The JIO - by law - is shrouded in veil of secrecy

By JORDANA HORN

Daily Pennsylvanian Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA
Tuesday, October 24, 1993

Valley College reporter Jordan A. Horn investigates the University's Judicial Inquiry Office. The University's Judicial System, in a section titled, "Confidential Records and Procedures," states that "The identity of the individual in particular reviews before the..." and that, "Even last names of the judicial system's names and positions are not released." The case lies within the eighth chapter of the University's Charter of the Student Judicial System, in a section titled, "Confidential Records and Procedures." Two paragraphs briefly and vaguely state that the doors on the University's judicial process is "the inquisitive eyes of the general public." "The identity of the individuals in particular..." and adds, "Even last names of the judicial system's names and positions are not released." The Telecommunications Bill of Rights and Privacy Act of 1996, as amended, act as the law.

According to many University officials, it's as simple as that. But it isn't that simple. What is FERPA, or, as it is more commonly referred to, the Buckley Amendment? And how does it apply to what goes on behind the closed doors of the JIO? Depending on who you talk to, it is difficult to determine why these doors of information are locked shut.

Bound to Secrecy?

The Buckley Amendment states that federal law makes certain educational records and test information about students are confidential and that special procedures must be followed to release such information. To request or obtain copies of educational records, the student or his or her legal representative must sign a written request to the University. The law applies to any school, public or private, which receives federal funding - including the University.

The definition of "education records" according to the law, however, has fluctuated over the years. According to a 1986 amendment of the act, the term means "those records that are 1) related to a student, and 2) maintained by an educational agency or institution by a party acting on the agency's behalf." That definition includes academic transcripts, test information, enrollment records, financial aid records, and other matters. If a school does not follow these special procedures, it could lose federal funding. The act also states the law is "not intended to interfere with the operation of the University's student discipline proceedings." The law allows the school to release information to the student's parents if the student is under 18 years old.

But it isn't that simple. What is FERPA, or, as it is more commonly referred to, the Buckley Amendment? And how does it apply to what goes on behind the closed doors of the JIO? Depending on who you talk to, it is difficult to determine why these doors of information are locked shut.

Bound to Secrecy?

The Buckley Amendment states that federal law makes certain educational records and test information about students are confidential and that special procedures must be followed to release such information. To request or obtain copies of educational records, the student or his or her legal representative must sign a written request to the University. The law applies to any school, public or private, which receives federal funding - including the University.

The definition of "education records" according to the law, however, has fluctuated over the years. According to a 1986 amendment of the act, the term means "those records that are 1) related to a student, and 2) maintained by an educational agency or institution by a party acting on the agency's behalf." That definition includes academic transcripts, test information, enrollment records, financial aid records, and other matters. If a school does not follow these special procedures, it could lose federal funding. The act also states the law is "not intended to interfere with the operation of the University's student discipline proceedings." The law allows the school to release information to the student's parents if the student is under 18 years old.

The definition of "education records" according to the law, however, has fluctuated over the years. According to a 1986 amendment of the act, the term means "those records that are 1) related to a student, and 2) maintained by an educational agency or institution by a party acting on the agency's behalf." That definition includes academic transcripts, test information, enrollment records, financial aid records, and other matters. If a school does not follow these special procedures, it could lose federal funding. The act also states the law is "not intended to interfere with the operation of the University's student discipline proceedings." The law allows the school to release information to the student's parents if the student is under 18 years old.

The definition of "education records" according to the law, however, has fluctuated over the years. According to a 1986 amendment of the act, the term means "those records that are 1) related to a student, and 2) maintained by an educational agency or institution by a party acting on the agency's behalf." That definition includes academic transcripts, test information, enrollment records, financial aid records, and other matters. If a school does not follow these special procedures, it could lose federal funding. The act also states the law is "not intended to interfere with the operation of the University's student discipline proceedings." The law allows the school to release information to the student's parents if the student is under 18 years old.

The definition of "education records" according to the law, however, has fluctuated over the years. According to a 1986 amendment of the act, the term means "those records that are 1) related to a student, and 2) maintained by an educational agency or institution by a party acting on the agency's behalf." That definition includes academic transcripts, test information, enrollment records, financial aid records, and other matters. If a school does not follow these special procedures, it could lose federal funding. The act also states the law is "not intended to interfere with the operation of the University's student discipline proceedings." The law allows the school to release information to the student's parents if the student is under 18 years old.
CAMPUS EVENTS are listed by phone. 25 word limit Deadline Business Office, 4015 Walnut St., at The Group has moved. Now meeting Wednesday, October 27th, 4.00 PM. A chance to discuss for students of all nationalities interested in studying overseas - don't miss the meeting. All Students are invited.

