Coalition endorses sit-in at Drexel U.

By LAURA SHAW

The student protest that began yesterday ended in 20sticks with a finally ended College Hall's most vocal attack on Drexel University's main campus. The protest, led by the University's Black Student Union (BSU) and the University's administration, was to protest the University's failure to recognize the University's right to meet the BSU's demand for an increase in minority and disadvantaged students at the University.

"We ask that you come and join us," said BSU President Dinauvo Robinson, a mentor to students, at College Hall. The group was joined by students who were protesting the University's failure to recognize the BSU's demands.

The BSU said they were pleased with the outcome of the sit-in, which was planned to last until midnight. "We're willing to sit down and talk, but after the taking we were given some active," the BSU member said.

"We're planning to keep the protest going until the University agrees to our demands," the BSU member said. "We're not going to retreat, but we're taking the next step." The坐-in began at 10:30am and ended at 8:30pm.

Inside

Subtropical Jungle

Two College freshmen, returning from a trip to the Orient, were mugged last week on the Boulevard near subway line. Page 7.

Burning Down The House

The trustees of the University of Pennsylvania have not yet seen the report of their investigation into the University's main buildings. The trustees are expected to meet next week to discuss the report.

Volunteers of America

Page 9

Drama

Dr. Anthony Davis and Mrs. Moore of Undergraduate Grants in Drexel University's Towne and Moore buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, were among the volunteers who helped to clean up the University's main buildings. The volunteers were working on the University's main buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, from 9am to 5pm.

Undergraduates Diane McGivern and Henry Duarte said they had to show that they were not retreating, but taking the next step. "We're not going to retreat, but we're taking the next step," the BSU member said.

The cause of a fire in the Hallway Building was investigated by the University's fire department. The University's main buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, were closed to the public.

The sit-in began at 10:30am and ended at 8:30pm.

The BSU said they were pleased with the outcome of the sit-in, which was planned to last until midnight. "We're willing to sit down and talk, but after the taking we were given some active," the BSU member said.

"We're planning to keep the protest going until the University agrees to our demands," the BSU member said. "We're not going to retreat, but we're taking the next step." The坐-in began at 10:30am and ended at 8:30pm.

Inside

Subtropical Jungle

Two College freshmen, returning from a trip to the Orient, were mugged last week on the Boulevard near subway line. Page 7.

Burning Down The House

The trustees of the University of Pennsylvania have not yet seen the report of their investigation into the University's main buildings. The trustees are expected to meet next week to discuss the report.

Volunteers of America

Page 9

Drama

Dr. Anthony Davis and Mrs. Moore of Undergraduate Grants in Drexel University's Towne and Moore buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, were among the volunteers who helped to clean up the University's main buildings. The volunteers were working on the University's main buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, from 9am to 5pm.

Undergraduates Diane McGivern and Henry Duarte said they had to show that they were not retreating, but taking the next step. "We're not going to retreat, but we're taking the next step," the BSU member said.

The cause of a fire in the Hallway Building was investigated by the University's fire department. The University's main buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, were closed to the public.

The sit-in began at 10:30am and ended at 8:30pm.

The BSU said they were pleased with the outcome of the sit-in, which was planned to last until midnight. "We're willing to sit down and talk, but after the taking we were given some active," the BSU member said.

"We're planning to keep the protest going until the University agrees to our demands," the BSU member said. "We're not going to retreat, but we're taking the next step." The坐-in began at 10:30am and ended at 8:30pm.

Inside

Subtropical Jungle

Two College freshmen, returning from a trip to the Orient, were mugged last week on the Boulevard near subway line. Page 7.

Burning Down The House

The trustees of the University of Pennsylvania have not yet seen the report of their investigation into the University's main buildings. The trustees are expected to meet next week to discuss the report.

Volunteers of America

Page 9

Drama

Dr. Anthony Davis and Mrs. Moore of Undergraduate Grants in Drexel University's Towne and Moore buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, were among the volunteers who helped to clean up the University's main buildings. The volunteers were working on the University's main buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, from 9am to 5pm.

Undergraduates Diane McGivern and Henry Duarte said they had to show that they were not retreating, but taking the next step. "We're not going to retreat, but we're taking the next step," the BSU member said.

The cause of a fire in the Hallway Building was investigated by the University's fire department. The University's main buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, were closed to the public.

The sit-in began at 10:30am and ended at 8:30pm.

The BSU said they were pleased with the outcome of the sit-in, which was planned to last until midnight. "We're willing to sit down and talk, but after the taking we were given some active," the BSU member said.

"We're planning to keep the protest going until the University agrees to our demands," the BSU member said. "We're not going to retreat, but we're taking the next step." The坐-in began at 10:30am and ended at 8:30pm.

Inside

Subtropical Jungle

Two College freshmen, returning from a trip to the Orient, were mugged last week on the Boulevard near subway line. Page 7.

Burning Down The House

The trustees of the University of Pennsylvania have not yet seen the report of their investigation into the University's main buildings. The trustees are expected to meet next week to discuss the report.

Volunteers of America

Page 9

Drama

Dr. Anthony Davis and Mrs. Moore of Undergraduate Grants in Drexel University's Towne and Moore buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, were among the volunteers who helped to clean up the University's main buildings. The volunteers were working on the University's main buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, from 9am to 5pm.

Undergraduates Diane McGivern and Henry Duarte said they had to show that they were not retreating, but taking the next step. "We're not going to retreat, but we're taking the next step," the BSU member said.

The cause of a fire in the Hallway Building was investigated by the University's fire department. The University's main buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, were closed to the public.

The sit-in began at 10:30am and ended at 8:30pm.

The BSU said they were pleased with the outcome of the sit-in, which was planned to last until midnight. "We're willing to sit down and talk, but after the taking we were given some active," the BSU member said.

"We're planning to keep the protest going until the University agrees to our demands," the BSU member said. "We're not going to retreat, but we're taking the next step." The坐-in began at 10:30am and ended at 8:30pm.

Inside

Subtropical Jungle

Two College freshmen, returning from a trip to the Orient, were mugged last week on the Boulevard near subway line. Page 7.

Burning Down The House

The trustees of the University of Pennsylvania have not yet seen the report of their investigation into the University's main buildings. The trustees are expected to meet next week to discuss the report.

Volunteers of America

Page 9

Drama

Dr. Anthony Davis and Mrs. Moore of Undergraduate Grants in Drexel University's Towne and Moore buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, were among the volunteers who helped to clean up the University's main buildings. The volunteers were working on the University's main buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, from 9am to 5pm.

Undergraduates Diane McGivern and Henry Duarte said they had to show that they were not retreating, but taking the next step. "We're not going to retreat, but we're taking the next step," the BSU member said.

The cause of a fire in the Hallway Building was investigated by the University's fire department. The University's main buildings, 10 and 11 North Broad Street, were closed to the public.

The sit-in began at 10:30am and ended at 8:30pm.

The BSU said they were pleased with the outcome of the sit-in, which was planned to last until midnight. "We're willing to sit down and talk, but after the taking we were given some active," the BSU member said.

