Six Democratic hopefuls will vie today for the chance to challenge incumbent Sen. Rick Santorum.

By Stacy Homes-Schulte

With the presidential primary races now over, today's Pennsylvania primary may have been nothing more than a formality for the candidates. But while the various national and local elections on the ballot today, the Democratic primary for the Pennsylvania Senate seat being vacated by Santorum has clearly emerged as a rough and tumble match worth watching.

The slate of candidates seeking to replace the incumbent have spent months preparing for today's elections. They've canvassed from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh and everywhere in between. They've debated each other on issues ranging from the death penalty to the minimum wage. They've sought every opportunity to put their candidacies in front of a broad Pennsylvania audience.

Santorum, whose Senate seat was declared vacant Monday, was appointed to fill the seat left open by Richard Lugar, who resigned to accept an ambassadorship at the United Nations. Santorum, a former congressman, was considered a rising star in the 1990s when he ran against Bob Dole for the Republican party's presidential nomination. He won the nomination and went on to lose to Al Gore in the general election. Santorum went on to serve as governor of Pennsylvania before winning a seat in the U.S. Senate in 2004.

Santorum's tenure in the Senate has been marked by his conservative views on social issues, including opposition to same-sex marriage and abortion rights. He has also been a vocal critic of President Barack Obama's policies, particularly his support for the Affordable Care Act. Santorum has said he is running for re-election in order to continue his work in the Senate.

If Santorum decides to run again, he will face a crowded field of Democratic hopefuls seeking to unseat him. The most prominent of these candidates is Hershel "Herschel" Walker, a former professional football player who has run for office several times in the past. Walker has said he is running again in order to help bring attention to issues such as gun control and immigration.

Other Democratic candidates seeking to unseat Santorum include former state treasurer Eugene Ruffin, who has said he is running in order to bring new leadership to the Senate. Ruffin has been a critic of Santorum's voting record and has said he would work to cut federal spending and reduce the national debt.

Pennsylvania's primary election will take place on Tuesday, May 22nd. Voters will choose between the Democratic and Republican candidates in a primary election, with the winners going on to face each other in the general election in November.
BY JONATHAN MARGULIES

They could have gone to the Philadelphia Police (as they had done in the past) and dealt with some high-profile, violent or per- sonal incidents. Instead, the police department opted to deal with the situation in a more community-oriented way, giving the residents a sense of relative peace in a sparsely populated suburb.

Instead, the center of the police officers' focus is another direction — street-level, often in the form of chats with local residents, particularly those who live near the University of Pennsylvania. Police De- partment, a world of watching where traffic pursuits were now dead and burglary streets were alive with Spring, Flirting.

Leaves, The Daily Pennsylvanian's crime reporter, spends a few nights riding around with three members of the Penn Police — Sgt. Margaret O'Malley, Sgt. John Newton, and Lt. Tom Messner. During our night on the streets, the officers review the various aspects of their shifts, and the students and residents they dealt with. This is an opportunity to discuss one of Newton's favorite subjects — the student-alumni relationship.

"The police department is dealing with the students on a personal level, which helps them understand the students and vice versa," says Lea's, the police department's communications officer. "This is a good way to develop relationships with the students, and it also helps the students feel more comfortable with the police."

The police officers usually start their nights by checking in with the residents, especially those who live near the university. They talk about the various issues that they deal with, such as crime, traffic, andUFF.

"I have run across a few of them with 90 percent of the students," he says. "I have run across a few of them who've acted like jerks."

"One of the most defining — and often controversial — elements in the police-student relationship, he adds, is the use of University tickets. "If a student gets a ticket from a University Police officer, they can't be arrested on that ticket. It's a privilege, not a right.

"I think that's changing," Newton says as he tries to call another officer to help him deal with a situation at the front of a University building. "We just got the occasional 'Wait a minute! You're just the University Police!' but then we have to tell them, 'Well, this isn't a University ticket.'"

Lt. Tom Messner looks like a police officer. With dark hair, an athletic built, and a steady demeanor, the 38-year-old Messner is the perfect officer to be seen leading a patrol at 1:30 on a Friday night.

"I think that's changing," Newton says as he tries to call another officer to help him deal with a situation at the front of a University building. "We just got the occasional 'Wait a minute! You're just the University Police!' but then we have to tell them, 'Well, this isn't a University ticket.'"

The police department has been working hard to overcome an obstacle that has plagued them for years: the occurrence of parties that get out of hand.

