Wharton Rep Szczepkowski Looks Right At UA Controversy

By ERIC J. SANTZ

When Ed Szczepkowski says he has "always lived pretty much above the law," he is not referring to the local law, but rather the University law. Szczepkowski, a Wharton senior, claims that the University brought "too much pressure" on him.

"I never did anything against any school rules," he said. "I have always tried to do the right thing and I didn't want to be called a preconception in the incident as a preconception in the incident.

He also claims that he has been "accurately or not accurately" by the UA. "I have never felt that I have been given any fair hearing," he said. "I have been treated unfairly by the UA."
Campus Events

- GRAD SCHOOL PREP
  - Master’s Testing Information
  - Aids to College Admissions
  - 12/7, 4 p.m.

- ABORTION SERVICES
  - Free counseling
  - 10 a.m. – 1 p.m.

- TRUANT
  - Location: 1771 Walnut St.
  - 215-444-2028

- SHUTTLE Lift Off Tomorrow
  - CAPT CONNERY, F.— 705, 401 East 34th St.
  - Lift off: 7:15 a.m.

- BETWEEN THE COVERS
  - Dinner Special
  - Thursday, November 12, 19
  - From 5 to 7 p.m.
  - $10

- Limited Seating Still Available
  - Call WA 3-4229 For Reservations or Stop by Our Locust Walk Stand
  - $5

Bill Would Nix Teacher Strikes

- BAMBERG— Twelve House members introduced bills yesterday that would ban teachers’ strikes, except in instances when a court decides the school board has not garnered “good faith.”

- A teacher who strikes in defiance of the court could be dismissed immediately, by majority vote of the school board, too low for her teaching certificate for five years, under the legislation.

- The legislators are in the minority in the House. Education Committee Chairman Leonard Boylan said yesterday a compromise bill “ought to pass.”

- The legislation is part of the New Jersey teachers’ right to free speech. Teachers in Philadelphia, and Delaware County Regional School District, are in dispute with the school district.

- “I don’t think it would be the final offer. That requires a Constitutional amendment that would allow arbitration to be used to settle teachers’ disputes, so it is for feminists and an ominous.”

- Fried said “the ultimate answer to teachers’ strikes is to reverse their right to strike and replace it with final offer arbitration. That requires a Constitutional amendment.”

- The House Education Committee, too low to be approved by two separate sessions of the Legislature and then by the voters.

- Shuttle Lift Off Tomorrow
  - CAPT CONNERY, F.— 705, 401 East 34th St.
  - Lift off: 7:15 a.m.

- NASA officials began the countdown, 47-hour count

WASHINGTON—President Reagan and Sen. Robert Dole yesterday announced a $2.9 billion in Medicare and $600 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan, of President Dole, in a press conference, announced January 1 as the end of the freeze on Medicare and Medicaid.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

WASHINGTON—President Reagan and Sen. Robert Dole yesterday announced a $2.9 billion in Medicare and $600 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

WASHINGTON—President Reagan and Sen. Robert Dole yesterday announced a $2.9 billion in Medicare and $600 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

WASHINGTON—President Reagan and Sen. Robert Dole yesterday announced a $2.9 billion in Medicare and $600 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

WASHINGTON—President Reagan and Sen. Robert Dole yesterday announced a $2.9 billion in Medicare and $600 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.

- Reagan defended the freeze against complaints that the cuts would be devastating to the elderly.

- Reagan said that $100 billion in Medicare and $60 million in Medicaid to the White House.
An Artist's View of Everyday Life

By LINDA STRAIN

Annie Jan Hanson does not paint such conventional master works as valid as the canvases, yet she can understand the appeal of such abstract paintings to many artists who wish to escape from all the "shadiness" of their work. "I can't paint in color and then I've turned to this." She explained. "I can't find any meaning to my work. I'm not thinking of anything in particular, just trying to express myself in some way."

Hanson's paintings and drawings, which can display a Hokusai Hall Exhibit, reflect her own everyday life in the Chicago area. All of her paintings are done on site, for the most part, and she often auditions the piece of work that she is working on. She is not limited to any one medium for her artwork, and enjoys experimenting with different techniques. She has painted her training and process, and the people who have helped her in her work. "I've never actually had time to paint," she said. "Acrobatic shows are usually a white piece of paper. I was just a little girl."

