Grad council requests larger stipend hikes

Annual council pushes for more funding

By MATT HILK
The Graduate Student Associates Council unanimously passed two resolutions yesterday calling for increases in graduate stipends and assistantships. The resolutions are to be sent to the Penn administration to urge them to raise graduate stipends.

The resolution to increase graduate stipends calls for doubling the annual increase of the current levels. The current levels are $7000 per year, and the administration is to receive a small percentage of the increase.

The council unanimously passed two resolutions yesterday calling for increases in graduate stipends, and the administration is to receive a small percentage of the increase.

"It’s a small step," said graduate student John Smith. "It’s a small step for us, and a giant leap for mankind." Smith is a representative of the GSAC and was a former member of the Penn administration.

The council passed the resolutions in a vote of 22-0, with one abstention. The resolution to increase graduate stipends calls for doubling the current levels, and the administration is to receive a small percentage of the increase.

By RANDALL LANE
While clearly one of the most popular and respected houses on campus, DuBois House is also cited for its separateness and isolation. The house, located on the north side of the University, is divided into two main sections: the upper level and the lower level. The upper level is home to the majority of the house, while the lower level is occupied by a large group of students who are interested in Afro-American studies.

Currently in its 17th year, roughly 100 people participate in the house. While the University is not required to be an approved house, the majority of the students who live in the upper level are black. The core of DuBois’s mission is to create an academic environment that recognizes and celebrates the study of Afro-American issues and experiences.

Acting Afro-American Studies Director John Roberts, who came to the University in 1982 specifically for this purpose, said that the house’s common areas, which are open to all, are always completely black because most students who come to the house are interested in Afro-American issues and human rights. Roberts said that the house is a place where students can come together and express their identities and feelings, and that the house is a safe space for students who are interested in Afro-American studies.

"We believe that the low level of support (stipends granted) is a conscious effort to keep the system as expensive as possible," said a representative from the GSAC. "They [the administration] ought to do better, and we want them to do better." The GSAC is calling for increases in graduate stipends, and the administration is to receive a small percentage of the increase.

"They [the administration] ought to do better, and we want them to do better." The GSAC is calling for increases in graduate stipends, and the administration is to receive a small percentage of the increase.

The topic of DuBois House successful and popular despite detractors.
QUAKER! BIG BRANDS! BIG OPPORTUNITIES!

CAREERS IN BRAND MANAGEMENT

Quaker is coming to campus to hire graduating Seniors for positions in Brand Management

- Brand Management is a unique and challenging career opportunity
- Contribute, learn, and advance on a career path similar to that of MBA graduates
- Gain real-world business experience quickly
- Quaker offers a great opportunity for people with strong leadership skills, self-motivation, and superior analytical & creative abilities

Attend the Quaker Oats Company Presentation: 4:30 PM, Thursday, December 8
Steinberg Hall / District Hall (Room 217)
Reception Immediately Following
Refreshments will be served

Send your resume to: The Quaker Oats Company, U.S. General Producers Division, Mr. Dennis Johnson, Suite 16-1, Human Resources, P.O. Box 8085, Chicago, IL 60604-9001

Equal Opportunity Employer: M/F

PUBLIC SAFETY HITS FOUR RECRUITS FROM ACADEMY

By GEOFF TAUBMAN

Four new police officers have joined the Department of Public Safety and are currently completing a six-week training course.

Officers Keith Christian, Frederick Ricciuti, Mary Terry and Mary Washington joined the campus police force this fall, making up the majority of the new recruits. Richardson said that any other recruits graduating from the Pennsylvania State Police's training will be in a training program until mid-January, including two other troopers from the Bodek Lounge, Houston Hall.

The new officers will be in a training program until mid-January, including two-week stints in each of the three Public Safety beats.

Public Safety Captain John Richardson said everyone has been working with the new officers since mid-January. Richardson added that he and Director John Logan have not decided whether another shift will be established after the training period concludes.

