things all sewed up. His button was the grandest in the land, and a huge from the Bedbug budget. Cooper con- tered. "But it doesn't sound very far. In a June interview with Walter Akers, chairman of the Finance Committee on University Affairs, Coop- said, "There is no reason why University money from a fund rarely CMC of a catastrophe should be used to cover the costs of these moves." (Continued on page 5)

High Rise Residents Complain Of Heat

By GRONDYNN EYRED The University is under fire from the High Rise residents for what they feel is a lack of air conditioning and repairs.

The cooling systems have been shut down since Thursday for repairs. Meanwhile, the expanded each floor has been affected, and the High Rise has been only 65 degrees at night.

"It can't stay in my room," High Rise north resident Karen Poe said, adding she is thinking of moving out of the dorms entirely. "I've had enough of this heat."

A report from the student president of last year mentioned the "nightmarish" heat problem, but Poe said she was quite surprised what was being done to address the problem.

"The report has been off because underground pipes leaking from the main university system made repairs necessary," said the Student Resident Maintenance Director. Everyone was looking hot, or we were (Continued on page 3)

Stouffer Resident Weathers Life 3000 Miles Away From the Sun

Bill Smolen, who became a student at the University of Richmond, Virginia last fall, said he was "stunned" when he heard about the move.

"I really don't know what to say," Smolen said. "I just can't believe it."

Smolen said he was surprised by the move because he had heard that the University was planning to move only a few of the most expensive dormitories.

"I was under the impression that only the most expensive dormitories would be moved," Smolen said.

Smolen said he was also concerned about the cost of the move because he had heard that the University was planning to charge all students for the move.

"I don't know how we're going to pay for this," Smolen said. "I'm not sure if I can afford it." (Continued on page 3)
Campus Events

Campus Events

NOTICE

FUTURE

Tomorrow: Senior Class officials meet 10:30-12:30 in the Council Room, Furness Hall. All students welcome. A meeting for all members of the Senior Class this year, beginning each Tuesday morning at 10:30 a.m. in the Council Room, Furness Hall.

TOMORROW

Aerobic Classes

Stop in at the gymnasium, 3085 Locust Walk, for the 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, and 9:30 Aerobic Classes. For information call Janet At 3916 Locust Walk.

TODAY

The Pennsylvania Student Press Association is holding an All News Editors Conference at 3:00 p.m. in the Upper Level Cafeteria. All editors are encouraged to attend.

RESUME?

D.P. GRAPHICS

The highest quality resume at the lowest possible price.

30-5931

3015 Walnut St.
New Hillel Rabbi Plans To Serve Student Needs

by Mark Cohen

Promising that "Hillel will serve only students, only Jewish students," Rabbi Michael Kaplowitz informed Hillel leaders on August 17: "There are some people in the past who I will never meet — I don't do anything about that," Kaplowitz said jokingly. "But I plan to be very visible on campus with young people." Kaplowitz's arrival would not mark a return to Hillel in the past, as Kemowitz said yesterday: "We always move on to greater things."

Kaplowitz replaced former Hillel Michael McCosker, who retired as director a year ago. "We look at Rabbi Mike as an ideal," Hillel Vice President Leslie Weinsofl said yesterday. "We want him to work on student activities," Hillel Program Director Judy Schwan said yesterday. "Some board members feel directed by a whole network of students," Weinsofl said of the 28-year-old's predecessor. Weinsofl said he would like to work with other religious leaders at the University to "dissolve the constellations of power over the provost's choices that the assembly have veto power over," on issues such as world hunger and sex discrimination in Federally-funded programs. Nonetheless, some UA members feel that "even with that proposal, you're not making progress," Cooper said. "We want to educate ourselves, to combat ignorance with other religious leaders at the University," Cooper said. "It's the thought that counts." Cooper said the groups' primary intent would be "to educate assembly members" on controversial issues. The UA also opposed display of any religious symbols and passed a resolution that "students, history and chemistry are subjects, but to an advanced degree in institutionalized religion. I wish to answer world problems," he said. "I believe that if people come in that synagogue." Cooper said. "To me that's OK. The Jewish coin of contact is Israel." he added yesterday. "He said something to the effect that he would like to work with other religious leaders at the University.

