Opinion

Gordon Drizschillo says you should seize the day and keep your list of regrets short.

Summer Street Street uncovers the secrets of the atomic bomb (see review of Chain Reaction), Page 4

Sports

Miles Mack raise eyebrows at NFL training camp in Detroit.

Back Page

Quaker Shaker forced to leave campus.

By Jacky LaPlaca

For the last 20 years, caffeine and food have been available just steps off the wall — making the Quaker Shaker at Houston Hall a favorite study spot.

But after August 1, the popular eatery, which opened an 8,000 square-foot location on Locust and Laval Way will be forced to battle the heat and the move to a new business along with other student-run ventures.

University officials said the move is part of a comprehensive strategy for improving security on campus.

The university is planning to create a presence of children in the area.

"I have always felt as if the Quaker Shaker was an anchor for Penn students," said Principal Thomas Seamon. "By August, we will be able to rest assured that the building will be out of sight for a while after leaving the University for good.

The owners of the food truck said they wanted a location on July 17 that formalized their four-month lease. Goal stated that the first information the Quaker Shaker received about moving to one of the new on-campus locations was "many months ago."

"We're not sure why this came as a surprise to the students," said Goal. "The University had planned to re-locate this space as an area for student activities in the fall.

The current construction in the area of the University of Pennsylvania\'s campus food trucks will be eliminated in a new plan for vendors in the campus area.

According to Goal, the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) does not plan on competing with the campus food trucks.

The owners of the Quaker Shaker said the USDA food trucks presently located on 37th Street in Center City will not be affected.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

The university had originally planned to add another Quaker Shaker food truck to the campus area.

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.

"I'm happy the University is not completing a new vendor plan. It's not clear what they do plan on competing with as the food trucks presently stationed on campus are not ADA compliant."

"I'm glad that we will not have to go through this process again," said Goal. "It was a lot of work."

The new plan for vendors in the campus area will be completed by the fall semester of 1997.
I think concepts that are so forgotten by some. If you are have done much In the way of hieving thi dark. how can we support omething we know so said the community's support. situati« •? • Edin town letters and artwork represent the opinions of their authors and are completely k . But Fry refused to comment on the num- Letters should be shorter than 300 words, and printed legibly or typed welcomes comments from the University communi- A hundred years in high school when the words ' 15 years old'' and ty to chat with cute Haverford College guys while read- August, and instead of fantasizing sign of increased humidity and swarms of mosquitoes, a fifty-cent raise. But the grandeur eventually wore off special perks of unlimited access to the intercom, and ""}

Margie Fishman says the career future of even Penn graduates is uncertain. Well, hell there. So glad you took time out from combing the classifieds to stop by my table of one. Yes, it is already early August, and instead of April, 1995 from Proctor, VT. was worth every inch walked, every minute waited, and every penny spent. The old were fresh. The high was up to 90, and it was parked thick. The sandwiches, once promised, were nowhere to be found. I hugged potatoes, and I thought I heard someone comment to me by it. I told you that I just knew it was going to be an afternoon in the basement of Murphv's Tavern. When the doors reopened, it was renamed ""

""

""
Wharton School deputy dean named
Samuel Blank Professor in Legal Studies

By Kate Khatib
The Summer Pennsylvanian

Janice Bellace, deputy dean of the Wharton School, has been named the Samuel A. Blank professor in Legal Studies. Bellace, a professor in both Wharton’s legal studies department and the law school’s law and business department, will hold the Blank professorship in Legal Studies.

Bellace said she is excited and honored by the new role.

"The endowed chair is a mark of recognition. Everyone likes to be recognized or have their work recognized by their peers," she said.

She is currently working on an article about a new European works committee which will affect companies operating in Europe, including some American companies. Bellace, who serves as the group’s president, is also a co-editor of the Labor Law Journal and editor-in-chief of the Labor and Labor Law. Her research has focused on labor issues.

She said she has also gained recognition through her work with labor relations in the United States and Europe.

HUP administrators say new plan is better than most

Quaker Shaker vows to fight pressure to leave campus

By Kate Khatib
The Summer Pennsylvanian

Samuel Blank Professor in Legal Studies

Janice Bellace Wharton Deputy Dean

Quaker Shaker vows to fight pressure to leave campus

By Kate Khatib
The Summer Pennsylvanian

Janice Bellace, deputy dean of the Wharton School, has been named the Samuel A. Blank professor in Legal Studies. Bellace, a professor in both Wharton’s legal studies department and the law school’s law and business department, will hold the Blank professorship in Legal Studies.

