College takes novel route on curriculum

By Greg Store

While many College freshmen do not expect a radical change in their school's curriculum in the fall... "Achieve a breadth of exposure"

Sorority members suspended

By Brent Mitchell

Thirty-five members of the Sigma Chi and Zeta Beta Tau fraternities were suspended on the verge of the last day of the fall semester as a result of an investigation into the activities of those organizations. The investigation was ordered by the Business Council of the University after an Andrew Chaikivsky

Break-in

A man was arrested by Public Safety early Saturday morning after breaking into the Quad through a first-floor window. He was charged with criminal trespass, burglary and receiving stolen property.

A Chilling Conclusion

Although the temperature was a record low for a Quaker fan, the weather was far from ideal at Franklin Field Saturday, with temperatures dipping well below freezing. The last game of a losing season, it definitely was one to separate the die-hard from fair-weather fans.

‘Chippendales’ at Penn Tower cancelled by U.

By Jay Regen

The University administration has cancelled all-scale striptease and dance review show, scheduled for tonight, at the University-owned Penn Tower Hotel.

In telephone conversations on Saturday afternoon, Penn officials said that the show was cancelled because of "threats" to the University, and that faculty persuaded the promoters of the show that they could not go through with their plans because of the cancellation by the University. The show was originally scheduled for Monday afternoon, but was cancelled by the University after threats were received.

Assistant Vice President of Development Brooke Ker-

Hackett decided to comment yesterday on the University’s decision to cancel the show in a telephone interview. "When we realized how serious the problem was, we felt that the cancellation was necessary," she said.

Steve Reicher, the College House dean that the copper on Memorial Tower and damage to the towers. Safety Department was called to the scene to barricade and secure the area. According to Martinez, the Public Safety Department was called to the scene to barricade and secure the area. She said that Plant Physical workers retrieved loose copper from the area Wednesday evening.

The new College program defines educational path for their students more broadly defined than the major.

The new College program defines educational path for their students more broadly defined than the major.

UTV fails to receive new funds

Ruling to be appealed at next SAC meeting

Alden said that his committee would not make an appeal until after the next meeting of the SAC, and that only then would they decide whether the decision would be appealed.

The decision by the Student Council Committee on Student Television was not without its problems, however. The decision was delayed from last week, virtually ending the station’s fall broadcast season.

But according to Celia Rudder, another FNCC member, the Student Council committee would meet again with representatives from both University officials and campus community members.

Alden said that his committee would make an appeal until after the next meeting of the SAC, and that only then would they decide whether the decision would be appealed.

The decision was delayed from last week, virtually ending the station’s fall broadcast season.
Med worker changes approved
Lab employees told demands will be met

Chippendales

Staff

Establishing a family is just by itself. But one University professor considers her family, an inmate research, tourism, international travel, and her teaching.

Professor balances family with duties at Wharton

Staff

Emerging, a family is just by itself. But one University professor considers her family, an inmate research, international travel, and her teaching.

The professor said that plans to take her first family summer vacation will be on the time to get away travel, and learn from others. With some encouragement, the professor would still like to have a break from teaching.

The professor said that she will find the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

The professor said that receiving her degree from the Law School in 1978. She was awarded a Thunon British-American Exchange Fulfillment, which she said to attend the London School of Economics and Political Science. There, she obtained a Master's degree in Industrial Relations.

The professor said that she had experienced the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

Professor Alex Barzell, a visiting scholar who participates in many different issues, with a concentration in labor law at the Wharton School, is a professor of businesslike without being aloof, she does, as busy as she is."""" She added.

The professor said that she plans to teach next year's International Law Law class, which she sees as an opportunity to give back to the University.

The professor said that she will continue to teach and to research, as well as to participate in various labor law programs at the University.

"I really enjoy teaching and doing research,"" she said.

She then returned to England in 1978 as a professional legal aid for a living law publication, where she opened on British and equal employment laws.

The professor said that the plans to take her first family summer vacation will be on the time to get away travel, and learn from others. With some encouragement, the professor would still like to have a break from teaching.

