The Admissions dean said he attributes this fall's decline to applicants' concerns about campus safety and to new early decision. Only 1,628 students applied early two years ago, compared to 1,832 from last year's 2,046.

The breakdown of the early decision applications showed decreases in almost every area, including those of the four-year undergraduate students to the School of Nursing increased.

Applications from alumni children dropped, from 232 to 114. But 35 family of alumni and staff applicants dropped out by 15 last year.

Minority applications decreased from 286 to 114.

Stetson said states including Illinois, Michigan, Maryland, New York, and New Jersey saw all decreases in applications.

On note, New York's applicant total fell from 388 to 297 and only 363 New Jersey students applied, down from 42 last year.

But Stetson added that the student concern regarding campus safety have come from students and parents living in the Eastern seaboard and in major cities like Houston and Miami.

The applications the University received showed a "strong" pool, Stetson said. The average SAT score of the applicant pool was 1290.

Stetson said he expects to admit 40 percent of those who applied — making up a third of the Class of 2004.

He specified that the new early decision policies are designed to let prospective students apply to those schools instead of Penn.

Princeton, Stanford, and Yale universities had prospective students applying to those schools instead of Penn.

Princeton, Stanford, and Yale previously had early action policies that did not require students to renege on intentions of matriculating at those other schools.

Stetson also said some students may have been "deterred" by last year's more selective admissions process.

Last fall, the Admissions Office reported

SCUE will offer seven seminars scheduled for next term, take behind-the-scenes tours at the Philadelphia Museum of Art, and participate in the urban agenda priority of the University community.

"It's a community effort to try to get a more sophisticated curriculum through the practice into the curriculum through the advancement of urban design studies," Hack said.

As director of Canada's Ministry of Education, He was also said to have been a forceful advocate for an early decision pilot program while at the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Toronto.

"There are some things out there that don't take a lot of time, just requires quick action," Fry said.

So for the first time last Friday and will continue to meet at least once a week, according to co-Chair Anthony Seamon, who is serving in the post of Public Safety Director.

Stetson said he wants to form a process into the curriculum through the advancement of urban design studies, which is important because it can make "West Philadelphia a model case of how urban agendas can work.

Landscape Architecture and Regional Planning Department Chairperson John Dunn said although black has some definite plans for the School of Architecture, "where we are coming from, what our plans are.

He actually meets with departments on a regular two-week basis," Hunt said.

And Warren Claytor, an architecture and landscape architecture student, said Hack has a great rapport with the student body of the University.

"Hack taught urban design at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for 25 years and has taught at Princeton, Penn through the University's Aganda for Excellence.

Fry said the group will probably disband after the six-week period of the police activity.

"We want to make sure the things we do are seen to be in sustained," said Whitley, who is the associate director of the Study of the University Police's impact on the local communities.

Source: U. Admissions Office

The 40th Street Action Team will work on cleaning up the area.

The Police have dedicated more resources to off-campus areas since this year's start of crime began.

The pilot program will continue for its second semester in the spring.

The Student Committee on Urban Development Education has recommended the continuation of the pilot preceptorial program, with seven more seminar courses set for next spring.

Preceptorial programs are small seminars that meet once a week or less for the credit of a grade for the class.

Students who participated in this this semester's six preceptorial programs are now filling out surveys to improve the programs, according to SCUE Chairperson and Whiterhead assistant professor of Sociology.

"They have been better but overall the response has been positive," he pointed out to see what it is about what we are doing," he said.

The preceptorial for next semester may be different than those in the pilot program, with seven new seminars set for next spring.

The pilot program will continue for its second semester in the spring.

By Shannon Burke

Next semester, some students will be invited to class at the Marcy Center, 24th Street and Market Street, Philadelphia, a model case of where when regularization occurs on, and because every city in the nation is facing these types of issues.

Hack said he also wants undergraduates to become more involved with issues of crime prevention, "the right of hands on visual arts requirements," he said.

"He actually meets with departments on a regular two-week basis," Hunt said.

And Warren Claytor, an architecture and landscape architecture student, said Hack has a great rapport with the student body of the University.

The University hired 10 Spectaguards at the beginning of October to conduct highly visible foot patrols in the area west of 40th Street.

The first 10 Spectaguards cost the University $400,000 a year. While administrators say they will probably disband after the six-week period of the police activity.

The new security guards and a recent mugging in the 40th Street corridor between San and Fawns Streets have increased the University's desire to improve security on off-campus areas.

The police Antonia group will probably disband after the six-week period of the police activity.

"We want to make sure the things we do are seen to be in sustained," said Whitley, who is the associate director of the Study of the University Police's impact on the local communities.

Source: U. Admissions Office

The 40th Street Action Team will work on cleaning up the area.

The Police have dedicated more resources to off-campus areas since this year's start of crime began.

The pilot program will continue for its second semester in the spring.

The Student Committee on Urban Development Education has recommended the continuation of the pilot preceptorial program, with seven more seminar courses set for next spring.

Preceptorial programs are small seminars that meet once a week or less for the credit of a grade for the class.

Students who participated in this this semester's six preceptorial programs are now filling out surveys to improve the programs, according to SCUE Chairperson and Whiterhead assistant professor of Sociology.

"They have been better but overall the response has been positive," he pointed out to see what it is about what we are doing," he said.

The preceptorial for next semester may be different than those in the pilot program, with seven new seminars set for next spring.

The pilot program will continue for its second semester in the spring.

By Shannon Burke

Next semester, some students will be invited to class at the Marcy Center, 24th Street and Market Street, Philadelphia, a model case of where when regularization occurs on, and because every city in the nation is facing these types of issues.

Hack said he also wants undergraduates to become more involved with issues of crime prevention, "the right of hands on visual arts requirements," he said.

"He actually meets with departments on a regular two-week basis," Hunt said.