Bellace said she is excited and honored by the new role.

"The endowed chair is a mark of recognition. Everyone likes to be recognized or have their work recognized by their peers," she said.

She is currently working on an article about a new European works committee which will affect companies operating in Europe, including some American companies. Bellace, who serves as the group’s president, is also a co-editor of the Labor Law Journal and editor-in-chief of the Labor and Labor Law. Her research has focused on labor issues.

She said she has also gained recognition through her work with labor relations in the United States and Europe.

HUP administrators say new plan is better than most

Quaker Shaker vows to fight pressure to leave campus

By Kate Khatib
The Summer Pennsylvanian

Janice Bellace, deputy dean of the Wharton School, has been named the Samuel A. Blank professor in Legal Studies. Bellace, a professor in both Wharton’s legal studies department and the law school’s law and business department, will hold the Blank professorship in Legal Studies.

Bellace said she is excited and honored by the new role.

"The endowed chair is a mark of recognition. Everyone likes to be recognized or have their work recognized by their peers," she said.

She is currently working on an article about a new European works committee which will affect companies operating in Europe, including some American companies. Bellace, who serves as the group’s president, is also a co-editor of the Labor Law Journal and editor-in-chief of the Labor and Labor Law. Her research has focused on labor issues.

She said she has also gained recognition through her work with labor relations in the United States and Europe.

HUP administrators say new plan is better than most

Quaker Shaker vows to fight pressure to leave campus

By Kate Khatib
The Summer Pennsylvanian

Janice Bellace, deputy dean of the Wharton School, has been named the Samuel A. Blank professor in Legal Studies. Bellace, a professor in both Wharton’s legal studies department and the law school’s law and business department, will hold the Blank professorship in Legal Studies.

Bellace said she is excited and honored by the new role.

"The endowed chair is a mark of recognition. Everyone likes to be recognized or have their work recognized by their peers," she said.

She is currently working on an article about a new European works committee which will affect companies operating in Europe, including some American companies. Bellace, who serves as the group’s president, is also a co-editor of the Labor Law Journal and editor-in-chief of the Labor and Labor Law. Her research has focused on labor issues.

She said she has also gained recognition through her work with labor relations in the United States and Europe.

HUP administrators say new plan is better than most

Quaker Shaker vows to fight pressure to leave campus

By Kate Khatib
The Summer Pennsylvanian

Janice Bellace, deputy dean of the Wharton School, has been named the Samuel A. Blank professor in Legal Studies. Bellace, a professor in both Wharton’s legal studies department and the law school’s law and business department, will hold the Blank professorship in Legal Studies.

Bellace said she is excited and honored by the new role.

"The endowed chair is a mark of recognition. Everyone likes to be recognized or have their work recognized by their peers," she said.

She is currently working on an article about a new European works committee which will affect companies operating in Europe, including some American companies. Bellace, who serves as the group’s president, is also a co-editor of the Labor Law Journal and editor-in-chief of the Labor and Labor Law. Her research has focused on labor issues.

She said she has also gained recognition through her work with labor relations in the United States and Europe.

HUP administrators say new plan is better than most

Quaker Shaker vows to fight pressure to leave campus

By Kate Khatib
The Summer Pennsylvanian

Janice Bellace, deputy dean of the Wharton School, has been named the Samuel A. Blank professor in Legal Studies. Bellace, a professor in both Wharton’s legal studies department and the law school’s law and business department, will hold the Blank professorship in Legal Studies.

Bellace said she is excited and honored by the new role.

"The endowed chair is a mark of recognition. Everyone likes to be recognized or have their work recognized by their peers," she said.

She is currently working on an article about a new European works committee which will affect companies operating in Europe, including some American companies. Bellace, who serves as the group’s president, is also a co-editor of the Labor Law Journal and editor-in-chief of the Labor and Labor Law. Her research has focused on labor issues.

She said she has also gained recognition through her work with labor relations in the United States and Europe.

HUP administrators say new plan is better than most

Quaker Shaker vows to fight pressure to leave campus

By Kate Khatib
The Summer Pennsylvanian

Janice Bellace, deputy dean of the Wharton School, has been named the Samuel A. Blank professor in Legal Studies. Bellace, a professor in both Wharton’s legal studies department and the law school’s law and business department, will hold the Blank professorship in Legal Studies.

