CHOP Surgeons Visit Poland on Medical Mission

By STEVEN NEVIN

A special medical mission from Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP) departed Sunday for a 10-day trip to Krakow, Poland, bringing with it 15 doctors, nurses and staff, plus $100,000 worth of medical equipment. The mission, arranged by Polish President Lech Walesa, is part of a joint effort by CHOP and six other hospitals around the world to help Poland establish better medical standards.

According to the Agency for International Development, an independent government agency, $6.5 million in aid has been given to Poland in the past three years. Currently, Poland is the Agency’s top priority for medical aid.

“Obviously, this was a service mission, but probably the most important aspect of the trip was to get the educational programs started over there,” said Dr. Rolf Krause. “The program is useful in keeping Polish medicine professional.”

President Thomas Ehrlich

The Agency for International Development, an independent government agency, has invested more than $6.5 million to help Poland improve its health care system. This year, the agency is expected to dole out another $5 million.

“This is a form of development more akin to the foreign aid given to the developing world,” Dr. Ehrlich said.

“Czechoslovakia and Poland are the most recent examples of a country that has gone through a socialist-to-capitalist transformation,” he said.

But student committee members recognized the obvious trade-offs of the trip in terms of cost, health care and personal development.

“Some of us are fighting for the trip,” he said, braving the front door of CHOP’s recreation center, “his semester, and we’re going to get paid with an ice cream.

The program is useful in keeping Polish medicine professional,” he added. “I love being a nursing assistant because you work with the patients,” he added. “The program is useful in keeping Polish medicine professional.”

Analysis Center Faces New Probe

By STEPHEN FAY

The Pennsylvania Senate’s investigation into the University of Pennsylvania’s purchase of a computer is about to get more difficult.

The investigation is “an effort to look at what the facts are,” said Dr. J. M. Hickey, the University’s provost.

“Any time questions are raised, and the answers are not forthcoming, it’s a matter of concern,” Dr. Hickey said.

The Senate’s probe was launched after a complaint by Colleen Kirby and Lisco, who claim they were not adequately represented in the computer purchase.

Dr. Hickey said that the University’s relationship with the state legislature has been strained, but he acknowledged that the state’s budget process has become “very difficult” to deal with.

Dr. Hickey said that the University’s relationship with the state legislature has been strained, but he acknowledged that the state’s budget process has become “very difficult” to deal with.

Altogether, Poland is under mortal law, the doctors and lawyers were urged to the trip, the fourth in a series of medical missions.

The agency’s goal is to improve the health care system in Poland, which is among the worst in Europe. "The hospital is extremely crowded, and most of the doctors are volunteers," said Dr. Krause.

An ad-hoc committee of students at the University of Pennsylvania was formed to discuss the issue. The committee also discussed the grading system in the University’s management and computer studies.

Dr. Ehrlich outlined his arguments against the grading system. He said that grading is "a very critical part of my education." Even more critical, he said, is the fact that the University gives credit for work done in the management and computer studies.

"I think that as a University we are interested in further involvement with the Computer Science and Engineering community," he said.

But student committee members recognized the obvious trade-offs of the trip in terms of cost, health care and personal development.

"We are fighting for the trip," he said, braving the front door of CHOP’s recreation center, "this semester, and we’re going to get paid with an ice cream.

The program is useful in keeping Polish medicine professional," he added. "The program is useful in keeping Polish medicine professional."
I'M.I     I

mere is no guarantee that a listing limit Due to the volume ol intrngs.
not be accepted by pnone 25 word through Friday Campus Events wilt events ol aulnorifod University Peonsydan."

The Daily

CHESS CLUB meets tonight. 3rd
BIOLOGICAL BASIS OF Behavior
Halt First one this semester, lots ol ARMENIAN CLUB Meeting.

m Vance Basement  New Members
AIESEC PENN General meeting.

