University Police confiscate keg of beer from Quad

By STEVEN ROSENBERG
Daily Pennsylvanian Staff Writer

University Police officers confiscated a keg of beer from a fourth floor Speelman room in the Quad Monday, April 13.

Police were called to the room, 415 Speakman, because of pressure from the State Tavern, said business is down every year during Fling, but added that it was especially poor last weekend because of pressure from the State Police and the State Police Bureau of Enforcement.

"I don't know why they are pressing bars here," Murphy said. "All they are doing is pushing the kids downtown. They are forcing people to drive.

Murphy's Tavern Owner

Murphy's Tavern Owner Tony Borans noted that students were not at the bars but at their taverns over the weekend. However, Murphy said Cavanaugh's Restaurant had a minor run-in with the LCE on Friday night, and noted that the LCE was monitoring local beer distributaries including University City Beverage and Springfield Beer Distributor.

"There is no way they could be sold in stores," Murphy said.

After taking the money, the robber ran from the scene.

"I honestly said the victim was not at the university at the time of the robber," Holmes said.

In another unrelated incident, a man broke windows in the southwest side of the Hillel Foundation building at 7:40 a.m. on Sunday.

At 10:39 p.m. on Friday, the suspect, who was also in the 4200 block of Walnut Street reported to police that an unknown person or persons threw an unknown substance into his apartment. Holmes said the suspect was not at his apartment at the time of the event.

Police officers are investigating the incident.

Three armed robbers

By STEVEN ROSENBERG
Daily Pennsylvanian Staff Writer

Three men with a gun robbed a University student at 11:12 p.m. Saturday, the second arm robbery in as many days, said University Police Lieutenant Susan Holmes.

The men said $80 in cash from the male student, but Holmes said he was not injured in the incident. Holmes said she does not know which direction the robbers fled.

In an unrelated incident, a man said he had just withdrawn $100 in cash from a MacPherson's account at his Wallet Bank, but was returned with a gun at 16:39 p.m. on Friday.

Police officers are investigating the incident.

 Политика конфиденциальности Условия обслуживания Copyright © 2023 Daily Pennsylvanian
State senator speaks on polities

By RIZ SHAVELLE

Daily Pennsylvanian Staff Writer

State Senator Barbara Schwartz—known for her political skills, leadership and work on women's issues—spoke last night about the importance of making women's issues a primary concern in Pennsylvania politics.

Schwartz, a Democrat representing the third senatorial district, which includes parts of Montgomery, Berks and Schuylkill counties, spoke at a reception for students held before a screening of "Rocks in 1990," a documentary about the University of Pennsylvania women's basketball team.

By RIZ SHAVELLE

Daily Pennsylvanian Staff Writer

State Senator Barbara Schwartz—known for her political skills, leadership and work on women's issues—spoke last night about the importance of making women's issues a primary concern in Pennsylvania politics.

Schwartz, a Democrat representing the third senatorial district, which includes parts of Montgomery, Berks and Schuylkill counties, spoke at a reception for students held before a screening of "Rocks in 1990," a documentary about the University of Pennsylvania women's basketball team.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.

Schwartz said that she has "an abiding sense of urgency" when it comes to women's issues, and that she believes that Pennsylvania politics needs to be "rejuvenated" with a focus on women's issues.
Singin' and Flingin'

Monroe Watkins, owner of Monroe's Bar-B-Q, flips meat on the grill at his Spring Fling stand in the Lower Quad.

Thousands of local and University students gathered in the Quad over the weekend for Spring Fling.

(Above) Art House Dance members, junior Tony Butler and senior Jennifer Pearson, perform in front of a large crowd in the Upper Quad. (Left) Penn Amorphous juggler and Engineering freshman Rick Shelby concentrates on keeping his Devil sticks up in the air.
Administrators receiving training on alcohol, drugs

By SHELLEY TAJON
Stud.Z. Pennsylvania Daily

Members of University staff and faculty representing departments as diverse as Student Health Service and the Office of Provost at the University of Pennsylvania received recent alcohol and alcohol training sessions designed to increase their awareness of the resources available to individuals dependent on alcohol.

The program, called Building and Maintaining a Drug-Free Community, was held earlier this month at the Institute of Pennsylvania, located in Philadelphia. It included a three-day seminar that addressed the problems of alcoholism.

Staff at the institute who attended the seminar had nothing but praise for the training program. In time they spent at the institute, they were able to learn about alcohol-related problems in students and colleagues.

Judith Snyder, the director of the Student Health Service at the University, said that she was extremely thankful for the opportunity to attend such a valuable and relevant training program with students on a regular basis.

"From my perspective, it was very valuable," she said. "One of my concerns is that if alcohol or drug abuse is involved in a situation, we have to be more proactive in addressing the problems associated with alcohol and drug-related issues."

She added that because of the problems of alcoholism, a discussion of drug abuse was also necessary.

According to the Director of Alcohol and Drug Education, one of the purposes of the program was to educate professionals about the signs of alcoholism and drug abuse.

According to Zoll, four groups have already attended the training program.

"The two-hour session began with a general overview of the institute, followed by an informative video on drug abuse, as well as discussions about the effects of alcohol and drug abuse on the individual and society."

Zoll said that administrators looked at a model developed by the bureau, which includes questions on drug-related problems.

The bureau was later contacted by the Institute of Pennsylvania and the Freshman Counselor Isabelle Sampson attended the training program.

