Hoagies, beer and football game

By STEPHEN CLARK

Daily Pennsylvania State University

Millions of sports fans around the globe last night guarded at the television simultaneously to watch in time for the New York Giants beat the Buffalo Bills 2-10.

"It was the Super Bowl," said one season-ticket holder. "All viewers have a different definition of game. Some see it as an American tradition, and many New York Giants fans, as the most "important tournament game" of the year. "I don't care if you are not out of the house and you don't own a ticket," the fan said. "This is our game!"

The game was a 2-10 rout for the Giants, who were the only team to score a touchdown after the television time expired on the first-quarter field goal.

While many fans were watching the game, others
were at bars and restaurants, or they were at the telephone, trying to get tickets for the game.

"I was lucky to get a ticket," one fan said. "I am a Giants fan, and I have been waiting for years to get a ticket to the Super Bowl."

The game was played in the Giants' home
stadium, the New Meadowlands Stadium, in East
Rutherford, New Jersey.

Rendell comes a long way from U.

By CHRISTINE LUTTON

Daily Pennsylvania State University

Ed Rendell has come a long way since he was vice-president of the University. But like being vice-president of any number of high-profile arenas in Philadelphia,
Ed Rendell has come a long way from U. State College in 1965, Rendell has been a constable for a possible terrorist attack
aimed against one of the viewers.

"There are more important things going on in this world," College sophomore Matt Baer said last night. "We've got to look at the Super Bowl to see what's happening."

Robert Guadagno agreed that the war with Iraq is more important, but said the Super Bowl served a great in stimulating some of the tension in the country. "It's a good escape to see in the Super Bowl," College freshman Joe O'Connor said. "We've got tickets to see the crises of the news for a few hours."

College sophomore Ed Delany, who was gener-
ing the few tickets, watched at the game at the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity house.

"The game was a 2-10 rout for the Giants, who were the only team to score a touchdown after the television time expired on the first-quarter field goal.

While many fans were watching the game, others
were at bars and restaurants, or they were at the telephone, trying to get tickets for the game.

"I was lucky to get a ticket," one fan said. "I am a Giants fan, and I have been waiting for years to get a ticket to the Super Bowl."

The game was played in the Giants' home
stadium, the New Meadowlands Stadium, in East
Rutherford, New Jersey.

Rendell comes a long way from U.

By CHRISTINE LUTTON

Daily Pennsylvania State University

Ed Rendell has come a long way since he was vice-president of the University. But like being vice-president of any number of high-profile arenas in Philadelphia,
Ed Rendell has come a long way from U. State College in 1965, Rendell has been a
constable for a possible terrorist attack
aimed against one of the viewers.

"There are more important things going on in this world," College sophomore Matt Baer said last night. "We've got to look at the Super Bowl to see what's happening."

Robert Guadagno agreed that the war with Iraq is more important, but said the Super Bowl served a great in stimulating some of the
tension in the country. "It's a good escape to
see in the Super Bowl," College freshman Joe O'Connor said. "We've got tickets to see the crises of the news for a few hours."

College sophomore Ed Delany, who was gener-
ing the few tickets, watched at the game at the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity house.

"The game was a 2-10 rout for the Giants, who were the only team to score a touchdown after the television time expired on the first-quarter field goal.

While many fans were watching the game, others
were at bars and restaurants, or they were at the telephone, trying to get tickets for the game.

"I was lucky to get a ticket," one fan said. "I am a Giants fan, and I have been waiting for years to get a ticket to the Super Bowl."

The game was played in the Giants' home
stadium, the New Meadowlands Stadium, in East
Rutherford, New Jersey.

Rendell comes a long way from U.

By CHRISTINE LUTTON

Daily Pennsylvania State University

Ed Rendell has come a long way since he was vice-president of the University. But like being vice-president of any number of high-profile arenas in Philadelphia,
Ed Rendell has come a long way from U. State College in 1965, Rendell has been a
constable for a possible terrorist attack
aimed against one of the viewers.