"After six weeks, if they're ready, we will assign them out," Richardson said.

"The Public Safety cognates, who described the recruits as "sentimental," said that the training program enables the prospective officers to apply what they learned in the academy to real world situations. He added that by rotating the new recruits in all three Public Safety liaisons, they will become familiar with the campus and the recruitment process.

"They can't go from the Police Academy to the police and expect to be a police," Richardson explained. "They have to learn how we operate." SAC recognizes

The Student Activities Committee approved three new groups tonight, after also providing funding for the others and one already-existing publication.

According to Trenton Cleckley, the chairman of the SAC Finance Committee, the three groups are the Penn Dixie Band (SN1), the History and Sociology of Science Society (SN2), and a new architecture magazine which receives a $4580 grant and a $1322 grant. The committee also granted the Penn Journal Review $2360 and unautomated funding for the Campus Newspaper and IEEE, an electrical engineering group.

SAC also proposed a letter drive to the campus by a member of the peace movement, but was later rejected by the Executive Board.

We need someone with the ambition of an investment banker, the patience of a driving instructor and the optimism of a weatherman.

Peace Corps.

3 new groups

Quotation of the Day

"They (the administration) ought to find out how the BOY is a month a new group," said student... "and we need you to increase that amount of money..."

Assistant Editors

KAVIN KAVINSKI
Michele Yudelson, News Editor
CHERYL FAMILY
BRETT M ichel. Night Editors
JOANNE RIM
Photo News Editor
GARY ROTH
Andrew T EAGLE
Art News Editor
JULIE L ESSER
CYNTHIA FABRAS
DER HAMMER
VILLIAN SHERRI
Editor of Student Publications

Corrections

"The Daily Pennsylvanian is the daily student-run newspaper of The Pennsylvania State University. It is published daily except Friday during the academic year, and weekly during summer seasons except during exam periods and vacation periods.

The Daily Pennsylvanian, Inc. The Pennsylvania State University, University Park, PA 16802-5001

The Daily Pennsylvanian is distributed to all residence halls, most academic buildings, the Health Center and through newsstands on campus. An annual subscription is $35.00. Single copies are $1.00. Advertising material cannot be placed on students' doors.

Subscriptions may be ordered for students: at the above address Office of Student Publications:

4015 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104

Contact the Editor at The Daily Pennsylvania, Inc. for information on the contents of the newspaper. No other paper shall be accepted as a substitute for The Daily Pennsylvania, Inc. The Daily Pennsylvania, Inc. are the only authorized distributors of The Daily Pennsylvania, Inc. Any copies or replicas may be sold by any other party without permission from The Daily Pennsylvania, Inc.

The Daily Pennsylvania, Inc. are the only authorized distributors of The Daily Pennsylvania, Inc. Any copies or replicas may be sold by any other party without permission from The Daily Pennsylvania, Inc.

The Daily Pennsylvania, Inc. are the only authorized distributors of The Daily Pennsylvania, Inc. Any copies or replicas may be sold by any other party without permission from The Daily Pennsylvania, Inc.
SEPTA tries to remain on track

By CHERYL FAMILY

The Southeastern Pennsylvania Transit Authority, otherwise known as SEPTA, the worst-kept secret in the city, has a new general manager. Frank Wilson, 46, who is being described as a hard-nosed businessman and a tough, no-nonsense leader, is expected to bring a new level of efficiency and accountability to the agency.

Wilson was named to the post by Mayor John Sprudell, who has been under fire for the agency's performance in recent years. Wilson, who was previously the general manager at the New York City subway system, has been praised for his ability to turn around declining ridership and improve service.

"I am very excited about Frank Wilson," Sprudell said in a press conference announcing his appointment. "He has the experience and the track record to turn around the agency and make it one of the most efficient in the country."

Wilson replaces Gary Gray, who had been general manager for the past five years. Gray, who had been criticized for his handling of recent fare hikes and service cuts, announced his resignation last month.