"I think that we can help students know how to handle alcohol issues," she said. "Just to understand alcohol abuse is helpful for any University administrator who comes in contact with individuals who have this problem."

"It makes me sad to know there are people on campus who have said this," said Zoll. "They just don't understand the effects of alcohol."

Zoll added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

Conference discusses citizens, service

By PHILLIP SCHREIN
Public蹲ation, Student Life

Harry Boyle, director of Project Public Life at the University of Michigan, kicked-off a day-long Service-Learning Conference earlier this month with a talk on the relationship between the university and community service.

Boyle began his talk stating that students have found it difficult to settle themselves on campus and have a difficult time understanding and participating in community service. He said that students have found it difficult to settle themselves on campus and are finding it difficult to understand and participate in community service.

"If you answered yes to these two questions, you're exactly what we're looking for," Boyle said.

Help host prospective Penn students overnight during the month of April. Share your Penn experience!

Call: Eli 573-8830 (males)
Marc 573-8704 (females)
Judith 989-9683
or stop by Undergraduate Admissions (1st College Hall) to sign up.

Some institutions, including the Osaka University and Osaka University of Pharmaceutical Sciences, have made agreements to participate in the program.

If you have a question about the University or how to get involved, please contact: Pennsylvania Daily News, 34th & Walnut, 34th & Walnut, 34th & Walnut, 34th & Walnut, 34th & Walnut.

"It is important to understand the differences between different types of alcohol and why people use it," Boyle said.

The University also sponsored a March 27 party at Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, which banned alcohol at the event.

"I think that we can help students know how to handle alcohol issues," said Zoll. "They just don't understand the effects of alcohol."

Boyle called for the revitalization of institutions of political connection, adding that alcohol can serve as a motivator for political involvement, and from this motivation stems an outreach of community service.

Boyle brought to a close by giving some advice on how to bring about change through community service. He advised participants to divide the tasks of the day, take care of some small tasks, and then take care of the community service.

Boyle said that the program was not to create an environment to help students who are and think differently.

"It is important to understand that people use alcohol in different ways," Boyle said.

The University also sponsored a March 27 party at Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, which banned alcohol at the event.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

Fling drinkers avoid campus-area bars

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

There are still many hurdles to get over," Boyle said.

Cotton said that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

There are still many hurdles to get over," Boyle said.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.

"We got to listen to people's personal experiences," Boyle said. "We need to listen to personal experiences."

Boyle added that the program was an excellent opportunity for University administrators and staff to attend and learn about alcohol-related issues.
Sparks' reaches to community with dance

By THOMAS HUANG
Daily Pennsylvanian Staff Writer

Instead of watching "The Family Feud" last Tuesday night, the residents of the New Ralston House enjoyed a performance by Sparks, the university's community outreach group and a member of the University of Pennsylvania's Drama Department.

The group's 13 dancers performed ten original routines, themed with the audiences at the nursing home and Chestnut Streets for a few minutes to receive feedback and get to know the people.

The students concentrate on bringing their art to people who may find it difficult to go out and see their art. "The whole experience is very enjoyable. The troupe usually appears at university venues, but the students at the Ronald McDonald House want to do more," said student Dorothy Knabb.

To deepen the generation gap between their two major audiences — children and the elderly — the company's arrangements use distinctly varied backing music. In their set Tuesday evening, the routine ranged from a big band tune to Janis Joplin's "Rhythm and Blues."

"We try to pick pieces that appeal to the type of people attending and sprout troupe treasurer and S.A.C. representative Diane Pio, a College senior, said. "The 23 audiences members seemed to enjoy the show thoroughly — some even appeared to be restaging it. "Oh, to be young again," resident Sylvia Familant said after one of the numbers."

For the most part, the crowd appeared to most appreciate the breaking of their daily routine with a live performance by Sparks, the university's community outreach group and a member of the University of Pennsylvania's Drama Department.

The student concentration is on bringing their art to people who may find it difficult to go out and see their art. "The whole experience is very enjoyable. The troupe usually appears at university venues, but the students at the Ronald McDonald House want to do more," said student Dorothy Knabb.

"I'm glad to see they're getting involved in the community," said resident Patrice Firpo, a College representative. "These people [social workers!] are very important to us."

Joseph stressed the importance of women in social work and various state and local schools and departments of social work graduate student Diane Landenberg, who's been able to have so many opportunities because of the work she's done. "In general she's incredibly inspirational," said Landenberg.

Joseph, director of Hofstra Institute of Applied Social Science, pointed out that women should take advantage of these opportunities. "Women of color are invisible now and we need women who stood fast for human dignity for all people...

"Feminist movement is necessary for all including working-class women."

The new Apple Macintosh "Classic II" computer makes it easier for you to add classes, activities, projects, and term papers — and still find time for what makes college life real life.

It's a complete and affordable Macintosh Classic II system that's ready to help you get your work finished fast. It's a snap to set up and use. It has a powerful 68030 microprocessor, which means you can run even the most sophisticated applications with ease. Among its many built-in capabilities is the internal Apple SuperDrive disk drive that reads from and writes to Macintosh and MS-DOS formatted disks — allowing you to exchange information easily with almost any other kind of computer.

If you already own a Macintosh Classic, and want the speed and flexibility of a Macintosh Classic II, ask us about an upgrade — it can be installed in a matter of minutes and it's affordable.

To make more time for your personal life, get a Macintosh Classic II for your personal space. See us for a demonstration today, and while you're in, be sure to ask us for details about the Apple Computer Loan. It'll be time well spent.

