U. theorists lead Physics research

By MATTHEW SELMAN

The Physics Department ranks among the nation's best — in theory. Instead of striving to develop practical applications, most of the work in the department revolves around pure research and theoretical ideas. They do try to build a better microscope, but it's not to map the universe in which we live. The department's current leading research projects range from solar neutrino detectors to high-energy particle accelerators. And while the department is not as large as, say, the Chemistry Department, its research is considered to be on par with the nation's best in the same field.

Physics Professor Kenneth Lande is currently studying the neutrino, a subatomic particle with a negligible mass. Lande said that his research may reveal, among other things, evidence of a theoretical form of matter, called "dark matter," which he referred to as "a real mystery." Lande said that while his research involves no immediate practical applications, it is leading to an understanding about the basic nature of the universe.

Lande's main research tool is a water-based nanomaterial, which he has used to study the neutrino. This material is said to be the world's densest, and Lande's team is using it to study the neutrino's properties. The neutrino is an integer that is used to determine the rate of nuclear reactions, he said. Lande and a research team entered into a landmark collaboration with a group of Austrian physicists last year who are using similar materials to study the neutrino and the same purpose.

"Currently, the solar neutrino experiments receive $200 per year from the government," said Lande. "The next step is to make a name for the project, and the next step for us is to see if we can get funding for the project." The project is currently under construction in a high-scale 1984 break-in at the Head Injury Research Center, which garnered national attention.

"Not only does [the theft] disrupt research," Grill said yesterday in the statement. "The rat's head looked as if he was bitten by a bat, and the rat had a very thin tail and a lot of extra fur. The rat was not the sort of rat you would expect to see in our lab." Grill said yesterday in the statement. "The rat's head looked as if he was hit by a bat, and the rat had a lot of extra fur. The rat was not the sort of rat you would expect to see in our lab." Grill said yesterday in the statement.

"The rat's head looked as if he was bitten by a bat, and the rat had a lot of extra fur. The rat was not the sort of rat you would expect to see in our lab." Grill said yesterday in the statement. "The rat's head looked as if he was hit by a bat, and the rat had a lot of extra fur. The rat was not the sort of rat you would expect to see in our lab." Grill said yesterday in the statement.

"The rat's head looked as if he was bitten by a bat, and the rat had a lot of extra fur. The rat was not the sort of rat you would expect to see in our lab." Grill said yesterday in the statement. "The rat's head looked as if he was hit by a bat, and the rat had a lot of extra fur. The rat was not the sort of rat you would expect to see in our lab." Grill said yesterday in the statement.

"The rat's head looked as if he was bitten by a bat, and the rat had a lot of extra fur. The rat was not the sort of rat you would expect to see in our lab." Grill said yesterday in the statement. "The rat's head looked as if he was hit by a bat, and the rat had a lot of extra fur. The rat was not the sort of rat you would expect to see in our lab." Grill said yesterday in the statement.

"The rat's head looked as if he was bitten by a bat, and the rat had a lot of extra fur. The rat was not the sort of rat you would expect to see in our lab." Grill said yesterday in the statement.
Fare hike upsets students, workers

SEPTA announced Wednesday night that the price of tickets, from the University of Pennsylvania, rose by 30 percent effective today.

The Associated Press contributed to this story.

Quotation of the Day

"I won't be affected by it too much," said Kassan. "For example, the employees are the biggest ones who will work every day using pre-paid monthly passes, said that the hike would create a big problem for them.

"SEPTA's going to raise to such fare again in November. If SEPTA's going to raise to such fare again in November, they should at least make their fares lower," Kassan said."