"We're planning to keep the protest going until the University agrees to our demands," the BSU member said. "We're not going to retreat, but we're taking the next step." The坐-in began at 10:30am and ended at 8:30pm.
Largest Mafia trial begins with accused locked in steel cages

PALERMO, Sicily — The largest Mafia trial in Italian history began today with 237 accused men locked in steel cages in a courtroom next door to the Siracusa courthouse. The defense lawyers, who brought the case, called it the "greatest trial" in the history of the American justice system, and the defendants were accused of being "criminals who have fallen apart.""It is a trial of thousands of people," said the lawyer in charge of the defense, "but we are only one person." The trial opened with two hours of speeches by judges and lawyers, followed by the reading of the charges. The courtroom was built for the trial, which is expected to last up to two years. The defendants are accused of participating in a conspiracy to commit murder and other crimes, including racketeering and extortion.

New leader promises to share wealth

Namy promises universal vote, rebuilt democracy

PORT-AU-PRINCE — Haiti — The head of the opposition movement promised today to share power fairly in Haiti, where the people are divided by poverty, according to sources. The movement is led by General Jean-Claude "Papa Doc" Duvalier, who was overthrown in 1986. The new leader is promising to share power fairly with the people, who have suffered under the Corregidor regime. The opposition movement is supported by many Haitians who are tired of the corruption and poverty in their country. The new leader is also promising to rebuild the nation's economy, which has been destroyed by years of war and political instability.

Tale of fire

Rocket booster may have crushed fuel tank

WASHINGTON — NASA investigators believe that the explosion which destroyed the space shuttle Challenger was caused by a failure in the fuel tank. "The problem was in the fuel tank," said one investigator. "We think it was a catastrophic failure." The tank was filled with liquid oxygen and liquid hydrogen, and the explosion caused a massive fireball. The accident, which occurred during launch at 11 a.m. EST today, has caused shock waves around the world. "It's a tragedy," said President Reagan. "We lost a great nation."

Soviets say they will release Shcharansky during spy exchange

BERLIN — Soviet officials have agreed to release Russian dissident Alexander Shcharansky before they begin the proposed spy exchange. The two sides met yesterday in Berlin, and the Soviet official said that Shcharansky would not be included in the exchange. The United States denied that a deal had been struck.

"The exchange was in real danger," said a White House official. "We have no assurance that it will happen."

Another Soviet official said that the decision to include Shcharansky was made "as a sign of good faith." The official said that Shcharansky would be sent to Paris to join his family. "We are not going to back down on this," he said.

Over the Wire

Today's news compiled from Associated Press dispatches

Portrait of a Pointer

What is it that makes your heart go "bump in the night"? What is the animal that brings chills to your spine? Is it a heart that has been struck by a scared cat? Or is it a heart that has been pierced by a dead rat? These were the questions that adorned the walls of the 10th floor of the office building where the art exhibit was held.

Philippine Assembly releases votes

MANILA, Philippines — The Philippine Assembly, which is meeting to decide on the new president of the Philippines, released its votes today. The assembly is composed of 140 members, and the vote was a tie, with 70 members voting for President Ferdinand Marcos and 70 voting against. The assembly will meet again tomorrow to decide on the new president.

National Assembly members, twelve of whom are from the president's New Society Movement, have resigned until after this week to protest the president's failure to release three Western spies, including Shcharansky. They also want to have demonstrations in the street just because the government isn't releasing the spies, according to sources.

Shcharansky, a mathematician and computer scientist, said he had only one wish — to be freed from prison. To achieve this, he said, he would be willing to make any sacrifice. "I only want to be free," he said. "I want to be free to live my life as I want."

The assembly will meet again tomorrow to decide on the new president. The two candidates for the presidency are Marcos and his vice-president, Harry McCarthy. The assembly is expected to meet again tomorrow to decide on the new president.
Mansfield does econ research

And in the decade since, Mansfield has been putting out these post-1968 books, one of which has been called "Economics," conducting extensive research in various areas of economics.

Considered by many to be the nation's leading economist, he has served as an economic advisor to government agencies, including the Federal Reserve Board, the Council of Economic Advisers, and the Economic Policy Institute.

"The question is whether the kind of research that I am doing is more important than his titles," he said.

Mansfield has been putting out these statistics since 1968, according to one company's research. But Mansfield said his research is more important than his titles. "It is a very difficult field — old models had to be abandoned. One had to have the 'goat' to go off to new areas.

"Mansfield's research has also had impact on governmental policy. Some government proposals dealing with research and development tax credits raise the question of whether the economic models that have been the first study on the efficacy of innovation, he has served on the Ways and Means Committee.

In a recent 1985 project, Mansfield and D spending by a mere 1 or 2 percent. And by the looks of the studies that are similar to those found in the Lower North Side, a corruption of "Lower East Side," a working-class neighborhood that is one part of our lifestyle," he said.

"There is one part of our lifestyle that is so far superior to anyone else," said that in our Shabbos," said Eisenberg. "I'm not understand how people are able to deal with the whole week.

"On 4:00 Friday, that's it — I put the books away and don't touch a book book again until Saturday night," added.

"We try to teach the students that are similar to those found in the Lower North Side, a corruption of "Lower East Side," a working-class neighborhood that is one part of our lifestyle," he said.

"There is one part of our lifestyle that is so far superior to anyone else," said that in our Shabbos," said Eisenberg. "I'm not understand how people are able to deal with the whole week.

"On 4:00 Friday, that's it — I put the books away and don't touch a book book again until Saturday night," added.

"When Jewish holidays come, you have to skip a class or exam," Eisenberg said. "The pressure makes it almost impossible to study on exams on Jewish holy days. Teachers are usually very good about it.

But the treatment of behavioral problems is crucial to both humans and animals. "We try to teach our children how to help their pets," Spude said.

"The pet hospital has many facilities designed to have residents in human hospitals, including an intensive care unit and an emergency room, which is normally staffed with two doctors, two nurses, a pharmacist and two to three emergency medicine residents.

Emergency room services account for 30 percent of all visits to the Emergency room. The staff also offers a program of 'more than 70 nursing methodologies.'

"There is even a behavioral counselor for those who need it," said Eisenberg.

"We try to teach our children how to help their pets," Spude said.

"The pet hospital has many facilities designed to have residents in human hospitals, including an intensive care unit and an emergency room, which is normally staffed with two doctors, two nurses, a pharmacist and two to three emergency medicine residents.

Emergency room services account for 30 percent of all visits to the Emergency room. The staff also offers a program of 'more than 70 nursing methodologies.'

"There is even a behavioral counselor for those who need it," said Eisenberg.

"When Jewish holidays come, you have to skip a class or exam," Eisenberg said. "The pressure makes it almost impossible to study on exams on Jewish holy days. Teachers are usually very good about it.

But the treatment of behavioral problems is crucial to both humans and animals. "We try to teach our children how to help their pets," Spude said.

"The pet hospital has many facilities designed to have residents in human hospitals, including an intensive care unit and an emergency room, which is normally staffed with two doctors, two nurses, a pharmacist and two to three emergency medicine residents.

Emergency room services account for 30 percent of all visits to the Emergency room. The staff also offers a program of 'more than 70 nursing methodologies.'

"There is even a behavioral counselor for those who need it," said Eisenberg.

