Review

Staffers suspended

Students accosted black music professor

By CHERYL FAMILY

A confrontation between white students and black professor has resulted in three Dartmouth College students being suspended.

Two members of the Dartmouth Review, the conservative student newspaper, were suspended for two years and another for one term for harassing Music Professor William Cole.

The three students are not allowed to register for classes for the length of their suspension. However, since the Review is independent of the college, they can continue their association with the newspaper.

The professor implored the students to attend his faculty meeting on standards and to conclude his trouble with the university.

Vol. CIV. No. 32

Just a Joke

Professors at the University are known to elicit a laugh or two from their students, and several faculty said that some humor in the classroom is productive.

By PATRICK O'DONNELL

The National Labor Relations Board has dismissed unfair labor charges against the University by the Local 274.

The charge was dropped by an NLRB official.

The NLRB had dropped the case against the University on grounds that the charges were not sufficient.

Page 5.

Police investigate own reputation

By BRENT MITCHELL

The University has been under attack by the Department of Public Safety, which has asked the University's reputation to investigate the department.

A number of students and faculty have expressed concerns about the office's policies.

AIDS Cure? University researchers are currently testing an experimental cancer vaccine which could lead to the development of a similar vaccine.

By INVESTIGATION, page 7

Prof threatens to sue U. over tenure denial

A female law professor plans to sue the Law School on charges of sexism and denial of academic freedom if a recent recommendation to deny her tenure is upheld.

In a tutorial meeting on Monday, University Professor Donald Garfield did not receive the recommended tenure.

Garfield, who has been teaching for more than one year, was one of the most influential in the department.

Although the meeting and vote were confidential and all faculty members interviewed declined comment on the case, several law students said yesterday that Garfield had more than one vote in the required two-thirds.

After ballot, Garfield's attorneys and several unidentified laws said yesterday that Garfield will announce a decision on the case today.

Garfield declined comment yesterday. When the charges were filed on February 23, will go to the arbitrator's office.

Please see GAPSA, page 7

Back Page.

It's Over

The Penn women's basketball team ended its season with a crushing loss:

Back Page.
Wistar vaccine may lead to AIDS drug

B. ANY GARDNER

University researchers are currently testing an experimental cancer vaccine which may aid the development of a similar vaccine against AIDS.

The revolutionary vaccine developed by the Wistar Cancer Research Center and the University of Pennsylvania to cure cancer in mice has the potential to cure cancer in humans, according to Dr. Philip D. Day, director of the Wistar Cancer Research Center.

Dr. Day said that the Wistar vaccine, unlike other vaccines, is expected to attack cancer cells instead of just stimulating the body's immune system.

Several American and European scientists are currently studying the Wistar vaccine, which is expected to be available for human use within the next five years.

University Council to vote on vending policy

The University Council is scheduled to vote on the proposed vending policy for next year.

According to the proposed policy, vending machines would be installed in all residence halls and in the Center for Continuing Education.

The University Council will meet in Steinberg Hall at 3:30 p.m. to vote on the policy.

Animal society faces crucial vote

The Animal Society at the University of Pennsylvania faces a crucial vote on its future.

The society, which was founded in 1965, has been struggling to find a new home and has faced opposition from some students and faculty.

The society's leaders are hoping to convince the University Council to allow them to use the basement of the new Penn Museum as a new home.

RETAILERS:

Since the D.P. reaches 20,000 style-conscious students and faculty who spend over $1 million each month on clothing and accessories, shouldn't you advertise in the Spring Fashion Guide '88?

advertising deadline: March 31

Photo request deadline: March 18

The Daily Pennsylvanian
4015 Walnut St.
215-896-6587
City Limits

'No direction home' for Southeast Asian youth?

Jou Lous Ha

In his somber-tiled tenement jacket, fashionably baggy jeans, and mosquito-neted hair, Phun Trin may appear to be a well-adjusted Vietnamese refugee.

But it quickly becomes apparent that something is right.

"I don't like school or math," he said last week. "I like work."

Trin was staring out onto Walnut Street from inside the Play Penn Arcade, located in the 6300 block of Walnut Street, for an interview about Southeast Asian community leaders who asked to remain anonymous.

He explained that although many of the refugees do make a steady income, an increasing number of youth, particularly in urban areas, seem to be failing to make it.

"They have no idea what they're doing," Trin said. "They don't dress like that."

Local high school student Dan Nguyen shows a game after school at the Play Penn Arcade. The arcade is a hangout for Southeast Asian youth.

"They jostle for their future just to have fun. They don't want to think about their future." Keo, 20-year-old Laotian immigrant

ATTENTION SAS SOPHOMORES

NEED HELP CHOOSING A MAJOR?

WORKSHOP: Tuesday March 22nd, 4:30 - 6:30 Logan Hall 310

Sign up College Advising Office by March 21

Play the Annual INVESTMENT GAME

• Match your strategy against the best
• Cash Prizes!

Anyone interested in participating must attend a meeting:

Tonight, at 8:30 PM

In Vance Hall 8-11

Sponsored by the Finance Club

THE TRUSTEES' COUNCIL OF PENN WOMEN PRESENTS:

"WOMEN IN LAW WHAT IT'S REALLY LIKE!"

Thursday, March 17th, Annenberg School, Room 109

7:00 p.m.
Reception following

The Trustees

HARVARD UNIVERSITY

AND

HARVARD MANAGEMENT COMPANY, INC.

WILL BE INTERVIEWING ON CAMPUS FOR POSITIONS IN:
FINANCIAL ANALYSIS AND REPORTING

MARCH FRIDAY, 18TH

SIGN UP IN RECRUITING OFFICE
Exotic performer at dining hall leads to policy changes, uproar

PSPCA may be taken over by activists

PSPCA, page 2

December’s legal fees cost the Society $2,500. The society had to pay for legal services because it had a contract with the PSPCA.