Bellace said she is excited and honored by the new role.

"The endowed chair is a mark of recognition. Everyone likes to be recognized or have their work recognized by their peers," she said.

She is currently working on an article about a new European works committee which will affect companies operating in Europe, including some American companies. Bellace, who serves as the group’s president, is also a co-editor of the Labor Law Journal and editor-in-chief of the Labor and Labor Law. Her research has focused on labor issues.

She said she has also gained recognition through her work with labor relations in the United States and Europe.

HUP administrators say new plan is better than most

Quaker Shaker vows to fight pressure to leave campus

By Kate Khatib
The Summer Pennsylvanian

Janice Bellace, deputy dean of the Wharton School, has been named the Samuel A. Blank professor in Legal Studies. Bellace, a professor in both Wharton’s legal studies department and the law school’s law and business department, will hold the Blank professorship in Legal Studies.

Bellace said she is excited and honored by the new role.

"The endowed chair is a mark of recognition. Everyone likes to be recognized or have their work recognized by their peers," she said.

She is currently working on an article about a new European works committee which will affect companies operating in Europe, including some American companies. Bellace, who serves as the group’s president, is also a co-editor of the Labor Law Journal and editor-in-chief of the Labor and Labor Law. Her research has focused on labor issues.

She said she has also gained recognition through her work with labor relations in the United States and Europe.

HUP administrators say new plan is better than most

Quaker Shaker vows to fight pressure to leave campus

By Kate Khatib
The Summer Pennsylvanian

Janice Bellace, deputy dean of the Wharton School, has been named the Samuel A. Blank professor in Legal Studies. Bellace, a professor in both Wharton’s legal studies department and the law school’s law and business department, will hold the Blank professorship in Legal Studies.

Bellace said she is excited and honored by the new role.

"The endowed chair is a mark of recognition. Everyone likes to be recognized or have their work recognized by their peers," she said.

She is currently working on an article about a new European works committee which will affect companies operating in Europe, including some American companies. Bellace, who serves as the group’s president, is also a co-editor of the Labor Law Journal and editor-in-chief of the Labor and Labor Law. Her research has focused on labor issues.

She said she has also gained recognition through her work with labor relations in the United States and Europe.

HUP administrators say new plan is better than most

Quaker Shaker vows to fight pressure to leave campus

By Kate Khatib
The Summer Pennsylvanian

Janice Bellace, deputy dean of the Wharton School, has been named the Samuel A. Blank professor in Legal Studies. Bellace, a professor in both Wharton’s legal studies department and the law school’s law and business department, will hold the Blank professorship in Legal Studies.

Bellace said she is excited and honored by the new role.

"The endowed chair is a mark of recognition. Everyone likes to be recognized or have their work recognized by their peers," she said.

She is currently working on an article about a new European works committee which will affect companies operating in Europe, including some American companies. Bellace, who serves as the group’s president, is also a co-editor of the Labor Law Journal and editor-in-chief of the Labor and Labor Law. Her research has focused on labor issues.

She said she has also gained recognition through her work with labor relations in the United States and Europe.

HUP administrators say new plan is better than most

Quaker Shaker vows to fight pressure to leave campus

By Kate Khatib
The Summer Pennsylvanian

Janice Bellace, deputy dean of the Wharton School, has been named the Samuel A. Blank professor in Legal Studies. Bellace, a professor in both Wharton’s legal studies department and the law school’s law and business department, will hold the Blank professorship in Legal Studies.

Bellace said she is excited and honored by the new role.

"The endowed chair is a mark of recognition. Everyone likes to be recognized or have their work recognized by their peers," she said.

She is currently working on an article about a new European works committee which will affect companies operating in Europe, including some American companies. Bellace, who serves as the group’s president, is also a co-editor of the Labor Law Journal and editor-in-chief of the Labor and Labor Law. Her research has focused on labor issues.

