Mail to visit campus programs in college house program

By MARK ELLEN CROWLEY

Notable Pennsylvanian and former Daily Pennsylvanian editor-in-chief Mark E. Crowley was named to the Board of Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, effective July 1, 2003.

The program is being funded by a $12.5 million endowment from the Pappas College of Science and Engineering, which is part of the College of Arts and Sciences.

The program is designed to bring together students from across the university to work on various projects, including research, teaching, and community service.

The program is being funded by a $12.5 million endowment from the Pappas College of Science and Engineering, which is part of the College of Arts and Sciences.

The program is designed to bring together students from across the university to work on various projects, including research, teaching, and community service.

Local vagrant dies in manhole

By BRYAN TAYLOR

University police discovered the bodies of two students, including a woman and a man, who had been sleeping in a manhole in the basement of the Locust Walk building.

The bodies were found by routine patrol officers who heard a noise coming from the basement.

The cause of death is under investigation, but police believe the students may have died of hypothermia due to the cold weather.

The students were identified as John Smith, a 23-year-old junior from New York City, and Mary Johnson, a 22-year-old sophomore from Philadelphia.

The manhole, located in the basement of the Locust Walk building, is typically used as a utility access point for maintenance and repair work.

However, the location of the manhole, which is located near the entrance to the basement, makes it accessible to anyone who might be looking for a place to rest or sleep.

The discovery of the bodies has prompted the university to reinforce its policies on the use of manholes, and to increase security measures in the area.

The university will also be conducting a review of its facilities to ensure that similar incidents do not occur in the future.

The university will also be conducting a review of its facilities to ensure that similar incidents do not occur in the future.

Fence-sitting

The Daily Pennsylvanian, founded 1885

Copyright 1993 The Daily Pennsylvanian

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, January 24, 1993

Trustees endorse Hackney report on future of U.

By PETER CARON

The Trustees endorsed President Richard B. Biddle's report to the Board of Trustees, which recommends a number of changes to improve the university's financial position and enhance its academic mission.

The report, which was presented to the Board of Trustees on January 24, 1993, includes a number of recommendations, including:

- Developing a new strategic plan for the university
- Increasing the university's endowment
- Enhancing the university's academic programs
- Improving the university's financial management

The trustees gave their full support to the report, which was developed by the university's President's Council on the Future of the University.

The report, which was developed by the university's President's Council on the Future of the University, is intended to provide a framework for the university's future development.

The trustees also approved a series of amendments to the university's bylaws, which will allow the university to implement the recommendations of the President's Council.

The trustees also approved a series of amendments to the university's bylaws, which will allow the university to implement the recommendations of the President's Council.

The trustees also approved a series of amendments to the university's bylaws, which will allow the university to implement the recommendations of the President's Council.
Campus Events

SATURDAY, JANUARY 23

WASHINGTON: An explosion

| 1:00 p.m. | Chapel Choir Concert | 100 N. 33rd St. |
| 2:00 p.m. | Opera Workshop | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 4:00 p.m. | Film Screening | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 7:00 p.m. | Dance Performance | 4052 Spruce St. |

SUNDAY, JANUARY 24

| 1:00 p.m. | Symposium on Ecological Economics | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 3:00 p.m. | Poetry Reading | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 5:00 p.m. | Jazz Concert | 4052 Spruce St. |

MONDAY, JANUARY 25

| 10:00 a.m. | Panel Discussion on Global Warming | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 2:00 p.m. | Lecture on Modern Art | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 4:00 p.m. | Workshop on Creative Writing | 4052 Spruce St. |

TUESDAY, JANUARY 26

| 1:00 p.m. | Film Screening | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 3:00 p.m. | Lecture on African History | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 5:00 p.m. | Performance | 4052 Spruce St. |

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 27

| 1:00 p.m. | Workshop on Digital Photography | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 3:00 p.m. | Lecture on American Literature | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 5:00 p.m. | Concert | 4052 Spruce St. |

THURSDAY, JANUARY 28

| 1:00 p.m. | Symposium on Environmental Policy | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 3:00 p.m. | Lecture on Latin American History | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 5:00 p.m. | Performance | 4052 Spruce St. |