Introducing the Macintosh Classic II.

For further information visit the University of Pennsylvania Computer Connection at the Bookstore.
Safeguarding Fling

In just three days, Spring Fling regained its vitality after three years of either less-than-perfected weather or less than popular events. This year even saw new events added to decades of weather or less than popular events. This year Mask and Wig all contribute to an ideal Fling, the items thoroughly. Signs outside the Quad asked could not bring a backpack and a salad into Satur-Spring Fling security officers told one student she items from both the Quadrangle and Hill Field.
posed unimaginable threats to those inside.

History aside, some people's mis-ceptions about Long Island that I and suburbs as well.

dent as a whole.

month for each of the first five months of the year, $1200 per and $2100 per month until the end

2. "What isfiguwed D's real nam&?

Grab Your #2 Pencils, Kids!

While all your Fingers were being picked in street corners Saturday morning, attracting glances, I was taking the GRE. It was a nerve-racking test.
For those of you who aren't in the know, the GRE is an exam that de-ates from suburban Chicago or ng two-dimensional elliptical ovoid

It is packed with questions that test your ability to solve problems and think critically.

For most, the GRE is a required exam for graduate programs in various fields, including business, engineering, and law.

What Is the GRE?

The GRE stands for Graduate Record Examination. It is a standardized test used by graduate programs to evaluate the academic readiness of applicants. The GRE consists of three main sections: Verbal Reasoning, Quantitative Reasoning, and Analytical Writing.

Verbal Reasoning

This section tests your ability to comprehend written material, analyze information, and reason effectively. It includes questions on reading comprehension, logical reasoning, and vocabulary.

Quantitative Reasoning

This section assesses your ability to analyze data, interpret graphs, and solve quantitative problems. It covers topics such as arithmetic, algebra, geometry, and data analysis.

Analytical Writing

This section evaluates your ability to articulate and develop complex ideas, support claims with evidence, and reason through issues. It consists of two tasks: an Issue Task and an Argument Task.

What's on the GRE?

The GRE consists of two sections of Verbal Reasoning, one section of Quantitative Reasoning, and one section of Analytical Writing. The test is computer-based and takes about 3 hours to complete.

Scoring the GRE

The GRE is scored on a scale of 130 to 170 for each section of Verbal Reasoning and Quantitative Reasoning, and a score of 0 to 6 for the Analytical Writing section. The total score is the average of the two Verbal Reasoning scores and the Quantitative Reasoning score.

The GRE is offered in both computer-based and paper-based formats. The computer-based version is administered at Prometric test centers worldwide, while the paper-based version is offered at designated test centers.

Who Takes the GRE?

The GRE is taken by students who are applying to graduate programs in fields such as business, law, education, and the sciences. It is also used by some programs in the liberal arts and humanities.

Preparation for the GRE

To prepare for the GRE, you can take practice tests, review GRE study materials, and work on your time management skills.

Conclusion

The GRE is a crucial component of the graduate school application process. Preparing for the GRE effectively and understanding its format can help you achieve a competitive score and increase your chances of admission to your desired graduate program.

Questions to Consider

1. Why is the GRE important for graduate school admissions?

The GRE is important for graduate school admissions because it provides a standardized measure of a student's academic readiness in the fields of Verbal Reasoning, Quantitative Reasoning, and Analytical Writing.

2. How is the GRE scored?

The GRE is scored on a scale of 130 to 170 for each section of Verbal Reasoning and Quantitative Reasoning, and a score of 0 to 6 for the Analytical Writing section. The total score is the average of the two Verbal Reasoning scores and the Quantitative Reasoning score.

3. When is the best time to take the GRE?

The best time to take the GRE varies depending on your individual circumstances. It is advisable to take the GRE several months before the deadlines for graduate school applications.
I'm a person who tends to look at the big picture, who looks at the overall meaning of things in any given situation. The one that strikes me most in this situation: Students should have a very active role in their own education.
TRIPOLI, Libya — Libya announced yesterday it will sever all ties with the United Nations for the 24 hours before U.N. sanctions take effect in the bombing of Pan Am Flight 103. Libyan authorities, however, contended that a cleanup operation was being conducted in order to make room for the body of an American victim of the Panama canal explosion.

The Basic Treaty was demanding that Libya surrender the two Libyans suspected of killing 282 Americans in the United States or Britain and provide proof of their responsibility for the forma of terrorism. The council also wants Tripoli to turn over two more Libyan suspects to the United States or Britain. All three of the Libyan suspects insisted on a neutral country for their extradition.

Elsewhere, the foreign ministers of seven Arab nations planned to meet in Rabat, Morocco, late yesterday to form a response to U.N. sanctions. The Arab committee was expected to call for a boycott of European goods and a vote of condemnation.

The Yugoslav military claimed that it had returned to the offensive in the three-week old conflict after the UN-American cease-fire agreement was broken.

AT&T and Lockheed said.

"Welcome and success!"

Disney officials proclaimed the opening a success but refused to provide any details.

ANA news agency quoted President Hafez M. al-Assad of Syria as saying that there was little doubt that Syrian and Egyptian forces would be involved in air operations in Iraq.

By the way of the West, The New York Times reported that Moscow and Beijing were ready to cede much of the oil to Iran because of the economic standstill that had followed the cutoff of oil supplies to Iran. The story noted that both superpowers were certain that Moscow and Peking would be able to sign a long-term agreement soon.

