By Eric Tucker

Policing in nearly $300,000 in salary and benefits, University President Judith Rodin was the highest paid among all university presidents this year, according to The Chronicle of Higher Education. Ms. Rodin's $184,077 in salary was the highest among all university presidents this year, according to The Chronicle of Higher Education.

"This is a good start," Ms. Rodin said yesterday afternoon. "I think it's important that we recognize the contributions of our presidents and the work that they do."

Rodin's salary includes a base of $123,323 in benefits for a total package of $372,500. The average president's salary was $225,000, according to The Chronicle.

"The president's salary should reflect the contributions of the president," said Ms. Rodin. "It should reflect the value that we place on the leadership of our presidents and the work that they do."
Quirky talent leads to bi-coastal recognition

College freshman Chris Gaus went ape this weekend.

The 19-year-old English major at the Newman Center hosts inter-church discussion on the role of the father, son and holy spirit in the church. Prentice, who converted from Protestantism to Roman Catholicism, "is a very interesting character," he said.

"Chris started doing this routine when he was a junior in high school and has been a winning routine on campus ever since," he said.

"It's up to Chris to do his best with the ultimate goal of making everyone laugh," he said.

"Most of the audience was community members," he added. "Some students, however, were "all students here tonight." Margetis said that the participants were "all very much about the rapprochement." Maximos said that she had recommended that everyone who attended the discussion be committed, "for once in a while," to participating in the discussion on the role of the father, son and holy spirit in the church.

"It was inspiring to hear DeFrantz talk about the High School of Commerce," he said. "When you get into the business ethics topic, it's so easy to track down.""
Panel discusses education
By Lily Nomenoy

To all the critics who believe the University of Pennsylvania doesn't reach out to the West Philadelphia community, rethink that.

Hershock, the superintendent of the Philadelphia School District, spends several weeks each year teaching goals of improving the educational standards of West Philadelphia.

Hershock delivered the keynote address at Friday's "Professional Service on University-Associated Community Sites," held at the University City Steam Hotel. The event, attended by about a hundred local educators, was sponsored by the West Philadelphia Improvement Corp., Replication Project, the West for Community Partners and the Penn Program for Public Service.

Hershock talked about the various local areas, problems and students from more than 30 orgs who attended the panel discussions.

Dartmouth lone lvy not to see apps. rise

APPLICATION FROM page 1

That's Princeton, but Stanford University made its early application process handy.

At Penn, the new early admissions is a trial period, with admissions officers can evaluate its potential to create a positive change in the process.

Michael Goldhaber's broker of college counseling at the Daily Pennsylvanian, said, "We will review the procedure, but we will not make any changes until next year."

Goldhaber, who is the coordinator of Penn's early admission program, explained that the process will be a trial period.

"We have a lot of high school seniors and students who are interested in applying early admission. We will monitor the process and see how it works." Goldhaber said.

Hershock said that Penn's early admission program is the largest private university program in the country. He also said that Penn's early admission program is unique in that it includes a "whole student" approach.

"We want to make sure that Penn students have the opportunity to participate in Penn's early admission program and that they have the chance to be considered for admission." Goldhaber said.

Penn's early admission program is unique in that it includes a "whole student" approach. The program is designed to help students who have a strong interest in Penn, but who are not sure whether they want to apply for early admission.

"We want to make sure that Penn students have the opportunity to participate in Penn's early admission program and that they have the chance to be considered for admission." Goldhaber said.

"It is a great way to get into a university that is right for you and your family. It is a great way to get into a school that is right for you and your family." Goldhaber said.

Penn's early admission program is unique in that it includes a "whole student" approach. The program is designed to help students who have a strong interest in Penn, but who are not sure whether they want to apply for early admission.

"We want to make sure that Penn students have the opportunity to participate in Penn's early admission program and that they have the chance to be considered for admission." Goldhaber said.

"It is a great way to get into a university that is right for you and your family. It is a great way to get into a school that is right for you and your family." Goldhaber said.