"I'm sure the students don't view themselves this way," he says. "They think they're just having a good time, and the police are just here to make sure everyone is safe."

"One of the most defining — and often controversial — elements in the police-student relationship, he adds, is the use of University tickets. "If a student gets a ticket from a University Police officer, they can't be arrested on that ticket. It's a privilege, not a right.

"I think that's changing," Newton says as he tries to call another officer to help him deal with a situation at the front of a University building. "We just got the occasional 'Wait a minute! You're just the University Police!' but then we have to tell them, 'Well, this isn't a University ticket.'"

Lt. Tom Messner looks like a police officer. With dark hair, an athletic built, and a steady demeanor, the 38-year-old Messner is the perfect officer to be seen leading a patrol at 1:30 on a Friday night.

"I think that's changing," Newton says as he tries to call another officer to help him deal with a situation at the front of a University building. "We just got the occasional 'Wait a minute! You're just the University Police!' but then we have to tell them, 'Well, this isn't a University ticket.'"

Lt. Tom Messner looks like a police officer. With dark hair, an athletic built, and a steady demeanor, the 38-year-old Messner is the perfect officer to be seen leading a patrol at 1:30 on a Friday night.

"I think that's changing," Newton says as he tries to call another officer to help him deal with a situation at the front of a University building. "We just got the occasional 'Wait a minute! You're just the University Police!' but then we have to tell them, 'Well, this isn't a University ticket.'"
CEO speaks on his eco-friendly business

"Only when someone is close to the land, smelling the air and drinking the water, will they realize what we’ve been doing," he said.

Many of the students in attendance were impressed by Hirshberg’s environmentally friendly approach.

"I think it’s important that people find a way that’s not only good for the consumer, good for the environment, but that is good for the profit," said Andrew Schiffer, a Wharton student pursuing a master’s in business administration.

Housing shortage leaves 350 in the lurch

"I think it seems from what he’s saying that these things isn’t just good for the planet, but it’s also good for business," Katz said.
YOU'RE NOT THE VALEDICTORIAN,
YOU'RE THE ONE
HE'LL END UP WORKING FOR.

Win $150,000 in Garage.com's
Ultimate Student Business Plan
Competition — PLANedu.

Got a great business idea? We want to hear it.
Enter your business plan in Garage.com's
PLANedu competition. Who's eligible? Full-time students from any accredited U.S. college or university. The top five business plans will be presented to a distinguished panel of judges at our final event in Silicon Valley in May. The winning team walks away with 150 big ones.

For complete contest details and to enter, check us out at
http://www.garage.com/PLANedu
The Stonyfield yogurt lids have attracted numerous political causes over the years, including a campaign for gun safety. "We give out 10,000 trigger-locks a year now for free," said Hirshberg. Stonyfield has been a leader in finding new ways of both increasing efficiency and helping the environment. Some of these methods include using light-weight packaging, producing less trash and saving money. Hirshberg wrapped up by discussing the importance of family farms to the Stonyfield organic approach.}

"Housing shortage leaves 350 in the lurch"
YOU'RE NOT THE VALEDICTORIAN,
YOU'RE THE ONE
HE'LL END UP
WORKING FOR.

Win $150,000 in Garage.com's
Ultimate Student Business Plan
Competition — PLANedu.

Got a great business idea? We want to hear it.
Enter your business plan in Garage.com’s
PLANedu competition. Who’s eligible? Full-time
students from any accredited U.S. college or university. The top five business plans will be presented to a distinguished panel of judges at our final event in Silicon Valley in May. The winning team walks away with 150 big ones.

For complete contest details and to enter, check us out at
http://www.garage.com/PLANedu
Remembering a friend

By the Editor

Justin Finalles was my closest friend, and his passing was written about in the daily paper. The obituary states that he had a vision for a world where humanity...
Students perform classical selections

By Vandaia Agrawal

In its first concert in the renovated auditorium, Penn Wind Ensemble, a student orchestra consisting mostly of non-music majors, treated an audience of several hundred students, alumni and family members to a performance of classical overtures on Friday night. During the two-hour show, the orchestra performed excerpts by composers including Mozart and Vivaldi.