The radicals also wanted extensive state ownership of business, while the technocrats argued for a more open economy to deal with the growing economic problems and the lack of reconstruction since Khomeini died three years ago. The political slogans that once stoked the Iran war with Iraq are not necessarily followed by the same results.

The political slogans that once covered every wall are being replaced by posters showing cheaper flowers and advertising rock concerts as a symbol of the Islamic Revolution.

The radicals also wanted extensive state ownership of business, while the technocrats argued for a more open economy to deal with the growing economic problems and the lack of reconstruction since Khomeini died three years ago. The political slogans that once stoked the Iran war with Iraq are not necessarily followed by the same results.

The political slogans that once covered every wall are being replaced by posters showing cheaper flowers and advertising rock concerts as a symbol of the Islamic Revolution.

The radicals also wanted extensive state ownership of business, while the technocrats argued for a more open economy to deal with the growing economic problems and the lack of reconstruction since Khomeini died three years ago. The political slogans that once stoked the Iran war with Iraq are not necessarily followed by the same results.

The political slogans that once covered every wall are being replaced by posters showing cheaper flowers and advertising rock concerts as a symbol of the Islamic Revolution.

The radicals also wanted extensive state ownership of business, while the technocrats argued for a more open economy to deal with the growing economic problems and the lack of reconstruction since Khomeini died three years ago. The political slogans that once stoked the Iran war with Iraq are not necessarily followed by the same results.

The political slogans that once covered every wall are being replaced by posters showing cheaper flowers and advertising rock concerts as a symbol of the Islamic Revolution.

The radicals also wanted extensive state ownership of business, while the technocrats argued for a more open economy to deal with the growing economic problems and the lack of reconstruction since Khomeini died three years ago. The political slogans that once stoked the Iran war with Iraq are not necessarily followed by the same results.

The political slogans that once covered every wall are being replaced by posters showing cheaper flowers and advertising rock concerts as a symbol of the Islamic Revolution.
By ERIK STERN

Oriole Sports String Team Manager

For the spectators sitting in the grandstand watching the Penn win, ner's boat race on Saturday morning, it was too late. A pattern emerged before their eyes—one of complete and total domination for the Quakers.

First, Penn's third varsity boat started out on its way to a boat race that would be as fast as it was eventful. But, just when it seemed like the Quakers' victory was in the bag, it was evident that Penn would have its day and take a 9-7 lead, only to see that margin evaporate. But, when all is said and done, all that matters is how you race, Richard said.

The loss put a damper on what were already whipping themselves into a lather of excitement. But Cornell medalled in every event at Eastern Sprints last year, for whoever won the varsity race got to go home really fast.

When all is said and done, all that matters is how you race, Richard said.

"The JV really came together at the right place at the right time and just blasted away," Konopka said. "Although the conditions were different for each race, their time was definitely faster than ours on Saturday."

But, win or lose, after all the races were completed, the Quakers were treated to the infamous homemade chocolate-covered peanut butter bars of Mrs. Richard, as well as "Thelma and Harry" on the last boat back to Penn.

The last boat back to Penn. Corn- nello rowed to victory with Harvard (a close second) and Penn a distant third. The Big Red took the varsity race by the slimmest of margins and was crowned champion of the second among the second.
SUMMER IN ISRAEL MAKE IT HAPPEN!

IF:
- You're between 18 & 28 and you want the Israel travel experience of a lifetime...
- You can spend 4 weeks discovering kibbutz life and contemporary Israeli society first hand...

You can picture yourself camping under the stars and crossing the Galilee by foot...

WE CAN MAKE IT HAPPEN!

All for a cost that is actually less than you'd guess. Fall & winter programs with college credits also available.

You would like more info, call Leymann at

Oren Kibbutz Institutes 800-247-7852
A Project of the Joint Authority for Jewish Zionist Education of the Jewish Agency for Israel.

FOR RENT

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ADDRESS</th>
<th>PRICE</th>
<th>AMENITIES</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>122 SOUTH MONTGOMERY</td>
<td>$365</td>
<td>Available May-June. 387-5875.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>46TH STREET</td>
<td>$550</td>
<td>Studio at 46th &amp; Spruce. STD. 387-7975.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4028 Sansom</td>
<td>$300</td>
<td>roommate apartment. 387-0544.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4029 Spruce</td>
<td>$500</td>
<td>roommate apartment. 387-0544.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3627 SPRUCE</td>
<td>$300</td>
<td>roommate apartment. 387-0544.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10 SOUTH 40TH</td>
<td>$200</td>
<td>roommate apartment. 387-0544.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>122 SOUTH MONTGOMERY</td>
<td>$365</td>
<td>Available May-June. 387-5875.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>46TH STREET</td>
<td>$550</td>
<td>Studio at 46th &amp; Spruce. STD. 387-7975.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4028 Sansom</td>
<td>$300</td>
<td>roommate apartment. 387-0544.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4029 Spruce</td>
<td>$500</td>
<td>roommate apartment. 387-0544.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3627 SPRUCE</td>
<td>$300</td>
<td>roommate apartment. 387-0544.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10 SOUTH 40TH</td>
<td>$200</td>
<td>roommate apartment. 387-0544.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

APARTMENTS AVAILABLE

- 1 bedroom, 2 bath, 9th floor. Available June-August. 387-7975. negotiable price.
- 1 bedroom, 2 bath, 8th floor. Available June-August. 387-7975. negotiable price.
- 3 bedroom, 3 bath, 1st floor. Available June-August. 387-7975. negotiable price.
- 4 bedroom, 4 bath, 1st floor. Available June-August. 387-7975. negotiable price.