Daily Pennsylva

Class ol 1925 House. 3940 Locust Topics will center on Reagan ad debate Wednesday. Febraury 10 ai COLLEGE DEMOCRATS and Col
Boor Houston Hall, trom

Hall For into call Rich 662 1126 upper level ol Hardees at Houston in the

PENN BRIDGE CLUB Play duplcate
TODAY
the college ring that will speak vol-collection of 14K gold college rings can order from the entire ArtCarved umes about you—and your achievedesigned in your own eyes and and save $25. Come and see the Economics Society

CLASS RINGS INC
1982 ArtCarved Class Rings. Inc
New, Class rings will be on RROW and Thursday February 11th welcome Christian Association. 8 ALLIANCE General Meeting topics
Old Mysore ' Mon Feb 15 at 400
FOLKLORE DEPARTMENT Collo-

and that he will
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
posed jump in defense spending,
Heart Attack

Love is in the Air

Flowers, candy, and secret messages will be given all over campus as students express their Valentine day sentiments to the ones they love.

Though some use the holiday as "cheat day" and take advantage of the opportunity to shower their spouses with affection, others enjoy it for what it is.

"I think it's a good excuse to show someone how you feel about them," Wharton freshman Jennifer Csonka said. Csonka was sending flowers to her boyfriend to make up for her performance at the junior prom.

Other emerging students are providing ways for members of the University community to celebrate the holiday.

College freshman Lloyd Miller and Wharton freshman Jonathan Haimoff, both of The Jewish Wife, were pleased with the way business was going, having made sales to about 60 people on Monday, including Loyola Harvard who purchased a bouquet for her husband. In addition to the flowers, a note was addressed to the person to whom the bouquet was given.

"There are a lot of serious dates, but a lot of funny ones, too," Miller said.

"The whole idea is to help people have a good time and make someone else feel good," Haimoff said.

Miller's stand, members of the Undergraduate English Council,猴子代购, a Jewish woman and her non-Jewish husband, which has been based on need and romance. The title is derived from the ability of the captive monkey to play back recorded points of the piece, and the desire of a man to erase the memories, and begin the affair over.

"Brecht shows what it was like for the people who lived in Nazi Germany in the early 1950s and the late 1970s. It examines the impact of the Stalinist era in Hungary on one man's life," Gerbner said.

The Jewish Wife, which focuses on individuals in relation to a specific political period, also examines the tension and conflict between the two women, their memories, and begin life again.

"Brecht shows what it was like for the people who lived in Nazi Germany in the early 1950s and the late 1970s. It examines the impact of the Stalinist era in Hungary on one man's life," Gerbner said.

"I have nothing against Valentine's Day," Schick said.

"I just think it would be more exciting if it didn't have to be Valentine's Day," Csonka said.

But Wynne Segall, a junior, said she was looking forward to Valentine's Day. "I think people need to express their feelings when they're like this," she said.

Yet there are some who believe that people will receive any of the gifts sold on Valentine's Day. Says Schick, "I don't think they've considered the problem by now - they're too far gone!"

"All our complaints are now coming from the students themselves, so we decided to have a lonely heart party on Valentine's Day," Schick said.

"I think it's an exciting way of celebrating Valentine's Day," Csonka said.

"I have nothing against Valentine's Day," Schick said.

"I just think it would be more exciting if it didn't have to be Valentine's Day," Csonka said.
Letters to the Editor

Hackney and Briallovsky

The Penn for Brailovsky Committee invites all members of the University to join President Hackney in the President's House on Monday, February 7, at 4 p.m. The presentation will take place at 5 p.m. on the front steps of the building.

Other

To the Editor:

I write, on behalf of the students and staff of the University of Pennsylvania, to express my extreme dismay and abiding disappointment. The University has been awarded the sale of the building at 3708 Chestnut Street. The University has been awarded the sale of the building at 3708 Chestnut Street. The University has been awarded the sale of the building at 3708 Chestnut Street.

Broken Promises and the Intercultural Center

The contesting proposal has the support of the community and support of the University and the City. The contesting proposal has the support of the community and support of the University and the City. The contesting proposal has the support of the community and support of the University and the City. The contesting proposal has the support of the community and support of the University and the City.

Letters

To the Editor:

We are writing to express our concern about the sale of the building at 3708 Chestnut Street. The sale of the building will be detrimental to the University and the community.

ZBT's Dance Marathon

The United Minorities Council is an organization that focuses on the needs of students with disabilities. We are writing to express our concern about the sale of the building at 3708 Chestnut Street. The sale of the building will be detrimental to the University and the community.