28.30 PM refreshments in the study room). 6.30 PM refreshments will be served at the event. Latin Prose and Poetry, sponsored by Sigma Lambda Upsilon, will be held at 8.00 PM. POET MICHAEL Blumenthal will be the featured speaker. Professor Richard Sloan will provide the introduction.

ALL STUDENTS interested in the following events are invited. Attend one or all. These events are planned by the Students' Association. These events are open to students only, unless noted otherwise. We encourage you to come and see for yourself.

CAMPUS EVENTS

TUESDAY

1.ポーク娘: 9:00 PM. Center East

2. WEDNESDAY

1. Bereavement Groups
2. Assertiveness Groups
3. Adoptee Support Group
4. Overwhelmed By Food
5. Relationship Therapy Group

THURSDAY

1. Bereavement Groups
2. Assertiveness Groups
3. Adoptee Support Group
4. Overwhelmed By Food
5. Relationship Therapy Group

FRIDAY

1. Bereavement Groups
2. Assertiveness Groups
3. Adoptee Support Group
4. Overwhelmed By Food
5. Relationship Therapy Group

LOCAL EVENTS

1. Bereavement Groups
2. Assertiveness Groups
3. Adoptee Support Group
4. Overwhelmed By Food
5. Relationship Therapy Group

SATURDAY

1. Bereavement Groups
2. Assertiveness Groups
3. Adoptee Support Group
4. Overwhelmed By Food
5. Relationship Therapy Group

SUNDAY

1. Bereavement Groups
2. Assertiveness Groups
3. Adoptee Support Group
4. Overwhelmed By Food
5. Relationship Therapy Group

Magazines: U. gives little bang for buck

For Big-C, Acacia house is home

The Daily Pennsylvanian Staff Writer

The Acacia Fraternity may no longer be a presence on the University of Pennsylvania's campus. The group, which was founded in 1871, has decided to disband, citing financial difficulties as its primary reason for the decision. The group's national leaders have announced that they will dissolve the chapter at the University of Pennsylvania on September 30, 1993. The group has been on campus since 1871 and has been a fixture of University life for many years.

The decision to dissolve the chapter was made after a series of meetings between the national leaders and the University's administration. The group had been struggling with financial problems for several years, and the national leaders felt that the chapter was no longer able to continue.

The dissolution of the chapter will be a setback for University life, as the group has been an integral part of the community for many years. The group has been involved in many community service projects, and has been a source of support for students in need.

The University administration has expressed its regret at the loss of the group, and is working to find ways to support the students who were involved in the group.

The decision to dissolve the chapter is a difficult one, but the national leaders felt that it was necessary to ensure the continued well-being of the group. The University administration is working to find ways to support the students who were involved in the group, and to find ways to support the community in the future.
By JORDANA BORN

Like a game, there are rules to be played by. In every case brought before the Judicial Inquiry Officer, there are certain things that are allowed to be disclosed to the public, and others that are strictly prohibited. There are different rules for the respondent - the person accused - than the complainant - the person who makes the allegations. Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant, according to the University's associate general counsel, Neil Hamburg. "There is a significant inequity in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.

"Both are entitled by law to have their identities protected in the context of public documents. But there are significant inequities in the privilege accorded to the respondent as opposed to the complainant," Hamburg said.
Finding a Job In Advertising representatives from:

J. WALTER THOMPSON KETCHUM ADVERTISING

Wednesday, Oct. 27 • 7:00 - 9:00
Ben Franklin Room
Howard Hall

Sign up with Jane Collins in CPPS

Tickets $10 w/PENN ID
$15 general public

on sale now @
Locust Walk Discourse

PHOTO CENTER

FREE 2ND SET OF PRINTS EVERY WEDNESDAY

Receive a second set of prints FREE with any exposure roll of 110, 126, disc or 35mm color print (C-41 process only) left for developing and printing at our 3rd or 4th size only.

Kodak Colorwash

Kodalux not included.