Also discussed last night was the world-famous U.S. budgetary crisis. On Tuesday night, said the group's prime minister, Michael Kaplowitz would be "to educate assembly members on the main budgetary issues." "We want to educate ourselves, to work productively with the administration and with other rabbis," Cooper said. "We have to take a more innovative approach, so we just want to come under our money is gone," Cooper said. To other business, the UA opposed implementation of a special fee. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus.

New Course

Anteater 511
Sex Roles & Status
Wednesday 7:30 - 10
Coonan Hall 4

Munson

Dr. Peggy Landy

Contact X 7461

WORK STUDY JOBS

Sex Roles & Status

with a difference

Mental Health Program of programs and activities at 6:00 pm in a friendly, supportive environment. We're looking for community volunteers who are interested in helping others.

Nature's Bounty E-CREAM

Theo Xi Offers

Home Cooked Meals

Reduced Rates

Home Cooked Meals

Convenient Locations

$500/10 Meals, WI.

$600/15 Meals, WI.

Call 662-0293

UA Holds First Meeting

On Tuesday, the University Administration's newly-formed UA budgetary committee—under the leadership of UA Chairman Leon Cooper—met to discuss UA issues.

"We want to educate ourselves, to work productively with the administration and with other rabbis," Cooper said. "We have to take a more innovative approach, so we just want to come under our money is gone," Cooper said. To other business, the UA opposed implementation of a special fee. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus. The group also voted to allow display of religious symbols on campus.

Women Swimmers/Divers Introductory Meeting

Tues., Sept. 15 5 PM
Gilbel Gymnasium
Diplomacy For Sale

By Charles Johnson

Over the past few months, many have claimed that the foreign policy of the Reagan administration is the most recent example of how foreign policy decisions can be shaped by domestic constituencies - auto, farm, defense, and ideological preoccupation with communism.

In the past, when the economic stability of a nation was the primary concern, foreign policy decisions were made with the long-term and global stability of the international system in mind. However, in recent years, foreign policy decisions have increasingly been made with the immediate and short-term interests of domestic constituencies.

For example, the Reagan administration's decision to lift burdens on the auto industry was driven by the need to protect jobs and prevent the closure of factories. While this decision may have been in the short-term interests of the auto workers, it also contributed to the increasing trade deficit with Japan, which has long been a concern of domestic constituencies.

The administration's failure to see beyond the short-term interests of domestic constituencies has led to a number of negative consequences. For instance, the administration's decision to lift the ban on neutron bombs has only served to increase the risk of nuclear war. And the administration's failure to address the increasing trade deficit with Japan has only served to further undermine the country's economic stability.

In conclusion, the foreign policy decisions of the Reagan administration have been shaped by the interests of domestic constituencies rather than by a long-term and global perspective. This has led to a number of negative consequences, and it is time for a change. We must prioritize the long-term interests of the country over the short-term interests of domestic constituencies.

Letter to the Editor

An Ineffective Military Expedition

April 23rd, 1981

To the Editor:

Appropriately President Reagan's decision to manufacture neutron bombs did not take into consideration recent technological and political developments in the field of arms control.

Recent scientific advances, money could have been spared by the budget cái, and the nuclear arms race could have been prevented. It is a great shame that the US has not been able to find a solution to the problem of nuclear disarmament.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

SAC
Eisenlohr Renovations

The renovation of Eisenlohr, the Wharton Business Magazine's business office, has created a stir among students and faculty. Despite the significant changes, the renovation is expected to provide much-needed space and improve the overall office environment.

NEW STUDENTS
The Undergraduate Business Magazine

Introductory Meeting Tonight

Vance Hall, Room B-11

For anyone interested in joining our staff, and all old members who wish to work on the magazine again this year.

Funded by SAC

Wharton Account

This expansion would have justified the Urban Ethnography Department and University Counseling Service, as well as the planning of the Counseling Service to the second floor of 3801 Locust Walk, which will displace some offices.

Some activities were in the air as anticipated, but the renovation of Eisenlohr, she said, is not part of the moves that have been made.

She added that the large allocation of funds comes at a time of declining financial support for any project, and she said that the move should not be considered a significant accomplishment.

Eisenlohr before that building's planning ended. Eisenlohr before that building's planning ended, she said.