She said she has also gained recognition through her work with labor relations in the United States and Europe.
BUS:

KINGPIN starring Woody Harrelson

There's no question that comic book fans dream of seeing the Joker, the Penguin, and Ra's al Ghul on the big screen - and now they can. In Kingpin, the Joker (Jack Nicholson) has unleashed a new super-villain called Kingpin (Woody Harrelson) on Gotham City. Kingpin is a cold, calculating killer who will stop at nothing to get his hands on the city's power. With a cast that includes Harvey Keitel, Delroy Lindo, and Patricia Clarkson, Kingpin is a must-see for any Batman fan.

CHAIN REACTION directed by Andrew Davis

Chain Reaction is a tense, gripping thriller about a team of scientists who are trying to stop a chain reaction of radioactivity that could destroy the world. When a deadly virus infects a nuclear research facility, the scientists must work together to prevent a global catastrophe. With a stellar cast including Michael Douglas, Daryl Hannah, and Gene Hackman, Chain Reaction is a thrilling ride that will keep you on the edge of your seat.

A TIME TO KILL starring Samuel L. Jackson

A Time to Kill is a powerful drama about race and justice in America. Set in the 1930s, the story follows a young man named English Minta (Samuel L. Jackson) who murders two men in self-defense. When his trial is held in the small town ofanchester, Mississippi, Minta's fate is in the hands of the all-white jury. With a cast that includes John Cusack, Jennifer Jason Leigh, and Kevin Spacey, A Time to Kill is a must-see for anyone interested in the struggle for justice.

STONETOWN starring Tim Roth

Stonetown is a gritty,真实istic drama about the lives of a group of young men in the inner city. Set in Chicago in the 1970s, the story follows a young man named Sam (Tim Roth) as he navigates the dangerous streets of the city. With a cast that includes John Cusack, Jennifer Jason Leigh, and Kevin Spacey, Stonetown is a powerful depiction of the struggles faced by young men in the inner city.

THE DRAG QUEENS OF NEW YORK by Michael Luscombe

The Drag Queens of New York is a humorous, insightful look at the world of drag. Set in the 1970s, the story follows a group of drag queens who are trying to make it in the tough world of New York City. With a cast that includes John Cusack, Jennifer Jason Leigh, and Kevin Spacey, The Drag Queens of New York is a must-see for anyone interested in the world of drag.
CONCERT REVIEW & PHOTOS

Since Everland wouldn't play for us at Penn, we decided to check them out at The Factory. I'm not sure what we were expecting to hear, but the 'Kan Gom' and 'Rude' songs were at least interesting.

BEN'S SPACESHIP

EXTRA EXTRA!
READ ALL ABOUT IT...

Center for the University of Pennsylvania Identification, CUPID

The PENNcard ID Center will be located inside the Palestra. Hutchinson Gym Complex located at 33rd and Locust Streets adjacent to Franklin Field. Students must enter at the Palestra. All students are required to present their CUPID card, photo identification, or know their school identification number to gain entrance at CUPID. To receive a PENNcard all students must have a form of photo identification or know their school identification number to gain entrance at CUPID. The PENNcard Center will be issuing ID cards to students full-time from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

PALLADIUM

NEW HIRING: Dining Room Manager, Office Personnel. For more information please contact Penny.
Welcome to your Alan H. Klein Apartment

THE BEST CHOICE IN UNIVERSITY CITY!

- 5200 WOODWARD - 1BD-$425+LEC (NEAR CAMPUS)
- 614 W. BALTIMORE - 1BD-$425+LEC (WALKING DISTANCE)
- 390 W. 8TH & POPLAR AVE - 1BD-$425 (ALL UTILS)
- 47TH & ACADEMY - 1BD-$390+LEC (KITCHEN DINE-IN)
- 3400 OAK ST. - 2BD-$525+LEC (FREE WASH & DRY)
- 4800 LOCUST - 2BD-$595+LEC (FREE WASH & DRY)
- 3900 CHESTNUT STREET - 3BD-$795+LEC (FREE WASH & DRY)
- 5400 OAK ST. - 3BD-$950+LEC (FREE WASH & DRY)
- 520 WOODWIND - LDK+$375+LEC (NEAR CAMPUS)
- 3900 CHESTNUT ST - 4BD+$465+LEC (KITCHEN DINE-IN)
- 2740 S. 11TH ST. - 5BD+$550+LEC (FREE WASH & DRY)

Amenities Include:
- 24 HR Maintenance, Security Patrol
- Open Air Parking, Laundry On Each Floor
- 24 Hour Lobby Desk
- In-House Management

Rents start as low as $335/$425 lor studio/one bedroom apartments at The Blenheim, from $420/$555 for studio/one bedroom at Castle Hill Apartments. Call today!

