U. Industry Conference Attracts World Leaders

By MICHAEL NADEN

Announcing the opening of the International Industry Conference on the Global Economy and Trade, Mr. Naden, president of the International Industry Corporation, said, "The conference will take place next week in New York City. It will bring together leading experts from around the world to discuss the latest trends and developments in the global economy. The conference will cover a range of topics, including international trade, finance, and technology. We are very excited about the opportunity to bring together such a diverse and knowledgeable group of speakers and to share their insights with the attendees."
VAN PELT COLLEGE HOUSE
The University Reading Improvement Service present a study-skills workshop for all members of the University community:
TIME MANAGEMENT
Tuesday, October 26th, 7 P.M.

Penney's Colleague Houses supported by a grant from the Office of the Vice Provost for University Life

NEWS IN BRIEF

Israel Begins Massacre Investigation

JERUSALEM - Defense Minister Ariel Sharon, in testimony to the commission probing the Beitar massacre, took responsibility personally for bringing about the massacre last week, the Israeli Prime Minister, Yitzhak Rabin, denied.' "It was not me," Rabin said. "It was my responsibility as Prime Minister." Sharon said that he had told Rabin about the decision to kill the Palestinians the night before the massacre. "I told him that this was a decision that should have been made in the cabinet," Sharon said.

TIMELINE

October 26, 1978: The Beitar massacre occurred in the occupied territories of the West Bank and Gaza Strip, killing 31 people and injuring 120. The massacre was carried out by Israeli soldiers and civilians, who were opposed to the Israeli government's policy of returning Palestinian refugees to their homes.

October 27, 1978: Sharon's testimony before the commission was published.

VOLUNTEER EUPHRAST OR 1973

Rabbi Louis D. Levine, executive director of the Council for Jewish Intellectual Life, has been elected to the presidency of the American Jewish Congress. He will succeed Rabbi Joseph H. David, who has been president since 1973.

Rabbi Levine, 41, is the first non-Yiddish-speaking Jew to be elected to the presidency of the American Jewish Congress.

The American Jewish Congress is a non-profit organization dedicated to the prevention of anti-Semitism and the promotion of Jewish values and cultural traditions.

The organization's membership is made up of over 1,500 organizations, Jewish community councils, and Jewish community centers.

The American Jewish Congress has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The American Jewish Congress is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.

The organization is headquartered in New York City and has offices in Washington, D.C., and other major cities in the United States.

The organization is funded by membership dues, donations, and contributions from foundations, corporations, and individuals.

The organization's mission is to promote the well-being of the Jewish community and the promotion of peace and justice around the world.

The organization has a long history of fighting against anti-Semitism and has been instrumental in the establishment of the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women and the United Nations' Committee on the Status of Women's Rights.

The organization has also been active in the fight against discrimination against Jews and has been a leader in the struggle for the rights of Jews in the Soviet Union.
Public Masses Behind City Managing Director

By DAVID FORMON
A growing number of Philadelphia voters believe that Goode is best.

The committee has over 17,000

Penn Israel Alliance presents:

HIRSH GOODMAN*
Military Correspondent for the Jerusalem Post

Speaking on:

“JUNE, 1982”
WHAT HAPPENED?
WHY DID ISRAEL INVADE LEBANON?

Wednesday, Oct. 27 4:00 p.m. Fine Arts 8-1

All Welcome*

*Arrangements for Hirsh Goodman made through the Israel International Liaison Bureau.

For further information, contact the InterAmerican Institute of Science and Culture and the InterAmerican Relations Society for more info.

Tuesday / City Limits

Public Masses Behind City Managing Director

By DAVID FORMON
A growing number of Philadelphia voters believe that Goode is best.

The committee has over 17,000

Penn Israel Alliance presents:

HIRSH GOODMAN*
Military Correspondent for the Jerusalem Post

Speaking on:

“JUNE, 1982”
WHAT HAPPENED?
WHY DID ISRAEL INVADE LEBANON?

Wednesday, Oct. 27 4:00 p.m. Fine Arts 8-1

All Welcome*

*Arrangements for Hirsh Goodman made through the Israel International Liaison Bureau.

For further information, contact the InterAmerican Institute of Science and Culture and the InterAmerican Relations Society for more info.

Tuesday / City Limits

Public Masses Behind City Managing Director

By DAVID FORMON
A growing number of Philadelphia voters believe that Goode is best.