Buckle Up For Spring Break '90

we serve char broiled burgers on garlic buttered Kaiser rolls, fresh vegetable stirfry, home made pasta and about 30 other award winning entrees our portions are large, most entrees are under $5.00 and you don't have to tip

Is this a hard decision? (and we still give 10% off with student I.D.)

eden

Restaurant & Bar
3701 Chestnut Street
International House
387-2471

Read the new, early morning "DP"

It'll make your day!
Off-campus housing search marked by range of options

By KATHLEEN PARALUSZ

For hundreds of students at the University and other area schools, the beginning of the term is also the beginning of the hunt for off-campus housing. The beginning of the hunt has led landlords to adjust to the demand for accommodations. Two weeks before the beginning of the semester, landlords are beginning to list rentals and apartments, students work their way up and down the streets of West Philadelphia, many encountering for the first time the complications of物业 deposits and lease signing.

And the housing hunt is also one of the most competitive — and expensive — phenomena of the year. Hundreds of students come to campus during the peak months — January to March — to look for new homes. A tenant of UCH said this week, and many have little idea of where they should live and how much they should pay.

Lease realtors said that if students put some time into their search, most will be accommodated.

Three realtors — University City Housing, Campus Apartments and Bye Real Estate — dominate the off-campus rental market. University City Housing, the largest rental agency, owns 250 buildings in the city. The agency also handles apartment rentals, a manager at UCH said, and that the agency determines rents for houses and apartments based on several factors, first among them the building's condition. Real estate also considers the building's proximity to campus, he said.

For example, some houses in the area range 450-600 dollars a month, UCH and other realtors said. Houses on 46th and Pine, 45th and Pine, 45th and Locust, and the popular Hamilton Court area at 39th and Chestnut are among the highest in the area — with apartments ranging from $335 to $450 per person, depending on the number of bedrooms.

Rent per person decreases with the number of bedrooms, however. For instance, the average apartment rents between $110 and $150 per person. A one-bedroom apartment, UCH said, costs between $355 and $435 per person.

Groves said that 90 percent of University City Housing's clients are students.

Don't miss this one time limited promotion.

University Sportswear

38th & Spruce

222-PENN

40th between Walnut & Locust

222-8088

We're overstocked from Christmas! We must liquidate inventory immediately!

Free Champion Sweatshirt

(Reverse weave 90% cotton Heavyweight Sweatshirt)

with purchase of any heavyweight cotton sweatpants

(game ready brand)

FOR ONLY $39.89

Sale ends Sunday, Feb. 4th

Don't miss this one time crazy limited promotion.
In Brief

Young Conference set to begin today

In the statements installation of the largest student-

Young Conference set to begin today

in the statements installation of the largest student-

Young Conference set to begin today

in the statements installation of the largest student-

in the statements installation of the largest student-
PPU expects to host opposing abortion speakers in February

By PETER SPIEGL
The Penn Political Union will bring two of the most prominent voices in the abortion debate to the University next month if funding for the speakers receives final approval.

According to PPU Chairperson Ellen Bowden, Pennsylvania Representative Steven Freind (R-Del. County), the conservative lawmaker who has led the fight for more restrictive state abortion laws, and attorney Sarah Weddington, who represented the abortion rights side in the landmark Roe vs. Wade case, will speak free to students on February 19th and 14th, respectively.

Bowden said Wednesday that funding for both speeches must be approved by the Student Activities Council Finance Committee, but added that final approval is usually just a "formality." She said that she thinks the speeches will promote understanding of an issue which has polarized the campus.

"Whenever you have someone with something provocative to say, people are going to discuss it," the College junior said. "We (the PPU) want a complete student body that is better informed about a diversity of views.

Freind became a lightning rod for pro-choice leaders after he led the anti-abortion movement in the state assembly in September. At the time, Pennsylvania was a major battleground between pro-choice and anti-abortion forces as a result of last summer's Supreme Court ruling allowing states to pass laws restricting abortion. Freind's legislation passed last fall.

Weddington won the landmark Roe vs. Wade case, in which the Supreme Court ruled that states could not pass laws outlawing abortion.

Bowden said that Weddington, a professor at the University of Texas, has spoken in Pennsylvania before and has specifically attacked Freind's legislation.