The professor said that receiving her degree from the Law School in 1978. She was awarded a Thunon British-American Exchange Fulfillment, which she said to attend the London School of Economics and Political Science. There, she obtained a Master's degree in Industrial Relations.

The professor said that she had experienced the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

The professor said that she will find the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

Nields, chief counsel for Iran-contra hearings to speak today

Staff

Professor Alex Barzell, a visiting scholar who participates in many different issues, with a concentration in labor law at the Wharton School, is a professor of businesslike without being aloof, she does, as busy as she is."

The professor said that she plans to teach next year's International Law Law class, which she sees as an opportunity to give back to the University.

The professor said that she will continue to teach and to research, as well as to participate in various labor law programs at the University.

"I really enjoy teaching and doing research,"" she said.

She then returned to England in 1978 as a professional legal aid for a living law publication, where she opened on British and equal employment laws.

The professor said that the plans to take her first family summer vacation will be on the time to get away travel, and learn from others. With some encouragement, the professor would still like to have a break from teaching.

The professor said that receiving her degree from the Law School in 1978. She was awarded a Thunon British-American Exchange Fulfillment, which she said to attend the London School of Economics and Political Science. There, she obtained a Master's degree in Industrial Relations.

The professor said that she had experienced the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

The professor said that she will find the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

Nields, chief counsel for Iran-contra hearings to speak today

Staff

Professor Alex Barzell, a visiting scholar who participates in many different issues, with a concentration in labor law at the Wharton School, is a professor of businesslike without being aloof, she does, as busy as she is."

The professor said that she plans to teach next year's International Law Law class, which she sees as an opportunity to give back to the University.

The professor said that she will continue to teach and to research, as well as to participate in various labor law programs at the University.

"I really enjoy teaching and doing research,"" she said.

She then returned to England in 1978 as a professional legal aid for a living law publication, where she opened on British and equal employment laws.

The professor said that the plans to take her first family summer vacation will be on the time to get away travel, and learn from others. With some encouragement, the professor would still like to have a break from teaching.

The professor said that receiving her degree from the Law School in 1978. She was awarded a Thunon British-American Exchange Fulfillment, which she said to attend the London School of Economics and Political Science. There, she obtained a Master's degree in Industrial Relations.

The professor said that she had experienced the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

The professor said that she will find the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

Nields, chief counsel for Iran-contra hearings to speak today

Staff

Professor Alex Barzell, a visiting scholar who participates in many different issues, with a concentration in labor law at the Wharton School, is a professor of businesslike without being aloof, she does, as busy as she is."

The professor said that she plans to teach next year's International Law Law class, which she sees as an opportunity to give back to the University.

The professor said that she will continue to teach and to research, as well as to participate in various labor law programs at the University.

"I really enjoy teaching and doing research,"" she said.

She then returned to England in 1978 as a professional legal aid for a living law publication, where she opened on British and equal employment laws.

The professor said that the plans to take her first family summer vacation will be on the time to get away travel, and learn from others. With some encouragement, the professor would still like to have a break from teaching.

The professor said that receiving her degree from the Law School in 1978. She was awarded a Thunon British-American Exchange Fulfillment, which she said to attend the London School of Economics and Political Science. There, she obtained a Master's degree in Industrial Relations.

The professor said that she had experienced the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

The professor said that she will find the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

Nields, chief counsel for Iran-contra hearings to speak today

Staff

Professor Alex Barzell, a visiting scholar who participates in many different issues, with a concentration in labor law at the Wharton School, is a professor of businesslike without being aloof, she does, as busy as she is."

The professor said that she plans to teach next year's International Law Law class, which she sees as an opportunity to give back to the University.

The professor said that she will continue to teach and to research, as well as to participate in various labor law programs at the University.

"I really enjoy teaching and doing research,"" she said.

She then returned to England in 1978 as a professional legal aid for a living law publication, where she opened on British and equal employment laws.

The professor said that the plans to take her first family summer vacation will be on the time to get away travel, and learn from others. With some encouragement, the professor would still like to have a break from teaching.

The professor said that receiving her degree from the Law School in 1978. She was awarded a Thunon British-American Exchange Fulfillment, which she said to attend the London School of Economics and Political Science. There, she obtained a Master's degree in Industrial Relations.