Through Hanson's unique use of color and form, her paintings can express a mood rather than a specific subject. Many of her works are done with oils, but she has experimented with other materials, such as watercolors and pastels. She is not limited to any one medium for her artwork, and enjoys experimenting with different techniques. She has painted her training and process, and the people who have helped her in her work. "I've never actually had time to paint," she said. "Acrobatic shows are usually a white piece of paper. I was just a little girl."

With the attention to detail that Hanson has shown in her work, she has been able to express herself in a variety of mediums. Her paintings and drawings, which can display a Hokusai Hall Exhibit, reflect her everyday life in the Chicago area.

Hanson's paintings and drawings, which can display a Hokusai Hall Exhibit, reflect her everyday life in the Chicago area. All of her paintings are done on site, for the most part, and she often auditions the piece of work that she is working on. She is not limited to any one medium for her artwork, and enjoys experimenting with different techniques. She has painted her training and process, and the people who have helped her in her work. "I've never actually had time to paint," she said. "Acrobatic shows are usually a white piece of paper. I was just a little girl."

Through Hanson's unique use of color and form, her paintings can express a mood rather than a specific subject. Many of her works are done with oils, but she has experimented with other materials, such as watercolors and pastels. She is not limited to any one medium for her artwork, and enjoys experimenting with different techniques. She has painted her training and process, and the people who have helped her in her work. "I've never actually had time to paint," she said. "Acrobatic shows are usually a white piece of paper. I was just a little girl."

With the attention to detail that Hanson has shown in her work, she has been able to express herself in a variety of mediums. Her paintings and drawings, which can display a Hokusai Hall Exhibit, reflect her everyday life in the Chicago area. All of her paintings are done on site, for the most part, and she often auditions the piece of work that she is working on. She is not limited to any one medium for her artwork, and enjoys experimenting with different techniques. She has painted her training and process, and the people who have helped her in her work. "I've never actually had time to paint," she said. "Acrobatic shows are usually a white piece of paper. I was just a little girl."
The Demise of Kappa Sigma

Vice President Somerville's decision Monday night to revoke Kappa Sigma's recognition was, as the put it in the "remaining response," "a situation which has plagued the campus for years. The character, despite repeated warnings, the institution of probationary status, and some effort on the part of its members, has proven incapable of accepting corrective action and imposing self-discipline on itself without narcotics. Somerville's decision was a necessity." According to Somerville, the fraternity had come under heavy fire from several students and groups who have declined to disregard the advice given by the University's fraternity board, the Vice President noted, and the Board's recommendation to the Board against Kappa Sigma was true. It is suggested that Somerville ignored "due process" in this case, the blame being placed with the Board, for issuing a resolution to which the Board has not been asked to give its approval. The Board's action, the Vice President said, was in violation of its constitutional powers. The Board's recommendation to the Board against Kappa Sigma was true. It is suggested that Somerville ignored "due process" in this case, the blame being placed with the Board, for issuing a resolution to which the Board has not been asked to give its approval. The Board's action, the Vice President said, was in violation of its constitutional powers.

The Board's recommendation to the Board against Kappa Sigma was true. It is suggested that Somerville ignored "due process" in this case, the blame being placed with the Board, for issuing a resolution to which the Board has not been asked to give its approval. The Board's action, the Vice President said, was in violation of its constitutional powers.

A Country and A Man

By Hans P. Sinha

In the last week, the small, isolated country of Sweden has been mentioned in the newspapers, the only purpose being to bring to light the activities of a group of Karlstom (pronounced Karl-stoem) revolutionaries who plan to overthrow the present government.

I feel that all countries deserve the credit of the world, not, of course, for their noble deeds, but for the fact that the world recognizes their right to exist. But the Swedish government, the only government against the United States, and the United States government, have together come into a German commercial agreement, aimed to bring to light the activities of a group of Karlstom (pronounced Karl-stoem) revolutionaries who plan to overthrow the present government.

This is the ongoing struggle to keep the United States and Sweden in the same boat. The United States and Sweden are both inhabited by people of the same race, and the same language. This is the ongoing struggle to keep the United States and Sweden in the same boat. The United States and Sweden are both inhabited by people of the same race, and the same language.
Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The Monday Feature of November 9, written by Peter Canellos, is intended to do no more than engender a couple of minutes' thought about the political atmosphere on campus. It does this by asking the reader to consider the number of new members recruited by the College Democrats and Republicans this fall. However, it is misleading to claim that the number of new members indicates the strength of the right on campus.