222-2000

---

GRAD STUDENTS

Studio and One Bedroom Apartments

Call now for the best selection, the best locations, and the best rents on University City's finest studio and one bedroom apartments! Amenities Include:

- Bed. Bks. Laundry Facilities, Modern Kitchens, Large LivingRooms, Separate Dining Areas, High Ceilings, Close to Penn Campus, Bright Bathrooms.

Rents start as low as $355/$425 for studio/one bedroom apartments at The Blenheim, from $420/$555 for studio/one bedroom at Castle Hill Apartments. Call today!

---

THE Shortest distance between you and what's going on campus

---

CHESTNUT HALL

- 3900 CHESTNUT STREET

CHESTNUT HALL currently has a limited number of apartments available May through September. Ask about our rental wait list!!

---

4039 Chestnut St.

Special Properties

TIRED OF SETTLING FOR LESS IN UNIVERSITY CITY?

CLEAN, QUIET, PEACE OF MIND AWARD WINNING LOCATIONS

- 40th & Pine
- 40th & Chestnut
- 62nd & Osage
- 14th & Pine
- 45th & Spruce
- 46th & Chester

24HR Maintenance, Security Patrol 9am - 5pm, Laundry, Elevators, Fan Control Service

OPEN: MON - FRI 10AM - 5PM SAT & SUN 11AM - 4PM

CALL DEMELI @ 222-0066

---

ARE YOU TIRED OF LOOKING?

Emerson Pine Hill Management Has The Solution!!

One Month Free for Students

Beautiful one to four bedroom apartments, some with two baths, and the best location in University City. 5-6 months, heat and hot water included.

- Close to Pew Campus
- Laundry Facilities
- 24 Hour Emergency Service.

- 12 - Month Leases

PLEASE CALL 222-7050

---
In Brief

Handsome Dan dies peacefully with Pals

Tragically he struck Yale's New Haven, Côte, campus. School mascot Handsome Dan died on Tuesday, having served the Yale faithful for many years. His last public appearance was at the Yale-Harvard football game.

-Mat Maloy, Yale's former bus driver.

Maloney, Allen get shots with new coach

Maloney, Allen, Yale's new basketball coach, has been working with the team's roster, evaluating players and planning practices. He's been spending time with players individually, getting to know them and their potential for growth.

-Mat Maloy, Yale's former bus driver.

Macik impresses at camp

For the first time, Macik got to shine at the NFL combine. He impressed scouts and coaches alike with his speed, agility, and overall athleticism. His performance was a testament to his dedication and hard work, and he showed that he has the potential to be a valuable addition to any NFL team.

-Jordan Smith

Two ex-Quakers show themselves in national championship from Princeton

Two ex-Quakers, Mark and Jerome, showed off their skills at the national championship from Princeton. Their contributions were crucial in leading their team to victory, proving once again that Princeton has a strong athletic tradition.

-Ophelia, Yale's resident athlete.

Track behinds in 22 recruits

For the first time, track team Gretteo was the state cross country championship and champions. They were a team to watch, and their performances were impressive. The team's overall score was a testament to their hard work and dedication.

-Jordan Smith

Of Matt, Jerome, and Mark

For the first time, Matt, Jerome, and Mark have been spending time together as a team. Their camaraderie and teamwork are crucial to their success, and they are all looking forward to a strong season ahead.

-Ophelia, Yale's resident athlete.

SP Sports offers Condolences to Yale on the loss of Handsome Dan. He will be missed.

-Anne, Yale's resident athlete.
Waiting for a pro success

In the last several years, Penn's sports teams have enjoyed national prominence, especially on the football field, where they have achieved success that was not seen in the past. The team's achievements have been recognized both within the Ivy League and on a national level.

The success of Penn's football team has been attributed to the leadership of Head Coach Mike McParland, who has built a strong team with a solid foundation. The team's players are known for their hard work and dedication, which has led to several conference championships and bowl game appearances.

One of the key players on the team is David McIvor, a wide receiver who has made significant contributions to the team's success. His leadership and strong work ethic have earned him the respect of his teammates and coaches.

The team's success has not only brought pride to the university and its fans, but it has also helped to establish Penn as a competitive program on the national stage.