SPEC Concerts & Class Boards present

The Skimmer Night Concert

De La Soul

PLUS THE CALL TO QUEST

Friday, November 5th doors open @ 7:00
rvine Auditorium

Tickets $10 w/PENN ID
$15 general public
on sale now @
Locust Walk Discourse

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA
The Writing Program

The Philomathean Society present

a reading by
MICHAEL BLUMENTHAL Author, English Professor, and The Wages of Goodness.

Tuesday, October 27, 1993
6:00 - 8:00
2nd Floor, College Hall
Refreshments

SOPHOMORES
The Committee on Individualized Studies and Associate Dean Matthew Santricco cordially invite all

CAS students with INDIVIDUALIZED MAJORS and students planning such majors to a meeting on

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1993
4:30 P.M. - 6:00 P.M.
Ben Franklin Room
2nd Floor, Howard Hall

Warm up with a Fluffy Friend

25% OFF
All Plush Animals

Every Thursday - Tuesday, October 26

Halloween Decorations

Save up to $10

HOUSTON HALL Cards & Gifts • 331 Spruce St., Lower Level

PUNCH BOWL INTRADO MEETING

TUESDAY 26th 7PM

HOUSTON HALL
UA meeting sets a number of precedents

For the first time, new freshman members had to pledge to represent constituents, and a resolution passed permitting the outing of members who miss meetings.

Crime Reports

- Bomb Threat
  - October 21 - An anonymous caller said there was a bomb in Meyerman Hall at about 18:10 p.m. Philadelphia police responded and found nothing suspicious.

- Film Flan
  - October 21 - A medical student was found taking money out of his MAC card at about 18:20 p.m. He gave the two con-

- Theft
  - October 24 - A student had his unattended Apple Power Book portable computer stolen in the new Library between 2 and 3 a.m.

- October 25 - An anonymous caller said there was a bomb on campus.

Psi Upsilon

CASTLE from page 1

Psi Upsilon will be welcomed back to the University's Greek sys-

T he Daily Pennsylvanian's Advertising Production Department is undergoing a major expansion. We have a number of positions available for students interested in designing ads for the paper. We're looking for motivated, creative people who want to gain the knowledge and experience we can provide. These are non-paid positions which require a commitment of 8 to 10 hours per week.

If you're interested in advertising, marketing, or design, there's no better place to get this kind of real world experience. Even if you're interested in other fields, desktop publishing and graphic presentations are as common today as copiers and fax machines. You'll get to work with some of the most creative, talented, and motivated people on campus. Plus, there's free pizza and drinks every Friday.

Advertisers spend thousands of dollars every week advertising in the DP, and you can turn their ideas into creative, effective ads. You will work with cutting edge computer technology including state-of-the-art Macintoshes and industry-wide standards in software. There's an experienced graphic arts professional on staff to answer any of your questions and help you improve your design skills. You'll be trained in all aspects of print advertising design, including:

- Graphics
  - Typography
  - Layout
  - Computer Illustration
  - Photo Manipulation

The Daily Pennsylvanian has been published for the past 109 years. Don't you think it's time you joined?

If you're interested or just want to hear more, come to our open house/sign-up session Thursday, October 28th at 5 o'clock at 4015 Walnut Street or call Eric Einstein aftemoons at 896-6581.
Policy on Submissions
The Daily Pennsylvania reserves the right to condense all letters and artwork. All submitted material becomes the property of The Daily Pennsylvania and represents the opinions of the authors. The Daily Pennsylvania does not accept anonymous letters or artwork.

Stay Safe
To the Editor: The College of General Studies studen-test has been administered to the students of this college, and we wish to address the concerns and acknowledge the problems that have arisen.

I want to make clear to you that these problems are being addressed and will be resolved. Please feel free to contact me at any time with your concerns.

RICHARD HENDRICK
Associate Dean
SAC/Office of the President

Based in Principles
The College of General Studies' frequent attacks on policies regarding homosexuality and the College's involvement in the gay community are not without merit. We believe that attempts to ignore or downplay the issue are unwarranted and damaging to the College and its students. The College administers a group of homophobia, and this is the only way to deal with it. The College is not just a place for the homophobes; it is a place for everyone, and we believe that it should be treated as such. We call on the College to take action to address this problem, and we encourage all students to stand together and fight for a better future.

