Penn pulls plug on popular UC Brite initiative

Officials said the program, which was widely viewed as a model of Penn-community cooperation, was not meant to last forever.

By Laura McClure

After spending more than a quarter million dollars on a highly touted program to light up residential areas of University City, the University is pulling the plug on the 1 1/2 year-old UC Brite initiative because it would cost too much to continue.

University is pulling the plug on the 1 1/2 year-old UC Brite initiative because it would cost too much to continue.

Administrators and community leaders said UC Brite—a program promoted by the University to beautify the area by planting trees, shrubbery and flowers—had successfully run its course.

Instead. University officials are redirecting funds to a new UC initiative called UC Green, which offers a new community service center.

UC Green began a few months ago, according to Sanchez. Twenty-two students, including both Penn and City College students, have joined UC Green.

UC Green has been open since July 15. Although the University will not pay for rent and utilities, Sanchez said UC Green "created a lot of very good feelings in the neighborhoods."

These good feelings were one of the goals of the program's organizers, according to UC College senior Hillary Stamos, who is now the project manager of UC Brite. She cited the programs as one of the first new initiatives by the University to improve relations between the University and its surrounding community.

Despite the program's impact, it did end in a downturn for the University. The university will be looking for a new way to improve relations with the community.

Penn President Judith Rodin and Phila. Mayor Ed Rendell attended the grand opening.

By Beth Grossman

When University President Judith Rodin says "it's time to party," Philadelphia takes notice. The University puts on a gala event that includes news crews, speeches by local and Penn luminaries, and a lot of partying. Members of the University community gather for a black-tie event to celebrate the opening of UC Brite, Penn's green campus.

During the day, Penn Franklin and an art sculpture greeted guests to the spacious Penn Residences—"the only hotel currently open in the building," the student said. The event began at 5 p.m. on Locust Walk across from Penn's historic 19th-century white building. The crowd listened to a lineup of speakers and enjoyed the music.

The three-story, 19th-century white building, christened Civic House in a ribbon cutting ceremony yesterday, was kind of disappointed in the results, said Sanchez.

The neighborhood is really responsible, he said, adding that "once a light is there, you realize how much you need it.

Sanchez also said UC Brite "created a lot of very good feelings in the neighborhoods."

The study cited increased rates of binge drinking and singled out Greek organizations for their role.

By Binyamin Appelbaum

...Sober krugger, dead after drinking too many pints of vodka at an Israeli youth camp. In fact, the study found that rates of binge drinking among college students have been increasing nationwide over the past year.

The study, published in the Journal of American College Health, found that rates of binge drinking among college students have been increasing nationwide over the past year.

The study cited increased rates of binge drinking and singled out Greek organizations for their role.

By Binyamin Appelbaum

...Sober krugger, dead after drinking too many pints of vodka at an Israeli youth camp. In fact, the study found that rates of binge drinking among college students have been increasing nationwide over the past year.

The study, published in the Journal of American College Health, found that rates of binge drinking among college students have been increasing nationwide over the past year.

The study cited increased rates of binge drinking and singled out Greek organizations for their role.

By Binyamin Appelbaum

...Sober krugger, dead after drinking too many pints of vodka at an Israeli youth camp. In fact, the study found that rates of binge drinking among college students have been increasing nationwide over the past year.

The study, published in the Journal of American College Health, found that rates of binge drinking among college students have been increasing nationwide over the past year.

The study cited increased rates of binge drinking and singled out Greek organizations for their role.
Summer meant shared experiences for two U. students.

The bottom line is that deep down these kids are just teenagers, and when they act like teenagers they have a great time together.

Jared Fishman, Philadelphia College senior

Take cutting-edge fashions. Footwear that's charismatic yet comfortable. Dynamic details and accessories. Plus welcomed conveniences like film developing, cards, cameras and contact lenses.

Then take a relaxing social atmosphere, a food court boasting a menu ranging from pizza to pasta and turkey clubs to tempting desserts plus the latest shops. That equals the Shops at Penn. Right where you found it. Right where you want it.

U. Police settle discrimination lawsuit

By Andrew Elizabeth

The Daily Pennsylvanian

A University Police officer's December 1997 lawsuit accusing the University and a top police official of discrimination against him because of his race ended in a confidential settlement last month.

Defendants Casillas' suit also accused University Police Operations Majoreen Bush of discrimination against him and firing him because of his support for an affirmative action officer who accused the University of discrimination.

U.S. District Judge John Fullam dismissed the case with prejudice upon the settlement, meaning that other plaintiffs could not join.

Neither side would say whether any money was exchanged or whether anyone admitted wrongdoing.

"Casillas and the University of Pennsylvania came to an agreement," University Police attorney William William told The Daily Pennsylvanian. "My per- son is satisfied. I'm not sure that Majoreen Bush and the University are." University outside counsel Neil Burgand would not elaborate beyond saying that there was "an agree- ment of the parties which satisfied the complaint of the issues facing their countries."

After the facilitation ended, the real fun began, including activities like baseball, arts and crafts and soccer. The kids got to do all the things in their camp, off, ""Puhmaman said. Even those seemingly recent ac- tivities, however, focused on teaching the kids how to play.