Mr. Canellos also suggests that the Undergraduate Assembly will soon be taken over by conservative student groups. This is a foolish claim. The Undergraduate Assembly is responsible for the use of "tunnel-votes" in the Fall 1970 election. The word of the campus Republican vote stoppers is not going to be enough to take over the Undergraduate Assembly. Perhaps such active participation in our political processes by student groups is "old hat" for Mr. Canellos, but I do not agree with his analysis of the political atmosphere on campus. The Pro-gressive Students Alliance was created in 1966 and operates liberal activities on campus. Its many active members have been responsible for organizing demonstrations, petitions, and lectures including the recent call to action against the Moral Majority's visit to the Philadelphia area. The leader of the Moral Majority faced a demonstration in the City on October 21st.

It is also unfair to accept at face value the argument that conservative members of the UA are associated with negative attacks on the University. Pro-gressive members of the UA are associated with positive attacks on the University. Perhaps these active student organizations were responsible for the program to check campus residence for citation amounts of asbestos and to improve the safety of both campus and community residents, in spite of the "tunnel-vote." Two other criticisms made by Mr. Canellos also lack validity. He states that the number of student members does not reflect their degree of activism. We may agree on this point, but to accept Mr. Canellos' argument implies that the number of members on paper indicates the amount of activism on campus. I am presently Chairman of the College Democrats and have seen an increase in active membership. In fact, the number of members on paper compared to their actual presence on campus is decreased. I am presently Chairman of the College Democrats, and from what I have seen, there has been little change from previous years. The College Republicans, on the other hand, have a large number of new members. However, many of the members on paper are no longer active members. In fact, the organization of students voting Republican in this year's election decreased from that of last year.

It is my opinion that, since I first enrolled in 1979, the level of activism on the left has increased more than on the right. One of the most ridiculous statements in the article concerns the thousand membership of the College Democrats. As long as we are discussing trends, just check the voting statistics in the November 9, 1970, edition of The Daily Pennsylvanian. The New Right: Drawing Conclusions Out of Thin Air

The New Right is not just a trend. It is a trend that has been going on for quite some time. The University has traditionally been conservative, and this is reflected in the composition of our political organizations. After reading the text, I am convinced that some people are underestimating the political atmosphere on campus. It is regrettable that a course of thought and action. There is still a cloud over the Republican Party. The same cloud is still over the conservative movement in this country. It is the cloud of reactionary thought and action. There is still a cloud of ignorance and of a lack of knowledge of the work of the American Conservative Union. The American Conservative Union was created to foster and organize liberal groups. It is my opinion that, since I first enrolled in 1979, the level of activism on the left has increased more than on the right. One of the most ridiculous statements in the article concerns the thousand membership of the College Democrats. As long as we are discussing trends, just check the voting statistics in the November 9, 1970, edition of The Daily Pennsylvanian.
BEER FEST
TONIGHT
specials on Imported Beer
2 for 1 Domestic Beer
Rebate offered

UNDECIDED ABOUT YOUR FUTURE?
Talk With Penn Alumni
Where They Work
About What They Do

QUADRAMICS announces Interviews for the production staff of its winter student-directed production of Sly Fox

QUADRAMICS Board Elections
Sun., Nov. 15, 10 p.m.
Franklin Room, Houston Hall

Satisfied?
CURRY COTTAGE
Serves best Vegetarian Dishes
Open 7 Days
For Lunch and Dinner
4708 Baltimore Ave.
726-0116

Take a Stand Against World Hunger
Fast from 8 pm Wednesday, November 18th until 8 pm Thursday, November 19th.

Penn Hunger Action Committee
3601 Locust Walk

By going without food for 24 hours affirm your commitment to humanity.

The resolution, approved by the Student Senate on October 25, calls for "a serious dialogue about why the University is a single entity and why all persons within the community must be viewed solely as individuals.

quadramics board elections

By going without food for 24 hours affirm your commitment to humanity.

By going without food for 24 hours affirm your commitment to humanity.

By going without food for 24 hours affirm your commitment to humanity.

By going without food for 24 hours affirm your commitment to humanity.
"I think it was very helpful because it raised issues that often people are hesitant to talk about," Cooper said. She also lauded the event as an opportunity for people to start talking about sexuality that "it was presented to a gay and a straight audience." Participants agreed that for many gays and lesbians, homosexuality is an important part of their identity, but added, "for some people who are not gay or straight, it has no sexual connotation." While some panel members felt particularly threatened by homosexuality because it constitutes a rejection of traditional male authority, others noted that in societies in which men can walk hand in hand, and it has no sexual connotation.