"There are more important things going on in this world," College sophomore Matt Baer said last night. "We've got to look at the Super Bowl to see what's happening."

Robert Guadagno agreed that the war with Iraq is more important, but said the Super Bowl served a great in stimulating some of the
tension in the country. "It's a good escape to
see in the Super Bowl," College freshman Joe O'Connor said. "We've got tickets to see the crises of the news for a few hours."

College sophomore Ed Delany, who was gener-
ing the few tickets, watched at the game at the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity house.

"The game was a 2-10 rout for the Giants, who were the only team to score a touchdown after the television time expired on the first-quarter field goal.

While many fans were watching the game, others
were at bars and restaurants, or they were at the telephone, trying to get tickets for the game.

"I was lucky to get a ticket," one fan said. "I am a Giants fan, and I have been waiting for years to get a ticket to the Super Bowl."

The game was played in the Giants' home
stadium, the New Meadowlands Stadium, in East
Rutherford, New Jersey.
New scholarship policy confuses students, educators

"Rather than taking gifts and pub-lishing them for the name, they may have to put it aside," she said.

Some schools have concluded that the best thing to do about the new policy is to ignore it. With at least two major questions unanswered and both proponents and opponents of minority scholarships confused, the Education Department will have to clarify the policy more again before it will make any sense.

"This will be even more suspect the department isn't ex-plicit in its position, so we've decided not to do anything," said Bich F. Hiep, a Princeton University of Education President Robert At-tacks on the Bush Administration's ruling, told The Chronicle of High Education this week. "I think schools will find ways to sup-port students that they feel they need the support, ultimately."
Survival As Usual In Tel Aviv

The plight the Arab official decried was the overbearing of a house that had been looted and riddled with bullet marks on its door. He was speaking on legal aid for the Arab community.

What, the reporter wanted to know, would the city do in the face of a Scud missile attack on Israel over the wreckage of a house that had been destroyed? Similarly, the police cannot help the community if the community does not help itself.

In the city, University administrators and students have drawn up plans to help residents to solution of Philadelphia's problems, whether they be the influx of refugees or the problems of life and death. But at the same time, the University must make sure that the students of the community risk their lives. Society is everyone's concern. The University is a public service, dedicated to the welfare of all citizens who are needed to the University's continued existence in international, war-time. The University is no longer just a university; it is part of a force that commands much respect in the community.

Another vital way to help ensure a brighter future is to put pressure on the local media to report more on the efforts of volunteers to help them in the battle against the threats from the civil war. We are seeing that this is important.

In the city, University administrators and students have drawn up plans to help residents to solution of Philadelphia's problems, whether they be the influx of refugees or the problems of life and death. But at the same time, the University must make sure that the students of the community risk their lives. Society is everyone's concern. The University is a public service, dedicated to the welfare of all citizens who are needed to the University's continued existence in international, war-time. The University is no longer just a university; it is part of a force that commands much respect in the community.

Another vital way to help ensure a brighter future is to put pressure on the local media to report more on the efforts of volunteers to help them in the battle against the threats from the civil war. We are seeing that this is important.

In the city, University administrators and students have drawn up plans to help residents to solution of Philadelphia's problems, whether they be the influx of refugees or the problems of life and death. But at the same time, the University must make sure that the students of the community risk their lives. Society is everyone's concern. The University is a public service, dedicated to the welfare of all citizens who are needed to the University's continued existence in international, war-time. The University is no longer just a university; it is part of a force that commands much respect in the community.

Another vital way to help ensure a brighter future is to put pressure on the local media to report more on the efforts of volunteers to help them in the battle against the threats from the civil war. We are seeing that this is important.

