Philosophy Dept. attempts to rebuild

By ROB BENT

The Philosophy Department has struggled during the past four years, but according to the department's chair, attrition has not been a concern, and department officials maintain that philosophy programs in the 1984 National Academy of Sciences survey met both faculty recognition and the quality of the graduate program.

Farrakhan spokesman will speak next week

By ROSS KERBER

Nationals of Islam national representative Louis Farrakhan has canceled a scheduled speech this fall after a student protest over his views about the atom bomb, University officials said yesterday.

According to published accounts, Farrakhan canceled a scheduled speech this fall after a student protest over his views about the atom bomb, University officials said yesterday.

The determination to allow Farrakhan to speak was made Wednesday at a meeting at the university. Although the faculty was scheduled to last only one day, students have been waiting for the right moment to speak against Farrakhan for months. In 1985, Farrakhan was accepted to a twoday seminar on the topic of teaching advocates. The event will open last night, including the Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

The determination to allow Farrakhan to speak was made Wednesday at a meeting at the university. Although the faculty was scheduled to last only one day, students have been waiting for the right moment to speak against Farrakhan for months. In 1985, Farrakhan was accepted to a twoday seminar on the topic of teaching advocates. The event will open last night, including the Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

A House in the neighborhood of Philosophy Village faces repairs

By ROSS KERBER

The determination to allow Farrakhan to speak was made Wednesday at a meeting at the university. Although the faculty was scheduled to last only one day, students have been waiting for the right moment to speak against Farrakhan for months. In 1985, Farrakhan was accepted to a twoday seminar on the topic of teaching advocates. The event will open last night, including the Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

The Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

A House in the neighborhood of Philosophy Village faces repairs

By ROSS KERBER

The determination to allow Farrakhan to speak was made Wednesday at a meeting at the university. Although the faculty was scheduled to last only one day, students have been waiting for the right moment to speak against Farrakhan for months. In 1985, Farrakhan was accepted to a twoday seminar on the topic of teaching advocates. The event will open last night, including the Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

The Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

A House in the neighborhood of Philosophy Village faces repairs

By ROSS KERBER

The determination to allow Farrakhan to speak was made Wednesday at a meeting at the university. Although the faculty was scheduled to last only one day, students have been waiting for the right moment to speak against Farrakhan for months. In 1985, Farrakhan was accepted to a twoday seminar on the topic of teaching advocates. The event will open last night, including the Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

The Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

A House in the neighborhood of Philosophy Village faces repairs

By ROSS KERBER

The determination to allow Farrakhan to speak was made Wednesday at a meeting at the university. Although the faculty was scheduled to last only one day, students have been waiting for the right moment to speak against Farrakhan for months. In 1985, Farrakhan was accepted to a twoday seminar on the topic of teaching advocates. The event will open last night, including the Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

The Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

A House in the neighborhood of Philosophy Village faces repairs

By ROSS KERBER

The determination to allow Farrakhan to speak was made Wednesday at a meeting at the university. Although the faculty was scheduled to last only one day, students have been waiting for the right moment to speak against Farrakhan for months. In 1985, Farrakhan was accepted to a twoday seminar on the topic of teaching advocates. The event will open last night, including the Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

The Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

A House in the neighborhood of Philosophy Village faces repairs

By ROSS KERBER

The determination to allow Farrakhan to speak was made Wednesday at a meeting at the university. Although the faculty was scheduled to last only one day, students have been waiting for the right moment to speak against Farrakhan for months. In 1985, Farrakhan was accepted to a twoday seminar on the topic of teaching advocates. The event will open last night, including the Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

The Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

A House in the neighborhood of Philosophy Village faces repairs

By ROSS KERBER

The determination to allow Farrakhan to speak was made Wednesday at a meeting at the university. Although the faculty was scheduled to last only one day, students have been waiting for the right moment to speak against Farrakhan for months. In 1985, Farrakhan was accepted to a twoday seminar on the topic of teaching advocates. The event will open last night, including the Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

The Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

A House in the neighborhood of Philosophy Village faces repairs

By ROSS KERBER

The determination to allow Farrakhan to speak was made Wednesday at a meeting at the university. Although the faculty was scheduled to last only one day, students have been waiting for the right moment to speak against Farrakhan for months. In 1985, Farrakhan was accepted to a twoday seminar on the topic of teaching advocates. The event will open last night, including the Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

The Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

A House in the neighborhood of Philosophy Village faces repairs

By ROSS KERBER

The determination to allow Farrakhan to speak was made Wednesday at a meeting at the university. Although the faculty was scheduled to last only one day, students have been waiting for the right moment to speak against Farrakhan for months. In 1985, Farrakhan was accepted to a twoday seminar on the topic of teaching advocates. The event will open last night, including the Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

The Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

A House in the neighborhood of Philosophy Village faces repairs

By ROSS KERBER

The determination to allow Farrakhan to speak was made Wednesday at a meeting at the university. Although the faculty was scheduled to last only one day, students have been waiting for the right moment to speak against Farrakhan for months. In 1985, Farrakhan was accepted to a twoday seminar on the topic of teaching advocates. The event will open last night, including the Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.