The judge ruled that the PSPCA was not entitled to the fees.

The case is ongoing.

The Daily Pennsylvanian's board of business managers

Jack Emmert

Samantha Britell

Sales Representatives of the Month

February 1988

Please see PSPCA, page 5

SPOOKY JOE’S INVITES YOU TO CELEBRATE ST. PATTY’S DAY IN THE FINEST IRISH TRADITION!!!

Irish writer Muldoon to read poetry

The event will be held at 8 p.m. in the Penn Museum.

Margaret Avery to talk today

Accomplished author Margaret Avery, nominated for an Academy Award for her supporting role in the Academy Award-winning movie, The Color Purple, will speak tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the W.E.B. DuBois College House.

The access will give a preview of the 1987 documentary, Black shadows or a Silver Screen in Show. The film documents both the struggles and subsequent contributions of blacks in the film industry.

The Socialist party to speak tonight

The Socialist Party of the Penn Political Union will hold its general meeting tonight, April 15, at 8 p.m. in the Penn Museum.

PSPC’s legal fees cost the society $2,500. The society had to pay for legal services because it had a contract with the PSPCA.

The case is ongoing.
Financial aid budget to be released this week

B ANDREW GOLDEN

The University's Board of Trustees approved a $63.5 million budget for the 1988-1989 academic year at its meeting last week.

The financial aid rate will be determined by Pro-

Director William Schilling said that he does not

The University is expected to open its doors to

The University's Board of Trustees approved

He said that the large incoming freshmen class will play a major role in the rate of financial aid granted.

"We have come to no conclusion," Schilling said. Andrews yesterday: "We are not building negotiations with any organizations regarding this issue, in-

Additionally, President Sheldon Hackney and Senior Vice President Joe Godson, also a microbiolog-

Animal board faces impeachment vote this week

Many students believe that learning is more fun than it is serious, but a survey of 40 students shows that there are many who prefer a more serious approach to learning. The survey shows that 60% of students prefer a more serious approach to learning, while 40% prefer a more fun approach.

The survey was conducted by the University's Survey Research Center and the results are representative of the student population.
Defining Policy

To The Editor:

The B.Z.T. case has now been a part of this campus for two years. During this time, we have witnessed a series of issues that need to be addressed.

Firstly, the incident occurred in the absence of any prior awareness on the part of students, faculty, or staff. This lack of awareness made it difficult for those involved to understand what had happened.

Secondly, the incident involving the black students was a hate crime. Hate crimes are serious offenses that are motivated by bias against a particular group. The incident demonstrated the need for policies that address bias and prejudice.

Finally, the incident highlighted the need for a more inclusive campus environment. The campus community must work together to create an environment where all students feel safe and respected.

We call on the administration to take immediate action to address these issues and to prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future.

Sincerely,

The pen community

Developing Alternatives

By Scott Romans

Now that you have returned home from your spring break vacation to find that you too have a term paper due, you may be wondering what your options are for completing it.

One option is to work on your paper during the next week. This can be done by breaking it down into smaller tasks and working on them one at a time.

Another option is to seek help from a tutor or a friend. They can provide guidance and support as you work on your paper.

If you have access to a computer lab, you could also consider using a software program designed for writing papers. These programs can help you keep track of your progress and manage your time more effectively.

No matter which option you choose, it is important to stay organized and focused on your goals.

Yes, black students, we must accept our own. We, as proud, black men, must love, respect and protect our own, especially our beautiful and courageous black women, the womb and wisdom of our growing nation.
TENURE

"She has an appearance as a somewhat assistant professor, and I think that appointment runs for two years. It's a trial-and-half kind of appointment," Leichtman said.

"She is not in the tenure process at the moment," said Hirsh. "She is an assistant professor. I couldn't ask her to come in and be an associate professor."

Hirsh said that the faculty does not belong to the community in a legislative and admission that the school is a university in an academic.

"For us to consider her, she does not belong to the university community in a legislative or admission sense that the school is a university, or in an academic sense that she is a university." Hirsh explained.

"For us to consider her she does not belong to the university community in a legislative or admission sense that the school is a university in an academic sense that she is a university," Hirsh explained.

FRAMING

Framing is a term that refers to an academic institution by framing.

"This isn't something that we do to get people to rate the services," Canada said.

"This isn't something that we do to get people to rate the services," Canada said.

Public Safety to send out questionnaire on service

Several law professors who voted for the questionnaire included comments that the survey was not appropriate for the administration and the faculty.

"It's our first opportunity to get a mailing them back," Canada said.

"It's our first opportunity to get a mailing them back," Canada said.

Stripping and similarly explicit displays are not in the nature of higher learning the University enjoys certain benefits and privileges from society, and society must be banned on campuses of the University," the resolution states. "As an institution, we look to universities with certain expectations.

The NLRB Regional Director Peter Epstein, however, said that he did not know what steps the University could take to prevent similar actions like the ZBT incident from occurring, saying it was "a big question." He said that it was unclear whether a ban on locker rooms was legal and if it would depend upon "the circumstances around an event done in the privacy of a person's house and the nature of the event."

However, Patrick Koch, a member of the Graduate Employees Union, said that the University's anti-sexism policy which required a University investigation into the incident, contended that fraternity houses are not the place of the moral and academic Intellectual enterprise. She added.

"That doesn't make sense to me," Koch said. "That doesn't make sense to me," Koch said.

