Big Heist

Over $13,000 in cash was stolen from an office inside Van Pelt Library Friday night.

Page 2.

Big Decision

Encore Books will continue to sell the controversial novel, The Satanic Verses, despite a bomb threat. Page 2.

Big Vote

Panhellic Council members said they will probably vote soon to add one sorority next semester. Page 4.

U. refuses to review judicial system

By STEVEN OCHS

Top University administrators and the leaders of the Faculty Senate yesterday said that the University has no plans to review the judicial system. Faculty Senate and Graduate and Professional Student Assembly leaders joined State Commissioner for Higher Education Edward Shils and Judicial Operations Commissioner Goodman in agreeing that the University has no plans to review the judicial system.

President Hackney expressed confidence in the University's judicial system last night, citing an appeal to the system of a contested case involving a graduate student.

"I agree with the president," said Shils. "We are confident that the case will be handled fairly by Judicial Adjudicators Edward Shils and Judicial Operations Commissioner Goodman."

However, some student leaders said they were concerned for other judicial systems, such as the Student Court, for which Academic Senate members have been calling.

"We are concerned about the Student Court," said Student Government president Michael Aiken. "We recently voted to support the Academic Senate's call for review of the Student Court, and we believe that the University should take the opportunity to review all judicial systems in order to ensure fairness."
Real Estate Analyst Program

LETS OUR 2-YEAR PROGRAM BE A PRELUDE TO YOUR MBA!

Work towards an accelerated and credible experience before pursuing your MBA. Then consider the great opportunities, the PRUDENTIAL can offer you.

We are looking for ambitious BA'6 and BS'7's planning to open a business chapter in the PR's for a challenging 2-year assignment in our Real Estate Fringe Program. Fortunately, you are likely to be better understood in DEA and a strong, mathematical aptitude. An intense training program will lead to opportunities in real estate financing and financial evaluation assignments.

This program provides an exciting working environment and exposure to real estate markets and for professionally oriented real estate managers. The Prudential offers attractive training allowances with comprehensive benefits.

To apply, send your resume and any of your college transcripts by March 10 to:

The PRUDENTIAL REALTY GROUP
Newark, New Jersey 07102

Attn: Analyst Program

The Biggest is looking for the best!

---

Over $13,000 taken from Van Pelt office

By ELIZABETH LEVI

Over $13,000 in cash was stolen from Van Pelt Photography Services on Friday and Saturday. According to Van Pelt President Manager John Keane.

The $1,715 figure Keane reported last night is nearly double the original estimate reported to Public Safety on Saturday morning. Keane said he did not know the full extent of the theft until yesterday morning.

Keane said that the money in his office was kept in a safe at the library's photocopy machines, but declined to divulge how much money the machines regularly contain until the investigation is complete.

According to Keane, the burglar apparently broke into the office by entering through a walk-in door breaking the lock in a cabinet that contained the money.

---

Encore will continue to sell Rushdie’s book

By ELIZABETH LEVI

The manager of Encore Books at 4th Street said that they will continue to sell Salman Rushdie’s controversial book, The Satanic Verses, because “we are not going to give in to terrorism.”

Rushdie’s novel, attacked by many Muslims as blasphemous, contains “callous” words.

The District Attorney’s office has since arrested two men.

---

Satanic Verses

Sylvia Wasserstrum, explaining why the book was going to rise a lot, said that the book has “no effect.”

---

Quotation of the Day

"I wasn’t rubbing it in—I just wanted Eddie to know the score of last night’s game.”

---

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Page 2    The Daily Pennsylvanian    Tuesday, February 28, 1989

Alex Sum\-University of Washington of 1990

---

Assistant Editors

LIZ LUEDERS DEBRA ROSENFIELD

---

The Daily Pennsylvania

---

StreetFilm

---

StreetMusic

---

StreetFood

---

If you ever leave your own room, you need 34th Street

---
Admissions recruiting hits the big time in New York

Ivy Towers

By LAUREN SHAHAM

The Admissions Office recruiting tour has finally hit Broadway. A cavalcade of admissions officers, deans, and members of the public assemble on the steps of the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts to form the biggest step team in the University’s history — The Admissions Office Step Team.

Like any other Broadway show, the audience of admissions officers Warfare! on the steps was a sight to behold. Members of the step team, dressed in pink and orange, reeled off their laden and lengthy lines of patter, sending the audience into a frenzy.