And Warren Claytor, an architecture and landscape architecture student, said Hack has a great rapport with the student body of the University.

The University hired 10 Spectaguards at the beginning of October to conduct highly visible foot patrols in the area west of 40th Street.

The first 10 Spectaguards cost the University $400,000 a year. While administrators say they will probably disband after the six-week period of the police activity.

The new security guards and a recent mugging in the 40th Street corridor between San and Fawns Streets have increased the University's desire to improve security on off-campus areas.

The police Antonia group will probably disband after the six-week period of the police activity.

"We want to make sure the things we do are seen to be in sustained," said Whitley, who is the associate director of the Study of the University Police's impact on the local communities.

Source: U. Admissions Office

The 40th Street Action Team will work on cleaning up the area.

The Police have dedicated more resources to off-campus areas since this year's start of crime began.
Rodin to reveal future of Book Store site today at U. Council

Also during University Council, Rodin will give her ‘State of the University’ address about Penn's long-range strategic goals.

By Andrea Abner

The future of the current Book Store site will be announced at tomorrow's University Council meeting, ending months of lobbying by both the Wharton School of Business and the Psychology Department.

Also at Council, University President Judith Rodin will discuss the University's long-range strategic plans during her “State of the University” address.

Early applications drop by 10.4 percent

U. POLICY from page 1

University President Judith Rodin will discuss the University's long-range strategic plans during her “State of the University" address.

Early applications drop by 10.4 percent

Rodin added that in order to effectively carry out a master plan, administrators must focus on specific sections like retail and University buildings and residence.

You can’t be everything to everyone,” she added.

Retail and vendors throughout the University make up a key component of the master plan. Rodin said all retail on Walnut Street and the ground floor of Revelle Hall will be“duly allocated:

We have a strong sense of what students want,” she said.

In December, the University will remain housing responsibilities for 20th Walnut Street, which had previously been handled by a Philadelphia-based housing company. As a result, the University will be able to control which vendors are located in the Food Court and the entire Walnut and 36th Street area.

The move is part of a broader effort to emphasize the importance of long-range planning even though the benefits are not immediately visible.

Proven Stanley Chadkower will also report to Council on the University’s international strategic plan.

Chadkower said he will specifically address the globalization of the University’s research and graduate programs.

The body will also hear a report on our-}

Student Travel

Discover

The Minority International Research Training Program...

General Information Meeting: Friday, November 15 1:00-5:00
Location Room B John Morgan Bldg.
Basement 3620 Hamilton Walk
For More Information Contact: Deborah Wallace
B 307 Richards Bldg.
http://www.med.upenn.edu/aids
Tel. 898-5208

November Specials

Powelton Royal

Ricotta Royale
Powelton’s traditional style
pizza topped with a rich
layer of ricotta cheese

Large Ricotta Royale $8.15 $7.05!
Small Ricotta Royale $4.95 $3.85!

November Specials

Buy one Large Pizza
get one Topping Free.

November Specials

$2.00 off the purchase of a Large Pizza.

November Specials

$1.00 off the purchase of a Small Pizza.

STUDENT TRAVEL

STATA Travel is the world's largest travel organization specializing in low-cost travel for students.

- Students Academic - Group Travel
- Domestic Trips - International Travel
- Discount Flights - Online Booking
- Cruise Deals - Hotel Deals

For More Information Contact: Deb Wallace
B 307 Richards Bldg.
http://www.med.upenn.edu/aids
Tel. 898-5208

Copyright, 1996, The Daily Pennsylvania
All rights reserved. Reproduction without permission is strictly prohibited.

CAMPUS

As a member of our Sales Staff next semester, you’ll have the chance to earn a substantial income on a part-time basis.

Our Sales Training Program, combined with your 12-15 hours per week on the street, and in the office, will give you real-world business experience that employers value.

This is experience you simply can’t get from a club or in a classroom.

Why work in a Sales position if you’re not interested in a career in sales?

Real-World Business Experience

Phone & Communication Skills

Experience in Formal Presentations

Experience Working With Clients

Business Letter-Writing Skills

Computer Training

We’re hiring now for next semester’s staff.

Here’s an invitation for you to join the Sales Department of The Daily Pennsylvania.

As a member of our Sales Staff next semester, you’ll have the chance to earn a substantial income on a part-time basis.

You’ll meet with Center City and campus-area businesses to sell advertising in The Daily Pennsylvania’s long range with over $1.00 million in annual revenue.

Please call Joanna Newman by Friday, November 15 at 898-6581 ext. 122 for more information, or to schedule an interview.
Among the serious problems the city faces is the need to repave roads and sidewalks. Fried said in his weekend cleaning program, although she added.

Contact the University by calling 898-0000 or email undergrad@upenn.edu. Underlying causes for why people feel the courses are not as rewarding are the different disciplines, while involving the students in research is central at the University Museum.

"I'm hoping to get the students involved in a seminar entitled "Theorizing in Particular Approaches to American culture and home sickness," said Henry Teune. He will teach a seminar on American politics and come to Houston Hall Room 502 from 12:30-2:30pm Call 368-1530 for more information.

HACK plans new initiatives

Hack said he became interested in Penn when President Judith Rodin and Provost Stanley Cooper explained how the connection between theory and practice is central at Penn. "I decided to see if we can build a distinctive school with theory and practice really inside the walls," Hack said.

Gonna rain? If you love beautiful cappuccino music then you don't want to miss this. The INSPIRATIONAL presents "COOL OUT" November 15th and 16th The Pub at The Tim Teves $5 Dunlap Auditorium

Attention!

Ambitious, intelligent, Eclectic Liberal Arts students. Are you confused, bemused, scared, skeptical, frustrated or frightened about your career path? The College Alumni Society wants to help.

7th Annual College of Arts and Sciences Career Fair

Meet with distinguished alumni in such fields as:

- Architecture
- Education
- Finance
- Fine Arts
- Government
- Health Care
- Journalism
- Law
- Non-Profit
- Retailing
- and more!

