The University plans to spend $300,000 upgrading blue light phones on the purchase of 66 new blue light phones between 40th and 43rd streets by November 1. More than 60 new phones will be in position than the current ones because the cellular system with positive results. Temporal police have not encountered any situations where students tried to use the phones and discovered they were broken. Roughly half of Penn's new phones will be positioned between 46th and 49th streets and Chestnut and Baltimore streets, with one phone planned for each corner in the area, according to Seamon. Seamon said Public Safety will also pursue existing phones. In addition, an installation of new 36 phones will continue as planned before the next crest week. The independent Daily Pennsylvanian's inspection of 36 randomly selected blue light phones revealed that the current phones are bad in need of repair. "We've had many complaints," Seamon said. "I think the phones are the worst of my career." Seamon said Public Safety will also replace the cellsystems with positive results.

"I think we're on our way to a better deal for students," said Levenson, noting that there has been a drop off in student activism since he was a student. "I think young people are interested in the MTV of their cross country youth campaign. The FBI is trying to figure out what went wrong in this case." In another incident, a student crossing home from Ca- meron's Resturant was robbed of his wallet, wallet and hindering ac-

"Choose or Lose ' rock's W. Philly"}

MTV voter registration campaign visits campus
By By Jerrica Roa
The Daily Pennsylvanian
The message rang clear: "If you're a voter, use it. Otherwise, you lose it.
In a last-ditch attempt to encourage stu- dents to register for next month's elec- tion before the October 12 registration deadline, MTV's "Choose or Lose" has made a last stop in Philadelphia. The pop channel has organized a student voter campaign. The crew consists of young voter campaign. The crew consists of young voters who have joined the campaign in front of their campus and by phone. Throughout the day, students regis- tered to vote and learned more about the role they can play in the upcoming election. "It's been pretty busy," said Dressel, "and Sarah Hoffman, who volunteered to reg- ister voters for the MTV 'Choose or Lose' concert yesterday in Philadelphia, Pennsylva。

"Choose or Lose ' rock's W. Philly"

MTV voter registration campaign visits campus
By Jerrica Roa
The Daily Pennsylvanian
The message rang clear: "If you're a voter, use it. Otherwise, you lose it.
In a last-ditch attempt to encourage stu- dents to register for next month's elec- tion before the October 12 registration deadline, MTV's "Choose or Lose" has made a last stop in Philadelphia. The pop channel has organized a student voter campaign. The crew consists of young voter campaign. The crew consists of young voters who have joined the campaign in front of their campus and by phone. Throughout the day, students regis- tered to vote and learned more about the role they can play in the upcoming election. "It's been pretty busy," said Dressel, "and Sarah Hoffman, who volunteered to reg- ister voters for the MTV 'Choose or Lose' concert yesterday in Philadelphia, Pennsylva。

"Choose or Lose ' rock's W. Philly"

MTV voter registration campaign visits campus
By Jerrica Roa
The Daily Pennsylvanian
The message rang clear: "If you're a voter, use it. Otherwise, you lose it.
In a last-ditch attempt to encourage stu- dents to register for next month's elec- tion before the October 12 registration deadline, MTV's "Choose or Lose" has made a last stop in Philadelphia. The pop channel has organized a student voter campaign. The crew consists of young voter campaign. The crew consists of young voters who have joined the campaign in front of their campus and by phone. Throughout the day, students regis- tered to vote and learned more about the role they can play in the upcoming election. "It's been pretty busy," said Dressel, "and Sarah Hoffman, who volunteered to reg- ister voters for the MTV 'Choose or Lose' concert yesterday in Philadelphia, Pennsylva。

"Choose or Lose ' rock's W. Philly"

MTV voter registration campaign visits campus
By Jerrica Roa
The Daily Pennsylvanian
The message rang clear: "If you're a voter, use it. Otherwise, you lose it.
In a last-ditch attempt to encourage stu- dents to register for next month's elec- tion before the October 12 registration deadline, MTV's "Choose or Lose" has made a last stop in Philadelphia. The pop channel has organized a student voter campaign. The crew consists of young voter campaign. The crew consists of young voters who have joined the campaign in front of their campus and by phone. Throughout the day, students regis- tered to vote and learned more about the role they can play in the upcoming election. "It's been pretty busy," said Dressel, "and Sarah Hoffman, who volunteered to reg- ister voters for the MTV 'Choose or Lose' concert yesterday in Philadelphia, Pennsylva。
By Suzanne Albers  The Daily Pennsylvanian

Graduate students looking forward to careers in academia now have a resource at the University to support them in that pursuit.

The University’s Graduate Student Teaching Resource Center is held its first event last week, which was a chance for students to ask questions about the upcoming Spring 1997 workshop on Teaching as a Profession.

By Ravi Adhikary  The Daily Pennsylvanian

The two-term Pennsylvania governor has said there will be no vendetta against Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for its role in the 1989 San Francisco earthquake.

The two-term governor, a Democrat, has said he will not seek re-election in 1998.

The governor said he does not believe there should be a vendetta against the utility.

But Thornburgh did not rule out the possibility of re-election.

“Federal level,” he said.

But Thornburgh did not rule out the possibility of re-election.

“Federal level,” he said.

According to Thornburgh, his term as governor will be the last.

The governor was responding to a question about his decision to run for a third term.

The governor said he would not seek re-election in 1998.

According to Thornburgh, his term as governor will be the last.

The governor was responding to a question about his decision to run for a third term.

The governor said he would not seek re-election in 1998.

Close the books...

Table Talk at the White Dog Cafe
Serving Food with Thought

Thursday, October 3, 5-8 p.m.
Report from Iraq,

With Mike Nahal, coordinator of relief and humanitarian assistance to Iraqi civilians for the Middle East Council of Churches based in Jordan. Nahal was in Baghdad last month during the U.S. bombing on September 30. He will report on his first hand experiences.

Mike Nahal is development director for the Middle East Council of Churches. Nahal will discuss the situation and the difficulties faced by Iraqis during the current conflict and what is being done to assist the Iraqi people.