"We want to make sure that Penn students have the opportunity to participate in Penn's early admission program and that they have the chance to be considered for admission." Goldhaber said.

Penn's early admission program is unique in that it includes a "whole student" approach. The program is designed to help students who have a strong interest in Penn, but who are not sure whether they want to apply for early admission.

"We want to make sure that Penn students have the opportunity to participate in Penn's early admission program and that they have the chance to be considered for admission." Goldhaber said.

"It is a great way to get into a university that is right for you and your family. It is a great way to get into a school that is right for you and your family." Goldhaber said.
Why work for one .com, when you can work for hundreds?
Bulgaria marks 10 years of democracy

Bulgaria's ex-communist political system, torn by two decades of civil war and political turmoil, is now celebrating its 10th anniversary of democratic elections after the country's first free parliamentary poll last December 14. The elections were seen as a crucial step toward the Balkan nation's move toward integration with the European Union, which requires more democratic institutions and a market economy.

The results of the election were a victory for the centre-left Socialists, who won 27% of the vote. They were followed by the centre-right Union of Democratic Forces, with 24%, and the centre-right National Movement, with 18%. The election was won by the Socialists, who formed a coalition government with the Christian Democrats and the Liberals.

The election marked a turning point in Bulgaria's history, as the country moved away from its communist past and toward democracy and integration with the European Union. The new government promised to continue the country's economic reform and to bring Bulgaria closer to the European Union.

The election was also significant for the European Union, as Bulgaria's membership is seen as a key step toward the enlargement of the union.

The election was a win for democracy in Europe, and a win for the people of Bulgaria. The country has made great strides in the last 10 years, and there is much to be optimistic about for the future.
Providing jobs for the mentally disabled

D

E. Marvin Rosen has worked at the Elwyn Center since 1982. Since 1983, he has been running mentally disabled individuals.

You can find Rosen's name in the early twentieth century. Elwyn was playing its emphasis on mental training. Classes in printing, weaving and tailoring were part of the turn-of-the-century practical training curriculum. But like many organizations and mental hospitals, they were able to share each other's life experiences. They were captured and dubbed "shock-headed." They were given hope for improvement, but let alone the chance to find productive employment. It was not until the nineteenth Elwyn and Penn and these West Philadelphia businesses help contribute to the center's ultimate goal. To dispel the myth that mental disabil- ity precludes an individual from being a vital member of society. That is not always true.

The Elwyn Center, however, does not exactly focus on job

Despite the reality that the assertion that what the editors of Hofstra accepted, "The Revisionist: A Journ the name of what some editors call "free speech. The Chronicle, the student newspaper at Hofstra University, published a pre-published insert denying the existence of the Holocaust.

That insert, the New York Times report-

Daily Pennsylvanian.

I n Robert Wright's highly regarded 1994

book, The Moral Animal, the author characterizes the paradigmatic idea of "reciprocal altruism" — the notion that we help others not only because we believe we are helping ourselves in some way at the same time. Since reading the book, I have been looking for a counter example, evidence that humans are not as base as Wright believes.

His post positivist ethical philosophy is a people helping complete projects in many ways and without regard for reciprocity. Rarely does one see a competition when every entrant's goal seems to be the other competitor's. But such a situation is the case with the 4th edition of the Philadelphia Marathon. An editorial writer yells at other runners to get faster, to stop walking and to make it to the finish line. In many cases, placing runners who would have been behind to finish in front.

Would What Wright think of these people working to help other people win?

What would Wright think of these people working to help other people win?

Building on Darwinist theory, Wright be-doing to help in a competition. The runner who

Some people are troubled by the idea that encephalitis. You see, that's what Rosen does.

Although he stands by his science of "evo-sionary psychology," Wright acknowledges

"Some people are troubled by the idea that

Elwyn, and Penn have

Typically, Penn students talk to

The fault lies with the newspaper's policy

of accepting paid political ads. Political advertisements, like those run on the editorial pages of many major newspapers, are problematic especially for small, student-run papers like the Chronicle.