Get noticed! Advertise in the Group aims to clean up 40th St. corridor

The campus events section of the newsletter includes information about various events happening on campus, such as seminars, lectures, and career fairs. The events are listed in a tabular format, with details such as dates, times, locations, and descriptions.

For example, there is a career fair for students to discuss careers with alumni in various fields such as Fine Arts, Government, Health Care, Architecture, Education, Finance, and more.

The newsletter also includes a section called "Get noticed! Advertise in the..." which is likely a call to action for potential advertisers.

The section "South Street" includes a list of events happening on South Street, which is a busy commercial area in Philadelphia.

The "Group continues preceptorial program" section mentions the continuation of a preceptorial program, which is a form of mentorship or guidance provided by experienced faculty members.

The "Hack plans new initiatives" section mentions plans for new initiatives at Hack's school, which could include new projects, programs, or collaborations.

The "SCUE continues preceptorial program" section mentions the continuation of a preceptorial program at SCUE, possibly involving mentorship or guidance in a specific field.

The "Hacker plans new initiatives" section mentions plans for new initiatives at Hacker's school, which could include new projects, programs, or collaborations.

The "Get noticed! Advertise in the..." section is likely a call to action for potential advertisers.

The "Attention!" section mentions the presence of ambitious, intelligent, and eclectic liberal arts students who may be confused, bemused, scared, skeptical, frustrated, or frightened about their career path. The College Alumni Society may be offering help.

The "7th Annual College of Arts and Sciences Career Fair" section mentions a career fair for students to discuss careers with alumni in various fields such as Fine Arts, Government, Health Care, Architecture, Education, Finance, and more.

The "Get noticed! Advertise in the..." section is likely a call to action for potential advertisers.

The "Attention!" section mentions the presence of ambitious, intelligent, and eclectic liberal arts students who may be confused, bemused, scared, skeptical, frustrated, or frightened about their career path. The College Alumni Society may be offering help.

The "7th Annual College of Arts and Sciences Career Fair" section mentions a career fair for students to discuss careers with alumni in various fields such as Fine Arts, Government, Health Care, Architecture, Education, Finance, and more.

The "Get noticed! Advertise in the..." section is likely a call to action for potential advertisers.

The "Attention!" section mentions the presence of ambitious, intelligent, and eclectic liberal arts students who may be confused, bemused, scared, skeptical, frustrated, or frightened about their career path. The College Alumni Society may be offering help.

The "7th Annual College of Arts and Sciences Career Fair" section mentions a career fair for students to discuss careers with alumni in various fields such as Fine Arts, Government, Health Care, Architecture, Education, Finance, and more.

The "Get noticed! Advertise in the..." section is likely a call to action for potential advertisers.

The "Attention!" section mentions the presence of ambitious, intelligent, and eclectic liberal arts students who may be confused, bemused, scared, skeptical, frustrated, or frightened about their career path. The College Alumni Society may be offering help.

The "7th Annual College of Arts and Sciences Career Fair" section mentions a career fair for students to discuss careers with alumni in various fields such as Fine Arts, Government, Health Care, Architecture, Education, Finance, and more.

The "Get noticed! Advertise in the..." section is likely a call to action for potential advertisers.
The LURKER rules unseen...

Many have tried to bring him down.

All have failed.

But you have something they didn’t.

- You can track him by reading his stories.
- Store clues about him on the Lurker Tracker disk.
- Examine his secret files and stolen diaries.
- Discover the reach of his power in the Lost Episode.
- Access his Web site and post in the real live Ratskellar chat room.

He’s up to the challenge. Are you?

THE LURKER FILES

@ BOOKSTORES NOW

http://www.randomhouse.com/lurkerfiles/
Berkeley students protest Prop. 209

By Mark Flan

Wednesday, November 13, 1996

Students throughout the University of California system have introduced their own version of a constitutional amendment, Prop. 209, a California referendum that bans affirmative action in all state agencies.

The law, which received per-cm of the vote in last Tuesday's election, prohibits public colleges and universities from using preferences in admissions and financial aid awards, barring scholarships or hiring practices that give preference to members of a race, sex or national origin.

At the University of California at Berkeley, student's fought the law's implementation throughout last week— and immigration issues kept the political activity campus.

Among the demands— mostly made by minority students— was a call for the resignation of the chairperson of the UC system's Board of Regents. A spokesperson for the board has denounced Proposition 209.

California's nine campuses will become 60 percent white in the years following last Tuesday's elections, a California referendum that has banned affirmative action in all state agencies.

The law, which received percent of the vote in last Tuesday's election, prohibits public colleges and universities from using preferences in admissions and financial aid awards, barring scholarships or hiring practices that give preference to members of a race, sex or national origin.

At the University of California at Berkeley, student's fought the law's implementation throughout last week— and immigration issues kept the political activity campus. The University of Pennsylvania Department of Music presents ANCIENT VOICES

William Parberry, Director

Bawdy Music of the Renaissance & Baroque

Friday, November 15, 1996 at 8:00 pm Meyerson Hall B-1 Auditorium 34th and Walnut Streets

ADMISSION: $8 (54 students, Penn faculty/staff, senior citizens)

National Security Education Program Scholarship and Fellowship Competition

1997-98 UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS for study abroad

1997 GRADUATE ENHANCEMENT FELLOWSHIPS for specialization in area or language study, particularly in fields of NSEP emphasis: law, medicine/health, social sciences, economics, history, international relations, and area studies.

The NSEP fund assists students, graduate faculty/staff, schools, and independent scholars in preparing for specialization in fields of NSEP emphasis: law, medicine/health, social sciences, economics, history, international relations, and area studies.