Unlike most other step shows, the University step team is a fresher than usual any other performance. But admissions officers said the performance was a great way to introduce the University to the community.

The event, which was held at the Lincoln Center, was attended by the University’s president, the New York City Alumni Committee, and other University officials.

“I think I know a little bit more than the books can tell me,” said Kenya Rice, an applicant from New York City.

Kenya Rice

University Applicant

The event was part of the Ivy Towers recruiting program, which is designed to attract students to the University.

“Part of our whole recruitment strategy is to make sure the best students are aware of the University,” said Rice.

Rice said she was interested in the University because of its location and its reputation as a top-tier institution.

“I’m interested in the University because of its location in New York City,” said Rice.

The event featured a range of activities, including a step team performance, a reception at the Lincoln Center, and a dinner in the campus dining hall.

“I think the University is a great place to be,” said Rice.

Rice said she was impressed with the University’s facilities and its programs.

“I think the University is a great place to be,” said Rice.

Rice said she was impressed with the University’s facilities and its programs.

“I think the University is a great place to be,” said Rice.

Rice said she was impressed with the University’s facilities and its programs.
Office to re-evaluate security policy
The Office of Student Life Facilities is re-evaluating its security policy following a recent break-in but work which left one man seriously injured.

Steuart Wright, chair of the council for the Of-
Office of Student Life, said that the current guidelines re-Public Safety and the community on duty for each 100 people present at a party where alcohol is served if in no one's mind to change the rules. He added that the added that a building manager is always present.

Wright said that the office's policy is to vary coun-only to University-sponsored groups.

Hatcher said that the complete report on the Friday night's fight that resulted in a man being admitted to the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania with a fractured skull will be available within two or three days.

— Elizabeth Letendre

Panhellenic Council wins top award
The University's Panhellenic Council was an award “outstanding excellence” at the Panhellenic Conference this weekend.

The Panhellenic Council competed in the "small panhellenic" category, consisting of all councils with under 20 chapters.

According to President Susan Hine, the council was based on several criteria, including diversity, leadership and programming.

"It was a real honor because we've gone far just this semester because we had a lot of obstacles to overcome," Hine said. "It's a real honor that Delta Sorority and Delta Zeta have a unique sorority member said last night. "And I think the progress has really come about because of the work that the Delta Zeta members have done.

— Samuel Engel

Panhellenic council likely to take on new sorority next fall
BY SAMUEL ENGEL

The Panhellenic Council will likely be adding a new sorority to its system by introducing Alpha Chi Omega, a national Greek system, according to Council President Sharyn Schuller.

Citing an unprecedent number of students applying for membership, the council will add the new chapter next semester in order to accommodate the growth.

If the proposal moves as March 16, Alpha Chi Omega will be the eighth Panhel-line Council chapter on the University of Florida campus in the last two years. The other seven chapters are spread out across the 13 chapter peak of the late 1990s.

The growth is part of a larger expansion plan set forth two years ago
by the Panhellenic Council. In an effort to expand the system, the council introduced Alpha Chi Omega, a national Greek system, according to Council President Sharyn Schuller.

If the proposal moves as March 16, Alpha Chi Omega will be the eighth Panhel-
line Council chapter on the University of Florida campus in the last two years. The other seven chapters are spread out across the 13 chapter peak of the late 1990s.

The growth is part of a larger expansion plan set forth two years ago
by the Panhellenic Council. In an effort to expand the system, the council introduced Alpha Chi Omega, a national Greek system, according to Council President Sharyn Schuller.

If the proposal moves as March 16, Alpha Chi Omega will be the eighth Panhel-
line Council chapter on the University of Florida campus in the last two years. The other seven chapters are spread out across the 13 chapter peak of the late 1990s.

The growth is part of a larger expansion plan set forth two years ago
by the Panhellenic Council. In an effort to expand the system, the council introduced Alpha Chi Omega, a national Greek system, according to Council President Sharyn Schuller.

If the proposal moves as March 16, Alpha Chi Omega will be the eighth Panhel-
line Council chapter on the University of Florida campus in the last two years. The other seven chapters are spread out across the 13 chapter peak of the late 1990s.

The growth is part of a larger expansion plan set forth two years ago
by the Panhellenic Council. In an effort to expand the system, the council introduced Alpha Chi Omega, a national Greek system, according to Council President Sharyn Schuller.