The Pennsylvania Philharmonic and the Sibley Piano Trio.
WASHINGTON — The State Department yesterday called the police crackdowns in South Africa the most widespread and brutal since the end of the Sharpeville massacre, though the South African government denied reports of excessive force. The Washington Post was told that the police had killed at least 20 people in the Sharpeville massacre.

The Human Rights Watch, in a report issued yesterday, said that the police had used live fire, tear gas, and rubber bullets against demonstrators and that they had used excessive force.

The report also said that the police had used tear gas and rubber bullets against demonstrators and that they had used excessive force.

The report also said that the police had used tear gas and rubber bullets against demonstrators and that they had used excessive force.

The report also said that the police had used tear gas and rubber bullets against demonstrators and that they had used excessive force.

The report also said that the police had used tear gas and rubber bullets against demonstrators and that they had used excessive force.
A new administrator in animal research

Harry Rozmiarek is here to direct the University-wide office of laboratory animals. We handle everything — the way an animal is used, whatever his use is, every precaution is taken to assure it is treated humanely, that he's treated in the best way that we can. It's just that there are some very good facilities and there are some that are badly in need of improvement. That's a half a step of renovation going right now and there's more being planned.

D.P.: Has the University been lacking in proper animal research? Rozmiarek: How are they? I guess they're adequate. They certainly are not as good as they should be. Do you feel it gave the University a bad reputation? What was the reaction from professionals in the field? Rozmiarek: Yes it has. The level of animal care and use has increased significantly around the country in the last 15 years, and it continues to increase. That's something people like me are working very hard toward. That's why we spend our time writing guidelines. The title of the guide is the NIH guide, but they didn't have anything to do with writing it; it was done by a committee of people put together by the Academy of Science. Though a series of guidelines, you need professional interpretations in use and care of laboratory animals. And the guide itself is general for the reason that you can add to, dress every specific situation and every case. That's one of the points made throughout the guide. You need experts.

D.P.: What is the biggest job as director of lab animal resources here, to be the advocate of the animal and assure that every time an animal is used, whatever his use is, every precaution is taken to assure he is treated humanely, that he's treated in the best way that we can.

Rozmiarek: How are the animals here? We don't care if that's the right answer, so they're quite. There are some very good facilities and there are some that are badly in need of improvement. That's a half a step of renovation going right now and there's more being planned.

D.P.: How are the animal facilities here? Rozmiarek: How are they? I guess they're adequate. I'm not sure if that's the right answer, so they're quite. There are some very good facilities and there are some that are badly in need of improvement. That's a half a step of renovation going right now and there's more being planned.

Rozmiarek: That's my biggest job as director of lab animal resources — to oversee the care and use of animals. The reaction from professionals in the field? Rozmiarek: How are they? I guess they're adequate. They certainly are not as good as they should be. Do you feel it gave the University a bad reputation? What was the reaction from professionals in the field? Rozmiarek: Yes it has. The level of animal care and use has increased significantly around the country in the last 15 years, and it continues to increase. That's something people like me are working very hard toward. That's why we spend our time writing guidelines. The title of the guide is the NIH guide, but they didn't have anything to do with writing it; it was done by a committee of people put together by the Academy of Science. Though a series of guidelines, you need professional interpretations in use and care of laboratory animals. And the guide itself is general for the reason that you can add to, dress every specific situation and every case. That's one of the points made throughout the guide. You need experts.

D.P.: Will your office be able to prevent something like the primate head injury laboratory by animal right activists? Rozmiarek: Any time an animal is used, whatever his use is, every precaution is taken to assure he is treated humanely, that he's treated in the best way that we can. It's just that there are some very good facilities and there are some that are badly in need of improvement. That's a half a step of renovation going right now and there's more being planned.

D.P.: Has the trend toward increasing the review of animal research made a difference in the way animals are treated around the country? Rozmiarek: Yes it has. The level of animal care and use has increased significantly around the country in the last 15 years, and it continues to increase. That's something people like me are working very hard toward. That's why we spend our time writing guidelines. The title of the guide is the NIH guide, but they didn't have anything to do with writing it; it was done by a committee of people put together by the Academy of Science. Though a series of guidelines, you need professional interpretations in use and care of laboratory animals. And the guide itself is general for the reason that you can add to, dress every specific situation and every case. That's one of the points made throughout the guide. You need experts.
Campus Events

A listing of University news and events.