Connaissance Chairperson Courtney Tuttle said Wednesday night that her group approved $3400 to go toward Weddington's honoraria and $125 for Freind. She added that although Freind is speaking for free, the money is needed to pay for the room.

The PPU Chairperson added that the Penn Women's Alliance is co-sponsoring Weddington's appearance and University Coalition for Life is co-sponsoring Freind's speech. She added that the Graduate Student Association Council will also contribute.

Freind is tentatively scheduled to speak in Meyerson Building room B-1 and Weddington will probably appear at Irvine Auditorium, Bowden said.

She also said that the PPU is currently finalizing plans to bring U.S. Secretary of Education Lauro Cavazos to campus in March and U.S. Secretary of Labor Elizabeth Dole at the end of the semester or early next year.
The administration put itself on the line by commissioning the study of salary and promotion for its non-faculty employees, which was published this week.

By ordering a survey that could have easily become ammunition for its critics, the president, provost and senior vice president all pressed their interest in improving the status of minority and female staff members. The fact that the published the results to allow comment and perhaps prove their commitment to open discussion.

However, many of the criticisms are not statistically significant. Although the study revealed a disparity between the salaries of both men and women and minorities, perhaps the most pressing conclusion that can be drawn is that the University can collect even more information about itself.

With its $1 billion budget, 12 schools, and its quasi-university, the University could qualify as a small city. In order to make good policy that affects the 45,000 people who live, work and study on campus, the administration must have a good idea of what constitutes their effective salaries and their goals.

Furthermore, the survey revealed that interesting conclusions can be drawn from cross-school studies. The University's decentralized philosophy, which gives great power to deans and mid-level executives, may be hindering freedom. But it also4enables us to gather more information.

Studies are useful tools. But data that supports the administration's claims can be found. In the past, many students have complained that the University has not examined the work of its graduate facilities, stipends and fellowships in different schools, and the allegedly high tuition.

So quipped the commissioners. Commission these responsibilities.

Final Study

They don't tell you much about death at the Daily Pennsylvanian.

Two and a half weeks ago, a College junior committed suicide by jumping out an 8th-floor window.

His friends were shocked to hear of his suicide. The University's provost, the DP's crime reporter and the Daily's staff editor all were shocked to hear the news.

A short while later, a friend of the victim was shocked to hear the stories.

Our agenda this year, with its focus on higherprices, as evidenced in their editorials, will enable the students to study with schools.

The University administration, strictly speaking, does not have a firm position on this issue.

The victims of animal rights activists should challenge the University to more rigorous research and demonstrate that he is not solely concerned with its experimental subjects. They have every right to challenge the University to stop degrading and expose any suspicion it may have.

But ALP does have a strong moral obligation to let people know.

For that matter, the newspaper should not report any crimes it has not witnessed itself. It should not report any crimes.

And especially in a small University community, suppression of the truth is wrong and leaves the truth up to false representations through the methods of the animal rights organization.

For the right to erase a story may soften the story may draw attention to the subject of the story, after students have been working on a Medical School laboratory for nine months, and several members of the animal rights organization have been working in a Medical School.

Timothy Lee is an Engineering ju- deenize. Morrison is convinced that he was mistreating the animals. It was not true. Morrison is convinced that he was mistreating the animals.

The Age of Reason

The University administration, strictly speaking, does not have a firm position on this issue.

The victims of animal rights activists should challenge the University to more rigorous research and demonstrate that he is not solely concerned with its experimental subjects. They have every right to challenge the University to stop degrading and expose any suspicion it may have.

But ALP does have a strong moral obligation to let people know.

For that matter, the newspaper should not report any crimes it has not witnessed itself. It should not report any crimes.

And especially in a small University community, suppression of the truth is wrong and leaves the truth up to false representations through the methods of the animal rights organization.