On Health

Sam Fager

Beating the Stomach Flu

Two consecutive issues have started from the page right hand side with the text not aligned. The text has been cut off and is incomplete. The text has been cut off and is incomplete. The text has been cut off and is incomplete. The text has been cut off and is incomplete. The text has been cut off and is incomplete.
Casino Night To Aid Civil Rights Marchers

By NINA L. SIGMA Chi fraternity will sponsor a casino night this Friday to help the Penn Coalition for Voter Rights raise money for its trip to Alabama to join a civil rights march.

Proceeds from a fraternity-run casino booth on Locust Walk and an upcoming Sigma Chi-hosted Casino Night at 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. this Saturday will also be donated to the cause.

"Every single brother stood up and said I was a good idea and a good cause," Sigma Chi Officer John Vaughan said yesterday. "I didn't quite have a pleasant surprise.

"The fraternity's casino, scheduled from 6 p.m. to 2 a.m., will have seven blackjack tables and a full bar, Goldman said. To insure against losses, Goldman said, the brothers sold the tables at $60 an hour, including three or four individual tables and pledges would be open again today.

"It's nice that the University encouraged us to continue, but I would like to see the students who want to go do it," he said.

Thank you for recycling this newspaper

MIDDLE EAST POLITICAL

Part one of an in-depth look at the interweaving political interesting of the many countries and individuals involved in Middle East Politics.

Adam Gacinin, Research Associate at the Foreign Policy Research Institute, will discuss Middle Eastern politics, including Mideastic arms alliances and foreign policy decision making.

Thursday 7-8 P.M., February 11

HILLEL AT PENN 202 SOUTH 36TH STREET

Thank you for recycling this newspaper

THE DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN - Wednesday, February 10, 1982
Tickets For Penn Players' Production of
As You Like It
Feb 18, 19, 20, 25, 26, 27
Are now on sale at the Annenberg Box Office and Locust Walk

Catch up on the news of the campus and the world.

THE QUEST OF THE SECRET CITY SWEEPSTAKES

here's a city in Europe— you could travel there free.
so unmelt these riddles, and uncover its key.

January 16th

TO PLAY THE GAME

Fill out the form below, and mail in before 5 p.m. January 16th.

2 WHAT AM I?

Upon a staff I sit,
I tell the name and pitch.
Not one, not two, but three,
Instruct the symphony.

Price: 83.50 (84 at the door)
Funded by Annual Giving

O'hara's Fish House presents
GETTING IT TOGETHER IN '82
WEDNESDAYS TONIGHT
AND EVERY WEDNESDAY 9pm - 2am

Available at:

THE BOOKSTORE
University of Pennsylvania

2 FOR 1 DRINKS

O'hara's
39th & Chestnut Streets
349-9000 daily till 2am
On Campus
A weekly look at student activities

The engagement plans of friends.

As the semester comes to a close, the events and activities planned by the Penn Political Union are the right place to start. At their weekly meetings, members and members of the party take time out from their studies to discuss issues and learn about each other's concerns and ideas.

Graduate School of Education student Ralph Mullinger said last night, "(The libertarians) are against any freedom, and say they welcome out-laws."

"I don't think you should help anyone - except a close friend or relative," Bobbitt, a student said.

The group finished discussing their formal topic, they turned to social questions. As usual, the conversations were very oriented towards discussion of general ideas than particular issues.

A large group is one of the things they are against. The members said they were in a minority. There is no such thing as a leadership."

"I said 'so what. I'm Jewish, too,'" the members added. "I said I was, and told her about the meeting - that it was exciting - and asked her if she wanted to go. She was hesitant and said she wasn't sure, but then the party was discussing the Jewish question, and I said, 'She was Jewish because the Jews were so beautiful,' "

"I said to whom, the Jews too, and she said the thought libertarians were fascists, who believed in the majority, that they arc against. They help them to solve a few too many times. These three groups are,整个 the way through important,"" the students added.

"The members saw they were in a group of 22 that it was exciting and asked her if she wanted to go. She was hesitant and said she wasn't sure, but then the party was discussing the Jewish question, and I said, 'She was Jewish because the Jews were so beautiful,' "

"I said to whom, the Jews too, and she said the thought libertarians were fascists, who believed in the majority, that they arc against. They help them to solve a few too many times. These three groups are, whole the way through important,"" the students added.

