Student Loses Cash, Possessions in Wild Con Game

By ROBERT WERFELMAN

University Police arrested a man last week who allegedly rifled through 100 dollar bills to rob a student. According to police, the student originally gave 100 dollars to a man who said he needed money to cooper. The student never received his money back, and after a month went to the police to report the theft. The student said he had previously been involved with the same man, and that the man had stolen his credit cards and social security numbers.

President Adds Funds for Inaugural Picnic

$12,000 Beefed Up Students' Lunch

By ANDREW ARONSON

In the face of student complaints and a desire to increase their life on campus, University President Sheldon Hackney has added $12,000 to the annual student lunch program for his inauguration ceremony. President Hackney has committed to funding this increase from his own personal pocketbook.

Secretary of the University Mary Ann Mooney responsibilities included marketing the University's annual lunch event. According to Mooney, 1,500 tickets will be available for the event, which is scheduled for October 23 on the amphitheater.

New Panel To Design Judiciary

By PETER CANELLIS

Following a series of highly publicized student protests on campus, the University's Academic Integrity Panel has been charged with drafting new rules for student conduct. Professor Thomas Erlich has commissioned a group of faculty members to investigate the current system and propose changes. The panel, which includes representatives from law, medicine, and engineering, will meet weekly to discuss the issue.

City Finds Students on Vacation, Eliminates Their Voting Records

By RACHEL BREIS

The Office of City Commissioners has identified over 1,000 students registered to vote in Pennsylvania but not in the other state where they legally reside. According to the Office, nearly half of these students have not returned their voting registration forms.

Women's Group Seeks an End To World's Ills

By JANN STEINMENGER

Cynthia McClain says the group has a plan to pay 75 dollars a month to support the U.S. defense budget, and they are ready to do something about it.

WPA Seeks an End To World's Ills

To World's Ills

In November, Hyde called the student, saying the man needed $200 to rent a car to complete a drug deal. Burke then called the student, asking for an additional $200. The student gave Burke the money, and said he would get his car fixed.

Student Loses $200 to a University Police, the student was walking in the vicinity of 5th and Spruce Streets on September 9 when Burke approached him and asked for help to buy necessities. Burke later said he needed $200 to rent a car to complete a drug deal, the report said. Burke then called the student, asking for an additional $200. The student gave Burke the money, and said he would get his car fixed.

Students, we aren't sure of how many Ol those students regr activities last week. According to Meyers, BOO tickets will be available for the event, which will be held on October 23.

Students registering with their old addresses were removed from the rolls and given to students for the event, which will be held on October 23.

The Office of City Commissioners has identified over 1,000 students registered to vote in Pennsylvania but not in the other state where they legally reside. According to the Office, nearly half of these students have not returned their voting registration forms.
Tosh Arrives: Dread & Alive

In London recently, Tosh said yesterday, of his concert "Wastaw, Dread & Alive," to be presented tomorrow at Irvine Auditorium, the Reggae leader and his band have spent the past few months in Jamaica, working on their latest album. Tosh said he aimed to "represent the spiritual and political aspects of Jamaican music in my own style and hat is more a political than a commercial issue, I believe.

Tosh has a unique attitude toward America, matching his hyperactive and rhythmically charged reggae style, which he says is "my way of expressing myself. I'm doing this for the love of music, not for the money. I'm just trying to bring something different to the world."

Tosh is the son of a proud and deeply spiritual Jamaican family. His father, Herbie, was a noted reggae singer before he passed away in 1978. Tosh began singing and playing guitar at a young age, and his music has evolved to become a powerful tool for social and political change. His latest album is a testament to his commitment to bring a message of hope and unity through the universal language of music.

Tosh has always been known for his energetic performances and his ability to connect with audiences. He has performed in numerous concerts and festivals around the world, spreading his message of love, peace, and unity. His music has touched lives and inspired listeners, making him a beloved figure in the reggae community.

The upcoming concert in Philadelphia is expected to be a high-energy event, with Tosh and his band delivering a powerful message through their dynamic reggae melodies. It's a rare opportunity to witness this powerful performer in action, and it promises to be an unforgettable experience for all who attend.