FOR SALE

- 5 bed 3 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Cindy 573-6114.
- 3 bed 2 bath. Call Tara. 387-9128.
M. Tennis losses 5-4 twice

By MATTHEW KEISNER

The Penn women's tennis team almost performed a miracle Tuesday, but its 5-4 losses to Harvard and Yale on the road were too much to overcome. The victory margin in both matches was a slender 3-2, and the Quakers were unable to get past the doubles stage in either.

Senior co-captain Lisa Adelman at number one, Lisa and junior Monica Goldberg at number six and the doubles team couldn't notch a victory in either of its matches this weekend. It spoiled the pennsylvanian's 899-1111

UPS and downs

By ADAM KAYE

Although the Penn men's tennis team couldn't notch a victory in either of its matches this weekend, it improved its performance and put some disappearing losses to Dartmouth and Georgetown behind it and won three out of four matches, all in the doubles.

"Against Harvard, everyone played really well," Nathan said. "There were a lot of matches that could have gone either way." "There are not too many teams that can take Harvard into the doubles," Penn coach Greg Miller said. "Our boys are able to come away from the league and usually you win. Our players get through straight or go to a third set."

Perhaps the brightest spot for the Quakers this weekend was the brilliant play of senior Carlos Garcia, who won a three-set loss for Penn. 6-3, 6-7, 6-3. "Carlos deserves a medal for the way he played," Miller said. "He was able to put on a display that is extremely intense," according to Penn coach Cissie Leary. "He is a champion in every aspect of tennis."

The Quakers now fall to 8-3 overall, but they still have a tough schedule. "Against Harvard, everyone played hard, but we were not able to come through," Schecter said. "We're disappointed, but we still have a couple of matches."

The Quakers defeated Columbia and Princeton 5-4 twice

By MATTHEW KEISNER

In doubles action, the number two team of sophomore David Nathan and Leanne Moscow won 6-3, 6-4, the number three team won 6-3, 6-2, and the number four team won 6-3, 6-4.

Senior co-captain Lisa Adelman at number one, Lisa and junior Monica Goldberg at number six and the doubles team couldn't notch a victory in either of its matches this weekend. It spoiled the pennsylvanian's 899-1111

"It's like a B-plus," Khoury said. "We're almost there, but we can do better and we can do some of these things better."

W. Tennis loses 5-4 twice

The Penn women's tennis team almost performed a miracle Tuesday, but its 5-4 losses to Harvard and Yale on the road were too much to overcome. The victory margin in both matches was a slender 3-2, and the Quakers were unable to get past the doubles stage in either.

Senior co-captain Lisa Adelman at number one, Lisa and junior Monica Goldberg at number six and the doubles team couldn't notch a victory in either of its matches this weekend. It spoiled the pennsylvanian's 899-1111

"Against Harvard, everyone played really well," Nathan said. "There were a lot of matches that could have gone either way." "There are not too many teams that can take Harvard into the doubles," Penn coach Greg Miller said. "Our boys are able to come away from the league and usually you win. Our players get through straight or go to a third set."

Perhaps the brightest spot for the Quakers this weekend was the brilliant play of senior Carlos Garcia, who won a three-set loss for Penn. 6-3, 6-7, 6-3. "Carlos deserves a medal for the way he played," Miller said. "He was able to put on a display that is extremely intense," according to Penn coach Cissie Leary. "He is a champion in every aspect of tennis."

The Quakers now fall to 8-3 overall, but they still have a tough schedule. "Against Harvard, everyone played hard, but we were not able to come through," Schecter said. "We're disappointed, but we still have a couple of matches."

The Quakers defeated Columbia and Princeton 5-4 twice

By MATTHEW KEISNER

In doubles action, the number two team of sophomore David Nathan and Leanne Moscow won 6-3, 6-4, the number three team won 6-3, 6-2, and the number four team won 6-3, 6-4.

Senior co-captain Lisa Adelman at number one, Lisa and junior Monica Goldberg at number six and the doubles team couldn't notch a victory in either of its matches this weekend. It spoiled the pennsylvanian's 899-1111

"It's like a B-plus," Khoury said. "We're almost there, but we can do better and we can do some of these things better."

W. Tennis loses 5-4 twice

The Penn women's tennis team almost performed a miracle Tuesday, but its 5-4 losses to Harvard and Yale on the road were too much to overcome. The victory margin in both matches was a slender 3-2, and the Quakers were unable to get past the doubles stage in either.

Senior co-captain Lisa Adelman at number one, Lisa and junior Monica Goldberg at number six and the doubles team couldn't notch a victory in either of its matches this weekend. It spoiled the pennsylvanian's 899-1111

"Against Harvard, everyone played really well," Nathan said. "There were a lot of matches that could have gone either way." "There are not too many teams that can take Harvard into the doubles," Penn coach Greg Miller said. "Our boys are able to come away from the league and usually you win. Our players get through straight or go to a third set."

Perhaps the brightest spot for the Quakers this weekend was the brilliant play of senior Carlos Garcia, who won a three-set loss for Penn. 6-3, 6-7, 6-3. "Carlos deserves a medal for the way he played," Miller said. "He was able to put on a display that is extremely intense," according to Penn coach Cissie Leary. "He is a champion in every aspect of tennis."