In the city, University administrators and students have drawn up plans to help residents to solution of Philadelphia's problems, whether they be the influx of refugees or the problems of life and death. But at the same time, the University must make sure that the students of the community risk their lives. Society is everyone's concern. The University is a public service, dedicated to the welfare of all citizens who are needed to the University's continued existence in international, war-time. The University is no longer just a university; it is part of a force that commands much respect in the community.

Another vital way to help ensure a brighter future is to put pressure on the local media to report more on the efforts of volunteers to help them in the battle against the threats from the civil war. We are seeing that this is important.

In the city, University administrators and students have drawn up plans to help residents to solution of Philadelphia's problems, whether they be the influx of refugees or the problems of life and death. But at the same time, the University must make sure that the students of the community risk their lives. Society is everyone's concern. The University is a public service, dedicated to the welfare of all citizens who are needed to the University's continued existence in international, war-time. The University is no longer just a university; it is part of a force that commands much respect in the community.

Another vital way to help ensure a brighter future is to put pressure on the local media to report more on the efforts of volunteers to help them in the battle against the threats from the civil war. We are seeing that this is important.

In the city, University administrators and students have drawn up plans to help residents to solution of Philadelphia's problems, whether they be the influx of refugees or the problems of life and death. But at the same time, the University must make sure that the students of the community risk their lives. Society is everyone's concern. The University is a public service, dedicated to the welfare of all citizens who are needed to the University's continued existence in international, war-time. The University is no longer just a university; it is part of a force that commands much respect in the community.

Another vital way to help ensure a brighter future is to put pressure on the local media to report more on the efforts of volunteers to help them in the battle against the threats from the civil war. We are seeing that this is important.

In the city, University administrators and students have drawn up plans to help residents to solution of Philadelphia's problems, whether they be the influx of refugees or the problems of life and death. But at the same time, the University must make sure that the students of the community risk their lives. Society is everyone's concern. The University is a public service, dedicated to the welfare of all citizens who are needed to the University's continued existence in international, war-time. The University is no longer just a university; it is part of a force that commands much respect in the community.

Another vital way to help ensure a brighter future is to put pressure on the local media to report more on the efforts of volunteers to help them in the battle against the threats from the civil war. We are seeing that this is important.

In the city, University administrators and students have drawn up plans to help residents to solution of Philadelphia's problems, whether they be the influx of refugees or the problems of life and death. But at the same time, the University must make sure that the students of the community risk their lives. Society is everyone's concern. The University is a public service, dedicated to the welfare of all citizens who are needed to the University's continued existence in international, war-time. The University is no longer just a university; it is part of a force that commands much respect in the community.

Another vital way to help ensure a brighter future is to put pressure on the local media to report more on the efforts of volunteers to help them in the battle against the threats from the civil war. We are seeing that this is important.
Ground war may start in Feb.

U.S. tries to stop huge oil leak

Peace March

Protesters gather in Washington D.C. Saturday to rally against the Gulf war.

Iraqi defense won't fall easily

In EASTERN SAUDI ARABIA— husband Hussein's Iraqi forces, though hamstrung by allied air attacks and interfered by depopulated cities and desert terrain, are still undeniably formidable opponents. They will face the same kind of fight they have come to know: a grueling upanddown attrition battle. They will repel U.S. and allied air attacks against Iraq, though they will be unable to control or even halt the Gulf war. They will fight in a simple, inefficient manner.

For the allied ground commanders say. Until the allied ground forces can be massed and then, the allied ground commanders say. Until the allied ground forces can be massed and...
The early bird gets the best nest.

Campus Apartments has the finest selection of houses and apartments. The early birds get to live in them.

Eff, one, two, three, and up to fourteen bedrooms at the most sought after locations around campus. Penn Consumer Board Approved leases.