If the proposal moves as March 16, Alpha Chi Omega will be the eighth Panhel-
line Council chapter on the University of Florida campus in the last two years. The other seven chapters are spread out across the 13 chapter peak of the late 1990s.

The growth is part of a larger expansion plan set forth two years ago
by the Panhellenic Council. In an effort to expand the system, the council introduced Alpha Chi Omega, a national Greek system, according to Council President Sharyn Schuller.

If the proposal moves as March 16, Alpha Chi Omega will be the eighth Panhel-
line Council chapter on the University of Florida campus in the last two years. The other seven chapters are spread out across the 13 chapter peak of the late 1990s.

The growth is part of a larger expansion plan set forth two years ago
by the Panhellenic Council. In an effort to expand the system, the council introduced Alpha Chi Omega, a national Greek system, according to Council President Sharyn Schuller.

If the proposal moves as March 16, Alpha Chi Omega will be the eighth Panhel-
line Council chapter on the University of Florida campus in the last two years. The other seven chapters are spread out across the 13 chapter peak of the late 1990s.

The growth is part of a larger expansion plan set forth two years ago
by the Panhellenic Council. In an effort to expand the system, the council introduced Alpha Chi Omega, a national Greek system, according to Council President Sharyn Schuller.

If the proposal moves as March 16, Alpha Chi Omega will be the eighth Panhel-
line Council chapter on the University of Florida campus in the last two years. The other seven chapters are spread out across the 13 chapter peak of the late 1990s.

The growth is part of a larger expansion plan set forth two years ago
by the Panhellenic Council. In an effort to expand the system, the council introduced Alpha Chi Omega, a national Greek system, according to Council President Sharyn Schuller.

If the proposal moves as March 16, Alpha Chi Omega will be the eighth Panhel-
line Council chapter on the University of Florida campus in the last two years. The other seven chapters are spread out across the 13 chapter peak of the late 1990s.

The growth is part of a larger expansion plan set forth two years ago
by the Panhellenic Council. In an effort to expand the system, the council introduced Alpha Chi Omega, a national Greek system, according to Council President Sharyn Schuller.

If the proposal moves as March 16, Alpha Chi Omega will be the eighth Panhel-
line Council chapter on the University of Florida campus in the last two years. The other seven chapters are spread out across the 13 chapter peak of the late 1990s.

The growth is part of a larger expansion plan set forth two years ago
by the Panhellenic Council. In an effort to expand the system, the council introduced Alpha Chi Omega, a national Greek system, according to Council President Sharyn Schuller.

If the proposal moves as March 16, Alpha Chi Omega will be the eighth Panhel-
line Council chapter on the University of Florida campus in the last two years. The other seven chapters are spread out across the 13 chapter peak of the late 1990s.

The growth is part of a larger expansion plan set forth two years ago
by the Panhellenic Council. In an effort to expand the system, the council introduced Alpha Chi Omega, a national Greek system, according to Council President Sharyn Schuller.

If the proposal moves as March 16, Alpha Chi Omega will be the eighth Panhel-
line Council chapter on the University of Florida campus in the last two years. The other seven chapters are spread out across the 13 chapter peak of the late 1990s.
SAC elects new Finance members

By ELLEN ZEISLER

In a close vote last night, the Student Activities Council elected three new members to its Finance Committee. The Finance Committee, which is responsible for allotting funds to student groups, is considered one of the most influential parts of the Activities Council.

Eleven students ran for the three available seats on the Committee. The three new members are College junior Charlotte Lajon, who has served on the committee for the past year, Warren junior Alan Arzoom and College sophomore Jay Sperring. Current Finance Committee Chairman Terrence O'Connell was not elected to the new Council.

During the meeting, each candidate spoke for two minutes. SAC officers then made recommendations about the body based on preference held interviews. The entire group then voted on the three new appointees.

"Our job is to inform you in how we can make money, how we can spend it," Sperring said. "I feel I'm a witness but Shils would not allow me to state my case as a witness but Shils would not allow me to state my case as a witness.

"Phaahla had two advisors in the room during the hearing," Sperring said.

"I have been personally afforded a degree of protection but I don't want notes taken, not because I don't want specific help because of my position in the BSL," Sperring said. "I felt personally abandoned and I consider it a case of confrontation with any political affiliation.

When Shills told her to leave the hearing room, Moody gathered several chairs together to add to the number of students involved in judicial proceedings. Moody stood beside the chairs, waiting for the student to advise the University community.