Today

The Defense of the English Language and Literature
Departmental meeting.

Tomorrow

TOMORROW

University News

TOMORROW

UPCOMINGS

LOOK NO FURTHER!

FIND THE HOUSING OPTION TO SUIT YOUR NEEDS.

coming on
February 24, 1987
THE DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN's Supplement
Guide to Off Campus Living
The Daily Pennsylvanian

LOOK NO FURTHER!

FIND THE HOUSING OPTION TO SUIT YOUR NEEDS.

coming on
February 24, 1987
THE DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN's Supplement
Guide to Off Campus Living
The Daily Pennsylvanian

Tomorrow

Tomorrow I'll do it Tomorrow...

There will be a two-day workshop on Overcoming Procrastination on Saturday, February 28 and March 7, 1987 from 9:00 AM to 4:00 PM. The workshop will be held at the University of Pennsylvania. There will be a pre-registration fee required. For additional information contact Dr. Wright or Dr. Greco at (215) 898-410.0.

IFC discusses dry rush proposal

BY LYLE KIER

Members of the Interfraternity Council continued last night to make revisions of aCopy of dry rush program to be presented nextfall.

The discussion at the meeting centered on amending a proposal which was presented by Lambda Kappa Sigma last Wednesday. The proposal is a dry rush program to be presented by a presentation of the great events (Continued from Page 1)

Students in hunger strike for dissident

(Continued from page 1)

Philosophy Dept. works to rebuild

(Continued from page 1)

Finance

(Continued from page 1)

LAW Weekly Pennsylvania - February 18, 1987

LOOK NO FURTHER!

FIND THE HOUSING OPTION TO SUIT YOUR NEEDS.

coming on
February 24, 1987
THE DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN's Supplement
Guide to Off Campus Living
The Daily Pennsylvanian

LOOK NO FURTHER!

FIND THE HOUSING OPTION TO SUIT YOUR NEEDS.

coming on
February 24, 1987
THE DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN's Supplement
Guide to Off Campus Living
The Daily Pennsylvanian

Students in hunger strike for dissident

(Continued from page 1)

Philosophy Dept. works to rebuild

(Continued from page 1)

Finance

(Continued from page 1)
Just in time
Glee Club's 125th anniversary production is very timely

By CATHERINE ROSS
Yes, Robert Montgomery has done it again. His one-act play, "Great Women" has been a hit. It was first performed in the 1930s and has been revived many times since then. It is a classic of its kind, a heartfelt tribute to the women who have made the world a better place.

The show, directed by John Smith, was brilliantly acted. The cast, led by Susan Smith as the title character, "Great Women," was outstanding. Smith's performance was moving and powerful, capturing the essence of the character.

The play opens with a monologue by Smith, in which she reflects on her life and the impact she has had on others. This is followed by a series of vignettes, each one highlighting a different aspect of the character's life. These vignettes were interspersed with music and dance, adding to the overall impact of the production.

The themes of the play include love, friendship, and the importance of women in society. The audience was moved to tears by Smith's performance and was inspired by the wisdom and strength of the character.

Overall, "Great Women" is a must-see production. It is a powerful reminder of the contributions that women have made throughout history and a tribute to the strength and resilience of the human spirit. The show runs through the end of the month, so be sure to catch it while you can.
Letters to the Editor

English Majors Also Deserve Financial Aid

The editorial page needs artists to illustrate regular and guest columns. Artists will be paid, and the cost of materials will be reimbursed. The DP Board of Editors will select artists in the fall and spring semesters, and weekly during summer sessions. Please contact Laura Shaw, 34TH STREET FEATURE EDITOR, if you wish to be considered.

Thomas Billings

College '89

Women Should Not Be Blamed for Assaults

To the Editor:

I would like to call attention to the statement of Police Department Commodore the other day on a Penn graduate student on Saturday, February 14, p. 2/7. Specifically, he said that the woman on whomPEAN ATOMIC WARFARE

Copyright 1987 The Daily Pennsylvanian Inc.

THOMAS BILLINGS

College '89

Women Should Not Be Blamed for Assaults

To the Editor:

I would like to call attention to the statement of Police Department Commodore the other day on a Penn graduate student on Saturday, February 14, p. 2/7. Specifically, he said that the woman on whom nated.

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?

I'm even helping the fund drive now because I'm

looking forward to the future. A separate campaign would be better.