"When Jewish holidays come, you have to skip a class or exam," Eisenberg said. "The pressure makes it almost impossible to study on exams on Jewish holy days. Teachers are usually very good about it.

But the treatment of behavioral problems is crucial to both humans and animals. "We try to teach our children how to help their pets," Spude said.

"The pet hospital has many facilities designed to have residents in human hospitals, including an intensive care unit and an emergency room, which is normally staffed with two doctors, two nurses, a pharmacist and two to three emergency medicine residents.

Emergency room services account for 30 percent of all visits to the Emergency room. The staff also offers a program of 'more than 70 nursing methodologies.'

"There is even a behavioral counselor for those who need it," said Eisenberg.

"When Jewish holidays come, you have to skip a class or exam," Eisenberg said. "The pressure makes it almost impossible to study on exams on Jewish holy days. Teachers are usually very good about it.

But the treatment of behavioral problems is crucial to both humans and animals. "We try to teach our children how to help their pets," Spude said.

"The pet hospital has many facilities designed to have residents in human hospitals, including an intensive care unit and an emergency room, which is normally staffed with two doctors, two nurses, a pharmacist and two to three emergency medicine residents.

Emergency room services account for 30 percent of all visits to the Emergency room. The staff also offers a program of 'more than 70 nursing methodologies.'

"There is even a behavioral counselor for those who need it," said Eisenberg.

"When Jewish holidays come, you have to skip a class or exam," Eisenberg said. "The pressure makes it almost impossible to study on exams on Jewish holy days. Teachers are usually very good about it.
Campus Events

A listing of university news and events

Campus Briefs

A summary of university news

Vol. 53 No. 62
February 11, 1986

8 ways to get a man to ask you out again.

1. When he mentions "The Bears," know they're from Chicago.
2. Seem unimpressed when he tells you he scored a hat trick in the third period.
3. Take his word for it when he tells you that 1984 was a very good year for Chardonnays.
4. Laugh at his jokes, even when he forgets the punch lines.
5. Avoid, at all costs, letting him see your lipstick.
6. Order something more exotic than a white wine spritzer.
7. Compliment him on his taste in colors, even if he arrives in jeans and a T-shirt.
8. Tell him you'd ask him up for a Suisse Mocha, but you only do that on second dates.

SEMIESTER IN SPAIN

Not just for Spanish majors, but for everyone—beginners, "in between", and advanced. Put some excitement into your college career!

ARTISTS, WRITERS, PHOTOGRAPHERS, YEAR-ABROAD STUDENTS, STUDENTS INTERESTED IN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS.

A WEEK 1986 PENN-IN-VENICE PROGRAM

FUTURE PROJECTS in Denmark, Czechoslovakia, France, East Germany, The Netherlands, Yugoslavia, Israel, Italy, Australia, New Zealand, British Isles, Japan.

"LOR, by. and about students"

CONFUSION by career options?

ENGINEERS- A description of AIR PRODUCTS and Chemicals summer projects abroad leading to full-time employment.

---

LAURA PENCUS
KAREN WEINTRAUB

KAREN WEINTRAUB

Eric Blum

Greg Adler

Vera Tingale

Cara Edel

Paul Michael

Cara Edel

Production Day Manager

LAURA PENCUS
KAREN WEINTRAUB

KAREN WEINTRAUB

Eric Blum

Greg Adler

Vera Tingale

Cara Edel

Paul Michael

Cara Edel

Production Day Manager

SEMIESTER IN SPAIN

Not just for Spanish majors, but for everyone—beginners, "in between", and advanced. Put some excitement into your college career! This semester's rush attracted a diverse group of men and women.

The series, which was lauded by the Daily Pennsylvania, was developed by the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs.

Shen said that the organization's speeches provide information for women about the corporate world.

"Lectures are primarily directed toward female undergraduates," she said. "We've worked with a number of women who are interested in helping women in their careers after college...the lectures provide a better perspective on the business world," she explained.

But searching for ways to finance your education, you may want to consider opportunities to work abroad. "There's a very high demand for summer positions abroad leading to full-time employment," she said.

The series, which was lauded by the Daily Pennsylvania, was developed by the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs.

Shen said that the organization's speeches provide information for women about the corporate world.

"Lectures are primarily directed toward female undergraduates," she said. "We've worked with a number of women who are interested in helping women in their careers after college...the lectures provide a better perspective on the business world," she explained.

But searching for ways to finance your education, you may want to consider opportunities to work abroad. "There's a very high demand for summer positions abroad leading to full-time employment," she said.
Gay students attacked during subway ride

(Continued from page 1)

"The police encouraged us not to press charges," he said. "I know I could identify them, but the officer was right, how could they catch them?

Communications Professor Larry Gross said yesterday that he has not seen a crime report of the incident. "It's not something that we have published a report last week documenting any instances of gay and lesbian abuse in this area."

"All I can say is that it's an unfortunate illustration of what the survey revealed," he said. "Namely that bisexual and gay men are frequently subjugated and physically attacked in public."

Chinese New Year

(Continued from page 1)

ramen on red rectangular cards. Diners can order by choosing from the list and from the traditional Liu De menu in the center. An elderly couple grunted all about the noise.

"And that anti-gay bigotry is still accepted enough by many people that the small number of people who actually harass and attack can get away with it," he added.

Penn students are on the move. Now is the time of year when over 10,000 students are looking for off-campus housing for the next academic year. They will rent homes throughout Philadelphia, and they will need to furnish them. The Guide to Off-Campus Living gives landlords and retailers the chance to reach this targeted group of consumers during the height of apartment and house-hunting season.

A GRADUATE STUDENT CAREER SEMINAR

WORKING IN PUBLIC AFFAIRS

WITH: DAVID MORSE, Director of Federal Relations, University of Pennsylvania, President of the Pennsylvania Legislative and Gay Task Force.

"We are one of the best authentic Japanese restaurants in the Delaware Valley." Relax in comfortable atmosphere. Call The Daily Pennsylvanian Advertising Office at 898-8581.
Why I Like Penn

By Rich Rubin

If you were to read nothing besides the editorial page of the award-winning newspaper, your impression of the world would say that the paper serves, not to mirror the world the way we would want it to, but to make the world look like what we like to think it is. As Michael Krasny, a regular reader of The Daily Pennsylvanian, puts it in his letter to the editor, "The DPs cover are consistently aggressive to innocent people and encourage a culture of violence and discrimination.

I have been a student at Penn for three years, and I have seen the changes in the campus that have taken place over that time. The DP has been one of the main sources of information for me during my time here, and I have found it to be a reliable and accurate source of news.

I have also noticed the positive influence that the DP has had on the campus. The DP's coverage of local issues, such as the recent student protests, has helped to bring attention to important social issues and has encouraged students to become more involved in the community.

In conclusion, I believe that the DP is doing an excellent job of informing the campus community about important issues, and I hope that it will continue to do so in the future.

Letter to the Editor

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Homosexuality, not Pornography, Called Dangerous Attitude

The admits that "Dangerous Attitude," the column by Tom Kasten, is an accurate reflection of the feelings that many college administrators have about the boundaries of free speech. The column is a call for a more responsible use of speech, and it is a valuable contribution to the ongoing conversation about the role of universities in our society.