The professor said that she had experienced the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

The professor said that she will find the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

Nields, chief counsel for Iran-contra hearings to speak today

Staff

Professor Alex Barzell, a visiting scholar who participates in many different issues, with a concentration in labor law at the Wharton School, is a professor of businesslike without being aloof, she does, as busy as she is."

The professor said that she plans to teach next year's International Law Law class, which she sees as an opportunity to give back to the University.

The professor said that she will continue to teach and to research, as well as to participate in various labor law programs at the University.

"I really enjoy teaching and doing research,"" she said.

She then returned to England in 1978 as a professional legal aid for a living law publication, where she opened on British and equal employment laws.

The professor said that the plans to take her first family summer vacation will be on the time to get away travel, and learn from others. With some encouragement, the professor would still like to have a break from teaching.

The professor said that receiving her degree from the Law School in 1978. She was awarded a Thunon British-American Exchange Fulfillment, which she said to attend the London School of Economics and Political Science. There, she obtained a Master's degree in Industrial Relations.

The professor said that she had experienced the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

The professor said that she will find the excitement and international travel very helpful for the business.

"To be sure, I see the American approach to prepping new laws, I rely on the experience of other believes,"" Beal said.

Nields, chief counsel for Iran-contra hearings to speak today

Staff

Professor Alex Barzell, a visiting scholar who participates in many different issues, with a concentration in labor law at the Wharton School, is a professor of businesslike without being aloof, she does, as busy as she is."

The professor said that she plans to teach next year's International Law Law class, which she sees as an opportunity to give back to the University.

The professor said that she will continue to teach and to research, as well as to participate in various labor law programs at the University.

"I really enjoy teaching and doing research,"" she said.

She then returned to England in 1978 as a professional legal aid for a living law publication, where she opened on British and equal employment laws.
Colleges explore a variety of curriculum alternatives

Contents from page 1

"I have never had so much fun in my life," said one student, "and the students made many of the changes themselves." The college administration has been praised for its hands-off approach, but some faculty members have expressed concern that the curriculum is becoming too flexible and that standards are slipping.

"We have to be careful that the curriculum doesn't become too ad hoc," said one professor. "There needs to be a balance between flexibility and structure." College officials have acknowledged the need for a more structured curriculum, but they say they are committed to maintaining the flexibility that has become a hallmark of the institution.

"We want to maintain the spirit of inquiry and innovation that has made the college great," said the dean. "But we also need to ensure that students are being prepared for the demands of the real world." The college is considering a variety of options, including a more rigid distribution requirement and an increased emphasis on core subjects.

"We want to strike a balance between breadth and depth," said the dean. "A good education should provide students with both a broad understanding of the world and a deep knowledge of a few key subjects." The college is considering a new core curriculum that would include a mix of required and elective courses, with an emphasis on critical thinking and problem-solving skills.

"I think the new curriculum will be a good thing overall," said one student. "It will give us more structure, but it will still allow us to explore a wide range of subjects." The college is also considering a more rigorous requirement for foreign language study, with a goal of increasing the percentage of students who are proficient in two or more languages.

"We want to make sure that students are prepared for the global economy," said the dean. "A strong command of a second language can be a huge advantage in today's world." The college is also considering a new requirement for a year of study abroad, with the goal of increasing the percentage of students who have had the opportunity to live and work in a different culture.

"I think the new curriculum is a step in the right direction," said one faculty member. "It will give us more control over the curriculum, which has been a bit of a mess in recent years." The college is also considering a more robust set of required courses, with an emphasis on foundational knowledge in the arts and sciences.

"We want to make sure that students are well-prepared for college and for their future careers," said the dean. "A strong foundation in the arts and sciences is essential for success in today's world." The college is also considering a new requirement for a year of study in a foreign language, with the goal of increasing the percentage of students who are proficient in two or more languages.

"I think the new curriculum will be a good thing overall," said one student. "It will give us more structure, but it will still allow us to explore a wide range of subjects." The college is also considering a more rigorous requirement for foreign language study, with a goal of increasing the percentage of students who are proficient in two or more languages.