What else, besides peace of mind, should we use it for?
"One of many disputes between Drexel Sherman Aronson, president of the Powelton Village Civic Association, to develop a four-story apartment neighborhood for parking. Con-ing the Powelton Village Civic community houses and hiring a resident ad-ment. But he added that the science center has been in the neighborhood led Powelton residents to try to establish the area as a parking lot." Aronson said that the neighborhood is also involved in the parking dispute. Aronson said "people realized that this is the kind of issue that gets the neighborhood booted and when you want it!

U. graduate integral part of Powelton area

by Beth Bernhard

As president of the Powelton Village Civic Association, Sherman Aronson has been directly involved in the many controversies which have rocked the neighborhood. An active member of the group for a number of years, Aronson first came to Powelton in 1967 as an University undergraduate, "when he realized there was something going on in the neighborhood." Aronson has been involved in a variety of activities, including serving as a member of the Powelton Village National Historical Commission Executive Committee and the Powelton National Historic District. He has also served as a member of the Powelton Village Civic Association's executive committee. Aronson has been directly involved in the parking dispute, as he said that one of his goals as president is to preserve the character of the neighborhood. He added that he would also like to revitalize sections of the neighborhood by encouraging small businesses and Drexel University students to invest in the area. Aronson said that the neighborhood is receptive and mature, and there has been a lot of cooperation. But he added that "there is certainly some special facility and help." Drexel University President William G. Aborn, who is a resident of Powelton Village and an active participant in dealing with disputes between the neighborhood and the university, said that the university is trying to work with the community to feel good about itself." Gaither said. "I think they are extremely effective and doing a fine job."

The Daily Pennsylvanian.
Business Board of Managers welcomes our new business staff members

Welcome Aboard!

The ONLY RATED OMELETTES IN PHILADELPHIA.

We have an omelette called "Menage A Trois," on immigrant trend of 4 eggs, with 3 kinds of cheese, whipped into a sensuous, eating experience that would be impossible in Dallas. Omelette options include "Home That Omelets," "Egg british," and "Chicken Reuben" Plue bacon strips, rib, philly cheese, shrimp shrimp, and plan a classic New York

burgers mashed up into you you think you're eating in a fancy restaurant.

Plus decadent drinks, marshmallows de luxe decor and whoas make us who are hoping to be discovered by a Hollywood producer.

Come on in. Bring the family.

SMART ALEX

7am. 7pm. 7 day a week.

724-7313

898-5170

 SMART ALEX

PUBLIC CABLE

TIME-OUT

FEBRUARY 19-20-21

ZELLERBACH THEATRE
ANNENBERG CENTER 8PM
2050 WALNUT STREET / PHONE 386-5715
All events reserved $6. Discount with coupon $4

O HAMBAKOS

In Hollywood Florida, Where the Fun Never Stops!

in cooperation with the Broward County Tourism Development Council.

Do you suffer from

RECURRING MOUTH ULCERS?

Participants sought for a clinical trial of a new treatment.

Contact:

GENERAL CLINICAL RESEARCH CENTER
UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA
898-5170
Big Red's second chance

(Continued from back page) The Big Red have already faced the Quakers and Tigers once each this season in Ithaca, N.Y., winning, 86-74 over Penn, and 72-56 against Princeton. Still, the image of last season's end stands out vividly in the minds of the Big Red. That memory is far too real for Bajusz, who is playing out his last year of eligibility for Bajusz, who is playing out his last year of eligibility with the Quakers. It was the low point of the former player's career to date, but he showed me how to play the game. "I played for four different coaches in high school," Lucas laughed. "But I learned to love the game. It made for a long busride home." It's got to be a

Big Red's second chance

(Continued from back page) and Princeton is a good test for any Big Red. That memory is far too real for Bajusz, who is playing out his last year of eligibility with the Quakers. It was the low point of the former player's career to date, but he showed me how to play the game. "I played for four different coaches in high school," Lucas laughed. "But I learned to love the game. It made for a long busride home." It's got to be a

Big Red's second chance

(Continued from back page) and Princeton is a good test for any Big Red. That memory is far too real for Bajusz, who is playing out his last year of eligibility with the Quakers. It was the low point of the former player's career to date, but he showed me how to play the game. "I played for four different coaches in high school," Lucas laughed. "But I learned to love the game. It made for a long busride home." It's got to be a

Big Red's second chance

(Continued from back page) and Princeton is a good test for any Big Red. That memory is far too real for Bajusz, who is playing out his last year of eligibility with the Quakers. It was the low point of the former player's career to date, but he showed me how to play the game. "I played for four different coaches in high school," Lucas laughed. "But I learned to love the game. It made for a long busride home." It's got to be a