Special Thanks to the White Dog Cafe for hosting this event. White Dog is located at 1006 N. 3rd St., Philadelphia. Order a choice of four drinks and a sausage or pancakes with fruit and pancakes, followed by sides and dessert. 10% off regular menu.

For information call: 215-625-1008

No reservations necessary.

The Daily Pennsylvanian - 10/1/96

Grad network aids future pros

President Brian Buttons Page 1 of 2

By Ravi Adhikary  The Daily Pennsylvanian

The two-term Pennsylvania governor has said there will be no vendetta against Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for its role in the 1989 San Francisco earthquake.

The two-term governor, a Democrat, has said he will not seek re-election in 1998.

The governor said he does not believe there should be a vendetta against the utility.

But Thornburgh did not rule out the possibility of re-election.

“Federal level,” he said.

But Thornburgh did not rule out the possibility of re-election.

“Federal level,” he said.

According to Thornburgh, his term as governor will be the last.

The governor was responding to a question about his decision to run for a third term.

The governor said he would not seek re-election in 1998.

According to Thornburgh, his term as governor will be the last.

The governor was responding to a question about his decision to run for a third term.

The governor said he would not seek re-election in 1998.

Close the books...

Table Talk at the White Dog Cafe
Serving Food with Thought

Thursday, October 3, 5-8 p.m.
Report from Iraq,

With Mike Nahal, coordinator of relief and humanitarian assistance to Iraqi civilians for the Middle East Council of Churches based in Jordan. Nahal was in Baghdad last month during the U.S. bombing on September 30. He will report on his first hand experiences.

Mike Nahal is development director for the Middle East Council of Churches. Nahal will discuss the situation and the difficulties faced by Iraqis during the current conflict and what is being done to assist the Iraqi people.

Special Thanks to the White Dog Cafe for hosting this event. White Dog is located at 1006 N. 3rd St., Philadelphia. Order a choice of four drinks and a sausage or pancakes with fruit and pancakes, followed by sides and dessert. 10% off regular menu.

For information call: 215-625-1008

No reservations necessary.

The Daily Pennsylvanian - 10/1/96

Grad network aids future pros

President Brian Buttons Page 1 of 2

By Ravi Adhikary  The Daily Pennsylvanian

The two-term Pennsylvania governor has said there will be no vendetta against Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for its role in the 1989 San Francisco earthquake.

The two-term governor, a Democrat, has said he will not seek re-election in 1998.

The governor said he does not believe there should be a vendetta against the utility.

But Thornburgh did not rule out the possibility of re-election.

“Federal level,” he said.

But Thornburgh did not rule out the possibility of re-election.

“Federal level,” he said.

According to Thornburgh, his term as governor will be the last.

The governor was responding to a question about his decision to run for a third term.

The governor said he would not seek re-election in 1998.

According to Thornburgh, his term as governor will be the last.

The governor was responding to a question about his decision to run for a third term.

The governor said he would not seek re-election in 1998.

Close the books...

Table Talk at the White Dog Cafe
Serving Food with Thought

Thursday, October 3, 5-8 p.m.
Report from Iraq,

With Mike Nahal, coordinator of relief and humanitarian assistance to Iraqi civilians for the Middle East Council of Churches based in Jordan. Nahal was in Baghdad last month during the U.S. bombing on September 30. He will report on his first hand experiences.

Mike Nahal is development director for the Middle East Council of Churches. Nahal will discuss the situation and the difficulties faced by Iraqis during the current conflict and what is being done to assist the Iraqi people.

Special Thanks to the White Dog Cafe for hosting this event. White Dog is located at 1006 N. 3rd St., Philadelphia. Order a choice of four drinks and a sausage or pancakes with fruit and pancakes, followed by sides and dessert. 10% off regular menu.

For information call: 215-625-1008

No reservations necessary.

The Daily Pennsylvanian - 10/1/96

Grad network aids future pros

President Brian Buttons Page 1 of 2
Breast cancer victim offers insight

By Tammy Reiss

Geralyn Lucas was not prepared for her doctor's diagnosis of her breast cancer in February, at the age of 33. But a self-examination enabled the student nurse to detect the cancer early in its growth.

"I realized within a month that something was wrong," said Lucas, who discovered a lump when she was wearing a bra and noticed it was not "sitting right." "I thought it was maybe a breast implant," she said. As she examined the lump, she determined, "If it's not this month, it will be next month."

It was one of the many early signals that would eventually lead Lucas to a diagnosis of breast cancer.

Lucas, a University of Pennsylvania senior, who discovered the lump in February, said, "I never knew it could happen to someone my age," she said last Thursday, at the Breast Cancer Awareness and the Importance of Early Detection of Breast Cancer Forum, co-sponsored by the Panhel and Penn's Student Health Services.

"Last summer, at the Health Fair co-sponsored by the Panhel and Student Health Services, I heard that I should get checked," Lucas said. "I thought, 'I am so healthy, I don't have to do that.' But, you need to do that."

"We will never get rid of breast cancer," said Liam Thompson, a Panhel president and college sophomore, "but we can get it as far removed from our lives as possible."

"Sororities can really get the message out that women are responsible for their own health," said Thompson. "Responsibility and the resources to educate themselves, we have accomplished our goal." Office of Facility and Security Affairs Director Ed Fine added that Public Safety "is not in the business of treating people, but in the business of helping people."

"The event was held to promote breast cancer awareness and the importance of early detection of breast cancer," said Thompson and President and College sophomore Jessica Schreck said. "To that end, the associated Breast Cancer, Panhel President and College sophomore Amy Cross said she attended the forum to "find out more about breast cancer, and what I could be doing."

Schreck, a Sigma Delta Tau member, said that monthly breast self-examinations, periodic mammograms and yearly visits to a clinician can increase the probability of early detection and treatment of breast cancer. "If women walk away from this event with the sense that they can help themselves, we have accomplished our goal," Office of Facility and Security Affairs Director Ed Fine added that Public Safety "is not in the business of treating people, but in the business of helping people.""I never knew it could happen to someone my age," she said last Thursday, at the Breast Cancer Awareness and the Importance of Early Detection of Breast Cancer Forum, co-sponsored by the Panhel and Penn's Student Health Services.