Students protest at Phaahla hearings

PHAALHA—From page 1

Students said that Phaahla is charged with failing to notify them of his presence at the Student Activities Council hearing last night during her presentation, when Vincent said anything, he [Shills] would interject and say "I'm the chair." Moody said. "I feel personally affronted by the committee's treatment."

"I have been personally affronted by the committee's treatment," Francione said. "I feel personally abandoned and I consider it a case of confrontation with any political affiliation."

"If you're going to pass a resolution," Francione said, "you have to give us a chance to respond.

"I don't want notes taken, not because I don't want specific help because of my position in the BSL," Sperring said. "I felt personally abandoned and I consider it a case of confrontation with any political affiliation.

When Shills told her to leave the hearing room, Moody gathered several chairs together to add to the number of students involved in judicial proceedings. Moody stood beside the chairs, waiting for the student to advise the University community.

Students said that Phaahla is charged with failing to notify them of his presence at the Student Activities Council hearing last night during her presentation, when Vincent said anything, he [Shills] would interject and say "I'm the chair." Moody said. "I feel personally affronted by the committee's treatment."

"I have been personally affronted by the committee's treatment," Francione said. "I feel personally abandoned and I consider it a case of confrontation with any political affiliation."

"If you're going to pass a resolution," Francione said, "you have to give us a chance to respond."

"I don't want notes taken, not because I don't want specific help because of my position in the BSL," Sperring said. "I felt personally abandoned and I consider it a case of confrontation with any political affiliation."

When Shills told her to leave the hearing room, Moody gathered several chairs together to add to the number of students involved in judicial proceedings. Moody stood beside the chairs, waiting for the student to advise the University community.

Students said that Phaahla is charged with failing to notify them of his presence at the Student Activities Council hearing last night during her presentation, when Vincent said anything, he [Shills] would interject and say "I'm the chair." Moody said. "I feel personally affronted by the committee's treatment."

"I have been personally affronted by the committee's treatment," Francione said. "I feel personally abandoned and I consider it a case of confrontation with any political affiliation."

"If you're going to pass a resolution," Francione said, "you have to give us a chance to respond."

"I don't want notes taken, not because I don't want specific help because of my position in the BSL," Sperring said. "I felt personally abandoned and I consider it a case of confrontation with any political affiliation."

When Shills told her to leave the hearing room, Moody gathered several chairs together to add to the number of students involved in judicial proceedings. Moody stood beside the chairs, waiting for the student to advise the University community.

Students said that Phaahla is charged with failing to notify them of his presence at the Student Activities Council hearing last night during her presentation, when Vincent said anything, he [Shills] would interject and say "I'm the chair." Moody said. "I feel personally affronted by the committee's treatment."

"I have been personally affronted by the committee's treatment," Francione said. "I feel personally abandoned and I consider it a case of confrontation with any political affiliation."

"If you're going to pass a resolution," Francione said, "you have to give us a chance to respond."

"I don't want notes taken, not because I don't want specific help because of my position in the BSL," Sperring said. "I felt personally abandoned and I consider it a case of confrontation with any political affiliation."

When Shills told her to leave the hearing room, Moody gathered several chairs together to add to the number of students involved in judicial proceedings. Moody stood beside the chairs, waiting for the student to advise the University community.
WALTHAM — The Soviet Union expelled 13 military equipment to Nicaragua last year, the second highest total since the Kravtsov began weapons deliveries in 1980, according to a U.S. government report released today.

The report says last year's delivery of 190 to 200,000 weapons was the highest it had assessed since the 1986-87 deliveries, but that the number was about one day on day.

The sanctioned weapons, defined by intelligence, and the peak year of 1986 was 500,000 worth of missiles. It was the last year Congress approved military aid for the Contras.

The report said that it was surprising to the Sandinistas and the Contras to learn in March, 1988, that the Sandinistas received $300 million worth of weapons.

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union is continuing to increase its military aid to Nicaragua, the second highest total since the Kravtsov began weapons deliveries in 1980, according to a new report released today.

The report says last year's delivery of 190 to 200,000 weapons was the highest it had assessed since the 1986-87 deliveries, but that the number was about one day on day.

The sanctioned weapons, defined by intelligence, and the peak year of 1986 was 500,000 worth of missiles. It was the last year Congress approved military aid for the Contras.

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union is continuing to increase its military aid to Nicaragua, the second highest total since the Kravtsov began weapons deliveries in 1980, according to a new report released today.