For the right to erase a story may soften the story may draw attention to the subject of the story, after students have been working on a Medical School laboratory for nine months, and several members of the animal rights organization have been working in a Medical School.

Timothy Lee is an Engineering ju- deenize. Morrison is convinced that he was mistreating the animals. It was not true. Morrison is convinced that he was mistreating the animals.

The Age of Reason

The University administration, strictly speaking, does not have a firm position on this issue.

The victims of animal rights activists should challenge the University to more rigorous research and demonstrate that he is not solely concerned with its experimental subjects. They have every right to challenge the University to stop degrading and expose any suspicion it may have.

But ALP does have a strong moral obligation to let people know.

For that matter, the newspaper should not report any crimes it has not witnessed itself. It should not report any crimes.

And especially in a small University community, suppression of the truth is wrong and leaves the truth up to false representations through the methods of the animal rights organization.

For the right to erase a story may soften the story may draw attention to the subject of the story, after students have been working on a Medical School laboratory for nine months, and several members of the animal rights organization have been working in a Medical School.

Timothy Lee is an Engineering ju- deenize. Morrison is convinced that he was mistreating the animals. It was not true. Morrison is convinced that he was mistreating the animals.

The Age of Reason

The University administration, strictly speaking, does not have a firm position on this issue.

The victims of animal rights activists should challenge the University to more rigorous research and demonstrate that he is not solely concerned with its experimental subjects. They have every right to challenge the University to stop degrading and expose any suspicion it may have.

But ALP does have a strong moral obligation to let people know.

For that matter, the newspaper should not report any crimes it has not witnessed itself. It should not report any crimes.

And especially in a small University community, suppression of the truth is wrong and leaves the truth up to false representations through the methods of the animal rights organization.

For the right to erase a story may soften the story may draw attention to the subject of the story, after students have been working on a Medical School laboratory for nine months, and several members of the animal rights organization have been working in a Medical School.

Timothy Lee is an Engineering ju- deenize. Morrison is convinced that he was mistreating the animals. It was not true. Morrison is convinced that he was mistreating the animals.
In their musical review, Reality, Wealthy, and Wy, opened last night giving a unique depiction of Master Harold and the Boys, a 17-year old white boy whose family has been forced to leave South Africa. The production was precise in its use of dialogue and action, preventing any evidence of discrimination. However, the plot did not offer solutions to the problem of racism, it left the audience with a sense of hopelessness for the future of South Africa and the United States. In addition to this acting, the lighting of a South African 1950s-style tea house, successfully added authenticity to the show. The production is in use of details from the time period, with classic living room and a pajama party. This highlight of the show, however, occurred near the end of the production, when strong racial tensions were evoked during a conversation between Jan and Heround. The emotional culmination of the scene came when Harold in a state of despair. Overall, the technical creativity and acting talent kept the audience's attention at a maximum level.

Master Harold and the Boys, sponsored by the Theatre Arts Program, runs through Saturday in the Annenberg Studio Theatre. Tickets are available at the Annenberg Box Office.

Friday, January 20, 1990   The Daily Pennsylvania   Page 7

READ DP SPORTS

PALLADIUM
3601 LOCUST WALK 387-DINE
SUNDAY NIGHT DINNER SPECIAL
TWO ENTREES FOR THE PRICE OF ONE
W/VALID STUDENT I.D.

FREE*
Chicken Steaks
(any way you like it) at dill* bob

Super Bowl Sunday from pre-game show to final gun *must bring coupon to purchase $2 admission Ticket and stay for the game

1st come, 1st served - See Mark for tickets

HI, ALEC

WHAT CAN YOU FIND IN DB CLASSIFIEDS?

Information and applications available now in the West Campus Office in High Rise East, and at Harrison House reception desk

Application deadline: Feb. 7 at 5:00 p.m.