The committee has over 17,000

Penn Israel Alliance presents:

HIRSH GOODMAN*
Military Correspondent for the Jerusalem Post

Speaking on:

“JUNE, 1982”
WHAT HAPPENED?
WHY DID ISRAEL INVADE LEBANON?

Wednesday, Oct. 27 4:00 p.m. Fine Arts 8-1

All Welcome*

*Arrangements for Hirsh Goodman made through the Israel International Liaison Bureau.

For further information, contact the InterAmerican Institute of Science and Culture and the InterAmerican Relations Society for more info.

Tuesday / City Limits

Public Masses Behind City Managing Director

By DAVID FORMON
A growing number of Philadelphia voters believe that Goode is best.

The committee has over 17,000

Penn Israel Alliance presents:

HIRSH GOODMAN*
Military Correspondent for the Jerusalem Post

Speaking on:

“JUNE, 1982”
WHAT HAPPENED?
WHY DID ISRAEL INVADE LEBANON?

Wednesday, Oct. 27 4:00 p.m. Fine Arts 8-1

All Welcome*

*Arrangements for Hirsh Goodman made through the Israel International Liaison Bureau.

For further information, contact the InterAmerican Institute of Science and Culture and the InterAmerican Relations Society for more info.
The Right Maneuver

They see that everyone has his price. The decision by the Law School to prohibit the army from using its facilities to recruit non-handicapped, homosexual students should be applauded and adopted on a University-wide basis. But it appears that necessary considerations in the form of approximately $10 million in Defense Department contracts would have to be scrapped, if we act on our convictions. And this is assuming a considerable amount of thought, as of the current comment.

Tomorrow, the University Council Steering Committee will decide whether future recruitment can continue on University facilities although this does not comply with the University’s non-recruitment policy. The army has regulations prohibiting the hiring of handicapped and female personnel, and according to the University’s guidelines this makes them ineligible to use University facilities for recruiting purposes.

The Steering Committee shouldn’t have all that much trouble making up its mind — the rules are plainly spelled out. The army can either change their policies or find other uses for their facilities for recruiting purposes.

Ohman

Dear Dail Pennsylvanian,

If this polices had been formulated back in the good old days of the Renninger committee, N. shorts would have been required at all times. We have become those who look like we actually played in the basketball game. We have become men who only look like we are playing in the game. We have become men who play on the team just because we would be 'offended' if we didn’t play.

Resentment Brewing?

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter in response to the editorial which appeared on the front page of The Dally Pennsylvanian on October 20, 1982. I wish to address some of the points made in this article, as I believe they are misleading and do not accurately represent the views of the students.

1. The article states that the Planning Statement is an attempt to create a more cohesive and effective planning process. However, I believe that this statement is based on a misunderstanding of the Planning Statement.

2. The article claims that the Planning Statement is being used to justify the restructuring of the Undergraduate Assembly. However, I believe that this statement is also based on a misunderstanding of the Planning Statement.

3. The article states that the Planning Statement is being used to justify the restructuring of the Undergraduate Assembly. However, I believe that this statement is also based on a misunderstanding of the Planning Statement.

I hope that you will take the time to consider these points before publishing any further articles on this topic.

Sincerely,

Letters to the Editor

Resentment Brewing?

Dear Editor,

I read with interest the recent article in The Dally Pennsylvanian regarding the Planning Statement. I would like to express my concern about the way in which this statement is being used.

The Planning Statement was introduced as a way to improve the planning process on campus. However, I believe that the way in which it is being used is more about restructuring the University community than about planning.

I urge you to consider the implications of the Planning Statement before making any final decisions. I believe that it is important to ensure that the Planning Statement is used for the benefit of the students, rather than being used as a tool for restructuring.

Sincerely,

BLOOM COUNTY

Quotation of the Day

"Everything in moderation, except moderation.

-P. J. O’Rourke, College '82"
Professor Researches Public TV

Study Tells Ways for PBS To Attract Audience

By WALTER MULLIN
Philadelphia Daily News

Public television is in a state of permanent renaissance. In 1970, it was a novelty. Today, it is a cornerstone of America's educational system. The question is: How can it attract a wider range of viewers?

The study by Marshall Greenburg, completed for the Public Broadcasting Service, offers some answers.

Marshall Greenburg, a senior public relations counselor, said that the Public Broadcasting System wants to attract a wide range of viewers to public television and a substantial new audience could result.

Greenburg added that some programs in recent years have not been successful without sacrificing the quality of public television's intellectual programming.

The study, funded by the Public Broadcasting Service, was presented to the Executive Committee of the National Association of Broadcasters in Philadelphia.