"I want to thank Gary Gray for his service to SEPTA," Sprudell said. "He has been a dedicated public servant and I wish him all the best in his future endeavors."

Wilson is expected to be sworn in as general manager on January 1, 1992, and will begin working immediately. He will be responsible for overseeing the agency's $533 million budget and more than 20,000 employees.

Wilson's appointment comes as SEPTA is facing several challenges, including a decline in ridership, a budget deficit, and a growing number of safety concerns.

"I look forward to working with Frank Wilson to address these challenges and make SEPTA a more efficient and effective agency," Sprudell said. "I believe he is the right person for the job and I am confident in his ability to lead SEPTA to success."
In Brief

Public Safety investigates graffiti acts

The Department of Public Safety is investigating recent acts of graffiti on University buildings.

A statement released by Public Safety spokesperson Sylvia Camarda stated that the individuals responsible for the graffiti could be charged with a felony under Pennsylvania law.

Signs offensive to Asians, blacks, Jews and homosexuals have been found in the Quadrangle.

Said Camarda, "It was very annoying." Moody said.

---

Golphin re-elected chairman of Hillel

College and Wharton junior Daniel Golphin was re-elected yesterday as chairman of the Ya-sod, the student board of the Hillel Foundation.

In addition, College junior Neil Ziler was re-elected as treasurer. College sophomore Alice Green was voted into the new position of president.

Golphin thanked President Sheldon Hackney for the support and encouragement.

"I want to thank them and for the Jewish community," Golphin said. "I want to thank them and the Jewish community for the support and encouragement."

---

Grad council

STUPENDS: From page 9

level by $50.

GRCC President John Parker said yesterday that he expected the administration to raise the stipends by more than last year's $50,000 margin, but added that he is unsure whether administrators would approve the full $100,000 increase.

A second resolution called for a 20 percent increase in Dissertation and Engineering Summer Research Fellowship Stipends for engineering students. The stipends would be raised from $1,500 to $2,000 for students in the programs.

The resolutions will be forwarded to both the undergraduate and graduate councils and students will be able to discuss their stipends with their peers.
Joint U.S-Soviet delegation comes to U. for discussions

DELEGATION, from page 1

achieve their goal and their age. Most of the delegates were born in the mid-20s and 40s and have been considered "emerging leaders" of the medical profession.

Many of the Soviet delegates were selected from the Ministry of Health and the premier medical schools in their nation, Leonid Mosur added. As part of Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev's glasnost/permit reforms, the Soviets are currently pursuing a "Healthy Lifestyle" program, which aims to promote exercise and discourage smoking and alcoholism. I.avisso-Mourey said.

"In previous years, the (Soviet Union) has made no effort to even acknowledge substance abuse. We are now making their own 'moonshine.'" she said. Although the consumption of alcohol is not illegal in the Soviet Union, it is now being strongly discouraged, and alcoholics are being forced to enter institutions. Once a patient in such a facility, the individual can be found in New York City hospitals, she said.

In addition, the Soviets rarely deal with the problem of imported drugs in their country. Unlike the United States, most of the substances abused by young people in the United States are from domestic sources. In fact, Children said, consumption of sugar in the Soviet Union has actually grown over the past year, the group will convene on Soviet territory for round two of the exchange.

Joint U.S-Soviet delegation comes to U. for discussions

Advertisers: you have only until Monday, December 12 to publicize your holiday specials in The Daily Pennsylvanian.

Although students remain on campus taking final exams until December 22, The Daily Pennsylvanian will halt publication for the semester on Monday, December 12. The DP will resume publication on Tuesday, January 17, 1989.

Don't miss your last chance before winter break to reach the lucrative Penn market.

CALL 898-6881 NOW.

The Daily Pennsylvanian

GRADUATE STUDENTS: PREPARE FOR CONVENTION INTERVIEWS.