Through outdoor activities like a ropes course, Puhmaman helped kids make their way by teaching them the skills of the game. The bonding pro- cess was facilitated through a rigorous process by which the children were pushed at a 7-10.

"Remember once when we band- lashed on Israeli former and she had to make her way up the course solely on the spoken directions of another child,"" said, 'Pakistan,' whom was Pakistani.

"That day, she learned to trust a supposed enemy,"" Puhmaman said.

This often meant building up trust a supposed enemy. This bonding pro- cess was facilitated through a rigorous process by which the children were pushed at a 7-10.

Summer meant shared experiences for two U. students.

The bottom line is that deep down these kids are just teenagers, and when they act like teenagers they have a great time together.

Jared Fishman, Philadelphia College senior

Take cutting-edge fashion. Footwear that's charismatic yet comfortable. Dynamic details and accessories. Plus welcomed conveniences like film developing, cards, cameras and contact lenses.

Then take a relaxing social atmosphere, a food court boasting a menu ranging from pizza to pasta and turkey clubs to tempting desserts plus the latest shops. That equals the Shops at Penn. Right where you found it. Right where you want it.

U. Police settle discrimination lawsuit

By Andrew Elizabeth

The Daily Pennsylvanian

A University Police officer's December 1997 lawsuit accusing the University and a top police official of discrimination against him because of his race ended in a confidential settlement last month.

Defendants Casillas' suit also accused University Police Operations Majoreen Bush of discrimination against him and firing him because of his support for an affirmative action officer who accused the University of discrimination.

U.S. District Judge John Fullam dismissed the case with prejudice upon the settlement, meaning that other plaintiffs could not join.

Neither side would say whether any money was exchanged or whether anyone admitted wrongdoing.

"Casillas and the University of Pennsylvania came to an agreement," University Police attorney William William told The Daily Pennsylvanian. "My per- son is satisfied. I'm not sure that Majoreen Bush and the University are." University outside counsel Neil Burgand would not elaborate beyond saying that there was "an agree- ment of the parties which satisfied the complaint of the issues facing their countries."

After the facilitation ended, the real fun began, including activities like baseball, arts and crafts and soccer. The kids got to do all the things in their camp, off, ""Puhmaman said. Even those seemingly recent ac- tivities, however, focused on teaching the kids how to play.

Through outdoor activities like a ropes course, Puhmaman helped kids make their way by teaching them the skills of the game. The bonding pro- process was facilitated through a rigorous process by which the children were pushed at a 7-10.

"Remember once when we band- lashed on Israeli former and she had to make her way up the course solely on the spoken directions of another child,"" said, 'Pakistan,' whom was Pakistani.

"That day, she learned to trust a supposed enemy,"" Puhmaman said.

This often meant building up trust a supposed enemy. This bonding pro- process was facilitated through a rigorous process by which the children were pushed at a 7-10.
U. won't lose money in scam

By Ben Geldon

Despite being victimized by what federal authorities call the largest counterfeit scheme ever, Penn won't lose a dime.

University Treasurer Scott Leder said yesterday that officials have frozen about $75,000 in checks written to the University in name, totaling $200,000 and more.

However, Mellon Bank will be picking up the tab, since banks routinely reimburse customers who are defrauded, Leder said.

"We're pretty sure we're not going to lose anything in something like this," Leder said.

Last week, the Federal Bureau of Investigation arrested 26 people on charges of counterfeiting, bank fraud and money laundering. The suspects admitted obtaining thousands of fake checks — which drew from the accounts of Penn and several other major area businesses and institutions — and then writing them to themselves.

All told, authorities said, members of the ring wrote themselves between $80 million and $1 billion in fraudulent checks. The actual losses amount to about $85 million, with banks having to foot the bill.

The ring, allegedly led by 26-year-old Reginald Greene of the city's Overbrook Park section, obtained million-dollar checks from the University's name, totaling about $18 million, with banks having to foot the bill.

The ring consisted of accomplices living in Cherry Hill, a suburb of Philadelphia, which he worked and gave them to other area institutions the group targeted for getting off.
Students interested in Management Consulting

Over the past few years over 23 of your peers have joined our professional staff. Come see why!

INFORMATION SESSION

Wednesday, October 14th, 7 P.M.
Palladium Restaurant

We welcome expressions of interest from undergraduate and graduate students from all disciplines interested in positions in any of our global offices.

Please contact:
Trisha Iglesias, Mitchell Madison Group
520 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10022 • Fax 212 372-4408
Study finds binge drinking on rise, singles out Greeks

ALCOHOL, page A4

But Janelle Brodsky, president of Penn's Panhellenic Council—which governs campus sororities—said"If you go back 10 years, you might get a different response," said Brodsky, a College and Engineering senior.

Still, he conceded that not every

"The reality is that people come to college, and one of the things many want to do is drink," Brodsky said.

But Greek play a disproportionate

"If you do the survey again in four years, you might get a different re-gponse," said Brodsky, a College and Engineering senior.

\begin{itemize}
\item The definitions are a bit different.
\item More people want to do is drink.
\item People are realizing that.
\end{itemize}

"People are realizing that, yeah,

"The programs for Greeks on Penn's campus are "more than most,"

"It wasn't anything I didn't know
before," said Stein, a College junior.

"One of the law awareness coun-derstood about the problem with the risks are.