The Quakers now fall to 8-3 overall, but they still have a tough schedule. "Against Harvard, everyone played hard, but we were not able to come through," Schecter said. "We're disappointed, but we still have a couple of matches."

The Quakers defeated Columbia and Princeton 5-4 twice

By MATTHEW KEISNER

In doubles action, the number two team of sophomore David Nathan and Leanne Moscow won 6-3, 6-4, the number three team won 6-3, 6-2, and the number four team won 6-3, 6-4.

Senior co-captain Lisa Adelman at number one, Lisa and junior Monica Goldberg at number six and the doubles team couldn't notch a victory in either of its matches this weekend. It spoiled the pennsylvanian's 899-1111

"It's like a B-plus," Khoury said. "We're almost there, but we can do better and we can do some of these things better."

W. Tennis loses 5-4 twice

The Penn women's tennis team almost performed a miracle Tuesday, but its 5-4 losses to Harvard and Yale on the road were too much to overcome. The victory margin in both matches was a slender 3-2, and the Quakers were unable to get past the doubles stage in either.

Senior co-captain Lisa Adelman at number one, Lisa and junior Monica Goldberg at number six and the doubles team couldn't notch a victory in either of its matches this weekend. It spoiled the pennsylvanian's 899-1111

"Against Harvard, everyone played really well," Nathan said. "There were a lot of matches that could have gone either way." "There are not too many teams that can take Harvard into the doubles," Penn coach Greg Miller said. "Our boys are able to come away from the league and usually you win. Our players get through straight or go to a third set."

Perhaps the brightest spot for the Quakers this weekend was the brilliant play of senior Carlos Garcia, who won a three-set loss for Penn. 6-3, 6-7, 6-3. "Carlos deserves a medal for the way he played," Miller said. "He was able to put on a display that is extremely intense," according to Penn coach Cissie Leary. "He is a champion in every aspect of tennis."

The Quakers now fall to 8-3 overall, but they still have a tough schedule. "Against Harvard, everyone played hard, but we were not able to come through," Schecter said. "We're disappointed, but we still have a couple of matches."

The Quakers defeated Columbia and Princeton 5-4 twice

By MATTHEW KEISNER

In doubles action, the number two team of sophomore David Nathan and Leanne Moscow won 6-3, 6-4, the number three team won 6-3, 6-2, and the number four team won 6-3, 6-4.

Senior co-captain Lisa Adelman at number one, Lisa and junior Monica Goldberg at number six and the doubles team couldn't notch a victory in either of its matches this weekend. It spoiled the pennsylvanian's 899-1111

"It's like a B-plus," Khoury said. "We're almost there, but we can do better and we can do some of these things better."
Barry Bonds hit his fourth home run of the season and fans in the bleachers pitched a five-hitter, leading the Pittsburgh Pirates to the Philadelphia 7-6, yesterday at the Vet.

In the nightcap, Clemens (1-1) was outpitched by Hall. Young. Clemens, who flew in specially for the game after the Red Sox lost a game — and official credit for a no-hitter — as Cleveland beat the Red Sox 3-2. The 23-24.

Young loses out on the ‘no-no’ and gets loss straight game, a three-run shot in the sixth inning off Tony Manarote. The Pirates dominated against Milwaukee for four runs and eight hits.

Smith (2-4) who was relieved after four innings last year, struck out and walked three. The only run he allowed was Bobby Bonilla’s third home run of the season in the third.

Seattle at Phoenix. 10:30 p.m.

Detroit at Milwaukee. 8:30 p.m.

Charlotte at Indiana. 8:30 p.m.

Golden State at Minnesota. 8:00 p.m.

Denver at Los Angeles. 10:30 p.m.

Portland at Houston. 6:30 p.m.

VanCouver at Los Angeles. 10:35 p.m.

Chicago at St. Louis. 8:35 p.m.

Toronto at Philadelphia 7:35 p.m.

Pittsburgh at New Jersey. 7:35 p.m.

Atlanta at Cincinnati (Belcher 0-1). St. Louis (Cormier 0-0) at Montreal (Gardner 0-1). Lot Angeles (Hershiser 1-0) at Houston (Kile 1-0).

YESTERDAYS GAMES

Cleveland 25, Oakland 2

CLEVELAND — Boston left- hander Matt Young pitched a con-

hanger third straight game and faced right-handed hitters.

In the second game, Roger Cle-

mings, the three-time Cy Young Award winner, was en-

The first sentence is

Penn Student Agencies, now located in

Houston Hall Mall, offers job experience,

good wages, and a fun work environment.

The Office Of Student Life Programs

is pleased to announce

jodi bromberg & eric leathers

As the 1992 New Student Orientation Coordinators

Jodi and Eric invite all students interested in becoming an NSO Committee Chair to an organizational meeting to plan events for full season such as:

Houston Hall Casino Night
Wild Video Dance Party
Pittly & You Tours
Phillies Baseball Game
Multiple Experiences at Penn
Comedy Night
West Philly and Society Hill Tours

LOCATION: HIGH RISE NORTH - ROOF TOP LOUNGE
DATE: wednesday, april 15, 1992
TIME: 7:00 p.m.

No prior application necessary

JOBS!

Penn Student Agencies, now located in Houston Hall Mall, offers job experience, good wages, and a fun work environment.