Pre-convention Interview Workshop: Friday, December 9, 11-12
McNeil Building, Room 70

Call Carol Waite to sign up, x8-7530

PENN LEGAL SERVICES
FREE CONSULTATION WITH A LAWYER FROM FINEMAN & BACH FOR ALL PENN STUDENTS AND THEIR SPOUSES WITH LEGAL QUESTIONS OR PROBLEMS!

Apply in the UA Office - 1st Floor Houston Hall - 898-8909
All problems kept strictly confidential.
Appointments scheduled approximately twice a month (UA sponsored)

DISCOVER KINKO'S
We can be your support staff!

- Full & Self-Service Copies
- Letterhead & Envelopes
- Fax/Telex
- Laser/Writer Forms
- Typewriter Rental
- Temporary Transmittal & Rejection
- Office & Stationery Supplies
- Business Cards
- Fax/Telex
- Laser/Writer Forms
- Typewriter Rental
- Temporary Transmittal & Rejection
- Office & Stationery Supplies
- Business Cards

OPEN 24 HOURS
386-5679
382-5679

PENN ABROAD UNDERGRADUATE INFORMATION MEETINGS

CHINA: PENN/UC Comparative Studies Program in Beijing and Nanjing. Tuesday, December 13, 3:00-5:00 p.m., Room 608 Williams Hall. Application Deadline: February 1.

FRANCE: PENN/UC Critical Studies Program in Paris. Friday, December 9, 9:00-9:30 p.m., Room 611 Bennett Hall. Application Deadline: February 1.

ITALY: PENN/UC Comparative Studies Program in Bologna. Thursday, December 14, 4:00-5:00 p.m., Room 608 Williams Hall. Application Deadline: February 1.

JAPAN: PENN/International Christian University in Tokyo. Monday, December 12, 9:00-9:30 p.m., Room 608 Williams Hall. Application Deadline: February 1.

UNITED KINGDOM: PENN/Edinburgh Exchange Program. Thursday, December 15, 9:00-10:00 a.m., Room 608 Williams Hall. Application Deadline: February 1.

WEST GERMANY: PENN/Bochum State University in Bochum. Monday, December 12, 9:00-9:30 a.m., Room 741 Williams Hall. Application Deadline: December 1.

Further Information and Applications Available From:
Office of International Programs
135 Bennett Hall, 898-4061
Public Safety Statement on Graffiti

The following is an announcement released yesterday by the Department of Public Safety in response to the recent rash of graffiti in the Quad, School of Social Work, and Hill College House.

The Department of Public Safety is actively investigating the incidents of graffiti in the Quad, Law School, and Hill College House. This can be classified as a felony.

Anyone with information about these incidents may contact the detectives division of Public Safety at 393-464. All information will be kept confidential.

SAYANA CAY
Public Safety Staff Assistant

For You To Decide

All the time, I catch myself separating life into extremes, like this: Bad: authority, regulation, punishment. Good: freedom, choice, self-respect. But it wasn't until I sat in on a School of Social Work class last semester that I realized just how big, how absolutely huge, this concept was in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.

The first leads to humility, the other is blind arrogance. Good professors, instead, are not arrogant in proportion to the issue at hand. They are so big, so absolutely huge, in the University community. We have earned this right, to make our own free choices; and, very often, people don't want to see this in the classroom. Everyone will be a philosopher in college. It's a pretension, while the second is at least blind faith.
Buy a Z-286-LP Winchester and receive a FREE Logitech™ Mouse plus a savings of $50.00 to $100.00 on all hard disk systems.

Z-286-LP Model 20
- with ZMM-149 monochrome monitor
- with ZCM-1390 color monitor
- with ZCM-1490 FTM monitor

Z-286-LP Model 40
- with ZMM-149 monochrome monitor
- with ZCM-1390 color monitor
- with ZCM-1490 FTM monitor

To Order Call:
The Computer Connection.
World
Arafat meets with American Jews to discuss PI.O image

Just Say Yes
Gun education program to begin in Miami public schools

Nation
Bush releases further names for future administration posts

City
Philadelphia looking to sell site of MOVE headquarters

Business
Bond prices climb as interest rates decline to spur activity

Weather
Today: Morning sunshine followed by scattered clouds. Winds from the northwest 8 to 15 mph and high in the mid 60s to upper 70s.

