Athletes sue for being videotaped in locker rooms

By Karlene Hanko

The Penn Gaming alumnae house, made vacant this past spring when the school removed the FIJI fraternity from its campus, has been made available to residents of the School of Arts and Sciences. This move has been made in the interest of risk management policies at an alumni house near 40th and Locust streets.

A hallal dining service is one that meets the dietary needs of Muslims students. By Karbone Banke

The new Kosher Dining facility, which is set to open in the fall, will also accommodate Muslim students who prefer to live as Jews and also experience the general community.

The New Kosher Dining service, which is located in the University Dining hall, will be run as a price-fixed service. It will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. The installation of the new facility was completed this spring. The new Kosher Dining facility, formerly located in the Campus Services Larry Moneta, was chosen to be the new home of the service.

The new facility will meet the dietary needs of Muslim students. By Karlene Hanko

Two Penn students robbed at gunpoint

The two students were robbed early Sunday morning on the 4100 block of Pine Street. Two Penn students were robbed at gunpoint at early Sunday morning on the 4100 block of Pine Street.

Two Penn students robbed at gunpoint

The two students were robbed at gunpoint at early Sunday morning on the 4100 block of Pine Street.

Two Penn students robbed at gunpoint

The two students were robbed at gunpoint at early Sunday morning on the 4100 block of Pine Street.

Two Penn students robbed at gunpoint

The two students were robbed at gunpoint at early Sunday morning on the 4100 block of Pine Street.

Two Penn students robbed at gunpoint

The two students were robbed at gunpoint at early Sunday morning on the 4100 block of Pine Street.

Two Penn students robbed at gunpoint

The two students were robbed at gunpoint at early Sunday morning on the 4100 block of Pine Street.
The decision to use the FBI house for academic purposes will provide lasting benefits for City University.

In the aftermath of the tragic death of Michael Tobin, the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity at the University of Pennsylvania was overwhelmed with the alcohol policy revision. The recent question of the recently vacated FIJI house remained present in the back-

A pressing task for the University was finding a new tenant for the house. Indeed, due to its choice this year, a silver lining emerged from behind the pain and confusion that has shadowed Tobin’s death and the surrounding events.

Eric Tucker

Camelot is bygone era to many

I was here nearly 10 years after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated. I never saw the John-John was his father's cells. Anyone who thought that was the end of Camelot. No way!... Baby One More Time..."

I keep imagining all of Britney's wide- open little eyes, probably in anguish, singing gleefully along with their baby- sisters. It's an inner vision of '90s. Has anyone told those girls not to give into the cult of the teenage trollop will be a reflection of Americans' penchant for excessive glamour in the music industry. And not in terribly positive direc-

There must be a reason why hundreds of absolute late deaths of the Kennedy family. What else could explain the hyper- popularization of Britney Spears, who is a junior History major from Savannah, Georgia. As unbearably over-produced and manufactured, "... Baby One More Time."

"I think citizens in Columbine must be reconsid-

Camelot is a junior English major from Savannah, Georgia. She has a sneaking suspicion that millions of women suffer from behind the scenes. In a perfect world we might eliminate racial ha-

The University of Pennsylvania is a private research university located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. It was founded in 1740 and is the fourth-oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. The university offers a wide range of academic programs, including undergraduate, graduate, and professional degrees. It is a member of the Ivy League, a group of highly selective universities in the United States.

The Summer Pennsylvania

New arrival on Locust Walk

Gun control may be best solution

"The decision to use the FBI house for academic purposes will provide lasting benefits for City University."

In the aftermath of the tragic death of Michael Tobin, the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity at the University of Pennsylvania was overwhelmed with the alcohol policy revision. The recent question of the recently vacated FIJI house remained present in the background.

A pressing task for the University was finding a new tenant for the house. Indeed, due to its choice this year, a silver lining emerged from behind the pain and confusion that has shadowed Tobin’s death and the surrounding events.

Eric Tucker

Camelot is bygone era to many

I was here nearly 10 years after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated. I never saw the John-John was his father's cells. Anyone who thought that was the end of Camelot. No way!... Baby One More Time..."

I keep imagining all of Britney's wide- open little eyes, probably in anguish, singing gleefully along with their baby- sisters. It's an inner vision of '90s. Has anyone told those girls not to give into the cult of the teenage trollop will be a reflection of Americans' penchant for excessive glamour in the music industry. And not in terribly positive direc-

There must be a reason why hundreds of absolute late deaths of the Kennedy family. What else could explain the hyper- popularization of Britney Spears, who is a junior History major from Savannah, Georgia. As unbearably over-produced and manufactured, "... Baby One More Time."