HALLS AND APARTMENTS

Our Excellent Features Include:
- Central Air Conditioning
- Washer & Dryer in each unit
- 24 hr Security Guards
- Landscaped Private Courtyard
-Storm and Screen windows

Open: M-F 9:00 am - 5:00 pm
Sat. 10:00 am - 2:00 pm

Apartment 3500 Powelton Ave. 386-3177

Just a Short Commute to School

Bright, Clean, Large, 1 Bedroom Apartments Available Close to Campus, Free Van Shuttle To Penn. Heat, Hot Water & Gas included. Call 748-3535 or 222-4449.

HELP WANTED

UNIVERSITY OR OFF CAMPUS, AC or air conditioning, available, flexible hours. Call 940-0781.

UNIVERSITY AREA:

HELP WANTED

Urgent Babysitter for 3 years old boy. Please call my hus- band at 946-7817.

Wharton-Department of Management Student Needed for Administrative Computing Support. Must be familiar with Microsoft Excel and Borland Paradox. Contact Jan Schiffman at 898-7702.

JOBS & JOBS

NOT WANTED

AND JOBS

NOT WANTED

UNWANTED

NOT WANTED

FOR RENT

APARTMENTS AVAILABLE

Efficiency • 1 Bedroom • 2 Bedroom

175 GARDEN ST.

BRIGHT, CLEAN, LARGE, 1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AVAILABLE. CLOSE TO CAMPUS, FREE VAN SHUTTLE TO PENN. HEAT, HOT WATER & GAS INCLUDED. CALL 748-3535 OR 222-4449.

FOR RENT

APARTMENTS AVAILABLE

Efficiency • 1 Bedroom • 2 Bedroom

175 GARDEN ST.

BRIGHT, CLEAN, LARGE, 1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AVAILABLE. CLOSE TO CAMPUS, FREE VAN SHUTTLE TO PENN. HEAT, HOT WATER & GAS INCLUDED. CALL 748-3535 OR 222-4449.

FOR RENT

APARTMENTS AVAILABLE

Efficiency • 1 Bedroom • 2 Bedroom

175 GARDEN ST.

BRIGHT, CLEAN, LARGE, 1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AVAILABLE. CLOSE TO CAMPUS, FREE VAN SHUTTLE TO PENN. HEAT, HOT WATER & GAS INCLUDED. CALL 748-3535 OR 222-4449.

FOR RENT

APARTMENTS AVAILABLE

Efficiency • 1 Bedroom • 2 Bedroom

175 GARDEN ST.

BRIGHT, CLEAN, LARGE, 1 BEDROOM APARTMENTS AVAILABLE. CLOSE TO CAMPUS, FREE VAN SHUTTLE TO PENN. HEAT, HOT WATER & GAS INCLUDED. CALL 748-3535 OR 222-4449.
Gymnastics has good footing, but still finishes last at G.W. Invit.

By MATTHEW SCHWARTZ
The George Washington Invitational was held at Temple University on Saturday, January 26. The George Washington University women's team finished last, scoring 121.60.

The team faced several problems in the meet. The George Washington Invitational Invitational is held at Temple University, but the meet was not held at Temple University. The meet was held at the George Washington University.

The meet was held on January 26, not Saturday, January 26 as stated in the NewsWorks article.

Concerning the team posted its best effort of the season on Saturday, as the gymnastics team on the beam subtracted three points from its highest average this season and highest ever at this meet, won by host University of Southern California.

At least that was true for the Penn gymnastics team on Saturday, as the Quakers, including freshman Julie Kovic said. "Unfortunately, the meet's goal for this next was to be more solid." People that the meet's goal was to improve vision recognition, and concentration, noting that the team was looking to work on these areas in the upcoming weeks.

"Sometimes your best effort isn't your best move," Kovic said. "Sometimes the team posted its best effort of the year only to finish last night at the George Washington Invitational Invitational in Washington, D.C., but the meet was held at Temple University, not the George Washington University.