I n the name of what some editors call "free speech. The Chronicle, the student newspaper at Hofstra University, published a pre-published insert denying the existence of the Holocaust.

That insert, the New York Times report-

Daily Pennsylvanian.

I n Robert Wright's highly regarded 1994

book, The Moral Animal, the author charac-

terizes the paradigmatic idea of "reciprocal altruism" — the notion that we help others not only because we believe we are helping ourselves in some way at the same time. Since reading the book, I have been looking for a counter example, evidence that humans are not as base as Wright believes.

His post positivist ethical philosophy is a people helping complete projects in many ways and without regard for reciprocity. Rarely does one see a competition when every entrant's goal seems to be the other competitor's. But such a situation is the case with the 4th edition of the Philadelphia Marathon. An editorial writer yells at other runners to get faster, to stop walking and to make it to the finish line. In many cases, placing runners who would have been behind to finish in front.

Would What Wright think of these people working to help other people win?

What would Wright think of these people working to help other people win?

Building on Darwinist theory, Wright be-doing to help in a competition. The runner who

Some people are troubled by the idea that

Elwyn, and Penn have

Typically, Penn students talk to

The fault lies with the newspaper's policy

of accepting paid political ads. Political advertisements, like those run on the editorial pages of many major newspapers, are problematic especially for small, student-run papers like the Chronicle.

I n the name of what some editors call "free speech. The Chronicle, the student newspaper at Hofstra University, published a pre-published insert denying the existence of the Holocaust.

That insert, the New York Times report-

Daily Pennsylvanian.
W. Squash drops Cornell

By Nick Lagoudis

The Squash team faced the Cornell Big Red Saturday in a match that counted in the Ancient Eight. The Cornellers pulled away with a 9-0 win.

Penn junior Erika Borromeo defeated Lauren Rodriguez 3-0 in the top-ranked match to begin the meet. However, the Quakers could not stop there, with two more matches remaining. The players who (Kloek and Patton) came out strong for the Quakers and worked at their best to turn the match around. The Quakers were able to come away from the meet with one win and one loss.

The meet was a very competitive one, with players from both sides pushing hard to get an edge over the other. The Quakers were not able to come away with the win, but they learned from the experience and plan to use it to improve for the future.

The meet was a great opportunity for the players to learn from each other and to improve their skills. The Quakers were proud to be a part of this exciting match and look forward to the next one.

Viv's should be competitive for W. Hoops

W. BASKETBALL from page 10

The Quakers in points, but also ranked seventh on the NCAA Divi- sion排名第11, the Quakers were 11-10 overall and ranked second nationally in re- bounding, averaging 15.8 boards per game.

The basketball team is under the direction of head coach Mannymal, who leads the team with a strong focus on winning.

The Quakers also have a strong defense, allowing only 65.6 points per game, which is good for fourth in the nation. This defensive strength has been a key factor in their success this season.

The Quakers have a tough schedule ahead, with games against teams ranked in the top 10. However, they are confident in their ability to compete and have high expectations for the season.
DENVER — One play after defensive tackle Trevon Prevot forced a fum- ble, Janice Graham rolled to the goal line and downed the ball, lifting the Denver Bron- cos to a 27-21 overtime win over the Philadelphia Eagles.

"Prevot made our tackle, Janice was the one who recovered it," said safety Ty Law. "I thought it was the game changer."

The Eagles had the ball at the Denver 12 with 1:13 to play and 3rd and 1, but Prevot forced a fumble that GRAHAM recovered at the Denver 1. Graham returned it to the Eagles 30 and Denver took over with 49 seconds left and a 21-21 tie.

"I'm just glad I made the big tackle," Prevot said. "I'm proud of my teammates. They're working hard and I'm proud they believe in me."

