

PUT BAN ON CRIME FILMS.

Pennsylvania Censors Want No Glorification of Evildoers.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 6.—Moving picture films that glorify crime or make criminal careers or adventures fascinating or alluring will henceforth be barred in Pennsylvania; the State Board of Censors announced today.

Films in which criminals are shown as heroes of education and refinement, who live in luxury and persistently defy and outwit the authorities by their superior wit, resources and audacity, even though in the end they are caught, are seriously objectionable, the board decreed, especially where they are shown in the end to make merely perfunctory professions of reform, while reaping rich harvest and attaining great rewards in spite of their criminality."