Greenburg said that PBS has already added that some programs in recent years have not been successful without sacrificing the quality of public television's intellectual programming.

The study, funded by the Public Broadcasting Service, was presented to the Executive Committee of the National Association of Broadcasters in Philadelphia.

Greenburg said that PBS has already added that some programs in recent years have not been successful without sacrificing the quality of public television's intellectual programming.

The study, funded by the Public Broadcasting Service, was presented to the Executive Committee of the National Association of Broadcasters in Philadelphia.

Greenburg said that PBS has already added that some programs in recent years have not been successful without sacrificing the quality of public television's intellectual programming.

The study, funded by the Public Broadcasting Service, was presented to the Executive Committee of the National Association of Broadcasters in Philadelphia.

Greenburg said that PBS has already added that some programs in recent years have not been successful without sacrificing the quality of public television's intellectual programming.

The study, funded by the Public Broadcasting Service, was presented to the Executive Committee of the National Association of Broadcasters in Philadelphia.

Greenburg said that PBS has already added that some programs in recent years have not been successful without sacrificing the quality of public television's intellectual programming.

The study, funded by the Public Broadcasting Service, was presented to the Executive Committee of the National Association of Broadcasters in Philadelphia.

Greenburg said that PBS has already added that some programs in recent years have not been successful without sacrificing the quality of public television's intellectual programming.

The study, funded by the Public Broadcasting Service, was presented to the Executive Committee of the National Association of Broadcasters in Philadelphia.

Greenburg said that PBS has already added that some programs in recent years have not been successful without sacrificing the quality of public television's intellectual programming.

The study, funded by the Public Broadcasting Service, was presented to the Executive Committee of the National Association of Broadcasters in Philadelphia.

Greenburg said that PBS has already added that some programs in recent years have not been successful without sacrificing the quality of public television's intellectual programming.

The study, funded by the Public Broadcasting Service, was presented to the Executive Committee of the National Association of Broadcasters in Philadelphia.

Greenburg said that PBS has already added that some programs in recent years have not been successful without sacrificing the quality of public television's intellectual programming.

The study, funded by the Public Broadcasting Service, was presented to the Executive Committee of the National Association of Broadcasters in Philadelphia.

Greenburg said that PBS has already added that some programs in recent years have not been successful without sacrificing the quality of public television's intellectual programming.
Psycho-Social Center Eases Fears

People associate cancer with death, but there's been dramatic progress made.

People are increasingly unique and having cancer doesn't make them the same..." People say. "Cancer is another problem. When people are long-term the same problems are the same."

"It's strikingly impressive that we have the ability to overcome the most horrendous difficulties," says.

"Many of the most difficult patient experiences come from the medical treatment for the disease. They're scared about the idea of side effects, about treatments or side effects..." People say. "We've observed that there's no need to have to deal with these side effects..." People say.

"The definition applies to the program is usually to be referred. We're going to have the medical physician's..." People say. Compounding the problem while the patient is still at the hospital, and staff continues to work with the patient and the family. After the patient is elderly..." People say. "It's a service for patients who are in pain..." People say. "But, don't wait too long. T..." People say.

"When you work with these people, you don't care they..." People say. "You alleviate the pressure and intensity..." People say. "We work with the patients..." People say. "It's a good relationship between the families and the patients..." People say. "We have to support them."

"People get scared that it's not going to be good, they're not going to be able to do it."

"The definition applies to the program is usually to be referred. We're going to have the medical physician's..." People say. Compounding the problem while the patient is still at the hospital, and staff continues to work with the patient and the family. After the patient is elderly..." People say. "It's a service for patients who are in pain..." People say. "But, don't wait too long. T..." People say.

"When you work with these people, you don't care they..." People say. "You alleviate the pressure and intensity..." People say. "We work with the patients..." People say. "It's a good relationship between the families and the patients..." People say. "We have to support them."

The definition applies to the program is usually to be referred. We're going to have the medical physician's..." People say. Compounding the problem while the patient is still at the hospital, and staff continues to work with the patient and the family. After the patient is elderly..." People say. "It's a service for patients who are in pain..." People say. "But, don't wait too long. T..." People say.
LWTS. FORGOT TO BRING PENTAGON TO WEST POINT

JOE GOLDIN

Peten’s lightweight football team went 1-2 when they came up against Army. Working over two years, they lost an entire part of their team’s body, which they chose to cope with stylistically.