"Last summer, at the Health Fair co-sponsored by the Panhel and Student Health Services, I heard that I should get checked," Lucas said. "I thought, 'I am so healthy, I don't have to do that.' But, you need to do that."

"We will never get rid of breast cancer," said Liam Thompson, a Panhel president and college sophomore, "but we can get it as far removed from our lives as possible."

"Sororities can really get the message out that women are responsible for their own health," said Thompson. "Responsibility and the resources to educate themselves, we have accomplished our goal." Office of Facility and Security Affairs Director Ed Fine added that Public Safety "is not in the business of treating people, but in the business of helping people."

"The event was held to promote breast cancer awareness and the importance of early detection of breast cancer," said Thompson and President and College sophomore Jessica Schreck said. "To that end, the associated Breast Cancer, Panhel President and College sophomore Amy Cross said she attended the forum to "find out more about breast cancer, and what I could be doing."

Schreck, a Sigma Delta Tau member, said that monthly breast self-examinations, periodic mammograms and yearly visits to a clinician can increase the probability of early detection and treatment of breast cancer. "If women walk away from this event with the sense that they can help themselves, we have accomplished our goal," Office of Facility and Security Affairs Director Ed Fine added that Public Safety "is not in the business of treating people, but in the business of helping people."

"The event was held to promote breast cancer awareness and the importance of early detection of breast cancer," said Thompson and President and College sophomore Jessica Schreck said. "To that end, the associated Breast Cancer, Panhel President and College sophomore Amy Cross said she attended the forum to "find out more about breast cancer, and what I could be doing."

Schreck, a Sigma Delta Tau member, said that monthly breast self-examinations, periodic mammograms and yearly visits to a clinician can increase the probability of early detection and treatment of breast cancer. "If women walk away from this event with the sense that they can help themselves, we have accomplished our goal," Office of Facility and Security Affairs Director Ed Fine added that Public Safety "is not in the business of treating people, but in the business of helping people."

"The event was held to promote breast cancer awareness and the importance of early detection of breast cancer," said Thompson and President and College sophomore Jessica Schreck said. "To that end, the associated Breast Cancer, Panhel President and College sophomore Amy Cross said she attended the forum to "find out more about breast cancer, and what I could be doing."

Schreck, a Sigma Delta Tau member, said that monthly breast self-examinations, periodic mammograms and yearly visits to a clinician can increase the probability of early detection and treatment of breast cancer. "If women walk away from this event with the sense that they can help themselves, we have accomplished our goal," Office of Facility and Security Affairs Director Ed Fine added that Public Safety "is not in the business of treating people, but in the business of helping people."

"The event was held to promote breast cancer awareness and the importance of early detection of breast cancer," said Thompson and President and College sophomore Jessica Schreck said. "To that end, the associated Breast Cancer, Panhel President and College sophomore Amy Cross said she attended the forum to "find out more about breast cancer, and what I could be doing."

Schreck, a Sigma Delta Tau member, said that monthly breast self-examinations, periodic mammograms and yearly visits to a clinician can increase the probability of early detection and treatment of breast cancer. "If women walk away from this event with the sense that they can help themselves, we have accomplished our goal," Office of Facility and Security Affairs Director Ed Fine added that Public Safety "is not in the business of treating people, but in the business of helping people."

"The event was held to promote breast cancer awareness and the importance of early detection of breast cancer," said Thompson and President and College sophomore Jessica Schreck said. "To that end, the associated Breast Cancer, Panhel President and College sophomore Amy Cross said she attended the forum to "find out more about breast cancer, and what I could be doing."

Schreck, a Sigma Delta Tau member, said that monthly breast self-examinations, periodic mammograms and yearly visits to a clinician can increase the probability of early detection and treatment of breast cancer. "If women walk away from this event with the sense that they can help themselves, we have accomplished our goal," Office of Facility and Security Affairs Director Ed Fine added that Public Safety "is not in the business of treating people, but in the business of helping people.""I never knew it could happen to someone my age," she said last Thursday, at the Breast Cancer Awareness and the Importance of Early Detection of Breast Cancer Forum, co-sponsored by the Panhel and Penn's Student Health Services.

"Last summer, at the Health Fair co-sponsored by the Panhel and Student Health Services, I heard that I should get checked," Lucas said. "I thought, 'I am so healthy, I don't have to do that.' But, you need to do that."

"We will never get rid of breast cancer," said Liam Thompson, a Panhel president and college sophomore, "but we can get it as far removed from our lives as possible."

"Sororities can really get the message out that women are responsible for their own health," said Thompson. "Responsibility and the resources to educate themselves, we have accomplished our goal." Office of Facility and Security Affairs Director Ed Fine added that Public Safety "is not in the business of treating people, but in the business of helping people."

"The event was held to promote breast cancer awareness and the importance of early detection of breast cancer," said Thompson and President and College sophomore Jessica Schreck said. "To that end, the associated Breast Cancer, Panhel President and College sophomore Amy Cross said she attended the forum to "find out more about breast cancer, and what I could be doing."

Schreck, a Sigma Delta Tau member, said that monthly breast self-examinations, periodic mammograms and yearly visits to a clinician can increase the probability of early detection and treatment of breast cancer. "If women walk away from this event with the sense that they can help themselves, we have accomplished our goal," Office of Facility and Security Affairs Director Ed Fine added that Public Safety "is not in the business of treating people, but in the business of helping people."
CEOs know it makes sense to talk to a specialist when an industry evolves as rapidly as does technology. It is imperative to have an advisor that is knowledgeable, experienced and connected to the executives and companies within the industry.

Companies in every area of the technology industry are turning to Broadview Associates as the advisor of choice when contemplating major merger and acquisition transactions. Focused exclusively on technology markets, Broadview’s specialist team of M&A professionals delivers global perspective and reach as no other advisor can.

With its industry knowledge and client commitment, it is no wonder that Broadview completed nearly 80 transactions in 1995 and over 45 transactions in the first six months of 1996. In fact, this commitment and industry knowledge is why Broadview places #1, year after year, in Securities Data Company’s ranking of the most active advisors to the technology industry.