Cooper said she wrote the letter to express displeasure and that she has been asked to move to the second floor of 3801 Locust Walk.

Eisenlohr before that building's planning ended, she said. Eisenlohr before that building's planning ended, she said.

Cooper said she wrote the letter to express displeasure and that she has been asked to move to the second floor of 3801 Locust Walk.

Eisenlohr before that building's planning ended, she said. Eisenlohr before that building's planning ended, she said.

Cooper said she wrote the letter to express displeasure and that she has been asked to move to the second floor of 3801 Locust Walk.
If you're taking tough courses, you need all the help you can get.

If you've really done it to yourself this term, you need an advanced calculator you can count on through thick and thinner. You need the most advanced functions and programming features. You need lots of pre-written programs to save you time. You need Continuous Memory and the utmost in dependability. You need an HP calculator.

The HP-34C. All the help you can get.

Hewlett-Packard offers you eight different calculators priced from $55 to provide professional solutions in science, engineering and business. So visit your nearest HP dealer for a hands-on demonstration. Then buy an HP calculator. It may be the last easy thing you do for a long time.

For details and the address of the dealer in your area, call toll free: (800) 547-3600. Dept. 58R except Hawaii and Alaska. In Oregon, call 758-1010. Or write Hewlett-Packard, Corvallis, OR 97330. Dept. 58SN.

---

Photography at the Daily Pennsylvanian

NORTH RETURNING PHOTOGRAPHERS STOP BY IF YOU CAN'T ATTEND THE SEMI-WEEKLY MEETING AT 4:00 PM AT THE D.P. (4015 WALTZ ST.).

---

Museum Investigations

(Continued from page 1)

Between one of the thefts and its discovery by museum employees, museum officials refused to speculate on what may have caused the theft. Conti, the museum director, said that "because of the time delays, daily inspections of the galleries have been omitted, and additional people have been assigned to do inventory."

Only two security guards currently assigned to the museum are members of a 15-employee force responsible for security in the museum. For the last few years, however, some public security guards have been used during basketball games and University events.

Despite the hire and fire policy, it is apparent that the museum's attitude toward security has been altered, as Conti said that "the Public Safety system was the only one ever to implement security for sporting events, and they are still doing it." Public Safety had made its initial recommendations in May, 1979, following repeated reports of missing equipment and personal property to the museum.

In most cases, the public official involved in the public security system told the Daily Pennsylvanian, the public officials responsible for security in the museum have been assigned to other tasks, or have been dismissed, but the Public Safety system was the one ever to implement security at sporting events and University events.

The museum also has added a new security system to its existing security measures. The new system is an HP-34C calculator. It is the last easy thing to do for a long time. It may be the last easy thing you do for a long time.

---

University Registrar

(Continued from page 1)

...with advantages. Although several good candidates were presented to the committee, Conti added, "Simons is the unanimous choice." Secretary simons thought the registrar's office had not been under the scrutiny of the community that it should have been until the recent discovery in 1978. The recent discovery, said simons, is a committee that has been in operation for a longer period of time. The registrar's office has been discovered to have a new role in the university's decision making process. The registrar is a member of the University's executive administration, and has been discovered to have new responsibilities and new authority.

Simons added that the registrar's office is a committee that has been in operation for a longer period of time. The registrar is a member of the University's executive administration, and has been discovered to have new responsibilities and new authority.

The committee comprised of two professors, two professors and two administrators, all chosen by the Search Committee. "What I tried to do was find a chairperson who had direct contact with the registrar's office and would know what the job entailed," said simons. Simons, who had been registrar at Virginia Commonwealth University for the past two years, and was pleased with the job, said that the search for a new chairperson is a committee that has been in operation for a longer period of time. The registrar's office has been discovered to have a new role in the university's decision making process. The registrar is a member of the University's executive administration, and has been discovered to have new responsibilities and new authority.

Simons added that the registrar's office is a committee that has been in operation for a longer period of time. The registrar is a member of the University's executive administration, and has been discovered to have new responsibilities and new authority.

---

Computer Calculators

Short on $ for that needed calculator? You won't believe your eyes or wallet!

Come to UBM: Great prices, Best availability in town!

HP-38C
Only $129.95

HP-34C
Only $129.95

Both these models speak for themselves!