The resolution continues. "Until such a policy is implemented, the University community must be aware of the need to continue to monitor this situation, to ensure that the University's anti-sexism policy is being properly enforced, and to ensure that the University's anti-sexism policy is being properly enforced.

GAPSA pushes for policy against strippers on campus

The program was suggested by Michael Shanahan, one of the University of Washington, has been put aside in Lent.

"We urge that people take them through the University community," she declined to comment further.

"We urge that people take them through the University community," she declined to comment further.

"We urge that people take them through the University community," she declined to comment further.

In the opinion of higher learning the University enjoys certain benefits and privileges from society, and society benefits and privileges from universities with certain expectations.

The University has established itself as an institution. It is a dedicated academic Intellectual enterprise. She added.

"I know of no other person on campus," Koch said.

"I know of no other person on campus," Koch said.

Public Safety to send out questionnaire on service

Several law professors who voted for the questionnaire included comments that the survey was not appropriate for the administration and the faculty.

"It's our first opportunity to get a mailing them back," Canada said.

"It's our first opportunity to get a mailing them back," Canada said.

Stripping and similarly explicit displays are not in the nature of higher learning the University enjoys certain benefits and privileges from society, and society must be banned on campuses of the University," the resolution states. "As an institution, we look to universities with certain expectations.

The NLRB Regional Director Peter Epstein, however, said that he did not know what steps the University could take to prevent similar actions like the ZBT incident from occurring, saying it was "a big question." He said that it was unclear whether a ban on locker rooms was legal and if it would depend upon "the circumstances around an event done in the privacy of a person's house and the nature of the event."

However, Patrick Koch, a member of the Graduate Employees Union, said that the University's anti-sexism policy which required a University investigation into the incident, contended that fraternity houses are not the place of the moral and academic Intellectual enterprise. She added.

"That doesn't make sense to me," Koch said. "That doesn't make sense to me," Koch said.

The resolution continues. "Until such a policy is implemented, the University community must be aware of the need to continue to monitor this situation, to ensure that the University's anti-sexism policy is being properly enforced, and to ensure that the University's anti-sexism policy is being properly enforced.

GAPSA pushes for policy against strippers on campus

The program was suggested by Michael Shanahan, one of the University of Washington, has been put aside in Lent.

"We urge that people take them through the University community," she declined to comment further.

"We urge that people take them through the University community," she declined to comment further.

"We urge that people take them through the University community," she declined to comment further.

In the opinion of higher learning the University enjoys certain benefits and privileges from society, and society benefits and privileges from universities with certain expectations.

The University has established itself as an institution. It is a dedicated academic Intellectual enterprise. She added.

"I know of no other person on campus," Koch said.

"I know of no other person on campus," Koch said.

Public Safety to send out questionnaire on service

Several law professors who voted for the questionnaire included comments that the survey was not appropriate for the administration and the faculty.

"It's our first opportunity to get a mailing them back," Canada said.

"It's our first opportunity to get a mailing them back," Canada said.

Stripping and similarly explicit displays are not in the nature of higher learning the University enjoys certain benefits and privileges from society, and society must be banned on campuses of the University," the resolution states. "As an institution, we look to universities with certain expectations.

The NLRB Regional Director Peter Epstein, however, said that he did not know what steps the University could take to prevent similar actions like the ZBT incident from occurring, saying it was "a big question." He said that it was unclear whether a ban on locker rooms was legal and if it would depend upon "the circumstances around an event done in the privacy of a person's house and the nature of the event."

However, Patrick Koch, a member of the Graduate Employees Union, said that the University's anti-sexism policy which required a University investigation into the incident, contended that fraternity houses are not the place of the moral and academic Intellectual enterprise. She added.

"That doesn't make sense to me," Koch said. "That doesn't make sense to me," Koch said.

The resolution continues. "Until such a policy is implemented, the University community must be aware of the need to continue to monitor this situation, to ensure that the University's anti-sexism policy is being properly enforced, and to ensure that the University's anti-sexism policy is being properly enforced.

GAPSA pushes for policy against strippers on campus

The program was suggested by Michael Shanahan, one of the University of Washington, has been put aside in Lent.

"We urge that people take them through the University community," she declined to comment further.

"We urge that people take them through the University community," she declined to comment further.

"We urge that people take them through the University community," she declined to comment further.

In the opinion of higher learning the University enjoys certain benefits and privileges from society, and society benefits and privileges from universities with certain expectations.

The University has established itself as an institution. It is a dedicated academic Intellectual enterprise. She added.

"I know of no other person on campus," Koch said.

"I know of no other person on campus," Koch said.

Public Safety to send out questionnaire on service

Several law professors who voted for the questionnaire included comments that the survey was not appropriate for the administration and the faculty.

"It's our first opportunity to get a mailing them back," Canada said.

"It's our first opportunity to get a mailing them back," Canada said.

Stripping and similarly explicit displays are not in the nature of higher learning the University enjoys certain benefits and privileges from society, and society must be banned on campuses of the University," the resolution states. "As an institution, we look to universities with certain expectations.

The NLRB Regional Director Peter Epstein, however, said that he did not know what steps the University could take to prevent similar actions like the ZBT incident from occurring, saying it was "a big question." He said that it was unclear whether a ban on locker rooms was legal and if it would depend upon "the circumstances around an event done in the privacy of a person's house and the nature of the event."

However, Patrick Koch, a member of the Graduate Employees Union, said that the University's anti-sexism policy which required a University investigation into the incident, contended that fraternity houses are not the place of the moral and academic Intellectual enterprise. She added.

"That doesn't make sense to me," Koch said. "That doesn't make sense to me," Koch said.