The Wind Ensemble, conducted by Ensemble Music Director Richard Averbach, showcased its individual instrumental sections during the first half. Each instrumental section played a separate piece that highlighted the strength of that particular group. For example, the saxophone section played "La Nora," by Mitchell Peck. The trombone section played "The Great #%$," and the French horn section performed the slow movement of Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons." The French horn section also featured a solo performance during a concerto from the famous "The Four Seasons." Near the end of the first half of the performance, Averbach permitted the audience for a second when he slowly turned around to thank the ensemble for their contributions to this year's ensemble.

The Four Seasons is the 1995 recipient of the Nobel Prize for literature and was awarded "only" four years of work. "I think it was out of their heads," said College senior Paul Danifo, who had come with his family mixed it up a lot," said College senior Cathy Zorc said. "The piece opened the second half of the show. "I was definitely impressed," College senior Cody Zorn said. "The first half was innovative and the second half was phenomenal. It was like being at the Kennedy Center." during Commencement.

During the two-hour show, students performed classical selections by composers including Mozart and Vivaldi. The Wind Ensemble, conducted by Ensemble Music Director Richard Averbach, showcased its individual instrumental sections during the first half. Each instrumental section played a separate piece that highlighted the strength of that particular group. For example, the saxophone section played "La Nora," by Mitchell Peck. The trombone section played "The Great #%$," and the French horn section performed the slow movement of Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons." The French horn section also featured a solo performance during a concerto from the famous "The Four Seasons." Near the end of the first half of the performance, Averbach permitted the audience for a second when he slowly turned around to thank the ensemble for their contributions to this year's ensemble.

The Four Seasons is the 1995 recipient of the Nobel Prize for literature and was awarded "only" four years of work. "I think it was out of their heads," said College senior Paul Danifo, who had come with his family mixed it up a lot," said College senior Cathy Zorc said. "The piece opened the second half of the show. "I was definitely impressed," College senior Cody Zorn said. "The first half was innovative and the second half was phenomenal. It was like being at the Kennedy Center." during Commencement.

During the two-hour show, students performed classical selections by composers including Mozart and Vivaldi. The Wind Ensemble, conducted by Ensemble Music Director Richard Averbach, showcased its individual instrumental sections during the first half. Each instrumental section played a separate piece that highlighted the strength of that particular group. For example, the saxophone section played "La Nora," by Mitchell Peck. The trombone section played "The Great #%$," and the French horn section performed the slow movement of Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons." The French horn section also featured a solo performance during a concerto from the famous "The Four Seasons." Near the end of the first half of the performance, Averbach permitted the audience for a second when he slowly turned around to thank the ensemble for their contributions to this year's ensemble.

The Four Seasons is the 1995 recipient of the Nobel Prize for literature and was awarded "only" four years of work. "I think it was out of their heads," said College senior Paul Danifo, who had come with his family mixed it up a lot," said College senior Cathy Zorc said. "The piece opened the second half of the show. "I was definitely impressed," College senior Cody Zorn said. "The first half was innovative and the second half was phenomenal. It was like being at the Kennedy Center." during Commencement.

During the two-hour show, students performed classical selections by composers including Mozart and Vivaldi. The Wind Ensemble, conducted by Ensemble Music Director Richard Averbach, showcased its individual instrumental sections during the first half. Each instrumental section played a separate piece that highlighted the strength of that particular group. For example, the saxophone section played "La Nora," by Mitchell Peck. The trombone section played "The Great #%$," and the French horn section performed the slow movement of Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons." The French horn section also featured a solo performance during a concerto from the famous "The Four Seasons." Near the end of the first half of the performance, Averbach permitted the audience for a second when he slowly turned around to thank the ensemble for their contributions to this year's ensemble.

The Four Seasons is the 1995 recipient of the Nobel Prize for literature and was awarded "only" four years of work. "I think it was out of their heads," said College senior Paul Danifo, who had come with his family mixed it up a lot," said College senior Cathy Zorc said. "The piece opened the second half of the show. "I was definitely impressed," College senior Cody Zorn said. "The first half was innovative and the second half was phenomenal. It was like being at the Kennedy Center." during Commencement.

During the two-hour show, students performed classical selections by composers including Mozart and Vivaldi. The Wind Ensemble, conducted by Ensemble Music Director Richard Averbach, showcased its individual instrumental sections during the first half. Each instrumental section played a separate piece that highlighted the strength of that particular group. For example, the saxophone section played "La Nora," by Mitchell Peck. The trombone section played "The Great #%$," and the French horn section performed the slow movement of Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons." The French horn section also featured a solo performance during a concerto from the famous "The Four Seasons." Near the end of the first half of the performance, Averbach permitted the audience for a second when he slowly turned around to thank the ensemble for their contributions to this year's ensemble.

