City hopes to be a biotech leader

New funding could make Philadelphia a true life sciences hub.

By Gregory Richards

The curve

Michael Vinekas says professors shouldn't use an arbitrary grading national. Opinions, page 6

Ski games

The FBI arrested a senior agent allegedly working for Moscow.

World, page 4

Penn closes in on theater deal

Penn officials say they have narrowed their search for a partner to replace Sundance.

By Zarrin Parpaz

More than three months after it collapsed, the former Sundance Cinemas project may soon have a new financial partner to restart construction on the half-finished theater.

General Cinemas, which was providing the majority of funding for the project, filed for bankruptcy last October and announced in November it would no longer serve as a financial partner for Robert Redford's Sundance Cinemas, the other member of the joint venture, backed out after failing to find a partner for General Cinemas.

But with both former partners now fully out of the picture, University officials say Penn may have its priorities in a new potential partner.

According to sources, Penn President John Fry, Penn has been speaking with potential theater operators as well as other financial partners.

"We're all looking for the same thing," one of Fry's sources said. "Now that we have finalized our relationship with General Cinemas, we'll start working on other potential theater operators — with one or two partners, we may be able to put something together."

Napster proposes $1 billion settlement

With the future of the online service still in doubt, Penn students are scrambling for a few more downloads.

By Laura Katz

Just a week after it was a serious blow to Napster, when the music industry won a copyright infringement lawsuit against the company, the new online service offered by Napster, called "Napster II," is being developed for the online service.

The pending trial threatens to shut down the future of the online service offered by Napster, which allows users to exchange music files.

"There are a lot of people who are saying that the new service will not work," said David Brill, an attorney specializing in intellectual property.

"We are all out to sit down and settle this in the courts," said David Brill, Executive Officer Frank Baird, Jr.

Groups attempt to spark campus dialogue

Artwork from Korean National University is now on display at Logan Hall's first floor as part of an exchange program with Penn.

"The exchange will be a catalyst to increased international understanding," said the exchange would be a catalyst to increased international understanding.

"There's a big difference between Korean culture and American culture," Lee said. "Penn students and faculty don't know about Korean culture.

Napster proposes $1 billion settlement

With the future of the online service still in doubt, Penn students are scrambling for a few more downloads.

By Laura Katz

Just a week after it was a serious blow to Napster, when the music industry won a copyright infringement lawsuit against the company, the new online service offered by Napster, called "Napster II," is being developed for the online service.

The pending trial threatens to shut down the future of the online service offered by Napster, which allows users to exchange music files.

"There are a lot of people who are saying that the new service will not work," said David Brill, an attorney specializing in intellectual property.

"We are all out to sit down and settle this in the courts," said David Brill, Executive Officer Frank Baird, Jr.

Groups attempt to spark campus dialogue

Artwork from Korean National University is now on display at Logan Hall's first floor as part of an exchange program with Penn.

"The exchange will be a catalyst to increased international understanding," said the exchange would be a catalyst to increased international understanding.

"There's a big difference between Korean culture and American culture," Lee said. "Penn students and faculty don't know about Korean culture.

Napster proposes $1 billion settlement

With the future of the online service still in doubt, Penn students are scrambling for a few more downloads.

By Laura Katz

Just a week after it was a serious blow to Napster, when the music industry won a copyright infringement lawsuit against the company, the new online service offered by Napster, called "Napster II," is being developed for the online service.

The pending trial threatens to shut down the future of the online service offered by Napster, which allows users to exchange music files.

"There are a lot of people who are saying that the new service will not work," said David Brill, an attorney specializing in intellectual property.

"We are all out to sit down and settle this in the courts," said David Brill, Executive Officer Frank Baird, Jr.
The justices themselves are trying to downplay the political dimension.

Frank Goodman
Penn Law professor

"The justices were trying to give the impression that the Supreme Court is not a political institution," he added. "The justices themselves are trying to downplay the political dimension."}

The justices themselves are trying to downplay the political dimension.

Frank Goodman

"The justices were trying to give the impression that the Supreme Court is not a political institution," he added. "The justices themselves are trying to downplay the political dimension."

The justices themselves are trying to downplay the political dimension.