It is clear that the column is intended to spark a discussion about the role of universities in promoting a culture of respect and tolerance. The column does this by highlighting the fact that the use of language can be harmful, and that it is important to be mindful of the impact of our words on others.

In conclusion, I believe that "Dangerous Attitude" is a valuable contribution to the ongoing conversation about the role of universities in promoting a culture of respect and tolerance. The column is a call for a more responsible use of speech, and it is a valuable contribution to the ongoing conversation about the role of universities in our society.

Send Us Mail

The Daily Pennsylvanian welcomes comments from the University community and the general public. We encourage you to submit letters and stories to our editors.

We are committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive community. We welcome contributions from people of all backgrounds and perspectives. We are interested in hearing about your experiences and perspectives, and we encourage you to share them with us.

We are also interested in hearing about your ideas for improving the University community. We welcome contributions that promote positive change and improvement.

We are committed to promoting a culture of respect and tolerance. We encourage you to share your ideas and perspectives with us, and we are committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive community.

Letter to the Editor

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Title: The Importance of Community Engagement

The administrators at the University of Pennsylvania have been working hard to create a more diverse and inclusive community. They have been working to ensure that the community is welcoming and supportive for all students, faculty, and staff.

These efforts include initiatives such as the creation of diversity and inclusion task forces, the establishment of diversity and inclusion offices, and the implementation of diversity and inclusion training programs. These efforts have been well-received by the community, and they have helped to create a more welcoming and supportive environment.

In conclusion, I believe that the administrators at the University of Pennsylvania have been doing an excellent job of promoting diversity and inclusion. Their efforts have been well-received by the community, and they have helped to create a more welcoming and supportive environment.

Letter to the Editor

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Quotations of the Day

"If you want to know what people think they will never tell you, they will tell you the opposite. It's through the smoke that you see the sun." — George Orwell

"The true measure of a man is not how much he accomplished, but how much he accomplished with the help of others." — John F. Kennedy

"The only thing that is certain is that we will never know the future." — William Shakespeare

These quotations offer a glimpse into the minds of some of the great minds of our time. They remind us that we must be mindful of the impact of our words on others, and that we must be careful with the way we think and act.

Letter to the Editor

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Questions of the Day

1. What do you think is the most important issue facing our community today?
2. What steps do you think we should take to address this issue?
3. What changes do you think we should make to our community to improve it?

These questions offer a way for us to engage in a conversation about the issues facing our community. They remind us that we must be mindful of the impact of our words on others, and that we must be careful with the way we think and act.

Letter to the Editor

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Send Us Mail

The Daily Pennsylvanian welcomes comments from the University community and the general public. We encourage you to submit letters and stories to our editors.

We are committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive community. We welcome contributions from people of all backgrounds and perspectives. We are interested in hearing about your experiences and perspectives, and we encourage you to share them with us.

We are also interested in hearing about your ideas for improving the University community. We welcome contributions that promote positive change and improvement.

We are committed to promoting a culture of respect and tolerance. We encourage you to share your ideas and perspectives with us, and we are committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive community.

Letter to the Editor

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Quotations of the Day

"If you want to know what people think they will never tell you, they will tell you the opposite. It's through the smoke that you see the sun." — George Orwell

"The true measure of a man is not how much he accomplished, but how much he accomplished with the help of others." — John F. Kennedy

"The only thing that is certain is that we will never know the future." — William Shakespeare

These quotations offer a glimpse into the minds of some of the great minds of our time. They remind us that we must be mindful of the impact of our words on others, and that we must be careful with the way we think and act.

Letter to the Editor

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Questions of the Day

1. What do you think is the most important issue facing our community today?
2. What steps do you think we should take to address this issue?
3. What changes do you think we should make to our community to improve it?

These questions offer a way for us to engage in a conversation about the issues facing our community. They remind us that we must be mindful of the impact of our words on others, and that we must be careful with the way we think and act.

Letter to the Editor

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Send Us Mail

The Daily Pennsylvanian welcomes comments from the University community and the general public. We encourage you to submit letters and stories to our editors.

We are committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive community. We welcome contributions from people of all backgrounds and perspectives. We are interested in hearing about your experiences and perspectives, and we encourage you to share them with us.

We are also interested in hearing about your ideas for improving the University community. We welcome contributions that promote positive change and improvement.

We are committed to promoting a culture of respect and tolerance. We encourage you to share your ideas and perspectives with us, and we are committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive community.
We're looking to hire 2 or 3 of the best from this year's class...
(MBA or Bachelor's degree)

Are you good enough to be one of them?

MBI, Inc. wants two or three of the top individuals from this year's graduating class. We offer an unusual management opportunity to someone interested in a young and highly successful enterprise in a fast-paced, expanding, and competitive industry.

The Industry: Direct marketing is a $100 billion industry. It accounts for more than 15% of all consumer purchases in America and more than 20% of total advertising dollar volume. Well over half of the Fortune 500 companies are engaged in some way in direct marketing, yet the industry remains powerfully entrepreneurial — with the opportunity for well-managed firms to achieve rapid growth.

The Company: MBI, Inc. is a medium-sized ( $140 million in sales ) privately-owned company engaged exclusively in the creation and marketing of fine collectibles. The business is young; it was launched in 1969 and top division managers are now in their mid-30's and 40's. MBI's track record is one of outstanding growth in a highly competitive field.

The Products: Through its operating divisions, MBI markets fine collectibles of heirloom quality. Products include philatelic items, metallic art, fine china and crystal collector items and leather-bound books of unsurpassed quality.

The Structure: Organization is on the Program Group basis, with Program Managers responsible for individual programs. The structure offers a unique opportunity for direct experience in different areas of business management (not available in larger organizations where functions tend to be more specialized).

The Position: Entry to management is at the Assistant or Associate Program Manager level, depending upon experience. Assistants and Associates share in program development and implementation responsibilities as an extension of the Program Manager. Typically, a Program Group is comprised of the Program Manager and 1 or 2 Assistants and or Associates. MBI is committed to the internal development of managerial talent and our growth provides for unusual advancement opportunities.

The Rewards: Our view is that outstanding achievement should meet with outstanding reward. Our success has been built on the excellent performance of a motivated, well-rewarded management team.

The successful candidate will be intelligent and highly self-motivated with entrepreneurial instincts and a high personal standard of excellence. A high energy level and a willingness to work hard are essential to keep pace with a rapidly growing business. Involvement in the business, keen attention to detail, and a sense of managerial overview are crucial success factors. To the individual with proper motivation, we can provide the challenge that permits maximum development of each person's potential.

If you are a top individual who is interested in a truly outstanding career opportunity and would like to learn more about MBI, Inc., send us your resume and a letter of introduction. We'll get back to you.

Bill McEnery
Personnel Manager
MBI, Inc.
47 Richards Avenue
Norwalk, CT 06857
(203) 853-2000

OPERATING DIVISIONS:
DANBURY MINT
EASTON PRESS
HERITAGE PRESS
POSTAL COMMEMORATIVE SOCIETY
Fire strikes Harrison House

By DANNY WESTFELDT
A Sunday night fire in Harrison House's trash room caused smoke to fill the building for nearly half an hour.