The Four Seasons is the 1995 recipient of the Nobel Prize for literature and was awarded "only" four years of work. "I think it was out of their heads," said College senior Paul Danifo, who had come with his family mixed it up a lot," said College senior Cathy Zorc said. "The piece opened the second half of the show. "I was definitely impressed," College senior Cody Zorn said. "The first half was innovative and the second half was phenomenal. It was like being at the Kennedy Center." during Commencement.

During the two-hour show, students performed classical selections by composers including Mozart and Vivaldi. The Wind Ensemble, conducted by Ensemble Music Director Richard Averbach, showcased its individual instrumental sections during the first half. Each instrumental section played a separate piece that highlighted the strength of that particular group. For example, the saxophone section played "La Nora," by Mitchell Peck. The trombone section played "The Great #%$," and the French horn section performed the slow movement of Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons." The French horn section also featured a solo performance during a concerto from the famous "The Four Seasons." Near the end of the first half of the performance, Averbach permitted the audience for a second when he slowly turned around to thank the ensemble for their contributions to this year's ensemble.

The Four Seasons is the 1995 recipient of the Nobel Prize for literature and was awarded "only" four years of work. "I think it was out of their heads," said College senior Paul Danifo, who had come with his family mixed it up a lot," said College senior Cathy Zorc said. "The piece opened the second half of the show. "I was definitely impressed," College senior Cody Zorn said. "The first half was innovative and the second half was phenomenal. It was like being at the Kennedy Center." during Commencement.

During the two-hour show, students performed classical selections by composers including Mozart and Vivaldi. The Wind Ensemble, conducted by Ensemble Music Director Richard Averbach, showcased its individual instrumental sections during the first half. Each instrumental section played a separate piece that highlighted the strength of that particular group. For example, the saxophone section played "La Nora," by Mitchell Peck. The trombone section played "The Great #%$," and the French horn section performed the slow movement of Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons." The French horn section also featured a solo performance during a concerto from the famous "The Four Seasons." Near the end of the first half of the performance, Averbach permitted the audience for a second when he slowly turned around to thank the ensemble for their contributions to this year's ensemble.

The Four Seasons is the 1995 recipient of the Nobel Prize for literature and was awarded "only" four years of work. "I think it was out of their heads," said College senior Paul Danifo, who had come with his family mixed it up a lot," said College senior Cathy Zorc said. "The piece opened the second half of the show. "I was definitely impressed," College senior Cody Zorn said. "The first half was innovative and the second half was phenomenal. It was like being at the Kennedy Center." during Commencement.

During the two-hour show, students performed classical selections by composers including Mozart and Vivaldi. The Wind Ensemble, conducted by Ensemble Music Director Richard Averbach, showcased its individual instrumental sections during the first half. Each instrumental section played a separate piece that highlighted the strength of that particular group. For example, the saxophone section played "La Nora," by Mitchell Peck. The trombone section played "The Great #%$," and the French horn section performed the slow movement of Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons." The French horn section also featured a solo performance during a concerto from the famous "The Four Seasons." Near the end of the first half of the performance, Averbach permitted the audience for a second when he slowly turned around to thank the ensemble for their contributions to this year's ensemble.

The Four Seasons is the 1995 recipient of the Nobel Prize for literature and was awarded "only" four years of work. "I think it was out of their heads," said College senior Paul Danifo, who had come with his family mixed it up a lot," said College senior Cathy Zorc said. "The piece opened the second half of the show. "I was definitely impressed," College senior Cody Zorn said. "The first half was innovative and the second half was phenomenal. It was like being at the Kennedy Center." during Commencement.

During the two-hour show, students performed classical selections by composers including Mozart and Vivaldi. The Wind Ensemble, conducted by Ensemble Music Director Richard Averbach, showcased its individual instrumental sections during the first half. Each instrumental section played a separate piece that highlighted the strength of that particular group. For example, the saxophone section played "La Nora," by Mitchell Peck. The trombone section played "The Great #%$," and the French horn section performed the slow movement of Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons." The French horn section also featured a solo performance during a concerto from the famous "The Four Seasons." Near the end of the first half of the performance, Averbach permitted the audience for a second when he slowly turned around to thank the ensemble for their contributions to this year's ensemble.