DANA BROWN
Student
College of General Studies

A Gray Matter
To the Editor: From time to time, readers may wonder if there are any reliable sources of information on the topic of homosexuality. The APA, for instance, has published a large number of books and articles on the subject, but these are not always easy to find.

I am interested in the role of the APA in the fight against homophobia. The APA has been a leader in the fight against homophobia, and its work has been recognized by many organizations.

PAM GREBOW
Assistant Professor
SAC/Office of the President

Letters to the Editor

Policy on Submissions
The Daily Pennsylvania reserves the right to condense all letters and artwork. All submitted material becomes the property of The Daily Pennsylvania and represents the opinions of the authors. The Daily Pennsylvania does not accept anonymous letters or artwork.

Stay Safe
To the Editor: The College of General Studies students' test has been administered to the students of this college, and we wish to address the concerns and acknowledge the problems that have arisen.

I want to make clear to you that these problems are being addressed and will be resolved. Please feel free to contact me at any time with your concerns.

RICHARD HENDRICK
Associate Dean
SAC/Office of the President

Based in Principles
The College of General Studies' frequent attacks on policies regarding homosexuality and the College's involvement in the gay community are not without merit. We believe that attempts to ignore or downplay the issue are unwarranted and damaging to the College and its students. The College administers a group of homophobia, and this is the only way to deal with it. The College is not just a place for the homophobes; it is a place for everyone, and we believe that it should be treated as such. We call on the College to take action to address this problem, and we encourage all students to stand together and fight for a better future.

DANA BROWN
Student
College of General Studies

A Gray Matter
To the Editor: From time to time, readers may wonder if there are any reliable sources of information on the topic of homosexuality. The APA, for instance, has published a large number of books and articles on the subject, but these are not always easy to find.

I am interested in the role of the APA in the fight against homophobia. The APA has been a leader in the fight against homophobia, and its work has been recognized by many organizations.

PAM GREBOW
Assistant Professor
SAC/Office of the President

Letters to the Editor

Policy on Submissions
The Daily Pennsylvania reserves the right to condense all letters and artwork. All submitted material becomes the property of The Daily Pennsylvania and represents the opinions of the authors. The Daily Pennsylvania does not accept anonymous letters or artwork.

Stay Safe
To the Editor: The College of General Studies students' test has been administered to the students of this college, and we wish to address the concerns and acknowledge the problems that have arisen.

I want to make clear to you that these problems are being addressed and will be resolved. Please feel free to contact me at any time with your concerns.

RICHARD HENDRICK
Associate Dean
SAC/Office of the President

Based in Principles
The College of General Studies' frequent attacks on policies regarding homosexuality and the College's involvement in the gay community are not without merit. We believe that attempts to ignore or downplay the issue are unwarranted and damaging to the College and its students. The College administers a group of homophobia, and this is the only way to deal with it. The College is not just a place for the homophobes; it is a place for everyone, and we believe that it should be treated as such. We call on the College to take action to address this problem, and we encourage all students to stand together and fight for a better future.

DANA BROWN
Student
College of General Studies

A Gray Matter
To the Editor: From time to time, readers may wonder if there are any reliable sources of information on the topic of homosexuality. The APA, for instance, has published a large number of books and articles on the subject, but these are not always easy to find.

I am interested in the role of the APA in the fight against homophobia. The APA has been a leader in the fight against homophobia, and its work has been recognized by many organizations.

PAM GREBOW
Assistant Professor
SAC/Office of the President

Letters to the Editor

Policy on Submissions
The Daily Pennsylvania reserves the right to condense all letters and artwork. All submitted material becomes the property of The Daily Pennsylvania and represents the opinions of the authors. The Daily Pennsylvania does not accept anonymous letters or artwork.

Stay Safe
To the Editor: The College of General Studies students' test has been administered to the students of this college, and we wish to address the concerns and acknowledge the problems that have arisen.

I want to make clear to you that these problems are being addressed and will be resolved. Please feel free to contact me at any time with your concerns.

RICHARD HENDRICK
Associate Dean
SAC/Office of the President

Based in Principles
The College of General Studies' frequent attacks on policies regarding homosexuality and the College's involvement in the gay community are not without merit. We believe that attempts to ignore or downplay the issue are unwarranted and damaging to the College and its students. The College administers a group of homophobia, and this is the only way to deal with it. The College is not just a place for the homophobes; it is a place for everyone, and we believe that it should be treated as such. We call on the College to take action to address this problem, and we encourage all students to stand together and fight for a better future.

