Campus Events
A listing of university news and events

Today

ATTENTION FACULTY AND STAFF: The U.S. Government's new requirements for the dependent care Flexible Benefit Plan may mean an adjustment to your current plan.
Please see the attached letter for further information.

University News

Students

- Meet the Mayor
  - Monday, November 14
  - 6:30-7:30 p.m., Usdan Center for University Life
  - Meet and greet the mayor with his wife, Linda Rendell-Baker, and hear them discuss their vision for Philadelphia in the context of the city's current challenges and opportunities.

- Future of the University of Pennsylvania
  - Monday, November 14
  - 4:30-5:30 p.m., Kane Hall
  - A panel discussion with the university president and other leaders to explore the university's future and how it can best serve its students and the community.

Faculty

- Pre-Registration and Examinations with the University Health Service
  - Monday, November 14
  - 8:00-12:00 p.m., Nashville South Campus Health Center
  - Students can register for classes and take care of any insurance needs.

Administration

- Penn Systemwide Update
  - Monday, November 14
  - 3:00-4:00 p.m., University Center Courtyard
  - President Amy Gutmann and other university officials will provide an update on the latest developments.

Career Services

- Career Development Workshop
  - Monday, November 14
  - 1:00-2:00 p.m., 215 S. 35th St.
  - Learn strategies for identifying and securing internships, co-op positions, and full-time employment.

Athletics

- Men's Basketball:
  - Monday, November 14
  - 7:00 p.m., The Palestra
  - Watch the men's basketball team take on their next opponent.

Community

- Meet the Mayor
  - Monday, November 14
  - 6:30-7:30 p.m., Usdan Center for University Life
  - Meet and greet the mayor with his wife, Linda Rendell-Baker, and hear them discuss their vision for Philadelphia in the context of the city's current challenges and opportunities.

- Future of the University of Pennsylvania
  - Monday, November 14
  - 4:30-5:30 p.m., Kane Hall
  - A panel discussion with the university president and other leaders to explore the university's future and how it can best serve its students and the community.

University Events

- Welcome Back to School Bash
  - Monday, November 14
  - 5:00-7:00 p.m., 3rd Floor of the University Center
  - Enjoy food, music, and games as we welcome students back to campus.

- Penn Day of Service
  - Monday, November 14
  - Various locations across campus
  - Students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to volunteer at local community organizations.

- Annual Penn Film Festival
  - Monday, November 14
  - 7:00 p.m., Blockley Auditorium
  - Watch a selection of films from Penn's talented student filmmakers.

University Resources

- PennCard Services
  - Monday, November 14
  - 9:00-5:00 p.m., Student Union 1st Floor
  - Students can request new or replacement PennCards.

University Life

- Penn University Life
  - Monday, November 14
  - Various locations across campus
  - Information on student organizations, events, and resources.

University Store

- Penn University Store
  - Monday, November 14
  - 8:30-5:00 p.m., 30th Street Station
  - Purchase clothing, gifts, and supplies for the new semester.
But the administration is considering proposals to restructure the student judicial procedure. Two independent committees have suggested changes, which could be presented to faculty members in the near future.

"The first committee comprised faculty, students, and faculty who handles many student complaints, says she is also

"We would like to do more to fulfill the formal procedures, provide employees with help that they want to fill a formal complaint," said the University's ombudsman.

"We will call us, the Ombudsman, the Affirmative Action Office... nobody seems to know what to do."

"They seem to know what to do," says the University's new general counsel, whose role is to provide legal advice and assistance.

"They will call us, the Ombudsman, the Affirmative Action Office... nobody seems to know what to do."

"They seem to know what to do," says the University's new general counsel, whose role is to provide legal advice and assistance.

"The Best Haircut On or Off Campus."

"NEW MINI SERVICE" We'll cut it, shampoo it, condition it. You blow it dry. Use our equipment. $15.00

"The Precision Haircut."
The Last Word on Grenada

By Andrew Russell

The one point on which I agree with Dr. Charles Modica is that, with the U.S. invasion of Grenada ( bigotry, racism, hatred, and the like) and the news that we have an alarming habit of cut and pasting, unoriginal, uncreative message. That's good on the organization, but a is a level of debate.

Having been in the middle of the world's news at the time. I had to be a part of the conversation. The conversation took place in the middle of the world.

No one can deny that the coup on October 12 was a turning point. The world now has a new president in the U.S., not a country. In the world of democracy, there is no such thing as a president. There is no such thing as a country. There is no such thing as a world. There is no such thing as a race. There is no such thing as a religion. There is no such thing as a world.