Frank Goodman

"The justices were trying to give the impression that the Supreme Court is not a political institution," he added. "The justices themselves are trying to downplay the political dimension."
Weekly program

In the last couple of weeks, I've been thinking a lot about what...
Venezuela — Opposition parties, charging voting irregularities, said they would file a complaint with the National Electoral Council to protest what they said was widespread tampering with the ballots yesterday in municipal elections and what they called a “whirlwind of criticism from Labor Party colleagues who aftermarket the election he said that he would resign from politics. But a spokesman for Sharon said he decided to join with Sharon. If Barak’s latest change of mind means a government with Barak in a center-right coalition with right-wing parties — hawks and religious nationalism — rather than Labor, it could mean that Sharon would have to serve in Ariel Sharon’s Cabinet minus Barak.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.

Barak announced his decision yesterday in a letter to Sharon — dealing a blow to the prime minister’s efforts to bring a “political turnaround, caretaker Labor, Sharon will likely be prime minister that might renew peace talks — providing a broader base to deal with the Palestinians. With such a government, he said, it would be easier for talks with Arab, and it could mean that an eventual peace agreement would be less stable, more vulnerable to the pressure of religious parties.
The recent submarine accident in Hawaii has led to a review of Army policy.

WASHINGTON — The Army is barring civilians temporarily from its aircraft and other vehicles pending a review in the aftermath of the fatal submarine accident off Hawaii, officials announced yesterday.

Lt. Col. Russ Oaks, an Army spokesman, said the civilian review team was imposed Monday and is being led by Rear Adm. David A. Gaunt and the Army Reserve.

He said details are being worked out.

Other Army officials said options are being sought for keeping civilians from the submarines and other vehicles pending a review for certain weapons and for journalists covering Army operations like peacetime in the Balkans.

A public fiscal week was when it was disclosed that civilians were aboard the USS Greeneville, a nuclear-powered submarine, when it rammed a Japanese fishery vessel February 9.

The crawler sank, and nine Japanese including four high school people were lost at sea.

The two civilians were at control stations aboard the submarine as it performed an emergency recent drill, a U.S. military official said.

A senior U.S. military official confirmed yesterday that Rear Adm. Craig Quigley, a spokesman for Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld, said no military-wide review has been initiated, but the services are acting on their own.

At a senior military meeting Tuesday, Bush administration officials said they were required to reduce the threat to allied pilots.

They were closely supervised by Rear Adm. David A. Gaunt, the Navy's 7th Fleet, and other Navy officials.

Mr. Bush had wanted the Pentagon to re- new its policies on civilian part-

"Containment has been a successful policy...we [should] continue it," Colin Powell, U.S. Secretary of State Colin Powell defended the policy yesterday.

Mr. Powell discussed Iraq and other matters with NATO foreign ministers.

He said they were required to reduce the threat to allied pilots.

Mr. Bush had wanted the Pentagon to re- new its policies on civilian part-

Army is barring civilians temporarily from its aircraft and other vehicles pending a review in the aftermath of the fatal submarine accident off Hawaii, officials announced yesterday.

Lt. Col. Russ Oaks, an Army spokesman, said the civilian review team was imposed Monday and is being led by Rear Adm. David A. Gaunt and the Army Reserve.

He said details are being worked out.

Other Army officials said options are being sought for keeping civilians from the submarines and other vehicles pending a review for certain weapons and for journalists covering Army operations like peacetime in the Balkans.

A public fiscal week was when it was disclosed that civilians were aboard the USS Greeneville, a nuclear-powered submarine, when it rammed a Japanese fishery vessel February 9.

The crawler sank, and nine Japanese including four high school people were lost at sea.

The two civilians were at control stations aboard the submarine as it performed an emergency recent drill, a U.S. military official said.

A senior U.S. military official confirmed yesterday that Rear Adm. Craig Quigley, a spokesman for Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld, said no military-wide review has been initiated, but the services are acting on their own.

At a senior military meeting Tuesday, Bush administration officials said they were required to reduce the threat to allied pilots.

They were closely supervised by Rear Adm. David A. Gaunt, the Navy's 7th Fleet, and other Navy officials.

Mr. Bush had wanted the Pentagon to re- new its policies on civilian part-

"Containment has been a successful policy...we [should] continue it," Colin Powell, U.S. Secretary of State Colin Powell defended the policy yesterday.

Mr. Powell discussed Iraq and other matters with NATO foreign ministers.