Penn Summer Information
ONLY 2 DAYS LEFT!

Penn Summer Information

College Night

Reduce prices for Draft Beer

Off the Wire
Compiled from Associated Press Dispatches

Law enforcement officials pulled the snow-covered park around the Haji Palace, where Arafat and aides conferred with several Jewish delegations from the United States.

The meeting, arranged by the Israeli-American Community of Philadelphia, comes in the wake of last month's Middle East peace talks and Israel's decision to release some 500 Palestinian prisoners in an effort to jump-start peace talks.

At least 247 Palestinian prisoners were freed in Israel, but the talks broke down late last month after Israel refused to halt construction of a new Jewish settlement in the West Bank.

Arafat met with a group of American Jews yesterday to promote the PI.O image and discuss ways to move the struggle forward.

Jews to discuss PI.O image

Arafat meets with American Jews to discuss PI.O image

Friday, only days after a junior at Miami ren killed by guns this year, will begin the unprecedented number of Dade child-Guns" program, drawn up in reaction to children are to be instructed that the be-t

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania (UPI) — A B-52 bomber

was uninjured.

Robert Moshachci 10 be commerce

A B-52 bomber

was uninjured.

Robert Moshachci 10 be commerce

A B-52 bomber

was uninjured.

Robert Moshachci 10 be commerce

A B-52 bomber

was uninjured.

Robert Moshachci 10 be commerce
Sudan's famine to continue

Airlifted supplies will not help, U.N. says

Khartoum — Sudanese northern and southern emergency food aid officials agree that the emergency food airlifts this winter are insufficient to meet the needs of a million people hungry from the drought, the officials said from either side of the Nile.

"The need for food aid is not in question," said a Sudanese emergency food aid official. "The need is for more food aid."

"We have been doing our best to help the people," said a northern emergency food aid official. "But we need more help from the international community."

"The drought is a catastrophe," said a southern emergency food aid official. "We need more international help to feed our people."

The famine has been worsening for months, with aid agencies warning that thousands more people could die as the dry season wears on.

"The situation is critical," said a northern emergency food aid official. "We need immediate action to save lives."

"We are doing everything we can," said a southern emergency food aid official. "But we need more international help."

The United Nations has called the crisis a "natural disaster" and is appealing for $700 million in emergency food aid.

Western diplomats said they were disheartened by the response of the international community to the famine, which they said was "far too slow and inadequate."
Office of the University Registrar

Final Exam Schedule
Fall 1988

DAYS AND TIMES ARE CODED AS FOLLOWS:

- 00 SEE INSTRUCTOR FOR TIME AND ROOM RESIGNED
- 01 THU, DEC 15 11:00 - 1:00
- 02 MON, DEC 19 8:30 - 10:30
- 03 WED, DEC 14 1:30 - 3:30
- 04 FRI, DEC 16 8:30 - 10:30
- 05 HU, DEC 15 11:00 - 1:00
- 06 FRI, DEC 16 1:30 - 3:30
- 07 MON, DEC 19 8:30 - 10:30
- 08 WED, DEC 14 11:00 - 1:00
- 09 MON, DEC 19 1:30 - 3:30
- 10 TUE, DEC 20 8:30 - 10:30
- 11 TUE, DEC 20 11:00 - 1:00
- 12 TUE, DEC 20 1:30 - 3:30
- 13 FRI, DEC 16 4:00 - 6:00
- 14 FRI, DEC 16 4:00 - 6:00
- 15 TUE, DEC 20 4:00 - 6:00