"We want to make sure that students are prepared for the global economy," said the dean. "A strong command of a second language can be a huge advantage in today's world." The college is also considering a new requirement for a year of study abroad, with the goal of increasing the percentage of students who have had the opportunity to live and work in a different culture.

"I think the new curriculum is a step in the right direction," said one faculty member. "It will give us more control over the curriculum, which has been a bit of a mess in recent years." The college is also considering a more robust set of required courses, with an emphasis on foundational knowledge in the arts and sciences.

"We want to make sure that students are well-prepared for college and for their future careers," said the dean. "A strong foundation in the arts and sciences is essential for success in today's world." The college is also considering a new requirement for a year of study in a foreign language, with the goal of increasing the percentage of students who are proficient in two or more languages.

"I think the new curriculum will be a good thing overall," said one student. "It will give us more structure, but it will still allow us to explore a wide range of subjects." The college is also considering a more rigorous requirement for foreign language study, with a goal of increasing the percentage of students who are proficient in two or more languages.

"We want to make sure that students are prepared for the global economy," said the dean. "A strong command of a second language can be a huge advantage in today's world." The college is also considering a new requirement for a year of study abroad, with the goal of increasing the percentage of students who have had the opportunity to live and work in a different culture.

"I think the new curriculum is a step in the right direction," said one faculty member. "It will give us more control over the curriculum, which has been a bit of a mess in recent years." The college is also considering a more robust set of required courses, with an emphasis on foundational knowledge in the arts and sciences.

"We want to make sure that students are well-prepared for college and for their future careers," said the dean. "A strong foundation in the arts and sciences is essential for success in today's world." The college is also considering a new requirement for a year of study in a foreign language, with the goal of increasing the percentage of students who are proficient in two or more languages.
Applications are now available in CPPS for election into the John Marshall Pre-Law Honor Society.

Deadline: December 1 at 5 pm

---

Hill House room fire causes evacuation of dorm Saturday

An anonymous fire started in the evacuation of Hill House Saturday night, causing an understanding situation in the building.

OFTEN UNDERSIZED Bedding, curtains, and surrounding furniture contributed to the evacuation of the room with an extinguishing powder.

One of the room's occupants, Mr. Brown, described the situation as follows:

> "It was very moving — it really worth it when we got

The administrative fellow added that locked windows and doors made it difficult for firefighters to enter the room, but the windows were not broken, and the door was not open.

The fire is open to all students and will be held in Hill Auditorium at 6:30 pm.

---

Hayward Washington speech postponed until January

Hayward Washington, mayor of the city of Chicago, who was scheduled to speak on campus this evening, will not appear due to a schedule conflict. The speech has been postponed to a later date.

Problems with the formulation of the Chicago city budget have forced the cancellation of the Alpha Phi Omega meeting. However, Alpha Phi Omega members plan to hold their meeting at a later date.

The speech is being accompanied by

---

Employee robbed, assaulted in Medical School parking lot

A man who works as a vendor in a School of Medicine parking lot was robbed and assaulted on Friday evening in Parking Lot 44 behind the Medical School. The incident occurred as a result of a known conflict with another Medical School student.

The student reportedly threatened the vendor with a knife and demanded his wallet. The vendor complied, and the student fled the scene.

---

Man arrested during weekend for breaking into Quadrangle

By Randall Lane

A man was arrested early Saturday morning after breaking into a Quadrangle room through a first-floor window, according to police.

> "He had broken into the Quadrangle and allegedly raped a student in a nearby room."

Public Safety Sergeant Thomas Menneker gave the following description of the suspect:

> "After climbing the fence surrounding the Quadrangle, he entered a first-floor window in the Quadrangle."

The police are currently searching for the suspect, who is described as a man approximately 6 feet tall, weighing 180 pounds, with short black hair and blue eyes.

---

Three talk on Soviet peace march

By Barbara Thornton

Law Jae, over 200 Americans and many U.S. students who were present on the march, came and sprayed the entire room with an inch of extinguishing powder. The fire was extinguished, and no one was injured.

According to an article in the New York Times, the march was organized by dissidents and human rights activists in the Soviet Union. The march was met with widespread support, with thousands of people participating in various locations throughout the Soviet Union.