"The members saw they were in a group of 22 that it was exciting and asked her if she wanted to go. She was hesitant and said she wasn't sure, but then the party was discussing the Jewish question, and I said, 'She was Jewish because the Jews were so beautiful,' "

"I said to whom, the Jews too, and she said the thought libertarians were fascists, who believed in the majority, that they arc against. They help them to solve a few too many times. These three groups are, whole the way through important,"" the students added.

"The members saw they were in a group of 22 that it was exciting and asked her if she wanted to go. She was hesitant and said she wasn't sure, but then the party was discussing the Jewish question, and I said, 'She was Jewish because the Jews were so beautiful,' "

"I said to whom, the Jews too, and she said the thought libertarians were fascists, who believed in the majority, that they arc against. They help them to solve a few too many times. These three groups are, whole the way through important,"" the students added.

"The members saw they were in a group of 22 that it was exciting and asked her if she wanted to go. She was hesitant and said she wasn't sure, but then the party was discussing the Jewish question, and I said, 'She was Jewish because the Jews were so beautiful,' "

"I said to whom, the Jews too, and she said the thought libertarians were fascists, who believed in the majority, that they arc against. They help them to solve a few too many times. These three groups are, whole the way through important,"" the students added.

"The members saw they were in a group of 22 that it was exciting and asked her if she wanted to go. She was hesitant and said she wasn't sure, but then the party was discussing the Jewish question, and I said, 'She was Jewish because the Jews were so beautiful,' "

"I said to whom, the Jews too, and she said the thought libertarians were fascists, who believed in the majority, that they arc against. They help them to solve a few too many times. These three groups are, whole the way through important,"" the students added.

"The members saw they were in a group of 22 that it was exciting and asked her if she wanted to go. She was hesitant and said she wasn't sure, but then the party was discussing the Jewish question, and I said, 'She was Jewish because the Jews were so beautiful,' "

"I said to whom, the Jews too, and she said the thought libertarians were fascists, who believed in the majority, that they arc against. They help them to solve a few too many times. These three groups are, whole the way through important,"" the students added.

"The members saw they were in a group of 22 that it was exciting and asked her if she wanted to go. She was hesitant and said she wasn't sure, but then the party was discussing the Jewish question, and I said, 'She was Jewish because the Jews were so beautiful,' "

"I said to whom, the Jews too, and she said the thought libertarians were fascists, who believed in the majority, that they arc against. They help them to solve a few too many times. These three groups are, whole the way through important,"" the students added.

"The members saw they were in a group of 22 that it was exciting and asked her if she wanted to go. She was hesitant and said she wasn't sure, but then the party was discussing the Jewish question, and I said, 'She was Jewish because the Jews were so beautiful,' "

"I said to whom, the Jews too, and she said the thought libertarians were fascists, who believed in the majority, that they arc against. They help them to solve a few too many times. These three groups are, whole the way through important,"" the students added.

"The members saw they were in a group of 22 that it was exciting and asked her if she wanted to go. She was hesitant and said she wasn't sure, but then the party was discussing the Jewish question, and I said, 'She was Jewish because the Jews were so beautiful,' "

"I said to whom, the Jews too, and she said the thought libertarians were fascists, who believed in the majority, that they arc against. They help them to solve a few too many times. These three groups are, whole the way through important,"" the students added.

"The members saw they were in a group of 22 that it was exciting and asked her if she wanted to go. She was hesitant and said she wasn't sure, but then the party was discussing the Jewish question, and I said, 'She was Jewish because the Jews were so beautiful,' "

"I said to whom, the Jews too, and she said the thought libertarians were fascists, who believed in the majority, that they arc against. They help them to solve a few too many times. These three groups are, whole the way through important,"" the students added.

"The members saw they were in a group of 22 that it was exciting and asked her if she wanted to go. She was hesitant and said she wasn't sure, but then the party was discussing the Jewish question, and I said, 'She was Jewish because the Jews were so beautiful,' "

"I said to whom, the Jews too, and she said the thought libertarians were fascists, who believed in the majority, that they arc against. They help them to solve a few too many times. These three groups are, whole the way through important,"" the students added.
INTERVIEW

Many Senior $30,000.00-Room for new employees. The program was opened by Dr. John W. Smith, the President of our University. He stated that the program was designed to give new employees an opportunity to learn about the University and its policies. He also mentioned the importance of new employees in the success of the University.