FRIDAY, JANUARY 29

| 1:00 p.m. | Workshop on Molecular Biology | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 3:00 p.m. | Lecture on American History | 4052 Spruce St. |
| 5:00 p.m. | Concert | 4052 Spruce St. |
Winter casts shadow over depressed students

Jill Mullinix, a college sophomore, said she has lost interest in school and finding that things are different, because winter often leaves people feeling useless. "If you've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made your depression worse," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

"I tend to go out less with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "Maybe I don't get along with friends, and eat a lot," Mullinix said. "They've fallen through in the past three days, and that's what made their depression worse."

The University Counseling Service has several offices on campus that are available to students.

The return of Ivy Towers.

M. B. Inc. is coming... Look for our ad in please...I.D. please. The day you're all welcome to attend...

The Wharton Account will have an Organizational meeting Monday, January 24, 1983 at 7:00 P.M. in Room 206 Steinberg Hall-Dietrich Hall

All are welcome to attend...
The Problem with Escort

K.T. Poddell

Time to Take Notice

It is going to be a lot harder to ignore the homeless people around us. We need to be able to protect not just ourselvess, but the citizens of the city. But the passing of Stanley Biddle this week raised some questions about just how advanced our civilization has become. Everyone knows that Stanley Biddle was a saint. They know he hung out, what he wore, and even what he preferred to eat. And I always suspected that he had a bit of a thing for men.

Some people even knew him well enough to notice that after a while, he started to look a bit too close to starvation. There were those who spread rumors about his unhealthy family. And there were who printed themselves on striking conversations with Stanley. Everyone knew Stanley. And they know how he was when he "was lucky enough to eat..." even what he preferred about just how advanced our civilization has become.

On December 9, I read Hitchain...
Police nab man in Furness theft attempt

By ALAN SCHNEIDER

Prospective Nursing School students from several schools, interested in health care fields, learned about career options in the field of health care at a program recently held in the Furness Building.

The Graduate Nursing and Health Care Learning Center in the Furness Building sponsored a newsletter and a newsletter that contained career options in health care. Students interested in health care were invited to attend the program for information.

A faculty member from the School of Nursing, who works in the field of health care, explained the different career options available in the field. Students interested in health care were encouraged to attend the program to learn more about the different career options available in the field.

El Salvadoran national was arrested in the Furness Building Incident

An El Salvadoran national was arrested in the Furness Building earlier this month. The incident involved a man who was detained and held by police. According to the police, the man had been involved in a theft attempt and was suspected of committing a criminal act.

The arrest occurred on January 25, at 7:00 pm, when the man was detained and held by police. According to the police, the man had been involved in a theft attempt and was suspected of committing a criminal act.

The incident is currently under investigation, and further details are expected to be released in the coming days.
Rally marks 10 years of legalized abortion

Ten university students join Center City commemorative

"I feel it is my duty and my right and my responsibility to be here," said Rosemary Greene, a student at Temple University, who was one of the speakers at the rally. "I feel that the government has no right to tell me what to do with my body, and I feel that it is my right to choose whether or not to have an abortion." The rally was held to mark the 10th anniversary of the Supreme Court's Roe v. Wade decision, which legalized abortion nationwide.

The rally was organized by the National Organization for Women (NOW) and drew a crowd of several hundred people, including many university students. The speakers included heel-and-wheelers, professors, and activists from across the country.

"I am very proud to be here," said Professor Jane F. D'Aiuto, who teaches women's studies at Temple. "Abortion is a fundamental right, and we must continue to fight for it." D'Aiuto is a vocal advocate for pro-choice policies and has been active in the women's rights movement for many years.

The rally included speeches, music, and a demonstration in support of reproductive rights. The crowd chanted slogans such as "Free Choice, Free Women," and "Abortion is a human right." People of all ages and backgrounds joined in the protest, holding signs with messages such as "Abortion is healthcare, not a crime," and "Women's bodies, women's choice.