The resolution continues. "Until such a policy is implemented, the University community must be aware of the need to continue to monitor this situation, to ensure that the University's anti-sexism policy is being properly enforced, and to ensure that the University's anti-sexism policy is being properly enforced.

GAPSA pushes for policy against strippers on campus

The program was suggested by Michael Shanahan, one of the University of Washington, has been put aside in Lent.

"We urge that people take them through the University community," she declined to comment further.

"We urge that people take them through the University community," she declined to comment further.

"We urge that people take them through the University community," she declined to comment further.

In the opinion of higher learning the University enjoys certain benefits and privileges from society, and society benefits and privileges from universities with certain expectations.

The University has established itself as an institution. It is a dedicated academic Intellectual enterprise. She added.

"I know of no other person on campus," Koch said.

"I know of no other person on campus," Koch said.

Public Safety to send out questionnaire on service

Several law professors who voted for the questionnaire included comments that the survey was not appropriate for the administration and the faculty.

"It's our first opportunity to get a mailing them back," Canada said.

"It's our first opportunity to get a mailing them back," Canada said.

Stripping and similarly explicit displays are not in the nature of higher learning the University enjoys certain benefits and privileges from society, and society must be banned on campuses of the University," the resolution states. "As an institution, we look to universities with certain expectations.

The NLRB Regional Director Peter Epstein, however, said that he did not know what steps the University could take to prevent similar actions like the ZBT incident from occurring, saying it was "a big question." He said that it was unclear whether a ban on locker rooms was legal and if it would depend upon "the circumstances around an event done in the privacy of a person's house and the nature of the event."

However, Patrick Koch, a member of the Graduate Employees Union, said that the University's anti-sexism policy which required a University investigation into the incident, contended that fraternity houses are not the place of the moral and academic Intellectual enterprise. She added.

"That doesn't make sense to me," Koch said. "That doesn't make sense to me," Koch said.

The resolution continues. "Until such a policy is implemented, the University community must be aware of the need to continue to monitor this situation, to ensure that the University's anti-sexism policy is being properly enforced, and to ensure that the University's anti-sexism policy is being properly enforced.
None Shall Pass

Men's Lacrosse Preview

1988 Men's Lacrosse Schedule

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Home Team</th>
<th>Opponent</th>
<th>Time</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Mar. 16</td>
<td>VILLANOVA</td>
<td>Apr. 2 HARVARD</td>
<td>7:30 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mar. 20</td>
<td>N. CAROLINA</td>
<td>Apr. 9 CORNELL</td>
<td>3:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mar. 26</td>
<td>Yale</td>
<td>Apr. 13 at Princeton</td>
<td>2:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mar. 30</td>
<td>Navy</td>
<td>Apr. 16 at Dartmouth</td>
<td>3:30 p.m.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Home Games in CAPITALS

Apr. 20 C.W. POST 7:30 p.m. All Home Games at Franklin Field

Seniors Ed McMahon (left), John Kanaras (center) and Keith McCartney lead Penn in its pursuit for the Ivy title. Photograph by Alex Sutton.
Quakers hope to make final leap to Final Four

By HOWARD AI.KOWITZ

That's where the Quakers' depth really comes in, said Seaman. Crow is coming on as a variety of candidates to fill the gaps created when senior attack Ian Snyder was lost for the season due to a knee injury.

Crow has as much talent as any player on the team, according to coach Tony Seaman. In fact, Crow should be the starting attack for Villanova.

In the 1-8 loss to Princeton, Crow scored both goals for the Quakers, the only goals scored in that game.

"All the other teams have their key player out," said Seaman. "Crow is the key player for us. We need him to do well."

As for the Villanova game, Seaman said, "It's the most depth we've ever had in Penn," said Seaman. "We've got 12 on the floor, and a lot of our players are capable of playing at that level."

That means that whatever the Quakers' mid-fielders and forwards do, they will be capitalizing on the opportunity to move the ball into the net. Shoemaker did. In the 19-8 win over Massachusetts in the first round of the NCAA tournament, Seaman was their top scorer with 25 goals and 40 points. In the 15-5 win over Franklin and Marshall, Seaman scored 6 goals and 7 points.

"I was disappointed at not being named to any all-Ivy team," Seaman said. "I thought I was better than that, but I couldn't control who voted for me."

"I'm excited," Seaman said. "We're playing against a team that we're very familiar with."

Penn's Seaman has talent, now he wants fans' support

By BARRY DEBRO

When the Penn men's lacrosse team enters Lincoln Financial Field at 7:30 p.m. tonight, it will be looking for its best chance to reach the NCAA tournament.

The Quakers are the Nr. 1 ranked team in the nation and face Villanova tonight in the first game of the Ivy League's annual Ivy League tournament.

It also means that midfield will be a real game changer. It's a game where Villanova is sure to come in with some big bovs."

"It means that midfield will be really competitive," Seaman said. "They've got some big bovs."

"We're going to be able to make them work for every point they get," Seaman said. "We're going to be able to make them work for every point they get."

"We've got the (talent) to make them work for every point they get," Seaman said. "We've got the (talent) to make them work for every point they get."

"We have the best backfield," senior midfielder Keith McCartney said. "We have the best backfield in the Ivy League."

"It means that the Ivy League will be a real game changer," Seaman said. "It's going to be a real game changer."
Panama workers clash with police

Panama City, Panama — Workers hurled handbags and shotguns at police in a two-hour clash that left one worker dead and shed further light on the country's new president's efforts to quell labor unrest.

A US diplomat said that the president, who has a history of human rights abuses, has ordered the army to protect business centers.

Students talk about problems

Washington — Secretary of State George Shultz said yesterday that the US government was ready to help define limits on the use of force to free American hostages overseas.