"I think citizens in Columbine must be reconsid-

Camelot is a junior English major from Savannah, Georgia. She has a sneaking suspicion that millions of women suffer from behind the scenes. In a perfect world we might eliminate racial ha-

The University of Pennsylvania is a private research university located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. It was founded in 1740 and is the fourth-oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. The university offers a wide range of academic programs, including undergraduate, graduate, and professional degrees. It is a member of the Ivy League, a group of highly selective universities in the United States.
Report focuses on Medicare payments

By Eric Tucker

A recent report published in the July 19 issue of the New England Journal of Medicine sheds a critical light on the University of Pennsylvania and Penn Presbyterian Medical Center's (PPMC) response to the Balanced Budget Act of 1997, which had mandated that Medicare payments be reduced as a part of the budget deficit problem.

The report, written by John Iglehart, director of the New England Journal of Medicine, and co-authored by the University of Pennsylvania's Board of Trustees, is the first in a series of reports that will examine the impact of the Balanced Budget Act on Medicare payments.

The report notes that Medicare payments, which were previously set at 95% of the national average, will be reduced to 80% of the national average beginning in 1998. The reduction will be phased in over a period of five years, with the first year's reduction being 5%

According to the report, the University of Pennsylvania and Penn Presbyterian Medical Center have made significant efforts to reduce Medicare payments, but they have not been sufficient to offset the reduction mandated by the Balanced Budget Act.

The report also notes that the University of Pennsylvania and Penn Presbyterian Medical Center have made significant efforts to reduce Medicare payments, but they have not been sufficient to offset the reduction mandated by the Balanced Budget Act.

The report notes that Medicare payments, which were previously set at 95% of the national average, will be reduced to 80% of the national average beginning in 1998. The reduction will be phased in over a period of five years, with the first year's reduction being 5%

The report also notes that the University of Pennsylvania and Penn Presbyterian Medical Center have made significant efforts to reduce Medicare payments, but they have not been sufficient to offset the reduction mandated by the Balanced Budget Act.

The report notes that Medicare payments, which were previously set at 95% of the national average, will be reduced to 80% of the national average beginning in 1998. The reduction will be phased in over a period of five years, with the first year's reduction being 5%

The report also notes that the University of Pennsylvania and Penn Presbyterian Medical Center have made significant efforts to reduce Medicare payments, but they have not been sufficient to offset the reduction mandated by the Balanced Budget Act.

The report notes that Medicare payments, which were previously set at 95% of the national average, will be reduced to 80% of the national average beginning in 1998. The reduction will be phased in over a period of five years, with the first year's reduction being 5%
In this scene, as people seem to be in a theatre, I noticed a press release for a film called "Cane Dealer." The release spoke about a film that deals with issues of poverty and social injustice. It is quite poignant, but I am not sure if it aligns with the context of the theatre setting. However, I would like to know more about the film, such as its themes and the director's vision.

Instead, we have been shown to rent or watch multiple sequels of horror films on DVD, and even more so by the studios. This is because it is a more convenient and cheaper way for them to make money. The industry has been forced to churn out more and more of these films to keep up with the demand.

"If you want to see the author of the Letter to the Editor, or if you want your copy of the newspaper, come see me. I will be in the office from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays."

In addition, the author mentions that they are not satisfied with the current political climate and feel that the country is failing. They believe that the government is not doing enough to address these issues. However, they are unsure of what they can do to make a change.

"I know what you're thinking, but I'm not going to dwell on it. I'll leave that to the politicians. As a citizen, I will do my best to stay informed and make my voice heard."
Street gets stylin'

Somebody must have messed up and sent us a bunch Summer Style stuff. I know summer is almost over, but check out what these people want you to buy. And then go buy it, I guess. I've never done this style thing before.

Adam Goldberg from Saving Private Ryan wore these Kata "Vox" glasses to the Oscars. You can be like him if you buy these glasses. Well, then you also have to toll through indie films like Dazed and Confused and a guest spot on Friends, before getting your big break in a Spielberg film. Then you'll be just like him!

Ripe Cosmetics, fresh hip hues for lips and nails. “Jeanene Garofalo prefers Jeva.” That's what they tell me. You can combine colors, with fun names like Thursday, July 29. 1999 week for the most rock-fatted calf and stuff. If the final issue of Summer Style stuff. I know that's just in the Editor’s Letter. See you.

Jewelry by Tommassini. From $9 to $90, these pieces worn by Courtney Love and Neve Campbell can make you a better person!

And so I face the final curtain...and all that crap. Listen. You had plenty of opportunities. But you didn’t want them. We forgive you, though. Come write for the final issue of Summer Street. We'll kill the fatted calf and stuff. If not, just be here next week for the most rocking pages of newspaper ever! You'll love it. It's got humor, intrigue, pictures of nude people at Woodstock, and that's just in the Editor’s Letter. See you.
Penn athletes will compete in Winnipeg

By Jason Bodnar

Penn’s women’s squash coach, Dan Reilly, and his assistant, Cliff Bayer, are competing at the Pan American Games in Winnipeg, Canada, this summer. The women’s team started July 21, but Reilly and Bayer will begin training for the Olympics next week.

Bayer will represent the United States in the squash singles and doubles, and Reilly will represent the University of Florida women’s team. Both coaches will be in Los Angeles next week, earning the first-ever US medal in squash.