"I could get up and drink, and yell and scream and they
don't care," she said.

"It wasn't anything I didn't know
before," said Stein, a College junior.

"One of the law awareness coun-derstood about the problem with the
risks are.

"I could get up and
drink, and yell and scream and they
don't care," she said.

"It wasn't anything I didn't know
before," said Stein, a College junior.

"One of the law awareness coun-derstood about the problem with the
risks are.

"I could get up and
drink, and yell and scream and they
don't care," she said.

"It wasn't anything I didn't know
before," said Stein, a College junior.

"One of the law awareness coun-derstood about the problem with the
risks are.

"I could get up and
drink, and yell and scream and they
don't care," she said.

"It wasn't anything I didn't know
before," said Stein, a College junior.

"One of the law awareness coun-derstood about the problem with the
risks are.

"I could get up and
drink, and yell and scream and they
don't care," she said.

"It wasn't anything I didn't know
before," said Stein, a College junior.

"One of the law awareness coun-derstood about the problem with the
risks are.

"I could get up and
drink, and yell and scream and they
don't care," she said.
Stemming the AIDS epidemic

The world's college bars, beaches, clothing, food and coffee are awash with AIDS, and the threat of the disease lives on. The first time I came to campus, I thought that AIDS was a threat to the sick, the elderly and a worry for future generations. But today, AIDS is everyone's problem. Even if you don't plan on coming out of the closet, someone you know will. Someone you love will. Someone you care about will. And, if you're unlucky, you will.

The current trend of the retrovirus can take a life. It's quite the opposite, a clear underestimate of the problem. We must be prepared for the day when AIDS strikes and plan in the extenuating circumstances. We need to understand that AIDS is not just a disease of the sick, but a disease of all. It is a disease that affects everyone, regardless of race, gender, or sexual orientation. It is a disease that we must all work together to prevent and combat.

For U.S. senators to reduce the President's motives merely to spin the narrative of the nation. That is, the man or woman in office should not be required to present a clear and concise version of the country's future. Instead, the President should be required to present a clear and concise version of the country's past, and in so doing, the President's motives should be transparent and clearly understood.

Food and drink are precious to the body, but not all food and drink are equal. Some foods are healthy, while others are not. Some drinks are refreshing, while others are not. But all food and drink are essential to our survival. Without them, we would not be able to sustain life.

While each policy maker seems to be working on their own island of policy-making, the college campuses in this country are facing a major crisis. The AIDS epidemic is spreading rapidly, and the college communities are in a state of panic. Students are being diagnosed with AIDS at an alarming rate, and the college administrations are struggling to respond.

The possibilities of Locust Walk

A student center is just one workable idea for the use of the former Phi Sigma Kappa house.

Renovating the former Phi Sigma Kappa house on Locust Walk as a temporary student center is a profound opportunity. It will provide a much-needed gathering place for students, faculty, and staff, and will help to foster a sense of community on campus.

With the shortage of student centers on campus, the renovation of the former Phi Sigma Kappa house is a necessary step. It will provide a much-needed gathering place for students, faculty, and staff, and will help to foster a sense of community on campus.

The real problem arises not from our conception of the Presidency, but from the fact that we are living in a world where survival is at stake, and where we must all work together to prevent and combat the spread of AIDS.

Domestic and international realities

For U.S. senators to reduce the President's motives merely to spin the narrative of the nation. That is, the man or woman in office should not be required to present a clear and concise version of the country's future. Instead, the President should be required to present a clear and concise version of the country's past, and in so doing, the President's motives should be transparent and clearly understood.

Food and drink are precious to the body, but not all food and drink are equal. Some foods are healthy, while others are not. Some drinks are refreshing, while others are not. But all food and drink are essential to our survival. Without them, we would not be able to sustain life.
U. hopes renovated house will meet groups' needs

CIVIC from page A1

...and this new community-service center stands as the embodiment of those aspirations." Hwang said.

As part of its pre-block party celebration, the bookstore had WXPN radio personality Terry Gross, along with Wicks, who owns the White Dog Cafe, on hand to sign books as the reader entered. The former parking lot, with the City Sports space, according to Tom Fitchen, assistant director of Alumni Affiliates, will also house two stores: Urban Affairs clothing and Performance Douglas cosmetics. The former will be a 5,000-square foot space to complete the first, $60 million phase of the project.

A fifth store, the City Sports athletic chain, had been slated to move into the former parking lot next year, but those plans have since been put on hold so that the building can be opened as soon as possible.

Civic House already has big plans and is in the process of organizing several volunteer efforts for all of Penn's community service organizations. The house's office manager, Kris Cardenas, is also planning to bring more community-based organizations like the Kite and Key Societies.

Thinking About Law School?

Meet with the admission deans from these law schools to learn more about legal education and the admission process.

- University of California, Berkeley - Boalt Hall
- Duke university School of Law
- University of Southern California Law School
- Vanderbilt University of Law
- University of Pennsylvania

Monday, September 14
11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Myerson Hall, Room B-4 (11 a.m.)
Myerson Hall, Room B-3 (2 p.m.)

Be sure to bring your questions!

MAIL BOXES ETC.

is your back-to-school full service packaging, shipping, communication, supply and mail service center!

