GRADERS AND TUTORS NEEDED

The Department of Mathematics needs graders and tutors. The grading positions are needy for upper level courses. The tutoring positions are in conjunction with our Introductory Program and involve both R. M. Epstein tutoring and private tutoring. Interested students with good mathematics background are encouraged to apply. Those who worked for us last semester and who wish to continue should reply immediately.

Department Office DRL 48L

VOLUNTEER NEWS

NURSE TO OFFICE WORKERS

- Underwear
- Camiing
- Hosewear
- Coats
- Journals
- thermals
- sweaters

OFF ENTIRE STOCK

MERCHANDISE MARKED FOR FINAL PRICE REDUCTION 30-40-50% OR MORE

One can save by purchasing the finest undergarments and clothing you can afford. This is a very special offer which you will enjoy and have lasting value for your personal comfort and appearance. Better take advantage of this opportunity to own quality underwear for a very low price. While supplies last. Minimum purchase of $7.95 to qualify for this sale.

902-100 CHESTNUT ST

i.Goldberg

SUPER SALE

THIS IS IT!!!

Sale ends Sat., Jan. 21 6 P.M.

• undervear
• camping
• hosewear
• coats
• journals

25% OFF ENTIRE STOCK

Penn Student Agencies

Has a new Workstudy Job

for you!

Meet new people!

Non-Workstudy positions also available

Call 989-6819 Now!

WORK STUDY STUDENTS: Reference and Clerical Jobs

BIDDLE LAW LIBRARY

Telephone: Cybernet Akin at 849-1268 or stop by and see me in the Law School, 3400 Chestnut Street, Second Floor

i.Goldberg

9393

FRUITY RUDY

FRUITY RUDY

FRUITY RUDY

FRUITY RUDY

FRUITY RUDY

CANDY & PASTRY SHOP

CANDY & PASTRY SHOP

CANDY & PASTRY SHOP

CANDY & PASTRY SHOP

CANDY & PASTRY SHOP

CARD SHOP

CARD SHOP

CARD SHOP

CARD SHOP

CARD SHOP

CONTACT THE OFFICE OF
STUDENT LIFE

989-5552

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

CPPS Announcing for Spring Semester

Walk - In Hours for Wharton U.G.

Workshops for Wharton U.G.

- Job Search Strategies/General Interviewing
- Individual Video - Interview Sessions
- (by appointment)

Job Interview Writing

Summer Resume Writing

Time: Thursdays 10:00-12:00 am & 1:30-4:00 pm

Place: Steinbeis-Dietrich Hall, Room 1204 or CPPS/Houston Hall

Contact: Freda Seidman 989-7533 for details and sign-ups
Museum receives record $2 million grant

The University of Pennsylvania has set a new record with a $2 million grant from the Glenmede Trust Company, formally known as the Glenmede Foundation. The grant will help the museum to achieve its goals.

"This is a tremendous opportunity," said Susan Calhoun, chairman of the museum's board of overseers. "We've been given a tremendous challenge.

"We have given a tremendous challenge," Calhoun said. "We don't have any plans to expand our museum in the near future, but we do have a long-range plan to expand our museum.

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We have given a tremendous challenge." (Continued from page 1)

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We don't have any plans to expand our museum in the near future, but we do have a long-range plan to expand our museum.

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We have given a tremendous challenge." (Continued from page 1)

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We don't have any plans to expand our museum in the near future, but we do have a long-range plan to expand our museum.

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We have given a tremendous challenge." (Continued from page 1)

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We don't have any plans to expand our museum in the near future, but we do have a long-range plan to expand our museum.

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We have given a tremendous challenge." (Continued from page 1)

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We don't have any plans to expand our museum in the near future, but we do have a long-range plan to expand our museum.

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We have given a tremendous challenge." (Continued from page 1)

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We don't have any plans to expand our museum in the near future, but we do have a long-range plan to expand our museum.