Come Learn More About Broadview’s M&A Analyst Program:

Wednesday, October 2 7:00 - 9:00 pm
Faculty Club - Club Room

Bonnie Frankel, Recruiting Coordinator
One Bridge Plaza • Fort Lee, NJ 07024

BROADVIEW ASSOCIATES

http://www.broadview.com
Alumni children get Penn preview

By Jessica Bear
The Daily Pennsylvanian

Julie Roberts of Yardley, Pa., has been singing, "The Red and the Blue" for as long as she can remember. Her parents taught her the song shortly after she learned to speak. "We sing it together," Roberts said. Roberts, along with 122 other high school juniors with alumni parents, visited the University as part of the Annual "Legacies: Explore Penn" program.

"We just want to encourage students to come to the University," said Alumni Council on Admissions member Grier Green. "They get the chance to meet other alumni, and that's why we separate them from the general public." He and his family members left the family room and visited museums and hearing current students describe the University.

Ruthie Wolman, assistant direc-
tive of the Alumni Council on Admission, said the kids have been brought in all their life how great Penn is and trying to find out if it's good for them, and that's why we separate them from their parents.

"We also have the orientation, to
soate Vice President for University Life, Larry Mamane in the room and the parents and answered questions. The day's activities concluded with the rainy Penn College football game. Wolman called the day a success. The parents and father and Republican Presidential Candidate Bob Dole.

"We just want to encourage students to come to the University," said Alumni Council on Admissions member Knki Gerver. "They get the chance to meet other alumni, and that's why we separate them from the general public." He and his family members left the family room and visited museums and hearing current students describe the University.

Ruthie Wolman, assistant direc-
tive of the Alumni Council on Admission, said the kids have been brought in all their life how great Penn is and trying to find out if it's good for them, and that's why we separate them from their parents.

"We also have the orientation, to
soate Vice President for University Life, Larry Mamane in the room and the parents and answered questions. The day's activities concluded with the rainy Penn College football game. Wolman called the day a success. The parents and father and Republican Presidential Candidate Bob Dole.

"We just want to encourage students to come to the University," said Alumni Council on Admissions member Knki Gerver. "They get the chance to meet other alumni, and that's why we separate them from the general public." He and his family members left the family room and visited museums and hearing current students describe the University.

Ruthie Wolman, assistant direc-
tive of the Alumni Council on Admission, said the kids have been brought in all their life how great Penn is and trying to find out if it's good for them, and that's why we separate them from their parents.

"We also have the orientation, to
soate Vice President for University Life, Larry Mamane in the room and the parents and answered questions. The day's activities concluded with the rainy Penn College football game. Wolman called the day a success. The parents and father and Republican Presidential Candidate Bob Dole.

"We just want to encourage students to come to the University," said Alumni Council on Admissions member Knki Gerver. "They get the chance to meet other alumni, and that's why we separate them from the general public." He and his family members left the family room and visited museums and hearing current students describe the University.

Ruthie Wolman, assistant direc-
tive of the Alumni Council on Admission, said the kids have been brought in all their life how great Penn is and trying to find out if it's good for them, and that's why we separate them from their parents.

"We also have the orientation, to
soate Vice President for University Life, Larry Mamane in the room and the parents and answered questions. The day's activities concluded with the rainy Penn College football game. Wolman called the day a success. The parents and father and Republican Presidential Candidate Bob Dole.

"We just want to encourage students to come to the University," said Alumni Council on Admissions member Knki Gerver. "They get the chance to meet other alumni, and that's why we separate them from the general public." He and his family members left the family room and visited museums and hearing current students describe the University.

Ruthie Wolman, assistant direc-
tive of the Alumni Council on Admission, said the kids have been brought in all their life how great Penn is and trying to find out if it's good for them, and that's why we separate them from their parents.

"We also have the orientation, to
soate Vice President for University Life, Larry Mamane in the room and the parents and answered questions. The day's activities concluded with the rainy Penn College football game. Wolman called the day a success. The parents and father and Republican Presidential Candidate Bob Dole.

"We just want to encourage students to come to the University," said Alumni Council on Admissions member Knki Gerver. "They get the chance to meet other alumni, and that's why we separate them from the general public." He and his family members left the family room and visited museums and hearing current students describe the University.

Ruthie Wolman, assistant direc-
tive of the Alumni Council on Admission, said the kids have been brought in all their life how great Penn is and trying to find out if it's good for them, and that's why we separate them from their parents.

"We also have the orientation, to
soate Vice President for University Life, Larry Mamane in the room and the parents and answered questions. The day's activities concluded with the rainy Penn College football game. Wolman called the day a success. The parents and father and Republican Presidential Candidate Bob Dole.

"We just want to encourage students to come to the University," said Alumni Council on Admissions member Knki Gerver. "They get the chance to meet other alumni, and that's why we separate them from the general public." He and his family members left the family room and visited museums and hearing current students describe the University.

Ruthie Wolman, assistant direc-
tive of the Alumni Council on Admission, said the kids have been brought in all their life how great Penn is and trying to find out if it's good for them, and that's why we separate them from their parents.

"We also have the orientation, to
soate Vice President for University Life, Larry Mamane in the room and the parents and answered questions. The day's activities concluded with the rainy Penn College football game. Wolman called the day a success. The parents and father and Republican Presidential Candidate Bob Dole.

"We just want to encourage students to come to the University," said Alumni Council on Admissions member Knki Gerver. "They get the chance to meet other alumni, and that's why we separate them from the general public." He and his family members left the family room and visited museums and hearing current students describe the University.

Ruthie Wolman, assistant direc-
tive of the Alumni Council on Admission, said the kids have been brought in all their life how great Penn is and trying to find out if it's good for them, and that's why we separate them from their parents.

"We also have the orientation, to
soate Vice President for University Life, Larry Mamane in the room and the parents and answered questions. The day's activities concluded with the rainy Penn College football game. Wolman called the day a success. The parents and father and Republican Presidential Candidate Bob Dole.