The fire department arrived at Harrison House at 11:53 p.m. and extinguished the blaze after five fire trucks were called to the house.

Public Safety officials preventively descended onto the incident.

Fire and Occupational Safety worker Jim Miller said last night that he was not sure what caused the fire. Harrison House does not have trash collection in the trash room, so the building's electrical system could have ignited the fire.

"The trash goes down the chute and gets compacted," Miller said, adding that incomplete combustion causes excess amounts of smoke to fill every Harrison House hallway.

"When there isn't enough heat and oxygen to cause rapid combustion, this results in incomplete combustion," Miller said.

The Physical Plant originally attributed the second alarm to the lingering odor of smoke in the hallways.

"I would assume that, due to the noise of smoke in the building, someone who had just come in thought there was a fire and pulled the alarm," he said. "The alarm could have also been activated by someone just clowning around."

"I smell something burning," he said last night. "Then the alarm went off."

Miller said that his first-floor hallway was filled with smoke for approximately 30 seconds.

"If you had stood out in the hall, inhaling the smoke would have been uncomfortable." However, he added, "The people who had just come in were very confused."

Students are ordered to wait in the rain while firefighters remove the fire department.

Trevor Farnell to speak at Irvine

Speech opens Penn Extension's Volunteer Week

By DANNY ZIMMERMANN
Penn Extension is sponsoring a volunteer week from Feb. 18 through 23 with the theme of "Volunteerism." The week will culminate with a volunteer fair on Friday.

Volunteer Week is an opportunity for volunteers to meet new people and learn more about the volunteer fair.

There will be no charge for the fair.

Tomorrow, Associate Education Professor Charles Dwyer will speak from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the Houston Hall Bowl Room. Dwyer's address is entitled "Volunteerism — mixed results."

Upward Bound Program Director Larry Manning will present an address called "High School Dropouts and the Challenge for Today," after Dwyer's speech.

Penn Extension Director Claudia Galiffa and spokespeople from several local charities will speak.

Penn Extension's program is hoping for student and non-student volunteerism. "We will have a representative present, looking for students to help run our programs," Galiffa said.

Galiffa said that Penn Extension is looking for students and non-students to volunteer in the coming days.

The fair will be held from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Houston Hall's Bodek Lounge.

"I was not able to be there, but I was there," the speaker said, "because I was not sure what cause of fire it was."

"I smell something burning — I smell something burning," he said. "I smell something burning."

"It was just a showcase of the film," Miller said.

"We would assume that, due to the noise of smoke in the building, someone who had just come in thought there was a fire and pulled the alarm," he said. "The alarm could have also been activated by someone just clowning around."

"I smell something burning," he said last night. "Then the alarm went off."

Miller said that his first-floor hallway was filled with smoke for approximately 30 seconds.

"If you had stood out in the hall, inhaling the smoke would have been uncomfortable." However, he added, "The people who had just come in were very confused."

Students are ordered to wait in the rain while firefighters remove the fire department.

Trevor Farnell to speak at Irvine

Speech opens Penn Extension's Volunteer Week

By DANNY ZIMMERMANN
Penn Extension is sponsoring a volunteer week from Feb. 18 through 23 with the theme of "Volunteerism." The week will culminate with a volunteer fair on Friday.

Volunteer Week is an opportunity for volunteers to meet new people and learn more about the volunteer fair.

There will be no charge for the fair.

Tomorrow, Associate Education Professor Charles Dwyer will speak from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the Houston Hall Bowl Room. Dwyer's address is entitled "Volunteerism — mixed results."

Upward Bound Program Director Larry Manning will present an address called "High School Dropouts and the Challenge for Today," after Dwyer's speech.

Penn Extension Director Claudia Galiffa and spokespeople from several local charities will speak.

Penn Extension's program is hoping for student and non-student volunteerism. "We will have a representative present, looking for students to help run our programs," Galiffa said.

Galiffa said that Penn Extension is looking for students and non-students to volunteer in the coming days.

The fair will be held from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Houston Hall's Bodek Lounge.

"I was not able to be there, but I was there," the speaker said, "because I was not sure what cause of fire it was."

"I smell something burning — I smell something burning," he said. "I smell something burning."

"The alarm could have also been activated by someone just clowning around."

"I smell something burning," he said last night. "Then the alarm went off."

Miller said that his first-floor hallway was filled with smoke for approximately 30 seconds.

"If you had stood out in the hall, inhaling the smoke would have been uncomfortable." However, he added, "The people who had just come in were very confused."

Students are ordered to wait in the rain while firefighters remove the fire department.

Trevor Farnell to speak at Irvine

Speech opens Penn Extension's Volunteer Week

By DANNY ZIMMERMANN
Penn Extension is sponsoring a volunteer week from Feb. 18 through 23 with the theme of "Volunteerism." The week will culminate with a volunteer fair on Friday.

Volunteer Week is an opportunity for volunteers to meet new people and learn more about the volunteer fair.

There will be no charge for the fair.

Tomorrow, Associate Education Professor Charles Dwyer will speak from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the Houston Hall Bowl Room. Dwyer's address is entitled "Volunteerism — mixed results."

Upward Bound Program Director Larry Manning will present an address called "High School Dropouts and the Challenge for Today," after Dwyer's speech.

Penn Extension Director Claudia Galiffa and spokespeople from several local charities will speak.

Penn Extension's program is hoping for student and non-student volunteerism. "We will have a representative present, looking for students to help run our programs," Galiffa said.

Galiffa said that Penn Extension is looking for students and non-students to volunteer in the coming days.

The fair will be held from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Houston Hall's Bodek Lounge.

"I was not able to be there, but I was there," the speaker said, "because I was not sure what cause of fire it was."

"I smell something burning — I smell something burning," he said. "I smell something burning."

"The alarm could have also been activated by someone just clowning around."

"I smell something burning," he said last night. "Then the alarm went off."

Miller said that his first-floor hallway was filled with smoke for approximately 30 seconds.

"If you had stood out in the hall, inhaling the smoke would have been uncomfortable." However, he added, "The people who had just come in were very confused."

Students are ordered to wait in the rain while firefighters remove the fire department.
Long Way Nursing School prof. travels 200 miles daily to work

By IRA S. SMITH

The day starts early for Diane McGivern — if it's considered early at all.

McGivern wakes up at 5 a.m. as she works to make the two-hour commute from her home in Staten Island, New York to the University of Pennsylvania. As an associate professor at the Nursing School, McGivern makes the 200-mile round trip five days a week.

"Penn is considered the doctoral education. That makes this here," she continued. "It's the only Nursing School in New York."

McGivern makes the 200-mile round trip five days a week to work with physicians on public health issues. She spent most of her time working on Medicare and Medicaid policy.

"I worked for a senior Senate from Minnesota," McGivern said. "It was a very good experience, because before I didn't have any exposure to public health policy."

"I commuted on the weekends," she added. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I would love for the students to develop an action — implement a plan to deal with the problem," McGivern said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I am not restricted in any way," she said. "They are always remarkable because they come with such more sophisticated insights than you'd expect. I'm especially interested in the ability of the students to look at issues and identify the problem."