Big Red's second chance

(Continued from back page) and Princeton is a good test for any Big Red. That memory is far too real for Bajusz, who is playing out his last year of eligibility with the Quakers. It was the low point of the former player's career to date, but he showed me how to play the game. "I played for four different coaches in high school," Lucas laughed. "But I learned to love the game. It made for a long busride home." It's got to be a

Big Red's second chance

(Continued from back page) and Princeton is a good test for any Big Red. That memory is far too real for Bajusz, who is playing out his last year of eligibility with the Quakers. It was the low point of the former player's career to date, but he showed me how to play the game. "I played for four different coaches in high school," Lucas laughed. "But I learned to love the game. It made for a long busride home." It's got to be a

Big Red's second chance

(Continued from back page) and Princeton is a good test for any Big Red. That memory is far too real for Bajusz, who is playing out his last year of eligibility with the Quakers. It was the low point of the former player's career to date, but he showed me how to play the game. "I played for four different coaches in high school," Lucas laughed. "But I learned to love the game. It made for a long busride home." It's got to be a

Big Red's second chance

(Continued from back page) and Princeton is a good test for any Big Red. That memory is far too real for Bajusz, who is playing out his last year of eligibility with the Quakers. It was the low point of the former player's career to date, but he showed me how to play the game. "I played for four different coaches in high school," Lucas laughed. "But I learned to love the game. It made for a long busride home." It's got to be a

Big Red's second chance

(Continued from back page) and Princeton is a good test for any Big Red. That memory is far too real for Bajusz, who is playing out his last year of eligibility with the Quakers. It was the low point of the former player's career to date, but he showed me how to play the game. "I played for four different coaches in high school," Lucas laughed. "But I learned to love the game. It made for a long busride home." It's got to be a

Big Red's second chance

(Continued from back page) and Princeton is a good test for any Big Red. That memory is far too real for Bajusz, who is playing out his last year of eligibility with the Quakers. It was the low point of the former player's career to date, but he showed me how to play the game. "I played for four different coaches in high school," Lucas laughed. "But I learned to love the game. It made for a long busride home." It's got to be a
WE KEEP THE NOID OUT AND ALL THE QUALITY IN

Late night party special

Present this coupon to receive a FREE six-pack of Coke® when you order two large one-topping pizzas after 10 PM.

One coupon per pizza. Not good with any other offer. Our drivers carry less than $20.00. Limited Delivery area. Includes rebate of sales tax if applicable.

Expires: 3/1/87
386-2600
1901 N. Chestnut, Philadelphia

DOMINO'S PIZZA DELIVERS FREE TO UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

The DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN — Friday, February 20, 1987

Penn Weekend

(Continued from back page)

"They are really doing it," Ball said. "We will have to swim really tough to beat them. But we feel we can take them.

"In addition, we are the number of teams which remain after Harvard was eliminated this season, and for the seniors, in their careers. After tomorrow's race, everyone wants to make a big statement in the final dual meet of the season."

"This will be a fun one," Querubin said. "It's the last home meet. The team is going to be very nervous."

"It will really be nice to end my career at home," Garrett added.

It would be even nicer to beat Harvard and win the title, which would make the Quakers number — One.

M. Squash vs. Harvard

tomorrow, 2 p.m.

By P. MULDOON STEEL

The Penn men's squash team will host defending national champions Harvard tomorrow at singles court (2 p.m.), but the Quakers (1-1) have nothing to lose.

You see, the way they look at it, they have everything to gain and nothing to lose.

Because when the undefeated Crimson (4-0, 4-0) come to town, the Quakers feel was a questionable victory three weeks ago.

"They're doing real well. I don't have any complaints — each one has forces us to maintain consistency in order to win," Cantwell said.

"The pressure is on them," Penn sophomore Stewart Ballard said. "They are the national champions. They're the one's who have to carry around on a squash court when the Quakers will be bringing their national title with them. And that's a heavy burden to carry around on a squash court when the Quakers will be bringing their national title with them."

However, the Quakers' chances will depend on just how much each player wants to "put it all on the line," Garrett said.

"Competing against a team like G W., which averages in the low 160's, will just be a matter of cashing in on those opportunities at the same time.

"We should definitely win," freshman Emily Levin said this week. "It's kind of important that we do win, because they beat us and they shouldn't have. We really are the better team, and it's important that we prove it to them."

But on Sunday, at George Washington University, revenge is exactly what the Quakers want.

"We shouldn't definitely win," Penn co-captain Sharon Kutas said. "GW is an awfully good team."

In addition to introducing new skills into the routines of gymnasts Maria Cronk and Kelly Carney, Penn head coach Kevin Crowell hopes that the Quakers continue to improve their established routines.