"We hope there will be some movement," Shultz said. "We are not going to give up." The White House was considering the possibility of sending more US diplomats to help negotiate the release of hostages.

Violence erupts in Northern Ireland

Belfast, Northern Ireland — Two Roman Catholics and two Protestants were killed in fighting yesterday in the worst violence in the province in two years.

The violence was sparked by a bombing in the Protestant area of Grosvenor Road, which is near the site of a Catholic church.

Students working to simplify taxes

Washington — A student group is working to simplify the tax code and is seeking ways to make the system more understandable.

The group, called the Tax Reform Action Committee, is made up of students from several universities across the country.

The students are working to simplify the tax code and are seeking ways to make the system more understandable.

Weather

Today: Sunny and mild. Highs around 60 degrees, lows in the upper 40s.

Tomorrow: Mostly sunny highs in the mid-60s.

FALL SEMESTER CHINESE BUSINESS & COMMERCIAL LANGUAGE

• Study Chinese business and Chinese commercial language at the University of International Business & Economics in Beijing.
• Field trips to factories, joint venture sites and government agencies.
• Two years college-level Chinese and six credits of basic business language.
• Summer and spring sessions also available.

The application deadline has been extended to April 15.

Apply How

To apply, contact us for more information on the Chinese Business & Commercial Language program at 202-684-1700, ext. 124.

TOURGUIDE INTERVIEWS:

Do you love talking about your job?

If you have answered yes to these questions then you should sign up for a tour guide interview on the website of the Kite and Key Society at Key and Kite Office, 2nd floor. Interviews will be held on April 18 & 21. Sign ups are open outside the Kite and Key Office this week!

Prerequisite: 10 hours of service to Kite and Key.

Kite and Key 898-2888.

Be a Transfer Student Ambassador!

Be a New Student Week chairperson and organize opening festivities for new students. Applications are available in the Office of Student Life, 110 Student Center.

Sunday, March 17th from 10 - 7 pm

Kite and Key Hall and Houston Hall.

Application deadline is March 10th.

FINANCIAL AID

Be a Transfer Student Ambassador!

Be a transfer student ambassador for incoming transfers and make campus tours available.

FINANCIAL AID

Be a Transfer Student Ambassador!

Be a transfer student ambassador for incoming transfers and make campus tours available.

The application deadline is March 10th.

NEW STUDENT WEEK VOLUNTEERS & COMMITTEE LEADERS!

Be a New Student Week chairperson and organize opening festivities for new students. Applications are available in the Office of Student Life, 110 Student Center.

Sunday, March 17th from 10 - 7 pm

Kite and Key Hall and Houston Hall.

Application deadline is March 10th.

FINANCIAL AID

Be a Transfer Student Ambassador!

Be a transfer student ambassador for incoming transfers and make campus tours available.

FINANCIAL AID

Be a Transfer Student Ambassador!

Be a transfer student ambassador for incoming transfers and make campus tours available.

The application deadline is March 10th.

FINANCIAL AID

Be a Transfer Student Ambassador!

Be a transfer student ambassador for incoming transfers and make campus tours available.

FINANCIAL AID

Be a Transfer Student Ambassador!

Be a transfer student ambassador for incoming transfers and make campus tours available.

The application deadline is March 10th.

FINANCIAL AID

Be a Transfer Student Ambassador!

Be a transfer student ambassador for incoming transfers and make campus tours available.

FINANCIAL AID

Be a Transfer Student Ambassador!

Be a transfer student ambassador for incoming transfers and make campus tours available.
WASHINGTON — The deficit in the broader measure of U.S. foreign debt in 1987 soared to a record $131.7 billion, up from $111.9 billion in 1986, Treasury Secretary James Baker reported yesterday.

The deficit in the U.S. current account was 11.7 percent of the country's gross national product in 1987, up from 11.2 percent in 1986, Baker said, although he said the trade deficit has hit a new record.

The Reagan administration has been losing patience with the rising tide of trade deficits, but private economists outside government long ago predicted that the problem would not subside.

"We are not concerned," Baker said, "We have a long-term strategy that will work. We have more in store this year than ever before." Baker added that the U.S. foreign debt will eventually be a "giant".

The statement was not a cause for alarm and the country's debt has continued to soar, economists contend that the rapid buildup of foreign debt could eventually cripple the country into another depression, triggered by a plunge in the value of the dollar.

The increasing indebtedness of the United States is the most important problem facing the country, officials of the Atlanta archdiocese, said yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will".

"I think that this appointment is a sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters outside the downtown YWCA, another prerelease facility, this morning.

Those named in a grand jury presentment were charged with crimes ranging from agregated assault to escape.

"The failure to meet that deadline would delay the start of a troop withdrawal. The Soviet noops entered the conflict in 1979. Withdrawal plans had been called off." Major Gephardt, a hardline Afghan guerrilla leader, Najib, has been fighting a guerilla war against the Soviet-backed government since 1978.

Despite the problems, U.S. political and commercial interests in Afghanistan were not seen as half-heared and superficial "a sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino said.

Simon and Bush win big victories in Illinois primary

CHICAGO — Paul Simon defeated Joe Jackson yesterday in the Illinois Democratic presidential primary, claiming the victory he said he needed to sustain his candidacy for the U.S. Senate. Democratic presidential hopeful Michael Dukakis claimed a second win today as he won the Massachusetts primary.

Simon was jubilant after claiming his victory. "We're seeing it," he said, referring to the New York Times report of his win. Dukakis was equally elated. "We're talking about it," he said, referring to the New York Times report of his win.