He said they were required to reduce the threat to allied pilots.

Mr. Bush had wanted the Pentagon to re- new its policies on civilian part-

Army is barring civilians temporarily from its aircraft and other vehicles pending a review in the aftermath of the fatal submarine accident off Hawaii, officials announced yesterday.

Lt. Col. Russ Oaks, an Army spokesman, said the civilian review team was imposed Monday and is being led by Rear Adm. David A. Gaunt and the Army Reserve.

He said details are being worked out.

Other Army officials said options are being sought for keeping civilians from the submarines and other vehicles pending a review for certain weapons and for journalists covering Army operations like peacetime in the Balkans.

A public fiscal week was when it was disclosed that civilians were aboard the USS Greeneville, a nuclear-powered submarine, when it rammed a Japanese fishery vessel February 9.

The crawler sank, and nine Japanese including four high school people were lost at sea.

The two civilians were at control stations aboard the submarine as it performed an emergency recent drill, a U.S. military official said.

A senior U.S. military official confirmed yesterday that Rear Adm. Craig Quigley, a spokesman for Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld, said no military-wide review has been initiated, but the services are acting on their own.

At a senior military meeting Tuesday, Bush administration officials said they were required to reduce the threat to allied pilots.

They were closely supervised by Rear Adm. David A. Gaunt, the Navy's 7th Fleet, and other Navy officials.

Mr. Bush had wanted the Pentagon to re- new its policies on civilian part-

"Containment has been a successful policy...we [should] continue it," Colin Powell, U.S. Secretary of State Colin Powell defended the policy yesterday.

Mr. Powell discussed Iraq and other matters with NATO foreign ministers.

He said they were required to reduce the threat to allied pilots.

Mr. Bush had wanted the Pentagon to re- new its policies on civilian part-

Army is barring civilians temporarily from its aircraft and other vehicles pending a review in the aftermath of the fatal submarine accident off Hawaii, officials announced yesterday.

Lt. Col. Russ Oaks, an Army spokesman, said the civilian review team was imposed Monday and is being led by Rear Adm. David A. Gaunt and the Army Reserve.

He said details are being worked out.

Other Army officials said options are being sought for keeping civilians from the submarines and other vehicles pending a review for certain weapons and for journalists covering Army operations like peacetime in the Balkans.

A public fiscal week was when it was disclosed that civilians were aboard the USS Greeneville, a nuclear-powered submarine, when it rammed a Japanese fishery vessel February 9.

The crawler sank, and nine Japanese including four high school people were lost at sea.

The two civilians were at control stations aboard the submarine as it performed an emergency recent drill, a U.S. military official said.

A senior U.S. military official confirmed yesterday that Rear Adm. Craig Quigley, a spokesman for Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld, said no military-wide review has been initiated, but the services are acting on their own.

At a senior military meeting Tuesday, Bush administration officials said they were required to reduce the threat to allied pilots.

They were closely supervised by Rear Adm. David A. Gaunt, the Navy's 7th Fleet, and other Navy officials.

Mr. Bush had wanted the Pentagon to re- new its policies on civilian part-

"Containment has been a successful policy...we [should] continue it," Colin Powell, U.S. Secretary of State Colin Powell defended the policy yesterday.

Mr. Powell discussed Iraq and other matters with NATO foreign ministers.

He said they were required to reduce the threat to allied pilots.

Mr. Bush had wanted the Pentagon to re- new its policies on civilian part-

Army is barring civilians temporarily from its aircraft and other vehicles pending a review in the aftermath of the fatal submarine accident off Hawaii, officials announced yesterday.

Lt. Col. Russ Oaks, an Army spokesman, said the civilian review team was imposed Monday and is being led by Rear Adm. David A. Gaunt and the Army Reserve.

He said details are being worked out.

Other Army officials said options are being sought for keeping civilians from the submarines and other vehicles pending a review for certain weapons and for journalists covering Army operations like peacetime in the Balkans.

A public fiscal week was when it was disclosed that civilians were aboard the USS Greeneville, a nuclear-powered submarine, when it rammed a Japanese fishery vessel February 9.

The crawler sank, and nine Japanese including four high school people were lost at sea.

The two civilians were at control stations aboard the submarine as it performed an emergency recent drill, a U.S. military official said.