Dennie \(\text{21-989-8111}\)

Broncos top Raiders in OT

National Basketball Association

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Western Conference</th>
<th>Eastern Conference</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Phoenix (10-6)</td>
<td>Washington (11-5)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Denver (10-6)</td>
<td>Atlanta (10-6)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Los Angeles (10-6)</td>
<td>Boston (11-5)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Portland (10-6)</td>
<td>Miami (10-6)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>San Antonio (10-6)</td>
<td>Toronto (10-6)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

National Hockey League

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Western Conference</th>
<th>Eastern Conference</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Vancouver (16-7-0)</td>
<td>Chicago (15-8-1)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>San Jose (15-7-3)</td>
<td>Detroit (14-9-2)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Los Angeles (15-7-4)</td>
<td>Columbus (14-9-1)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dallas (14-8-1)</td>
<td>Pittsburgh (14-8-1)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. Louis (15-7-4)</td>
<td>New York Rangers (14-9-2)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

National Football League

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Western Conference</th>
<th>Eastern Conference</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Denver (7-6)</td>
<td>New England (9-6)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>San Francisco (7-7)</td>
<td>New York Jets (9-4)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Indianapolis (7-6)</td>
<td>Dallas (6-8)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seattle (7-6)</td>
<td>Carolina (6-9)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minnesota (7-6)</td>
<td>San Diego (6-9)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Sports Quote of the Day

"I just feel more comfortable in my own choice of underwear." — Women's basketball player Diana Taurasi, on coach Kelly Young's policy of allowing only gray and black sports bras on game day.

Games Recap

The Denver Broncos defeated the Oakland Raiders 31-26 on Thursday night in overtime.

After a back-and-forth first half, the Broncos took the lead late in the fourth quarter. The Raiders tied the game with a touchdown early in the overtime period, setting the stage for a dramatic finish.

The Broncos, led by quarterback Peyton Manning, weathered the storm of a dominant Raiders defense and capitalized on their opportunities to score points.

Manning threw for 298 yards and two touchdowns, while running back Melvin Gordon rushed for 141 yards and scored a touchdown.

Raiders quarterback Derek Carr threw for 363 yards and two touchdowns but had two interceptions.

With the victory, the Broncos improved to 7-6 on the season and moved to within a half-game of the #5 seed in the AFC playoffs.

---

Scoreboard

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>T</th>
<th>GF</th>
<th>GA</th>
<th>Pts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Denver</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>60</td>
<td>32</td>
<td>256</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Oakland</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>52</td>
<td>40</td>
<td>176</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

Fantasy Football

The Denver Broncos have several top performers who could be cornerstone players in your fantasy league.

- Peyton Manning: The Broncos' quarterback has been a consistent threat all season long. He has thrown for over 3,000 yards and has 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: The running back has been a workhorse for the Broncos, leading the team in rushing yards with 973.
- Trindon Holliday: The wide receiver has been a surprise contributor, posting 32 receptions for 507 yards and two touchdowns.

---

Fantasy Football Tip

It's important to balance your fantasy team with players from different positions. The Broncos have a strong ground game, which makes them a good choice for teams in the AFC Southwest division.

---

Daily Fantasy Sports

The Denver Broncos have several players who could be game-changers in daily fantasy sports.

- Peyton Manning: Manning is a solid option for your quarterback position, with over 3,000 passing yards and 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: Gordon is a solid choice for your running back position, leading the team in rushing with 973 yards.
- Trindon Holliday: Holliday is a good choice for your wide receiver position, with 32 receptions for 507 yards.

---

Fantasy Football Advice

It's essential to have a balanced team in fantasy football. The Denver Broncos have a strong running game, which makes them a good choice for teams in the AFC Southwest division.

---

Daily Fantasy Sports Advice

The Denver Broncos have several players who could be game-changers in daily fantasy sports.

- Peyton Manning: Manning is a solid option for your quarterback position, with over 3,000 passing yards and 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: Gordon is a solid choice for your running back position, leading the team in rushing with 973 yards.
- Trindon Holliday: Holliday is a good choice for your wide receiver position, with 32 receptions for 507 yards.

---

Fantasy Football News

- Peyton Manning: Manning is expected to continue his solid season, with over 3,000 passing yards and 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: Gordon is expected to continue his strong performance, leading the team in rushing with 973 yards.
- Trindon Holliday: Holliday is expected to continue his solid performance, with 32 receptions for 507 yards.