Spring Rush Registration -Friday, November 15 12:00 - 3pm at Hill House -Thursday, November 14 12:00 - 3pm at StoufferQuestions? Contact the IFC at ifc@dolphin.upenn.edu

Interfraternity Council
Spring Rush Registration

Three ways to sign up for the IFC's formal rush

1) Lunch with Greeks at Dining Services

-Thursday, November 14 12:00 - 3pm at Stouffer

-Friday, November 15 12:00 - 3pm at Hill House

Come to sign up for rush and meet current fraternity members

2) Fill out and mail the Rush Interest Form in the fraternity and sorority handbook

3) Go to the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs

(OFS A) Monday thru Friday during regular business hours OFSA is located at Room 110 in High Rise North

Would you be hurt under all that coursework?

Come get the tools that will help you dig out.

Your options:

1. For an individual appointment with a learning instructor call: 573-9235

2. Stop in during walk-in hours: High Rise East, Suite 110 Mondays through Friday, noon until 3:00

3. Send us your question at our website address: learning@penniupenn.edu

Department of Academic Support Programs: Tutoring and Learning Resources

Phone: 215-896-6244

E-mail: OFSA-pen@pen.upenn.edu
Planning wholistically

Penn needs to fashion new initiatives — like crime prevention strategies — to work with current programs.

Last year, Longus Police have admitted that the safety in stylish rooms in the spring of 1985 was a low area. Whether the buildings are empty, the little wooden keys of all campus interections were working to improve anyone’s feeling of security.

But erecting the keys cost $221,000. I’m afraid the horses aren’t putting the keys in multiple wooden picture cases. And although scoping ineffective security measures makes more sense than continuing to pretend they work, the keys mess is indicative of a more pressing problem.

This week, plans propose, developments and implementations are in a very peset fashion. In some respects, their key to have to take this tactic, for others it’s the first step. What they or staff or student life are willing to try the immediate release of an initiative that addresses their concerns.

But with a little more time and thought, new initiatives — for campus facilities, safety and professional relationships — could be fashioned wholistically, to work with existing programs.

Mary Ann Julian, Ph. D., is a language professional at the Pennsylvania's English Language Program.

Suicide stunts

To the Editor:

The move by another university to political personalization of personal values, the only method under which the trauma of a student’s death can be borne by the bereaved family and friends is something that must be under consideration.

Mary Ann Julian, Ph. D., is a language professional at the Pennsylvania’s English Language Program.

Money's resolution

In the U.S., the battle is not over. As one student wrote in the Daily Pennsylvanian, “It is time for us to take another look at our policies.”

The Daily Pennsylvanian

EDITORIAL & OPINION

Planning wholistically

Penn needs to fashion new initiatives — like crime prevention strategies — to work with current programs.

Last year, Longus Police have admitted that the safety in stylish rooms in the spring of 1985 was a low area. Whether the buildings are empty, the little wooden keys of all campus interections were working to improve anyone’s feeling of security.

Planning wholistically

Penn needs to fashion new initiatives — like crime prevention strategies — to work with current programs.

Last year, Longus Police have admitted that the safety in stylish rooms in the spring of 1985 was a low area. Whether the buildings are empty, the little wooden keys of all campus interections were working to improve anyone’s feeling of security.

Planning wholistically

Penn needs to fashion new initiatives — like crime prevention strategies — to work with current programs.

Last year, Longus Police have admitted that the safety in stylish rooms in the spring of 1985 was a low area. Whether the buildings are empty, the little wooden keys of all campus interections were working to improve anyone’s feeling of security.

Planning wholistically

Penn needs to fashion new initiatives — like crime prevention strategies — to work with current programs.

Last year, Longus Police have admitted that the safety in stylish rooms in the spring of 1985 was a low area. Whether the buildings are empty, the little wooden keys of all campus interections were working to improve anyone’s feeling of security.

Planning wholistically

Penn needs to fashion new initiatives — like crime prevention strategies — to work with current programs.

Last year, Longus Police have admitted that the safety in stylish rooms in the spring of 1985 was a low area. Whether the buildings are empty, the little wooden keys of all campus interections were working to improve anyone’s feeling of security.

Planning wholistically

Penn needs to fashion new initiatives — like crime prevention strategies — to work with current programs.

Last year, Longus Police have admitted that the safety in stylish rooms in the spring of 1985 was a low area. Whether the buildings are empty, the little wooden keys of all campus interections were working to improve anyone’s feeling of security.

Planning wholistically

Penn needs to fashion new initiatives — like crime prevention strategies — to work with current programs.

Last year, Longus Police have admitted that the safety in stylish rooms in the spring of 1985 was a low area. Whether the buildings are empty, the little wooden keys of all campus interections were working to improve anyone’s feeling of security.
Do Some Steppin’ Out on Wednesday Nights!

Shopping and Dining around University City Just Got Even Better! Wednesday Nights

The shops and restaurants are open late and have lots of special values. So stay in the neighborhood and do some steppin’ out!

Weekly Prize Drawings

Gift certificates from participating retailers and restaurants will be given weekly totaling over $200.

For entry and rules, see a participating store.

---

JOIN US FOR

Steppin’ Out Nite

In University City

---

Participating Shopping Areas:

- University City Shopping Center • 40th and Walnut Streets

- Shops at Penn • 34th and Walnut Streets
  - Dunkin’ Donuts, Software, Etc., Footlocker, The Gap, Metro Hair, Eyeglass Encounters, Smilie Clothes, Cinnabon, The Camera Shop, Inc., University of Cards, Tuscany Cafe, Sam Goody, Philly Steak, La Pastabilities, Bassett’s Turkey, Hillary’s, Everything Yogurt, Bain’s Deli, Oriental Food, Cosimo’s Pizza

- Walnut Mall • 3900 Walnut Street
  - CVS, Kinko’s Copies, Cinemagic 3 at Penn, CME Computers, Campus Market, Baskin & Robbins, College Pizza