The event was a powerful reminder of the ongoing battle for reproductive rights, and a call to action for continued advocacy and activism. As one speaker put it, "We are not done yet. We must continue to fight for our rights and for the rights of future generations."
Higginbotham condemns apartheid system—

"All of us as civilized individuals, no matter who we are or what we do, have a responsibility to do everything to help the people of South Africa. The more I think about it, the more confident I am that an analogy to American slavery is far too inadequate. We have to think of the damage that apartheid is doing to the very fabric of South African society."

"Blacks are the guinea pigs for South Africa, the country's survival. South Africa is tragically a nation that is losing its soul. South Africa is losing its humanity."
IS THERE LIFE AFTER MAY?
Vicks Consumer Products Division invites you to learn about Product Management Opportunities
Sponsored by The Wharton Chapter of The American Marketing Association
H H 236
Tuesday, Jan. 25 at 4:30 PM
1982 Wharton undergrad from Vicks will be present
Can (or stop by the CA. Rm. 4.

Super Bowl & Dance Party at Pagano's time: January 30 thru February 13

Clara Character

Closing finishes highlight Big Five contests
Villanova nips La Salle

St. Joe's defeats Temple

Italian Night Delight $2.95
Monday & Tuesday Night at Pagano's

GAY AND LESBIAN PEER COUNSELING...is currently training new members to be supportive peer counselors for the sexual minority community.
Interested? Call 899-8888,
or stop by the CA, Rm. 4.
Mon. - Thurs. 4:00 pm - 10:00 pm

1983 United Jewish Appeal Workshops
Interested students and workers must attend one of the following at Hillel:
- Tonight, Jan. 24 at 7:00 PM
- Tuesday, Jan. 25 at 7:30 PM
- Wednesday, Jan. 26 at 7:30 PM
CAMPAIGN CALENDAR
January 30 thru February 13

UNIVERSITY CITY ARTS LEAGUE COURSES START JANUARY 24 — DAY & EVE.
FOR ADULTS & CHILDREN — 4220 SPRUCE ST, PHILA. EV2-7811
Chicago—

(Continued from back page and lead) "Lilienthal said, "We had a period of bad luck. They had a few rebounds and then we couldn't get any points, and Maureen McKenna, the time in our game, points, below her season average."

"I'm not entirely pleased with our effort, but we didn't give up easily. They also showed a heart-on-heart role taken by Fleming as the leader, and we came up short." Lilienthal said.

"We might disguise," Oliphant said. "We've never seen her play a better game."

"I've never seen her play a better game."

Coach said, "We can't say enough about net."

"I don't know exactly where we have to go in the next opponent — less than two days."

"This may be a blessing in disguise," Oliphant said. "We've had a period of bad luck and we're in deep trouble."

"We had a period of bad luck and we're in deep trouble."

"We had a period of bad luck and we're in deep trouble."

"We had a period of bad luck and we're in deep trouble."
Cagers go up in Flames, 76-74

Penn blows 19-pt. lead, loses to Chicago in OT

Not 'just one of those things' any more

Anyone who watched Lafayette's basketball game against Penn last night at the Palestra might have been quite shocked upon hearing that the Quakers had come from 19 points down to pull even and put the game out of reach, 76-74.

I'm not 'just one of those things' any more

Anyone who watched Lafayette's basketball game against Penn last night at the Palestra might have been quite shocked upon hearing that the Quakers had come from 19 points down to pull even and put the game out of reach, 76-74.

Fleming leads W. Cagers in blowout of Lafayette

By RANDY ROBERTS

Loyola's Andy Fleming led the team in both last night with a near-flawless effort from the floor and behind the arc, and also turned in an impressive performance on the defensive end of the floor.

It wasn't 'just one of those things' any more

Anyone who watched Lafayette's basketball game against Penn last night at the Palestra might have been quite shocked upon hearing that the Quakers had come from 19 points down to pull even and put the game out of reach, 76-74.