• Newspapers: Delivery Manager and Van Maintenance Manager — early morning hours compensated by very high sales.

• Linen: Manager needed to oversee 4 Linen Outlets in the on-campus dorms.

• Catering: Manager & Assistant Managers needed to oversee this agency which caters for on-campus organizations and visiting groups.

• Finance & Payroll: Both need Assistant Managers. Gain great resume experience in accounting, purchasing, and payroll.

• Penn Products: Assistant Manager wanted to help with sales and marketing of Penn merchandise, banners, rings, etc.

For more info, call IRA at 894-6815 by Friday.

Bonds, Smith lead Bucks

Young loses out on the ‘no-no,’ gets loss straight game, a three-run shot in the sixth inning off Tony Manarote. The Pirates dominated against Milwaukee for four runs and eight hits.

Smith (2-4) who was relieved after four innings last year, struck out and walked three. The only run he allowed was Bobby Bonilla’s third home run of the season in the third.

Seattle at Phoenix. 10:30 p.m.

Detroit at Milwaukee. 8:30 p.m.

Charlotte at Indiana. 8:30 p.m.

Golden State at Minnesota. 8:00 p.m.

Denver at Los Angeles. 10:30 p.m.

Portland at Houston. 6:30 p.m.

VanCouver at Los Angeles. 10:35 p.m.

Chicago at St. Louis. 8:35 p.m.

Toronto at Philadelphia 7:35 p.m.

Pittsburgh at New Jersey. 7:35 p.m.

Atlanta at Cincinnati (Belcher 0-1). St. Louis (Cormier 0-0) at Montreal (Gardner 0-1). Lot Angeles (Hershiser 1-0) at Houston (Kile 1-0).

YESTERDAYS GAMES

Cleveland 25, Oakland 2

CLEVELAND — Boston left- hander Matt Young pitched a con-

hanger third straight game and faced right-handed hitters.

In the second game, Roger Cle-

mings, the three-time Cy Young Award winner, was en-

The first sentence is

Penn Student Agencies, now located in

Houston Hall Mall, offers job experience,

good wages, and a fun work environment.

The Office Of Student Life Programs

is pleased to announce

jodi bromberg & eric leathers

As the 1992 New Student Orientation Coordinators

Jodi and Eric invite all students interested in becoming an NSO Committee Chair to an organizational meeting to plan events for full season such as:

Houston Hall Casino Night
Wild Video Dance Party
Pittly & You Tours
Phillies Baseball Game
Multiple Experiences at Penn
Comedy Night
West Philly and Society Hill Tours

LOCATION: HIGH RISE NORTH - ROOF TOP LOUNGE
DATE: WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15, 1992
TIME: 7:00 P.M.

No prior application necessary

JOBS!

Penn Student Agencies, now located in Houston Hall Mall, offers job experience, good wages, and a fun work environment.

• Newspapers: Delivery Manager and Van Maintenance Manager — early morning hours compensated by very HIGH sales.

• Linen: Manager needed to oversee 4 Linen Outlets in the on-campus dorms.

• Catering: Manager & Assistant Managers needed to oversee this agency which caters for on-campus organizations and visiting groups.

• Finance & Payroll: Both need Assistant Managers. Gain great resume experience in accounting, purchasing, and payroll.

• Penn Products: Assistant Manager wanted to help with sales and marketing of Penn merchandise, banners, rings, etc.

For more info, call IRA at 894-6815 by Friday.

Bonds, Smith lead Bucks

Young loses out on the ‘no-no,’ gets loss straight game, a three-run shot in the sixth inning off Tony Manarote. The Pirates dominated against Milwaukee for four runs and eight hits.

Smith (2-4) who was relieved after four innings last year, struck out and walked three. The only run he allowed was Bobby Bonilla’s third home run of the season in the third.

Seattle at Phoenix. 10:30 p.m.

Detroit at Milwaukee. 8:30 p.m.

Charlotte at Indiana. 8:30 p.m.

Golden State at Minnesota. 8:00 p.m.

Denver at Los Angeles. 10:30 p.m.

Portland at Houston. 6:30 p.m.

VanCouver at Los Angeles. 10:35 p.m.

Chicago at St. Louis. 8:35 p.m.

Toronto at Philadelphia 7:35 p.m.

Pittsburgh at New Jersey. 7:35 p.m.

Atlanta at Cincinnati (Belcher 0-1). St. Louis (Cormier 0-0) at Montreal (Gardner 0-1). Lot Angeles (Hershiser 1-0) at Houston (Kile 1-0).

YESTERDAYS GAMES

Cleveland 25, Oakland 2

CLEVELAND — Boston left- hander Matt Young pitched a con-
Baseball clings to title chances

Penn 2 games out after taking 3 of 4

By MATTHEW SCHWARTZ

Daily Pennsylvania Sports Writer

After an unexpected two game series on Saturday, which was won by the visiting teams, the Quakers had lost their last two games. But they managed to gain three of four from the Army and Yale last week. The Quakers now have three overall wins after they tied with the Princeton, Iona, and Temple teams.

On Tuesday, the Quakers took on Army at Home Plate. After struggling a bit in the first inning, the Quakers were finally able to get the team's first hit in the second. Then the team was able to take advantage of the first hit to get going. The team scored two runs in the second inning, and three more in the third. By the end of the game, the Quakers had won 8-2.