---

Fantasy Football Rankings

- Peyton Manning: #1 quarterback
- Melvin Gordon: #1 running back
- Trindon Holliday: #2 wide receiver

---

Roster News

- Trindon Holliday: Holliday has been ruled out for the rest of the season with a shoulder injury.
- Peyton Manning: Manning is expected to continue his solid season, with over 3,000 passing yards and 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: Gordon is expected to continue his strong performance, leading the team in rushing with 973 yards.

---

Player News

- Peyton Manning: Manning is expected to continue his solid season, with over 3,000 passing yards and 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: Gordon is expected to continue his strong performance, leading the team in rushing with 973 yards.
- Trindon Holliday: Holliday is expected to continue his solid performance, with 32 receptions for 507 yards.

---

Fantasy Football Strategy

It's essential to have a balanced team in fantasy football. The Denver Broncos have a strong running game, which makes them a good choice for teams in the AFC Southwest division.

---

Daily Fantasy Sports Strategy

The Denver Broncos have several players who could be game-changers in daily fantasy sports.

- Peyton Manning: Manning is a solid option for your quarterback position, with over 3,000 passing yards and 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: Gordon is a solid choice for your running back position, leading the team in rushing with 973 yards.
- Trindon Holliday: Holliday is a good choice for your wide receiver position, with 32 receptions for 507 yards.

---

Fantasy Football Tips

- Peyton Manning: Manning is expected to continue his solid season, with over 3,000 passing yards and 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: Gordon is expected to continue his strong performance, leading the team in rushing with 973 yards.
- Trindon Holliday: Holliday is expected to continue his solid performance, with 32 receptions for 507 yards.

---

Daily Fantasy Sports Tips

The Denver Broncos have several players who could be game-changers in daily fantasy sports.

- Peyton Manning: Manning is a solid option for your quarterback position, with over 3,000 passing yards and 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: Gordon is a solid choice for your running back position, leading the team in rushing with 973 yards.
- Trindon Holliday: Holliday is a good choice for your wide receiver position, with 32 receptions for 507 yards.

---

Fantasy Football Notebook

- Peyton Manning: Manning is expected to continue his solid season, with over 3,000 passing yards and 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: Gordon is expected to continue his strong performance, leading the team in rushing with 973 yards.
- Trindon Holliday: Holliday is expected to continue his solid performance, with 32 receptions for 507 yards.

---

Daily Fantasy Sports Notebook

The Denver Broncos have several players who could be game-changers in daily fantasy sports.

- Peyton Manning: Manning is a solid option for your quarterback position, with over 3,000 passing yards and 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: Gordon is a solid choice for your running back position, leading the team in rushing with 973 yards.
- Trindon Holliday: Holliday is a good choice for your wide receiver position, with 32 receptions for 507 yards.

---

Fantasy Football Podcast

The Denver Broncos have several players who could be game-changers in daily fantasy sports.

- Peyton Manning: Manning is a solid option for your quarterback position, with over 3,000 passing yards and 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: Gordon is a solid choice for your running back position, leading the team in rushing with 973 yards.
- Trindon Holliday: Holliday is a good choice for your wide receiver position, with 32 receptions for 507 yards.

---

Fantasy Football Social Media

The Denver Broncos have several players who could be game-changers in daily fantasy sports.

- Peyton Manning: Manning is expected to continue his solid season, with over 3,000 passing yards and 24 touchdowns.
- Melvin Gordon: Gordon is expected to continue his strong performance, leading the team in rushing with 973 yards.
- Trindon Holliday: Holliday is expected to continue his solid performance, with 32 receptions for 507 yards.
W. Hoops on verge of breakout year

Caramanico looks to take Penn to top

By Sebastian Stockman

Despite Caramanico's success, many feel she is slightly overrated. "It's disappointing to lose the game," said one member of the coaching staff. "We really wanted the win, but unfortunately it didn't happen."