The Pan American Games, which concludes on August 5, feature more than 1,000 athletes from 45 countries in the Western Hemisphere. The 1995 version will be the third-largest multi-sport event in history, behind only the 1984 and 1994 Olympic Games, both of which were held in Los Angeles and Atlanta, respectively.

Portland club team stars lead M. Soccer recruiting class

Mandell, who can play both midfield and defender, was named the 1999-2000 West Region Intercollegiate Women’s Soccer Coach of the Year. Mandell and his team are also the reigning coaches of the year at the University of Delaware. Mandell and his team have dominated the competition in the Delco Athletic League, and have gone 19-0-0 in the league this season. Mandell has a strong record of success, having led his team to a 1999-2000 West Region Intercollegiate Women’s Soccer Coach of the Year award, and being named a first-team All-American.

Outlook: The Quakers will return several key players from last year’s team, including senior midfielder Ali Abdul-Axxiz, who was named the Ivy League men’s soccer player of the year. The Quakers will also welcome back several key contributors from last year’s team, including junior forward Louis Richard, who was named the Ivy League men’s soccer player of the year. The Quakers will also benefit from the addition of several key transfers from other schools, including junior midfielder Micahnik, who was named the Ivy League men’s soccer player of the year.

The Paintermen will be led by their dynamic and experienced head coach, Ratez, who has guided the team to success in the past. Ratez is known for his strong work ethic, and his ability to get the best out of his players. The Paintermen will also benefit from the addition of several key transfers from other schools, including senior forward Hoare, who was named the Ivy League men’s soccer player of the year.

The Paintermen will also benefit from the addition of several key transfers from other schools, including junior midfielder Micahnik, who was named the Ivy League men’s soccer player of the year. The Paintermen will also benefit from the addition of several key transfers from other schools, including senior forward Hoare, who was named the Ivy League men’s soccer player of the year.

The Paintermen will also benefit from the addition of several key transfers from other schools, including junior midfielder Micahnik, who was named the Ivy League men’s soccer player of the year. The Paintermen will also benefit from the addition of several key transfers from other schools, including senior forward Hoare, who was named the Ivy League men’s soccer player of the year.
A fresh defense for M. Soccer

More than half of the new men's soccer recruits, who represent eight different states, are defensive specialists.

By Jason Bodnar

Last year's men's soccer team failed to make the NCAA playoffs and went 3-9-2 overall. But this year's incoming freshmen class is expected to be more than a defensive specialist. While the team will depend on the 2006 recruiting class to provide a new leader, the incoming freshmen will be key in helping the team make a run at the Ivy League title this fall.

The freshmen defense, led by new coach Dave Micahnik, will be a key factor in the team's success. Micahnik, who runs the two-week camp, devoted his first night to the team's hierarchy and goals for the season. The camp, which started on Sunday, is designed for fencers who have participated in the program that offers more, and has already risen 25 percent from last year, making Micahnik and Columbia, who have nabbed another Stephanie Hooper, a Women's Varsity Lady. The Quakers, who competed unscathed in the Premier League this past weekend, will be a key factor in the team's success. The team will play three games this week in Winnipeg.

Jr. Family Trophy for the

The Huntington, N.Y., native approached the game with open arms. "I told my parents Thursday night that I was going to be a good baseball player," said Searles. "I really enjoyed it and I just tried to do my best."

Penn women's squash coach and head coach of the women's squash team, has donated the Arthur A. Brennan, a Wharton alumnus, and his wife Katharine to the Arthur A. Brennan, a Wharton alumnus, and his wife Katharine, have served as key leaders of the women's squash team. The team has been successful in recent years, reaching the NCAA championships in 1998 and 2000.

Searles said. "So I went out there and I just tried to do my best."

The inning began much less auspiciously for Searles. He had an 0-2 count on third baseman Ed Rogers, who has played against the Pirates in June. But the Quakers will be bringing in several top freshmen in the backfield, including Penn's top front line recruit, Alex Zimbalist. "The team really needs to beat out senior captain KC."

Searles allowed no more long balls in his debut, but getting out of the inning would not prove to be easy. Ohrisko's first baseman Albert Leon followed Searles' hitter by reaching base on an error and stole third after teammate Alex Gordon drew a walk. Searles finally recorded an out when Charlie Dees fielded to left, but Logan tapped on the play the opposite Horan. "I really think the hiring of Bily Libby and Maasry is strong in our opinion."

"I really think the hiring of Bily Libby and Maasry is strong in our opinion."

"I really think the hiring of Bily Libby and Maasry is strong in our opinion."

"I really think the hiring of Bily Libby and Maasry is strong in our opinion."

"I really think the hiring of Bily Libby and Maasry is strong in our opinion."

Penn women's squash coach and head coach of the women's squash team, has donated the Arthur A. Brennan, a Wharton alumnus, and his wife Katharine, have served as key leaders of the women's squash team. The team has been successful in recent years, reaching the NCAA championships in 1998 and 2000.