A senior U.S. military official confirmed yesterday that Rear Adm. Craig Quigley, a spokesman for Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld, said no military-wide review has been initiated, but the services are acting on their own.

At a senior military meeting Tuesday, Bush administration officials said they were required to reduce the threat to allied pilots.

They were closely supervised by Rear Adm. David A. Gaunt, the Navy's 7th Fleet, and other Navy officials.

Mr. Bush had wanted the Pentagon to re- new its policies on civilian part-

"Containment has been a successful policy...we [should] continue it," Colin Powell, U.S. Secretary of State Colin Powell defended the policy yesterday.

Mr. Powell discussed Iraq and other matters with NATO foreign ministers.

He said they were required to reduce the threat to allied pilots.

Mr. Bush had wanted the Pentagon to re- new its policies on civilian part-

Army is barring civilians temporarily from its aircraft and other vehicles pending a review in the aftermath of the fatal submarine accident off Hawaii, officials announced yesterday.

Lt. Col. Russ Oaks, an Army spokesman, said the civilian review team was imposed Monday and is being led by Rear Adm. David A. Gaunt and the Army Reserve.

He said details are being worked out.

Other Army officials said options are being sought for keeping civilians from the submarines and other vehicles pending a review for certain weapons and for journalists covering Army operations like peacetime in the Balkans.

A public fiscal week was when it was disclosed that civilians were aboard the USS Greeneville, a nuclear-powered submarine, when it rammed a Japanese fishery vessel February 9.

The crawler sank, and nine Japanese including four high school people were lost at sea.

The two civilians were at control stations aboard the submarine as it performed an emergency recent drill, a U.S. military official said.

A senior U.S. military official confirmed yesterday that Rear Adm. Craig Quigley, a spokesman for Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld, said no military-wide review has been initiated, but the services are acting on their own.

At a senior military meeting Tuesday, Bush administration officials said they were required to reduce the threat to allied pilots.

They were closely supervised by Rear Adm. David A. Gaunt, the Navy's 7th Fleet, and other Navy officials.

Mr. Bush had wanted the Pentagon to re- new its policies on civilian part-

"Containment has been a successful policy...we [should] continue it," Colin Powell, U.S. Secretary of State Colin Powell defended the policy yesterday.

Mr. Powell discussed Iraq and other matters with NATO foreign ministers.

He said they were required to reduce the threat to allied pilots.

Mr. Bush had wanted the Pentagon to re- new its policies on civilian part-
The Daily Pennsylvanian
The Independent Student Newsweekly of the University of Pennsylvania
117th Year of Publication

Racism blowing in through the Ivies

How many years must pass into our history before we are allowed to be free? When thinking of the problems faced by black and Latino students attending and receiving an education in elite institutions, it's an issue that remains constant.

The Ivy League, which has always prided itself on being a model of University affiliation. Those selected for the Ivy League are not chosen based on a single criterion. Instead, they are chosen based on a complex set of factors, including academic performance, personal qualities, and extracurricular activities.

The question of the professor or lecturer's role in creating an atmosphere of inclusivity and diversity on campus is also important. Professors can play a crucial role in shaping the educational environment and creating a space where all students feel welcome and valued.

The message is clear: we need to address the issue of racism in the Ivy League and beyond. It's time for change.
Sundance complex was to help Film Studies program

The Daily Pennsylvanian

Wednesday, February 21, 2001 Page 7

■ FILM

from page 1

would turn Film Studies into a major department at the University. The Department of Film Studies is currently housed in the Annenberg Center, where it is currently a minor program.

The program's current director, Evonne Bishop, said she was looking forward to the expansion, which she said would allow film studies to be more accessible to students.

"We're trying to bring in two senior faculty members — major film scholars, who will lead the program forward," she said.

"We've already seen more faculty around (the School of Arts and Sciences) who are beginning to teach film courses."

English added that the program will develop by itself.

"What we've done on the ground right now isn't substantial enough to use that space," he said.

"It was growing room for us."

Although he said the theater would have brought much-needed attention to film studies, Brunswiek was confident they can continue with future faculty exchanges, and possibly the exchange with Pratt.

"I'm very happy," he said. "I feel

[a theater like Sundance] would bring an intellectual atmosphere to this campus which I think is sometimes lacking."

■ ART

from page 1

The Korean artists said they wanted the show to be a gateway to a new cross-cultural understanding, an American knowledge of Eastern culture is often limited.