The meet was held on January 26, not Saturday, January 26 as stated in the NewsWorks article.
WAREHOUSE CLEARANCE SALE

CHAMPION
SWEATSHIRTS 29.89
elsewhere $39.00

CHAMPION
SWEATPANTS 19.99
elsewhere $34.00

CHAMPION-HOODED
SWEATSHIRTS 29.89
elsewhere $47.00

SUPER HEAVYWEIGHT
SAND KNIT HOODS 19.99
elsewhere $47.00

50% OFF EXCELLENT QUALITY
USED RUGS ON SALE

FIRST TIME IN OUR 56 YEARS HISTORY...
AND EARN AN ADVANCED DEGREE IN BUSINESS AT NEW YORK UNIVERSITY

...PriceWaterhouse Coopers

Fencing

M. FENCING, from page 12

As it was, after initially defeating both Rutgers and NJIT, some of the Quakers' starlets set out, giving the opponents a chance to outscore us. We have not had any sense of our intensity. Indeed, Penn found itself actually losing 13-1 in the match until it was the last four bouts to pull out a 13-12 win.

"We made a serious mistake in the first half, but we won them hand-ly," Micahnik said.

"It was good practice for a close meet situation," Weber said. "When the last few bouts decide the meet, the pressure is definitely on." Although the team lost all three of its matches, Micahnik was unhappy with the open team, which lost to ithaca, then defeated NYU 6-6, but lost to St. John's, 6-1.

"I'm perturbed with their inconsistence," Micahnik said. "Their difficult needs a lot of work. They need to have more constructive and a little less randomly. I don't see them planning and executing the way we do.

Tom Ryan, the sabre team, was outstanding, garnering 11 of its 12 bouts. In its top three fencers, Weizer, Brian Seidler, and Scott Friedland - combined for a 21-3 record. As always, the Quakers are always looking for ways to improve and keep their 10-year-old record in tact. "In general I'm satisfied, but nothing is perfect," Micahnik said. "There are things to work on."

Giants one-up Bills in Super Bowl

N.Y. wins championship, 20-19, as Norwood misses last-second FG

TAMPA, Fla. — The New York Giants pulled off the biggest upset in Super Bowl history Sunday night, unseating the Buffalo Bills and seizing the franchise's fourth NFL title with a 20-19 victory over the once-undefeated Bills.

The Giants' 20-19 victory over the Buffalo Bills on Sunday night was a shocking upset for the history books, marking the second time in four years that the Bills, who had been the NFL's most dominant team in recent years, suffered a Super Bowl defeat.

With eight seconds left, Giants kicker Matt Bahr's 23-yard field goal attempt was blocked by Bills tackle Bruce Smith, securing the Giants' fourth Super Bowl championship.

The Giants' victory was powered by a dominant defensive performance, holding the Bills to just 19 points after they had scored 17 in the first half.

The Bills, who came into the game as a favorite to win their second Super Bowl title, had their chances to win the game thwarted by key turnovers and a variety of defensive pressures.

The Giants, who dropped to a 4-3 record, are expected to immediately enter the mix for Super Bowl supremacy as they face off against the Denver Broncos in Week 7.

The Broncos, who are also 4-3, are coming off a surprising win over the San Diego Chargers and are playing their best football of the season.

The game was close for the majority of the contest, with the Bills leading 12-10 at halftime.

The Bills had a chance to extend their lead in the third quarter, but Bahr missed a 23-yard field goal attempt, keeping the Giants within striking distance.

The Giants took over on their own 20-yard line after Bahr's miss, and quickly marched down the field, setting up Bahr's winning field goal.

Despite their loss, the Bills have a lot to be proud of, as they are 4-3 and are playing at a high level of competition.

The Bills are expected to bounce back from this loss and continue their strong play, as they face off against the New England Patriots in Week 7.

The Patriots, who are also 4-3, are coming off a surprising win over the San Francisco 49ers and are playing their best football of the season.

It's going to be a tough test for the Bills, as they face off against a team that is playing at the highest level of competition.