The Four Seasons is the 1995 recipient of the Nobel Prize for literature and was awarded "only" four years of work. "I think it was out of their heads," said College senior Paul Danifo, who had come with his family mixed it up a lot," said College senior Cathy Zorc said. "The piece opened the second half of the show. "I was definitely impressed," College senior Cody Zorn said. "The first half was innovative and the second half was phenomenal. It was like being at the Kennedy Center." during Commencement.

During the two-hour show, students performed classical selections by composers including Mozart and Vivaldi. The Wind Ensemble, conducted by Ensemble Music Director Richard Averbach, showcased its individual instrumental sections during the first half. Each instrumental section played a separate piece that highlighted the strength of that particular group. For example, the saxophone section played "La Nora," by Mitchell Peck. The trombone section played "The Great #%$," and the French horn section performed the slow movement of Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons." The French horn section also featured a solo performance during a concerto from the famous "The Four Seasons." Near the end of the first half of the performance, Averbach permitted the audience for a second when he slowly turned around to thank the ensemble for their contributions to this year's ensemble.

The Four Seasons is the 1995 recipient of the Nobel Prize for literature and was awarded "only" four years of work. "I think it was out of their heads," said College senior Paul Danifo, who had come with his family mixed it up a lot," said College senior Cathy Zorc said. "The piece opened the second half of the show. "I was definitely impressed," College senior Cody Zorn said. "The first half was innovative and the second half was phenomenal. It was like being at the Kennedy Center." during Commencement.
Japanese premier in coma

The ruling party is in search of a successor to replace Keizo Obuchi.

The Tokyo District Court of the Tokyo High Court on Monday laid the groundwork for a search for a successor to Prime Minister Keizo Obuchi.

Keizo Obuchi is in a coma at Tokyo's Juntendo University Hospital following a stroke on Saturday. He is expected to recover, but it is not clear when he will be able to return to work.

The Tokyo High Court ordered the ruling Liberal Democratic Party to hold a leadership meeting to determine the next prime minister by the end of today.

The ruling party has 15 days to announce the name of the next prime minister, who must be approved by the parliament.

Visa grants to Elian's immediate family

The U.S. government has granted visas to six people in Elian Gonzalez's immediate family, including his mother, brother, and maternal cousin.

The visas were granted to Elian's mother, Chizuko, his brother, Juan Miguel Gonzalez, and his maternal cousin, Ruben Gonzalez.

The six people will be allowed to enter the United States to visit Elian, who is currently in a Miami hospital.

Microsoft's antitrust case

A federal judge ruled yesterday that Microsoft Corp. violated U.S. antitrust laws by tying its Internet Explorer Web browser to its Windows operating system.

The judge's ruling can be appealed, but it could lead to a significant fine for Microsoft and a possible breakup of the company.

United Nations

Secretary-General Kofi Annan called for an all-out effort to lift the suffering of people around the world, especially children, during a Millennium Summit from Sept. 6-8 to begin today.

Annan said that the central challenge we face today is to ensure that global forces, such as a global economy and a fully functioning international system, are used to help make the world a better place, especially for the poor.

Visas granted to Elian's immediate family

The U.S. government has granted visas to six people in Elian Gonzalez's immediate family, including his mother, Chizuko, his brother, Juan Miguel Gonzalez, and his maternal cousin, Ruben Gonzalez.

The six people will be allowed to enter the United States to visit Elian, who is currently in a Miami hospital.

Law School Fair

The law school fair will take place at 6:30 PM on April 6 at The Warwick Hotel in Philadelphia.

Annan calls for world effort to end poverty

U.N. Secretary-General Kofi Annan called yesterday for an all-out effort to lift the suffering of people around the world, especially children, during a Millennium Summit from Sept. 6-8 to begin today.

Annan said that the central challenge we face today is to ensure that global forces, such as a global economy and a fully functioning international system, are used to help make the world a better place, especially for the poor.

Microsoft's antitrust case

A federal judge ruled yesterday that Microsoft Corp. violated U.S. antitrust laws by tying its Internet Explorer Web browser to its Windows operating system.

The judge's ruling can be appealed, but it could lead to a significant fine for Microsoft and a possible breakup of the company.

United Nations

Secretary-General Kofi Annan called for an all-out effort to lift the suffering of people around the world, especially children, during a Millennium Summit from Sept. 6-8 to begin today.