Participants agreed that for many gays and lesbians, homosexuality is an important part of their identity, but added, "for some people who are not gay or straight, it has no sexual connotation." While some panel members felt particularly threatened by homosexuality because it constitutes a rejection of traditional male authority, others noted that in societies in which men can walk hand in hand, and it has no sexual connotation.

Participants agreed that for many gays and lesbians, homosexuality is an important part of their identity, but added, "for some people who are not gay or straight, it has no sexual connotation." While some panel members felt particularly threatened by homosexuality because it constitutes a rejection of traditional male authority, others noted that in societies in which men can walk hand in hand, and it has no sexual connotation.

Participants agreed that for many gays and lesbians, homosexuality is an important part of their identity, but added, "for some people who are not gay or straight, it has no sexual connotation." While some panel members felt particularly threatened by homosexuality because it constitutes a rejection of traditional male authority, others noted that in societies in which men can walk hand in hand, and it has no sexual connotation.

Participants agreed that for many gays and lesbians, homosexuality is an important part of their identity, but added, "for some people who are not gay or straight, it has no sexual connotation." While some panel members felt particularly threatened by homosexuality because it constitutes a rejection of traditional male authority, others noted that in societies in which men can walk hand in hand, and it has no sexual connotation.

Participants agreed that for many gays and lesbians, homosexuality is an important part of their identity, but added, "for some people who are not gay or straight, it has no sexual connotation." While some panel members felt particularly threatened by homosexuality because it constitutes a rejection of traditional male authority, others noted that in societies in which men can walk hand in hand, and it has no sexual connotation.

Participants agreed that for many gays and lesbians, homosexuality is an important part of their identity, but added, "for some people who are not gay or straight, it has no sexual connotation." While some panel members felt particularly threatened by homosexuality because it constitutes a rejection of traditional male authority, others noted that in societies in which men can walk hand in hand, and it has no sexual connotation.

Participants agreed that for many gays and lesbians, homosexuality is an important part of their identity, but added, "for some people who are not gay or straight, it has no sexual connotation." While some panel members felt particularly threatened by homosexuality because it constitutes a rejection of traditional male authority, others noted that in societies in which men can walk hand in hand, and it has no sexual connotation.

Participants agreed that for many gays and lesbians, homosexuality is an important part of their identity, but added, "for some people who are not gay or straight, it has no sexual connotation." While some panel members felt particularly threatened by homosexuality because it constitutes a rejection of traditional male authority, others noted that in societies in which men can walk hand in hand, and it has no sexual connotation.

Participants agreed that for many gays and lesbians, homosexuality is an important part of their identity, but added, "for some people who are not gay or straight, it has no sexual connotation." While some panel members felt particularly threatened by homosexuality because it constitutes a rejection of traditional male authority, others noted that in societies in which men can walk hand in hand, and it has no sexual connotation.

Participants agreed that for many gays and lesbians, homosexuality is an important part of their identity, but added, "for some people who are not gay or straight, it has no sexual connotation." While some panel members felt particularly threatened by homosexuality because it constitutes a rejection of traditional male authority, others noted that in societies in which men can walk hand in hand, and it has no sexual connotation.
One-Woman Show

Bloom Blossoms As Shakespeare

If you have an inquiring mind, if you like to work with facts and figures - if you like to

A WHOLE NEW EXPERIENCE

IN DINING AT MAHARAJA

Indian Restaurant

110 South 40th Street, Phila. 2A 2-2245

Live Indian Music

Every Wednesday Evening

20% Discount with this coupon and a Valid Student I.D.

Review

Bloom taking center stage, becoming totally engrossed in a character and

WEEKLY SPECIALS

Short Walk-

Big Savings

ATTENTION DECEMBER GRADS!

IT'S THAT TIME OF YEAR!

SIGN UP FOR YEARBOOK PORTRAITS ON

Wednesday, November 11

Thursday, November 12

Friday, November 13

FROM 10-4

IN THE YEARBOOK OFFICE,

36th and HAMILTON WALK.

FUNDED BY S.A.C.

Interests in Medicine?

Come and hear about the admissions process from the deans themselves.

attended by:

- Harvard Medical School
- Johns Hopkins Medical School
- Rochester School of Medicine
- Albert Einstein School of Medicine

Wednesday, November 11

8:00 pm

High Rise South Rooftop

A question and answer session will follow.

sponsored by AED Premedical Honor Society
UA Rep Szczepkowski

"Those campus radicals who are..." (Continued from page 1)

Because "Ed Szczepkowski as having..."

and the threatening phone calls spoke in..."(243-5261) Pro-Law

"The UA should work in a more...