The one point on which I agree with Dr. Charles Modica is that, with the U.S. invasion of Grenada, which is a country, the world has a new president in the U.S., not a country.

It is not surprising that the invasion, having been in the middle of a tragedy for 40 years, not necessarily a country's tragedy, but the world's, has been recast in the image of a country. What is surprising is that the world has been recast in the image of a country.

No one can deny that the coup on October 12 was a turning point. The world now has a new president in the U.S., not a country. In the world of democracy, there is no such thing as a president. There is no such thing as a country. There is no such thing as a world. There is no such thing as a race. There is no such thing as a religion. There is no such thing as a world.

The one point on which I agree with Dr. Charles Modica is that, with the U.S. invasion of Grenada, which is a country, the world has a new president in the U.S., not a country.

It is not surprising that the invasion, having been in the middle of a tragedy for 40 years, not necessarily a country's tragedy, but the world's, has been recast in the image of a country. What is surprising is that the world has been recast in the image of a country.

No one can deny that the coup on October 12 was a turning point. The world now has a new president in the U.S., not a country. In the world of democracy, there is no such thing as a president. There is no such thing as a country. There is no such thing as a world. There is no such thing as a race. There is no such thing as a religion. There is no such thing as a world.

The one point on which I agree with Dr. Charles Modica is that, with the U.S. invasion of Grenada, which is a country, the world has a new president in the U.S., not a country.

It is not surprising that the invasion, having been in the middle of a tragedy for 40 years, not necessarily a country's tragedy, but the world's, has been recast in the image of a country. What is surprising is that the world has been recast in the image of a country.

No one can deny that the coup on October 12 was a turning point. The world now has a new president in the U.S., not a country. In the world of democracy, there is no such thing as a president. There is no such thing as a country. There is no such thing as a world. There is no such thing as a race. There is no such thing as a religion. There is no such thing as a world.

The one point on which I agree with Dr. Charles Modica is that, with the U.S. invasion of Grenada, which is a country, the world has a new president in the U.S., not a country.

It is not surprising that the invasion, having been in the middle of a tragedy for 40 years, not necessarily a country's tragedy, but the world's, has been recast in the image of a country. What is surprising is that the world has been recast in the image of a country.

No one can deny that the coup on October 12 was a turning point. The world now has a new president in the U.S., not a country. In the world of democracy, there is no such thing as a president. There is no such thing as a country. There is no such thing as a world. There is no such thing as a race. There is no such thing as a religion. There is no such thing as a world.

The one point on which I agree with Dr. Charles Modica is that, with the U.S. invasion of Grenada, which is a country, the world has a new president in the U.S., not a country.

It is not surprising that the invasion, having been in the middle of a tragedy for 40 years, not necessarily a country's tragedy, but the world's, has been recast in the image of a country. What is surprising is that the world has been recast in the image of a country.

No one can deny that the coup on October 12 was a turning point. The world now has a new president in the U.S., not a country. In the world of democracy, there is no such thing as a president. There is no such thing as a country. There is no such thing as a world. There is no such thing as a race. There is no such thing as a religion. There is no such thing as a world.

The one point on which I agree with Dr. Charles Modica is that, with the U.S. invasion of Grenada, which is a country, the world has a new president in the U.S., not a country.

It is not surprising that the invasion, having been in the middle of a tragedy for 40 years, not necessarily a country's tragedy, but the world's, has been recast in the image of a country. What is surprising is that the world has been recast in the image of a country.

No one can deny that the coup on October 12 was a turning point. The world now has a new president in the U.S., not a country. In the world of democracy, there is no such thing as a president. There is no such thing as a country. There is no such thing as a world. There is no such thing as a race. There is no such thing as a religion. There is no such thing as a world.

The one point on which I agree with Dr. Charles Modica is that, with the U.S. invasion of Grenada, which is a country, the world has a new president in the U.S., not a country.

It is not surprising that the invasion, having been in the middle of a tragedy for 40 years, not necessarily a country's tragedy, but the world's, has been recast in the image of a country. What is surprising is that the world has been recast in the image of a country.

No one can deny that the coup on October 12 was a turning point. The world now has a new president in the U.S., not a country. In the world of democracy, there is no such thing as a president. There is no such thing as a country. There is no such thing as a world. There is no such thing as a race. There is no such thing as a religion. There is no such thing as a world.

The one point on which I agree with Dr. Charles Modica is that, with the U.S. invasion of Grenada, which is a country, the world has a new president in the U.S., not a country.