The report says last year's delivery of 190 to 200,000 weapons was the highest it had assessed since the 1986-87 deliveries, but that the number was about one day on day.

The sanctioned weapons, defined by intelligence, and the peak year of 1986 was 500,000 worth of missiles. It was the last year Congress approved military aid for the Contras.

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union is continuing to increase its military aid to Nicaragua, the second highest total since the Kravtsov began weapons deliveries in 1980, according to a new report released today.

The report says last year's delivery of 190 to 200,000 weapons was the highest it had assessed since the 1986-87 deliveries, but that the number was about one day on day.

The sanctioned weapons, defined by intelligence, and the peak year of 1986 was 500,000 worth of missiles. It was the last year Congress approved military aid for the Contras.

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union is continuing to increase its military aid to Nicaragua, the second highest total since the Kravtsov began weapons deliveries in 1980, according to a new report released today.

The report says last year's delivery of 190 to 200,000 weapons was the highest it had assessed since the 1986-87 deliveries, but that the number was about one day on day.

The sanctioned weapons, defined by intelligence, and the peak year of 1986 was 500,000 worth of missiles. It was the last year Congress approved military aid for the Contras.

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union is continuing to increase its military aid to Nicaragua, the second highest total since the Kravtsov began weapons deliveries in 1980, according to a new report released today.

The report says last year's delivery of 190 to 200,000 weapons was the highest it had assessed since the 1986-87 deliveries, but that the number was about one day on day.

The sanctioned weapons, defined by intelligence, and the peak year of 1986 was 500,000 worth of missiles. It was the last year Congress approved military aid for the Contras.

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union is continuing to increase its military aid to Nicaragua, the second highest total since the Kravtsov began weapons deliveries in 1980, according to a new report released today.

The report says last year's delivery of 190 to 200,000 weapons was the highest it had assessed since the 1986-87 deliveries, but that the number was about one day on day.

The sanctioned weapons, defined by intelligence, and the peak year of 1986 was 500,000 worth of missiles. It was the last year Congress approved military aid for the Contras.
The Quality goes in before the name goes on

Our Mouse does Windows free

Zenith Innovates again-

With the purchase of Zenith Data Systems Z-286LP Model 20 or Model 40 we are including a Logitech Mouse and Microsoft Windows at no additional charge.

- 80286 processor for AT level performance
- 1MB memory for current and future applications
- 2 full expansion slots for maximum flexibility
- small cabinet design conserves desk space
- easy to set up and use
- choice of monochrome or color monitor

The Z-286 PC is now available at your nearest Zenith Data Systems campus. Contact:

Computer Connection
at the Bookstore
3729 Locust Walk
Philadelphia, PA 19104
(215) 898-3282
W. Hoops splits weekend

Quakers play Princeton tonight at Palestra

Gilbert grabbed live rebounds. Gilbert, who poured in 15 points and made 6 of 7 free throws before the half. He also grabbed 8 rebounds in the opening minutes — by as much as 17 percent — to down Cornell, 68-57.

The Quakers shot particularly well from the left side. Fouled on the play, the juniors responded with 10 and 13 points, respectively. Paul Reinhard added 7 and 17 points, respectively. The Quakers finished on the second half was Penn's defensive effort. The Lions' guard Charlene Schaewlei scored 20 seconds later and the Lions' guard Charlene Schaewlei scored 20 seconds later as they finished eighth out of 10 teams and far behind Dartmouth's remaining ensured the Lions' win.

The mile-relay team of Karen Stack, Deidra Shoehalter, Nita Williams and Lee Strickland placed third in their event as they placed seventh in the meet. The Quakers could only muster 25 points as they finished eighth out of 10 teams and far behind Dartmouth's 81-74, this time it was Columbia that tried to come from behind, but was foiled on the play. The Lions' guard Charlene Schaewlei scored 20 seconds later and the Lions' guard Charlene Schaewlei scored 20 seconds later, but the Quakers couldn't get their field goal percentage from 90 percent in the opening minutes to a mere 15 percent in the second half, en route to expanding a one-point lead to a 13-point lead.

Penn's 10-12 season ended the first 20 minutes of play for its league) assumed an early lead and was hardly the favorite she was last year, was forced into early foul trouble after a down start, theQuakers cut the Big Red's field control.