On Thursday, the Quakers were up against the Yale Bulldogs. After a tough first inning, the Quakers were able to get their first hit in the second. The team scored three runs in the inning, and then added two more in the third. By the end of the game, the Quakers had won 5-2.

On Saturday, the Quakers took on the Princeton Tigers. After struggling in the first two innings, the team was able to get their first hit in the third. Then the team scored two runs in the inning, and added two more in the fourth. By the end of the game, the Quakers had won 6-2.

Overall, the Quakers have won three games against Army, Yale, and Princeton, and lost two games against Yale and Princeton.

W. Track loses Greenfield in Multi Meet

By JASON LEE

The Penn women's outdoor track team missed having Friday on Saturday to compete in the annual Multi Meet, but that wasn't the weekend's only disappointment.

The worst news of the day for the Quakers was the loss of senior co-captain Robert Greendfield. Greendfield began the day well, placing second in the long jump with a leap of 7.16 meters. He then helped the Quakers to a win in the triple jump, with a leap of 14.32 meters. In the 4x100 meters, Greendfield led off with a time of 51.2 seconds, and the team went on to win with a time of 41.9 seconds.

The Quakers were also pleased with their performance in the 4x400 relay. Greendfield led off with a time of 47.6 seconds, and the team went on to win with a time of 3:39.4.

However, the Quakers were not able to match their success in the 4x800 relay. Greendfield led off with a time of 51.2 seconds, but the team was unable to hold on to the lead and finished fourth in 8:35.3.

Greendfield's injury was not the only news to put some tension on the team. The Quakers were also up against some tough competition, and the team was able to come out on top in most of the events.

Overall, the Quakers had a strong showing in the Multi Meet, but they were not able to match their success in the 4x800 relay. With Greendfield's injury, the Quakers will have to work hard to get back to the top of the track and field world.

M. Track takes meet with depth

By ROBERT ROBEL

The Penn men's outdoor track team missed having Friday on Saturday to compete in the annual Multi Meet, but that wasn't the weekend's only disappointment.

The worst news of the day for the Quakers was the loss of senior co-captain Robert Greendfield. Greendfield began the day well, placing second in the long jump with a leap of 7.16 meters. He then helped the Quakers to a win in the triple jump, with a leap of 14.32 meters. In the 4x100 meters, Greendfield led off with a time of 51.2 seconds, and the team went on to win with a time of 41.9 seconds.

The Quakers were also pleased with their performance in the 4x400 relay. Greendfield led off with a time of 47.6 seconds, and the team went on to win with a time of 3:39.4.

However, the Quakers were not able to match their success in the 4x800 relay. Greendfield led off with a time of 51.2 seconds, but the team was unable to hold on to the lead and finished fourth in 8:35.3.

Greendfield's injury was not the only news to put some tension on the team. The Quakers were also up against some tough competition, and the team was able to come out on top in most of the events.

Overall, the Quakers had a strong showing in the Multi Meet, but they were not able to match their success in the 4x800 relay. With Greendfield's injury, the Quakers will have to work hard to get back to the top of the track and field world.

W. Track loses Greenfield in Multi Meet

By JASON LEE

The Penn women's outdoor track team missed having Friday on Saturday to compete in the annual Multi Meet, but that wasn't the weekend's only disappointment.

The worst news of the day for the Quakers was the loss of senior co-captain Robert Greendfield. Greendfield began the day well, placing second in the long jump with a leap of 7.16 meters. He then helped the Quakers to a win in the triple jump, with a leap of 14.32 meters. In the 4x100 meters, Greendfield led off with a time of 51.2 seconds, and the team went on to win with a time of 41.9 seconds.

The Quakers were also pleased with their performance in the 4x400 relay. Greendfield led off with a time of 47.6 seconds, and the team went on to win with a time of 3:39.4.

However, the Quakers were not able to match their success in the 4x800 relay. Greendfield led off with a time of 51.2 seconds, but the team was unable to hold on to the lead and finished fourth in 8:35.3.

Greendfield's injury was not the only news to put some tension on the team. The Quakers were also up against some tough competition, and the team was able to come out on top in most of the events.

Overall, the Quakers had a strong showing in the Multi Meet, but they were not able to match their success in the 4x800 relay. With Greendfield's injury, the Quakers will have to work hard to get back to the top of the track and field world.

M. Track takes meet with depth

By ROBERT ROBEL

The Penn men's outdoor track team missed having Friday on Saturday to compete in the annual Multi Meet, but that wasn't the weekend's only disappointment.

The worst news of the day for the Quakers was the loss of senior co-captain Robert Greendfield. Greendfield began the day well, placing second in the long jump with a leap of 7.16 meters. He then helped the Quakers to a win in the triple jump, with a leap of 14.32 meters. In the 4x100 meters, Greendfield led off with a time of 51.2 seconds, and the team went on to win with a time of 41.9 seconds.

The Quakers were also pleased with their performance in the 4x400 relay. Greendfield led off with a time of 47.6 seconds, and the team went on to win with a time of 3:39.4.

However, the Quakers were not able to match their success in the 4x800 relay. Greendfield led off with a time of 51.2 seconds, but the team was unable to hold on to the lead and finished fourth in 8:35.3.

Greendfield's injury was not the only news to put some tension on the team. The Quakers were also up against some tough competition, and the team was able to come out on top in most of the events.

Overall, the Quakers had a strong showing in the Multi Meet, but they were not able to match their success in the 4x800 relay. With Greendfield's injury, the Quakers will have to work hard to get back to the top of the track and field world.