"We just want to encourage students to come to the University," said Alumni Council on Admissions member Knki Gerver. "They get the chance to meet other alumni, and that's why we separate them from the general public." He and his family members left the family room and visited museums and hearing current students describe the University.

Ruthie Wolman, assistant direc-
tive of the Alumni Council on Admission, said the kids have been brought in all their life how great Penn is and trying to find out if it's good for them, and that's why we separate them from their parents.

"We also have the orientation, to
soate Vice President for University Life, Larry Mamane in the room and the parents and answered questions. The day's activities concluded with the rainy Penn College football game. Wolman called the day a success. The parents and father and Republican Presidential Candidate Bob Dole.

"We just want to encourage students to come to the University," said Alumni Council on Admissions member Knki Gerver. "They get the chance to meet other alumni, and that's why we separate them from the general public." He and his family members left the family room and visited museums and hearing current students describe the University.

Ruthie Wolman, assistant direc-
tive of the Alumni Council on Admission, said the kids have been brought in all their life how great Penn is and trying to find out if it's good for them, and that's why we separate them from their parents.

"We also have the orientation, to
soate Vice President for University Life, Larry Mamane in the room and the parents and answered questions. The day's activities concluded with the rainy Penn College football game. Wolman called the day a success. The parents and father and Republican Presidential Candidate Bob Dole.

"We just want to encourage students to come to the University," said Alumni Council on Admissions member Knki Gerver. "They get the chance to meet other alumni, and that's why we separate them from the general public." He and his family members left the family room and visited museums and hearing current students describe the University.
Editorial

Home sweet home

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

When the University’s purchase of the Sheraton hotel at 36th and Chestnut streets was first announced, we were elated. At last, Philadelphians need not need to leave the Penn campus to find temporary, professionally run temporary housing.

But we were also concerned. Given this year’s tenancy drama, it would be no surprise if the Sheraton — or a future student-run hotel — would fail to meet residents’ expectations.

But that turn of events would be a shame. The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.

The Sheraton is only one piece of a master plan for future campus facilities and residences — but it’s a good start.
Students, parents still scared

To the Editor:

Unfortunately, more than 20 students have been victims of violent crime on University property in the last two years. Students who walk alone at night, especially near the Social and Natural Sciences Complex and the Brown University dormitories, have reported feeling threatened by the presence of criminals. But what about the "danger zone": the perimeter of the campus where students live, work, and study? The answers to these questions are what provide context for the University's recent security initiatives.

In 1995, the University announced that it would increase security to combat the increasing number of crimes committed on campus. This announcement came in the wake of a particularly violent incident, in which a student was stabbed to death while walking to class. Since then, the University has made several improvements to its security system, including the addition of security officers, the installation of surveillance cameras, and the implementation of a new security protocol. But is this enough to keep students safe?

To the Editor:

As a graduate student at the University, I have been fortunate enough to have had the opportunity to work closely with the University's security officers. They are dedicated professionals who take their jobs very seriously. However, there are still many concerns that need to be addressed.

Unfortunately, more than 20 students have been victims of violent crime on University property in the last two years. Students who walk alone at night, especially near the Social and Natural Sciences Complex and the Brown University dormitories, have reported feeling threatened by the presence of criminals. But what about the "danger zone": the perimeter of the campus where students live, work, and study? The answers to these questions are what provide context for the University's recent security initiatives.

In 1995, the University announced that it would increase security to combat the increasing number of crimes committed on campus. This announcement came in the wake of a particularly violent incident, in which a student was stabbed to death while walking to class. Since then, the University has made several improvements to its security system, including the addition of security officers, the installation of surveillance cameras, and the implementation of a new security protocol. But is this enough to keep students safe?

To the Editor:

As a graduate student at the University, I have been fortunate enough to have had the opportunity to work closely with the University's security officers. They are dedicated professionals who take their jobs very seriously. However, there are still many concerns that need to be addressed.

Unfortunately, more than 20 students have been victims of violent crime on University property in the last two years. Students who walk alone at night, especially near the Social and Natural Sciences Complex and the Brown University dormitories, have reported feeling threatened by the presence of criminals. But what about the "danger zone": the perimeter of the campus where students live, work, and study? The answers to these questions are what provide context for the University's recent security initiatives.

In 1995, the University announced that it would increase security to combat the increasing number of crimes committed on campus. This announcement came in the wake of a particularly violent incident, in which a student was stabbed to death while walking to class. Since then, the University has made several improvements to its security system, including the addition of security officers, the installation of surveillance cameras, and the implementation of a new security protocol. But is this enough to keep students safe?

To the Editor:

As a graduate student at the University, I have been fortunate enough to have had the opportunity to work closely with the University's security officers. They are dedicated professionals who take their jobs very seriously. However, there are still many concerns that need to be addressed.

Unfortunately, more than 20 students have been victims of violent crime on University property in the last two years. Students who walk alone at night, especially near the Social and Natural Sciences Complex and the Brown University dormitories, have reported feeling threatened by the presence of criminals. But what about the "danger zone": the perimeter of the campus where students live, work, and study? The answers to these questions are what provide context for the University's recent security initiatives.

In 1995, the University announced that it would increase security to combat the increasing number of crimes committed on campus. This announcement came in the wake of a particularly violent incident, in which a student was stabbed to death while walking to class. Since then, the University has made several improvements to its security system, including the addition of security officers, the installation of surveillance cameras, and the implementation of a new security protocol. But is this enough to keep students safe?

To the Editor:

As a graduate student at the University, I have been fortunate enough to have had the opportunity to work closely with the University's security officers. They are dedicated professionals who take their jobs very seriously. However, there are still many concerns that need to be addressed.

Unfortunately, more than 20 students have been victims of violent crime on University property in the last two years. Students who walk alone at night, especially near the Social and Natural Sciences Complex and the Brown University dormitories, have reported feeling threatened by the presence of criminals. But what about the "danger zone": the perimeter of the campus where students live, work, and study? The answers to these questions are what provide context for the University's recent security initiatives.

In 1995, the University announced that it would increase security to combat the increasing number of crimes committed on campus. This announcement came in the wake of a particularly violent incident, in which a student was stabbed to death while walking to class. Since then, the University has made several improvements to its security system, including the addition of security officers, the installation of surveillance cameras, and the implementation of a new security protocol. But is this enough to keep students safe?