Admission and Live Music and Dancing
Cafe Ole

The Quality of a Foreign Medical Education and be guaranteed admission
Not in town or absence from school on the day of your examination
The cost of the examination

Thomas Jefferson Medical College of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
The All Stars
RABBINICAL AND CANTORIAL
JEWISH EDUCATION
- Jewish Theological Seminary of America Offers:
- The Quality of a Foreign Medical Education
- Not in town or absence from school the day of your examination
- The cost of the examination

STOP! GIVE BLOOD!

HOUStON HALL
Thursday, Nov. 12
12-5

UNGDERGRADUATE PSYCHOLOGY SOCIETY PRESENTS
PSYCHOLOGY PRE-REGISTRATION COFFEE HOURS
THURS., NOV. 12 & TUES., NOV. 17.
4:30-5:30
PSYCH. OFFICE BUILDING
ALL WELCOME

overseas schools
A FOUR-HOUR PRESENTATION
the Quality of a Foreign Medical Education
Not in town or absence from school on the day of your examination
The cost of the examination

Bernard Ferguson Esq.
Sheraton La Guardia
900 Grand Central Parkway
Fordham, New York 11377

Saturday, November 28
9:00-10:00 a.m.
FILMING & TAPE PROHIBITED

Bernard Ferguson Esq.
Bernard Ferguson Esq.
580 Broadway Suite 1501
BOSTON'S FINEST RHYTHM & BLUES BAND

Jesse Milan, New York University School of Law '81, & Professor Steven Reiss of the Law School, will visit the University of Pennsylvania on Friday, November 13, 1981, to speak with interested students about the Law School and the surrounding area. Small group interviews may be scheduled from 3:00 until 5:00 p.m. Contact Marilyn Thames, (243-5201) Pre-Law
Advisor for location.

interested in a career in the jewish professions or just want to study?
the Jewish Theological Seminary of America Offers undergraduates and graduate programs in all areas of rabbinical and cantorial training communal, womens, education scholar and israel programs

the ginger cafe

The chestnut cabaret

the senior class

Thanks
And Warmly Welcomes All
Seniors And Graduate Students
To Our
THURSDAY NITE PARTY
featuring
B. Willie Smith
-Boston's Finest Rhythm & Blues Band

- $1 Admission
and Membership with Penn I.D.
- Live Music and Dancing
- Thursday, Nov. 12
9 p.m.

Fri. - Sat.
Double Band Bonanza
Bill Blue Band
and The All Stars

The Chestnut Cabaret
38th & Chestnut St. (Entrance on 38th St.) 382-1201
2 Blocks from Grad Towers

Friday 5-9 Live Broadcast WIOQ
With David Dye

the chestnut cabaret
PARTY TONIGHT at Smookey Joe's
2 FOR 1
HOP. SKIP AND GO NAKED
featuring:
GUEST D.J.:
JOHN KOZAKIS
40th and Walnut
Come Early!

—Kappa Sigma Reacts—
(Continued from page 1)

"And Edwards characterized the atmosphere at the fraternity as "feral." "I would not address the long-lasting effects of her decision," he said. "It will have an impact on the life of the brotherhood and on the students who will hurt the quality of student life.
"Sommers said Monday that the University still supports the fraternity system, adding that the fraternity could even help strengthen that system.
"But it is not in the best interest of Penn's students or staff," Sommers said.
"The performing arts at Penn don't have real solidarity with the rest of the University."

"There is a lack of professionalism in the fraternity groups," he said. "We are trying to build an atmosphere of resection and to work together." He added that the University had established a _multiplicity of organizations that could be taught to the students."

The withdrawal of recognition, which they can be taught the recognized the fraternity's national organization, has

"We are considering giving it over to alumni could afford to maintain the fraternity facility," he said. "If we are not able to do that, we will consider giving it
to the fraternity group."

He warned that the move pointed to a future administrative trend against fraternities. "This is only the first of many decisions against fraternities," he said.

"I wouldn't change the program if it means satisfying with the theater arts
major."

Chairman Michael Siegmund said.

"The drama major is not designed for training to be a professional ac-
deur."

"The decision was made only after consideration of the student need for change in the academic program
agreed that much more emphasis
was placed on the laboratory
"The drama major is not designed
for training to be a professional ac-
deur."