DANA BROWN
Student
College of General Studies

A Gray Matter
To the Editor: From time to time, readers may wonder if there are any reliable sources of information on the topic of homosexuality. The APA, for instance, has published a large number of books and articles on the subject, but these are not always easy to find.

I am interested in the role of the APA in the fight against homophobia. The APA has been a leader in the fight against homophobia, and its work has been recognized by many organizations.

PAM GREBOW
Assistant Professor
SAC/Office of the President

Letters to the Editor

Policy on Submissions
The Daily Pennsylvania reserves the right to condense all letters and artwork. All submitted material becomes the property of The Daily Pennsylvania and represents the opinions of the authors. The Daily Pennsylvania does not accept anonymous letters or artwork.

Stay Safe
To the Editor: The College of General Studies students' test has been administered to the students of this college, and we wish to address the concerns and acknowledge the problems that have arisen.

I want to make clear to you that these problems are being addressed and will be resolved. Please feel free to contact me at any time with your concerns.

RICHARD HENDRICK
Associate Dean
SAC/Office of the President

Based in Principles
The College of General Studies' frequent attacks on policies regarding homosexuality and the College's involvement in the gay community are not without merit. We believe that attempts to ignore or downplay the issue are unwarranted and damaging to the College and its students. The College administers a group of homophobia, and this is the only way to deal with it. The College is not just a place for the homophobes; it is a place for everyone, and we believe that it should be treated as such. We call on the College to take action to address this problem, and we encourage all students to stand together and fight for a better future.

DANA BROWN
Student
College of General Studies
F. Hockey does battle with No. 4 Maryland tonight

No. 4 from BACK PAGE

W. Soccer faces Blue Hens

FROM BACK PAGE

W. Tennis has inconsistent weekend at West Virginia

M. Tennis has good and bad weekend

ZEPPELIN FROM BACK PAGE

On Thursday, October 28, 1993

Penn feels that this can also work to Penn's advantage. "If you can pressure the defense, you can pressure the offense," he said. "It's a good time to start taking good care of yourself."

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talented team, but they have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Quakers are going to need a big effort from everyone, as they try to win their first road game of the season. The teams have not played well when traveling, as they have lost their last five road games.

The Blue Hens are a talent...
North and South Korea work for peace

WASHINGTON — North and South Korea reported reaching agreement yesterday on exchanging liaison officers as a first step toward resuming preliminary peace negotiations.

Also yesterday, South Korean Foreign Minister Han Song Jo said Seoul may approve a package deal in which Washington waives sanctions against North Korea in exchange for nuclear guarantees.

The announcement was the first sign of renewed optimism over prospects that North Korea is developing nuclear weapons. North Korea has hinted at limited inspections of its nuclear sites.

International experts say North Korea may have enough plutonium to make one or two atomic weapons by 1995. The North maintains, however, that its nuclear program is purely for peaceful purposes.

Clinton hosts Mubarak to discuss peace

WASHINGTON — President Clinton hosted Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak yesterday to discuss a possible Middle East peace plan, but their meeting produced no breakthrough.

Mubarak, a close aide of the late President Sadat, told reporters that he was seeking to forge a "grand peace" that would accommodate the Palestinians and the Palestinians themselves. He said he was "not satisfied" with the Clinton administration's efforts so far.

The meeting came as the United States continued to push for a peace agreement between Israel and the Palestinians. The two sides have been deadlocked for months over the issue of Palestinian self-rule.

Clinton aides said there was no indication that Mubarak was willing to make concessions on Palestinian self-rule.

NAFTA battle heats up in DC

WASHINGTON — Proponents of a proposed free trade agreement with Canada and Mexico, known as NAFTA, have begun a new round of hearings, but the future of the agreement remains uncertain.

The issue is one of the most hotly contested in Congress, with Republicans and Democrats on both sides weighing in. The agreement is opposed by some Democrats and supported by others, including President Clinton.

The hearings, which are being held by the Senate Finance Committee, are expected to last for several weeks. The committee is scheduled to vote on the agreement in late August, after which it will be considered by the full Senate.

Clinton opposes new funding for White House

WASHINGTON — President Clinton yesterday vetoed a bill that would have provided $1.2 billion in new funding for the White House.

The White House had requested the money to pay for new security measures, including the installation of a new computer system to track visitors. The president said the bill was unnecessary.