The program was attended by approximately 50 employees. The attendees included faculty members, staff members, and students.

TOWNHOUSES & Apartments

CALL 382-1300

4043 WALNUT

CALL BY FEBRUARY 1ST FOR THE BEST FROM THE LARGEST SELECTION IN UNIVERSITY CITY

Spend the Night at The Chestnut Cabaret with Big Street!

- Live Rock & Roll Party Band.
- Tonight! 9 P.M.

Chestnut Cabaret

38th & Chestnut St.
382-1201

Proof of Age Required.

College Life

Topic: The Success Fantasy

Speaker: Dr. Anthony Camplota
Former Professor of Sociology
University of Pennsylvania

Sponsored by: Campus Crusade for Christ

English House
Duncan Lounge

FREE PIZZA & Refreshments

TOWNHOUSES & Apartments

CALL 382-1300

4043 WALNUT

CALL BY FEBRUARY 1ST FOR THE BEST FROM THE LARGEST SELECTION IN UNIVERSITY CITY

Spend the Night at The Chestnut Cabaret with Big Street!

- Live Rock & Roll Party Band.
- Tonight! 9 P.M.

Chestnut Cabaret

38th & Chestnut St.
382-1201

Proof of Age Required.
Committee To Hear Allegations Against Wharton Analysis Center

By STEFANIA WALTERS

The University will commission a preliminary investigation into the Wharton Analysis Center later this week or next, after the case was referred to the center's grievance panel.

Ken Keene, a former student, remarried at the center, along with other students and employees, on Saturday. The matter was referred to the center's grievance panel by Joseph S. Seward, the center's director.

Keene said yesterday he has not consulted the preliminary investigation, which after the 30-day period expired last month, has not been completed because the center has not decided whether to proceed with the case.

Keene said he will continue to investigate Keene's complaint, adding that he has not yet met with center associate director Robert Seward to discuss the case.

"We're pleased that DeSeve could be available at this time," said Nagel. "It's important that we have people on hand to talk with students who are interested in the topic, having recently heard it on the campus.

"We're going to work more quickly as possible." She said.

"Maybe a three-member panel consisting of students and center employees, who would be determined by the center, would be able to work more quickly," said Nagel. "It's worth the time to get the right people on the panel to see what happened."

The forum will take place at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Zellerbach Theatre.

The forum will feature discussions of three different topics: the adoption of the New Federalism proposals and their effects on state and local governments; the implications of the new federalism with regard to state and local politics; and the experience of New Federalism with regard to state and local policies.

"We're going to work more quickly as possible," said Nagel. "It's important that we have people on hand to talk with students who are interested in the topic, having recently heard it on the campus.

"We're going to work more quickly as possible." She said.

"Maybe a three-member panel consisting of students and center employees, who would be determined by the center, would be able to work more quickly," said Nagel. "It's worth the time to get the right people on the panel to see what happened."

The forum will take place at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Zellerbach Theatre.

The forum will feature discussions of three different topics: the adoption of the New Federalism proposals and their effects on state and local governments; the implications of the new federalism with regard to state and local politics; and the experience of New Federalism with regard to state and local policies.

"We're going to work more quickly as possible," said Nagel. "It's important that we have people on hand to talk with students who are interested in the topic, having recently heard it on the campus.

"We're going to work more quickly as possible." She said.

"Maybe a three-member panel consisting of students and center employees, who would be determined by the center, would be able to work more quickly," said Nagel. "It's worth the time to get the right people on the panel to see what happened."

The forum will take place at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Zellerbach Theatre.

The forum will feature discussions of three different topics: the adoption of the New Federalism proposals and their effects on state and local governments; the implications of the new federalism with regard to state and local politics; and the experience of New Federalism with regard to state and local policies.

"We're going to work more quickly as possible," said Nagel. "It's important that we have people on hand to talk with students who are interested in the topic, having recently heard it on the campus.

"We're going to work more quickly as possible." She said.

"Maybe a three-member panel consisting of students and center employees, who would be determined by the center, would be able to work more quickly," said Nagel. "It's worth the time to get the right people on the panel to see what happened."