By Dr. Samuel Fager

One afternoon last spring, Dr. C., a physician at Westside Hospital, had three patients waiting on him. The first one had been taking base for about a week, had a sore throat, missed work for three days, and looked even paler than usual. She could hardly speak at all. Dr. C., had thought she might have a cold, but came into the Health Service because her blood pressure was dangerously high. After Dr. C. gave her a physical examination, she was discovered to be just below 60 years of age. The second patient was a little nervous and said she had been feeling rather anxious for the last week or two. The third patient said he didn't feel so well himself, didn't feel quite himself, didn't sleep well, and felt that he had a cold. He was sent to the Health Service because the nurse wanted to adjust his medicine for the first time in months. When Dr. C. examined him, he had just been released from a hospital and had had a very bad stomachache. He was fine, but very tired. Dr. C. sent him to the Health Service.

"I'm right now working on three patients in the hospital. The second one's heart goes really bad, and the third is just a little nervous."

Dr. C. had been called in to work by phone to take care of two more patients who were also very nervous. It is not right, he said, to send a nurse to take care of one person who is nervous and then send the nurse to take care of another person who is nervous. It is better to send a doctor to take care of both, he said, and then to send another doctor to take care of the other person.

In the hospital, the second patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad cold. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The third patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad stomachache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The fourth patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad headache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The fifth patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad cold. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The sixth patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad stomachache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The seventh patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad headache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The eighth patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad cold. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The ninth patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad stomachache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The tenth patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad headache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The eleventh patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad stomachache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The twelfth patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad headache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The thirteenth patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad stomachache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The fourteenth patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad headache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The fifteenth patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad stomachache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The sixteenth patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad headache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The seventeenth patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad stomachache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The eighteenth patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad headache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The nineteenth patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad stomachache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The twentieth patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad headache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The twenty-first patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad stomachache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The twenty-second patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad headache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The twenty-third patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad stomachache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The twenty-fourth patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad headache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The twenty-fifth patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad stomachache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The twenty-sixth patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad headache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The twenty-seventh patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad stomachache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The twenty-eighth patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad headache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The twenty-ninth patient was sent to the Health Service because she had a very bad stomachache. She had been admitted to the hospital because she was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore. The thirtieth patient was sent to the Health Service because he had a very bad headache. He had been admitted to the hospital because he was too sick to work and did not want to work anymore.
Academic Code Panel

1 scheduled crew exhibition on (disagrees with cooper's assertion that comments ries about student seating prior to bad sought to tention to the dale ol, i leuei I rowed down the Schuylkill bj men.
in nun of the centur) costumes being the event, which Mill depict women lobet -- would be sexist i oopet said highei value even than good press."
Meyers' note read "Good faith i~ ,i tender and must he nurtured," Stellai
to Cooper, thai Stellar Inauguration < ommittee ( hairman

sirone

We don't know if the committee

Nash is reviewing his

Inauguration Lunch

AC Adapter/Rechargers

Great Prices, Best Availability in Town!

Auto parts, batteries, tires, and more!

J. B. GROVER'S

BARBER SHOP

Grades & Cuts

Money back with 100% satisfaction guarantee.

GRADUATE STUDY IN PUBLIC POLICY

The University of Pennsylvania's School of Arts and Sciences offers a wide range of graduate programs in public policy, including the Graduate Program in Public Policy, the PhD Program in Public Policy, and the Master of Public Policy Program.

Location: 37th Street and Spruce Street, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, PA

New York Style

PIZZA

Made

With fresh Dough

Steaks • Hoagies • Ice Cream

Ice Cold Beer

How to avoid me with confidence.

Okay, you're settled down. You relate to everybody. If your hairdresser doesn't talk to you, don't talk to him. You might break his concentration. Be as cooperative as possible. Look at your hair as if it's being cut. Get involved in it. If something isn't being done to your satisfaction, speak up.

Remember — the one who has to live with your haircut. If you're happy with your haircut, ask how you should maintain it.

Some pointers. Here are a few little pointers that can make a difference.

1. Your hairdresser doesn't talk to you, don't talk to him. You might break his concentration.
2. Be as cooperative as possible. Look at your hair as if it's being cut. Get involved in it. If something isn't being done to your satisfaction, speak up.
3. Remember — the one who has to live with your haircut. If you're happy with your haircut, ask how you should maintain it.
4. If you decide a day later that you're not happy with your haircut, don't hesitate to go back and see if something can be done about it. It's your hair, you're the one who pays for it.
5. Follow your advice. If you get a good haircut, you'll feel good about it. If you get a bad haircut, you'll feel bad about it.