• The HP-34C is probably the most powerful scientific out.

Featuring an unparalleled SOLVE and INTEGRATE capability

• The HP-38C is HP's answer to the business students long hours of problem-solving.

Featuring NEW PRESENT VALUE and INTERNAL RATE of RETURN, etc!
Smith Tenure Denial—

Journalists continue to debate the Smith Tenure Denial case.

A claim by the Law School faculty that the tenure denial was improper.

The Daily Pennsylvania - Tuesday, September 15, 1981

WELCOME STUDENTS

SPRUCE HILL VETERINARY CLINIC

DONALD FORD, V.M.D.

THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

14450 O.S. 91 Beginning Korean I

T. Th. 4:30-6:30 Wm. 2

14452 O.S. 92 Intermediate Korean

M. W. 4:30-8:30 Wm. 2

14580 O.S. 96 Advanced Korean

Arranged

These options are available to contact

Dr. K.D. Song

at 551 Williams Hall (843-6401)

or leave message at 845-7466

(0.S. Dept. Office)

KOREAN COURSES

FALL 1981

M.W. 4:30-6:30 Wm. 2

WATER AND FOOD PVC STUDIES

4:30-6:00 Wm. 2

5:30-7:30 Wm. 2

6:00-8:20 Wm. 2

BEGINS WEEKEND IN

ESCAPE BETOHE THE

SPRUCE HILL VETERINARY CLINIC

A one-of-a-kind, full-service veterinary hospital.

DONALD FORD, DVM

WHEN YOUR ANIMAL IS SICK OR INJURED, RUSH IT TO SPRUCE HILL VETERINARY CLINIC IN PHILADELPHIA... THE BEST TO HAVE THE BEST!

3401 SPRUCE STREET

PHILADELPHIA, PA. 19104

215-243-9222

TODAY IS THE DAY!!!

GIVE BLOOD

Hollis Hall Room 245

Tuesday, September 15, 1981

NOW 10:00 - 3:00

We are on our way to a record year.

1000+ lives can be saved each day.

Non-partisan

Call Pat At Ev. 2996

From Noon To 8 P.M.

Classified Ads

Place your classifieds at the D.P. office— 4016 Walnut Street, 2nd floor.

Cost: 10¢ per word, per day

Deadline: 8 p.m. two days before publication.
Ivy Champ's Return With Added Depth, Balance

BY JOHN DH

Ivy Champs Return With Added Depth, Balance

The season is finally upon us and the Ivy League champions are ready to defend their title. This year, the team has added depth and balance to their lineup, making them a formidable force to be reckoned with. The team is led by Bob Seddon, their new coach, who has brought a fresh perspective to the program. Seddon is known for his offensive-minded brand of soccer and his ability to bring out the best in his players. With the return of several key players, the team is confident that they can repeat as champions.

Lions, Tigers Strong But Balance Is Key In Conference Play

The team opened the season against Drexel, a team that has traditionally been a force in the league. Despite the tough competition, the team was able to emerge victorious, thanks in part to the leadership of Bob Seddon. The coach preached an offensive-minded brand of soccer, and his players responded with a strong performance. The team's depth and balance were on full display, with several players steping up to make a difference.

Pennslyvania Campus

Pennsylvania native Bob Seddon knows the local area well and is excited to bring his team to the City of Brotherly Love. The team is looking forward to playing in the historic Franklin Field, and Seddon has high expectations for the upcoming season.

Two-Time Coaching Balances His Sports

Bob Seddon began his coaching career at New York New York, and has since had success at several levels. He has a reputation for bringing out the best in his players, and his team is looking forward to his leadership.

New-Look Wk Spikers Open At Delaware

The team has undergone some changes in the off-season, with several new players added to the roster. With the new faces, the team is looking to make a strong statement in their first game against Delaware.

Pennsylvania Campus

Bob Seddon is excited for the upcoming season and is looking forward to leading his team to success. With the help of his coaching staff and the support of his players, he is confident that the team can achieve their goals.

Quaker Oats

The team is excited to participate in the annual Quaker Oats tournament, and is looking forward to the challenge of competing against some of the top teams in the country. With the support of their fans and the guidance of their coaches, the team is ready to take on any challenge that comes their way.