NOTE: FINAL EXAMINATIONS FOR CGS COURSES MUST BE GIVEN ON THE REGULAR CLASS MEETING NIGHT DURING THE WEEK OF FINAL EXAMINATIONS. NO CHANGE IN SCHEDULING IS PERMITTED WITHOUT THE UNANIMOUS CONSENT OF ALL STUDENTS IN THE CLASS AND THE DIRECTOR OF CGS. A FINAL EXAM MAY NOT BE ADMINISTERED ON A READING DAY.
When falling asleep could mean falling behind, choose Caffeine. The natural caffeine stimulant. Caffeine's maximum-strength formula is time-released to keep you alert for four hours. Continuously, safely, and with no stomach upset. Caffedrine keeps you sharp as time passes.

In the past, this confusion has led to a sense of identity crisis among students. The Times' coverage portrayed DuBois as a culturally conservative professor, while his peers in the United States experienced a "major transition year of social revolution," as they described it. Students who support the sit-in were labeled as "radical" by the Times, while those who do not support it were described as "conservative." The Times' coverage was influenced by the political climate of the time, which was characterized by a strong anti-communist sentiment.

Additionally, the Engineering society, which is one of the largest student organizations at Princeton, has been a source of controversy. It has been the subject of criticism for its policies and practices. The engineering society's president, who is also the engineering student body president, is often quoted in the news.

The engineering society's president, who is also the engineering student body president, is often quoted in the news. The society's position is often seen as a reflection of the views of the wider student body. The society's decisions often have a significant impact on the engineering curriculum and the experiences of engineering students.

The engineering society's president, who is also the engineering student body president, is often quoted in the news. The society's position is often seen as a reflection of the views of the wider student body. The society's decisions often have a significant impact on the engineering curriculum and the experiences of engineering students.

The engineering society's president, who is also the engineering student body president, is often quoted in the news. The society's position is often seen as a reflection of the views of the wider student body. The society's decisions often have a significant impact on the engineering curriculum and the experiences of engineering students.

The engineering society's president, who is also the engineering student body president, is often quoted in the news. The society's position is often seen as a reflection of the views of the wider student body. The society's decisions often have a significant impact on the engineering curriculum and the experiences of engineering students.
Penn upsets 17th-ranked 'Nova, 71-70

SPOLT, from page 18

Tanner's rebound and lay-in with 17 seconds left sealed the victory for the Quakers. "That was the game for us," said coach Ed Frazier.

Frazier leads

Frazier's team is 3-4 overall and 0-2 in the Ivy League, and this one was the most important of the season so far. "I tentatively expected we'd get a big win tonight," said Frazier. "We've been working hard all year and needed a win to boost our confidence."

It took him a few minutes, but Frazier eventually found his rhythm. "I thought we were going to win earlier," said Frazier. "But Penn was just too strong tonight."

"On the road, we had a good chance to win," said Frazier. "But we weren't able to hold off Villanova."

"Our defense was the key to the win," said Frazier. "We held them to 34 points and that's a great accomplishment."

Frazier said Villanova's 3-point shot was the turning point in the game. "They scored on us several times early on," said Frazier. "But they couldn't keep doing that."

"Our guards did a great job of controlling the game," said Frazier. "They were able to get the ball on the offensive and make some baskets."

"I'm elated," said Penn center Hassan Frazier. "We played a great game and it's always hard to lose to Villanova."

Frazier said the win was a big boost for the team. "We needed a win like this to get some momentum going," said Frazier. "Now we can start thinking about a winning streak."

Frazier said the win was a big boost for the team. "We needed a win like this to get some momentum going," said Frazier. "Now we can start thinking about a winning streak."

"That was the game for us," said coach Ed Frazier.

Frazier leads

Frazier's team is 3-4 overall and 0-2 in the Ivy League, and this one was the most important of the season so far. "I tentatively expected we'd get a big win tonight," said Frazier. "We've been working hard all year and needed a win to boost our confidence."

It took him a few minutes, but Frazier eventually found his rhythm. "I thought we were going to win earlier," said Frazier. "But Penn was just too strong tonight."