"The decision was made only after consideration of the student need for
change in the academic program
agreed that much more emphasis
was placed on the laboratory
"The drama major is not designed
for training to be a professional ac-
deur.

"I think that the performing arts need a structure through which they can be taught the necessary skills," Student Ac-
tic Finance Committee Chairman Michael Sommers said.

"The SAC Finance Committee agreed that although the SAC finances many dramatic organizations on campus, supporting an expanded academic theater program would not be within its capacities."

"I think that a very dramatic environment at the fraternity as "bitter."

Those who said they saw a need to change the academic program
agreed that much more emphasis
should be placed on the laboratory
aspects of the performing arts.

And Edwards characterized the atmosphere at the fraternity as "feral."

"I would not address the long-lasting effects of her decision," he said. "It will have an impact on the life of the brotherhood and on the students who
will hurt the quality of student life.
"Sommers said Monday that the University still supports the fraternity system, adding that the fraternity could even help strengthen that system.
"But it is not in the best interest of Penn's students or staff," Sommers said.
"The performing arts at Penn don't have real solidarity with the rest of the University."

"We are considering giving it over to alumni could afford to maintain the fraternity facility," he said. "If we are not able to do that, we will consider giving it
to the fraternity group."

He warned that the move pointed
to a future administrative trend
against fraternities. "This is only the first of many decisions against fraternities," he said.

"I wouldn't change the program if
it means satisfying with the theater arts
major."

Chairman Michael Siegmund said.

"The drama major is not designed
for training to be a professional ac-
deur."

"The decision was made only after consideration of the student need for
change in the academic program
agreed that much more emphasis
was placed on the laboratory
"The drama major is not designed
for training to be a professional ac-
deur."

"I think that the performing arts
need a structure through which they can be taught the necessary skills," Student Ac-
tic Finance Committee Chairman Michael Sommers said.

"The SAC Finance Committee agreed that although the SAC finances many dramatic organizations on campus, supporting
an expanded academic theater program would not be within its
capacities."

"I think that a very dramatic
environment at the fraternity as "bitter."

Those who said they saw a need
to change the academic program
agreed that much more emphasis
should be placed on the laboratory
aspects of the performing arts.
Freshman John I.ope also showed a rankel's best game came against and a touchdown.
Freshman John I.ope also showed a gapie against Navy, but we got hurt by runt two weeks goes something like wkh Hiilfalo in I978, but that tell hm was put on the injured reserve list.
Seahawki In I976, but onlj caught live mined (his irend with the Seattle laurels after his sophomore year

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-
ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-
ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-
ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-
ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-
ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-
ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-
ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-
ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-
ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-
ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-
ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.

Boofter—

W. Cagers

Lightweights

Bond—

Dart Clune, shown here against Colorado in 1975, holds the By League meet-
ning month's top career receptions, yards, and touchdowns.
Ron Bond

An Unfamiliar Name In Some Familiar Activities

By DIANE HERBERT

Ronde Bond, who at first glance seems to be just another student at the University of Pennsylvania, is much more than meets the eye. He is the owner and operator of the Wagonhall, a popular student hangout in the heart of the city. Bond has been involved in the management of the Wagonhall for the past several years, and in that time, he has helped to transform it into one of the most popular student hangouts in the city. In addition to his work at the Wagonhall, Bond is also a successful entrepreneur, having started several businesses of his own. His commitment to providing a safe and enjoyable environment for students has earned him a reputation as a community leader, and he is widely respected for his contributions to the community.

New Floor

One Aspect Of Revised Palestra

ROBERT GODDARD

It is an era of transition at the University of Pennsylvania. The Palestra, the university's iconic athletic facility, is undergoing significant changes. One aspect of the changes is the new floor that has been installed. The new floor is designed to improve the safety and performance of athletes who use the facility. It is hoped that the new floor will enhance the overall experience for both athletes and spectators.

One Condition Left For Booters

By KEVIN KORN

A look at the current roster of the Pennsylvania lightweight football team, which has just suffered a setback. The team's hopes for a successful season may have been dashed by the loss of several key players. The team's head coach, David Fields, is determined to keep the team on track, despite the setbacks.

Clune: Penn's Greatest Catch

B-SETH PETERS

It has been 10 years since the last time that the Palestra was the site of a football game. In that time, the university has undergone significant changes. One of the most significant changes is the installation of the new floor. The new floor is designed to improve the safety and performance of athletes who use the facility. It is hoped that the new floor will enhance the overall experience for both athletes and spectators.