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We have given a tremendous challenge." (Continued from page 1)

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We don't have any plans to expand our museum in the near future, but we do have a long-range plan to expand our museum.

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We have given a tremendous challenge." (Continued from page 1)

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We don't have any plans to expand our museum in the near future, but we do have a long-range plan to expand our museum.

"We've been given a tremendous opportunity," Calhoun said. "We have given a tremendous challenge." (Continued from page 1)
You too can be a Senator

By Robert Sperel

When a student concludes that the time has come to seek the highest office in the land, few other opportunities can compare to a Senate seat. No other job will permit you to work for the good of the nation. No other political career is quite so simple in its essence. Simply decide you want to run. Here are a few things you must do.

1. Call your state's senatorial candidate to schedule an appointment.
2. When you meet, the senator will likely ask you to state your qualifications for the office and attack your opponent and answer questions referring to him.
3. The senator will likely tell you to campaign. They should be filmed and caught.
4. The senator will also likely encourage you to seek out political reform. They should be filmed and caught.

As soon as the election is over, you must begin working for the people of Upper McKeesport. If you can't help the crew with their political reform, you can make sure pictures are taken of the event.

Important: Do not use the photo for anything other than personal interest. Any picture may be used by the news media.

Letter to the Editor

Thank you for the article in the Daily Pennsylvanian the day after the elections. It is one of the finest I have ever read.

I must say that the article seems to be the same as the one that ran in the Daily Pennsylvanian the day after the elections of 1976. I wonder if the Daily Pennsylvanian is considering a change of editorial policy and if so, how soon can we expect such a change to take place?

Sincerely yours,

Letter to the Editor

Speaking Out Against Anti-Semitism

By Simon Bartz and Karen Multari

In El Salvador today many students, teachers, doctors, nurses, professionals live in constant fear of the death squads, terror, and violence. The government has been involved in the murder of many of these people. The Salvadoran government has been known to murder people who are critical of the government. This has led to a great number of people leaving El Salvador.

One of El Salvador's main labor unions, the Federation of Teachers (FEDATE), has been targeted by the government. The union has been involved in organizing strikes and protests against the government. The government has responded by attacking the union leaders and activists.

In El Salvador, the situation of the teachers and students is very serious. The government has been involved in the murder of many of these people. The Salvadoran government has been known to murder people who are critical of the government. This has led to a great number of people leaving El Salvador.

Make sure to check out the Daily Pennsylvanian for more news on this important issue.

Get Your Name Here

The Daily Pennsylvanian welcomes letters to the editor. Please write on one sheet of paper and include your name, address and phone number with your letter. Letters should be submitted by 4 p.m. Tuesday before publication. The Daily Pennsylvanian reserves the right to accept or reject any letter.

Edda Jaffe
College '85

Quotation of the Day

"The best way to predict the weather is to ask a meteorologist. If he's wrong, you'll know it's raining.

"You must be able to communicate with the people who make decisions. If you can't, you won't be able to get anything done."

Edda Jaffe
College '85

The Daily Pennsylvanian, Wednesday, January 19, 1984

Corrigendo um erro

A Universidade recentemente anunciou que permitiria a mudança de residência para os estudantes devido a novas renovações nos apartamentos residenciais. (Eu acho que a informação é completa no artigo) e os residentes estavam recebendo as novas renovações para a sua residência.

As atividades estavam paradas enquanto os estudantes estavam se mudando de uma sala para outra. (Eu acho que a informação é completa no artigo) e a mudança estava sendo realizada para o Elysee Tower A.

As comunicações (entre os administradores e os estudantes) foram interrompidas e a mudança estava sendo realizada para o Elysee Tower A.

Ela foi obrigada a mudar-se para o Elysee Tower A e a mudança estava sendo realizada para o Elysee Tower A.

A mudança estava sendo realizada para o Elysee Tower A e a mudança estava sendo realizada para o Elysee Tower A.