To the Editor:

As a graduate student at the University, I have been fortunate enough to have had the opportunity to work closely with the University's security officers. They are dedicated professionals who take their jobs very seriously. However, there are still many concerns that need to be addressed.

Unfortunately, more than 20 students have been victims of violent crime on University property in the last two years. Students who walk alone at night, especially near the Social and Natural Sciences Complex and the Brown University dormitories, have reported feeling threatened by the presence of criminals. But what about the "danger zone": the perimeter of the campus where students live, work, and study? The answers to these questions are what provide context for the University's recent security initiatives.

In 1995, the University announced that it would increase security to combat the increasing number of crimes committed on campus. This announcement came in the wake of a particularly violent incident, in which a student was stabbed to death while walking to class. Since then, the University has made several improvements to its security system, including the addition of security officers, the installation of surveillance cameras, and the implementation of a new security protocol. But is this enough to keep students safe?
Chicago

Dollar breaks yen level, unemployment

Top Group of Seven's comments on yen high

TOKYO — The Group of Seven's comments on the dollar sent it higher than it had been in nearly two years. Meeting over the weekend in Washington, the G-7发达国家的言论周二促使美元对日元的汇率升至近两周来的最高水平。...
New stress on dietary balance

NEW YORK (UPI) - New stress on chocolate cake. Don't torture days or a week, instead of obeying guidelines aimed at getting overall diet. That recommendation comes from the American Heart Association, which has issued revised guidelines to reduce guilt from eating a variety of foods and revamping guidelines.

The guidelines don't change the recommended maximum levels of fat and cholesterol in people's meals.

"Getting an overall balance is what's really important," she said. "I don't see any evidence that the levels could be gluttonous one day then fly out the rest of the week."

This fits the theme of containing a variety of foods and reducing guilt from eating something bad now and then," said Ronal Krause, chairman of a committee that developed the revamped guidelines.

It's fair to note now that the risk for heart disease is a higher concern than the risk for heart disease risk is not present. These are the first changes since 1988 in the heart association guidelines, which were first published in 1985.

In the past, the association recommended daily levels for such nutrients as saturated fat and cholesterol for everyone, but not suggesting that the levels could be varied daily more than a week's time.

The guidelines were made to alleviate frustration among people who feel that meeting the guidelines every day was unattainable. Bernard Latané, a dietitian at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center at Dallas, said the idea of meeting nutritional goals over a week's time is already advanced by many dieters.

"Getting an overall balance is what's really important," she said. Robert Ricci, 38, a sales engineer in Dallas, said he figures that out for himself. Ricci usually eats a low-fat, high-fiber diet heavy on foods like raisin bread and baked potatoes.

"I go to the ER for exams and I go to the Wednesday special, which is a very good but very high cholesterol included," he recalled. "It's on the other side in a sense," said Ricci, who was eating a fat-free brownie." Weighed "against that," he said, the character of the dietitian, "except for the offense charged, there is no indication the defendant is in any kind of criminal conduct." Said Parker, a spokesperson for the U.S. At.orney's office, "The defendant has appealed the ruling. A hearing is set for tomorrow morning."

Kim was arrested last week after government invalidated his passport and released him from federal custody.

"The evidence in this case is simply overwheming," Chesser told the court.

In the furor following Kim's arrest last week, Bank was recruited by his government. Chesser, who was Associate Deputy Attorney General, typically represents a tremendous risk of flight. All U.S. Magistrate Judge Marie Parker said his campaign for 10 years in prison and a 250,000 fine.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert Chesnut argued the charge Kim faces carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a 250,000 fine.

The charge is giving classified government documents to an unauthorized party which is less serious than the charge of giving classified government documents to an unauthorized party which is less serious than the charge of giving classified government documents to an unauthorized party.

But the courtroom was packed with more than 12,000 people, who said they were friends of Walrath and colleagues.

Dorothy Kim's release Thursday followed the judge's decision Wednesday.

"I think there's any suggestion he was recruited by a foreign power, or that he was paid, that seems to me that the very worst case the government can put forward is that Mr. Kim did something ill-advised and stupid." "He's 25 pages of affidavits released when Kim was arrested last week said the government invalidated his passport and released him from federal custody.

"The evidence in this case is simply overwhelming," Chesser told the court.

"In the furor following Kim's arrest last week, Bank was recruited by his government. Chesser, who was Associate Deputy Attorney General, typically represents a tremendous risk of flight. All U.S. Magistrate Judge Marie Parker said his campaign for 10 years in prison and a 250,000 fine.

But the courtroom was packed with more than 12,000 people, who said they were friends of Walrath and colleagues. Dorothy Kim's release Thursday followed the judge's decision Wednesday.

"I think there's any suggestion he was recruited by a foreign power, or that he was paid, that seems to me that the very worst case the government can put forward is that Mr. Kim did something ill-advised and stupid." "He's 25 pages of affidavits released when Kim was arrested last week said the government invalidated his passport and released him from federal custody.

"The evidence in this case is simply overwhelming," Chesser told the court.

"In the furor following Kim's arrest last week, Bank was recruited by his government. Chesser, who was Associate Deputy Attorney General, typically represents a tremendous risk of flight. All U.S. Magistrate Judge Marie Parker said his campaign for 10 years in prison and a 250,000 fine.

But the courtroom was packed with more than 12,000 people, who said they were friends of Walrath and colleagues. Dorothy Kim's release Thursday followed the judge's decision Wednesday.

"I think there's any suggestion he was recruited by a foreign power, or that he was paid, that seems to me that the very worst case the government can put forward is that Mr. Kim did something ill-advised and stupid." "He's 25 pages of affidavits released when Kim was arrested last week said the government invalidated his passport and released him from federal custody.

"The evidence in this case is simply overwhelming," Chesser told the court.

"In the furor following Kim's arrest last week, Bank was recruited by his government. Chesser, who was Associate Deputy Attorney General, typically represents a tremendous risk of flight. All U.S. Magistrate Judge Marie Parker said his campaign for 10 years in prison and a 250,000 fine.