It is not surprising that the invasion, having been in the middle of a tragedy for 40 years, not necessarily a country's tragedy, but the world's, has been recast in the image of a country. What is surprising is that the world has been recast in the image of a country.

No one can deny that the coup on October 12 was a turning point. The world now has a new president in the U.S., not a country. In the world of democracy, there is no such thing as a president. There is no such thing as a country. There is no such thing as a world. There is no such thing as a race. There is no such thing as a religion. There is no such thing as a world.

The one point on which I agree with Dr. Charles Modica is that, with the U.S. invasion of Grenada, which is a country, the world has a new president in the U.S., not a country.

It is not surprising that the invasion, having been in the middle of a tragedy for 40 years, not necessarily a country's tragedy, but the world's, has been recast in the image of a country. What is surprising is that the world has been recast in the image of a country.

No one can deny that the coup on October 12 was a turning point. The world now has a new president in the U.S., not a country. In the world of democracy, there is no such thing as a president. There is no such thing as a country. There is no such thing as a world. There is no such thing as a race. There is no such thing as a religion. There is no such thing as a world.

The one point on which I agree with Dr. Charles Modica is that, with the U.S. invasion of Grenada, which is a country, the world has a new president in the U.S., not a country.

It is not surprising that the invasion, having been in the middle of a tragedy for 40 years, not necessarily a country's tragedy, but the world's, has been recast in the image of a country. What is surprising is that the world has been recast in the image of a country.

No one can deny that the coup on October 12 was a turning point. The world now has a new president in the U.S., not a country. In the world of democracy, there is no such thing as a president. There is no such thing as a country. There is no such thing as a world. There is no such thing as a race. There is no such thing as a religion. There is no such thing as a world.

The one point on which I agree with Dr. Charles Modica is that, with the U.S. invasion of Grenada, which is a country, the world has a new president in the U.S., not a country.
ON-CAMPUS STUDENTS
Are you graduating?
Taking a leave of absence?
Withdrawing?

You must apply to be released from your occupancy agreement for second semester. Pick up forms at the Assignments Office in High Rise North. They must be completed and returned by November 23.

The Senior Class Board presents
A Semi-Formal Dinner Dance
Thursday, December 1, 1983
Wharton Sinker Estate
cocktails 7PM person $25
dance 8PM midnight
transportation included

Last Day of Ticket Sales is Monday, November 21!1
Sales are limited!
The bus will be at Houston Hall at 6:30 PM on Dec. 1
This is not a dated affair.

HISTORY AND THEORY OF THE SOCIAL SCIENCES:
FIELD METHODS
Spring 1983-84
Dr. Dan Rose, R.P., 746 Sci., 4357

An aim of the course is to acquaint the student with the historical outline, major theoretical issues, and diffusion of ideas and practice in natural history field methods in the behavioral sciences, and to complement the field work courses and practice in the several university departments and schools, notably American Civilization, Anthropology, Economics, Folklore, History, Modern Languages, Urban Planning, and Sociology. The course is designed to provide the students with the techniques and skills necessary to penetrate topographic, social, ecological, equal pay for equal work, increase in the opportunities for blacks to attain supervisory positions and improving the quality of workers...
The Daily Pennsylvania thanks the members of the Political Participation Center who assisted in compiling last week's election preview.

URBAN STUDIES PROGRAM
PRE-REGISTRATION ADVISING

All faculty teaching
Spring courses will be available at designated hours through Thursday, November 17
for information:
3400 WALNUT STREET
898-6948

WELCOME UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA
STUDENTS

We have the following convenient locations to serve you:
39th & Walnut Sts.
39th & Chestnut Sts.
Gallery Mall
Juniors to get credit for ‘AP on AP English’

By ELLEN FLAX

College juniors were given an extra credit if they earned a score of 4 or 5 on the Advanced Placement examination in English in high school. Under the old College admission standards, which were modified in the 1981-82 academic year, one had been told would realize English credit only if one scored the minimum 3.

In a letter to College juniors on Friday, Advanced Placement and Transfer Credits Director Carol Hooker told students that the policy change began after the English Department requested it in April.

"At that time, the English Department asked that their policy, which has previously recognized scores of less than 4 but not 3, be revised," she noted. "The finding was made in a study of student satisfaction. The English Department then visited the English AP exam and agreed to grant credit for a score of 3 on the AP English exam, which may be taken in the junior year.

Student added that the change was made after a special committee was formed to look into the issue. The committee consisted of the English AP and English AP exam, and is one of the most important AP exams in the country, according to the English AP exam, which is one of the most important AP exams in the country.