"On the road, we had a good chance to win," said Frazier. "But we weren't able to hold off Villanova."

"Our defense was the key to the win," said Frazier. "We held them to 34 points and that's a great accomplishment."

Frazier said Villanova's 3-point shot was the turning point in the game. "They scored on us several times early on," said Frazier. "But they couldn't keep doing that."

"Our guards did a great job of controlling the game," said Frazier. "They were able to get the ball on the offensive and make some baskets."

"I'm elated," said Penn center Hassan Frazier. "We played a great game and it's always hard to lose to Villanova."

Frazier said the win was a big boost for the team. "We needed a win like this to get some momentum going," said Frazier. "Now we can start thinking about a winning streak."

"That was the game for us," said coach Ed Frazier.
Enter the Zenith Data Systems

MASTERS of

INNOVATION

COMPETITION

Win a $5,000* Zenith Computer System.

We’re searching for tomorrow’s innovators.

If you’ve developed or used software or hardware—that is compatible with Zenith Data Systems products—to creatively address a problem or task in your field of study, we want to hear from you.

You could win a $5,000* Zenith Data Systems computer system for yourself, $5,000* worth of computer equipment for your college campus given in your name, and national recognition from your peers.

For More Information And Official Rules, Call 1-800-553-0301.

W. Basketball travels to Villanova
Quakers look to notch their first Big Five victory in six seasons

By BHAN Stevenson

Last night at the Palestra, as the Penn men's basketball team pulled off a huge upset over Villanova, their female counterparts looked on. In the wake of this victory, the Quakers' women's team (1-2) will travel to DuPont Pavilion to face the Wildcats (0-2) today (7 p.m.) in hopes of duplication the feat. For the Quakers, it may just be the impetus they need to win their first Big Five game in six years.

"It's a really positive way to go into the game," junior forward Lele Miller said. "We all saw the game in six years. The nation's finest test preparation group is looking for a few juniors, seniors, and grad students to teach its weekend around Philadelphia.

"If you'd like to join the superstars of prep, call us at 923-2077. Openings are limited and will go to the first respondents.

The Princeton Review

End of Semester Bash

SENIOR SCREAMER

1415 LOCUST STREET
(AT BROAD AND LOCUST)

$6.00

ALL YOU CAN DRINK!

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 8

10:00 - 3:00

RUGS

NEW & USED

Renees: Wall-to-Wall

Dining Room

Bedding

Saturday 10-5

Thursday 10-7

Saturday 10-5

Coverage Available

H. Injilani & Sons

43rd & Chestnut St

Open 24 Hours

Open Early, Open Late

kinko's

THE COPY CENTER

The copy center

P. Y. Center

Reading - Sun. Dec. 11 - 3 p.m.

Anthony Hecht

Pulitzer Prize Winning Writer

Charles & Elizabeth Gernsman YN NYHA Branch of Jewish Community Centers

401 South Broad Street

(215) 343-9600 ext. 241 Admission $5

Workshop

Sun. Dec. 11 - 11 a.m. - 1 p.m.

Fee $15 - Students w/ ID $10

Fee includes Reading

Campus Copy Center

NeXT Computer

Wednesday, December 7

10 am - 2:30 pm

Computing Resource Center

Locust Walk at 38th St.

Info: 989-9085

NeXT Computer

Did you break 1400 on your SATs?
The nation's finest test preparation group is looking for a few juniors, seniors, and grad students to teach its weekends around Philadelphia.

If you did well on your SATs (at least 700 on either math or verbal), we will pay you between $12-$18/hr for the most enjoyable part-time work you've ever had.

You must be articulate, enthusiastic, and like working with kids; you must have a car; and must give us your commitment now for work that begins in January.

If you'd like to join the superstars of prep, call us at 923-2077. Openings are limited and will go to the first respondents.

The Princeton Review

Campus Copy Center

NeXT Computer

Wednesday, December 7

10 am - 2:30 pm

Computing Resource Center

Locust Walk at 38th St.