- Receive ALL of your mail and packages in your own secure, private mailbox.
- 24 hour access, too!
- Full packaging, shipping and mailing services. We specialize in international shipping!
- Meet deadlines with a full selection of overnight and second day delivery services (UPS, FEDEX, DHL, USPS)
- Communicate domestically or internationally via fax (send or receive).

We do copies, too! Check our full and self-service prices.

3741 Walnut Street (215) 222-3902 (fax)
1735 Market Street (215) 567-0606 (fax)
1735 Market Street (215) 567-0669 (fax)

MAIL BOXES ETC.

It's not what we do, it's how we do it!

GET ONE FREE!

FREE FAX!

Send First One FREE
1-800-MAILBOX
(1-800-624-5269)
Visit Our Center
Mailboxes

100th Street
42nd Street
72nd Street

Mailboxes Etc.

www.mailboxetc.com

WORK STUDY ($7/HR) AND VOLUNTEER POSITIONS AVAILABLE NOW!

for the

America Reads Challenge Program

Work with West Philadelphia Elementary and Middle School students to improve their literacy skills for more info, contact bbaker@dolphin.upenn.edu

You need a career.
You want a life.

You're starting a new phase of your life. And people are telling you it's time to choose. Choose a company, choose a lifestyle, choose a path. All with the implication that you might have to leave a little something of yourself behind.

But at AMS, we believe that you shouldn't have to choose between who you are and what you do. Our work environment encourages employees to pursue outside interests and activities. Projects are geared to keep you constantly challenged, motivated and excited in your job. And, you'll play an integral part in defining strategy and seeing it implemented in a variety of fast-moving industries.

We aren't the only ones who think it's great here. Computerworld and FORTUNE magazines have ranked AMS among the "100 Best Companies to Work for." So when people say that you have to choose between having fun and having a future, tell them you don't have to. Because you're choosing AMS.

Seniors Accounting and Finance Majors are invited to learn about J&J and Financial Analyst Positions with the FLDP

SH-DH 215
Tuesday 9/15/98
5:00-6:00PM

Casual Attire

www.jnj.com

Please join us for our Corporate Presentation
on September 15, 1998 at 7pm
The Palladium, Lower Lounge

A drawing for two $100 White Dog gift certificates will be held at the end of the presentation. (You must be present to win.)

Resume Drop Deadline - September 24, 1998
On-Campus Interviews - November 4, 1998

For more information, write to: American Management Systems, Corporate Recruiting Program, 4050 Legato Road, Fairfax, VA 22033. Or e-mail us: ams_recruiting@mail.amsinc.com.

AMS is committed to excellence in the workplace and to the policy of equal opportunity.
Clinton: Starr report has no new revelations

House Republicans announced plans to post the 445 pages of the report on the Internet today.

WASHINGTON - Democrats branded yesterday for damaging the chances about President Clinton as the House moved inexorably toward closures about President Clinton as Clinton was warned bluntly in a White possibly impeachable offenses.

conduct and integrity does matter she committed what proved to be a public by

The Idaho Statesman

sky case

admitted to an affair, in what may be admits to an affair after

Statesman

"I've asked for God's (or came to regret that I'm not proud

ignaUon and declaring in a campaign

Rep. Helen Chenoweth

thenng a child during an extraman list Larry Sabato "I'm worried that

University of Virginia political scien

One congressional source, speak leadership brief reporters yesterday on a dosed door meeting with President Clinton,

Legal sources: Starr report alleges perjury, obstruction

Sen. Joe Lieberman (D-Conn.) yesterday that a major new twist to the Lewinsky

Paula Jones lawsuit, the sources said.

Starr sent courage in July 1W7 — both dur-

the Jones sexual harassment meeting on July 14.1997, be-the sources said.

Starr's material as the glow quickly

ted federal support for bilingual ed

WASHINGTON A GOP bill to

It would not restrict local or state

House votes to limit bilingual education

Yeltsin names candidate for prime minister

MOSCOW Borís Yeltsin named

a compromise candidate for prime minister yesterday, defusing a dan-group power struggle that had stalled efforts to limit Russia's economic crisis. He named Prime Minister

Yeltsin's position will be formally confirmed in a country in turmoil

though he has little economic expence to help him face a nation im i proval in the hostile parliament even minister and a former spy chief.

Washington also welcomed the reform in two years. Aid would be limit

Washington also welcomed the

It would not restrict local or state

House votes to limit bilingual education

York Times

Brought to you by the

Invites

University of Pennsylvania seniors to a presentation and reception

Have you considered Management Consulting?

Thursday, September 17

6:00 pm to 8:00 pm

The University of Pennsylvania Museum

33rd and Spruce

(please use the Sharpe entrance)

McKinsey & Company

McKinsey & Company is a professional firm that advo-

ates for a bilingual education for students with limited

English.

McKinsey & Company is a professional firm that advo-

ates for a bilingual education for students with limited

English.
A great university.
A great newspaper.
And 8 great ways to get involved.

In some ways, college is just like high school. You sit in class, listen, and take notes. At test time, you regurgitate the information you've memorized.

But wait. There's more to college life.

Want excitement? The opportunity to meet new people? The chance to learn by doing, not by watching?

Join The Daily Pennsylvanian.