"Doctoral students are focused on a particular goal," she added. "I think that's wonderful; they're not as restricted by what you do."

"It's a trade off," McGivern said. "If you've been an administrator before, you're used to a particular day-to-day task. The students have to be flexible."

The doctoral course, "Issues of Leadership in Policy and Planning," is required for doctoral nursing students to deal with critical issues in health care.

"I am moved by the problem," she said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"It is required for the students to develop an action — implement a plan to deal with the problem," McGivern said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I would love for the students to develop an action — implement a plan to deal with the problem," McGivern said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I am not restricted in any way," she said. "They are always remarkable because they come with such more sophisticated insights than you'd expect. I'm especially interested in the ability of the students to look at issues and identify the problem."

"Doctoral students are focused on a particular goal," she added. "I think that's wonderful; they're not as restricted by what you do."

"It's a trade off," McGivern said. "If you've been an administrator before, you're used to a particular day-to-day task. The students have to be flexible."

The doctoral course, "Issues of Leadership in Policy and Planning," is required for doctoral nursing students to deal with critical issues in health care.

"I am moved by the problem," she said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"It is required for the students to develop an action — implement a plan to deal with the problem," McGivern said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I am not restricted in any way," she said. "They are always remarkable because they come with such more sophisticated insights than you'd expect. I'm especially interested in the ability of the students to look at issues and identify the problem."

"Doctoral students are focused on a particular goal," she added. "I think that's wonderful; they're not as restricted by what you do."

"It's a trade off," McGivern said. "If you've been an administrator before, you're used to a particular day-to-day task. The students have to be flexible."

The doctoral course, "Issues of Leadership in Policy and Planning," is required for doctoral nursing students to deal with critical issues in health care.

"I am moved by the problem," she said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"It is required for the students to develop an action — implement a plan to deal with the problem," McGivern said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I am not restricted in any way," she said. "They are always remarkable because they come with such more sophisticated insights than you'd expect. I'm especially interested in the ability of the students to look at issues and identify the problem."

"Doctoral students are focused on a particular goal," she added. "I think that's wonderful; they're not as restricted by what you do."

"It's a trade off," McGivern said. "If you've been an administrator before, you're used to a particular day-to-day task. The students have to be flexible.

The doctoral course, "Issues of Leadership in Policy and Planning," is required for doctoral nursing students to deal with critical issues in health care.

"I am moved by the problem," she said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"It is required for the students to develop an action — implement a plan to deal with the problem," McGivern said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I am not restricted in any way," she said. "They are always remarkable because they come with such more sophisticated insights than you'd expect. I'm especially interested in the ability of the students to look at issues and identify the problem."

"Doctoral students are focused on a particular goal," she added. "I think that's wonderful; they're not as restricted by what you do."

"It's a trade off," McGivern said. "If you've been an administrator before, you're used to a particular day-to-day task. The students have to be flexible.

The doctoral course, "Issues of Leadership in Policy and Planning," is required for doctoral nursing students to deal with critical issues in health care.

"I am moved by the problem," she said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"It is required for the students to develop an action — implement a plan to deal with the problem," McGivern said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I am not restricted in any way," she said. "They are always remarkable because they come with such more sophisticated insights than you'd expect. I'm especially interested in the ability of the students to look at issues and identify the problem."

"Doctoral students are focused on a particular goal," she added. "I think that's wonderful; they're not as restricted by what you do."

"It's a trade off," McGivern said. "If you've been an administrator before, you're used to a particular day-to-day task. The students have to be flexible.

The doctoral course, "Issues of Leadership in Policy and Planning," is required for doctoral nursing students to deal with critical issues in health care.

"I am moved by the problem," she said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"It is required for the students to develop an action — implement a plan to deal with the problem," McGivern said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I am not restricted in any way," she said. "They are always remarkable because they come with such more sophisticated insights than you'd expect. I'm especially interested in the ability of the students to look at issues and identify the problem."

"Doctoral students are focused on a particular goal," she added. "I think that's wonderful; they're not as restricted by what you do."

"It's a trade off," McGivern said. "If you've been an administrator before, you're used to a particular day-to-day task. The students have to be flexible.

The doctoral course, "Issues of Leadership in Policy and Planning," is required for doctoral nursing students to deal with critical issues in health care.

"I am moved by the problem," she said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"It is required for the students to develop an action — implement a plan to deal with the problem," McGivern said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I am not restricted in any way," she said. "They are always remarkable because they come with such more sophisticated insights than you'd expect. I'm especially interested in the ability of the students to look at issues and identify the problem."

"Doctoral students are focused on a particular goal," she added. "I think that's wonderful; they're not as restricted by what you do."

"It's a trade off," McGivern said. "If you've been an administrator before, you're used to a particular day-to-day task. The students have to be flexible.

The doctoral course, "Issues of Leadership in Policy and Planning," is required for doctoral nursing students to deal with critical issues in health care.

"I am moved by the problem," she said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"It is required for the students to develop an action — implement a plan to deal with the problem," McGivern said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I am not restricted in any way," she said. "They are always remarkable because they come with such more sophisticated insights than you'd expect. I'm especially interested in the ability of the students to look at issues and identify the problem."

"Doctoral students are focused on a particular goal," she added. "I think that's wonderful; they're not as restricted by what you do."

"It's a trade off," McGivern said. "If you've been an administrator before, you're used to a particular day-to-day task. The students have to be flexible.

The doctoral course, "Issues of Leadership in Policy and Planning," is required for doctoral nursing students to deal with critical issues in health care.

"I am moved by the problem," she said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"It is required for the students to develop an action — implement a plan to deal with the problem," McGivern said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I am not restricted in any way," she said. "They are always remarkable because they come with such more sophisticated insights than you'd expect. I'm especially interested in the ability of the students to look at issues and identify the problem."

"Doctoral students are focused on a particular goal," she added. "I think that's wonderful; they're not as restricted by what you do."

"It's a trade off," McGivern said. "If you've been an administrator before, you're used to a particular day-to-day task. The students have to be flexible.

The doctoral course, "Issues of Leadership in Policy and Planning," is required for doctoral nursing students to deal with critical issues in health care.

"I am moved by the problem," she said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"It is required for the students to develop an action — implement a plan to deal with the problem," McGivern said. McGivern enjoys working with students at different levels in their nursing education.

"I am not restricted in any way," she said. "They are always remarkable because they come with such more sophisticated insights than you'd expect. I'm especially interested in the ability of the students to look at issues and identify the problem."

"Doctoral students are focused on a particular goal," she added. "I think that's wonderful; they're not as restricted by what you do."

"It's a trade off," McGivern said. "If you've been an administrator before, you're used to a particular day-to-day task. The students have to be flexible.
You want a computer for college. You don't know which one to get. You're confused. You get depressed.
Don't be.
Because the answer to all your computer problems is at your campus computer center. Where you'll find Macintosh personal computer and a selection of Macintosh products specifically suited for students.
The Macintosh personal computer lets you work faster, smarter and more creatively. The Apple External Disk Drive gives you the power to store and access information faster. And the ImageWriter™ printer lets you print out crisp copies of your work. Lastly, there's the Macintosh carrying case. Which lets you take your Macintosh system wherever your work takes you.
So go to the campus computer center and pick up a Macintosh brochure.
And remember. When you bring a Macintosh home, there's a good chance you'll be bringing home something else. Better grades.