W. Squash still unbeaten

By GARY LEMASTER

Lehigh's nationally ranked doubles player Alicia McCormick, the Penn women's squash team's top player, continued her dominance with another four-set win against Temple University's top player, 4-1. With the victory, the Quakers improved to 7-1 on the season and 3-0 in the NEISA conference. McCormick, a senior from Hoboken, N.J., has been a consistent player in the Quakers' lineup for four seasons and has been an integral part of their success.

Fleming leads W. Cagers in blowout of Lafayette

By RANDY ROBERTS

Loyola's Andy Fleming led the team in both last night with a near-flawless effort from the floor and behind the arc, and also turned in an impressive performance on the defensive end of the floor.

It wasn't 'just one of those things' any more

Anyone who watched Lafayette's basketball game against Penn last night at the Palestra might have been quite shocked upon hearing that the Quakers had come from 19 points down to pull even and put the game out of reach, 76-74.

W. Squash still unbeaten

By GARY LEMASTER

Lehigh's nationally ranked doubles player Alicia McCormick, the Penn women's squash team's top player, continued her dominance with another four-set win against Temple University's top player, 4-1. With the victory, the Quakers improved to 7-1 on the season and 3-0 in the NEISA conference. McCormick, a senior from Hoboken, N.J., has been a consistent player in the Quakers' lineup for four seasons and has been an integral part of their success.

Fleming leads W. Cagers in blowout of Lafayette

By RANDY ROBERTS

Loyola's Andy Fleming led the team in both last night with a near-flawless effort from the floor and behind the arc, and also turned in an impressive performance on the defensive end of the floor.

It wasn't 'just one of those things' any more

Anyone who watched Lafayette's basketball game against Penn last night at the Palestra might have been quite shocked upon hearing that the Quakers had come from 19 points down to pull even and put the game out of reach, 76-74.

W. Squash still unbeaten

By GARY LEMASTER

Lehigh's nationally ranked doubles player Alicia McCormick, the Penn women's squash team's top player, continued her dominance with another four-set win against Temple University's top player, 4-1. With the victory, the Quakers improved to 7-1 on the season and 3-0 in the NEISA conference. McCormick, a senior from Hoboken, N.J., has been a consistent player in the Quakers' lineup for four seasons and has been an integral part of their success.

Fleming leads W. Cagers in blowout of Lafayette

By RANDY ROBERTS

Loyola's Andy Fleming led the team in both last night with a near-flawless effort from the floor and behind the arc, and also turned in an impressive performance on the defensive end of the floor.

It wasn't 'just one of those things' any more

Anyone who watched Lafayette's basketball game against Penn last night at the Palestra might have been quite shocked upon hearing that the Quakers had come from 19 points down to pull even and put the game out of reach, 76-74.

W. Squash still unbeaten

By GARY LEMASTER

Lehigh's nationally ranked doubles player Alicia McCormick, the Penn women's squash team's top player, continued her dominance with another four-set win against Temple University's top player, 4-1. With the victory, the Quakers improved to 7-1 on the season and 3-0 in the NEISA conference. McCormick, a senior from Hoboken, N.J., has been a consistent player in the Quakers' lineup for four seasons and has been an integral part of their success.

Fleming leads W. Cagers in blowout of Lafayette

By RANDY ROBERTS

Loyola's Andy Fleming led the team in both last night with a near-flawless effort from the floor and behind the arc, and also turned in an impressive performance on the defensive end of the floor.

It wasn't 'just one of those things' any more

Anyone who watched Lafayette's basketball game against Penn last night at the Palestra might have been quite shocked upon hearing that the Quakers had come from 19 points down to pull even and put the game out of reach, 76-74.

W. Squash still unbeaten

By GARY LEMASTER

Lehigh's nationally ranked doubles player Alicia McCormick, the Penn women's squash team's top player, continued her dominance with another four-set win against Temple University's top player, 4-1. With the victory, the Quakers improved to 7-1 on the season and 3-0 in the NEISA conference. McCormick, a senior from Hoboken, N.J., has been a consistent player in the Quakers' lineup for four seasons and has been an integral part of their success.