"We should definitely win," Penn co-captain Sharon Kutas said. "GW is an awfully good team."

For the Quakers, this is a match that can't break, but certainly can make, their season.

"Harvard is not going to go down without a fight," Ballard said.

"They're good, yes, and we should respect that, but they are not what they used to be," Penn co-captain David Price said. "There is no reason why we can't compete with them."

"This is the first time this season that we can depend on everyone else to win a match," junior Scott Daniels said. "When people get on the court, they're going to just have to win."

For big matches to be precise.

Gymnastics at George Washington

Sunday, 2 p.m.

By ERIC SCHNIPPER

Revenge is a term not usually associated with the sport of gymnastics.

But on Sunday, at George Washington University, revenge is exactly what the Quakers want.

The Quakers, who lost GW for the sound time this season, were defeated by six points — almost a record high — in the annual Invitational Tournament last month. This Sunday, Penn takes on a Colonial rival three times as ambitious and three times as competitive.

"We should definitely win," (Continued from back page)

"They are the national champions. They're the one's who have everything to gain and nothing to lose.

Because when the undefeated Crimson (4-0, 4-0) come to town, the Quakers feel was a questionable victory three weeks ago.

"They're doing real well. I don't have any complaints — each one has forces us to maintain consistency in order to win," Cantwell said.

"The pressure is on them," Penn sophomore Stewart Ballard said. "They are the national champions. They're the one's who have to carry around on a squash court when the Quakers will be bringing their national title with them."

However, the Quakers' chances will depend on just how much each player wants to "put it all on the line," Garrett said.

"Competing against a team like G W., which averages in the low 160's, will just be a matter of cashing in on those opportunities at the same time.

"We should definitely win," freshman Emily Levin said this week. "It's kind of important that we do win, because they beat us and they shouldn't have. We really are the better team, and it's important that we prove it to them."

But on Sunday, at George Washington University, revenge is exactly what the Quakers want.

"We shouldn't definitely win," Penn co-captain Sharon Kutas said. "GW is an awfully good team."

In addition to introducing new skills into the routines of gymnasts Maria Cronk and Kelly Carney, Penn head coach Kevin Crowell hopes that the Quakers continue to improve their established routines.

"We should definitely win," Penn co-captain Sharon Kutas said. "GW is an awfully good team."

For the Quakers, this is a match that can't break, but certainly can make, their season.

"Harvard is not going to go down without a fight," Ballard said.

"They're good, yes, and we should respect that, but they are not what they used to be," Penn co-captain David Price said. "There is no reason why we can't compete with them."

"This is the first time this season that we can depend on everyone else to win a match," junior Scott Daniels said. "When people get on the court, they're going to just have to win."

For big matches to be precise.

Gymnastics at George Washington

Sunday, 2 p.m.

By ERIC SCHNIPPER

Revenge is a term not usually associated with the sport of gymnastics. But on Sunday, at George Washington University, revenge is exactly what the Quakers want.

The Quakers, who lost GW for the sound time this season, were defeated by six points — almost a record high — in the annual Invitational Tournament last month. This Sunday, Penn takes on a Colonial rival three times as ambitious and three times as competitive.

"We should definitely win," (Continued from back page)

"They are the national champions. They're the one's who have everything to gain and nothing to lose.

Because when the undefeated Crimson (4-0, 4-0) come to town, the Quakers feel was a questionable victory three weeks ago.

"They're doing real well. I don't have any complaints — each one has forces us to maintain consistency in order to win," Cantwell said.

"The pressure is on them," Penn sophomore Stewart Ballard said. "They are the national champions. They're the one's who have to carry around on a squash court when the Quakers will be bringing their national title with them."

However, the Quakers' chances will depend on just how much each player wants to "put it all on the line," Garrett said.

"Competing against a team like G W., which averages in the low 160's, will just be a matter of cashing in on those opportunities at the same time.

"We should definitely win," freshman Emily Levin said this week. "It's kind of important that we do win, because they beat us and they shouldn't have. We really are the better team, and it's important that we prove it to them."

But on Sunday, at George Washington University, revenge is exactly what the Quakers want.

"We shouldn't definitely win," Penn co-captain Sharon Kutas said. "GW is an awfully good team."

In addition to introducing new skills into the routines of gymnasts Maria Cronk and Kelly Carney, Penn head coach Kevin Crowell hopes that the Quakers continue to improve their established routines.

"We should definitely win," Penn co-captain Sharon Kutas said. "GW is an awfully good team."

For the Quakers, this is a match that can't break, but certainly can make, their season.

"Harvard is not going to go down without a fight," Ballard said.

"They're good, yes, and we should respect that, but they are not what they used to be," Penn co-captain David Price said. "There is no reason why we can't compete with them."