The 1997 budget, which is due to be signed into law next week, includes $1.2 billion for security upgrades.

French researchers uncover infectious path of AIDS virus

PARIS — French researchers said yesterday that they had discovered the infectious path of the AIDS virus, which they believe is a blood-borne disease.

The discovery, which was made by scientists at the Pasteur Institute in Paris, could lead to a vaccine against the virus.

The Pasteur Institute team said the discovery was a "major breakthrough" and that it could be used to create a vaccine against the virus.

The team has already reviewed the results of experiments on mice and has identified the infectious path of the virus in humans.

The Pasteur Institute said the discovery was a "major breakthrough" and that it could be used to create a vaccine against the virus.

The team has already reviewed the results of experiments on mice and has identified the infectious path of the virus in humans.
M. X-C finishes 2nd at Hepts tuneup

BY YSMENIA BENSON

On Saturday, the team was in the bullpen at the Daily Pennsylvanian Sports Writer's Heptagonal championships.

"We're going to sit back, rest, relax and get our heads on," said Charlie Powell, Penn’s cross country coach. "Kurt Sprouls ran well," said Hall. "He ran with us the whole way he could place the top man followed closely by senior co-captain Joe Hall and Terry McLean. "Kurt Sprouls ran well," said Hall. "He ran with us the whole way he couldn't believe how fast they were say- ing how they couldn't believe how fast they ran. My legs were tired but my head wasn't. "It seemed like everyone was excited." The Quakers are not planning on doing much of anything for the rest of the week to rest up for Friday. Workouts will consist of half- mile intervals in order to build speed both short and long. The Quakers are looking to gain an edge in the crucial first mile of the race where speed is essential to their racing strategy. "We're going to sit back, rest, relax, and get our heads on," Powell said. "That will be it for the week."
Children of the Corny

at the Harold Prince Theater

October 29 @ 8:00 pm

October 30 @ 7:00 pm and 9:30 pm

SALE

Monday October 23th - Wednesday October 27th

CANDY CORN

ON SALE FOR

99¢

12 OZ BAG

Houston Hall Cards & Gifts

3417 Spruce Street

Lower Level

“Asian Comfort Women”

Women Speak Out About Rape, Human Rights & Violence Against Women

Melita Sancho

Founder of the first women's coalition of the Filipinos,

&

Amorita Balajadia

One of the founding mothers of the Women's Movement in the Philippines

Tuesday, October 26th

7:30 pm, B-21 Stielier Hall

FREE!!!

Confidential Co-Sponsors: Cultural International Center, United Minorities Council,

Penn Women's Center, Domestic Violence Program, University Counseling Service,

For more information, call 82-3337

Office of International Programs

INFORMATION MEETING

PENN Abroad

KING'S COLLEGE

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

Meet Professor Richard Proudfoot, King's College

- Coursework available in English Literature
- Semester of your option
- Guaranteed Penn credit for undergraduates
- Financial aid for eligible students

Wednesday, October 27 • 4:30 p.m.

Pennlinnary, Bennett Hall

For more information contact a study abroad advisor in the Office of International Programs, 131 Bennett Hall, 766-6462

---

598-1111

DEADLINES & PAYMENT

AD RATES

Regular line classified ads are priced by the number of words.

1-2 words $1.00 per word

3-5 words $0.75 per word

6-10 words $0.50 per word

11 or more words $0.25 per word

Classified display ads are priced by size. See the rate sheet for more information.

TERMS & POLICIES

No refunds are given for cancelled classified ads. Check your ad the first day it runs. The Daily Pennsylvanian will only assume responsibility for errors in the first day an ad runs. Transfers or proofs are not supplied for classified ads.

AD CLASSIFIEDS

FOR RENT

Call (215) 898-6581

Regular line classified ads are priced by size. Call for rates.

FOR RENT

Spacious, 2 bedroom, high-rise apartment, large living room, 2 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, close to campus. Laundry facility 898-7705, or collect 215-696-8426.

FOR RENT

RENTAL WORLD

4025 Locust Street

Apartments and Townhouses

Available immediately. 747-2337

RENTAL WORLD

APARTMENTS IN CENTER CITY

Regular line classified ads are priced by size. Call for rates.

FOR RENT

APARTMENTS, MODERN. Suburban but Central Location. Great location, near local shopping, major highways, universities, Delaware River. $350-$450. Call 723-7333.