"I don't know if he's a national leader," Simon said, "I don't know if he's a national leader. But I know he's an American job." Dukakis was equally elated. "I think that this appointment is a sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

Mocking the victory he said he needed to sustain his candidacy for the U.S. Senate, Dukakis was jubilant after claiming his victory. "We're seeing it," he said, referring to the New York Times report of his win. Simon was equally elated. "I think that this appointment is a sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.

"The church has spoken but has the church listened to itself?" said the letter, suggesting that the appointment as head of the Atlanta archdiocese is a "sign of hope to all men and women of good will," Marino told reporters yesterday.
Mr. Burger will present two public events:

- The 1988 Pappas Lecture on "The Separation of Powers"
  - Monday, March 21st at 4:00 p.m.
  - In Meyerson B-1

- A Campus Workshop on "The Background of the Constitutional Convention"
  - Wednesday, March 23rd, 3-5:00 p.m.
  - In Hill House Upper East Lounge (3333 Walnut St.)

College House and Living-Learning Program residents can get a copy of a booklet providing background information on Mr. Burger from their AF, GF or PD, and from the College House Office in High Rise North.
W. Lacrosse snuffs Loyola, 3-2, with excellent defense

By MARVIN DASH

If opening day is to any extent an indicator of the season to come, as many like to believe, then the Penn women's lacrosse team can look forward to a successful season.

In an unusually low-scoring game, the Quakers defeated Loyola (Maryland) on the road, 3-2. And the low score certainly reflected the type of game it was — a defensive struggle.

"Defense played a solid game, showing maturity and stability," senior co-captain Karen McFadden said. "That's why the score was so low."

Junior goalie Wendy DiDomenico recorded 10 saves and allowed only one goal to get by in each half.

But it wasn't just the defense McFadden cited important defensive moves made by the attack as a determining factor in the game.

"Attack also played defensively by double-teaming," McFadden added. "Total defense was the difference in the game."

Penn scored all three goals in the first half. Junior Nicky Kitchens, freshman Aileen Causing and Mel ftd each scored. Kitchens and McFadden each had an assist.

"I think it is a good indication of what is to come in the season," McFadden said.

Wanna cover Penn like nobody else? Just come to the DP Sports office Thursday at 5 p.m. It's on the 2nd floor of 4015 Walnut.

Thanks, Ed Dahhling
— Ken, Mo, Jon

CAN U SPRL?
The Daily Pennsylvania"u needs a few outstanding copy editors. Salary is good and the only requirement is a fine working knowledge of the English language.

Work-study students only

Evensings call 898-6585 and ask for Chuck.
GOLDSTEIN, GORDON lead M. Tennis

The Penn women's tennis team has

EXPERIMENTAL CENTER

An Exercise Center Offering the Safe Way to Improved Health

Summer Employment

Current Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors and Graduate Students apply now for a position as

PEER COUNSELOR IN THE

PRE-FRANKESMAN PROGRAM

The Pre-Freshman program, sponsored by the office of University Life is currently accepting applications from students who are interested in working as peer counselors. Applicants must be available from July 11 to Aug 29, 1988 and he willing to live on campus. Peer Counselors tutor and advise incoming freshmen and orient them to campus life. Salary and living expenses will be provided approximately twenty-two thousand and fifty dollars.

For information, a job description and application form, come in to the University Counseling Service, 3611 Locust Walk, 2nd Floor, beginning March 18, 1988.

APPLICATIONS MUST BE COMPLETED BY MARCH 31ST, 1988. An informational meeting will be held Thursday, March 24, at 7:00 P.M. in High Rise South Routhop Lounge.

25 stations of weight and aerobic equipment

Individualized program designed for your capabilities

Goals include weight loss, toning, and flexibility

Complete strength, flexibility, endurance evaluation

Individual programs, personal instruction, close supervision

Beautiful exercise rooms, new showers & lockers

Membership equivalent to only $33/month with discount

CALL NOW TO ENROLL

387-0111

Philadelphia Institute for Physical Therapy

St. Leonard's Court, 39th & Chestnut Sts.
M. Swimming flat in Easterns

By HEATHER SARGO

The season was a wasted effort.
That phrase might be considered the swimmers' flat performance at the Eastern Championships weekend in which no swimmers qualified for the NCAA Championships.

But it's not. There is no denying that the Quakers had made a substantial improvement this season, improving by 3.44 ranked in 1982. It was an impression of a real college swimming League mark.

Penn improved third place in the илась, and posted its first winning record in almost two decades. The Quakers can claim one loss by Army that should have been a win. First, the Quakers lost to first-place Princeton and second-place Harvard, could not qualify in the meets. "Harvard was still up in the match this year," he said. "The pens had an almost perfect season.
Army is the only team we should have beaten, but didn't." Princeton and Harvard took one and nine in the EDII for a substantial 3-6 Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League mark.

The team finished the season shooting
36.8 percent. To become a com-

McGowen closes W. Squash season with splash at tourney

By MIKE FISSEL

Mary McGowan ended the Penn women's squash team's season - one of the most impressive of any college team in Penn's history - with a sweep over
Princeton to win the ECISA.

At the U.S. Women's Intercollegiate Championships, held in Princeton March 6-8, McGowan was three times Champion. And last two, advancing to the semifinal round of the competitions. McGowan, a captain who has struggled all season against nationally-ranked players, posted a season of frustration into her 3-0 victory over Jane Cox of Taffs, who had beaten her 3-0 in two previous matches.

"I put everything into that match and surprised everyone including myself," McGowan said. "I definitely think I can continue to improve.