The forum will take place at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Zellerbach Theatre.

The forum will feature discussions of three different topics: the adoption of the New Federalism proposals and their effects on state and local governments; the implications of the new federalism with regard to state and local politics; and the experience of New Federalism with regard to state and local policies.

"We're going to work more quickly as possible," said Nagel. "It's important that we have people on hand to talk with students who are interested in the topic, having recently heard it on the campus.

"We're going to work more quickly as possible." She said.
THE EIGHTH ANNUAL KITE AND KEY
ANNUAL GIVING
STUDENT TELETHON
Come and call Penn Alumni around the country
February 15, 16, 17, 18, 22, 23, 24, 25
The calling begins each night at 6:30 pm in the Franklin Building
SPECIAL CALIFORNIA CALLING NIGHT
February 18th
Phone from 9 PM to 12 PM
Pizza for everyone!
CALL ALONE or WITH A GROUP
PRIZES GALORE
It's 8 nights of fun, food, and competition-and your roommates won't tell you to get off the phone
For information call George Ha in 243-8445 or Wendy Silverman 222-3048

ATTENTION! BLACK ARTISTS & ARTISTS ADDRESSING THE BLACK EXPERIENCE
If interested in exhibiting in a show in The Houston Hall Art Gallery in celebration of Year 101 (a continuation of the Celebration of Black Presence at Penn).
Please bring your work to The Houston Hall Art Gallery: FRIDAY, FEB. 12 bet. *10 & 6
Call: 662-0287, 222-2841 or 387-5710

LUNCH AND LEARN
SCROLL OF ESTHER
Learn how to read and chant the story of Purim: the holiday of joy, the celebration of life beyond the confines of good and evil.
On Purification Wednesday
12:15 P.M.
FOLKLORE, MEDAR AHADAN A discussion of the folklore and tales in Rabbinic and general Jewish literature.
Radio Free Work Thursday 12:1 P.M.
HILLIE 202 SOUTH 38TH
Pass-Fail

It started from the fear of students 'failing' or 'passing' in certain classes, especially when it came to language courses. According to Professor Laks, a case study showed that students were more likely to succeed in a pass-fail system due to a more relaxed grading policy that allowed for a pass or fail grade. However, this system raised concerns among some faculty members who argued that it could lead to a decrease in academic standards.

"It's important to have a system in place where students are not penalized for taking on difficult courses," said Professor Laks. "But at the same time, we need to ensure that the grading system is fair and consistently applied."

The debate on pass-fail grading continues, with some faculty members pushing for its elimination to maintain the integrity of academic standards. However, others argue that it provides an alternative grading option for students who might not otherwise succeed in a traditional grading system.
Male Nurses

"I'm not pro-war, but it we are going to war, I'm going back to the hospital," said one of the male students. "I have a lot of respect for the nurses who are on the front lines." He went on to say that he was a pre-law student and he is going back to the hospital because he wants to work with people who are in need of medical care. He added that he is going back to the hospital because he wants to work with people who are in need of medical care.

Another male nursing student shared his story. "I'm not a typical nursing student," he said. "I've been working in the medical field for a few years now. I've seen a lot of things." He went on to say that he has chosen nursing because he wants to help people. "I think nursing is a very natural role for human beings," he said. "It's very natural to help people."

The Shops of Houston Hall
Houston Hall Lower Level
Open Daily 8-6
Saturday 10-4
Sunday 11-4

Booz-Allen & Hamilton, Eastern Region Office, is seeking 1982 graduates to work as Research Associates.

Booz-Allen & Hamilton Inc. is a leading international consulting firm working with companies on issues of strategy, marketing, technology, and other top management concerns. The Research Associate position is for a two year period and exclusively for graduates who will have applied or plan to apply to a top MBA program. Candidates should have outstanding records of academic achievement and prior exposure to the business environment. Interested candidates should send resume, undergraduate transcripts, list of business schools applied to, and GMAT scores by February 18 to:

Lisa Mucke
ATT: RESEARCH ASSOCIATE PROGRAM
BOOZ-ALLEN & HAMILTON
245 Park Avenue
New York, New York 10007

BOOZ-ALLEN & HAMILTON INC

We are an equal opportunity employer M/F.
RAILWAYS

If you're looking for a place to relax and enjoy a good book, consider visiting the Ramblewood Library. They offer a wide selection of fiction, non-fiction, and children's books. Open every day from 9 am to 9 pm. Located at 123 Library Lane, Ramblewood. Call 123-4567 for more information.