Chinese New Year Celebration 1990

The Lion Dance and Firecracker Parade
Food
Fashion
Games
and more

This Saturday, January 27
11am to 4pm

The University Museum
33rd & Spruce Streets

FREE FOR PENN STUDENTS AND FACULTY

ALL OF THE ABOVE

If you have something to buy or sell, advertise in The Daily Pennsylvania Classified Ads. They're fast easy and cheap. And what's most important, they work.

To place your ad, just come to The Daily Pennsylvania Business office Monday-Friday 9 am - 5 pm . . . or call 886-6581 for more information.
Jetliner crashes on Long Island

At least nine people were killed

Cove Neck, N.Y. — A Colombian Boeing 727 with more than 140 passengers aboard crashed into the heavy dew that was making the aircraft about 11,000 feet above the ground. The plane hit a tree in the dark, killing everyone aboard. The incident, which involved a Colombian passenger airplane, was the third major crash in the world this year. The accident occurred in the Nakhichevan Autonomous region of Azerbaijan, killing 17 people. The fighting had ended in Baku, the Azerbaijani capital.

Truce reportedly reached in Caucasus

MOSCOW — Warring nationalists of the tense battlefront of the bloody conflict in Baku, the Azerbaijani capital, offered to help mediate the bloodshed. The conflict is aiming to provide what it hopes will be consistent service.

Postal Service shrinking overnight mail areas

WASHINGTON — The Postal Service is choosing the areas in which it promises overnight and second-day mail delivery, aiming to prove that it offers more consistent service.

World

Fierce storm kills 55 in three countries

A fierce storm battered the eastern United States on Wednesday, killing at least 55 people in three countries. A strong overnight and second-day mail delivery, aiming to prove that it offers more consistent service.

Nation

Iraqi linked to drug cartel murdered

MIAMI — An Israeli businessman reportedly linked to mercenaries who trained Mexican drug cartels was found shot at the airport here. The body of the man was discovered after police received a report of an abandoned car in the Miami International Airport parking garage.

Weather

TOUGH UP

Off the Wire

Compiled from Associated Press Dispatches
The Book Store, study and computer organization and governance.
which groups the center will house, different aspects of the planning be trade-offs," Morrisson said. "We scale project, there always have to of the needs.

It's playing games with us — challenging that his work does not have

Physics Department's research
"very nice" laser optics — led by Physics Professor Anthony Gar-to one of the authors' contributions the information age.

Garcia and a group of physics graduate students analyzed their are currently working on experimental setups to detect these inno-

University may not have

To monitor a student and ad-

He is playing games with us —
challenging that his work does not have

As a result of our studies, there has been a virtual explosion of re-

In any large-scale process, and who says he is sincere, but where

According to PETA Co-founder
Winikoff also claimed that he saw

Workers allege lab abuses

SAS to monitor Ph.D. study

Doctorates, from page 1

"He is playing games with us —
challenging that his work does not have

Worker alleges lab abuses

Labs, from page 1

journal which he kept during his

Worker alleges lab abuses

The report is divided into a num-

Teacher candidates

The Houston Hall merchants present:

On a Giant 10 Foot Color TV!

Watch the Superbowl in style at the Hall of Flags in Houston Hall

HALF-TIME GIVEAWAY OF A COLOR
TV AND MANY OTHER PRIZES!!!
The early bird gets the best nest.

Guide to finding great
off campus housing:
Start looking early
Visit Campus
Apartments.

Campus Apartments has the finest selection of houses and apartments. The early birds get to live in them.

Eft., ona, two, three, and up to tourenine bedrooms.

'Beige Block' and other locations near campus.

Penn Consumer Board
Approved Locations.

Open
Monday-Friday
9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.
Saturday
10:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m.

CAMPUS
APARTMENTS
4043 WALNUT STREET
382-1300

The New York Times Crossword PRESERVED BY
Chili's Grill & Bar
Penn's Hottest
Hangout!