"Our artistic concepts are something misunderstood, something that some Americans want to learn," said artist and Korean National University

Professor Sea-young Oh, who was visiting via video hook-up.

Exchanging artwork and cultures

But organizers said the learning is not expected to be one-sided.

For example, Lee said the relative openness of Americans to Eastern Culture surprised him, noting that female nuns more often wore miniskirts.

"I think Americans are open to our art," he said. "But they think of art was a way to universalize

human understanding.

Of art was a way to universalize

human understanding."

A young protester at City Council Chambers protests the Philadelphia

Department of Recreation's new budget proposal.

■ ATTENTION

VERIZON WIRELESS

Verizon Wireless

Introducing Mobile Messenger $5

Now you can chat without talking.

You can send and receive text messages right from your wireless phone without losing your voice or disturbing a soul.

Join in.

www.verizonwireless.com

1.800.2 JOIN IN

Drive responsibly. Call Verizon Wireless.

VERIZON WIRELESS

VERIZON WIRELESS

VERIZON WIRELESS

verizonwireless.com

www.verizonwireless.com

1.800.2 JOIN IN

ATTENTION Writren & Photographers

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Available where compatible digital service

All calls subject to taxes, tolls and other charges Available where compatible digital service

Join in.

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

Join the D...
Michael Vondriska

Harvard Professor Harvey C. Mansfield Jr.

There is no fixed percentage for the mix of As — the total not to exceed 60 percent. For example around 20-30 percent, Bs around 30-40 percent, and Cs around 10-20 percent. The system is one that most of my colleagues have been using for years. Teachers used to be able to use a simple process of using the raw scores, which was somewhat more accurate. However, grading is a very important process that needs to be treated carefully and with a great deal of thought. thumbs up role of their peers.

While I believe that certain processes are important, I also believe that there is a need for change. I have recently been involved with a number of studies that suggest that the current grading system is flawed. For example, one study found that students who received higher grades were more likely to engage in positive behaviors, such as attending class and completing assignments on time. On the other hand, students who received lower grades were more likely to engage in negative behaviors, such as缺课 and not submitting assignments. Therefore, I believe that there is a need for change in the current grading system.

In conclusion, I believe that the current grading system is flawed and needs to be changed. However, I also believe that there is a need for change in the current grading system. I have recently been involved with a number of studies that suggest that the current grading system is flawed. For example, one study found that students who received higher grades were more likely to engage in positive behaviors, such as attending class and completing assignments on time. On the other hand, students who received lower grades were more likely to engage in negative behaviors, such as缺课 and not submitting assignments. Therefore, I believe that there is a need for change in the current grading system.

In conclusion, I believe that the current grading system is flawed and needs to be changed. However, I also believe that there is a need for change in the current grading system. I have recently been involved with a number of studies that suggest that the current grading system is flawed. For example, one study found that students who received higher grades were more likely to engage in positive behaviors, such as attending class and completing assignments on time. On the other hand, students who received lower grades were more likely to engage in negative behaviors, such as缺课 and not submitting assignments. Therefore, I believe that there is a need for change in the current grading system.
Sundance complex was to help Film Studies program

ART from page 1

The Korean artists said they wanted the shows in a gallery to a new cross-cultural understanding, as American knowledge of Eastern culture is often limited.

"Our artistic concepts are sometimes misunderstood, one scholar to understand," said the Annenberg Center, "but my education was very satisfying." It is the first step for mutual understanding.

Soongsil University in Seoul and Korean art seemed more sentimental, while the American artists were more focused on rationality.

The art varied from abstract mixed media pieces to a series of controversial works with English narrative describing "A Perspective Teleportation Machine." English said that even if the center had been completed, the program would not be ready to take full advantage of its facilities.

"What we've done on the ground today isn't substantial enough to be a step," he said. "It was growing room for us." English added that the program would continue with future faculty exchanges, and possibly the exchange is a professor at Temple University. He said the exchange was a way to universal human understanding:

"Through the different techniques and technology, we make an effort to understand humanly. It is the first step for mutual understanding," English said.

The professors said that the program had the potential to continue with future faculty exchanges, and possibly the exchange of student work as well. Korean National University is a newly engaged faculty work exchange with Pratt and the School of Visual Arts in New York.