Annan said that the central challenge we face today is to ensure that global forces, such as a global economy and a fully functioning international system, are used to help make the world a better place, especially for the poor.

Microsoft's antitrust case

A federal judge ruled yesterday that Microsoft Corp. violated U.S. antitrust laws by tying its Internet Explorer Web browser to its Windows operating system.

The judge's ruling can be appealed, but it could lead to a significant fine for Microsoft and a possible breakup of the company.

United Nations

Secretary-General Kofi Annan called for an all-out effort to lift the suffering of people around the world, especially children, during a Millennium Summit from Sept. 6-8 to begin today.

Annan said that the central challenge we face today is to ensure that global forces, such as a global economy and a fully functioning international system, are used to help make the world a better place, especially for the poor.

Microsoft's antitrust case

A federal judge ruled yesterday that Microsoft Corp. violated U.S. antitrust laws by tying its Internet Explorer Web browser to its Windows operating system.

The judge's ruling can be appealed, but it could lead to a significant fine for Microsoft and a possible breakup of the company.
Penn alumnus writes book for men

Penn will not have reps at WRC meeting

Why is TIAA-CREF the #1 choice nationwide?

The TIAA-CREF Advantage.

APRIL 6TH
Take Back the Night
Speaker begins @ 6:30 on College Green Questions? E-mail Jen at jmaurer@sas

APRIL 7TH
Jr. Panhel Powder Puff Football

3-PM-PF @ 40th Street Field
Greek Shabbat Dinner
6:30PM-8:30PM
Sponsored by the Greek Jewish Activities Council & the Jewish Renaissance Project
RSVP to Rachel at rakreine@sas

Greek Coffee House
At AEPI (3940 Spruce Street)
8:30PM-11PM
$5 donation to charity
Come watch Penn's favorite performing arts groups!

APRIL 8TH
Greek Community Service Project
12PM - 3PM
Dance For a Cure
11PM-3AM
At the Christian Association Auditorium (36th & Locust)
UTV13

Ethernet, satellite TV Available

Available, lull kitchen, laundry. 3400 SANSOM ST. 1 BR apartment newly renovated. W/ D. decks

---

PBS

215-387-4137

Garden Available June 1. Call Mi-

---

Broadcast Stations

On Lane East Apts.

$ 100 Off First Month With This Ad

610.259.9000

Come Stay @ Our Place...

---

CCTV Hour

43 56 12

---

Gas Heat, Arwaioa Pkimmer A wa*hed-i«i radto h^ bemtrxji a f«wele*» man on a quest

All That "Feds"(1988) Rebec-

---

Cable Channels

43RD A SPRUCE. Two Bedroom

---

Frozen in the li-

---

Sun Locked m the li-

---

Washington

Help Wanted

MAILING ADDRESS

 Classifieds, The Daily Pennsylvanian, 4815 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, PA 19134

---

Online (WEB) Classfieds

---

Help Wanted

HELP WANTED

---

Please use caution when answering ads, which you may require to send a cash, check, or money order in advance.
weapons. On the defensive end, they...
Chaput said of the time off. "They're thrown during the indoor season. standards since the javelin is not extended offseason by track and field worth noting. javelin unit who did a good bunch of er Invitational, it was the throwers thrower Brent Stiles said. really good performances." senior performance at the Quaker Invitational Quakers followed up a very solid per-

I'm almost like being locked up," Stiles said. The D

Sublet Sam Says:

Penne freshman David Andreu, seen at the Quaker Invitational, won the high jump at the Raleigh Relays with a top of 7' 2 3/4" — good for a spot at the ECAC.

For $35. you get:

Don't wait 'til it's too late

I put the team on my shoulders," Izzo said. "I wanted to let him settle down. He knew what to do after working his broken foot.

Cleaves returned to the bench on his heavily taped ankle and said: "I'm OK." He went back in the game with 1:11 remaining.

Izzo added: "I wanted to do it longer on the floor," said Izzo, a senior. "I had the time and I could have been good enough to.

The rationale behind the ousters made perfect sense. After a third vestige of a past, unsuccessful regime.

Cleaves said. "I'll put in Pann to Paper

---

Annual Rental Housing Fair 2000

Meet property owners and managers from University City, Center City and other areas! See what they have to offer!