Fleming leads W. Cagers in blowout of Lafayette

By RANDY ROBERTS

Loyola's Andy Fleming led the team in both last night with a near-flawless effort from the floor and behind the arc, and also turned in an impressive performance on the defensive end of the floor.

It wasn't 'just one of those things' any more

Anyone who watched Lafayette's basketball game against Penn last night at the Palestra might have been quite shocked upon hearing that the Quakers had come from 19 points down to pull even and put the game out of reach, 76-74.

W. Squash still unbeaten

By GARY LEMASTER

Lehigh's nationally ranked doubles player Alicia McCormick, the Penn women's squash team's top player, continued her dominance with another four-set win against Temple University's top player, 4-1. With the victory, the Quakers improved to 7-1 on the season and 3-0 in the NEISA conference. McCormick, a senior from Hoboken, N.J., has been a consistent player in the Quakers' lineup for four seasons and has been an integral part of their success.

Fleming leads W. Cagers in blowout of Lafayette

By RANDY ROBERTS

Loyola's Andy Fleming led the team in both last night with a near-flawless effort from the floor and behind the arc, and also turned in an impressive performance on the defensive end of the floor.

It wasn't 'just one of those things' any more

Anyone who watched Lafayette's basketball game against Penn last night at the Palestra might have been quite shocked upon hearing that the Quakers had come from 19 points down to pull even and put the game out of reach, 76-74.

W. Squash still unbeaten

By GARY LEMASTER

Lehigh's nationally ranked doubles player Alicia McCormick, the Penn women's squash team's top player, continued her dominance with another four-set win against Temple University's top player, 4-1. With the victory, the Quakers improved to 7-1 on the season and 3-0 in the NEISA conference. McCormick, a senior from Hoboken, N.J., has been a consistent player in the Quakers' lineup for four seasons and has been an integral part of their success.

Fleming leads W. Cagers in blowout of Lafayette

By RANDY ROBERTS

Loyola's Andy Fleming led the team in both last night with a near-flawless effort from the floor and behind the arc, and also turned in an impressive performance on the defensive end of the floor.

It wasn't 'just one of those things' any more

Anyone who watched Lafayette's basketball game against Penn last night at the Palestra might have been quite shocked upon hearing that the Quakers had come from 19 points down to pull even and put the game out of reach, 76-74.

W. Squash still unbeaten

By GARY LEMASTER

Lehigh's nationally ranked doubles player Alicia McCormick, the Penn women's squash team's top player, continued her dominance with another four-set win against Temple University's top player, 4-1. With the victory, the Quakers improved to 7-1 on the season and 3-0 in the NEISA conference. McCormick, a senior from Hoboken, N.J., has been a consistent player in the Quakers' lineup for four seasons and has been an integral part of their success.

Fleming leads W. Cagers in blowout of Lafayette

By RANDY ROBERTS

Loyola's Andy Fleming led the team in both last night with a near-flawless effort from the floor and behind the arc, and also turned in an impressive performance on the defensive end of the floor.

It wasn't 'just one of those things' any more

Anyone who watched Lafayette's basketball game against Penn last night at the Palestra might have been quite shocked upon hearing that the Quakers had come from 19 points down to pull even and put the game out of reach, 76-74.

W. Squash still unbeaten

By GARY LEMASTER

Lehigh's nationally ranked doubles player Alicia McCormick, the Penn women's squash team's top player, continued her dominance with another four-set win against Temple University's top player, 4-1. With the victory, the Quakers improved to 7-1 on the season and 3-0 in the NEISA conference. McCormick, a senior from Hoboken, N.J., has been a consistent player in the Quakers' lineup for four seasons and has been an integral part of their success.

Fleming leads W. Cagers in blowout of Lafayette

By RANDY ROBERTS

Loyola's Andy Fleming led the team in both last night with a near-flawless effort from the floor and behind the arc, and also turned in an impressive performance on the defensive end of the floor.

It wasn't 'just one of those things' any more

Anyone who watched Lafayette's basketball game against Penn last night at the Palestra might have been quite shocked upon hearing that the Quakers had come from 19 points down to pull even and put the game out of reach, 76-74.