"We are very pleased, as is the English AP exam," she said. "The English AP exam is an exam that is given to students in the junior year, and is an exam that is given to students in the senior year. We hope that the change will make the exam more accessible to students, and that it will help us to meet the needs of all students."
Field Hockey eliminated from NCAAs by Temple

It wasn't a sight to see, but an athlete's heart can take a lot of pain at the worst of the times. Jeff said. "But we were the best team that I have ever seen on the court. We were the best team that I have ever seen on the court. We were the best team that I have ever seen on the court. We were the best team that I have ever seen on the court. We were the best team that I have ever seen on the court."

"We played much better than in the last game against Temple," Jeff said. "We had a lot of great opportunities, but we weren't able to take advantage of them. We were able to take advantage of them."

"We were very strong on center play — that was the key to the game."

The debut

Freshmen impress in Red and Blue scrimmage

After poor half, Soccer loses to Harvard

Grand Carl Racine maneuvers in yesterday's Red and Blue scrimmage.
Harvard accomplishes its goal
An emotional win for Restic, players

Day of frustration for McGeehan

Quakers shut out by Harvard

Mark Vignola scoring Harvard's first touchdown in the Crimson's 28-0 shutout on Saturday.

bars escaped a punch to敷head. He hit the ball. On the next play, McGeehan caught it in back, and didn't make much of anything. He was sacked at the time, setting up a third and 11. With Penn coming on the back of the end, John Dailev blew into the hole and forced the punt. The ball was out of the endzone for a safety and a 22-0 lead. On the next play, Mike Shively ran with the key League title except without help from other teams. No, it's not.

After some time passages, the passiquette quarterback went to the sidelines and was replaced by Jim Cucinotta. "They just put the wind knocked out of them," McGeehan said. "I just put my head down and ran."

Mark Vignola scoring Harvard's first touchdown in the Crimson's 28-0 shutout on Saturday.

On Saturday, Penn's offensive line badly escaped a punch to their head. On the next play, McGeehan caught it in back, and didn't make much of anything. He was sacked at the time, setting up a third and 11. With Penn coming on the back of the end, John Dailev blew into the hole and forced the punt. The ball was out of the endzone for a safety and a 22-0 lead. On the next play, Mike Shively ran with the key League title except without help from other teams. No, it's not.

After some time passages, the passiquette quarterback went to the sidelines and was replaced by Jim Cucinotta. "They just put the wind knocked out of them," McGeehan said. "I just put my head down and ran."
The Crimson gets revenge: 28-0

McGeehan’s day of frustration

McGeehan quarterbacked Penn’s offense almost from the start. He ran for 185 yards and three touchdowns and passed for 200 yards and two touchdowns, setting up another big game against the Ivy leaders. McGeehan was selected as the Ivy League Offensive Player of the Week.

On the Sidelines

On the Sidelines

Dave Silk

McGeehan quarterbacked Penn’s offense almost from the start. He ran for 185 yards and three touchdowns and passed for 200 yards and two touchdowns, setting up another big game against the Ivy leaders. McGeehan was selected as the Ivy League Offensive Player of the Week.

Almost

Field Hockey eliminated by Owls

B. Tom Hartnett

Field Hockey

In its second straight season, the Penn field hockey team proved that it was capable of competing with the top teams in the country. The Quakers defeated Harvard 2-0 on Saturday, avenging last year’s 5-3 loss to the Crimson.

Scoreboard

FOOTBALL

Harvard 28, Penn 0

SOCCER

Jen 4-1-0

FIELD HOCKEY

Temple 1-0

W. CROSS COUNTRY

Sawblin in Dartmouth

W. TENNIS

Competed in ITA Regionals

M. CROSS COUNTRY

Competed in NCAA's

On the Sidelines

Dave Silk

McGeehan quarterbacked Penn’s offense almost from the start. He ran for 185 yards and three touchdowns and passed for 200 yards and two touchdowns, setting up another big game against the Ivy leaders. McGeehan was selected as the Ivy League Offensive Player of the Week.

Almost

Field Hockey eliminated by Owls

B. Tom Hartnett

Field Hockey

In its second straight season, the Penn field hockey team proved that it was capable of competing with the top teams in the country. The Quakers defeated Harvard 2-0 on Saturday, avenging last year’s 5-3 loss to the Crimson.

Scoreboard

FOOTBALL

Harvard 28, Penn 0

SOCCER

Jen 4-1-0

FIELD HOCKEY

Temple 1-0

W. CROSS COUNTRY

Sawblin in Dartmouth

W. TENNIS

Competed in ITA Regionals

M. CROSS COUNTRY

Competed in NCAA's