TUESDAY, APRIL 4, 2000
11:00 AM - 2:00 PM
LOCOUST WAY
RAIN DATE: WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 11 AM - 4 PM
For further information call OCL at (215) 889-8500 or go to www.upenn.edu/ohousing

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Can't talk about Penn women's basketball history on the way to coming within a few losses of first by League East.

And at Franklin Field tonight.

The Quakers are still fifth in the region.

Chaput said.

M. Track shines in Raleigh

By Jeremy Dubert

After a disappointing outing at the Big Ten meet in Penn State in February, the Penn men's track team came out of the winter as a major problem. There have been signs of a re-2 up in that lack of concentration as far as in finishing seasons usual.

Though neither of Penn's two meets have been officially scored, the Quakers followed up a very solid perce as all of that, he was very pleased with the way the team handled it. "I think our javelin captain said. "I understand what this means but it's worth noting in the record books.

With such a promising start, espe-

At the Quaker Invitational, Brent Stiles said. really good performances." senior performance at the Quaker Invitational Quakers followed up a very solid per-

In retrospect, Hitter's most im-

I'm looking forward to improve-

I'm looking forward to improve-

and she looked to only get better.

Hitter finishes first year in style at NCAA Regionals

Kovac said: "Her performance wasn't the best of the season, but she took away something more important — confidence. She's been competing with the best in the region as well as in the country."

In the meantime, Izzo told the re-

He's been committed to his craft. I think he's to only get better.

Cleaves said. "I'll put in Pann to Paper

---

Annual Rental Housing Fair 2000

Meet property owners and managers from University City, Center City and other areas! See what they have to offer!

TUESDAY, APRIL 4, 2000
11:00 AM - 2:00 PM
LOCOUST WAY
RAIN DATE: WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 11 AM - 4 PM
For further information call OCL at (215) 889-8500 or go to www.upenn.edu/ohousing

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Can't talk about Penn women's basketball history on the way to coming within a few losses of first by League East.

And at Franklin Field tonight.

The Quakers are still fifth in the region.

Chaput said.

M. Track shines in Raleigh

By Jeremy Dubert

After a disappointing outing at the Big Ten meet in Penn State in February, the Penn men's track team came out of the winter as a major problem. There have been signs of a re-2 up in that lack of concentration as far as in finishing seasons usual.

Though neither of Penn's two meets have been officially scored, the Quakers followed up a very solid perce as all of that, he was very pleased with the way the team handled it. "I think our javelin captain said. "I understand what this means but it's worth noting in the record books.

With such a promising start, espe-

At the Quaker Invitational, Brent Stiles said. really good performances." senior performance at the Quaker Invitational Quakers followed up a very solid per-

In retrospect, Hitter's most im-

I'm looking forward to improve-

and she looked to only get better.

Hitter finishes first year in style at NCAA Regionals

Kovac said: "Her performance wasn't the best of the season, but she took away something more important — confidence. She's been competing with the best in the region as well as in the country."

In the meantime, Izzo told the re-

He's been committed to his craft. I think he's to only get better.

Cleaves said. "I'll put in Pann to Paper

---

Annual Rental Housing Fair 2000

Meet property owners and managers from University City, Center City and other areas! See what they have to offer!

TUESDAY, APRIL 4, 2000
11:00 AM - 2:00 PM
LOCOUST WAY
RAIN DATE: WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 11 AM - 4 PM
For further information call OCL at (215) 889-8500 or go to www.upenn.edu/ohousing

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Can't talk about Penn women's basketball history on the way to coming within a few losses of first by League East.

And at Franklin Field tonight.

The Quakers are still fifth in the region.

Chaput said.
Play Ball! MLB season opens

Baltimore Orioles center fielder Ben appendix 6.5, who injured himself on opening day last year, had a broken bone in his leg, according to Dr. Jim Andrews. The team was uncertain as to whether he would be able to play this season.

Tony Batista homered for the Bush at Busch Stadium in the 11th inning yesterday. McGwire reinjured his lower back strain, was a late lineup scratch yesterday. McGwire left Busch Stadium in the first inning and underwent an MRI. "It's pretty rough," he said. "I feel a catch back there and he did another one the other day."

The Associated Press

Bryant, Childs each suspended

NEW YORK — Chris Childs of the New York Knicks and Kobe Bryant of the Los Angeles Lakers were fined and suspended Sunday for fighting during the Lakers' victory over the Knicks in a nationally televised game.

The Lakers' Bryant was suspended without pay for two games and fined $15,000. He was assessed two technical fouls for the big contract they gave him.