Exchanging artwork and cultures

ATTENTION

Join the DP staff and put your talents to work!

verizonwireless.com 1-800-2 JOIN IN

Poor play will thwart Penn's title hopes

Just because history says that Penn has to win the Ivy League title every year, there is nothing wrong with that. It is the demand of the league itself, and the pressure involved should not be understated. The long road to success is paved with potholes and Penn will have no easy ride to get there.

Penn's Achilles heel has been its defensive play, both on the perimeter and inside. The team has struggled to hold its opponents to single-digit points and has allowed too many easy layups and second-chance points. The Quakers have been criticized for their lack of intensity and focus on defense, and if they continue to play defenseless, their title hopes will be dashed.

Offensively, Penn has been inconsistent. After a strong start to the season, the team has faltered, failing to put up consistent performances against top-ranked opponents. The team has been criticized for its lack of scoring punch, with few players contributing in double figures.

Sitting at 2-3 in the Ivy League, Penn needs to regroup and re-establish itself as a serious contender for the league title. The team has a chance to make up for lost time in the final games of the season, but they will have to play with a lot more intensity and focus if they hope to make a run at the title.

In conclusion, Penn's road to success is far from easy. The team has struggled on both ends of the court and will have to regroup and refocus if they hope to win the Ivy League title. The road to success is tough, but Penn has shown that they are capable of playing at a high level. The team will have to play with more intensity and focus in the final games of the season if they hope to make a run at the title.
Senior relish chance to suit up for Penn varsity

JV from page 22

...Junior Year.

Cut a second time sophomore

...it one step further. After getting

Encouraging his teammates.

...harder and he's always positive,

...always the first to come to prac-

...for it with pure hustle and desire,

...have the natural talent of some of

...my friends threw me a giant par-

...the charm.

...hopes of making the team in his

...semester abroad and train in the ...basketball shoes in the river."

...hold hands when people aren't

...sieged by injuries later that sea-

...sophomore year, the six-foot

...Finelli is the squad's heart

...looking."

...to want to," Smiley said, laugh-

...er — has be-

...twin — they're backcourt mates.

...younger brother Brian is a lot clos-

...his, has cho-

...puts. Candidates should hold a Ph.D.

...will partially offered will be bachelor of science (B.S.)

...and accommodations, health and other benefits

...activities and service. Salaries will be commensurate

...positions and experience. Travel, accommodation, health and other benefits will be provided.

...http://www.drexel.edu.pl/DrexelCampus.html. Applicants should

...The Daily Pennsylvanian

...to get back

...to the Quakers. They hope that the reining Quakers will use this ...team to face Harvard, which

...made it

...to remove from her weekend

...physical match played, which

...three broken teeth.

...unprepared for the atmos...phere of the tournament. Penn

...and anxiety when playing. The

...was unprepared for the atmos-

...with the losses, but

...we have nothing to

...be ashamed of." Applying to

...for a position.

...W. Squash: new team, new result

...MBA and playing basketball.

...next year, working toward an

...eighty days from now. For

...20,000 people will

...read YOUR AD

...can't promise

...Love...

...budget as well as

...has become a source of annoy-

...and endless

...from the rest of the team, the

...brotherhood seems inap-

...together because they just seem

...a hug because they just seem

...they live to-

...seem insep-

...brothers'

...ers.

...It's such a different element,"

...I didn't do well."

...be ashamed of.

...all of you,

...they're backcourt mates.

...and devotion is

...persistence

...something.

...nance major,

...apparent in all

...persistence

...apparent in all

...something.

...persistence

...something.

...apparent in all

...something.

...apparent in all

...something.

...apparent in all

...something.

...apparent in all

...something.
Poor play will thwart Penn's title hopes

Penn co-captain Diana Caramanico will take the Quakers into Harvard and Dartmouth this weekend with a chance to clinch their first-ever Ivy League title. Penn is riding a 16-game winning streak and is undefeated in Ivy play.

"It's getting to the point where we're just one game behind the tri-lead," said sophomore forward and Harvard's first ever league title. "It's a motivating point to go into Harvard and Dartmouth this weekend with a chance to accomplish the same feat?"

"The Ivy League has become a befuddling mess this season," said senior guard Lisa Fedele. "I won't lie to you I have no idea what's going to happen down the stretch."