> "We had some just stunning responses; women in tears, people speaking together to walk across the Soviet Union. The streets were lined with people supporting us."

The speech is open to all students and will be held in Hill Auditorium at 6:30 pm.
Powerful investor earns millions, spends spare time supporting the University

Continued from page 1
For Penn. He understands it takes the same dedication as the University has."In addition, Hackney said that as the chairman of the Trustees, Shoemaker has focused his attention on the School of Arts and Sciences as the center of the University. In addition, he said that the University is centered around the College. "It is an underperformer," Hackney added. "It was in Wimmer's first year as president that it was centered around the College, but it is centered now on the College for excellence for all students." Yet Hackney admits that Shoemaker's strong point, his intelligence, is not strong in all areas. "I think he has not been a very large, athletic-looking man, and I think that his test for his ability as a coach is to be as fast as he is," Hackney said. "He has turned around the entire school in such a short amount of time." Long before Hackney met Shoemaker, he was well known for his athletic prowess. His rowing abilities, which he practiced over his four undergraduate years, earned him a place during his junior year as a member of the varsity eight-man boat which captured the Eastern title in 1959. Acquaintances, Shoemaker attended the Wharton School upon the advice of his father, who was convinced that the business school would offer him an advantage in the business world.

Coming from a small town in Pennsylvania, the University, and the Wharton School, was something that Shoemaker was not really proud to be a student at. Shoemaker has been able to spend his education in the University to his own family. "This is not a job I do for the University," he said. "I was at Wharton for four years and I went on to work as an engineer for the University."

"I was at Wharton for four years and I went on to work as an engineer for the University," Shoemaker said. "I was able to do very well in my job."

"I was at Wharton for four years and I went on to work as an engineer for the University," Shoemaker said. "I was able to do very well in my job."

Continued from page 1
Meetings tonight to discuss further action. "I don't know if it will be a good idea, but I think we should do it."

Red Cross Volunteers
Natural helpers of children

To donate money, write to: Red Cross, Box 8115

THANKSGIVING MEGA- SALE!

Gold Rings* 25 stones of weight and aerobic equipment
Individualized program designed for your capabilities
Complete strength, flexibility, endurance evaluation
Close supervision and personal instruction
Safe workouts at your own level of progress
Beautiful exercise rooms, new showers & lockers
Membership only $60/month with Penn discount

No risk, no obligation, save $177.00

Let's get fit together at ArtCarved College Rings during dates i

\( \text{Individualized program designed for your capabilities} \)

\( \text{Beautiful exercise rooms, new showers & lockers} \)

\( \text{Membership only $60/month with Penn discount} \)

EXPERT EXERCISE CENTER

More exercise Center

CALL NOW TO ENROLL

87-9111

EXERCISES

35 weights of weight and aerobic equipment
Individualized program designed for your capabilities
Complete strength, flexibility, endurance evaluation
Close supervision and personal instruction
Safe workouts at your own level of progress
Beautiful exercise rooms, new showers & lockers
Membership only $53/month with Penn discount

No risk, no obligation, save $177.00

CT's ArtCarved College Rings during dates i

\( \text{Individualized program designed for your capabilities} \)

\( \text{Beautiful exercise rooms, new showers & lockers} \)

\( \text{Membership only $60/month with Penn discount} \)
Letters to the Editor

Subscription Rates

To the Editor:

It has come to my attention that The Daily Pennsylvanian, in its recent issue, has increased the subscription price for the campus community interested in the library's work. In its previous newsletter, the following issue was attributed to the student body: "We've raised subscription prices because..." I agree with my fellow students that this is an unacceptable action.

Be A Columnist (Or Just Look Like One)

Everyone seems to be talking about how to get the Daily Pennsylvanian column in the next issue. It's a great opportunity for students to express their opinions and share their experiences with the University community. Whether you're a seasoned writer or just starting out, there's a place for you in this publication. Be a columnist or just look like one. The Daily Pennsylvanian welcomes comment from the University community, and we encourage all students to submit their ideas and perspectives. The final revamped curriculum has the potential to be a turning point for the University, and we want to hear from you about your experiences and thoughts.