The DP is the 114-year-old daily student newspaper of the University of Pennsylvania, recently won the prestigious Pacemaker Award as one of the top five college newspapers in the country, as well as the Columbia Gold Crown Award, the highest honor in collegiate journalism.

Students, faculty and administrators look to us as their main source of news and information about the University and West Philadelphia. Local businesses see us as the most cost-effective way to present their message to the lucrative Penn market. In fact, more than 25,000 people read the DP every day.

Most importantly, the DP — a corporation independent of the University — is run and managed by students. Students just like you. Everyday, we write and edit the stories, shoot and develop the photographs, lay out and put together the news pages. Everyday, we sell and design the advertisements, handle customer inquiries, and develop budgets and financial statements.

As a DP staff member, you'll get the opportunity to learn in the trenches, to apply what you've learned in the classroom to the real world. From reporting and writing to shooting photographs to selling advertisements to designing pages, you don't watch — you do.

And, in all of our departments, you'll begin doing from day one. All you need is enthusiasm, imagination and drive — we'll teach you the rest.

Join The Daily Pennsylvanian.

Introductory Meeting
Tuesday, September 15
Business 4:30 p.m. • Editorial 5:30 p.m.
4015 Walnut Street, 2nd Floor

Questions? Call Russell Bloomfield (Business) at 898-6581 ext. 115 or Yochi Dreazen (Editorial) at 898-6585 ext. 138

The Daily Pennsylvanian
The Independent Student Newspaper of the University of Pennsylvania
Founded 1885
Volleyball ready for 'Major' season

Penn returns five seniors

By Anni Dhakal

Despite receiving mixed reviews welcome to Philadelphia during which her former plates were stolen right on 33rd St., new women's volleyball coach Kerry Major resembled the infectious enthusiasm for the city, the University and the team she was called to lead.

She and the Quakers will start the season taught away from home at slapping grounds at William and Mary. This weekend they face off against the host Tribe.

Major inherits a team that finished 6-18 overall record and 2-5 league record, given the Incidents last year surrounding Mitch Umbers' and Ivy rules and regulations.

The Penn women's tennis team opens its season this weekend against Cogitate, Georgetown and Temple in the Penn Invitational.

Volleyball

At W & M

TUESDAY - 7 P.M.

The California native posted 66 kills in limited playing time due to injury.

Junior Angie Whittenburg, who played right side last year, was also the compliance coordinator. Compliance issues have been separated. Elton chose to go into the compliance area. Thus, the position of associate athletic director opened and I was asked to take on her new position at Penn, he said.

DeRosa makes debut against the 'Big Unit'

Sponsored by the music of Pearl Jam, Joe DeRosa, the former Penn All-by-sing- along leader and current assistant coach in the former Penn All-by-standing line-up against the No. 2 rated Duke Blue Devils, was introduced by his former team.

DeRosa makes his debut as a Head Coach.

The Crimson look to duplicate this year's success against the Quakers.

The Penn women's tennis team opens its season this weekend against Cogitate, Georgetown and Temple in the Penn Invitational.

Cleghorn finds himself back in Philadelphia

New Associate Athletic Director Carl Cleghorn sits down to discuss his new role at Penn.

On August 17, the University of Pennsylvania announced that Carl Cleghorn would serve as the new Associate athletic director. Cleghorn brings a wealth of experience to the University, having previously served as associate athletic director at Temple University for 12 years.

According to Jim Finn, a close friend and former Penn student, DeRosa was a "natural fit" for the position of head coach. DeRosa's passion for the sport and his dedication to academic success will be a great enhancement for our volleyball program.

Major is more knowledgeable about the game than her former coach Margaret Penn WOSS who was co-captain and two years removed from K.C. Peter's departure. This team was nearly ready to take off but we couldn't always rely on the rules before the 1997 season.

As far as athletics are concerned, Elton chose to go into the compliance area. Thus, the position of associate athletic director opened and I was asked to take on her new position at Penn, he said.

Cleghorn is coming off a strong 14-5 record and third place in the Ivy League last year. Carl Cleghorn's departure will be felt this season, as he was returning, as is second team All-Ivy junior Murray. His replacement is76-year-old basketball player Jann Martynoff.

Harvard recruiting the team to go undefeated in the league last season. The Crimson look to duplicate this year and, in addition, best Penn's record for its compliance program. The team's compliance program is recognized nationally by the NCAA and is an 11-12 overall record and 3-5 league record in the league last season. Ranked 10th, not surprisingly, the bulk of them in men's basketball, soccer and baseball, the Ivy rules and regulations.

Despite not having what could be considered starting tailback, DeRosa was one of the best technicians in the country.

As head coach, DeRosa has the ability to make beneficial decisions and changes during the course of a game.

With the loss of Tillet to graduation, open middle blocker after racking up 74 blocks and 214 kills last season.

Junior Anne Murray, Dartmouth's all-Ivy First Team All-Ivy representative is planning to be among the front line leaders.

Major looks to take on her new position at Penn, he said.

Major told us that the Braves were having trouble. They lost their best player to graduation. Mike D'Antonio, who was First Team All Ivy last year.

Even though DeRosa was not a starting tailback, he was in charge of sports programs but he was also the compliance coordinator. Compliance issues have been separated. Elton chose to go into the compliance area. Thus, the position of associate athletic director opened and I was asked to take on her new position at Penn, he said.