Visit our store to pick up The new MacPlus from Apple available immediately.

Also, inquire about special prices for the 512K Mac and Image Writer.
Students to lobby at capital for Soviet Jews

By DAVID HARDING

The Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry will open their week-long lobby in Washington, D.C. this morning, hoping to educate the public on the situation of Soviet Jews and bring pressure against their will to remain in the Soviet Union.

Regional coordinator Kevin Aaronson said last week that University students will join 1,000 to 1,500 other students from around the country.

"We will be asking congressmen to adopt resolutions, which basically are just writing letters to them expressing their support," he said.

Wells also said most of the organization's activities are aimed at "raising consciousness, and that the emphasis will be on education."

"The student lobby is going to be to be a direct initiative thing we do as college students but actually have an impact on any conflict happening," he said.

"The person who wishes to emigrate must first have a legal relative of the same ethnic origin who lives in another country," he said.

"The relative must act as an 'agent' to that person to leave the Soviet Union. Only then can the Jew apply for a visa," he said.

Aaronson added that the people who have been refused visas — the refusniks — face even greater ramifications.

"If the letter that the Jew is writing to the agent is refused, then they're initialed letters, and how they are treated on related problems.

"But he said the process leaves a lot of room for the Soviets to upset the balance."

"They can keep the letter from reaching the hands of the Jew, or they can at least make it go through and be rejected."

"But the Soviet Union is in the process of accepting applications."

Aaronson added that the people who have been refused visas — the refusniks — face even greater ramifications. He said that even if someone has the in a more positive situation where they have a job, these newly unemployed and are punished and are observed with violating the law. Some are thrown in jail, often for no reason.

The Soviet Union has disallowed the existence of most organized Jewish religious that are necessary for the survival of the Jewish community, he continued.

The group will leave for Washington on Wednesday, February 26 and return Thursday evening. Registration at Hillil will continue through today.

Traditional practices remain

At the University campus, the schnaps tradition remains a back-to-basics trend.

"I was in Freiberg, Germany, and see one of my parents separated," he said. "I want to go."

Rabbi Levine feels there are no religious restrictions for intermarriage. He said that even if you were a Jew, it was not sub- ject to the community and the family was a major factor in the decision.

"I haven't heard of any restriction at Penn, though I've heard of it from home," he said. "I was able to walk with a girlfriend and was surprised to find out that nobody went anywhere to me."

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law is accredited by the American Bar Association and is a member of the Association of American Law Schools

Student, Faculty & Staff Discount

Cut & Blow dry

Men's $14.00 reg. $19.00

Ladies $10.00 reg. $24.00

Discount at All Times

2016 Sassafras St.
Philadelphia Pennsylvania 19103
561-5737

PASSPORT PHOTOS

SHAPLY STUDIOS
3901 Walnut St.
222-7883

next to Rubin Studios

INSTANT

Buy a Brother for MS
At Sigma Nu

Saturday, Feb. 15th
Cocktails at 7 PM
Brother Auction at 8 PM

Hunters: Start Law School This May
Define Your Future

AEP n. (1) acronym for innovative accelerated entry plan of extraordinary quality offered by the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law to a select group of highly qualified juniors; (2) a way for juniors to complete the first year of law school in two consecutive summers and receive their J.D. in two additional years without interfering with undergraduate senior year; (3) a chance to study with a standing faculty in an exciting, interdisciplinary environment; (4) opportunity for juniors to start law school this summer requiring immediate response (collect) 212-790-0274, or contact with Office of Admissions by mail.

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law ☑ Yeshiva University
Brookdale Center ☑ 55 Fifth Avenue ☑ New York, NY 10003

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law is accredited by the American Bar Association and is a member of the Association of American Law Schools
Imagine Their Disappointment

Over 500 DP personal Valentine's Day ads in Friday's newspaper. And none of them from you. Because you didn't stop at our table on Locust Walk or in 1920 Commons or in Stouffer to spend some time and a little money to say you care.

But wait! What if we told you that you had one more chance to WISH SOMEONE SPECIAL HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY WITH A DP VALENTINE

4 Locations Today

Locust Walk
In Front of Steinberg/Dietrich
10 am — 4 pm
(Bad weather site: Houston Hall, vending area)

DP Office
4015 Walnut Street
9 am — 5 pm

1920 Commons
11 am—2 pm

Stouffer
11 am—2 pm
Beresin leads DP Sports past WXPN

(Continued from back page)

by David "underhanded" Scoop

Goldberg and Bill "Pop-tart"

Brown. Both were a hundred percent right from the field. Each did outside things that would make you wish to shoot the ball," said Goldberg, whose offensive philosophy is based on the one-on-one play. Brown was usually on the receiving end of the pass.

"I like to shoot the ball...a lot," Goldberg said.

The Quakers showed their strength Friday night when they easily defeated the SUAA 119-106. The game started off positive for the Quakers, who were the first to score.

"When The Only Stuff That Matters is to win - we usually do the job nicely.\" said Goldberg, who threw up more pass. "And I didn't want to give the ball to anyone, either. He could have missed another shot."

DP Sports Standings

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Sports</th>
<th>DP</th>
<th>SUAA</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Basketball</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Football</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Soccer</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

What will you give your Valentine?

Roses? Candy? A Card?

Why not give him or her a great gift that will really last?

Be daring! Advertise your love in the special Valentine's Day Personals section of The Daily Pennsylvanian.

Come to the Daily Pennsylvanian's Valentine's Day Personals section for Valentine's Day on Saturday, February 14, 1986. The section will be available from 9 AM to 4 PM. A one-column-inch ad costs $5.00 and for only $3.00 more you can advertise in red with a gift from the Daily Pennsylvanian Business Office.

The Daily Pennsylvanian.

3415 Walnut St., 2nd Flr

I love you Je t'aime Kocham cie Mius mje tu

*Tell a story... To tell pages hartu ku I'ah told der ladiu kocham tu

Show it with a:

- card; chocolate heart; mug;
- musical heart; candy bouquet;
- ceramic; stuffed animal;
- sticker; balloon;

...from:

3729 Locust Walk Philadelphia, PA 19104

Can't say it?

OXBRIDGE STYLE SCARF

"I love you" Je t'aime Kocham cie Mius mje tu

- card; chocolate heart; mug;
- musical heart; candy bouquet;
- ceramic; stuffed animal;
- sticker; balloon;...

...from:

3729 Locust Walk Philadelphia, PA 19104

Can't say it?

Show it with a:

- card; chocolate heart; mug;
- musical heart; candy bouquet;
- ceramic; stuffed animal;
- sticker; balloon;...

...from:

3729 Locust Walk Philadelphia, PA 19104

Can't say it?
Domino's Pizza delivers free.

Call us.
386-2600

Open for lunch.
11 AM-7 PM Sun-Thurs.
11 AM-9 PM Fri & Sat.

One call does it all!

M. Fencing sweeps two

(Continued from back page)

1. If you are interested in SF and fantasy literature and art, or you just have an overactive imagination, come on down and

EVENT HORIZON SCIENCE FICTION CLUB
(Fallon's new leadership)
meets every Monday in custum Hall 308 (or call Walter at 243-5053 for further information).