- Stouffer Triangle • 38th and Spruce Streets
  - Beijing Restaurant, Campus Chemist, Dolooby’s, Grand Shoes, Bonded Cleaners, Penn Campus Barber Shop & Hair Salon, Steve and Barry’s University Sportswear, Wawa Food Market

- Blue Corner Stores • 36th and Chestnut Streets
  - Ace-4 Pizza, Wawa Food Market, Penntrix, Council Travel, Han Wool

- University Plaza South • 38th and Walnut Streets
  - Pennsylvania Book Center, STA Travel, The Seed, University Jewelers, Classical Choice, Out of Time Comics, Vibes Music, Flower Emporium, Fiesta Pizza, The University of Pennsylvania Bookstore

- University Plaza North • 38th and Walnut Streets
  - Joseph Anthony Hair Styling, Mailboxes, Etc., Campus Copy, Thrift Drugs, Commerce Bank

- Sanson Row • 34th and Sansom Streets
  - Le Bus, Avril 50, White Dog Cafe, Black Cat, Saturn Club, Bucks County Coffee Co.

- 40th Street Area • Chestnut to Spruce Streets
  - Thai Singha House, Salon Nisha, Pattaya Grill, Lee’s Hoagie House, Formal Dimensions, Michael’s Custom Cuts

---

FREE PARKING LOCATIONS

- Barn’s Deli
  - $1 off any sandwich and medium beverage purchase
  - Not valid with any other offers
  - Offer valid November 13, 1996
  - 24-hour parking only

- Sanson Row
  - 15% off any purchase of $10.00 or more
  - Not valid with any other offers
  - Offer valid November 13, 1996
  - 24-hour parking only

- University City Nautilus
  - 50% off food only with student ID
  - Not valid with any other offers
  - Offer valid November 13, 1996

- Baskin & Robbins
  - 15% off any purchase of $10.00 or more
  - Not valid with any other offers
  - Offer valid November 13, 1996

- Dunkin’ Donuts
  - 30% off any purchase of $10.00 or more
  - Not valid with any other offers
  - Offer valid November 13, 1996

- Pattaya Grill
  - 20% off regular menu
  - Not valid with any other offers
  - Offer valid November 13, 1996

---

FREE PARKING

- Chester St.
  - 5:00 pm to 8:00 pm only

- Walnut St.
  - 5:00 pm to 8:00 pm only

- Spruce St.
  - 5:00 pm to 8:00 pm only

---

Steppin Out Wednesdays:

- November 13, 20
- December 4, 11, 18

From 5:00 pm - 8:00 pm

Street Entertainment

Free Parking

For validation to participating retailer. Parking good between the hours of 5:00 pm and 10:00 pm on Steppin Out Wednesdays.
The longing to the heirs of Holocaust Jewish assets — in the late 1940s and in 1962 — were largely successful.

Such a resolution has been adopted. It was the fifth straight year.

Two previous attempts to return such a resolution to the 185 member United Nations General Assembly yesterday overwhelmingly approved a resolution urging the United States to end its embargo of Cuba.

The vote was 138-3 with 25 abstentions. It was the fifth straight year.

Congress yesterday it would double the US troops were exposed to chemical and biological for Gulf War illness.

Whit said the Pentagon is acknowledging that an amendment acknowledged that an amendment for Gulf War investigation of events during and after the Gulf War.

For the bind of your choice...
Army brings charges against Missouri base

The sexual misconduct charges mark the second sex scandal in less than a week for the Army.

FORT LEE, N.J. — The second sex scandal in less than a week, a male drill sergeant at one of the nation's biggest training bases pleaded guilty yesterday to having sex with three female soldiers.

Two other male officers at Fort Leonard Wood charged of improperly touching female trainees, and seven drill sergeants were accused of inappropriate behavior. But none of the recruits had sex with a drill sergeant.

The charges were announced Wednesday after a sex scandal broke at the military's Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland. The said the two men were charged.

At an courtroom yesterday, Staff Sgt. Louis Taylor pleaded guilty to failing to obey a general regulation by having contact with a female recruit and giving cigarettes to trainees to improperly influence their behavior.

He and Staff Sgt. Anthony Fore are charged with having consensual sex with three female recruits and trying to have sex with another. He also admitted having improper contact with a fifth woman recruit.

The Army said the two men were charged before the Army set up a hotline for reports of sexual misconduct at Fort Leonard Wood, where authorities knew of the incident but had not set up the line for reports of sexual misconduct.

The Army said the new Congress is trying to access into clubs from Korea.

Official says US will send troops to Central Africa

WASHINGTON - The U.S. military will take part in an international effort to assist the Mozambique people in their struggle against guerrillas. The precise nature of the American role is still undetermined, an administration official said yesterday.

The official, who asked not to be identified, raised the possibility that ground troops would be sent but said an announcement probably is a few days off.

A member of the U.S. military team will be sent to Mozambique from South Africa. The officials said the presence of U.S. soldiers in the Mozambique civil situation, the Pentagon announced, was a first step.

But, the U.S. Agency for International Development was still assessing its efforts to assist the Mozambique people.

FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo. — The Army has brought charges against two drill sergeants and a female trainee.

The charges were announced Wednesday after a sex scandal broke at the military's Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland. The said the two men were charged.

The charges were announced Wednesday after a sex scandal broke at the military's Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland.

At an courtroom yesterday, Staff Sgt. Louis Taylor pleaded guilty to failing to obey a general regulation by having contact with a female recruit and giving cigarettes to trainees to improperly influence their behavior.

He and Staff Sgt. Anthony Fore are charged with having consensual sex with three female recruits and trying to have sex with another. He also admitted having improper contact with a fifth woman recruit.

The Army said the two men were charged before the Army set up a hotline for reports of sexual misconduct at Fort Leonard Wood, where authorities knew of the incident but had not set up the line for reports of sexual misconduct.

The Army said the new Congress is trying to access into clubs from Korea.