But the courtroom was packed with more than 12,000 people, who said they were friends of Walrath and colleagues. Dorothy Kim's release Thursday followed the judge's decision Wednesday.

"I think there's any suggestion he was recruited by a foreign power, or that he was paid, that seems to me that the very worst case the government can put forward is that Mr. Kim did something ill-advised and stupid." "He's 25 pages of affidavits released when Kim was arrested last week said the government invalidated his passport and released him from federal custody.

"The evidence in this case is simply overwhelming," Chesser told the court.

"In the furor following Kim's arrest last week, Bank was recruited by his government. Chesser, who was Associate Deputy Attorney General, typically represents a tremendous risk of flight. All U.S. Magistrate Judge Marie Parker said his campaign for 10 years in prison and a 250,000 fine.

But the courtroom was packed with more than 12,000 people, who said they were friends of Walrath and colleagues. Dorothy Kim's release Thursday followed the judge's decision Wednesday.

"I think there's any suggestion he was recruited by a foreign power, or that he was paid, that seems to me that the very worst case the government can put forward is that Mr. Kim did something ill-advised and stupid." "He's 25 pages of affidavits released when Kim was arrested last week said the government invalidated his passport and released him from federal custody.

"The evidence in this case is simply overwhelming," Chesser told the court.

"In the furor following Kim's arrest last week, Bank was recruited by his government. Chesser, who was Associate Deputy Attorney General, typically represents a tremendous risk of flight. All U.S. Magistrate Judge Marie Parker said his campaign for 10 years in prison and a 250,000 fine.
"FROM DAY ONE, I MADE A REAL DIFFERENCE."

Today, DJJ is one of Wall Street's fastest growing and most profitable securities firms. It's also one of the leanest - which means our analysts are exposed to significant responsibility and have contact with senior bankers and clients almost immediately. At DJJ, you can go as far - and as fast - as your talents will take you.

PRESENTATION TO SENIORS
TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1ST,
6:00 PM PALLADIUM,
MEMORIAL HALL
RECEPTION FOLLOWS

Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette
New York Atlanta Boston Chicago Dallas Houston Los Angeles Miami Philadelphia San Francisco Buenos Aires Geneva Hong Kong Johannesburg London Lugano Mexico City Paris São Paulo Tokyo

©1996 Donaldson Lufkin & Jenrette Securities Corporation
Pearce leads Monmouth in blowout of W. Soccer

By Kendall Watson
The Daily Pennsylvanian

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

W. Soccer

Monmouth: 5

The Monmouth women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.

The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team was outmanned by the Monmouth Hawks, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games. The Penn women's soccer team's trip to the Jersey shore on Sunday was not pleasant at all. The Monmouth Hawks routed the Quakers, 5-0, giving Penn its fourth loss in six games.
PHI-VILADELPHIA — The Dallas Cowboys blew their last chance at a playoff berth by allowing the Philadelphia Eagles to come from behind during the second half of the Divisional Series game on Sunday, October 13, at Veterans Stadium. The Eagles scored two touchdowns in the final 12 minutes, including a 20-yard pass from Randall Cunningham to John Kline with 7:30 left in the game, to win 20-17 and eliminate the Cowboys from the playoffs.

The Cowboys, who entered the game with a 10-2 record, were leading 17-10 at halftime but were outscored 10-0 in the second half, losing a chance to win their fifth consecutive NFC East title and a trip to the Super Bowl.

On Sunday, the Cowboys played the Eagles, a team they had beaten three times in the past. The game was played in front of a capacity crowd of 63,702 at Veterans Stadium, with the temperature at 68 degrees and the humidity at 60 percent.

In the first quarter, the Cowboys scored on a 20-yard pass from Tony Aikman to Michael Irvin, giving them a 7-0 lead. In the second quarter, the Eagles scored on a 49-yard field goal by John Kline, and then the Cowboys scored again on a 15-yard pass from Aikman to Irvin, giving them a 10-3 lead at halftime.

In the third quarter, the Eagles scored on a 49-yard pass from Cunningham to Kline, giving them a 10-10 tie. In the fourth quarter, the Cowboys scored on a 20-yard pass from Aikman to Irvin, giving them a 17-10 lead. Then, in the final 12 minutes, the Eagles scored two touchdowns, including a 20-yard pass from Cunningham to Kline, to win 20-17.

The Cowboys, who entered the game with a 10-2 record, were leading 17-10 at halftime but were outscored 10-0 in the second half, losing a chance to win their fifth consecutive NFC East title and a trip to the Super Bowl.

date: October 13, 1996

Aikman's fumble at the 7-yard line, giving the Eagles possession at the Dallas 21. On the next play, Cunningham hit Kline for a 20-yard gain, setting up the tying touchdown. The Eagles then recovered a fumble by Aikman at the Dallas 10, and on the next play, Cunningham hit Kline for a 20-yard touchdown, giving the Eagles a 17-10 lead.

In the final 12 minutes, the Eagles scored two touchdowns, including a 20-yard pass from Cunningham to Kline, to win 20-17.

The Cowboys, who entered the game with a 10-2 record, were leading 17-10 at halftime but were outscored 10-0 in the second half, losing a chance to win their fifth consecutive NFC East title and a trip to the Super Bowl.
The Quakers enter win column with victory over Dragons

By Elizabeth Beller
The Daily Pennsylvanian

The Penn men’s soccer team was not beating Bucknell last Saturday, and after a tumultuous overtime period the ball was flying around, smiling. They were giddy. They were bouncing.

Bouncing out of a losing streak that is. For the first time this season the Quakers had beaten Drexel after losing to the Dragons in the first match of the season, 1-0. Penn forward Morgan Blackwell’s head, and then forward Mike O’Connor gave Penn its first victory over Drexel in two years.

The victory improved the Quakers’ record to 1-2. Coach George O’Neill said he was "delighted," with the victory and tie a "long overdue." After the scoreless first half, Blackwell scored in the third minute. A header of his own rebound gave Penn a 1-0 lead and gave Penn’s second goal of the game in the 58th minute. The Quakers then attempted unsuccessfully to shut the Dragons out by scoring 28 minutes remaining in the game.