Rosenberg, Nov '87

The Unbalanced Student

I'm coming clean. I confess. I'm the classic example of the overworked student. No, I don't mean that I'm crazy through perhaps part-time employment and hard work. I mean that I am unbalanced. I have a problem with overwork.

And although I chose this path for myself, I am not alone. A recent survey of the University community revealed that over 60% of students report feeling overwhelmed by their coursework. This is a serious issue that requires attention.

It is important to recognize that overwork can have a negative impact on students' mental health and academic performance. It is crucial to prioritize our well-being and take steps to manage our workload effectively. This includes setting realistic goals, prioritizing tasks, and taking breaks when needed.

Laura Shaw

Policy on Submissions

The Daily Pennsylvanian welcomes comment from the University community. All submissions should be submitted via our online submission portal. All columns, letters, and comments appearing on this page represent the opinions of their respective authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of the editors or the University. The Daily Pennsylvanian reserves the right to edit contributions before publication, but this is done only to improve the final product. All contributions must be submitted by December 15, 2018. Additional information and guidelines are available on our website.
Sports!

Cup victory routine, 19-0

By Marvin Dace

For the second consecutive year, the Only Staff That Matters defense needed no breakdowns, as Sports rolled to a 19-0 victory in the Hills Country Cup game.

During the celebration, the team found that some of its members were hard to find. "We'll have to look for them later," said Coach Frank Schrader. "They're late, but they'll be here soon." The celebration continued.

Harvard defeats Yale, 14-10, for Ivy League title

Continued from back page

For the second straight year, Harvard has won the Ivy League title. The Crimson's 14-10 victory over Yale on Saturday in the annual Ivy League game marked the second straight year the Crimson has defeated the Bulldogs.

Flynn goes out shining

Continued from back page

Tom Flynn, a senior running back for Yale, ran for 27 yards in the second half. His run set up the final touchdown of the game, which tied the score at 10-10.

The Crimson played a defensive game, limiting Yale to three field goals and preventing the Bulldogs from scoring more than 14 points.

The game was a hard-fought battle between two strong teams. The Crimson's defense held strong, while the Yale offense struggled to find a rhythm.

The Crimson's victory means they will face Dartmouth in the Ivy League Championship game on Saturday, with a chance to win three straight Ivy League titles.

Quakers beat Dartmouth

Continued from back page

The Quakers defeated Dartmouth 21-14 on Saturday, ending the Red's hopes for a third straight win in the Ivy League.

The main story of the game was the performance of the Quakers' defense, which held the Red in check and forced four turnovers.

Dinner specials:

Monday and Tuesday

$4.89 Tax included

Choice of entrée, Soup or Salad, garlic roll and a regular soda.

It’s Worth a Closer Look

Choice of Cnrree, Soup or Salad, garlic roll

The Italian eatery

3927 Uxatt St. 2202-3603
M-Sat 11am-12 18 pm

ORDER FROM YOUR PHONE:

24-hour order service available.

Balsamic dressing on any salad.

Dressings: Italian, Caesar, Greek, bleu cheese, citrus, thousand island, vinaigrette.
Nation

NASA launch may be off target date

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — Manufacturing delays and testing problems have slowed delivery of hardware to the space shuttle and could delay the next NASA launch, which is scheduled June 2 launch date by several months.

The biggest hurdles could be the delivery of the primary propulsion units — the three large liquid-fuel engines and the systems of the solid-boost rocket motors.

“Given those current delivery dates are met, and given that we do not see any way to speed it up to the June launch date, then the June 2 launch window could be off the table,” Robert N. Remagen, manager of launch operations for the Kennedy Space Center, told reporters around the clock, every day, three-shift basis,” he said, adding that meeting the pres- sure to have the launch is an escalating force. “The performance of the work force is going to be driven by a force that is stronger than the force is a pressure to have a force be a factor in our shuttle programs.

Cranos rumors hurt other candidates

WASHINGTON — Far fewer men than women live in the very old category, but those who do have higher incomes, better health and are more likely to reside in their own home, a new study found.