Barry Leonard, Comrieper.
1537 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, L0 4 0356.
The Moderate and Liberal Parties of the Pennsylvania Political Union present Allen Hornblum from Americans for Democratic Actions speaking on • moral majorlty • prospects for a democratic comeback • political apportionment in Philadelphia

A place to be yourself—
• to discover God—
• to experience community—
• to explore your values—
• to grow as a person—
• to participate in the ministry and mission of the church of Jesus Christ

TABERNACLE CHURCH
3700 Chotu St.
390-4100

SUNDAYS
at 10:30 AM

United Presbyterian and United Church of Christ

Jan McDonald, pastor

Penn students get it cheaper.

VIA VICTA by Aileen Malcolm

October 6-18

STUDENT DISCOUNTS
$2 off ticket price.

Day of performance only

Pentagon Action

(Continued from page 2)

The second day's activities, which took place in the Pentagon, were symbolic and emotional action is great—but we haven't found the ways to actually change the system,

Adcock said of the actions.

More than 140 women were arrested at the Pentagon and 38 were sent to jail after pleas of guilty or no contest. In addition, the Pentagon

Action group held meetings, with other officials present, to plan or discuss methods of mutual support.

The organization also sponsored a workshop to help women with different emotional problems to better cope with their reactions.

The WPA is currently working on getting more activists involved in the organization and on planning the year's actions in Washington, which will take place on November 17 and 18.

SMOKEY JOE'S

WEDNESDAY NIGHT PARTIES CONTINUE

TONIGHT!

By Popular Demand

2-1 MELLONBALLS

AND

LIVE GUEST D.J.

Come Early

Walnut at 40th

PRESENTS...

PETE TOSH:

WANTED DREAD AND ALIVE

With Guest: DAVID SANCIUS

8:00 P.M.

THURSDAY OCT. 1

AT IRVINE AUDITORIUM

TIX: 8.50, 7.50, 6.50 W. PENN ID

AVAILABLE AT

HOUSTON HALL TICKET SERVICE

If you think "pads and rollers" are just a California craze, you're not ready for New Memorex.

pad-takers are very common among the group's tape listeners. In fact, several of the group's members have had their own tape players set up in their homes. Tape players are popular among young people, who enjoy listening to music on tape. Many times, they will use the tape players while they are working on other tasks, such as studying or doing homework. The tape players are small and portable, making them easy to carry around. They are also affordable, with prices ranging from around $20 to $100. In addition, many people use tape players to record interviews or lectures, which can be later listened to at their convenience. Some people also use tape players for socializing, as they can listen to music while hanging out with friends or family. Overall, tape players are a popular choice among young people for their affordability, portability, and versatility. This new generation of tape players is designed to be easy to use, with clear sound quality and durable construction. Many of them also come with additional features, such as built-in speakers or the ability to connect to other devices. In addition, the tape players are often sold at discount prices, making them an affordable option for those on a budget. For those who are interested in getting into this new type of music, there are many options available. Many stores and online retailers offer a wide variety of tape players, along with other accessories, such as headphones or speakers. Overall, the new generation of tape players is a great option for those who want to enjoy music in a new way.
Women’s Studies Heads Plan New Direction

By MICHAEL NELSON

Two new leaders at the Women’s Studies Program have expressed a desire for bringing the program both inside and beyond the University community.

The program’s new director, Religions Studies Professor Ann Mallei, and said that he was interested in exploring other areas in which students from the program could take courses cross-listed from other departments. "One of the things I’m interested in is getting the women’s studies program to collaborate with other departments," Mallei said.

Mallei is also the associate director of the Women’s Studies Program, which is one of the main points of the University’s Women’s Studies Program. The program’s role is to work with students to develop their interests in women’s studies.

"I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments," Mallei said. "I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments."

Mallei is also the associate director of the Women’s Studies Program, which is one of the main points of the University’s Women’s Studies Program. The program’s role is to work with students to develop their interests in women’s studies.

"I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments," Mallei said. "I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments."

Mallei is also the associate director of the Women’s Studies Program, which is one of the main points of the University’s Women’s Studies Program. The program’s role is to work with students to develop their interests in women’s studies.

"I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments," Mallei said. "I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments."

Mallei is also the associate director of the Women’s Studies Program, which is one of the main points of the University’s Women’s Studies Program. The program’s role is to work with students to develop their interests in women’s studies.

"I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments," Mallei said. "I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments."

Mallei is also the associate director of the Women’s Studies Program, which is one of the main points of the University’s Women’s Studies Program. The program’s role is to work with students to develop their interests in women’s studies.

"I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments," Mallei said. "I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments."