O sistema residencial foi restaurado e os estudantes estavam agora recebendo as novas renovações.

Finalmente, a mudança estava sendo realizada para o Elysee Tower A e a mudança estava sendo realizada para o Elysee Tower A.

O resultado final foi alcançado. (Eu acho que a informação é completa no artigo)
UA may dissolve committees

ADOLPH ZLOTNIK

The Undergraduate Assembly will devise plans to abolish all but four of its standing committees and to replace them with temporary work committees as it meets tonight in the Senate Chamber.

Chairman Ken Meyers said yesterday that the move was necessitated by the student government's ineffectiveness in dealing with its committees and by the demand for quick action on issues.

He added, "They've always been ineffectual."

"I have worked on an oil pipeline in colonial Maryland," Dangel said. "I was her internship for U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Burger."

But in the summer, Dangel said, "I am getting rid of most of them because they are complicated."

"These groups will meet with the undergraduates and academic advising to discuss the problems with academic advising," Meyers said. "They eventually will propose some type of improvements in the advising system.

"I have worked on an oil pipeline in colonial Maryland," Dangel said. "I was her internship for U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Burger."

"I am getting rid of most of them because they are complicated," Dangel said. "I was her internship for U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Burger."

"I am getting rid of most of them because they are complicated," Dangel said. "I was her internship for U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Burger."
Video Game Contest

$800.00 in Cash Prizes

Plus

A Trip to the Bahamas

Hotel Accommodation Paid

Held At

The Mad Greeki

Video Parlor

3513 Lancaster Ave. Philadelphia

Apply in Person or Call

222-2739  222-4035

Competition Date: Saturday, Jan. 21, 1984

Time: 3:00 PM

University City - Nautilus

University City Mall-4009 Locust Street

Philadelphia, Pa. 19104

382-9010

JANUARY SPECIAL

all rates slashed!

1 yr. - $259.

6 mos. - $169.

freezing available on all memberships

Come check out the new

Lifestyle • Dynaui •

Rowing machine

Stop in or call for a free trial appointment!

---

University Students meeting the return of Doc's

"We are coming back next year," announced Doc's last night. "I know all of you are wondering what Doc's is going to be like next year, but I can assure you that Doc's will remain the same." The students nodded in agreement, pleased that the new establishment would be a continuation of the old.

"We don't want to change the menu or the staff," Doc's declared. "We want to keep the same atmosphere and the same prices." The students agreed, happy to hear that Doc's would remain true to its roots.

"The University is very pleased to welcome Doc's back," the Chancellor said at the event. "We are looking forward to the continued success of this popular institution." The students cheered in response, grateful for the return of Doc's.
W. Swimmers sweep Cornell, Dartmouth

(Continued from back page)

"We made a big mistake," said coach Lawlor.

"For a team that has fallen far short of expectations, this would be the biggest and most welcome change of all."

W. Fencers

(Continued from back page)

"Overall I was very happy with this year's campaign," said Caplan. "It was a great experience."

Working hard since October - for the Easterns. "I'm happy," Hammon said. "And we handled her pretty easily."

"We're looking to qualify everyone for graduate study in preparation for the Jewish Campus Activities Board," said Lawlor. "It's been working hard since October - for the try-out league now."
W. Swimmers sweep Cornell, Dartmouth

By TOM MARRETT

Despite being one of the few schools in the nation that do not participate in varsity swimming, the Quakers' swimming and diving team is demonstrating the ability to compete against what are traditionally viewed as elite programs.

The team, which has been training rigorously for the past month, recently competed against the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Arizona. Although they were unable to defeat the highly ranked opponents, the Quakers showed great promise for the future.

The team is led by veteran coach Staford Kapp, who has been instrumental in developing young talent and preparing the team for success on the national stage.

W. Men's fencing sweep big at USFA's

By CHARLES H. MARINO

The Penn men's fencing team made a statement at last week's National Intercollegiate Fencing Association (USFA) Championships, capturing 12 of 20 different events to earn its third straight national title.