---

Mom’s Night Out

Join us for a night of fun and relaxation at Mom’s Night Out. Enjoy a variety of activities, including karaoke, games, and a delicious dinner. The event is for mothers and their children. Location: Ramblewood Community Center. Date: 12/31. Cost: $15 per family. Call 123-4567 for more information.

---

 Interested in Joining a Book Club?

Ramblewood Library offers a free book club for adults. Meet with other book lovers to discuss your favorite reads. Meetings are held the first Monday of each month at 7 pm. Contact the library for more information.

---

Craft Workshop

Learn a new craft and have fun with others at our monthly craft workshop. This month we will be making homemade candles. Date: 1/15. Location: Ramblewood Community Center. Call 123-4567 for more information.

---

Wanted: Volunteer Bookshelf Organizers

Volunteer to organize the library’s bookshelf. This is a great opportunity to help others find their next great read while keeping the library’s collection organized. Contact the library for more information.

---

Library News

The Ramblewood Library is excited to announce the opening of our new children’s section. The area features a reading nook, games, and a variety of books for kids of all ages. Come and explore the new space. Located in the main library. Open daily.
Quakers Leave Owls in the Dark, 59-56

By Peter Edelmann

The Quakers scored 13 straight points in the second half to turn a close game into a rout.

Pennsylvania's Michael Brown (41) struggles for a loose ball with Temple's Keith Mayerson (3) and Lauren Hall (13) during the Quakers' first Ivy League victory of the season last night.

Pennsylvania's coach John Vivlors "I did a bad job of coaching all night. But Brown (13) tallied a season-high 24 points, which included six three-pointers and five free throws. Brown's performance helped the Quakers overcome a sluggish first half and secure the lead for good.

In the first half, the Owls were able to hold the Quakers to just 28 points, but a 21-7 run in the second half sealed the Owls' fate. Brown's scoring helped to fuel the Quakers' comeback, scoring 14 of his 24 points in the second half.

The Owls' defense was unable to contain Brown, as he scored 16 points in the second half alone. Despite the Owls' efforts to limit Brown, he continued to dominate the game, scoring 14 points in the second half.

Overall, the Quakers outscored the Owls 59-56, with Brown leading the way with 24 points. The Owls' score of 56 was their lowest of the season, and their 59-point loss was their largest of the year.

Well-Balanced Attack Leads Cagers to Big Five Win

By Jefg Bronstein

The Quakers captured their first Ivy League victory of the season last night, defeating Temple 88-70. The win was led by a well-rounded attack, with 10 Quakers scoring in double figures.

The Quakers, who entered the game with a 4-9 record, dominated from the opening tip. They used a 10-0 run to take an early 8-0 lead, and never looked back.

In the second half, the Quakers used a 17-2 run to turn a close game into a rout. The Owls were able to keep the game within single digits for most of the second half, but the Quakers used a balanced attack to pull away.

Brown led the Quakers with 30 points, shooting 11-17 from the field and 3-3 from the foul line. He also had 11 rebounds and four assists.

The Owls were led by guard Jon Aronson, who scored 14 points and added four assists. But it was too little too late, as the Quakers cruised to victory with a strong performance from their bench as well.

The win was a welcome relief for the Quakers, who had lost their last five games. It marked the first time since November 25 that the Quakers had won a regular season Ivy League game.

Muggs Outfield Leads Thanksgiving Day Game

By Jefg Bronstein

The Quakers defeated Temple 88-70 last night, led by a balanced attack and strong defense.

The Owls were led by guard Jon Aronson, who scored 14 points and added four assists. But it was too little too late, as the Quakers cruised to victory with a strong performance from their bench as well.

The win was a welcome relief for the Quakers, who had lost their last five games. It marked the first time since November 25 that the Quakers had won a regular season Ivy League game.

The Owls were led by guard Jon Aronson, who scored 14 points and added four assists. But it was too little too late, as the Quakers cruised to victory with a strong performance from their bench as well.