"We have missed the emergence of freshmen Lara Chappell and Rose Ann Lucas as well as junior Erin Ritter. Unfortunately,

Swoop Joe's & University City Nautilus

Present the First Annual

MR. & MS. UNIV. CITY BODY BUILDING CONTEST

-Starting Wed. March 16th

-Prizes for All!!

-Weekly winners receive 1 free month at Nautilus.

-Weekly winners return for Grand Championship in April.

GRAND PRIZE: One Free Year At Nautilus!!!

Contestants call Swoop's - 222-0770 or Nautilus - 382-9010

PLANNING AN EVENT FOR FALL 1988 SEMESTER?

THERE'S SPACE AVAILABLE IN HOUSTON HALL/ IRVINE AUDITORIUM

APPLICATIONS BEING ACCEPTED STARTING MARCH 15TH IN THE OFFICE OF STUDENT LIFE, 110 HOUSTON HALL

SEE NANCY WRIGHT FOR FURTHER DETAILS (985-6535)

PLAN AHEAD — APPLICATIONS BEING PROCESSED ON A FIRST COME - FIRST SERVED BASE

Houston Hall

DO NOT DEPEND ON THE BIRDIE.
LET THE DP CLASSIFIEDS TELL IT.

Little birdies aren't always reliable. Daily Pennsylvanian Classified Ads are. You can count on them every time, whether you're looking to buy or sell. From housing to jobs, from used guitars to dancing lessons, The Daily Pennsylvanian Classified Ads have it all.

To place your ad, come to the Daily Pennsylvanian Business Office Monday-Friday, 9 am - 5 pm . . . or call 985-6581 for more information.
Baseball opens northern portion of season today on road against Haverford

As a team, the Quakers compiled an .265 batting average, a .344 slugging percentage and a .359 on-base percentage. Their hitting (.265) and defense (.964) were ranked 88th and 71st in the nation. Last year, the Scarlet Knights and 12-47 cent 3-4 Florida trip) was good

"Women sports writers have to go into the locker room, just the male ego talking."
Wrestling’s Brody to compete in NCAAs after strong finish, luck in EWIs

"Brody’s performance at the Easterns was an outgrowth of the St. Mary’s experience," Penn head coach Roger Reina said. "It’s the first time Penn wanted to go to the NCAAs in six years. Schlitt in 1982. I think it’s a great opportunity and opportunity to face the caliber of wrestling you’re going to face. It’s a very good motor and transmission and contact surfaces. We’re pleased with the history of good year, and the structure and the depth of the program. That’s the need in roommates the highlights of the EWIs, national on a field of 16 teams.

We expected to place in the top 10 in the Easterns," head coach Roger Reina said. "It’s the first time Penn wanted to go to the NCAAs in six years. Schlitt in 1982. I think it’s a great opportunity and opportunity to face the caliber of wrestling you’re going to face. It’s a very good motor and transmission and contact surfaces. We’re pleased with the history of good year, and the structure and the depth of the program. That’s the need in roommates the highlights of the EWIs, national on a field of 16 teams.

The Quakers (10-6) garnered their third winning season in three years and their first Ivy title in two years.

"I think it’s a year of opportunities for us," Reina said. "Look at the back of the season, I’m pleased with the back office and the coaches of the team as well as their performance. I think we were able to give a large group of freshmen valuable experience."

For the people there for the first time, it was an experience builder," Reina said. "It’s hard going to a tournament without knowing the caliber of wrestling you’re going to face. We’re pleased with the depth of the program. That’s the need in roommates the highlights of the EWIs, national on a field of 16 teams.

For the people there for the first time, it was an experience builder," Reina said. "It’s hard going to a tournament without knowing the caliber of wrestling you’re going to face. We’re pleased with the depth of the program. That’s the need in roommates the highlights of the EWIs, national on a field of 16 teams.

With the close of the 1987-88 season, Penn looks good about the season. The Quakers (10-6) garnered their third winning season in three years and their first Ivy title in two years.

"I think it’s a year of opportunities for us," Reina said. "Look at the back of the season, I’m pleased with the back office and the coaches of the team as well as their performance. I think we were able to give a large group of freshmen valuable experience."

The Quakers (10-6) garnered their third winning season in three years and their first Ivy title in two years.

"I think it’s a year of opportunities for us," Reina said. "Look at the back of the season, I’m pleased with the back office and the coaches of the team as well as their performance. I think we were able to give a large group of freshmen valuable experience."

With the close of the 1987-88 season, Penn looks good about the season. The Quakers (10-6) garnered their third winning season in three years and their first Ivy title in two years.

"I think it’s a year of opportunities for us," Reina said. "Look at the back of the season, I’m pleased with the back office and the coaches of the team as well as their performance. I think we were able to give a large group of freshmen valuable experience."

The Quakers (10-6) garnered their third winning season in three years and their first Ivy title in two years.

"I think it’s a year of opportunities for us," Reina said. "Look at the back of the season, I’m pleased with the back office and the coaches of the team as well as their performance. I think we were able to give a large group of freshmen valuable experience."

With the close of the 1987-88 season, Penn looks good about the season. The Quakers (10-6) garnered their third winning season in three years and their first Ivy title in two years.

"I think it’s a year of opportunities for us," Reina said. "Look at the back of the season, I’m pleased with the back office and the coaches of the team as well as their performance. I think we were able to give a large group of freshmen valuable experience."

With the close of the 1987-88 season, Penn looks good about the season. The Quakers (10-6) garnered their third winning season in three years and their first Ivy title in two years.

"I think it’s a year of opportunities for us," Reina said. "Look at the back of the season, I’m pleased with the back office and the coaches of the team as well as their performance. I think we were able to give a large group of freshmen valuable experience."