Info: 989-9085

Makarond Associates

A Tradition of Innovation in Strategic Consulting

Makarond pioneered value based strategic management. Our innovative spirit and high growth offer outstanding career opportunities.
13th ANNUAL HOLIDAY SALE 'A'B'RATION

Starting Wednesday, Dec. 7th at 5:30 pm

20% OFF All Books (except Texts), Gifts, Fine Arts, Clothing, Stationery, Photography, Europa (except Texts), and Candies

10% OFF Health and Beauty Aids, and Selected items in the Computer Connection

REFRESHMENTS FREE GIFT WRAPPING

FREE PARKING

The Sale Continues

* Thursday, December 8th, 8:30am to 6:30pm
(free parking available in the 38th & Walnut Street lot from 5:30 to 6:30)

* Friday, December 9th, 8:30am to 6:00pm

* Saturday 10:00am to 5:00pm

Discounts do not apply to New York Times bestsellers, textbooks, newspapers, chairs/rockers, and special orders. Coupons will not be accepted during this sale.

*Computer Connection will close at 8:00 p.m. on Wednesday, December 7.
Frazier heeds plea, leads to victory

BY MAUREEN DELANY

Dane made a particular request of one of his teammates Monday night at the Palestra. It was almost a plea to Penn senior captain Walt Frazier.

"It's not a total commitment to win, but I don't want to be part of it," he said.

Frazier's cool was evident throughout the game.

By JON WILNER

Penn associate football coach Jeff Reinebold said he will move within the next three months, citing concerns over the future of the program.

"The director of the program is going to try to make changes," Reinebold told the Daily Pennsylvanian. "They are not going to remain unchanged." He refused to elaborate.

The 34-year-old assistant, who has been with the Quakers since 1979, was named assistant coach in the fall of 1982. He was appointed associate coach in 1989.

"He's been there for 15 years and it's tough for him," Reinebold said.

The Quakers, who are currently preparing themselves for a season that will feature several new coaches, will lose Reinebold at the end of this month.

"He's a class act," former Quaker Terry Donnelly said. "He's a great coach." He was named head coach after helping to lead the Quakers to a 6-4 record in 1984.

"We were all sad to hear the news," Reinebold said. "He was a great coach and will be missed by the program.

"He's been there for 15 years and it's tough for him," Reinebold said.

The Quakers are looking forward to a new challenge under the leadership of their new head coach.

"We're excited about the new challenge," Reinebold said. "We're looking forward to a new beginning.

The Quakers, who are currently preparing themselves for a season that will feature several new coaches, will lose Reinebold at the end of this month.

"He's a class act," former Quaker Terry Donnelly said. "He's a great coach." He was named head coach after helping to lead the Quakers to a 6-4 record in 1984.

"We were all sad to hear the news," Reinebold said. "He was a great coach and will be missed by the program.

"He's been there for 15 years and it's tough for him," Reinebold said.

The Quakers, who are currently preparing themselves for a season that will feature several new coaches, will lose Reinebold at the end of this month.

"He's a class act," former Quaker Terry Donnelly said. "He's a great coach." He was named head coach after helping to lead the Quakers to a 6-4 record in 1984.

"We were all sad to hear the news," Reinebold said. "He was a great coach and will be missed by the program.

"He's been there for 15 years and it's tough for him," Reinebold said.

The Quakers, who are currently preparing themselves for a season that will feature several new coaches, will lose Reinebold at the end of this month.

"He's a class act," former Quaker Terry Donnelly said. "He's a great coach." He was named head coach after helping to lead the Quakers to a 6-4 record in 1984.

"We were all sad to hear the news," Reinebold said. "He was a great coach and will be missed by the program.

"He's been there for 15 years and it's tough for him," Reinebold said.

The Quakers, who are currently preparing themselves for a season that will feature several new coaches, will lose Reinebold at the end of this month.