W. Track leaps to surprising fourth in the Heptathlon

"It was a one-time-take trick has final- ly turned around," Penn senior Dave Shoehalter said. "It's seemed the everything's always gone against us, and that was finally the one time we didn't do it. Everything in the meet turned real well for us after that. [Yadira] Cron Brown pumped it up right after, almost getting it. And then we had Adrienne Van Nuys with 13 seconds remaining to nail the win. It's been aolec for the Quakers in New York City, the second half was Penn's defensive effort. The Lions' guard Charlene Schaewlei scored 20 seconds later and the Lions' guard Charlene Schaewlei scored 20 seconds later, but the Quakers couldn't get their field goal percentage from 90 percent in the opening minutes to a mere 15 percent in the second half, en route to expanding a one-point lead to a 13-point lead.

Penn's 10-12 season ended the first 20 minutes of play for its league) assumed an early lead and was hardly the favorite she was last year, was forced into early foul trouble after a down start, theQuakers cut the Big Red's field control.

"It was a one-time-take trick has final- ly turned around," Penn senior Dave Shoehalter said. "It's seemed the everything's always gone against us, and that was finally the one time we didn't do it. Everything in the meet turned real well for us after that. [Yadira] Cron Brown pumped it up right after, almost getting it. And then we had Adrienne Van Nuys with 13 seconds remaining to nail the win. It's been aolec for the Quakers in New York City, the second half was Penn's defensive effort. The Lions' guard Charlene Schaewlei scored 20 seconds later and the Lions' guard Charlene Schaewlei scored 20 seconds later, but the Quakers couldn't get their field goal percentage from 90 percent in the opening minutes to a mere 15 percent in the second half, en route to expanding a one-point lead to a 13-point lead.

Penn's 10-12 season ended the first 20 minutes of play for its league) assumed an early lead and was hardly the favorite she was last year, was forced into early foul trouble after a down start, theQuakers cut the Big Red's field control.

"It was a one-time-take trick has final- ly turned around," Penn senior Dave Shoehalter said. "It's seemed the everything's always gone against us, and that was finally the one time we didn't do it. Everything in the meet turned real well for us after that. [Yadira] Cron Brown pumped it up right after, almost getting it. And then we had Adrienne Van Nuys with 13 seconds remaining to nail the win. It's been aolec for the Quakers in New York City, the second half was Penn's defensive effort. The Lions' guard Charlene Schaewlei scored 20 seconds later and the Lions' guard Charlene Schaewlei scored 20 seconds later, but the Quakers couldn't get their field goal percentage from 90 percent in the opening minutes to a mere 15 percent in the second half, en route to expanding a one-point lead to a 13-point lead.
College senior Ed Mullen serves an ace as intern for Phil's pro tennis tourney

By MITS AGRAWAL

With all the fall leaves on the ground, it was a perfect time to say goodbye to the fall season and begin the new one. For Phil's pro tennis tourney, that meant it was time for the tourney to begin.

The tourney started around 7:50 AM, and everyone helped. Mullen's team worked hard to make sure that the tourney was a success. With over 300 participants and at least eight sponsors, the tourney was sure to be a success.

In the end, Mullen's team was able to get an education on the potential for improvement. They were able to learn a lot from the experience, and Mullen is looking forward to the future.

Fraud. If you miss it, you lose it. Find my class and you'll find it! But Phil's class is in the Temple. So, we decided to go to Temple. Everyone said, "We would like to see more of a jump defense. I'm going to make this a game that would mean using a less one-on-one or a triangle-and-two defense. We would just try to make them out of their positions.

With opposing coaches always wanting for us to do well, we did well. I think Phil's team was able to do well because they knew how to win tough matches.

Marcus' record before this weekend was under .500. She said, "I lost my opening two bouts because I freaked out and couldn't hit my shots."

Besides working on the tennis courts, Mullen was a member of the operations staff and made sure that everything was running smoothly. When United States Davis Cup player Michael Chang, 17, of Taiwan, left last weekend, Mullen helped organize a party for the professionals that included brunch and a bon voyage set up at the Temple U Art exhibit at the Pratt Museum at Penn's Landing. The exhibit opened on Valentine's Day, February 14, and will close on April 14.

Mullen hopes his internship will be a stepping stone to a career in sports management or entertainment consulting. He will be attending Temple University this fall.

The tourney was a success, and Mullen is looking forward to the future. With over 300 participants and at least eight sponsors, the tourney was sure to be a success. Mullen is sure that the tourney will be a success in the future.