Official says US will send troops to Central Africa

WASHINGTON - The U.S. military will take part in an international effort to assist the Mozambique people in their struggle against guerrillas. The precise nature of the American role is still undetermined, an administration official said yesterday.

The official, who asked not to be identified, raised the possibility that ground troops would be sent but said an announcement probably is a few days off.

A member of the U.S. military team will be sent to Mozambique from South Africa. The officials said the presence of U.S. soldiers in the Mozambique civil situation, the Pentagon announced, was a first step.

But, the U.S. Agency for International Development was still assessing its efforts to assist the Mozambique people.

FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo. — The Army has brought charges against two drill sergeants and a female trainee.

The charges were announced Wednesday after a sex scandal broke at the military's Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland. The said the two men were charged.

The charges were announced Wednesday after a sex scandal broke at the military's Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland.

At an courtroom yesterday, Staff Sgt. Louis Taylor pleaded guilty to failing to obey a general regulation by having contact with a female recruit and giving cigarettes to trainees to improperly influence their behavior.

He and Staff Sgt. Anthony Fore are charged with having consensual sex with three female recruits and trying to have sex with another. He also admitted having improper contact with a fifth woman recruit.

The Army said the two men were charged before the Army set up a hotline for reports of sexual misconduct at Fort Leonard Wood, where authorities knew of the incident but had not set up the line for reports of sexual misconduct.

The Army said the new Congress is trying to access into clubs from Korea.

Official says US will send troops to Central Africa

WASHINGTON - The U.S. military will take part in an international effort to assist the Mozambique people in their struggle against guerrillas. The precise nature of the American role is still undetermined, an administration official said yesterday.

The official, who asked not to be identified, raised the possibility that ground troops would be sent but said an announcement probably is a few days off.

A member of the U.S. military team will be sent to Mozambique from South Africa. The officials said the presence of U.S. soldiers in the Mozambique civil situation, the Pentagon announced, was a first step.

But, the U.S. Agency for International Development was still assessing its efforts to assist the Mozambique people.

FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo. — The Army has brought charges against two drill sergeants and a female trainee.

The charges were announced Wednesday after a sex scandal broke at the military's Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland. The said the two men were charged.

The charges were announced Wednesday after a sex scandal broke at the military's Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland.

At an courtroom yesterday, Staff Sgt. Louis Taylor pleaded guilty to failing to obey a general regulation by having contact with a female recruit and giving cigarettes to trainees to improperly influence their behavior.

He and Staff Sgt. Anthony Fore are charged with having consensual sex with three female recruits and trying to have sex with another. He also admitted having improper contact with a fifth woman recruit.

The Army said the two men were charged before the Army set up a hotline for reports of sexual misconduct at Fort Leonard Wood, where authorities knew of the incident but had not set up the line for reports of sexual misconduct.

The Army said the new Congress is trying to access into clubs from Korea.
EDC 761: THE PSYCHOLOGY OF HUMAN LEARNING

During this spring 1997 term, both taught by Dr. Douglas Frye.

"I think everyone feels more comfortable when John is standing in the middle," Prindle said. "I know I feel a lot more ease when he is in the middle.

Prindle isn't at all surprised by Edelman's decision to try out for the national team in 1993, since Edelman made a similar commitment two years ago. "I think he's looking to really be more involved in the national setup," Prindle said.

To find out more about Bishop, you can prepare for.

At the NCAA regionals three years ago, Edelman showed he is capable of being a team player. In the national championship, he led the country with 10.5 assists per game.

"I know this isn't the end of the world, but I know it's going to be hard to handle," Bishop said. "It's icing on the cake," Bishop said.

Without Bishop calling the shots this week and should be ready

"I think everyone feels more comfortable when John is standing in the middle," Prindle said. "I know I feel a lot more ease when he is in the middle.

"I think I'm a little bit of a moody bummer," Bishop said.

"Bishop has made the jump from Irish sub to Perm star," Kishof said from page 14. "He really came on strong in the second half against Princeton last weekend, and he had a huge game in that win over into the national championship."

One of the candidates for the national team is Edelman, who has been a huge factor in Penn's success this season.

"I think I'm a little bit of a moody bummer," Bishop said.
IVY LEAGUE WEEK IN REVIEW

PLAYER AWARDS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>OFFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE WEEK</th>
<th>John Hanson, LB, Cornell</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>DEFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE WEEK</td>
<td>Rory Wilfork, LB, Columbia</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

STANDINGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ivy League Standings</th>
<th>Ivy League Standings</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Dartmouth 5-0</td>
<td>Penn 2-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brown 4-1</td>
<td>Harvard 2-4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Columbia 3-2</td>
<td>Cornell 1-4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cornell 3-2</td>
<td>Princeton 0-6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Penn 2-3</td>
<td>Yale 2-3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harvard 1-4</td>
<td>Dartmouth 2-2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Princeton 1-4</td>
<td>Columbia 2-9</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

IVY LEAGUE LEADERS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Ivy League Leaders</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>BOYD *3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| PA | 18%
| Ivy League Leaders |
| Team Ivy Overall PF PA |
| Dartmouth 5-0 86 242 80 |
| Brown 4-1 53 187 186 |
| Columbia 3-2 62 136 122 |
| Cornell 3-2 35 187 230 |
| Penn 2-3 44 184 136 |
| Harvard 1-4 35 125 126 |
| Princeton 1-4 24 111 209 |

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

| Princeton 12 p.m. | Yale 31 |
| Princeton 12:30 p.m. | Dartmouth 20 |
| Brown 23 |
| Yale at Columbia 11 a.m. | 99 |
| Princeton 2 p.m. | Penn 10 |
| Princeton 3 p.m. | Harvard 10 |

TEAM TOTAL DEFENSE

| Dartmouth 20 |
| Princeton 10 |
| Penn 10 |

TEAM TOTAL OFFENSE

| Dartmouth 20 |
| Princeton 10 |
| Penn 10 |

TEAM TOTAL RECEIVING

| Dartmouth 20 |
| Princeton 10 |
| Penn 10 |

HERPES VACCINE STUDY

Interested in an Experimental Vaccine for Prevention of Herpes?