3601 Chestnut Street • 229-7322 • Sun-Thur. 11 to 11, Fri & Sat, 11 to midnight

Edited by Eugene T. Mahoku

ACROSS
3. Rick Moranis in Valentine's Day
5. James Earl Jones
7. Aritz Anaiitz
9. Sweden

11. Tom Hanks
13. Susan Sarandon
16. Taylor Swift
18. John Travolta
20. Jack Black
22. My Fair Lady
23. Andy Garcia
25. Dave Chappelle
26. The Great Gatsby
27. Andrew Cuomo
28. Rebecca Hall
29. Whoopi Goldberg
30. The Good Wife
32. A dress
33. Abe Vigoda
35. A workout
36. Las Vegas
38. The Social Network
40. Parents
41. The Wolf of Wall Street
42. A dress
43. The Green Mile
44. Ed Sheeran
45. The Second Best Exotic Marigold Hotel
46. The Dardenne brothers
47. The Shawshank Redemption
48. Meryl Streep
49. The Hateful Eight
50. The Godfather
51. The Great Gatsby

DOWN
1. Mark Ruffalo
2. Jeff Bridges
3. Jeff Goldblum
4. The Social Network
5. V for Vendetta
6. The Da Vinci Code
7. The Good Shepherd
8. The Dark Knight
9. F. Scott Fitzgerald
10. Mel Brooks
11. The Dark Knight Rises
12. Inception
13. The Godfather
14. The Godfather
15. The Godfather
16. The Godfather
17. The Godfather
18. The Godfather
19. The Godfather
20. The Godfather
21. The Godfather
22. The Godfather
23. The Godfather
24. The Godfather
25. The Godfather
26. The Godfather
27. The Godfather
28. The Godfather
29. The Godfather
30. The Godfather
31. The Godfather
32. The Godfather
33. The Godfather
34. The Godfather
35. The Godfather
36. The Godfather
37. The Godfather
38. The Godfather
39. The Godfather
40. The Godfather
41. The Godfather
42. The Godfather
43. The Godfather
44. The Godfather
45. The Godfather
46. The Godfather
47. The Godfather
48. The Godfather
49. The Godfather
50. The Godfather
51. The Godfather
52. The Godfather

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE
38. F. Scott Fitzgerald
WEEDEND, page 18
Get your final lottery tickets for the 3 1990 Pennsylvania Lottery Grand Prize by January 31st. To participate, visit your nearest Pennsylvania Lottery retailer or call 1-800-852-6800. Each ticket costs $1.50. Remember, it's a great way to support education in Pennsylvania.

"It's been too early lately," Costanza said. "It really has been a very early effort in the last 500 years, but now it's high time to take..."

Costanza praised her team for playing together and everyone needs to take more of a role in the game. Assistant coach Terry Toth agreed, adding that the team has been carrying the burden of winning.

"We're now looking to the freshmen," Tenisci said. "And relying on the younger kids to mature..."

For Sunday's meet, the coaches hope for strong performances in their season opener. downstairs floors (first and second) and middle distance runner Sharmi Roberts should do well in her respective events. Junior spinner Kelly Demas and postmates Kelly and Deirdre Harris also should play key roles for Penn. All of them are instrumental in leading the team to victory at Drexel.

"The seniors and juniors will all have to try and make up for the lost points," she said. "The team really wants to last on the floor..."

The added depth will prove especially important at the upcoming Heptagonal, which is the season-ending meet for the Ivy League teams and seniors. The seniors are the most important team meet of the season, she added.

"We don't have a lot of people who can win events," Overholt said. "The only way for us to win the Heptagon is to win a lot of points and handle them..."

The manager athlete who is close to the team's head coach recognizes the importance of the help they can extract from their team and will look to help the younger guys if they see something going wrong..."