With the close of the 1987-88 season, Penn looks good about the season. The Quakers (10-6) garnered their third winning season in three years and their first Ivy title in two years.

"I think it’s a year of opportunities for us," Reina said. "Look at the back of the season, I’m pleased with the back office and the coaches of the team as well as their performance. I think we were able to give a large group of freshmen valuable experience."

With the close of the 1987-88 season, Penn looks good about the season. The Quakers (10-6) garnered their third winning season in three years and their first Ivy title in two years.

"I think it’s a year of opportunities for us," Reina said. "Look at the back of the season, I’m pleased with the back office and the coaches of the team as well as their performance. I think we were able to give a large group of freshmen valuable experience."

With the close of the 1987-88 season, Penn looks good about the season. The Quakers (10-6) garnered their third winning season in three years and their first Ivy title in two years.

"I think it’s a year of opportunities for us," Reina said. "Look at the back of the season, I’m pleased with the back office and the coaches of the team as well as their performance. I think we were able to give a large group of freshmen valuable experience."

With the close of the 1987-88 season, Penn looks good about the season. The Quakers (10-6) garnered their third winning season in three years and their first Ivy title in two years.
Overexposure on ESPN may hurt Ivy balance

FINE BOLLMAN
One seventeen word brush with the 1988 Penn baseball team was fortuitous.
And it is the execution — or lack of it — of the on-the-spot rule of testing the ball with the bat which,
the Penn valuation system indicates, will win the game. The question is, can Penn baseball
spend another spring watching
the extra-Browne Field games.
Besides making contact through the television, baseball has become the great
corruptor.
Everyone associated with the league will tell you that the money really was a large motivating factor in signing the ESPN deal.
If so, the exposure just isn't worth it.
In the last two years, baseball has been turned into a marketing stunt where everybody's competing for the television rights. The players simply want what they feel is their share of the money.
And they're absolutely right. A mere $5,000,000
is a paltry sum when the league's payrolls soared by at least 50 million dollars. That's valid exposure when you're in baseball and catchers are standing next to you in the dugout with his arm around you saying, "You know, you really careed that game!" But the league isn't that lured. And then he remembers seeing Coach
Brooks' learn on ESPN three times last season. "That's too much," he said, "unless you have a good team. One thing leads to another and you're on everybody's radar screen.
Brooks' learn luredณ $25,000,000. And what happened? Well, you could say that television has become the great
corruptor.

Contact could signify Baseball turnaround

JOE DELLICARRI
One seventeen word brush with the 1988 Penn baseball team was fortuitous.
And it is the execution — or lack
of it — of the on-the-spot rule of testing the ball with the bat which,
the Penn valuation system indicates, will win the game. The question is, can Penn baseball
spend another spring watching
the extra-Browne Field games.
Besides making contact through
the television, baseball has become the great
corruptor.
Everyone associated with the league will tell you that the money really was a large
motivating factor in signing the ESPN deal.
If so, the exposure just isn't worth it.
In the last two years, baseball has been turned into a marketing stunt where everybody's competing for the television rights. The players simply want what they feel is their share of the money.
And they're absolutely right. A mere $5,000,000
is a paltry sum when the league's payrolls
soared by at least 50 million dollars. That's valid exposure when you're in baseball and
catchers are standing next to you
in the dugout with his arm around
you saying, "You know, you really cared that game!" But the league isn't that lured. And then he remembers seeing Coach
Brooks' learn on ESPN three times last season. "That's too much," he said, "unless you have a good team. One thing leads to another and you're on
everybody's radar screen.
Brooks' learn luredณ $25,000,000. And what happened? Well, you could say that television has become the great
corruptor.

W. Hoops plays four OTs in loss

By GREG BROWN
Ending what has been an otherwise disappointing season, the Penn women's basketball team fell to #7 Maryland in the ACC tournament thriller in downsizing Columbia, 114-113, March 5. The eighth victory of the season, the Quakers had knocked off Cornell, 76-69, in their 36th game.
The 86-minute overtime session saw seven Ivy league records, including the most total points scored, an overall victory for the Quakers, and the most points scored in overtime, 54 to the Quakers' 17.

Inside the Quaker's loss:

1. The Quakers were beaten via a total of 30 points. That's valid exposure when you're in baseball and
catchers are standing next to you
in the dugout with his arm around
you saying, "You know, you really cared that game!" But the league isn't that lured. And then he remembers seeing Coach
Brooks' learn on ESPN three times last season. "That's too much," he said, "unless you have a good team. One thing leads to another and you're on
everybody's radar screen.
Brooks' learn luredณ $25,000,000. And what happened? Well, you could say that television has become the great
corruptor.

W. Hoops plays four OTs in loss

By GREG BROWN
Ending what has been an otherwise disappointing season, the Penn women's basketball team fell to #7 Maryland in the ACC tournament thriller in downsizing Columbia, 114-113, March 5. The eighth victory of the season, the Quakers had knocked off Cornell, 76-69, in their 36th game.
The 86-minute overtime session saw seven Ivy league records, including the most total points scored, an overall victory for the Quakers, and the most points scored in overtime, 54 to the Quakers' 17.

Inside the Quaker's loss:

1. The Quakers were beaten via a total of 30 points. That's valid exposure when you're in baseball and
catchers are standing next to you
in the dugout with his arm around
you saying, "You know, you really cared that game!" But the league isn't that lured. And then he remembers seeing Coach
Brooks' learn on ESPN three times last season. "That's too much," he said, "unless you have a good team. One thing leads to another and you're on
everybody's radar screen.
Brooks' learn luredณ $25,000,000. And what happened? Well, you could say that television has become the great
corruptor.