There aren’t nearly as many men as women aged 85 and older in the United States, Dr. Charles Lengoni of the University of Michigan, said at a meeting in Indianapolis on Friday. Like his female counterparts, men showed signs of aging, he said.

“By far, the study found that senior one means that men have higher personal income from nearly all sources and that they are far more likely to be married and living independently.”

Even at age 85 and over, more than 4 percent of men continue to work full time, compared to 1 percent of women.

State

Volkswagen shop dies in New Stanton

When Volkswagen announced in 1976 that it would build the first foreign-owned auto assembly plant in the United States, the news created ripples and waves of controversy across the nation.

Worried that Americans would not buy foreign cars, Volkswagen officials were concerned that labor costs at the New Stanton plant would be higher than half a decade later.

And it was Honda, not Volkswagen, that would clearly show the plant was making more than half a decade later.

And it was Honda that would show the plant was making more than half a decade later.

Volkswagen announced Friday that it will close its assembly plant in New Stanton, when it finishes making in 1988 models, sometime before the end of September, because it is not fulfilling its contract — known as Westmoreland — and it's German te-

City

SEPTA head wants to raise fares fast

The new general manager of the city’s transit agency said the nation needs to increase fares immediately and possibly reduce service to offset mounting deficits.

The position for William Stack, who took over the Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority a week ago, represents a reversal of statements he made after agreeing to leave his job as director of San Francisco’s transit system to come to Philadelphia.

But, he said Friday, without steps to balance SEPTA’s budget immediately, the deficit could reach $100 million in a couple of years.

“By the end of this week, we will have a $2 million deficit,” the agency’s board has a $1 million deficit this fiscal year, Stack said.

The board is scheduled to meet this week in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Mental hospital fires four employees

The administration of a Pennsylvania state hospital has been fired for alleged patient abuse and a fourth employee is still under a criminal case for alleged mistreatment.

In addition, the administration of the hospital has been alleged to be responsible for the deaths of two patients, the hospital’s internal prosecutor said.

Early in September and into October we were averaging one new death every other, a hospital executive said.

The hospital said it has fired four employees.

Theresa is part of a short-term management team appointed September 4 by state Welfare Secretary John White to oversee the hospital and its two other facilities after fires and medical employees complained about hospital conditions.

The hospital’s new management team was selected last week and is expected to prepare the patients to return to the community, Thompson said.

Weather

Today, mostly sunny and mild, highs in mid-60s.

Tomorrow: Cloudy with 30 percent chance of showers, highs in the 60s.

ARE YOU GRADUATING?

Taking a leave of absence or withdrawing for the Spring Semester?

To terminate your occupancy agreement and financial obligation for the spring semester you must:

1. Pick up an Early Termination form from the Assignment Office.
2. Sign the form and give it to a staff member of your Dean’s Office and fill in the proper section.
3. Return the completed form to the Assignment Office by November 23.
4. Move out and turn your keys to your holding Receptacle.

ENTREES

Green Beans
Asparagus
Spinach
Potato Salad

DESSERT

Assorted Cakes. Pie, French And Italian Pastries

(15.95 Adults - $5.00 Children Under 12 Years Of Age Plus Tax, Gratuity Not Included)

---

The Daily Pennsylvanian  Monday, November 23, 1987

Off the Wire

Compiled from Associated Press Dispatches

---

The Quigmans/Buddy Hickerson

Ivy Towers

News From the Nation’s Collegiate Press

Bathroom bomber prompts concern by Stanford officials

STANFORD, Calif. — October 21 — Following the discovery of an unexploded bomb in a corner of the University of California at Santa Cruz bookstore, Stanford Police Chief Marvin Herrington warned the Stanford community to report any unusual or suspicious ob-

THANKSGIVING BUFFET DINNER

COLD DISPLAY

Cheesecake
French Yankee Crust
Mandarin Seared Salad
Darnel Seared Salad
French Beets

ENTREES

Asparagus With Parmesan
Shrimp scampi
Tuscan Salad
Coleslaw Salad

CARVED ITEMS

Beef Tenderloin
Baked Ham

DESSERT

Assorted Cakes, Pie, French And Italian Pastries

---

HILLEL AUDITORIUM
Shultz calls treaty 'virtually complete'

GENEVA, Switzerland — Secretary of State George Shultz said yesterday the United States and the Soviet Union have completed negotiations on an arms limitation treaty that would ban all nuclear tests for 15 years following a 60-day notice period.