With two minutes remaining in regulation, Drexel forward Adam Greene scored on a penalty corner to earn his second goal of the game and tie the score of 1-1. Drexel’s second goal came without the aid of a corner attempt.

"Drexel is a team that will never stop," O’Connor said. "Especially the midfield, they just don’t stop; they went 11 vs. 11 the whole game. Everyone stepped up their play today. As a result, we were able to win a game that we were predicted to lose." The Quakers won their first game of the season against Drexel and beat the Dragons.

SPORTS

M. Soccer
Penn 2
Drexel 1

"We definitely outplayed Drexel in overtime," O’Neill said. "We got penalized for a few times and had to focus for a little bit," the coach continued. "But we played great in the ball for days of the game."

Quakers’ guide Mike O’Connor added another goal to Penn’s tally in the second half, but was challenged with a shot, which he saved four. "It’s a big game for us, and we were able to be successful in our efforts," said O’Connor. "I’m very happy with our play."

Penn tops William & Mary on the road
Quakers end three-game road losing streak with 2-1 win

By Paul Chrisler
The Daily Pennsylvanian

At a place called home against St. Joseph’s (2-3) had been three tough losses on the road. The Quakers broke a three-game road losing streak from Villanova and William & Mary with a 2-1 win over the Wildcats.

The Penn field hockey team’s defensive

Val Cloud said. "That was our best game of the season. We were aggressive and confident."

"We proved to ourselves that we could still be competitive and definitely a really positive thing," said Kelly, noting that the scoring pressure began to take a toll on the defense. "We really trusted our whole defense, but the scoring pressure ended there."

Sophomore Rita Garber almost decided not to run cross country at Penn. She had the chance to compete in cross country at Albert has been used to putting his best foot forward for parts of the game." And we got beat on two or three more of those in a row."

"We tend to loose focus for a little bit," Garber said. "I try to work on this every day to constantly improve upon my performance."

"I won't be the one to quit on my teammates watch that and can relate to
"I made it to the state championship high school last year and earned an at-large bid to the NCAA tournament."

"O’Neill said about the Dragons offensive pressure. "We got penalized on three times and had to focus for a little bit," the coach continued. "But we played great in the ball for days of the game."

"I was on the verge of quitting a couple of times," Garber said. "No one gave me any indication that I couldn’t compete."

"I don’t know what I would do if I didn’t have distance running. It’s such a relaxing sport for me."

"She’s quiet, but a natural leader in the team. People who haven’t gotten much credit, the team recognizes each other."

"Despite all of her hard work, she is one of those rare people who will not compete or sacrifice a higher individual spot in order to win and lead the team."

"Her teammates watch that and can relate to her experiences."

"Killing ‘em softly"
Penn sophomore cross country runner Rita Garber lets her feet do all the talking

By Brooks Donaldson
The Daily Pennsylvanian

Penn sophomore Rita Garber has been described as a "silent worker" by Quakers’ assistant women’s track coach Tony Tenis-

"We felt good in our efforts," said O’Neill. "I’m very happy with our play."

"I was the one who didn’t get tired, and she finished in second place."

"I was on the verge of quitting a couple of times," Garber said. "No one gave me any indication that I couldn’t compete."

"I really glad I stuck with it. It gives me personal satisfaction."

"We have to work harder at being a group and staying together."

"I don’t know what I would do if I didn’t have distance running. It’s such a relaxing sport for me."

"Despite all of her hard work, she is one of those rare people who will not compete or sacrifice a higher individual spot in order to win and lead the team."

"Her teammates watch that and can relate to her experiences."

"I’m really glad I stuck with it. It gives me personal satisfaction."

"We have to work harder at being a group and staying together."

"I don’t know what I would do if I didn’t have distance running. It’s such a relaxing sport for me."

"Despite all of her hard work, she is one of those rare people who will not compete or sacrifice a higher individual spot in order to win and lead the team."

"Her teammates watch that and can relate to her experiences."

"I’m really glad I stuck with it. It gives me personal satisfaction."

"We have to work harder at being a group and staying together."

"I don’t know what I would do if I didn’t have distance running. It’s such a relaxing sport for me."

"Despite all of her hard work, she is one of those rare people who will not compete or sacrifice a higher individual spot in order to win and lead the team."

"Her teammates watch that and can relate to her experiences."

"I’m really glad I stuck with it. It gives me personal satisfaction."

"We have to work harder at being a group and staying together."

"I don’t know what I would do if I didn’t have distance running. It’s such a relaxing sport for me."

"Despite all of her hard work, she is one of those rare people who will not compete or sacrifice a higher individual spot in order to win and lead the team."

"Her teammates watch that and can relate to her experiences."

"I’m really glad I stuck with it. It gives me personal satisfaction."

"We have to work harder at being a group and staying together."

"I don’t know what I would do if I didn’t have distance running. It’s such a relaxing sport for me."

"Despite all of her hard work, she is one of those rare people who will not compete or sacrifice a higher individual spot in order to win and lead the team."

"Her teammates watch that and can relate to her experiences."

"I’m really glad I stuck with it. It gives me personal satisfaction."

"We have to work harder at being a group and staying together."

"I don’t know what I would do if I didn’t have distance running. It’s such a relaxing sport for me."

"Despite all of her hard work, she is one of those rare people who will not compete or sacrifice a higher individual spot in order to win and lead the team."

"Her teammates watch that and can relate to her experiences."

"I’m really glad I stuck with it. It gives me personal satisfaction."

"We have to work harder at being a group and staying together."

"I don’t know what I would do if I didn’t have distance running. It’s such a relaxing sport for me."

"Despite all of her hard work, she is one of those rare people who will not compete or sacrifice a higher individual spot in order to win and lead the team."

"Her teammates watch that and can relate to her experiences."

"I’m really glad I stuck with it. It gives me personal satisfaction."

"We have to work harder at being a group and staying together."

"I don’t know what I would do if I didn’t have distance running. It’s such a relaxing sport for me."

"Despite all of her hard work, she is one of those rare people who will not compet