The team, led by head coach Nathan Helman, dominated the competition, winning gold medals in 12 out of 20 events. This success, coupled with the team's efforts throughout the season, has earned them the top spot in the nation for the third consecutive year.

NCAA delegates don't Get Smart' in Dallas

By DAVE SILLS

The NCAA delegates did not get smart' in Dallas. The 1991 NCAA Convention was held in Dallas, Texas, from January 9-11, bringing over 3,000 delegates to the city for discussions and decision-making on important issues facing college athletics.

Delegate representatives from across the country came together to address a variety of topics, including budgetary decisions, programmatic changes, and current trends in college athletics.

Sports

1. W. Swimmers sweep Cornell, Dartmouth

2. W. Men's fencing sweep big at USFA's

3. NCAA delegates don't Get Smart' in Dallas

---

Penn wrestling team co-captain Roger Reina attempts to make a take-down in his match against Hackett Gym.

---

M. Fencers successful on road

By DAVE MARCIAK

The Penn men's fencing team continued its streak of success with an impressive showing at the USFAs (National Intercollegiate Fencing Association) Championships.

The team, under the leadership of head coach Nathan Helman, demonstrated its strength by winning 12 of 20 different events to secure its third consecutive national title. This performance highlights the hard work and dedication of the team members.

W. Swimmers show new competitiveness

By DOUG REARDON

The women's swimming and diving team has shown significant improvement in recent competitions, displaying new levels of competitiveness.

This season, the team has been pushing themselves to new heights, with a focus on improving individual performances and team cohesiveness. The dedication and hard work of the swimmers have paid off, resulting in successful outcomes in various competitions.

W. Swimmers show new competitiveness

By DOUG REARDON

The women's swimming and diving team has shown significant improvement in recent competitions, displaying new levels of competitiveness.

This season, the team has been pushing themselves to new heights, with a focus on improving individual performances and team cohesiveness. The dedication and hard work of the swimmers have paid off, resulting in successful outcomes in various competitions.

---

NCAA delegates don't Get Smart' in Dallas

By DAVE SILLS

The NCAA delegates did not get smart' in Dallas. The 1991 NCAA Convention was held in Dallas, Texas, from January 9-11, bringing over 3,000 delegates to the city for discussions and decision-making on important issues facing college athletics.

Delegate representatives from across the country came together to address a variety of topics, including budgetary decisions, programmatic changes, and current trends in college athletics.

Sports

1. W. Swimmers sweep Cornell, Dartmouth

2. W. Men's fencing sweep big at USFA's

3. NCAA delegates don't Get Smart' in Dallas

---

Penn wrestling team co-captain Roger Reina attempts to make a take-down in his match against Hackett Gym.

---

M. Fencers successful on road

By DAVE MARCIAK

The Penn men's fencing team continued its streak of success with an impressive showing at the USFAs (National Intercollegiate Fencing Association) Championships.

The team, under the leadership of head coach Nathan Helman, demonstrated its strength by winning 12 of 20 different events to secure its third consecutive national title. This performance highlights the hard work and dedication of the team members.

W. Swimmers show new competitiveness

By DOUG REARDON

The women's swimming and diving team has shown significant improvement in recent competitions, displaying new levels of competitiveness.

This season, the team has been pushing themselves to new heights, with a focus on improving individual performances and team cohesiveness. The dedication and hard work of the swimmers have paid off, resulting in successful outcomes in various competitions.

W. Swimmers show new competitiveness

By DOUG REARDON

The women's swimming and diving team has shown significant improvement in recent competitions, displaying new levels of competitiveness.

This season, the team has been pushing themselves to new heights, with a focus on improving individual performances and team cohesiveness. The dedication and hard work of the swimmers have paid off, resulting in successful outcomes in various competitions.