Mallei is also the associate director of the Women’s Studies Program, which is one of the main points of the University’s Women’s Studies Program. The program’s role is to work with students to develop their interests in women’s studies.

"I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments," Mallei said. "I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments."

Mallei is also the associate director of the Women’s Studies Program, which is one of the main points of the University’s Women’s Studies Program. The program’s role is to work with students to develop their interests in women’s studies.

"I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments," Mallei said. "I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments."

Mallei is also the associate director of the Women’s Studies Program, which is one of the main points of the University’s Women’s Studies Program. The program’s role is to work with students to develop their interests in women’s studies.

"I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments," Mallei said. "I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments."

Mallei is also the associate director of the Women’s Studies Program, which is one of the main points of the University’s Women’s Studies Program. The program’s role is to work with students to develop their interests in women’s studies.

"I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments," Mallei said. "I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments."

Mallei is also the associate director of the Women’s Studies Program, which is one of the main points of the University’s Women’s Studies Program. The program’s role is to work with students to develop their interests in women’s studies.

"I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments," Mallei said. "I’m interested in getting courses cross-listed from other departments."

Mallei is also the associate director of the Women’s Studies Program, which is one of the main points of the University’s Women’s Studies Program. The program’s role is to work with students to develop their interests in women’s studies.

"I’m interested in getting courses cro
Our interview will guarantee a job.
Remember, just show up and let it fall naturally into place.
The Precision Cut
Shampoo More Dry.

Confidence Scheme

Students Needed for Variety of Duties
Many positions available

Duke
Institute of Policy Sciences and Public Affairs

A representative of the Institute of Policy Sciences will be on campus Monday, October 5, 1981, to discuss the Duke master's program in Public Policy Studies. Interested students may obtain further information by contacting the Placement Office.

PETCO
AUTO SERVICE
SPECIALIZING IN FOREIGN CAR REPAIRS
AND PARTS
OUR 43RD YEAR
24 SO. 42ND (BETWEEN CHESTNUT & MARKET)
PHILADELPHIA, PA. 19104

INTERESTED IN EARNING EXTRA CASH?
Ivy Research
is looking for healthy male and female students to participate in controlled medical research

If you have
-eczema
-dry skin
-athletes' foot
-Consumer Products
-Bath Soaps
-Anti-perspirants
-Cosmetics
-Paper & Cloth Products
-dandruff
-acne
-etc.

Call Mrs. Mary Yardley at EV 7-8400
for more information

IVY RESEARCH LABORATORIES, INC.
UNIVERSITY CITY SCIENCE CENTER 2nd FLOOR N.W.
CORNER 34th and MARKET STREETS
October 16 Deadline

Fulbright Competition Opens

By AMEN ALEXANDER

The University of the State of New York Institute of Interdisciplinary Education opens its 1981-82 Fulbright Competition for Students. Applications must be submitted to the office of study abroad, or to the Office of the Registrar, by October 16. The competition is open to students who have completed the senior year and to students who will complete the senior year before December. By January 30, applicants are expected to submit an official copy of their transcript to the Institute from as many different institutions as possible, "as a first step toward determining the suitability of their academic records, as well as their personal qualities," Professor Kathryn McMahon, who heads the Campus Committee on the Fulbright Competition, said.

The six-week course will meet Tuesdays, 6-8 p.m., October 20-November 1. Course fee: $30

The Reading and Study Improvement Course

Course fee: $30 Deadline: November 15

The Philadelphia Magazine

Call us at 243-6581 or stop by at our office on the south side of the magazine. The work is expertly completed. Excellent references required. 363-4829.

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Join the Team that Designs the Ads for The Daily Pennsylvanian. Call us at 243-6581 or stop in at the DP office at 4015 Walnut St.
Stickwomen Hoping To Revive Sluggish Defense Against Rams

Stickwomen Hoping To Revive Sluggish Defense Against Rams

Defensive Coordinator John Baile: "We want to have a tough weekend."

The women's field hockey team could use a victory in their upcoming contest against West Chester. They had a chance to match up with the Rams and have been struggling to find a winning formula.

Coach Anne Sage: "We're at a disadvantage against West Chester."

Sage says the team hasn't lost its spark. "There are some freshmen, including Sue Ootes, that are really exciting players," she added. In addition to freshmen, the team would score with regularity, but has had to make some changes to the line-up.

Offensive Coordinator Rob Vura: "We've been pleasantly surprised."

Vura has been thrilled with the play of his team so far this season. "We played well against Syracuse and the team was on top the entire game," he noted. "Now we have a chance to make the second team and win the Ivy League championship."