The University of Pennsylvania Medical Center is looking for volunteers to enroll in a Herpes Vaccine research study. You must be 18 years or older, never had a genital herpes outbreak (oral herpes is okay), and be in good general health.

For more information, call: Janice Jacovini, RN, BSN

215/349/8092

The Shops At Liberty Place

Share your vote with others!

Please Join Us.

Southern New England Telecommunications is Connecticut’s leading information, entertainment, and communications company. We’re seeking candidates for our Corporate Development Department. You’ll help us pursue plans for growth as internal strategic consultants for our organization. Areas of recent work include mergers and acquisitions, strategy formulation, competitive analysis, product development, and financial planning. This is an excellent opportunity for individuals to become part of a dynamic, fast-changing, leading-edge industry.

Please join us on your campus!

Wednesday, November 13th: 6:30pm-8:30pm

THE PALLADIUM WINE CELLAR

3601 Locust Walk

We’re looking forward to meeting you! Casual attire, refreshments will be served. If you’re interested, but unable to attend that evening, please call (203) 771-0889 or (203) 771-0890 for more information.

EOE M/F/DV

---

The Shops At Liberty Place

864-0678

Wednesday, November 13th

Presentation:

WHARTON UNDERGRADUATE DIVISION’S CAREER WEEK ’96

Monday-Thursday

November 11-14

6:00 PM - 7:30 PM

Reception to follow presentations

Wondering about what career you should enter? Want a chance to network with alums?

- Come to the Career Week Presentations!
- Wharton Alumni return to Penn to speak about their experience in the workforce!
- Sophomores and Juniors MUST ATTEND program!

Wednesday, November 13th

ACCOUNTING PANEL

Firms include: Arthur Andersen & Co. • Cooper & Lybrand

Price Warehouse

Thursday, November 14th

MARKETING PANEL

Firms include: Proctor & Gamble Co. • Lord & Taylor • Lucent Technologies • General Mills Inc. • Earle P. Browne Public Relations

Entrepreneurship Panel

Room: 105 LF Hall

Firms include: Infosystems • K2 Design • A & Craig Communications Ltd. • Rewrap Terzi Enterprises

to be confirmed
Wednesday, November 13, 1996

SPORTS WIRE

Classified Ads 898-1111

NATIONAL BASKETBALL ASSOCIATION

Hekenheimer becomes first Canadian to win Cy Young

NEW YORK - Paul Hekenheimer of the Toronto Blue Jays became the first Canadian to win the Cy Young Award on Monday, edging Pettitte of the New York Yankees. Hekenheimer was selected for his strong season in which he led the American League in strikeouts.

Hekenheimer, who won 13 games and had a 3.51 earned run average, was chosen by the 28 Baseball Writers' Association of America (BBWAA) who sent in ballots in the early morning hours Monday. Pettitte, who led the AL in wins with a 19-6 record, received three first-place votes and finished third with 18 first-place votes.

"I'm just a little surprised," Hekenheimer said after learning that he had won the award. "I thought I had a chance at the end of the season but I didn't think that I would win it." Pettitte said: "I'm happy for Paul. He's a great pitcher and he's going to make a great player in the future." The Blue Jays are planning to give Hekenheimer a four-year contract with a club option for 1998.

Pettitte, who had led the AL with 18 wins and a 3.01 ERA, received 11 first-place votes, 12 second-place votes and four third-place votes. "I'm a little surprised," Pettitte said. "I thought I had a good season but I thought it was kind of a long shot." The Cy Young vote was the second-closest in the history of the award, with Hekenheimer receiving 133 votes and Pettitte getting 129 votes.

"I was a little surprised," Hekenheimer said. "But I was happy to be on the Cy Young ballot." Pettitte said: "I'm happy for Paul. He's a great pitcher and he's going to make a great player in the future." The Blue Jays are planning to give Hekenheimer a four-year contract with a club option for 1998.

Pettitte, who had led the AL with 18 wins and a 3.01 ERA, received 11 first-place votes, 12 second-place votes and four third-place votes. "I'm a little surprised," Pettitte said. "I thought I had a good season but I thought it was kind of a long shot." The Cy Young vote was the second-closest in the history of the award, with Hekenheimer receiving 133 votes and Pettitte getting 129 votes.

"I was a little surprised," Hekenheimer said. "But I was happy to be on the Cy Young ballot." Pettitte said: "I'm happy for Paul. He's a great pitcher and he's going to make a great player in the future." The Blue Jays are planning to give Hekenheimer a four-year contract with a club option for 1998.

"I was a little surprised," Hekenheimer said. "But I was happy to be on the Cy Young ballot." Pettitte said: "I'm happy for Paul. He's a great pitcher and he's going to make a great player in the future." The Blue Jays are planning to give Hekenheimer a four-year contract with a club option for 1998.
Eight days after mother's death, Foley had career game

Football has provided Penn defensive tackle Tom Foley with a means to vent anger from the loss of his mother to cancer.

By Sriraksh Reddy

The Penn defense held Princeton to six points on Saturday, and Foley's mother was the Greensboro, N.C., resident who was still working on her term at the time. Foley, who is now the Quakers' leader in sacks and tackles, was born in Greensboro, and his mother, who had been a coach at the school, was killed in a car accident last year.

"I didn't think I would have [such a big day] to tell you the truth," Foley said. "I just happened to be real excited that day. I just felt good. Things just went well." Things have gone tragically wrong for Princeton in the last two games, including Foley's mother's passing. Although his mother was known for being a positive influence, Foley said he didn't want to talk about her.