---

NCAA delegates don't Get Smart' in Dallas

By DAVE SILLS

The NCAA delegates did not get smart' in Dallas. The 1991 NCAA Convention was held in Dallas, Texas, from January 9-11, bringing over 3,000 delegates to the city for discussions and decision-making on important issues facing college athletics.

Delegate representatives from across the country came together to address a variety of topics, including budgetary decisions, programmatic changes, and current trends in college athletics.

Sports

1. W. Swimmers sweep Cornell, Dartmouth

2. W. Men's fencing sweep big at USFA's

3. NCAA delegates don't Get Smart' in Dallas

---

Penn wrestling team co-captain Roger Reina attempts to make a take-down in his match against Hackett Gym.

---

M. Fencers successful on road

By DAVE MARCIAK

The Penn men's fencing team continued its streak of success with an impressive showing at the USFAs (National Intercollegiate Fencing Association) Championships.

The team, under the leadership of head coach Nathan Helman, demonstrated its strength by winning 12 of 20 different events to secure its third consecutive national title. This performance highlights the hard work and dedication of the team members.

W. Swimmers show new competitiveness

By DOUG REARDON

The women's swimming and diving team has shown significant improvement in recent competitions, displaying new levels of competitiveness.

This season, the team has been pushing themselves to new heights, with a focus on improving individual performances and team cohesiveness. The dedication and hard work of the swimmers have paid off, resulting in successful outcomes in various competitions.

W. Swimmers show new competitiveness

By DOUG REARDON

The women's swimming and diving team has shown significant improvement in recent competitions, displaying new levels of competitiveness.

This season, the team has been pushing themselves to new heights, with a focus on improving individual performances and team cohesiveness. The dedication and hard work of the swimmers have paid off, resulting in successful outcomes in various competitions.

---

NCAA delegates don't Get Smart' in Dallas

By DAVE SILLS

The NCAA delegates did not get smart' in Dallas. The 1991 NCAA Convention was held in Dallas, Texas, from January 9-11, bringing over 3,000 delegates to the city for discussions and decision-making on important issues facing college athletics.

Delegate representatives from across the country came together to address a variety of topics, including budgetary decisions, programmatic changes, and current trends in college athletics.

Sports

1. W. Swimmers sweep Cornell, Dartmouth

2. W. Men's fencing sweep big at USFA's

3. NCAA delegates don't Get Smart' in Dallas

---

Penn wrestling team co-captain Roger Reina attempts to make a take-down in his match against Hackett Gym.

---

M. Fencers successful on road

By DAVE MARCIAK

The Penn men's fencing team continued its streak of success with an impressive showing at the USFAs (National Intercollegiate Fencing Association) Championships.

The team, under the leadership of head coach Nathan Helman, demonstrated its strength by winning 12 of 20 different events to secure its third consecutive national title. This performance highlights the hard work and dedication of the team members.

W. Swimmers show new competitiveness

By DOUG REARDON

The women's swimming and diving team has shown significant improvement in recent competitions, displaying new levels of competitiveness.

This season, the team has been pushing themselves to new heights, with a focus on improving individual performances and team cohesiveness. The dedication and hard work of the swimmers have paid off, resulting in successful outcomes in various competitions.

W. Swimmers show new competitiveness

By DOUG REARDON

The women's swimming and diving team has shown significant improvement in recent competitions, displaying new levels of competitiveness.

This season, the team has been pushing themselves to new heights, with a focus on improving individual performances and team cohesiveness. The dedication and hard work of the swimmers have paid off, resulting in successful outcomes in various competitions.

---

NCAA delegates don't Get Smart' in Dallas

By DAVE SILLS

The NCAA delegates did not get smart' in Dallas. The 1991 NCAA Convention was held in Dallas, Texas, from January 9-11, bringing over 3,000 delegates to the city for discussions and decision-making on important issues facing college athletics.

Delegate representatives from across the country came together to address a variety of topics, including budgetary decisions, programmatic changes, and current trends in college athletics.