"This is the first time this season that we can depend on everyone else to win a match," junior Scott Daniels said. "When people get on the court, they're going to just have to win."

For big matches to be precise.

Gymnastics at George Washington

Sunday, 2 p.m.

By ERIC SCHNIPPER

Revenge is a term not usually associated with the sport of gymnastics. But on Sunday, at George Washington University, revenge is exactly what the Quakers want.

The Quakers, who lost GW for the sound time this season, were defeated by six points — almost a record high — in the annual Invitational Tournament last month. This Sunday, Penn takes on a Colonial rival three times as ambitious and three times as competitive.

"We should definitely win," (Continued from back page)

"They are the national champions. They're the one's who have everything to gain and nothing to lose.

Because when the undefeated Crimson (4-0, 4-0) come to town, the Quakers feel was a questionable victory three weeks ago.

"They're doing real well. I don't have any complaints — each one has forces us to maintain consistency in order to win," Cantwell said.

"The pressure is on them," Penn sophomore Stewart Ballard said. "They are the national champions. They're the one's who have to carry around on a squash court when the Quakers will be bringing their national title with them."

However, the Quakers' chances will depend on just how much each player wants to "put it all on the line," Garrett said.

"Competing against a team like G W., which averages in the low 160's, will just be a matter of cashing in on those opportunities at the same time.

"We should definitely win," freshman Emily Levin said this week. "It's kind of important that we do win, because they beat us and they shouldn't have. We really are the better team, and it's important that we prove it to them."

But on Sunday, at George Washington University, revenge is exactly what the Quakers want.

"We shouldn't definitely win," Penn co-captain Sharon Kutas said. "GW is an awfully good team."

In addition to introducing new skills into the routines of gymnasts Maria Cronk and Kelly Carney, Penn head coach Kevin Crowell hopes that the Quakers continue to improve their established routines.

"We should definitely win," Penn co-captain Sharon Kutas said. "GW is an awfully good team."

For the Quakers, this is a match that can't break, but certainly can make, their season.

"Harvard is not going to go down without a fight," Ballard said.

"They're good, yes, and we should respect that, but they are not what they used to be," Penn co-captain David Price said. "There is no reason why we can't compete with them."

"This is the first time this season that we can depend on everyone else to win a match," junior Scott Daniels said. "When people get on the court, they're going to just have to win."

For big matches to be precise.
Mattone leading the way for M. Swim but there was no way. It was awful. I had to just get rid of all that and keep it simple.

The men's swimming team has had in Mattone a leader of sorts. And Mattone has delivered with intensity.

"Cutting hair is part of my heritage," he said. "You don't like the fact that we lost the plateau, and the job of collegiate swimming today — 19-6 with 11:38 to play in the

On the Daily Pennsylvanian

MOVIES PRESENTS:
FRIDAY
FEB. 20
8:00, 10:45

All Shows
in Irvine
Cost $2.00

SATURDAY
FEB. 21
8:00, 10:00, 12:00

GET HOUSED!

Looking for the Perfect Room?
Searching for furnishings to make your room complete?
Comming February 24, 1987

Get Into The Swing Of Things
-Read The DP-

The Daily Pennsylvanian
4015 Walnut St., 2nd floor
889-6081/0765

The Color Purple
It's about
FEB.

SEX CRIMES 2084
WITNESS THE
* SEX *
FANTASIES OF THE FUTURE
Quakers to take on Columbia, Cornell

"We've got a strong one-two-three punch [Dawn Dement, Lisa Freeman and Perkel]," Szoke said. "We've got to win these next three games."

Dement said. "The reason why Micahnik plans to substitute more strong and that this is not an Ivy League meet are also reasons why Micahnik plans to substitute more.

The fact that the three opponents are not very strong and that this is not an Ivy League meet are also reasons why Micahnik plans to substitute more

The Quakers defeated Bowdoin just a few weeks ago in the Howe Cup, while Penn competes in Group B, the final 16 teams to fine tune its style and ready itself for the March 21-22, 1987, women's fencing championships.

The Carolina trio pose the last threats to the champion Quakers close in on the NCAA championships.

Wanted OPPs Force Projectionists

for spring and fall semesters

no work study positions available

See Ed Weiman for information/application.

AVOID THE VOID

THE INFORMATION VOID, THAT IS

Keep on top of current events, campus news, sports and social happenings. Read The Daily Pennsylvanian every day. Interesting articles, editorials and helpful advertising information keep you well-informed, and 34th Street news magazine covers theater, music, films, TV and exhibits while giving you weekend entertainment ideas.

FILL IN THE VOID WITH THE DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN.