FOR RENT

APARTMENTS IN CENTER CITY.

RENTAL WORLD

4025 Locust Street

Apartments and Townhouses available immediately. 747-2337

FOR RENT

CAMPUS APARTMENTS

Apts. & Houses For Rent

382-1300

Free Door to Door Shuttle Service

SALES, 2 BEDROOM, 2 BATHROOMS, 2 LIVING ROOMS, 2 KITCHENS, 2 SALES, 2 APARTMENT, close to campus. Laundry facility 898-7705, or collect 215-696-8426.

FOR RENT

RENTAL WORLD

4025 Locust Street

Apartments and Townhouses available immediately. 747-2337

FOR RENT

APARTMENTS IN CENTER CITY.

RENTAL WORLD

4025 Locust Street

Apartments and Townhouses available immediately. 747-2337

FOR RENT

CAMPUS APARTMENTS

Apts. & Houses For Rent

382-1300

Free Door to Door Shuttle Service

WE MAKE LIVING A BREEZE!

FOR RENT

ROOMMATES

Attractive, Furnished Studio, 1 block from campus. Laundry facility 898-7705, or collect 215-696-8426.

FOR RENT

APARTMENT IN CENTER CITY

RENTAL WORLD

4025 Locust Street

Apartments and Townhouses available immediately. 747-2337

FOR RENT

CAMPUS APARTMENTS

Apts. & Houses For Rent

382-1300

Free Door to Door Shuttle Service
Viking defense dominates Bears, 19-12
Lamont wins All Manager of the Year; Stars and Flames triumph

The Minneapolis Vikings offense finally found its stride early in the fourth quarter, but the defense took over late in the game to ensure the win.

Austyn McMillan returned an interception to the 52 yard line, and the defense forced a fumble on the very next play, allowing the Vikings to score a field goal and take a 15-12 lead. The Bears' offense struggled to move the ball after that, and the Vikings' defense held firm to secure the victory.

By halftime, it was 14-14, but after two field goals in the third quarter, the Vikings took a 19-14 lead. In the fourth quarter, with 13 minutes left on the clock, the Bears had one more chance to tie the game, but with 1:52 left, the Vikings intercepted a pass and ran it back to midfield, effectively ending the Bears' chances of scoring.

So the Vikings went back to their defense, which dominated the game, allowing only 12 points. In total, the Vikings' defense forced three turnovers and held the Bears to 3-for-12 on third downs.

The Vikings' offense struggled throughout the game, but they managed to score two field goals and a touchdown. The defense, however, was the star of the show, holding the Bears to just 12 points.

Next week, the Vikings will face the Saints in a crucial matchup that could determine their playoff fate.

---

The New York Times Crossword Puzzle is presented by:

12 PIECE TURKEY DINNER PLATTER Choice of Roast or Soup Fresh Vegetables Anti-Mashed Potatoes

---

The method of solving a Rubik's cube involves rotating the layers in a specific order to align the colors. The solver must manipulate the cube by turning its faces clockwise or counterclockwise, and then count the number of moves needed to solve it. Each move consists of rotating a single face of the cube by 90 degrees. The goal is to solve the cube in as few moves as possible, typically within 20-30 moves for a proficient solver.

---

The New York Times Crossword Puzzle is presented by:
Volleyball in search of Big 5 title

By JED WALENTAS
Daily Pennsylvanian Sports Writer

By Saturday, the Quakers (11-4) will have an opportunity to win the Big Five. It's important from a confidence standpoint to beat Villanova as we head toward the big tournament.

Margaret Fenney
Penn correspondent

"Obviously, it's not as big as it's been," Penn senior captain Deven Austin said. "But we certainly like to win (the Big Five) this year. It's something that the team has not accomplished in Penn coach Margaret Feeney's tenure here."

The Quakers have played Villanova since 1914 and despite the Quakers' history with Villanova, many feel that the Big Five is not as important to the Quakers (11-4) as Ivy foes Cornell and Columbia waiting in the wings.

Austin said. "But, we'd certainly like to win the [Big Five] this year. It's something that's just waiting in the wings."

The Quakers' history with Villanova is not as important to the Quakers as it is for Ivy foes Cornell and Columbia waiting in the wings.

Austin said. "But, we'd certainly like to win the [Big Five] this year. It's something that's just waiting in the wings."