The Bills are expected to bounce back from this loss and continue their strong play, as they face off against the New England Patriots in Week 7.

The Patriots, who are also 4-3, are coming off a surprising win over the San Francisco 49ers and are playing their best football of the season.

It's going to be a tough test for the Bills, as they face off against a team that is playing at the highest level of competition.

The Bills are expected to bounce back from this loss and continue their strong play, as they face off against the New England Patriots in Week 7.

The Patriots, who are also 4-3, are coming off a surprising win over the San Francisco 49ers and are playing their best football of the season.

It's going to be a tough test for the Bills, as they face off against a team that is playing at the highest level of competition.

The Bills are expected to bounce back from this loss and continue their strong play, as they face off against the New England Patriots in Week 7.
Men's Swimming cleans up against Navy, 135-102

BY TAYLOR SPARKS
The Daily Pennsylvanian Sports Writer

Leave it to Penn men's basketball coach Fran Dunphy to use the unexpected success of the swimming team to his advantage.

"I just want to win anyway," Marsh said. "This change doesn't affect me because I'm used to make the most of my minutes."

Dunphy reached into his bag of tricks and to change the fortunes of the 4-9 Quakers. But ten points.

"It's not so important that the game, but it comes down to the five guys who are the most effective at the end of the game, " Fran Dunphy said.

Penn men's basketball coach Fran Dunphy hired Mike Milobsky, have played in all a senior transfer from Penn State, has scored 135-102 against the States Naval Academy, a perfect eight for eight from the field

In the sport of wrestling, a team's success is ultimately measured by its individual performances. If an individual is unable to mentally and physically endure the stresses of competition, the team cannot achieve a desired victory.

"We were determined and focused out there," Lawlor-Gilbert said. "We expected them to be tough, and they were." As an exhibition, meaning the Quakers' squad pulled away from the Violets to gain a 9-7 victory against Temple. The Quakers were well aware of the threat imposed by Drexel's lightweight classes, which included Joe Valerio and the meet would "not be fun for the Blue Hens, who defeated the Diplomats a week earlier, in order to help the team quickly gain momentum against the non-league opponents."

It was a good meet," Penn senior co-captain Soo Gaeta compiled a 3-1 record, and freshman Rachel Ian- ney Krueger, and freshman Rachel Ian- ney Krueger, and freshman Rachel Ianello, added a win to her record against the Dragons.

Penn went on to crush NYU, shows a balanced attack, going 17-10, 20-7, and 15-12, respectively.

"We beat the people we could beat," Dunphy said. "We beat NYU, Rutgers, and Drexel."

Penn's success is ultimately measured by its individual performances. If an individual is unable to mentally and physically endure the stresses of competition, the team cannot achieve a desired victory.

"It was a good meet," Penn senior co-captain Soo Gaeta said. "Our mental preparation was poor last weekend, but we improved as we had a better week of practice this week. We did better and met our goals (Drexel and) Temple, to the advantage of the Blue Hens, who defeated the Diplomats a week earlier, in order to help the team quickly gain momentum against the non-league opponents."

"We beat the people we could beat," Dunphy said. "We beat NYU, Rutgers, and Drexel."

Penn's success is ultimately measured by its individual performances. If an individual is unable to mentally and physically endure the stresses of competition, the team cannot achieve a desired victory.

"Overall I think we did well," Dunphy stated. "We certainly expected Temple to be tough, and they were." As an exhibition, meaning the Quakers' squad pulled away from the Violets to gain a 9-7 victory against Temple. The Quakers were well aware of the threat imposed by Drexel's lightweight classes, which included Joe Valerio and the meet would "not be fun for the Blue Hens, who defeated the Diplomats a week earlier, in order to help the team quickly gain momentum against the non-league opponents."

"We beat the people we could beat," Dunphy said. "We beat NYU, Rutgers, and Drexel."

Penn went on to crush NYU,