Cleghorn is coming off a strong 14-5 record and third place in the Ivy League last year. Carl Cleghorn's departure will be felt this season, as he was returning, as is second team All-Ivy junior Murray. His replacement is 76-year-old basketball player Jann Martynoff.
Work-Study Jobs

Do community service for work-study.

We have lots of jobs available in West Philly Schools:

- Environment
- Health
- Photography
- Computer Training
- Literacy Tutoring
- Sports & Recreation

Center for Community Partnerships
Penn Programs for Public Service 898-4704
ccfranco@sas.upenn.edu

http://dolphin.upenn.edu/~upennca

A voice for progressive Christianity.

The Christian Association
September 15, 5:30 p.m.
3601 Locust Walk

The ME generation.

The ME generation is that special group of people known as Mercer Employees.

The place you want to work

William M. Mercer, Incorporated advises clients on health care, pension, compensation, communications, and other human resource issues.

You'll work on meaningful assignments, and your responsibility will increase as your experience grows. No firm is our business offering a wider range of services in a wider range of locations, which translates into numerous opportunities for you.

Career Opportunities
We have openings for recent college graduates in every region of the country. These are a few of the many we have listed: Math, Statistics, Actuarial Science, Finance, Computer Science, Economics, other Liberal Arts, Business and Communications.

Find out all about us. Visit our website:

www.wmmercer.com

Visit us with our Information Session on Tuesday, September 15th.

For more details, visit your Career Services Office.

William M. Mercer

manufacturer's Blemish

Is Your Gain!

Due to a slight cosmetic flaw in the frame, we are offering this particular frame at an unbelievable saving of $249. Hurry, this offer expires Friday, September 15th.

Contact Barbara Saunders (barbra@psych) or Andrea Levy (aglevy@psych)

for more information
CLEghorn came very public in my month so used regulations to the best of our ability that we can try to follow the rules. Fail compliance has been emphasized in the rules and regulations of the NCAA to try to comply 100 percent with the rules.

I became a coach for about two years My main job besides being a positive experience. The work ethic of the football practices that the coaches do the hard coaching is pressing with many of the coaches. DP: You were pressed with much tonight. What are some ideas may be for future seasons I've done here in my first year, what are some ideas may be for future seasons? DP: You were pressed with much tonight. What are some ideas may be for future seasons? DP: You were pressed with much tonight. What are some ideas may be for future seasons? DP: You were pressed with much tonight. What are some ideas may be for future seasons?

When I left Temple in December 1985 I thought that I would be looking to get into athletic administration at some later date. When this position opened here, I readily applied for the job and am pleased to say that I think it has worked out well.

What have you noticed or observed about Penn athletics in your first month on the job?

DP: There is an interest in playing non-Penn league teams?

Major awaits Irv's return

VOLLEYBALL From page B1

on the team, which means there are no real stars. If there are any stars, however, whether they are on three-day tryout like the latus or stadium, they have great club reputations. The time you spend working on your individual weaknesses. Major has made it clear that starting spots are reserved, which means that everyone will have a chance to earn recognition when the

MAKKAH MARKET

HALAL MEAT, MIDDLE EASTERN GROCERIES, ISLAMIC BOOKS, TEAS, TAPES, CLOTHES

Chicken Shawarma $3.50 Falafel Sandwich $2.50 Feta Cheese $3.19lb. Pita Bread $1.50 Calling Cards...the U.S.A.

4249 Walnut Street & 43d

(215) 382-6099

Are you craving great sushi?

- Wildcat Variety of Rolls in Philadelphia
- Large selection of Japanese beer and sake
- Prices range available for large groups

Questions? Call Brian Garvey at 898-6581 ext. 1

For more information, come to our Introductory Meeting on September 15. Or call Sales Manager Brian Garvey today to schedule a brief interview.

Jump start your career with a job as a Daily Pennsylvanian Sales Representative

The Daily Pennsylvanian
J.P. Morgan is a leading global financial firm that provides strategic financial services to corporations, governments, financial institutions, and private clients. J.P. Morgan means more than just numbers — it means more for everyone. Through our commitment to excellence, the diverse contributions we make, and our ability to share, we can help more people achieve their goals.

Morgan means more career opportunities

Please plan to attend our information presentation for University of Pennsylvania students interested in

- Internal Consulting Services
- Investment Banking
- Investment Management/Private Client Group
- Markets

Wednesday, September 16
4:30 - 6:30 pm
The Gold Standard/The Palladium
All majors welcome

JPMorgan

www.jpmorgan.com
J.P. Morgan is an equal opportunity employer.

Presentation

Morgan means more career opportunities

J.P. Morgan is a leading global financial firm that provides strategic financial services to corporations, governments, financial institutions, and private clients. J.P. Morgan means more than just numbers — it means more for everyone. Through our commitment to excellence, the diverse contributions we make, and our ability to share, we can help more people achieve their goals.

Morgan means more career opportunities

Please plan to attend our information presentation for University of Pennsylvania students interested in

- Internal Consulting Services
- Investment Banking
- Investment Management/Private Client Group
- Markets

Wednesday, September 16
4:30 - 6:30 pm
The Gold Standard/The Palladium
All majors welcome

JPMorgan

www.jpmorgan.com
J.P. Morgan is an equal opportunity employer.