"My mother was a leader in Penn. She didn't want to be on the phone," Foley said. "That's a lot." coach Al Bagnoli said. "Too many things are on his mind." Things had gone tragically wrong for Foley, who had been a key player in the Quaker defense for three years. He had been spending all day trying to reach his mother, apparently to check on his mother's health. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before her death.

Foley is the summer before John Bishop transferred from Notre Dame to Penn, and Quakers secondary coach Rick Flanders had been spending the day trying to reach his new recruit "to verify a few things." Finally at 4 p.m., Flanders manages to locate Bishop. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before his death.

By Miles Cohen

The Penn defense held Princeton to six points on Saturday, and Foley's mother was the Greensboro, N.C., resident who was still working on her term at the time. Foley, who is now the Quakers' leader in sacks and tackles, was born in Greensboro, and his mother, who had been a coach at the school, was killed in a car accident last year.

"I didn't think I would have [such a big day] to tell you the truth," Foley said. "I just happened to be real excited that day. I just felt good. Things just went well." Things have gone tragically wrong for Princeton in the last two games, including Foley's mother's passing. Although his mother was known for being a positive influence, Foley said he didn't want to talk about her.

"My mother was a leader in Penn. She didn't want to be on the phone," Foley said. "That's a lot." coach Al Bagnoli said. "Too many things are on his mind." Things had gone tragically wrong for Foley, who had been a key player in the Quaker defense for three years. He had been spending all day trying to reach his mother, apparently to check on his mother's health. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before her death.

Foley is the summer before John Bishop transferred from Notre Dame to Penn, and Quakers secondary coach Rick Flanders had been spending the day trying to reach his new recruit "to verify a few things." Finally at 4 p.m., Flanders manages to locate Bishop. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before his death.

"I didn't think I would have [such a big day] to tell you the truth," Foley said. "I just happened to be real excited that day. I just felt good. Things just went well." Things have gone tragically wrong for Princeton in the last two games, including Foley's mother's passing. Although his mother was known for being a positive influence, Foley said he didn't want to talk about her.

"My mother was a leader in Penn. She didn't want to be on the phone," Foley said. "That's a lot." coach Al Bagnoli said. "Too many things are on his mind." Things had gone tragically wrong for Foley, who had been a key player in the Quaker defense for three years. He had been spending all day trying to reach his mother, apparently to check on his mother's health. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before her death.

Foley is the summer before John Bishop transferred from Notre Dame to Penn, and Quakers secondary coach Rick Flanders had been spending the day trying to reach his new recruit "to verify a few things." Finally at 4 p.m., Flanders manages to locate Bishop. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before his death.

"I didn't think I would have [such a big day] to tell you the truth," Foley said. "I just happened to be real excited that day. I just felt good. Things just went well." Things have gone tragically wrong for Princeton in the last two games, including Foley's mother's passing. Although his mother was known for being a positive influence, Foley said he didn't want to talk about her.

"My mother was a leader in Penn. She didn't want to be on the phone," Foley said. "That's a lot." coach Al Bagnoli said. "Too many things are on his mind." Things had gone tragically wrong for Foley, who had been a key player in the Quaker defense for three years. He had been spending all day trying to reach his mother, apparently to check on his mother's health. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before her death.

Foley is the summer before John Bishop transferred from Notre Dame to Penn, and Quakers secondary coach Rick Flanders had been spending the day trying to reach his new recruit "to verify a few things." Finally at 4 p.m., Flanders manages to locate Bishop. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before his death.

"I didn't think I would have [such a big day] to tell you the truth," Foley said. "I just happened to be real excited that day. I just felt good. Things just went well." Things have gone tragically wrong for Princeton in the last two games, including Foley's mother's passing. Although his mother was known for being a positive influence, Foley said he didn't want to talk about her.

"My mother was a leader in Penn. She didn't want to be on the phone," Foley said. "That's a lot." coach Al Bagnoli said. "Too many things are on his mind." Things had gone tragically wrong for Foley, who had been a key player in the Quaker defense for three years. He had been spending all day trying to reach his mother, apparently to check on his mother's health. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before her death.

Foley is the summer before John Bishop transferred from Notre Dame to Penn, and Quakers secondary coach Rick Flanders had been spending the day trying to reach his new recruit "to verify a few things." Finally at 4 p.m., Flanders manages to locate Bishop. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before his death.

"I didn't think I would have [such a big day] to tell you the truth," Foley said. "I just happened to be real excited that day. I just felt good. Things just went well." Things have gone tragically wrong for Princeton in the last two games, including Foley's mother's passing. Although his mother was known for being a positive influence, Foley said he didn't want to talk about her.

"My mother was a leader in Penn. She didn't want to be on the phone," Foley said. "That's a lot." coach Al Bagnoli said. "Too many things are on his mind." Things had gone tragically wrong for Foley, who had been a key player in the Quaker defense for three years. He had been spending all day trying to reach his mother, apparently to check on his mother's health. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before her death.

Foley is the summer before John Bishop transferred from Notre Dame to Penn, and Quakers secondary coach Rick Flanders had been spending the day trying to reach his new recruit "to verify a few things." Finally at 4 p.m., Flanders manages to locate Bishop. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before his death.

"I didn't think I would have [such a big day] to tell you the truth," Foley said. "I just happened to be real excited that day. I just felt good. Things just went well." Things have gone tragically wrong for Princeton in the last two games, including Foley's mother's passing. Although his mother was known for being a positive influence, Foley said he didn't want to talk about her.

"My mother was a leader in Penn. She didn't want to be on the phone," Foley said. "That's a lot." coach Al Bagnoli said. "Too many things are on his mind." Things had gone tragically wrong for Foley, who had been a key player in the Quaker defense for three years. He had been spending all day trying to reach his mother, apparently to check on his mother's health. Apparently, the safety from Bergen County, N.J., had been laboring in the fields just two days before her death.