~ Recommended for 2ndary ~

Men's Swimming loses

(Continued from back page)

for two weeks and then completely

Sunday Worship: 9 & 11 A.M.

The daily Pennsylvanian — Tuesday, February 11, 1986

Penn-in-west

English 66V: Perspective on Film: Survey of International Cinema

Choose your Ad: Full Service or Self Service

39TH & CHESTNUT STREETS  349-9000

DOMINO'S PIZZA DELIVERS FREE.

What Makes Us So Great?

1. We have the newest and fastest quality Xerox machines in the University Area. All-stated art equipment.

2. We have a full-service, start of friendly, knowledgeable, professional people.

3. We are a one-stop shop for all of your printing, copying, and typesetting needs.

4. We have the lowest Xerox prices in the University City area!

FULL SERVICE — 4x4

CALL US.
386-2600

SUNDAY WORSHIP:
SUNDAY 10:30 A.M.

Atrex Translation Services

Taking a break from your day, you might notice a remarkable victory in the 50-yard freestyle. John Conlon won the event in a time of 22.03 and set the new school record for the 50-yard freestyle. This victory was expected, as Conlon is considered one of the top swimmers in the nation. He has consistently performed at a high level, setting multiple records and winning numerous awards. In addition to his individual achievements, Conlon has been a key member of the relay teams, contributing to several victories. His dedication and hard work have paid off, solidifying his status as a prominent athlete in the swimming world.

Additionally, the Quakers' women's swimming team had a strong showing, capturing multiple awards and breaking several records. The team's success can be attributed to the strong leadership and teamwork within the squad. The athletes demonstrated exceptional skill and endurance, pushing themselves to reach their full potential. The dedication and commitment of the swimmers played a crucial role in the team's success, as they trained tirelessly to achieve their goals.

The men's and women's swimming teams both performed admirably, showcasing their talent and determination. The Quakers' success in these competitions highlights their commitment to excellence and the value placed on athletic performance. The team's victories serve as a testament to the hard work and sacrifice put in by both the athletes and coaching staff. As the season progresses, the swim teams will continue to build on their achievements, striving for even greater success in upcoming meets.

The Quakers' performance in the 50-yard freestyle is a reflection of their overall strength in the pool. The team's dedication to training and conditioning has paid off, resulting in impressive times and records. This victory, along with their other accomplishments, demonstrates the high level of skill and expertise possessed by the Quakers' swimmers. Their success is a testament to the hard work, discipline, and teamwork inherent in the sport of swimming.

As the season unfolds, the team will look to build on their momentum, aiming to achieve even greater heights. The swimmers' relentless pursuit of excellence and their ability to overcome challenges make them a force to be reckoned with in the pool. With this victory under their belt, the Quakers are poised to continue their rise, striving for additional accolades and setting new standards for excellence in collegiate swimming.

The Quakers' success in the 50-yard freestyle is a shining example of their commitment to excellence and the pursuit of athletic greatness. This victory, along with their other accomplishments, serves as a reminder of the tremendous talent and hard work embodied by the team. As they move forward, the swimmers will continue to push themselves to new heights, driven by their love for the sport and their passion for achieving success.
Weisenthal Properties 386-2380

MEN SEEKING WAYS TO MAKE MONEY. THIS IS A HOME WORK OPPORTUNITY. CALL 215-662-5600 FOR INTERVIEW

HELP WANTED

PERSONNEL OFFICE EMPLOYEE. Full time. Excellent salary and benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.

HELP WANTED

PARKING ATTENDANTS FOR THE UNIVERSITY. Excellent benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.

PERSONNEL OFFICE EMPLOYEE. Full time. Excellent salary and benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.

HELP WANTED

PARKING ATTENDANTS FOR THE UNIVERSITY. Excellent benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.

PERSONNEL OFFICE EMPLOYEE. Full time. Excellent salary and benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.

HELP WANTED

PARKING ATTENDANTS FOR THE UNIVERSITY. Excellent benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.

PERSONNEL OFFICE EMPLOYEE. Full time. Excellent salary and benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.

HELP WANTED

PARKING ATTENDANTS FOR THE UNIVERSITY. Excellent benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.

PERSONNEL OFFICE EMPLOYEE. Full time. Excellent salary and benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.

HELP WANTED

PARKING ATTENDANTS FOR THE UNIVERSITY. Excellent benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.

PERSONNEL OFFICE EMPLOYEE. Full time. Excellent salary and benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.

HELP WANTED

PARKING ATTENDANTS FOR THE UNIVERSITY. Excellent benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.

PERSONNEL OFFICE EMPLOYEE. Full time. Excellent salary and benefits. Send res. to Mr. Conners, 725 Chestnut St.
W. Fencers slash Temple and Yale

BY WAYNE SALT

It seems to be the same scenario over and over again, and the end of every dual-meet is the same — the same at least as far as the Quakers are concerned. And yet the Quakers are always more competitive, the end and they always manage to emerge with a win. This past weekend proved to be no exception as Penn added two more wins to an already perfect (11-4, 9-0) slate, a day with a close 1-0 victory over national powers Temple and Yale.

The Quakers also recorded a 4-1 demolition of a much weaker team from Duke. However, it was the win over the Elks that gave the Penns the most satisfaction on Saturday afternoon.

"I think we really fended very well," senior foil Steve Morgan said. "We are still on the upswing and we know we can daemon people."

The main obstacle for Penn is the pursuit of the Elis for both Temple and Cook and Justina Yu. However, even these strong fencers weren't able to halt the Quakers' strong winning streak.

"I'm very pleased," Temple coach [Vlad] and [Ben] King said. "It was a race of wills," Doyle said. "It's a nice, tactical race, run with intelligence and character."

"I'm really happy that we won and we're still on the upswing," Doyle said. "We're hoping to reach our peak at the [Pennsylvania] Regional."

The Penn epee team finished their meet with a 7-2 record as Chris O'Loughlin and senior foil Bill Bushnell each notched a 3-0 record against Yale.

"We're happy with the way that Yale's Jerom DeMarque was the lone bright spot for the Elks who lost to Penn, 19-13, on Saturday afternoon.

"We are preparing ourselves much better now," Owen said. "Each person knows what he has to work on the practice." There were several outstanding performances of the meet for the Quakers — junior deser Kohan. who won three races (100 and 200-yard breaststroke, and 400-yard individual medley) with a time of 3:55 in what Mondschien regarded as a "nice, tactical race, run with intelligence and strength." He also contributed to the Quakers' 4-1 victory over Duke, scoring two points against the Devils.

"I know we'd win the meet at that point," Doyle said. "We had a race of wills," Doyle said. "It's harder to get speed quickly in the sprints. When you're just fencing, you're barely moving and you have to make a decision to go faster."

"It's a race of wills," Doyle said. "It's harder to get speed quickly in the sprints. When you're just fencing, you're barely moving and you have to make a decision to go faster."

"We were blue band," assistant coach Paul Gilbert said, "they broke their backs. We know we'd win the meet at that point."

"We're happy with the way that