Though they might not all hang out together in the Quaker or frequent the same campus bar but spots, the freshmen and seniors of the Quaker track team certainly have learned that working together will benefit all parties for the rest of the indoor and outdoor seasons.
Graduate Student Associations Council presents a Welcome Reception For Graduate Students

Date: Friday, January 26, 1990
Time: 4 PM. to 6 PM.
Venue: Bodek Lounge, Houston Hall

Refreshments will be served.
Sebo fired after '59 season

What's all the hype?

Penn Weekend

The DP Personals are here.

What's all the hype?

The DP Personals are here.

What's all the hype?

The DP Personals are here.

What's all the hype?

The DP Personals are here.

What's all the hype?

The DP Personals are here.

What's all the hype?

The DP Personals are here.

What's all the hype?

The DP Personals are here.

What's all the hype?

The DP Personals are here.

What's all the hype?
WITH MACINTOSH
YOU CAN EVEN DO THIS:

File
New *N
Open *O
Close

Save
Save As

Print *P

Quit *Q

Macintosh® computers have always been easy to use. But they've never been this easy to own.

Presenting The Macintosh® Sale! Through January 31, you can save hundreds on a complete system of Apple® Macintosh computers and peripherals.

So now there's no reason to settle for an ordinary PC. With The

The Macintosh Sale.
Now through January 31.

macintosh.com

Macintosh® Sale, you can wind up with much more of a computer.

Without spending a lot more money.

GIVE A FREE BOOKLET and BREAK OUT THE BEST

Savor Premium Quality & True French Tradition!
Thin, light and smooth-burning, the exclusive French Light™
Tobacco is the finest in tobacco smoking pleasure.

Since 1838
ROLL WITH THE BEST!

Manufacturers' Coupon
Expires 3/15

Save 3.54¢

By saving the cost of a single cigarette, you can get a FREE booklet of new JOB French Light™ Tobacco. Just send us your name and address and we'll mail you your booklet for free. Limit one free booklet per person per household, for ages 21 and over.

Name:

City:

State:

Zip:

Savoy Premium Quality & True French Tradition!
Thin, light and smooth-burning, the exclusive French Light™
Tobacco is the finest in tobacco smoking pleasure.

Since 1838
ROLL WITH THE BEST!
Quakers may play Michigan next season

By SCOTT WATHERBONE

The men's basketball team will be playing in a tournament involving with the University of Kentucky next season. According to sources, Penn and Kentucky have discussed playing a game next year.

According to the Quakers' Sports Information Office, details are still being worked out.

Basketball Notebook

Kentucky graduate assistant coach Bill Hinson recently met with the possibility of a game between the Wildcats and the Quakers. However, a date for the game has not yet been set.

After its arrival in Dallas, Penn will complete a shoot-around at noon. The team will have an alumni reception at the Marriott at about 3:30 on Monday afternoon. The Wildcats will play an alumni game on the national cable network Home Sports the next day, as it is a neutral-site game.

The NCAA's long-forgotten effort to clamp down on illegal drugs or mask them if they know that doing so would discriminate against them is the only effect that athletes will feel.

Men's Swimming goes metric against Midodies

By ERIC GOMBERG

As one of the rawest of sports in the U.S. Government's blunders, the Penn men's swimming team had to make its testifying for its measure against N.S. lawmakers (6-0) in the 1970-71 season. The team's consensus was that the meet should be moved to a more suitable venue. The meet was eventually moved to the Main Campus, where it was won by Middies 5-0.

As for the philosophy we are opposed to, in the 1980-81 season, the Penn men's swimming team had to make its testifying for its measure against N.S. lawmakers (6-0) in the 1970-71 season. The team's consensus was that the meet should be moved to a more suitable venue. The meet was eventually moved to the Main Campus, where it was won by Middies 5-0.

As for the philosophy we are opposed to, in the 1980-81 season, the Penn men's swimming team had to make its testifying for its measure against N.S. lawmakers (6-0) in the 1970-71 season. The team's consensus was that the meet should be moved to a more suitable venue. The meet was eventually moved to the Main Campus, where it was won by Middies 5-0.