After the 1982 season, Peten had 1-14-1 in the Atlantic Ten Conference. The Quakers are also looking at some new faces this year, including a group of young and physically fit players.

The Quakers have four games scheduled against Army, Navy, Rutgers and Temple. In 1982, the team had 1-14-1 and is looking to improve in a variety of categories, including a variety of injuries and illnesses.

Coach Bill Wagner’s team will be no different from the previous years. The Quakers are looking to improve in a variety of categories, including a variety of injuries and illnesses.

Wagner said: “I think the Quakers are going to be very competitive this year. We’ve got a good group of players and we’re looking to improve in a variety of categories, including a variety of injuries and illnesses.”

The Quakers are looking to improve in a variety of categories, including a variety of injuries and illnesses.

“Coach Wagner is a great coach and I think he’s going to do a good job this year,” said one player.

Wagner added: “I think we’ve got a lot of talent and we’re going to be very competitive this year. We’ve got a lot of guys who can play and I think we’re going to be very competitive this year.”

The Quakers are looking to improve in a variety of categories, including a variety of injuries and illnesses.

“Coach Wagner is a great coach and I think he’s going to do a good job this year,” said one player.

Wagner added: “I think we’ve got a lot of talent and we’re going to be very competitive this year. We’ve got a lot of guys who can play and I think we’re going to be very competitive this year.”

The Quakers are looking to improve in a variety of categories, including a variety of injuries and illnesses.

“Coach Wagner is a great coach and I think he’s going to do a good job this year,” said one player.

Wagner added: “I think we’ve got a lot of talent and we’re going to be very competitive this year. We’ve got a lot of guys who can play and I think we’re going to be very competitive this year.”

The Quakers are looking to improve in a variety of categories, including a variety of injuries and illnesses.

“Coach Wagner is a great coach and I think he’s going to do a good job this year,” said one player.

Wagner added: “I think we’ve got a lot of talent and we’re going to be very competitive this year. We’ve got a lot of guys who can play and I think we’re going to be very competitive this year.”
Talented Toes

Shulman, Bottimore: Footing the Bill

B. ROBERTSON

When Dave Shulman was in high school, the only thing he wanted to do was kick. And when he got to the University of Pennsylvania, he found that the Owls needed someone to fill the void left by the graduating seniors, so he was given the opportunity to shine.

"The first thing I noticed was that we had some kicking problems," Shulman said. "I was brought in to work on that issue, and I was a football player, so it was a good fit."

Shulman, a junior from Haddonfield, N.J., has been the Owls' starting placekicker since the first game of the season and has taken on the characteristics of a star.

"I think he's one of the best kickers in the country," said Julia Russell, the Owls' special teams coordinator. "He has a great leg and a great mindset."

"He's a natural," said Kevin Beccattini, the Owls' assistant coach. "He has a great feel for the game and has been a great leader for our team."

With Shulman's success, the Owls have been able to score points on special teams, which has been a key factor in their success this season.

"He has been a tremendous asset to our team," Beccattini said. "He has been a key part of our special teams and has been a great leader for our team."

Shulman's performance has not gone unnoticed, and he has been recognized for his efforts.

"He is a great player," said John Paul, the Owls' long snapper. "He is a natural leader and has been a great addition to our team."

"He is a great player," said Peter Paul, the Owls' punter. "He is a natural leader and has been a great addition to our team."

"He is a great player," said Mary, the Owls' placekicker. "He is a natural leader and has been a great addition to our team."

"He is a great player," said John Paul, the Owls' punter. "He is a natural leader and has been a great addition to our team."

"He is a great player," said Peter Paul, the Owls' long snapper. "He is a natural leader and has been a great addition to our team."

"He is a great player," said Mary, the Owls' placekicker. "He is a natural leader and has been a great addition to our team.

Fleisher & Delaney

Delaney, a junior from Stockton, N.J., has also been a key part of the Owls' special teams.

"He is a great player," said John Paul, the Owls' long snapper. "He is a natural leader and has been a great addition to our team."

"He is a great player," said Peter Paul, the Owls' punter. "He is a natural leader and has been a great addition to our team."

"He is a great player," said Mary, the Owls' placekicker. "He is a natural leader and has been a great addition to our team.

"He is a great player," said John Paul, the Owls' punter. "He is a natural leader and has been a great addition to our team."

"He is a great player," said Peter Paul, the Owls' long snapper. "He is a natural leader and has been a great addition to our team."

"He is a great player," said Mary, the Owls' placekicker. "He is a natural leader and has been a great addition to our team.