Bryant was suspended without pay for two games and fined $15,000. He was assessed two technical fouls for Chase is a registered trademark of JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., a subsidiary of JPMorgan Chase & Co.

As a Chase employee, Eric Weinberg manages relationships with high net worth clients. He is also a member of the firm's Committee on Social Responsibility.

Eric Weinberg

Senior Fellow for Social Policy and Director of the Working Families Project at the Progressive Policy Institute

Executive Director of Literacy Initiatives at Public/Private Ventures

"Zero-Poverty Cities: Urban Leadership and Welfare Reform" April 11, 2000 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Logan Hall 17

"Zero-Illiteracy Cities: Urban Leadership and Education Reform" April 18, 2000 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Logan Hall 17

Teddy Wilson, weekly sports editor of The Daily Pennsylvanian, said that the Nationals played much better than the Giants and that the game was a lot closer than the final score indicated.

The Associated Press

In Canada, the Toronto Blue Jays beat the New York Yankees 3-2, but the American League West-leading Mariners were the biggest story in the major leagues.

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associated Press

The Associate
Spartans top Gators for NCAA title

Mateen Cleaves scored 18 points as Michigan State ran away from Florida, taking the national championship.

Will Schnur stay on top at Sheerr?

Schnur cannot erase his ties to Penn's history of futility in the pool.

Is Schnur the answer for Swimming?

Schnur's a proven leader who can keep Penn on the upswing he started.

Swimmers want him to stay on

For Hittner, the competition provided a chance to shine at the national championships.

Hittner shines at Regionals

The Penn women's lacrosse star Pete Janney has received considerable media attention.

M. Lax sons look to take first ever win over Tigers

Princeton is riding a 26-game Ivy winning streak into today's game against Penn at Old Nassau.

By Ronald Tackett

Paul’s men’s lacrosse star Pete Janney has received considerable media attention.

Hittner shines at Regionals

The Penn women’s lacrosse star Mateen Cleaves scored 18 points as Michigan State ran away from Florida, taking the national championship.

Will Schnur stay on top at Sheerr?

Schnur cannot erase his ties to Penn’s history of futility in the pool.

Is Schnur the answer for Swimming?

Schnur’s a proven leader who can keep Penn on the upswing he started.

Swimmers want him to stay on

For Hittner, the competition provided a chance to shine at the national championships.

Hittner shines at Regionals

The Penn women’s lacrosse star Mateen Cleaves scored 18 points as Michigan State ran away from Florida, taking the national championship.

M. Lax sons look to take first ever win over Tigers

Princeton is riding a 26-game Ivy winning streak into today’s game against Penn at Old Nassau.

By Ronald Tackett

Paul’s men’s lacrosse star Pete Janney has received considerable media attention.

Hittner shines at Regionals

The Penn women’s lacrosse star Mateen Cleaves scored 18 points as Michigan State ran away from Florida, taking the national championship.

Will Schnur stay on top at Sheerr?

Schnur cannot erase his ties to Penn’s history of futility in the pool.

Is Schnur the answer for Swimming?

Schnur’s a proven leader who can keep Penn on the upswing he started.

Swimmers want him to stay on

For Hittner, the competition provided a chance to shine at the national championships.

Hittner shines at Regionals

The Penn women’s lacrosse star Mateen Cleaves scored 18 points as Michigan State ran away from Florida, taking the national championship.

M. Lax sons look to take first ever win over Tigers

Princeton is riding a 26-game Ivy winning streak into today’s game against Penn at Old Nassau.

By Ronald Tackett

Paul’s men’s lacrosse star Pete Janney has received considerable media attention.

Hittner shines at Regionals

The Penn women’s lacrosse star Mateen Cleaves scored 18 points as Michigan State ran away from Florida, taking the national championship.

Will Schnur stay on top at Sheerr?

Schnur cannot erase his ties to Penn’s history of futility in the pool.

Is Schnur the answer for Swimming?

Schnur’s a proven leader who can keep Penn on the upswing he started.

Swimmers want him to stay on

For Hittner, the competition provided a chance to shine at the national championships.

Hittner shines at Regionals

The Penn women’s lacrosse star Mateen Cleaves scored 18 points as Michigan State ran away from Florida, taking the national championship.

M. Lax sons look to take first ever win over Tigers

Princeton is riding a 26-game Ivy winning streak into today’s game against Penn at Old Nassau.