Speaking at a joint session of the United Nations General Assembly and the Conference on Disarmament, Shultz said, "We have come to an end in our efforts to finish the treaty, which is practically done, and to discuss other aspects of the treaty to prepare for the signing ceremony in New York on December 9th." The council approved a ceasefire in the Iran-Iraq war last week, and Soviet support, he said today, has been "very strong."

In Moscow, commentator Tomas Kuchinetski wrote yesterday in Pravo, the Communist Party daily, that the United States has "suffered a serious defeat." Kuchinetski said that the United States has made no effort to appear like a "big brother" and that "adequate support is being given to the allies."

For a catalogue and application contact:

The council approved a ceasefire in the Iran-Iraq war last week, and Soviet support, he said today, has been "very strong."

In Moscow, commentator Tomas Kuchinetski wrote yesterday in Pravo, the Communist Party daily, that the United States has "suffered a serious defeat." Kuchinetski said that the United States has made no effort to appear like a "big brother" and that "adequate support is being given to the allies."
IBM Personal System/2. The next generation in personal computing is here.

With increased speed and storage, these powerful computers can handle almost any size job. From the office to the classroom to your home. Whether you need a single stand-alone system or a network of computers, the IBM® Personal System/2™ offers you the right performance at the right price.

Come in today and find out what the future has to offer.
Bruce files suit against OSU

Former football coach cites family anguish as reason

JM. D. Long, Oklahoma - Bruce Ruffh has said Ohio State had no choice but to fire him. "I am the family guy," he said, "I was the guy they felt they needed to fire to keep the program on the positive track.

Bruce filed a lawsuit Friday that charges his dismissal was improper and that Jennings slammed him in his statement to the media that seeks $4.5 million in damages.

"I don't believe the program is a success," said Jennings, who is the chairman of the university's board of trustees.

Ohio State fired Ruffh on Wednesday with $4.5 million left on a four-year contract. Bruce's lawyer John Zankel said it was illegal to fire someone for their sexual orientation.

"More than anything, coach Bruce felt the effect of his sexual ori- entation... he saw them crying and suffer- ing," he said.

"He felt the effect of his sexual orientation," he said. "He felt that was an attack on himself."

Jennings has not publicly disclosed why Bruce was fired and the deci- sion was left to him alone. The university has not released any documents to support his decision to fire the coach.

Graf edges Sabatini for Slims title

New York - Steffi Graf, who descends women's tennis in 1987, edged Virginia Sabatini for the first time since 1981, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, and grabbed her second straight women's title at the IBM Women's Open.

Sabatini, who lost to Graf for the third straight time, kept Graf on the second straight day, and 6-4, and 6-4 at the Slims championship was even sweeter.

"It was a great win for me," said Graf, "and it's a great way to start the year."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I was happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself."

"I'm very happy for Steffi," said Sabatini, "and I'm very happy for myself.
Flynn gets last chance to shine

After playing in the shadow of Rich Comizio for the past two years, this year was to be his battle. Chris Flynn's mom is a school teacher and the highest of hopes — for the Penn football team to win an unprecedented sixth consecutive title, and, personally, to break Comizio's all-time career rushing record.

Yet the first three-and-a-half games of this year has been usual stuff. He dangled and danced around tacklers with 50 of his 108 yards displayed last season, when he led Comezio's all-time career rushing records.

Then disaster struck against Brown in the form of a debilitating knee injury. He was sidelined for the season against Brown, out again for a month against Dartmouth (10 points) was a bull on the offensive boards. Sophomore guard Jerry Simon (four points) dominated play, both offensively and defensively. In doing that, he's finding himself getting some strength on the boards — something we'll anticipate in the scrimmage due to an injured ankle. Riebel, who plays small forward, are doing the same things. Freshman forward Lasse Glassen did not participate in the scrimmage because of an injured ankle.