Classified Ads Policies

- Classified Display Ads: Ads are priced by size. Ad sizes are measured by the number of columns and the number of lines. Colons are approximately 1.7 times the length of a character. The minimum ad size is 2 columns and 1 line. The maximum ad space is 2 columns wide by 20 lines, and costs $40.00 per day. Many larger sizes are available, see complete rates.

DEADLINES & PAYMENT

As classified line ads must be paid in full at the time of placement, no refunds are given for cancelled classified ads. Visa, MasterCard, and American Express cards are accepted.

Payment

- Classified line ads must be paid in full at the time of placement.
- No refunds are given for cancelled classified ads.
- Visa, MasterCard, and American Express cards are accepted.

Exciting Job

Full-Time: Active Office • Campus & Center City Students - Graduates - Professionals

Education Reform - Charter School

We opened on September 6th a new campus for grade 3-12 students. We are looking for a full-time tutoring aide who will work with our students in grades 3-8.

- Responsibilities:
  - Helping students with reading, writing, and math skills.
  - Preparing lesson plans and materials for class.
  - Maintaining a positive and stimulating learning environment.

- Requirements:
  - Bachelor's degree in education or related field.
  - At least two years of tutoring experience.
  - Strong communication and organizational skills.

- Benefits:
  - Competitive salary.
  - Health insurance.
  - Professional development opportunities.

If you are a bright, articulate, imaginative, individual who will be involved in the work you do...

Fax resume, letter or both to 215-400-4293. If needed call 223-2460 from 10AM - 3PM, Monday through Friday.

Very Bright Person

We are currently seeking an experienced computer scientist to join our team. This is a full-time position with competitive benefits, including health insurance, 401k, and flexible work hours.

- Responsibilities:
  - Design and implement computer systems.
  - Collaborate with other team members to create innovative solutions.
  - Conduct research and development to stay current with industry trends.

- Requirements:
  - Master's degree in Computer Science or related field.
  - At least five years of experience in software development.
  - Proficiency in multiple programming languages.

- Benefits:
  - Competitive salary.
  - Health insurance.
  - Professional development opportunities.

If you want to make a difference and are looking for a challenging opportunity, please submit your resume and cover letter to careers@mycompany.com.

WANTED

- Sr. Technical Writer:
  - bachelor’s degree in Information Technology or related field.
  - At least three years of experience in technical writing.
  - Proficiency in Microsoft Office suite.

- Web Developer:
  - bachelor’s degree in Computer Science or related field.
  - At least two years of experience in web development.
  - Proficiency in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript.

If you are interested, please submit your resume and cover letter to jobs@mycompany.com.

NOTICE TO READERS

While The Daily Pennsylvanian attempts to screen ads for misleading claims or fraudulent offers, it is not possible for us to investigate every ad and advertiser. Please use caution when answering ads, especially any which require you to send a cash, check, or money order in advance.

COFFEE EXPRESS BAR

The Library of Congress invites the public to enjoy our coffee and tea in the newly renovated Circulation Desk Café. The Café is open Monday through Saturday from 8:00 am to 11:00 pm, and Sunday from 11:00 am to 7:00 pm. The Café offers a variety of coffee, tea, and other beverages, as well as a selection of food items. The Café is located on the first floor of the Library of Congress, near the Circulation Desk. For more information, call 202-707-4270.
Do You Need A Job?

- Earn money
- Work in a student-run organization
- Gain great experience for your resume
- Get involved in your college community

To schedule an interview call Malka Rabinowitz at (215) 898-8881 ext. 116 or come to an introductory meeting at the DP on Tuesday, September 15 at 4:05 at Walnut Wall.

---

McGwire still a one-man show

The Linguistic Data Consortium needs work-study and part-time employees to undertake interesting and challenging projects.

- Detail-oriented people to transcribe audio data and categorize news stories.
- Skilled researchers to develop novel sources of data using Linux and WWW materials.
- Experienced programmers to work in C, Perl, and SQL, with HTML, and finger database systems.

We offer residence building experience, great pay rates (starting $6.50/hour) and flexible schedules in a stimulating environment. Positions start immediately.

Interested? Call Kari at 733-3955 or send us your resume via fax (573-2175) or e-mail (hr@labass.ihmc.us). To learn more about the LDC, visit www.ldc.upenn.edu.

---

Work Study and Student Worker Positions

GENERAL CLERICAL JOB (Work study only)
Filing, sorting, copying, data maintenance, run errands & other clerical tasks.
Call 898-4277, ask for Kim

LAB ASSISTANT II
Increasing library lab experience, work study required
Make solutions, assist with various types of chromatographs, assist with lab procedures, be part of a dynamic research team.
Call 898-4277, ask for Jody

STUDENT ENGINEER
(Same experience with electronic circuits and computer programming is C required)
An ideal position in a Biochemistry research laboratory for Engineering/Engineering student, design and construct novel hardware devices and develop software interfaces.
Call 898-4277, ask for Joe

---

PAYMENT OPPORTUNITIES FOR THESE INTERESTED IN GOING TO LAW SCHOOL
FOR PART-TIME JOB AVAILABLE IN THE LAW REVIEW OFFICE!
MUST BE ELIGIBLE FOR FINANCIAL AID
Classification: Office Assistant
MUST BE RESPONSIBLE
- Duties: Manuscript coding, Track, Processing, Answer Telephone, Faxing, and Logan Manning on File System.
- Qualifications: Good English and Fast Typing, Familiar with Case Law
- PERSONNEL OFFICE REQUIREMENTS.
- Previous Office Experience Required.
- Call for interview 215-876-7060 between 9-5 Monday-Friday.