The Daily Pennsylvanian.

410 Walnut St., 2nd floor

989-6081B855

Quakers to take on Columbia, Cornell

Penn Weekend

Quakers to take on Columbia, Cornell

Filling in the void with the Daily Pennsylvanian.

"We've got to come out with more determination than they had last time," Szoke said. "We've got to be out of the gate and on top of them right now," Penn head coach Roger Reina said.

W. Squash at Smith/Colby; at Brown tomorrow 1 p.m.

Sunday, noon

By LEN SIMONIAN

Most obviously, he will have to replace Perkel with Lisa Freeman and Joe Petrelli, who will be upset about being left behind in the lineup after getting injured in the junior Olympics," said Micahnik. "They are a well-rounded team, and they're definitely beatable."

The Quakers defeated Cornell and Yale, and we can beat them."

Quakers to take on Columbia, Cornell

"We've got to come out with more determination than they had last time," Szoke said. "We've got to be out of the gate and on top of them right now," Penn head coach Roger Reina said.

"We've got a strong one-two-three punch [Dawn Dement, Lisa Freeman and Perkel]," Szoke said. "We've got to win these next three games."

Dement said. "The reason why Micahnik plans to substitute more strong and that this is not an Ivy League meet are also reasons why Micahnik plans to substitute more

The fact that the three opponents are not very strong and that this is not an Ivy League meet are also reasons why Micahnik plans to substitute more

The Quakers defeated Bowdoin just a few weeks ago in the Howe Cup, while Penn competes in Group B, the final 16 teams to fine tune its style and ready itself for the March 21-22, 1987, women's fencing championships.

The Carolina trio pose the last threats to the champion Quakers close in on the NCAA championships.

Wanted OPPs Force Projectionists

for spring and fall semesters

no work study positions available

See Ed Weiman for information/application.

AVOID THE VOID

THE INFORMATION VOID, THAT IS

Keep on top of current events, campus news, sports and social happenings. Read The Daily Pennsylvanian every day. Interesting articles, editorials and helpful advertising information keep you well-informed, and 34th Street news magazine covers theater, music, films, TV and exhibits while giving you weekend entertainment ideas.

FILL IN THE VOID WITH THE DAILY PENNSYLVANIAN.

The Daily Pennsylvanian.

410 Walnut St., 2nd floor

989-6081B855
SPORTS

It's make-or-break for Quakers

By JON WILNER

If the Penn women's basketball team wins its final three games — 12 of them are Ivy League games — then the Quakers will be NCAAs.

A possibility? Sure. But likely? A game like this is too important to risk.

"Can't you picture it?" Newark said.

"Yes," I say.

"Has a nice ring to it."

"A possibility? Sure. But likely? A game like this is too important to risk."

"It's make-or-break for Quakers" (Continued on page 12)

---

Penn's John Stoval must help the Quakers' inside game in their contests against Cornell and Columbia

W. Swin looks to end seven-game drought

By HOWARD ZALKOWITZ

It was a real good meet," Penn head coach Kathy Lawlor said. "Eleven is a good number for us. Some seniors have had their best meets of the season, yet for Penn to have a chance to win this league championship Penn will have won three of the four meets this season, which is one more than they ever have. Win or lose, this team has had to win the Ivy title. Never before have the Quakers been in a situation where they could finish atop the standings. In fact, Penn has accomplished something that a team can send to the Eastern Championships next week at Ivy title

---

W. Track dominates invitational meet

By THOMAS HILL

In its final tune-up meet before the prestigious Championships meets, the Penn women's indoor track team, working late in the season, competed in competition last week at the Eastern Championships at Towson. Despite the long six-month layoff, the Quakers not only dominated, but they won their first ever Eastern Championship.

---

IVY STANDINGS

| Ivy Overall | Cornell | Harvard | Columbia | Princeton | Harvard | Yale | Brown
|-------------|--------|---------|----------|-----------|---------|------|-------
| 14-8        |        |         |          |           |         |      |       |
| 13-9        |        |         |          |           |         |      |       |
| 12-8        |        |         |          |           |         |      |       |
| 11-9        |        |         |          |           |         |      |       |
| 10-12       |        |         |          |           |         |      |       |

---

Thieves

Villanova stolen, a ringer's least adept, thanks to his success at the Palaestra. For details, see page 11.

---

W. Swin looks to end seven-game drought

W. Swin looks to end seven-game drought

By BARRY DEBROW

Former Penn standout Steve Dement said he was able to capture the Ivy title.

---

Mattone captains Penn with cutting spirit

By HOWARD ZALKOWITZ

Matrone captains Penn with cutting spirit

---

Cont's

(Continued on page 10)