Princeton

By ALEC SCHWARTZ

W. Fencing wins three matches as M. Fencing's foil team surprises Duke

By ALEC SCHWARTZ

The women's fencing team put everyone to work on Tuesday morning, as they started to prepare for the tourney. Everyone helped, and the team was able to make sure that everything was set up for the event.

The tournament started around 7:50 AM, and everyone helped. Mullen's team worked hard to make sure that the tourney was a success. With over 300 participants and at least eight sponsors, the tourney was sure to be a success.

In the end, Mullen's team was able to get an education on the potential for improvement. They were able to learn a lot from the experience, and Mullen is looking forward to the future.
Rice tries to establish its own grade in the scandal-ridden Southwest Conference.

For the school, it allows only a small pool of the SWC's "Pec-Wee." When it comes to athletics, Rice is said to be a leper, said Bcrndt, whose three-year record at Rice was .221, in-cluding 0-11 last year. "It's just because they've lost lor so long," said Saunders. "You've got to understand the situation. It's difficult to explain and even more difficult to overcome," he said.

"It's just because they've lost lor so long," said Saunders. "You've got to understand the situation. It's difficult to explain and even more difficult to overcome," he said.

Consider law school and a legal career?

"The OWLs have not made a winning football coach since 1968," May said. "It's just because they've lost for so long," said Saunders. "You've got to understand the situation. It's difficult to explain and even more difficult to overcome," he said.

Branch's interview with the sports pages in the group of 10 which was announced by the same panel of sportswriters and broadcasters which pick the All-America team. The underclassmen were joined by seniors guards Sher梓an Moore and Jimmy Jones, while the sophomores included guards Brandt Ranke and Lynn Starks.

The AP Top 20

The AP Top 20

Scoreboard

Top 20

No. 10 Michigan Vaults over Michigan State

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Les Vogt scored 16 points and No. 10 Michigan put on a 16-0 run in the second half to beat Michigan State 83-74, in the Big Ten last night.

The Wolverines beat the Spartans 83-74, in the Big Ten last night.

As the Wolverines beat Michigan State 83-74, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

The Vanguards, 76-62, in the Big Ten last night.

As the Wolverines beat Michigan State 83-74, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

The Vanguards, 76-62, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

The Vanguards, 76-62, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

Top 20

No. 10 Michigan Vaults over Michigan State

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Les Vogt scored 16 points and No. 10 Michigan put on a 16-0 run in the second half to beat Michigan State 83-74, in the Big Ten last night.

The Wolverines beat the Spartans 83-74, in the Big Ten last night.

As the Wolverines beat Michigan State 83-74, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

The Vanguards, 76-62, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

The Vanguards, 76-62, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

The Vanguards, 76-62, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

The Vanguards, 76-62, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

The Vanguards, 76-62, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

The Vanguards, 76-62, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

The Vanguards, 76-62, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

The Vanguards, 76-62, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.

The Vanguards, 76-62, in the Big Ten last night.

Villanova led, 76-62.
The Prince who would be King

Tigers aim to defeat Penn and close down the nets at the Palestra

By WILLIAM BROWN

The dominant (and most dominant) college basketball team in the NCAA is undefeated so far this season. The Tigers aim to defeat Penn and close down the nets in the Palestra tonight.

With a victory over Penn (11-12, 7-4) tonight, the Tigers can lock up a share of the Big Ten title and a trip to the NCAA tournament. With a loss, they will still be in the hunt for a share of the title.

Rice aims to make own grade which every university except Arkansas is located in and academic awards. He was honored as an all-District academics.

Tigers aim to defeat Penn and cut down the nets at the Palestra

Up and down meet for Penn sees Smart run for medal in the Southwestern Conference

Rice tries to make own grade in the Southwest Conference

By MARVIN MOLL

The Texas A&M basketball team is looking to make a statement in the Southwest Conference this season. With a win over Penn tonight, they could secure a share of the conference title.

W. Track takes 4th, M. Track 8th at Hept

By GLYN DICKSON

The men's and women's track teams are up and down in track. Different runners rose and fell from the top during the course of a season. But they rarely do it in such a way as to be meaningful.

The scene is set for the Palestra invitational meet tonight. The last team to accomplish this feat was Temple after a three-year odyssey as head coach of the Eagles. The Eagles have been upgraded in the past two years as far as academics is concerned. "Our policy is to focus on academics and athletics," SMU Athletic Director Bobby May said. "Our policy is to focus on academics and athletics."