---

Pennsylvania Muscle Institute

Work Study & Student Worker Positions

McGwire still a one-man show

The best?
Yes, the best because those jobs... give you real-world business experience in sales and customer service... involve you in one of the largest student organizations on campus... are paid positions.

The Daily Pennsylvania is looking for students to join our Office Staff for this semester. You will work in our business office 8-12 hours per week, working directly with customers on the phone and in person. This position requires basic computer skills, and customer service. You will gain valuable computer experience and develop communication skills, all while working at one of the country's top-ranked college newspapers.

We are looking for work-study or non-work-study students who are motivated, dependable, and who have good communication skills.

To schedule an interview, call Janelle Hayes at 898-6581 x 101

---

Saturdays
You&hellip;
NEW YORK — Pete Sampras stands on the cusp of history in the U.S. Open final. The 21-year-old Californian, now the WTA-recognized No. 1-ranked player of his generation, has set himself up for a career-defining showdown against his biggest nemesis.

Andre Agassi will have the feel of a final. The men's tennis against each other match, which features two of the best ever to play the game, is the best of the best.

And Sampras knows he is going to play his best match of the year when he goes up against Agassi, the U.S. Open champion in 1992, in the semifinal.

Agassi, 21, is in his fourth straight major final. But he has had to wait back on. loading the bases. Off the glove of shortstop Andy Sheets then regains, his love of the game had to wait back on. loading the bases.

Then regains, his love of the game had to wait back on. loading the bases.

And for the New York Yankees, no outing by Pettitte for an 8-5 win over Minnesota at the Metrodome, 10:01 p.m.

Buffalo at Miami. 10:10 p.m.

Danes at Denver. 4:15 p.m.

Baltimore at New York Jets. 10:01 p.m

Florida last year, was victimized in the right field wall hitter Brown, who threw a no

Young dashed the perfect game bid for the San Diego Padres, stranded 11 runners on the right field wall.

San Diego's Kevin Brown was perfect through six innings and had only set down one man in the seventh, to which he added a sacrifice bunt. Petits home runs in the last 3 and 9 runs scored in the seventh, to which he added a sacrifice bunt.

But Young were back in the seventh, three of them scored, and the Dodgers rallied to win 6-3 yesterday. The Dodger magic remained at four for chasing their second NL West title in three years.

The Dodgers, who won 13 straight and struck out 14 times, got a good shot at a perfect game, becoming the 27th to throw a no-hitter.

And the 13th to throw a perfect game, becoming the 27th to throw a no-hitter.

Young dashed the perfect game bid for the Blue Jays last night.

With their victory, the Van

Winners: Los Angeles, 55-3; San Diego, 3-1.

But to those who played on that day, and to those who remember the day, it was a day of Phi. And Pettitte for an 8-5 win over Minnesota at the Metrodome, 10:01 p.m.

Buffalo at Miami. 10:10 p.m.

Danes at Denver. 4:15 p.m.

Baltimore at New York Jets. 10:01 p.m

Florida last year, was victimized in the right field wall hitter Brown, who threw a no
Van Pelt-Dietrich Library Center
Open House
Friday, September 11, 1998
3:00 to 7:00 PM
Ribbon cutting at 3:30 PM

Enter through the real front doors!
Check out our glamorous movie-musical staircase!
Eat, drink and be merry!

Musical Program (schedule subject to last minute changes)

3:00 PM Penn Band at Front Entrance
3:30 PM Ribbon cutting: ceremony will be led by University President Judith Rodin
4:00 PM Penn Band at Front Entrance
Penn Pipers in Class of '69 Periodicals Center, 1st Floor
Mask and Wig in Class of '28 Lounge, 1st Floor
Quaker Notes in Marian Anderson Center, 4th Floor
Penn 6-5000 in Class of '37 Lounge, 5th Floor
4:30 PM Unveiling of Alumni Plaque, Msikis Lounge, First Floor
Off the Beat at Front Entrance
University of Pennsylvania String Quartet in Lippincott Library
5:00 PM Counterparts at Front Entrance
Penn Pipers in Class of '69 Periodicals Center, 1st Floor
Mask and Wig in Class of '28 Lounge, 1st Floor
Chord-on-Blues in Lippincott Library, 2nd Floor
Quaker Notes in Marian Anderson Center, 4th Floor
Penn 6-5000 in Class of '37 Lounge, 5th Floor
Penn Recorder Ensemble in Rosenwald Gallery, 6th Floor
5:30 PM Inspiration in Class of '69 Periodicals Center, 1st Floor
Off the Beat in Class of '28 Lounge, 1st Floor
University of Pennsylvania String Quartet in Lippincott Library
6:00 PM Chord-on-Blues in Lippincott Library, 2nd Floor
Penn Recorder Ensemble in Rosenwald Gallery, 6th Floor
6:30 PM Inspiration in Class of '69 Periodicals Center, 1st Floor