"It seems to me that anything can happen," said junior forward and center Samantha Kahan. "I think it's going to be the same kind of game," Fedele added. "The Ivy League is tricky."

"And that just one game is all it takes," Kahan said. "The Ivy League has become a befuddling mess this season."

The Quakers are no doubt in the driver's seat, but they are a little inconsistent. Still, the Quakers do not want to get ahead of themselves. "We put the sauce on top of the cheese," Kahan said.

Penn seniors Kelli Poland and Konstanta Toland were named All-Ivy League first team players last year. This year, Poland and Toland are both candidates for the Ivy League player of the year.

"We put the sauce on top of the cheese," Kahan said. "We put the sauce on top of the cheese."
Seniors relish chance to suit up for Penn chance to suit up for Penn “…wished the six seniors that graduated….”

Classifieds Ads

FOR RENT

ROOMMATES

REAL ESTATE

HELP WANTED

FOR SALE

SERVICES

TYING

INSTRUCTION

WANTED: BUSINESS OPPS.

HEALTH & FITNESS

TICKETS

TRAVEL

ADOPTION

LOST & FOUND

ADULT ENTERTAINMENT

MISC PERSONAL

Classified Line Ad Rates

Regular classified ads are priced by line per word.
1 line 2 day $4 per word per day
2 lines 3 day $3.75 per word per day
4 lines 4 day $3.50 per word per day
11 or more days $3 per word per day
Rates include listing on dailypennsylvanian.com

Classified Display Ad rates are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.

Classified Display ads are priced by size. Ad
sizes are measured as the number of columns wide
by the number of inches high. Minimum 3" x 3".
Jumbo Headline: A larger (24 point) headline is available
per line.
Bonds plays hardball with S.F. Giants

Bonds wants to know if he has a future with the San Francisco Giants before the regular season begins.

"If there's dead silence, then we'll know," said the three-time MVP opened spring training yesterday by asking the Giants whether bond was "unequivocally" want to keep Bonds, hit .306 with a career-high 182 runs batted in last season and is eligible for free agency once the Giants "offer," Eric Desjardins, said. "Then let's talk about it and see if we can come to a resolution," he said. "The Giants" report day by posi- tion and it's our responsibility to negotiate on Bonds' behalf.

The Giants have offered Bonds a seven-year contract worth $45 million, but he was quoted as saying he would like a similar deal with another team.

"It's a devastating blow to the sport," said Bonds, who is my first choice, but I just want to keep Bonds, hit .306 with a career-high 182 runs batted in last season and is eligible for free agency once the Giants "offer," Eric Desjardins, said. "Then let's talk about it and see if we can come to a resolution," he said. "The Giants" report day by posi- tion and it's our responsibility to negotiate on Bonds' behalf.

New York's Tim Hardaway drove a game-winning buzzer-beating three-pointer to lift the Knicks to a 122-120 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers.

"It's a great win, it really is," said Hardaway, who scored 34 points and had six assists. "It's a great victory for us, it's a great victory for New York."
The Quakers will rebound to threepeat.

The Penn women's basketball team has lost 11 of its last 13 games, but the Quakers' basket ball team has still won 1 out of 13 Ivy League Games. The Penn women's basketball team will now try to break their Ivy League title.

Kathleen Holthaus and the Penn women's swimming team will compete in the Ivy Championships starting Thursday at Princeton. Read about Penn's offense, labeling it the "best in the league." The Quakers are currently tied with Harvard, 284-284, with one week to go. The Ivy League is the worst conference in the country.

The Penn men's basketball team has lost 11 of its last 13 games, but the Quakers' basketball team will still try for an Ivy Title. "Everybody's going to make some noise in this league," Penn coach Dave Caramanico said before the season.

Everybody has. Penn is tied with Princeton and Yale for the league lead, and only Brown has not lost at least one out of the three leading teams.

Despite all their struggles, the Quakers are still playing with a lot of heart and still have more weapons than the Tigers and the Yale. Four of the Quakers average over 19 points per game. Only Yale players score in double figures, and while none of the Tigers average more than 19, every player has been consistent.

Ethan Almiron, the Men's Hoops' leading scorer, scored 13 points in a win over Harvard. According to Caramanico, the leader of the team, "the Big Green is an 8-1 underdog. But the only thing that matters is our performance. We've had a great season, and we're ready to go."